Renaissance New Go-Place

HOLDING SWAY—Carmen McRae vocally has things her way along with the 'saxsational' John Coltrane Five at Ben Shapiro's all-new Club Renaissance, formerly Mocambo and more recently Cloisters, where you rate your next swinging date before it's too late . . . either by air, on a limited fare, "rubber wheels" or comfortable "heels."

Ben Shapiro To Continue Best Talent

A preview of the new Club Renaissance was presented Thursday, by Ben Shapiro, boniface of the Club now located at 8588 Sunset Blvd., site of the erstwhile Cloisters and Mocambo.

"In making the move to the new location everything remains the same, casual dress and funky furniture," Shapiro said. "However, the Club Renaissance has doubled its seating capacity."

POLICY POPULAR

The Renaissance continues its policy of presenting two shows nightly at 10:00 p.m. and midnight, with three shows on weekends at 9:00 p.m., 10:45 p.m. and 12:30 a.m., and will operate on a six nights a week basis, closing on Mondays only.

Currently appearing are: Carmen McRae and the John Coltrane Quintet.

The Miles Davis Sextet, featuring J. J. Johnson, bows at The Renaissance on Thursday, October 12th, and the Horace Silver Quintet on November 3rd.

The Club will offer some legitimate stage productions too, Shapiro stated. The first of these will be "The Spider Bite," a modern adaptation of "Lysistrata," for the benefit of SANE on October 23rd, and the West Coast premiere of "Jack Richardson's Gallows Humor" on November 17th with New York cast.

'SOUNDS' HEADQUARTERS

"The Renaissance has been organized primarily as a workshop and showcase for new sounds and ideas in all the arts," Shapiro said, and expresses his concept of the Club.

PLAYGIRLS—Performing proficiently in "The Devil Says No" on weekends at the Metro Theatre, 4720 West Washington near Rimpau, are Ora Jones, Olivia Brown, Lois Teran, Irane Kuhn and Jayne Cortez. Special consideration is being given for group reservations. See, hear and enjoy this original production and lend your support to these stars of tomorrow.

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR STANDER

We just fell in again from that fantastic Las Vegas town where we were the guests of the CARVER HOUSE at the invitation of dapper BOB BAILEY. The CARVER, in spite of pressure from the Strip houses, is still strutting. They have the hardest working act in Showbusiness going for them, the fabulous TRENIERS. And FOSTER JOHNSON is a mean Master of Ceremonies. But my choice bit for the Girl Who Has Everything is sort of a hostess-de-luxe and a gal who gives charm and efficiency a new meaning. She is an oval-eyed beaut named VALERIE WAY and she makes things go like nobody, but nobody, has been able to do in our last decade of visiting bigtime or smalltime saloons or hostelries. If we ever make enough loose change to own an establishment of any nature where we can hire people, we would seek out VALERIE to do the hiring cause she would no doubt pick the most tasteful and efficient folks. Like we stated before, this sloe-eyed lovely makes things go and she's a definite asset to Vegas. And the Carver House is lucky to have her!

We had intended to catch PEARL BAILEY'S 4 O'Clock Show at the FLAMINGO and DELLA REESE in the lounge. Valerie called Pearlie Mae for us and as bad luck would have it Pearl took suddenly ill Saturday night and could not do the 4 O'Clock Show. Valerie was going to ask our Pal Pearl to join us at the Carver if we didn't make the show. Some of the guests who came up on the plane with us and made it to the Strip said that Pearl was definitely ill and unable to go on. We're grateful for Pearl calling to inform us cause the FLAMINGO is quite a jaunt from the CARVER. RED WILLIAMS, the entertainment director of the EL MOROCCO across the street from the CARVER HOUSE, was also most congenial and with his usual winning ways gave us ringside to catch shake dancer MONTIKA and the fabulous PENNY WILLIAMS whose songs and dances made it clear that she is there to stay unless the management is out of its pea-picking mind.

Congratulations to MARIA and NAT COLE who became parents of twin girls just moments after we sent our last week's column skipping to the print shop. Say hello to the dolls for us, Maria. We know your King is in Canada.

Speaking of NAT, WINCHELL reports it and mebbe he ought to know, that NAT'S producer, sepia lad IKE JONES, isn't just auditioning white actress INGER STEVENS . . . Ohhhhhhhhhh! Remember the LITTLE FOXES & HARES presentations and big ball scheduled this Sunday at the FOX HILLS COUNTRY CLUB to present trophies to deserving Negro actors and actresses . . . Starts at 6 p.m. Sharp. Lots of other affairs going on that day, but this should be one of the wildest! . . .

Column saddened to learn that actress RHODA JORDAN has been too ill with hypertension

GOING WEST—Hubert S. Goodlett, one of the top builders in the east since 1947, is moving to Los Angeles from St. Albans, New York. He will be affiliated with the Carson Realty, is married, father of two children and a Seventh Day Adventist. Goodlett, center, stopped at Safety Savings and Loan Association where he set up a substantial account and was greeted by Construction Head James M. Woods, left, director-treasurer of Safety Savings and Willis E. Carson.

NEAT WIT—Comic Slappy White, who just played the Black Hawk in San Francisco, is really blowing the patrons at The Summit with his funny, funny lines. The Les McCann Trio rounds out the show, which will continue until October 15.

Phil Gordon Makes the

New York Scene

At Carnegie Hall, Sid Bernstein and John Drew presented the sensation of music at Monterey Jazz Festival 1960, and later at Newport 1961, Jon Hendricks's "Evolution Of The Blues", starring Jon Hendricks, narrating and singing, Jimmy Witherspoon, doing traditional blues, "Big" Miller, shouting the pure blues, "Pony" Poindexter, playing soprano and alto saxes, singing and doing commentary Hannah Dean, truly delivering the gospel singing as did The Messengers. Al Ray on trombone, Billy Mitchell on tenor sax and the Ike Isaacs Trio providing the basic music.

ADDED ATTRACTION

However, the extra added attraction stole the show, stopped it cold and was the sensation of the evening, in the form of modern blues shouting and singing, Joe Williams (formerly with Count Basie, now doing a single.)

The individual artists all performed well, but the overall production as such lacked vitality and dragged too much, for some reason. Perhaps this all began with the poor handling of the mikes and the lighting plus the rather slim turnout for the program. At any rate, fun was had by most of those present as they enjoyed the various forms of the blues from its beginning with Babatunde Olatunji giving the African body beat and primitive drums, followed by the evolution to the present.

TEENAGERS DELIGHT

This was all told to a group of 5 to 10 year old youngsters who sat on the floor in front of Jon Hendricks as he unwound his tale.

RKO SHOW

Sid and John also presented a week of talent on stage at the RKO Palace Theatre, in the forms of Ray Charles, Sarah Vaughan, Larry Storch and dancers. This show was well attended and swung four 'boss' performances daily.

Sunday night, Madame Prescott and I attended Birdland and caught the swinging sounds of Count Basie and the orchestra as they waltzed through "Tout De Suite", "To You", "Katy Do", and other 'cooking' ditties. Count's new vocalist is Ocie Smith, a very talented young man who pleased the packed room with "Deed I Do", "That Old Feeling" and "There Will Never Be Another You".

Maestro Stan Kenton and spouse, Ann Richards, were sitting right down front enjoying and trying to absorb from the Basie gems. This week its Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers, Gigi Gryce and more jazz to keep Birdland moving.

Former Compton schoolteacher, Selma Whitmore, pens from Basel, Switzerland, and the Costume Festival, that it is gorgeous as the Swiss display their costumes from every part of the country.

Selma is now teaching at the Wiesbaden, Germany Air Base, living in the fabulous modern, Amelia Earhart Hotel for female civilians, and just returned from a Mediterranean Cruise on a Yugoslavian ship, upon which she went to Rhodes, Greece, Venice, Italy, where she attended a performance of "Carmen" in the Arena. I hate these world travelers, who go alone . . . especially when I'm available . . . Humph!!! LATER.

"UNDER THE YUM YUM TREE"

By MARY THOMPSON

A laughable tale of the implausibility of platonic love, "Under The Yum Yum Tree", a Broadway comedy by Lawrence Roman starring TV-famed Richard Long and Robert Vaughn, is currently receiving rollicking response from audiences at the beautiful Las Palmas Theatre, 1642 North Las Palmas.

Feminine principals Denise Alexander and Barbara Stuart, billed as co-starrers but certainly stand-outs here as capable comediennes, are refreshing as a young lab technician and her school-teacher friend, respectively.

LAUGH PROVOKING

The plot revolves around the unexposed and innocent technician who is highly favorable to a platonic relationship with her more experienced lawyer-suitor (Robert Vaughn); the landlord-wolf across the hall whose dubious antics evoke much laughter (Richard Long), and the teacher who feigns disinterest but quite obviously possesses romantic inclinations for the landlord.

DEFTLY INTERWOVEN

The story is deftly interwoven with many excellent laugh-provoking lines and episodes.

Don Roberts' clever design of a Telegraph Hill apartment in San Francisco places you inside and outside at the same time.

Playgoers seeking light entertainment featuring well-known and well-seasoned theatrical personalities will be delightfully impressed by "Yum Yum Tree".

and hospitalized. We're very pleased to announce that Rhoda is on the mend! . . . A petition was circulated by the waitresses and bartenders at the Samoa Lane club following the closing of piano-vocalist KELLY LE MAIRE to have the management return him at once. He re-opened Monday night. Now that's quite a unique tribute . . .

And piano-vocalist RUDY RENDER (a taller version of his cousin BOBBY SHORT) opened at Ye Little Club to an enthusiastic audience. Take a jaunt out to the Bevhills waterhole and see the lad that we've been telling you is nothing else but just plain great . . .

Singer-actor BOBBY WILLIAMS pens from the land of the Geisha Girl that he must modestly admit that he is a huge success on the Tokyo nitery circuit and from the news clippings that he enclosed, he IS TOO! . . . Actor LON BALLANTYNE is facing a Moment of Decision. Hope you make the right choice, ol' buddy! He's an actor who can earn his livelihood at water sports (life guard and skin diving chores) but is talented and has his heart and soul trained on the acting scene where he has already had some measure of success . . .

City Bans Oral Test in Fire Dep't Examination

Policy Change Marks Victory Against Bias

After listening to charges that oral tests have apparently been used to exclude Negro applicants from the Fire Department, the Civil Service Commission last Friday overruled its administrator and ordered an all-written quiz for the next examinations. The administrator had published notice that oral exams and written tests would each count for 50 per cent of the applicant's grade.

The action came after the commission had been told that only seven Negroes have been able to qualify in Civil Service tests for the Fire Department in the past few years in which oral tests have been weighted at 50 per cent. Inability to pass the orals was blamed for the high number of failures.

RECENT PLAN

It was pointed out that no oral tests were given prior to 1954 and that the percentage of Negroes who qualified was much higher at that time. The weight given to the oral has been greatly increased since the fight over segregation in the Fire Department.

The commission's action in ordering the all-written test climaxed a morning given over to

Miss. Official Killed Negro, Says Rev. King

Charges that a Mississippi legislator shot and killed a Negro in McComb, Miss., were made in a telegram from the Rev. Martin Luther King to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy last Thursday, together with a plea for "an immediate investigation of a reign of terror" in that city.

Scanty reports have been printed locally of the violence in McComb. There was no report of the killing, and only brief reports of the arrest a week later, last Wednesday, of 113 Negro students and one white man after they were set upon by a mob of whites during a peaceful student demonstration.

NAMES KILLER

Rev. King reveals that the man who was killed was a Herbert Lee and names his killer as Rep. Hearst of the Mississippi legislature.

"You would want to know," King told Kennedy, "that Mr. Lee had been very active in the voter registration project of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee in Pike and Amit Counties. It appears that his association and work with Robert Moses contributed to his death."

With regard to the 113 students, King said they were "nonviolently demonstrating the expulsion of two fellow students from high school."

CHARGES BEATINGS

All but 31 were released to the custody of their parents. "Of those remaining," King contin-

Woman Confesses Arson-Murder Plot

A diabolical plot of arson and murder was reportedly intercepted here this week as police and arson squad detectives questioned a woman arrested originally in connection with bombing a police scout car.

Mrs. Lutie Henderson, 36, at first identified as Mary Parker, told detectives she was on the way to the home of her brother-in-law, Franklin Harris, at 4061 Halldale avenue, when police arrested her last Monday night siphoning gas from a tank behind a cleaning plant on Santa Barbara avenue.

THIRD ATTEMPT

Mrs. Henderson, of 8716 Graham avenue, told officers she had planned to set fire to the man's home. She confessed she had twice before set it on fire and had shot at Harris three times during the past year. At the time of her arrest she had a loaded pistol in her possession.

She said she planned to shoot Harris if her third arson attempt failed.

When police discovered Mrs. Henderson, she had siphoned off two five-gallon tanks of gas. She was preparing a "cocktail" with paper wicks and a quart bottle of gasoline when police found her

Charges Filed Say Greyhound Discriminates

During an overflow meeting last Saturday, Teamster union members launched a "second front" against the racial discriminatory hiring policy of Greyhound Bus Lines.

Charges were filed against Greyhound with the State F.E.P. Commission, charges based on the assertion that Ervin Jones, a Negro teamster of 1170 E. 68th street, filed an application with Greyhound for employment as a bus driver in January 1961, and has not been granted an oppor-

Campaign Launched In 10th City District to Recall Hollingsworth

Definitive plans to launch a recall campaign in the 10th Councilmanic District were agreed upon without dissent at a meeting of about 200 Monday night at the Golden State Auditorium.

A statement of "Declaration of Intent to Recall" was approved as the first legal step in mounting the movement to unseat Councilman Joseph E. Hollingsworth, who was appointed to his post by the City Council on Aug. 25.

TO BE PUBLICIZED

The declaration, signed by five qualified voters of the 10th District, will be printed in newspapers of general circulation this week, according to Frank Terry, who is handling the group's publicity.

A copy of the declaration will also be sent to Councilman Hollingsworth, petitions will be obtained, and the signature-gathering campaign will get under way.

A committee of 25, to act as a permanent Advsiory Council, was elected at Monday's meeting.

The Rev. H. H. Brookins, pastor of First AME Church, who has headed the interim committee and who has been elected to the permanent committee, explained that members of the district are not after Hollingsworth but after his position.

INHERENT RIGHT

The declaration states that voters of a district have an "inherent right" to be represented by a councilman of their own choosing, that since that procedure has not been followed the only way open to voters in the 10th District to obtain a representative councilman is through a recall election.

They further asserted that the incumbent Councilman is not familiar with the problems of the 10th District and that if he is permitted to remain in office, this will serve only to retard progress in the community and cause civic disharmony.

Plans already initiated to move the 10th District out into the Valley and split up the present 10th among five surrounding districts has given special urgency to the recall movement.

LOCAL 300 SUPPORT

Such a move, it was felt, would deprive Negroes of the possibility for representation in the City Council for the pdedictable future. The only way to prevent that happening, it is reasoned, is by recalling Hollingsworth, who neither

Negro Named To High Court

LANSING, Mich. — Otis M. Smith, 39, auditor general for the State of Michigan, was appointed to the Michigan Supreme Court Monday by Democratic Gov. John Swainson.

Otis is the first Negro to sit on any State Supreme Court bench.

His term runs until the November, 1962, elections.

Wants Revenge; Will Risk Jail For Murder

Henry Bragg, 33, a laborer, who was admitted to General Hospital Saturday with a six-inch cut in his arm and chest, told officers that as soon as he recovers, his assailants will "go to Hell" and he will "go to prison for murder."

Bragg knew his assailants only as a father and son by the name of Flowers Sr. and Jr.

He said he was drinking coffee at Mr. Fatburger's hot dog stand at the corner of Central and Adams blvd. when the two men attacked him and cut him.

He said he had had a "misunderstanding" with them of a "personal nature," but he would not tell the officers what had caused the ill-will.

Grand Jury Indictment Expected

A Grand Judy indictment of Dr. U. F. Bass, of 10362 Graham avenue, on a charge of filing false claims against the County, would undoubtedly be filed Wednesday morning, Deputy Dist. Atty. Anthony Joyce told the Eagle Tuesday.

The Grand Jury was hearing testimony this week against Dr. Bass and against Dr. Francis Hobson, of 1905 E. Imperial Hiway.

WIDESPREAD

Some 50 or more doctors are involved in the racket which, Joyce said, is flourishing in South Los Angeles, but which is also cropping up on Wilshire blvd. and other places in the western section of the city.

On Tuesday 15 witnesses, all Negro women who have been patients of Dr. Bass, appeared to testify on the false claim charge.

Joyce said he was unable to estimate the amount of money of which the county has allegedly been bilked by the illegal demands of doctors, dentists and pharmacists. He did indicate, however, that Dr. Bass has submitted claims to the county totalling approximately $2000 a month.

DR. HOBSON NEXT

As soon as the charges against Dr. Bass are disposed of, the Grand Jury was scheduled to take up the charges against Dr. Hobson.

The bilking involving the padding of claims, according to Joyce, was perpetrated in various ways, by getting patients to sign blank forms to be filled out later by the doctor as claims against the county; by falsifying the number of visits made by patients or misrepresenting and exaggerating the type of treatment received; and by including as patients children who received no treatment at all.

Similar charges pertaining to the filling of perscriptions, were filed last April against three pharmacists of the Imperial

High Court Will Review Airport Case

WASHINGTON — A Memphis banker will be granted a Supreme Court hearing on charges that he was denied service at a restaurant in a Memphis municipal airport. Lower federal courts had refused to hear the case on the ground that Jesse Turner should have filed his suit in the state courts. The Court opened its October term Monday.

The Court refused to hear three appeals from Lousiana in which the state contended that the lower court erred in finding state school segregation laws invalid.

In another case, the Court refused to review an appeal from the Tennessee Supreme Court which had ordered the charter of Highland Folk School revoked on the ground that the school permitted sale of beer at the school and that Director Myles Horton had operated the school for his own gain.

Highlander School is an integrated private school and it charged that the Tennessee court's decision was actuated by its disapproval of the school's interracial activities.

A closed mind is an enigma. Nothing ever goes in but odd things are forever coming out.

Yorty Side-Steps Issue Of 10th District Removal

Mayor Samuel Yorty, at his Tuesday press conference, took a middle-of-the-road position on the city issue of greatest concern to Negroes — the proposal to move the 10th District out into the Valley.

In reply to a question from the Eagle representative, the mayor replied: "I have no objection to moving the 10th District to the Valley."

But then he added, "I will oppose any kind of gerrymandering that discriminates against any segment of the population, Negroes or anyone else, who desire representation."

In further remarks the mayor indicated he has not as yet had an opportunity to look into the issues involved in the proposal to shift the 10th District to the westernmost section of the city. Such a shift, according to plans of its proponents, would involve the carving up of the area now contained in the 10th and parcelling it out to surrounding districts.

This schedule would deprive Negroes, of whom there are close to 400,000 in the city of any chance of electing one of their own representatives to the City Council.

Newton vice officers rounded up 18 suspects after raiding a gambling party at 1002 E. 42nd pl. Saturday night.

The officers staked out in the apartment house heard bets being made and money exchanged in the second floor apartment. On entering they saw a group of men around a professional type dice table with a large number of bills and change on the table.

Chester Marion, 4415 S. Avalon; Ernest Knox, Riverside; Lee Demis Davis, 1584 E. Vernon; James Brown Smith, 934½ E. 53rd street; M. W. Barfield, 962 E. 32nd street; M. H. Handley, 1244 E. 43rd street; Baise Young, 1002 E. 42nd place; Grant Jackson, 940 W. Gage avenue; Sylvester Perkins, Jr., 3225½ S. Central avenue; Eddie Duncan, Willie Woodard, Jr. and Lee Samuel Drayton, 952 E. 33rd street.

NAACP Head Appeals Against Fine, Probation

Edward D. Warren, president of the NAACP, was fined $260 and given probation of a year and a month last Thursday and immediately filed notice of appeal.

Warren, 47, of 727 E. 76th street, was convicted on two misdemeanor counts in two separate trials.

He was arrested last July 3 when he objected to the rough manner in which officers were handling two women they were placing in a police car at the corner of Santa Barbara and Central avenues. The officers accused Warren of interfering with an arrest.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Friday announced the appointment of Mrs. Vaino Spencer to the Municipal Court.

"An outstanding attorney, a leader in her community and an intelligent, mature woman, Mrs. Spencer will be a credit to the Los Angeles Municipal Court," Gov. Brown said in announcing the appointment.

Mrs. Spencer, 41, is the wife of Lorenzo Spencer. The couple lives at 3521 Victoria avenue. Mrs. Spencer, a native of Los Angeles, has her law offices at 2902 S. Western avenue.

"The thought that I am the first Negro woman to hold such a position in California is a sobering one," said Mrs. Spencer, "and I can only say I will do my best to justify the confidence Gov. Brown has placed in me."

Mrs. Spencer attended Polytechic High School where she was the class valedictorian, and graduated summa cum laude from L. A. City College in 1949 and from Southwestern School of law in 1952. She immediately went into private practice.

Since 1960 she has been a member of the California Law Revision Commission and since 1959 a member of the Attorney General's Advisory Committee on Constitutional Rights.

She was chairman of the legal Redress Committee of the NAACP in 1955-56 and has served on the NAACP Executive Board.

She is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, the Urban League, Los Angeles Bar Association, Langston Club, American and the National Bar Association.

Since 1960 she has been a member of the Democratic State Central Committee; from 1958 through 1960 she was on the Executive Board of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee and since 1960 she has been a member of the Executive Board of Community Groups for Political Action.

Last Rites Held For 1st National Prexy of AKA

Funeral services were held in Washington, D.C. for the incorporator and first national president of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, during the last week in September. Miss Nellie M. Quander, who was believed to be in her 80's, was found dead in her Washington home from a coronary thrombosis. Her body was found after neighbors noted her papers and milk had not been moved for several days.

Nearly 100 sorors attended the memorial services for Miss Quander, the granddaughter of Daniel and Hannah Bruce, free Negroes, whose descendents include many well-known residents of Washington and Virginia.

Rookie Officer Saves Buddy, Kills Suspect

Quick shooting by a fellow rookie officer saved the life of Patrolman Donald LaGuardia last Sunday night as he struggled with an enraged suspect for possession of a gun at 1117 N. Waterloo street.

LaGuardia, who had managed to deflect the muzzle of his adversary's pistol, called for help when the weapon was discharged close to his face. Rushing into the room, Officer P. E. Franklin snapped a shot at Augustine Navarette, 23, of Compton, just as he was about to fire again, the officers reported.

Navarette, pronounced dead at Central Receiving Hospital, was reported to have been fighting at the N. Waterloo address with his former girl friend and her husband.

Mrs. Ivonne Segura, 35, and her husband, Ray, 36, told police Navarette had held them captive in the house for two hours before the officers arrived.

LaGuardia and Franklin heard shots inside the house and saw Segura run from the building. As LaGuardia entered the house, Navarette rushed at him, firing his gun, police said.

Homicide detectives reported Navarette had a long criminal record.

Franklin has been on the force only 11 months, LaGuardia 14 months.

25 Britons Ask Freeing Of Wilkinson, Braden

WASHINGTON — Twenty-five British leaders, including nine Members of Parliament and the chairman of the British Trades Union Congress, have petitioned President Kennedy to free two Americans serving prison sentences for contempt of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The imprisoned men, who are serving a year's term in a Federal prison camp at Greenville, S.C., are Carl Braden, southern integration worker and field secretary of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, and Frank Wilkinson, civil liberties leader and field secretary of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Among the signers were E. J. Mill, chairman of the Trades Union Congress, and Clive Jenkins, trade union leader; and authors and journalists Phyllis Bottome, Vera Brittain, C. Day-Lewis, Philip Gibbs, Compton MacKenzie, Ethel Mannin, Gavin Maxwell, and J. W. Robertson-Scott.

Members of Parliament who signed the petition were Frank Allaun, John Baird, Anthony Greenwood, J. E. Owen, Leslie Plummer, John Rankin, R. W. Sorensen, Stephen Swingler, and Lord Faringden, member of the House of Lords.

The petition said in part:

". . . Founded partly as it was by those who fled from persecution and oppression in other countries, and who sought a new life of freedom, the United States has a profound heritage to uphold.

"For this reason and because of our own people's ancient love of liberty, we have been greatly distressed by the continuance of the activities of the Un-American Activities Committee in imprisoning those whose crime, if such it can be called, has been their determination to uphold the Constitution of the United States."

Housing Law Held Invalid In Washington

SEATTLE — Washington State Supreme Court struck a heavy blow at fair housing legislation last week when it held that state's statute invalid on the ground that it is unconstitiutional to distinguish between publicly assisted and private housing in such legislation. The Washington law, like a California statute, forbids discrimination in the sale or rental of housing financed through federally insured loans.

The court held in effect that the 1957 law violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment because it does not apply to all housing. The decision came on a five to four vote.

CRACK IN WALL

Speaking for the minority which voted to uphold the law, Judge Hugh Rossellini called the law a "crack in the walls of the ghetto" and protested that states do not have to try to correct all evils at once. The case is the first in the nation to reach the highest court in a state although a dozen states have similar laws.

The case arose when a naval commander was found guilty of discrimination because of his refusal to sell his house to a Negro buyer. The State Commission Against Discrimination ordered him to complete the sale.

The NAACP joined with other civil rights groups in a brief urging the validity of the law. The state's attorney general has indicated that he will appeal the decision to the United States Supreme Court. Seven of the Court's nine judges agreed that a law covering all housing would be valid.

APPOINTED

Dr. Floyd M. Anderson has been appointed as executive director of the American Institute of Family Relations, according to the board of trustees at the Institute.

Gun-Wielding Store Owner Shot in Error

When Harry Davis, 57, owner of a liquor store in the 2400 block on Central avenue, rushed out of Lou's Men's Shop, 2405 S. Central avenue, Friday waving a gun, a police officer mistook him for a robber who was resisting arrest and fired three shots at him at close range.

Davis, who had been trying to help Louis Herwitz, 65, owner of the clothing store, and the police in subduing the real burglar, was taken to Temple Hospital with wounds of the chest, arm and side. Later his condition was listed as fair.

It all started when Arthur Hamilton, 21, of 1353 Walnut street, reportedly went to Lou's store, selected two pair of pants and went to the rest room to try them on.

Herwitz claims that when he came out, Hamilton was wearing two pair of pants. He said he pulled out Hamilton's shirt, saw the second pair and went for his gun.

Hamilton resisted. An officer arrived to help. Davis came running to do what he could to assist. Officer B. K. Wheelis, answering a call "Officer needs help," arrived at the scene just as Davis, gun in hand, appeared at the door.

Despite the shooting, Hamilton was arrested for burglary.

Half-Day Sessions To be Cut Gradually

The Board of Education is "well on its way" in attempting to overcome half-day sessions that have reached sizeable proportions in the central elementary school district, William Rivera, of the public information office of the city schools, advised the Eagle Monday.

School rooms now under construction, he said, will go a long way to solve the existing problem, but it will take time — at least a year.

123 MORE ROOMS

He stated that in all some 123 new classrooms, each with a capacity of approximately 35 pupils, are being built, though some of them will not be completed until late in 1962.

These new classrooms would accommodate approximately 4300 pupils on full-day schedules. According to information released by Superintendent Ellis A. Jarvis last week, there are now 6,415 students on half-day sessions in the central district. This is an increase from 3,610 in 1960 and compares unfavorably with the virtual elimination of the shorter school day in the western and valley districts.

The largest increase of school rooms will occur at the 52nd Street School where 12 transportable classrooms are expected to be finished by the end of the current month. In addition, another 23 rooms, in a new building, will be constructed there, but these will not be available for another year.

Other schools where new school classrooms are expected to be completed during the 1961-62 school year are: Western Avenue School, 11 classrooms; Normandie Avenue, 16 classrooms; 68th Street, 9 classrooms; 75th Street, 10 classrooms; Santa Barbara Avenue School, 16 classrooms; Sixth Avenue School, 7 classrooms; Main Street School, nine classrooms; and Wadsworth Avenue School, 10 classrooms.

All of these schools are in the central elementary school district, whose boundaries are roughly from Slauson north to Griffith Park and from the Los Angeles River west to Western.

In the Southern district, the situation is considerably brighter than in the central district. There the number of half-day sessions had jumped from 3,412 in 1960 to 4,425 as of Oct. 20, 1961.

Three new schools are expected to be completed by May, 1962, with a capacity of 1300 each. These are the 107th Street School, at 147 E. 107th Street; the Parmeless Avenue School, 1338 E. 76th place, and the 93rd Street School.

In addition about 60 portable classrooms are expected to be finished at a dozen south side schools in the near future.

Man Shoots To Back Right Of 'Butting In'

"I told him to mind his own business and he got mad, pulled his gun and shot me," Henry Mahone, 47-year-old truck driver told police last Thursday.

Mahone was treated at Central Receiving Hospital for a rear flesh wound.

He said he had been drinking with a man by the name of Oscar Bowie at a bar at 918 E. 7th street. Mahone was arguing with his wife, as a man has a right to do, because she didn't want to go home.

Oscar joined in the argument, which Mahone resented. That's when Mahone told his friend to keep out of the quarrel, with decidedly discomforting results.

Lockheed, Other Firms to Offer Equal Opportunity

The advantages of using the job skills of all persons regardless of race or religion will be emphasized at a meeting at the Pacoima High School Auditorium tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m.

The meeting is sponsored by the Committee for Equal Employment Opportunities, which is composed of the major valley industries headed by Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, the Radio Corporation of America, the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation and others.

The program at the 9919 Laurel Canyon blvd. school will be open to questions from the audience. Panel speakers will include experts in personnel and employment from major firms as well as counselors and ministers in the area.

A similar meeting is slated for Oct. 19 at the Statler Hotel when the Commission on Community relations will consider: "Manpower Utilization — Emphasis: Minority Groups."

The life of every man is a diary in which he means to write one story, and writes another; and his humblest hour is when he compares the volume as it is with what he vowed to make it. — Sir James M. Barrie

NAACP Meet Slated Sunday

The regular membership meeting of the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP will be held Sunday, Oct. 15, at 3 p.m., at Peoples Independent Church, 1025 E. 18th street. Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins is pastor of the church.

Pres. Edward D. Warren states that this is a meeting of particular interest to members and friends of the Branch. There will be reports from the Roy Wilkins rally, the youth luncheon, the Hollywood Activities Committee social and the Life Membership dinner, as well as reports of regular committees and a progress report on the president's police brutality suit.

Domestic Held In Knife Death

Police were holding a 48 year old domestic Tuesday in the slaying of a man she said would not "leave me alone."

Held is Elnore Ellen Lewis, 48, of 3026 Halldale, Apt. 204, who admitted to police she stabbed her erstwhile boy friend Elmo Griffin, 25, in the neck, killing him.

The woman told police she inflicted the fatal knife wound during a fight in a cafe at 1488 W. Jefferson when Griffin became angry because she refused to "go back to him."

The woman said Griffin struck her in the face with a knife, and walked out. She said she ran after him, stabbed him one time and fled.

Griffin staggered a few yards to 3501 S. Normandie and asked Viola Hall, of 1057 W. 47th street, to call police.

Torrance Mayor Bans Sale of 'Weekly People'

Torrance Mayor Albert Isen last Thursday took the law into his own hands and decided to ban from the streets of the city the "Weekly People," publication of the Socialist Labor Party which has been published and distributed for approximately half a century.

Mayor Isen decided that the publication is "subversive" and said he was having its coin racks removed from the sidewalks, even though the City Council considered the ban an abridgment of freedom of the press and refused to sanction the move.

Mrs. Helen Long, secretary of the Socialist Labor Party, whose headquarters are at 215 W. 5th street, Los Angeles, declared that the mayor "is expressing contempt for the Constitution of the United States," and said that the matter has been turned over to the American Civil Liberties Union and its chief counsel, A. L. Wirin, for action.

The issue was scheduled for review by the Torrance City Council Tuesday night.

Texas Nat'l Guard Accepts First Negro

NAACP Picks Greenberg for Marshall's Post

NEW YORK—Jack Greenberg, 37, Thurgood Marshall's principal assistant, who has served as assistant counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund since 1949, has been appointed to succeed Marshall as general counsel, the fund's Board of Directors announced last Wednesday.

The board accepted the resignation of Marshall, who has headed the fund's legal branch since 1950 and who has been associated with the defense work of the NAACP for the past 25 years.

Marshall resigned after he was selected by Pres. Kennedy to serve as a federal judge on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Greenberg, who helped argue the school cases of 1954 and 1955 before the Supreme Court, will make his first appearance before that body in his present capacity on Oct. 18, when he will represent Negro students convicted in sit-in demonstrations in Baton Rouge, La. This is the first time the hign court will review a case involving sit-in demonstrations.

Greenberg is a native New Yorker, a graduate of Columbia College and the Columbia University Law School, who has devoted all but one year of his professional legal career to the work of the fund. During his 12 years on the fund staff, he has worked on virtually every major civil rights case in which it has participated.

What's a Race Riot?

Alhambra had a race riot the other night. The reason we know it was a race riot is that we have applied the same yardstick that was applied to the Memorial Day unrest out at Griffith Park, which was characterized as a race riot by our police department.

The members of the group who got into the row with the Alhambra police all belonged to one ethnic group, just as was the case at Griffith Park. The police had to call for help just as they did at Griffith Park.

The crowd on hand turned against the police at Alhambra just as it did at Griffith Park and the police officers were shoved around and jeered in both cases.

But don't expect to see the Alhambra incident described as a race riot. There was one big difference between the two fracases. In the Griffith Park case the police were asserting their authority against Negroes; at Alhambra the unruly crowd was composed of white persons. And what a difference race makes!

Thus far nobody has rushed into print, as Chief of Police Parker did after the Griffith Park incident, to insinuate that the actions of the Alhambra participants have some connection with their racial identification.

There's another difference. In the Griffith Park case the district attorney's office galloped into the fray and charged two of the arrested youngsters with an aggravated felony. The charge was finally reduced to a lower grade felony. In the Alhambra case the participants were charged only with the ordinary misdemeanors that are usually laid to participants in affairs of this kind.

We deplore the violence at Alhambra just as we did the violence at Griffith Park.

We find it equally deplorable, and disturbing, that differing standards of law enforcement were applied in the two cases. Nothing can undermine public confidence in law enforcement authorities more easily than a double standard of treatment apparently based on race of law breakers.

Half Day School Sessions

The increase in half day school sessions for children living in so-called minority group areas is not an expression of overt discrimination by the Board of Education or school administrators.

It is an inevitable product of the workings of the racial residential segregation system that obtains in Los Angeles, as well as in other cities—that is it is inevitable unless there are drastic changes in Board policies.

Rapidly growing Los Angeles has only so much money for school construction. The new suburban communities get most of that money because there are no schools in the new areas. The Board must build schools but after that expenditure of funds little is left for the expansion of schools in older districts where minority groups are forced to live.

Minority groups must make-do with the second hand facilities they inherit when they move into second hand neighborhoods. Meanwhile, exclusion of Negroes, and other non-whites, from new suburban areas increases population in the existing racial ghettoes.

As population expands in the restricted neighborhoods the number of schools must accommodate the increase and they are unequal to the task without half day sessions.

In their proper turn, half day school sessions compound the problems of members of minority groups. Their children, disadvantaged in many ways, need better education in order to close the gap between themselves and the children of the middle class parents who move to the new suburban areas with their new schools. Half day sessions widen that gap. Minority group children must run twice as fast as they can just to stay where they are.

As we said in the beginning, we don't charge the Board or the school administration with overt discrimination for this state of affairs. We do believe that the Board must find ways and means of coping with the problem if it is to hold fast to its duty of caring for the interests of all the people of the school district.

The Board doesn't discharge its full duty by providing better-off children with new schools and full day education while it saddles the less fortunate with attending half day sessions at old, and in some instances wholly inadequate, schools.

Oral Exams Ruled Out

The City Civil Service Commission took the right tack when it overruled the Fire Department bigwigs and its own administrators and ordered a written examination for entrance to the fire department.

An examination had been slated in which applicants would have been given both written and oral examinations with each portion weighted equally in determining passing grades.

Civil service brass tried to uphold the oral portion of the examination as necessary in order to select the best persons for the job. It turned out that there had been no oral exams until the early 1950's and that the weight of the orals had been expanded only after the successful fight against segregation in the fire department.

As nearly as can be ascertained, only seven Negroes have been able to qualify for the department in the past half dozen years. Many of the other numerous applicants were turned down after "failure" to pass oral examinations.

The inference is plain that the oral exam was being used to disqualify Negroes solely because of their race. Put plainly, the orals were rigged against Negroes.

With an honest grading system for written tests the number of successful Negro applicants will increase.

The Commission should take the next step and drastically reduce the weight of the oral examination in all civil service tests in cases where it is believed to be absolutely necessary. In most cases, the orals should be abolished entirely; they are booby traps laid to give play to prejudices of department heads who don't want Negroes.

Judge Vaino Spencer

The appointment of Atty. Vaino Spencer to the Los Angeles Municipal Court is a good one. Mrs. Spencer is one of the few Negro women to be named to the bench and her appointment is both a recognition of her own merit and of the part she has played in civic and community affairs for the past several years.

Judge Spencer will carry to the bench an understanding of the problems of the litigants who will come into her court and is qualified to deal with those problems by training and by temperament.

We congratulate the governor and Mrs. Spencer. We are sure that she will be as valuable a member of the judiciary as she has been of her community.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

I'm sending a copy of this column out to Seattle, Wash., to a young friend of mine who is a staff member of the Urban League there. The column is an amendment of a position that I established in a brisk argument a year or so ago—an argument about politics, no less—on the subject of the not-so-new New Frontier.

He, being young and starry-eyed, was confident that on the "New Frontier" the American Negro would find that land of equal opportunity — or at least would approach to within hailing distance of his trail's end.

SARDONIC OBSERVER

I, being a sardonic observer of campaigns back as far as Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose expedition, and remembering Woodrow Wilson's promise to "keep us out of war" as well as the fact that under the New Deal we did finally get out of the Depression, but by the dubious method of dragging ourselves (or being dragged) into World War II—having become sardonic in my political observations, I challenged my young friend to cite one single aspect of the past record of the Kennedys that would warrant optimism regarding the racial record this Administration would establish.

GRANGER

The seasoned voter, I pointed out, bases his political action not on what a candidate promises but on what he has done. Promises are as plentiful as eggs in a hatchery, and as easily broken. I was confident of only two things —that the Kennedy Administration would be politically skillful in handling the Negro vote, and the Negro vote would remain, in the majority massed behind the standard of the Democratic Party. Massed, not because the Democrats would justify that support (not likely, as long as the party in Congress is run by the Russells and Eastlands and Fulbrights and Passmans of the Old South) but because the Republican Congressional strategy would offer Negroes no attractive alternative.

AMENDMENT

Now I find that I've got to amend that position. Not change it, but build an addition that will make room for recent developments. One important development is in the area of the U.S. Attorney General's activities. The other is symbolized by the record being compiled by the two Republican Senators from New York State. The first warns against hard-and-fast conclusions arrived at too early; the second may be a couple of robins announcing the impending start of a new season—provided, that is, the Negro electorate responds with common sense.

I wasn't impressed by the fact that Attorney General Robert Kennedy nominated two Negroes out of over seventy nominations that he had made up to last week. Considering all the lavish platform pledges made, at least a half - dozen such appointments should have been expected up to now—if only on the basis of fair political patronage.

But what did warm the cockles of this chilly old politically-cynical heart was Kennedy's appointment of Thurgood Marshall. Because he didn't have to do it that way. There were a dozen colored lawyers of distinction to be named without the thunderous civil rights implication that the Marshall nomination was bound to have throughout the nation and the world. The nomination says, in effect, to the South that holds all the high cards in the Senate, "Look, I'm calling your full house, if you've got one." Chances are, the southern oligarchs will go through the motions of meeting the bet, and then will fold their cards and slip them back into the deck.

G.O.P. LIBERALS

And what also makes me feel good, as a frequently disappointed Republican, is the truly liberal record that Senators Javits and Keating are acquiring and strengthening each month. One doesn't have to agree with every single vote or statement made by these two New Yorkers in order to realize that their twin attacks against the southern oligarchy in the Senate are setting a pattern that could well rescue the G.O.P. from limbo—if its national leadership is intelligent enough to use the pattern.

Add a dozen more Republican Senators of this type to the Keating-Javits task force, and battles could well ensue in the Congress that would make the Democrats put up or shut up—and convince the Negro electorate that a racial vote split fifty-fifty between the major parties will bring more respect and produce better performances from both. But this in turn depends upon whether the Negro electorate of New York State is smart enough to respond with a shifting of votes when next senatorial elections come around.

Congress Must Act, Says Rights Group

WASHINGTON—The United States Commission on Civil Rights recently called for extensive Congressional action to speed up the all too slow pace of public school desegregation.

It also called for executive action, especially in providing protection for individuals who are obeying the law on school desegregation and in assuring equal educational opportunities for children of military personnel.

ACTION ON LIBRARIES

In a new field, the commission further recommended that the President withhold public library funds from states which deprive Negroes of full access to all library facilities.

In calling upon Congress for legislation, the commission ran counter to the expressed policy of the Kennedy Administration which has relied exclusively on executive powers in the Civil Rights field and has refused to call upon Congress for any new laws to implement court orders.

In its most far-reaching demand, the commission, by unanimous action, asked Congress to order all school boards in segregated districts to file a desegregation plan within six months after passage of the bill, and to take the first step toward compliance with the Supreme Court decision on schools at the beginning of the following school year.

ATTY. GEN. COULD ACT

The proposed bill would cut through the time-consuming procedures now required, in which Negroes are compelled to force school boards to admit their children. The bill would authorize the attorney general to seek enforcement in Federal courts.

A bill, containing proposals similar to the commission recommendations, was introduced in the present session of Congress by Senator Clark and Rep. Celler.

The commission based its recommendations upon findings that only 7 per cent of Negro children in 17 southern states attended desegregated schools in 1960-61. More than 2,000 school districts had not even started to comply. Further, the trend toward desegregation was found to be continuing through court orders rather than voluntary action; three states (Alabama, Mississippi, and South Carolina) continued to operate completely segregated school systems; and even in some districts of other States, where a start had been made, actual desegregation is minimal.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

The committee urged: Congress to curtail education funds to States with school districts operating only segregated elementary and secondary public schools.

Legislation to provide technical and financial assistance to desegregating school districts, and loans to districts where state or local aid has been withdrawn because of desegregation.

Protection for school board members, parents, children and citizens from harassment by persons opposed to the carrying out of a desegregation plan. A study of the New Orleans situation in 1960 led the commission to conclude that despite efforts by the attorney general, no direct Federal protection was available to white people who were harassed because they supported Federal law and order.

That steps be taken to assure that Federal assistance to higher education would go only to desegregated colleges and universities.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS

Four of the five commissioners indicated that they would extend the reach of the recommendation to private as well as public institutions receiving Federal funds.

In addition to a detailed factual study of desegregation and legislative resistance in the South in the past two years and the threat to public education posed by school closing laws, repeal of compulsory school attendance laws and tuition grants to attend private schools, the report deals with school segregation in the North and West.

Campaign Launched For 10 Dist. Recall understands or represents the needs of the large number of Negro and other minority residents of the area, and electing in his place a member of the Negro community.

Full support for the recall movement was contained in a telegram from Laborers' Local 300, signed by Joe Murdock, which was sent to the chairman of the meeting.

Sylvester Odoms, Perry Parks, Arthur Price, Robert Reynolds, Atty. Alma Rufiison, Frank Terry, Leon H. Washington Jr. and Ted Wright.

Loren Miller says . . .

HIGHWAYS AND NEGROES

Take me to a strange city where I've never been before and point out the areas in which Negroes live and I will lay you some neat odds that I can point out the route of the city's next freeway. There's nothing magic about it. I don't know whether it is a required subject in engineering schools or not but I do know that one of the cardinal articles of faith among highway engineers is that the areas of Negro residence offer the best, the most feasible, and the most economical routes for highway construction.

Santa Monica had a case of that kind of scientific thinking a few years ago when the state turned its engineers loose to find a highway route through that city. You guessed it. The route uprooted some 300 or 400 Negro residents. When the people protested they were told that the state highway department had no concern with where the uprooted found homes, or indeed whether or not they were able to find homes. The engineers said their only concern was with finding a good route.

ANOTHER FREEWAY

If you drive through the westside you will see that another highway is cutting its way through that community. Literally hundreds of westsiders are being bulldozed out of their homes as the highway route meanders through the 21st street section. Historic Berkely Square with its fine old homes is giving way to the freeway. Time was when Berkeley Square was the residence of some of the city's richest and best known families.

Perhaps I'm wrong, and you'll never be able to prove it, but it is my conviction that if Berkeley Square had not become an area of Negro occupancy it would not now lie in the path of the freeway. Its fate was determined when whites moved out and Negroes moved in. Negro westsiders put up quite a battle when they found they were in the path of the freeway but the engineers grabbed their slide rules and squares and "proved" that they had found the best route.

HAPPENS EVERYWHERE

What's happening in Los Angeles and in Santa Monica has happened with equal dispatch in other cities. To use a military term, Negro home owners are expendable. Of course, cities need freeways these days and whenever and wherever freeways are built there is bound to be a displacement of residents who live in the chosen path. There's no question about that the displacement of Negroes, and other non-whites, works a greater hardship than is worked when whites are roaded out of their homes.

The white residents can find some place else to live without undue hardship. The Negro is put in a bad position. He can't go out to the new suburban areas and buy a new home simply because he has the money and the desire. As Charles Shattuck made plain last week the realtors will gang up on him in the first place and search around for dodges to defeat his attempts to buy what he wants. Where they leave off the financial institutions will pick up and by refusal of credit will frustrate him.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

After it is all over, the Negro victim of freeway construction will wind up, more often than not, in another restricted area where he will have to pay through the nose for a second hand home in a community a cut below that in which he formerly lived.

Freeways benefit an entire city and it seems to me the social, as well as the financial, cost ought to be borne by all who benefit. Before we riddle any more Negro communities with freeways the state ought to be required to find other, and unsegregated communities, to which the displaced can move at a very minimum of financial sacrifice. I don't think it's fair to require the condemned man to pay for the hangman's rope.

Community Chest Needs Volunteers

South Central and Southeastern Regions in the Community Chest campaigns are urgently in need of volunteers, reported Mrs. George Thomas, 2131 Second avenue, and Mervyn Dymally, 426 E. 59th place, chairman, respectively, of each region.

CASE SET DEC. 4

Charged in that case were John D. Gardner, 36, who was released on $36,250 bail; his wife, Mrs. Ethel Gardner, 31, who was released on $8,625 bail, and John Whitehurst. Their cases go to trial Dec. 4.

Gardner also has been found guilty of the illegal sale of narcotics. Convicted on the charge about a year ago, he appealed the decision and recently lost the appeal.

The indictments being sought by Atty. Joyce against Dr. Bass and Dr. Hobson, and later against other doctors, would involve felony penalties in the event of convictions of jail sentences from six months to five years.

ues, "three have been victims of police brutality and beatings. These include Robert Moses, Charles Sherrod and Charles McDew.

"Intimidation and general harassment have become the order of the day, coupled with an obvious blackout on the news."

Police Chief George Guy said the one white man arrested, Bob Zellener, 22, of Atlanta, was taken away from the scene by sheriff's deputies "because they were fixing to kill him."

The police chief said two or three white men punched him and tried to pull him away before the officers rescued him "for his own protection."

The students—from junior high and senior high schools—marched through the town bearing placards and made speeches outside city hall, protesting the earlier student arrests. All the demonstrators were booked on breach of peace charges.

No members of the white mob were arrested.

HIGHLY QUALIFIED

It was claimed further that Jones is highly experienced, possessing valid Interstate Commerce Commission and P.U.C. qualifications which establish him as a commercial vehicle operator, qualified to operate any commercial vehicle, or combination of vehicles upon the highways in the State of California as well as anywhere else in the United States.

The first action directed against Greyhound was the filing of charges with the President's Contract Committee in Washington, D.C., an executive committee set up under a presidential order to insure equal employment opportunity regardless of race, creed or national origin wherever a government contract is involved.

TO PRESS ATTACK

Greyhound comes under this jurisdiction, the teamsters claim, in view of the existence of government contracts with Greyhound for the transmittal of U.S. mail as well as the transportation of military personnel for the armed forces.

In filing the complaint, John T. Williams, teamster of 1705 W. Palmer avenue, Compton, stated:

"We shall continue relentlessly pressing this attack whenever, wherever and however we may establish a beachhead with whatever recourse we may effectively apply. As Teamster Union members, we are determined that this spectre of discrimination upon our highways shall no longer be perpetuated by Greyhound."

At a luncheon where Carl Sandberg and a general were among the guests of honor, the master of ceremonies announced: "I now give you Carl Sandberg, who will make up some poetry for us."

Sandberg got to his feet, but all he said was, "I yield to the general. He will fire a cannon for us."

Ban Oral Test In Exams for City Firemen

hearings on the advisability of oral tests in Civil Service examinations and the manner in which they should be administered. Among those who urged azolition of the orals was Atty. Loren Miller who charged that they gave an opportunity to "rig examinations to as great an extent as TV shows were rigged a few months ago." He said that if orals were to be retained the weight given them should be reduced.

EXAMS HIT

Donald Derricks, former city employe, and Maxie Files, who is now employed by the city, agreed that oral examinations offer a great opportunity for favoritism and joined in urging their abolition. Sidney Moore, labor representative of city employes, joined to urge the giving of less weight to oral tests.

Max Mont, representing the Community Relations Conference, cited figures to show the difficulties faced by Negro applicants in Fire Department examinations and urged the all-written test later ordered by the commission. Dr. M. C. Hudson also appeared in behalf of the Community Relations Conference.

FINAL INQUIRY

Last Friday's hearings were the first in a series planned by the commission in which it will inquire into all phases of civil service and its discrimination. The hearings into oral exams will be resumed this Friday (Oct. 13) in Room 11-E of the city hall. Hearings are open to the public.

The commission's decision did not have any effect on its previous ruling that oral tests given in a previous promotional examination in the Fire Department were fairly administered. Seven applicants had appealed from their grades on the ground that the examiners had shown prejudice.

BIAS CHARGED

Meanwhile, Atty. Arnett Hartsfield, a former fireman, told the Eagle that he will appear before the Fire Commission on Oct. 19 to request a full scale hearing into his charges of segregation and discrimination in the Fire Department. He described Friday's ruling as a "victory for common sense and good government."

Civil Service employes have long complained that the great weight given oral tests is reducing the Civil Service system to a "spoils system" in which department heads can pick and choose employes at will without much regard to merit. Members of minority groups may be passed over at will, it is charged, by simply giving low grades on oral examinations.

Admits Arson

at the rear of 1478 W. Santa Barbara avenue late last Monday night.

SQUAD CAR BOMBED

Her arrest came shortly after an explosion had ripped a police scout car in front of the Culver City Police station.

At first Mrs. Henderson was thought to have been the "mad bomber" of the scout car. She was booked for assault to commit murder, although no one was in the car at the time of the explosion.

A 14-year-old white boy was found later to have bombed the police car. Police theorized at the time that Mrs. Henderson needed medical attention.

This line of reasoning did not, however, make police regard her threats of arson against her brother-in-law in the same demented light. She was held to answer on suspicion of arson.

Westminster Holds Annual Planning Conferences

Using the theme "As Disciples, Go Teach and Preach", the pastor, Rev. James E. Jones, officers and members of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, 2230 W. Jefferson, conducted their second annual Church Planning Conference Sept. 15-16 at the Presbyterian Conference Grounds in Pacific Palisades.

Convening the first Conference session, Westminster's Christian Education Department chairman, Elder John Grayson, called attention to the vital necessity of dedicated service by all members of the church body if the commission of the church is to be effectively executed.

ENGAGE MINDS

Keynote speaker of the meeting was the Rev. Mr. David Wallick of St. John's Presbyterian Church. In his address on Christian Education he clearly defined the responsibility of Christian leadership to those who seek to know the "Nature, Nurture and Order of the Church", pointing out that Christian Education is "essential to good discipleship." He further stated that the church is called to the task of evangelism, and "It is the activity of the people of God as they engage the minds of men in real life."

Saturday's meeting provided opportunity for conferees to express themselves in seminars and buzz sessions. Leaders of the seminars which stimulated thinking in the field of Christian Education of Adults, Our Youth Our Children and the task of Evangelism," were Mrs. Danetta Johnson, Mrs. Thelma Taylor, Mrs. Iola Burton and Mrs. Esther McCladdie.

Catholics Tell Conversions On Increase

There are now 615,964 Negro Catholics in the United States, according to the October issue of Sepia, published in Fort Worth, Texas.

The article, by John Howard Griffin, claims that more than 11,000 American Negroes were converted to Catholicism in the past year, largely because "there are no second-class Catholics."

Griffin adds that the 728 Negro priests in this country are twice the number 10 years ago, at a time when the Society for the Propagation of the Faith warned that "any thought of a wide general conversion of the Negroes to the Catholic church is an illusion until and unless the attitude of American Catholics, clergy and laity, is completely purified of approval of the segregation policy or of the many deprivations of educational opportunity, of fair employment and of decent housing that arises as a result of it."

The article further explains that 100,000 Catholics in the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese were called upon to offer prayers in the name of a Negro saint. The occasion was last June 20, when Bishop Thomas K. Gorman ordered the prayers after Sunday masses in churches and chapels of the diocese, for interracial peace through interracial charity." Saint Benedict the Moor is one of at least 20 Negroes the church has canonized.

Manchester Avenue Bapt. Slates 'Know Him' Rally

The Manchester Baptist Church, 243 W. 85th street, will hold a Rally Day for the Sunday Church School on Sunday, Oct. 15. Every effort is being put forth to have 100 per cent attendance and to have each member to bring another person, according to Rev. Roy L. Thompson, pastor of the Church.

At the morning worship the Rev. Mr. Thompson, will be preaching on the sermon-topic: "Do You Know Him?"

According to Rev. Thompson, "Christ is standing in the midst of a turbulent world and yet the world does not recognize Him. People are hungry for the 'good news' that He offers but continue to turn their backs to Him and look to the things of this world for salvation.

He further states, "that if peace is to reign supreme in the world today then men must turn and recognize Him and say in the words of St. John: 'Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world.'"

Rev. Thompson will also begin a series of four Sunday evening Evangelistic services at 7:30 this Sunday. He will be preaching on the general theme: "The Promises of God and his subject for this Sunday will be "We Shall Receive Power." Mrs. Mary Thompson of Second Baptist Church will be the guest soloist.

God's Healing Power to be Told Sunday

The Healing and redemptive power of devine Truth will be brought out at Christian Science Services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement." The Golden Text is from John's Gospel, "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (1:29).

Peter's healing of the lame man as related in Acts will be included in the Bible selections together with his reply to those who questioned him regarding the source of his healing ability.

One of the correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy affirms, "The same power which heals sin heals alsp sickness. This is 'the beauty of holiness,' that when Truth heals the sick, it casts out evils, and when Truth casts out the evil called disease, it heals the sick" (p. 135).

The motivation for this program is described by the pastor, Rev. John N. Doggett, Jr., in the following words: "The future is not ours but belongs to those young lives for whom we are responsible. The only thing we ever keep is what we give away. Since we have been the recipients of far more than we have merited, let us make our contribution to unborn generations. Our unrealized dreams and aspirations will be fulfilled in that future we prepare for in this present age."

'Kneel-ins Not Christian,' Says AME Bishop

Bishop O. L. Sherman, presiding bishop of the 12th Episcopal district of the AME Church, went on record in Little Rock, Ark. as being against kneel-ins in churches as a protest against segregated congregations. He said however that he was in favor of sit-ins and freedom rides, because he said he felt these were demonstrations affecting civil rights rather than religious rights.

Christian motives behind the kneel-ins were questioned by the bishop. Some of the churches picketed had already indicated that they would accept all people regardless of race. Bishop Sherman said, "Church picketing is not the way of Christ. Christ's way is whosoever will, let him come."

He further stated that "Church picketing conflicts with freedom of choice. The AME Church was established on the philisophy of independence, free will, free choice and freedom of religion."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment wtih special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

There are only 30 more days before PGA will have to vote yea or nay on its un-American Caucasian clause. Odds are that the "whites only" clause will die a "quick-death."

Speaking of PGA reminds us of Charles Sifford, who is now in the city getting ready for the local PGA and Western Tournaments.

Sifford recently was only 9 strokes from winning him a few oil well royalties when he shot 71-73-71-70 in the first annual $25,000 Bakersfield Open. The winner (Jack Fleck) won the oil well royalties for a year from a Bakersfield well.

The second prize (won by Bob Rosburg) was a 1200-pound steer all dressed for the table. The third prize was "a little old 500 pound bale of cotton, honey chile."

If they keep stretching these golf prizes, somebody is going to eventually give away a "husband golfer."

In case you have forgotten who Jack Fleck is, we will inform you that he is (was) the little unknown professional who became famous by beating the great "unbeatable" Ben Hogan for the 1955 U.S. Open crown in a play-off at San Francisco. After this happened it seemed that Hogan could not get his game clicking again.

While speaking of the touring professionals we thought that you would be interested in knowing what Charles Sifford spent last year on entry fees in the tournaments that he was allowed to play in. Some fans will be surprised to know that the pros have to pay to play whether they win or lose.

To play in the LA Open it cost Sifford $40, Yorbalinda $30, San Diego $25, Phoenix $20, Tucson $15, $50,000 dollar classic $50, Oklahoma City $20, US Open $50, San Francisco Open $50, Buick Open $30, Canadian Open $25, Western Open $25.

Other tournaments that followed this group were Eastern Open $30, Insurance City $20, Salt Lake City $30, Collins Pacoima $30, Portland Open $20, Hesperia $20, Orange County $15, Montebello $15, So. Calif. Open $15, Aberdeen $20, Negro National $20, and Ballentine Beer Open $20. We shudder to think what his expenses were for gas, oil, golf balls, food (you know a touring pro cannot afford to miss meals like some people can do in other professions), caddy fees, hotels and clothes. His entry fees alone cost him $615 for that year. When he is allowed to play in all PGA tournaments it will cost more but he will have a chance to play for higher stakes

Davey Moore Headlines Olympic Go

Davey Moore, called by many ring experts one of the best ever to hold the world featherweight title, makes his second Los Angeles ring appearance of the year this Thursday night at the Olympic Auditorium.

The mighty mite from Springfield, Ohio, takes on rugged Pelon Cervantes of Mexico in a 10-round over the weight melee.

Moore won a close decision over Cervantes two months ago in Mexicali, but Davey admits he had to come on strong to grab the decision.

In his last Olympic showing, Moore disposed of Danny Valdez in one round fof a scheduled 15-rounder.

Cervantes has done well at the Olympic. Last year he took the measure of Danny Valdez, Ike Chestnut and Ricardo Gonzalez.

Promoter Cal Eaton says there will be no advance in prices; also, no television.

Portland vs Blades In Hockey Opener

Grand Prix Winner To Get New Pontiac

A record-breaking pot of gold—$28,600—will be riding on the outcome of the 200-mile Grand Prix for Sports Cars at Riverside International Raceway Sunday, Oct. 15.

This was disclosed Saturday by Glenn Davis, director of the fourth annual speed classic, upon announcing accessory prizes.

For the first time the winner of the international event will receive a brand new car—a $4,500 1962 Pontiac Grand Prix Coupe—as part of the richest sports car payoff in the United States.

Western Harness Set for Big Race

Several horses that have been invited to the $75,000 American Pacing Classic to be contested later in the current Western Harness Racing Assn. meeting are set to clash in the $6,000 Santa Monica Pace Saturday, Oct. 14, at Hollywood Park.

Huskies Unveil Rugged Runner In John Jones

By EDW. "Able" ROBINSON

The East Los Angeles College Huskies football team, tabbed by grid experts to be a pushover for the defending champion, Long Beach College Vikings, in their game last week, gave the champions the scare of their lives before finally bowing 22 to 16.

Coach Clyde Johnson's crew completely outplayed the Vikings in the last three quarters and uncovered a rugged ball carrier in lanky John Jones.

In the second period a 57-yard pass play set up the Huskies' first score with Jones racing over from the three-yard line and repeating for the two pointers to make it 22 to 8.

With Jones doing most of the running, the Huskies caught fire and drove 60 yards in 10 plays. A pass from Nick Uruburn to Jones covered the final 16 yards. Jones again raced over for the two points standing up to make it 22-16.

Huskies meet L. A. Harbor this Friday night at the Huskies' stadium. Game time is 8 p.m., and they will be facing one of Harbor's best teams in years.

Lakers, Piston Game Will Aid Scholarships

October 27 marks the first time in the history of major professional sports that an outside organization will co-promote a league game. The Prince Hall Shriners in conjunction with the L. A. Lakers will present the Lakers vs. the Detroit Pistons in the opening league game of the N.B.A. season at the L. A. sports arena.

The game will feature the big man of the Laker team, another first, Elgin Baylor. Baylor, holder of the N.B.A. scoring record for a single league game of 71 points, was appointed captain of the Laker team for the '61-'62 season.

The community is urged to support this project as an expression of thanks to the L. A. Lakers as well as a salute to a great star, Elgin Baylor—and, oh, yes—a big tip of the chapeau to the Prince Hall Shriners for their worthy charity which will benefit high school students seeking to further their education.

The rushees were also introduced to Bobby Graves, basileus of Alpha Gamma, and Gwen Williams, basileus of Sigma.

The committee remind those who will contribute dolls and toys at the formal that their gifts make some boy or girl real happy at Christmas time. They urge greater care in the selection of toys and dolls this year.

Capacity Crowd Expected For NAACP First Banquet

The glittering first annual NAACP Life Membership dinner will be held in the smart and fashionable Los Angeles Merchandise Mart, 1919 S. Broadway, on Friday, Oct. 13, at 7 p.m.

CHAIRMAN—Dr. Christopher L. Taylor is chairman of the first annual NAACP dinner which is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 13, at the Los Angeles Merchandise Mart.

The member banquet was conceived by a group of civic minded citizens and is being headed by the popular Dr. Christopher L. Taylor. It is expected to attract a capacity crowd and notables from all walks of life.

During the dinner guests will be entertained by some of the nation's outstanding artists and a surprise honor will be awarded to one of the most militant figures in California. His name will be revealed at the banquet.

The banquet was arranged to create a greater interest in the work of the NAACP and to increase the organization's life memberships. Each person attending will have paid $50 toward his or her life membership.

Doll League Club's Annual Bring-a-Toy Formal November 24

Plans for the 26th annual Doll League Charity Club's invitational Bring-a-Doll Formal were completed at the recent regular meeting of the group held in the beautiful Altadena home of Helen Smith.

A great deal of interest is centered around the forthcoming affair because the Doll League for 26 straight years has been providing children of all communities with dolls and toys at Christmas time.

It is well understood that without their annual party many youngsters would receive no toys or dolls at Christmas time.

Faye Haley, chairman of the Christmas party, and her committee set out early and go from house to house in various committees seeking the most deserving children. This program has been far reaching as some 1200 to 1500 children have received gifts from the Doll League.

The annual invitational formal has been one of the winter season's most exciting events and this year's affair promises to be no exception. As usual, the club will depict an historical theme but the theme for the Nov. 24 affair is a closely guarded secret.

Following the regular club meeting at Helen Smith's last Sunday, a social hour was held entertaining the members' husbands and the club's special guests.

The decor was entirely Hawaiian with the hostesses in colorful mu-mu's and leis, dispensing delicious food reminiscent of the Island.

There are only 30 more days before PGA will have to vote yea or nay on its un-American Caucasian clause. Odds are that the "whites only" clause will die a "quick death."

Speaking of PGA reminds us of Charles Sifford, who is now in the city getting ready for the local PGA and Western Tournaments.

Sifford recently was only 9 strokes from winning him a few oil well royalties when he shot 71-73-71-70 in the first annual $25,000 Bakersfield Open. The winner (Jack Fleck) won the oil well royalties for a year from a Bakersfield well.

The second prize (won by Bob Rosburg) was a 1200-pound steer all dressed for the table. The third prize was "a little old 500 pound bale of cotton, honey chile."

If they keep stretching these golf prizes, somebody is going to eventually give away a "husband golfer."

In case you have forgotten who Jack Fleck is, we will inform you that he is (was) the little unknown professional who became famous by beating the great "unbeatable" Ben Hogan for the 1955 U.S. Open crown in a play-off at San Francisco. After this happened it seemed that Hogan could not get his game clicking again.

While speaking of the touring professionals we thought that you would be interested in knowing what Charles Sifford spent last year on entry fees in the tournaments that he was allowed to play in. Some fans will be surprised to know that the pros have to pay to play whether they win or lose.

To play in the LA Open it cost Sifford $40, Yorbalinda $30, San Diego $25, Phoenix $20, Tucson $15, $50,000 dollar classic $50, Oklahoma City $20, US Open $50, San Francisco Open $50, Buick Open $30, Canadian Open $25, Western Open $26.

Other tournaments that followed this group were Eastern Open $30, Insurance City $20, Salt Lake City $30, Collins Pacoima $30, Portland Open $20, Hesperia $20, Orange County $15, Montebello $15, So. Calif. Open $15, Aberdeen $20, Negro National $20, and Balentine Beer Open $20. We shudder to think what his expenses were for gas, oil, golf balls, food (you know a touring pro cannot afford to miss meals like some people can do in other professions), caddy fees, hotels and clothes. His entry fees alone cost him $615 for that year. When he is allowed to play in all PGA tournaments it will cost more but he will have a chance to play for higher stakes

Davey Moore, called by many ring experts one of the best ever to hold the world featherweight title, makes his second Los Angeles ring appearance of the year this Thursday night at the Olympic Auditorium.

The mighty mite from Springfield, Ohio, takes on rugged Pelon Cervantes of Mexico in a 10-round over the weight melee.

Moore won a close decision over Cervantes two months ago in Mexicali, but Davey admits he had to come on strong to grab the decision.

In his last Olympic showing, Moore disposed of Danny Valdez in one round fof a scheduled 15-rounder.

Cervantes has done well at the Olympic. Last year he took the measure of Danny Valdez, Ike Chestnut and Ricardo Gonzalez.

Promoter Cal Eaton says there will be no advance in prices; also, no television.

This was disclosed Saturday by Glenn Davis, director of the fourth annual speed classic, upon announcing accessory prizes.

For the first time the winner of the international event will receive a brand new car—a $4,500 1962 Pontiac Grand Prix Coupe—as part of the richest sports car payoff in the United States.

Huskies Unveil Rugged Runner In John Jones

By EDW. "Able" ROBINSON

The East Los Angeles College Huskies football team, tabbed by grid experts to be a pushover for the defending champion, Long Beach College Vikings, in their game last week, gave the champions the scare of their lives before finally bowing 22 to 16.

Coach Clyde Johnson's crew completely outplayed the Vikings in the last three quarters and uncovered a rugged ball carrier in lanky John Jones.

In the second period a 57-yard pass play set up the Huskies' first score with Jones racing over from the three-yard line and repeating for the two pointers to make it 22 to 8.

With Jones doing most of the running, the Huskies caught fire and drove 60 yards in 10 plays. A pass from Nick Uruburn to Jones covered the final 16 yards. Jones again raced over for the two points standing up to make it 22-16.

Huskies meet L. A. Harbor this Friday night at the Huskies' stadium. Game time is 8 p.m., and they will be facing one of Harbor's best teams in years.

Lakers, Piston Game Will Aid Scholarships

October 27 marks the first time in the history of major professional sports that an outside organization will co-promote a league game. The Prince Hall Shriners in conjunction with the L. A. Lakers will present the Lakers vs. the Detroit Pistons in the opening league game of the N.B.A. season at the L. A. sports arena.

The game will feature the big man of the Laker team, another first, Elgin Baylor. Baylor, holder of the N.B.A. scoring record for a single league game of 71 points, was appointed captain of the Laker team for the '61-'62 season.

The community is urged to support this project as an expression of thanks to the L. A. Lakers as well as a salute to a great star, Elgin Baylor—and, oh, yes—a big tip of the chapeau to the Prince Hall Shriners for their worthy charity which will benefit high school students seeking to further their education.

Doll League Club's Annual Bring-a-Toy Formal November 24

Plans for the 26th annual Doll League Charity Club's invitational Bring-a-Doll Formal were completed at the recent regular meeting of the group held in the beautiful Altadena home of Helen Smith.

A great deal of interest is centered around the forthcoming affair because the Doll League for 26 straight years has been providing children of all communities with dolls and toys at Christmas time.

It is well understood that without their annual party many youngsters would receive no toys or dolls at Christmas time.

Faye Haley, chairman of the Christmas party, and her committee set out early and go from house to house in various committees seeking the most deserving children. This program has been far reaching as some 1200 to 1500 children have received gifts from the Doll League.

The annual invitational formal has been one of the winter season's most exciting events and this year's affair promises to be no exception. As usual, the club will depict an historical theme but the theme for the Nov. 24 affair is a closely guarded secret.

Following the regular club meeting at Helen Smith's last Sunday, a social hour was held entertaining the members' husbands and the club's special guests.

Nanna Jackson Honored With Birthday Party

By C. MARIE HUGHES

More than 40 friends of the Alexander Jacksons gathered at their West 52nd street home last Saturday night to attend a birthday party in honor of Mrs. Nanna Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson looked charming as she mingled among her guests in a stunning original creation of silk organza over taffeta and magenta colored net, with matching shoes.

Center of attraction on the elegantly arranged buffet table was a "Pink Elephant" birthday cake. The unique decoration of the huge cake, large enough to serve 60 people, was an array of champagne glasses in the white icing adorned by a a herd of lucious pink elephants, clamouring under the glasses, over the glasses, around the glasses and on top of the glasses. The inscription read, "To My Darling Wife."

A lavish buffet-style turkey supper was served around midnight. Following the elaborate meal the beautifully wrapped gifts were opened and put on display with the exception of Mr. Jackson's gift to his wife, a Coupe DeVille Cadillac, which was standing outside the house.

Among the many guests who attended the gala affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Blow, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ross, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. James Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Caruth and Mrs. Evelyn B. King.

Others were: Marietta Goodridge, Eunice Driver, Henry Roberts, Lexie Champion, Mrs. Carrie Tilley, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Christina Sease, Mr. L. Prescott and Robert Taylor.

A new class in Individual and Family Survival got underway last Monday at Jefferson Adult School.

Civil Defense authorities and persons in the community have requested this class. It will cover thermonuclear hazards; defense and protection against these hazards; family survival in time of peril; federal, state and local measures.

Howard University's New Administrator Takes Post

WASHINGTON — Education at Howard University will soon become a 24-hour-a-day proposition if the plans of the University's newest student personnel administrator materialize.

A proposal to bring outside-the-classroom activity more closely in line with formal classroom curricula was announced this week by Patricia Roberts Harris, the new associate dean of students at Howard.

Mrs. Harris is in her second month as associate dean at the University, but already she has some ideas that will change the character of extra-curricula activity on the campus.

One such idea is that every experience which a student has while enrolled at the University should be one which contributes positively to his education. With this in mind, the new dean plans to re-examine thoroughly and to evaluate the extra-curricular program at Howard, particularly as it involves women students, whose welfare is her major responsibility.

The dean plans to look into all phases of extra-curricula activity for women and examine some areas of the men students. First on her list are the residence halls for men and women.

Dean Harris, who joined the Howard community of administrators on Sept. 5, will also examine all policies governing student conduct and standards.

NEW IDEAS — Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris, associate dean of Students at Howard University, brings wealth of experience to a new job.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

Last week 28 members of the St. Paul Baptist Church Youth Group participated in a day of fun, sponsored by the Interstate Baptist Youth of Southern California. The day included a trip to Holiday Land and Disney Land. Accompanying the group were: W. B. Montgomery, Jimmie Smith, Y. B. Jordon, James Montgomery and Gladys Walker.

Mrs. Gladys Walker was the recipient of a life membership in the National Baptist Convention, and was presented the scroll and pin that accompanies this honor by the women of St. Paul Church. Mrs. Walker is the wife of Rev. Jesse Walker, pastor of St. Paul. She has devoted much time and effort to the building and development of the church.

Sympathy goes to Mrs. Laura Taylor, who last week lost her grandfather.

Happy to hear Mr. James Patterson is now convalescing at home.

Congratulations to the Rev. H. W. Washington on his 13-year stay in Oxnard as pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. The members of Trinity have planned a month long anniversary celebration, which began last week and will run through the month of October, the pulpit at Trinity will be filled by many visiting ministers, among them Rev. Hayes of Lewis Chapel, Santa Barbara, Rev. Pledger, Pacoima, and Rev. Barwell of Santa Barbara. There will also be many well known choirs appearing and a number of social gatherings.

Rev. Washington, his wife Floris, and one daughter came to Oxnard from Los Angeles, three other children have been added to that union since the family came to Oxnard. Oxnard and Ventura County salute Rev. Washington not only as a minister, but as a loyal citizen and good friend.

Vacationing with the Dick Abram's last week at their ranch home was Miss Meada Patton of Los Angeles. Miss Patton is a clerk in the County assessor's office of that city.

Also dropping by the ranch was Oscar Williams who is the owner of Williams Electrical Appliances in L. A.

Oxnard's beautiful community center was the site of the Elementary School Teachers Western style dinner dance last weekend. Among the frolickers were Warren and Jerri Mantooth, Charles Jenkins and the Duffs of Hueneme.

The Walter Reddicks are back from vacationing in Los Angeles, San Diego and Mexico.

Congratulations to Rev. Lee Henderson, publisher, Mr. J. Mack, editor, and staff, on the monthly publication of "The Voice of Bethel," and thanks for the copy.

The Ebony Fashion Fair Internationale, for the benefit of the National Urban League, was sponsored by the National Urban League Guild; and presented in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, last Sunday afternoon, to the complete delight and joy of a jam packed crowd of enthusiastic people, mostly female. The clothes were fabulous, and the models lovely, and all in all a good time was had. I did not attend this year, but got the news from many reliable sources.

FALL CAMP FUN

On Monday night the Camp Fund Get Together's began their new season at Linnette's on St. Nicholas Avenue, and even in the rain there was a full complement of bar owners, liquor salesmen, friends and well wishers, to make the evening a success. Dan Arindell of Cutty Sark was the honoree. The next one will be at the Palm Cafe, and we wish Mr. and

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER

ETHEL WATERS told a luncheon crowd out at Screen Gems Studio last week that she isn't as destitute and bedridden as some columnists would have you believe. She stated that she can collect 75 grand anytime she has a mind to for the movie rights to her biography book "His Eye Is On The Sparrow" but that the film people refuse to allow her to appear as herself in any part of the film and won't even give her script approval. La Waters has turned her back on them. "Good Night, Sweet Blues," the starrer for Ethel on last Friday's Route 66 show, will probably make her the Emmy winner for the best dramatic performance by a woman. What a Woman!

Article in the current SHOW BUSINESS ILLUSTRATED magazine dealing with Negro comedians and entitled "Goodbye Mr. Bones" has comic REDD FOXX quoted as saying he won't change his style and go more sophisticated 'cause "People would probably call me a yellow DICK GREGORY" . . . LENA HORNE takes her One Woman Show into New York and may take it to Europe. Maybe we'll see it here in the sweet bye and bye! . . . Tragedy in the News: The Israeli Bond Drive at the Beverly Hilton the other day raised aquarter of a million dollars and the NAACP Shrine affair was a financial flop! . . . How Cum? . . . You figger it out! . . . Incidentally both HAZEL SCOTT & EARTHA KITT planed in for that Israel affair! . . . Received

Hollingsworth Served With Recall Notice

Newsmen were there, cameramen were there; television men were there. So also was a five-member delegation waiting and ready to serve notice of a recall move.

Not present was the object of the recall — Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth. Time for the presentation of the notice had been set for 2 p.m. Monday, but the councilman for the 10th district was apparently busy elsewhere.

DELIVERED NOTICE

His secretary finally located him and he rushed passed the group waiting for him and into his inner office, saying in passing that he didn't have much time and that he's a very busy man.

David Glass, a member of the 10th District delegation, followed Hollingsworth and handed him the recall notice. The law requires that the incumbent receive official notification of a planned recall movement.

Waiting along with Glass, who lives at 1109 S. Citrus avenue, were other members of the recall committee, Warren A. Hollier, 3236½ W. Adams blvd.; Rev. Herbert Yates, pastor of the Southwest Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Marian Harrison, of 5331 Sunlight street; and the Rev. H. H. Brookins, pastor of the First AME Church, chairman of the recall committee.

2 WEEKS TO ANSWER

Hollingsworth has two weeks in which to answer the petition, if he so desires, after which, the petitions, containing both the motivation of the sponsors and the answer of Hollingsworth, will be printed and circulated for signatures.

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy announced Monday that airports at Columbus, Ga., and Raleigh-Durham, N.C., have voluntarily agreed to desegregate all facilities under their control.

Indictment of Two Seen as Harmful to All Negro Doctors

(SPECIAL TO THE EAGLE)

Negro doctors of Los Angeles this week expressed considerable concern lest accusations that a large number of doctors, dentists and pharmacists have been caught in a giant swindle of the county would reflect adversely on their profession.

Those queried, however, were careful not to pre-judge the cases of the two doctors arrested last week on grounds of filing false claims, Dr. U. F. Bass, of 10362 Graham avenue, and Dr. Francis Hobson, of 1905 E. Imperial Highway.

TO PLEAD OCT. 20

The two are scheduled to appear for arraignment Friday, Oct. 20, at 9 a.m. in Dept. 100. They are free on $10,000 bail each.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Anthony Joyce has indicated that before the probe is completed some 50 or more persons will be accused of involvement in the lucrative racket. The first group, he said, was uncovered following the arrest of three pharmacists in South Los Angeles.

He emphasized, however, that the swindle, involving falsification of claims of persons on relief and elderly persons, is not at all confined to the Negro community.

3 Railroads End Jim Crow At All Stations

WASHINGTON — Three railroads operating in the South have ordered desegregation of all facilities at all stations, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday night.

The three are the Illinois Central, Southern, and Louisville and Nashville.

King said he obtained this information at the Justice Department where he conferred with Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. He also held a conference with Pres. Kennedy at the White House.

Loren Miller says...

Surprise, Surprise!

I am a little ashamed to admit it now but there were times last week when I doubted that I would attend the NAACP life membership dinner. I wasn't a life member and I was afraid that my presence would be a little presumptuous on my part My failure to purchase a life membership wasn't due to lack of interest but, to put the matter bluntly, to lack of funds. The practice of civil rights law isn't the most lucrative business in the world.

I should have grown suspicious at the pressure put on

I should have grown suspicious at the pressure put on me to attend the dinner but I'm not as bright about such things as I I should be. Anyhow, I went, and to my utter surprise, the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP presented me with a life membership. I was so taken aback that for once I was fresh out of

Cal. Eagle's 'Chazz' in Safety Jump

Eagle theatrical columnist Chazz Crawford narrowly escaped what might have been a fiery death early last Wednesday morning when his apartment at 1500 W. Vernon avenue caught on fire.

Chazz was asleep at the time, about 4:30 a.m., (he had gone to bed about 11 p.m.) when he was awakened "by some sixth sense" or the smell of smoke.

The front part of the house, he said, was a burning holocaust.

He lost no time in rousing Cleophus Holmes, who shared the apartment with him, and both of them jumped from the second floor to safety.

Chazz reports that he hurts pretty much all over, as a result of the fall. He also bemoans the loss of his "fabulous" record collection, two television sets, a Hifi set and other personal belongings.

Gary, Ind., Negroes Help Run City Gov't

By EDWINA H. WHITLOCK

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Whitlock is the former editor of the Gary-American Newspaper, a weekly paper which she and her late husband published together for 16 years. A newcomer to Los Angeles, she is now associated with Family Savings and Loan Association as a Public Relations specialist.)

I could be wrong, but somehow I have a feeling that the best thing to happen to Los Angeles Negroes from a political standpoint, was the refusal of the City Council to select one of us as Tenth District Councilman.

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned" is the way the Bard put it. But woman's fury is as chaff before the wind compared to the seething, boiling resentment stirred up by the Council's refusal to recognize the ligitimate political aspirations of Los Angeles Negroes.

TAKE A LOOK

As the former editor of the only Negro newspaper in Gary, Ind., I might perhaps be forgiven for posing as a political authority, but those who know Indiana must acknowledge that

Baldwin Hills Man Jailed on Charges Of Pay 'Kickbacks'

John Walter Hamilton, 42, of Baldwin Hills, who worked until Friday at the Department of Employment at 141 W. Venice blvd., is nothing if not ingenious, according to his top boss in Sacramento, Irving H. Perluss, director of the department.

Hamilton, said Purluss, dreamed up a neat kickback scheme of embezzlement and falsification of accounts, the likes of which have not been duplicated in the 25 years the employment office has been in existence.

10 FELONY COUNTS

Hamilton, of 4200 Don Diablo drive, was arrested Friday on 10 felony counts, charging him with accepting payments for authorizing irregular payment of unemployment insurance benefits.

He was arrested at the agency's service operations office and taken to County Jail where he was booked on suspicion of embezzlement.

He was arraigned later before Judge Thomas L. Griffith who set bond at $2100. A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Oct. 20.

Hamilton's alleged racket was uncovered, authorities claimed, when one of those he had propositioned reported his proposal, and was given marked bills to hand over to him as the "kickback."

FOR A FEE

Hamilton is accused of collecting a total of $279 from a number of claimants in amounts ranging from $5 to $45. His coconspirators said Hamilton told them he would approve unemployment payments for them—for a fee, investigators reported.

Hamilton had been employed by the department intermittently since January, 1959.

Expel Peace Corps, Nigerians Demand

A thousand Nigerian students at the Ibadan College in Nigeria demonstrated angrily Sunday and demanded that all 37 members of the American Peace Corps be expelled from the country as "agents of imperialism" sent there to spy on the Africans.

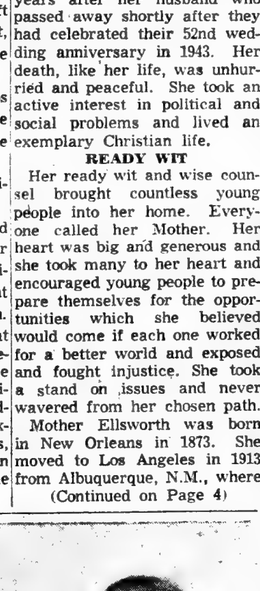
The student demand followed the disclosure that one of the members of the American group had penned remarks considered insulting to Nigeria on the back of a postcard addressed to a friend in Boston and then had carelessly dropped the postcard on campus.

It was picked up by a Nigerian student, reproduced and passed out to the entire student body of 1500.

The Ibadan Students' Union condemned the comments as "damaging to our country."

Dapo Salase, president of the students' union, told the quickly assembled rally that the Peace Corps is designed to spread "American imperialist propaganda" in Africa and "to spy on what you are doing."

Osita Okeke, former student union president, denounced the Americans as "a penetration corps."



The unhappy cause of the furor was a 23-year-old Smith College honor graduate from Foxboro, Mass., Margery Michelmore, who immediately left Ibadan for Lagos, on the coast, and offered to resign from the corps.

In Washington, Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver said he has taken no action on the proffered resignation.

In the lost postcard Miss Michelmore had written:

"With all the training we had we really were not prepored for the squalor and absolutely primitive living conditions rampant both in the cities and the bush.

"We had no idea about what 'underdeveloped' means. It really is a revelation and once we got over the initial, horrified shock, it is a very rewarding experience. Everyone except us lives in the streets, cooks in the streets and even goes to bathrooms in the streets."

SUCCUMBS — Mrs. Fannie C. Ellsworth died Sunday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Loren Miller. (Adams)

Quiet Services Conducted for Mrs. Ellsworth

By BARBARA MOUNTS

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning in the Chapel of Tones of the People's Funeral Home for Mrs. Fannie C. Ellsworth, 88, who died from complications due to her advanced years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Loren Miller, 647 Micheltorena, Sunday night.

Rev. Lloyd C. Galloway, of Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, was in charge of the service.

Mrs. Ellsworth died just 18 years after her husband who passed away shortly after they had celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary in 1943. Her death, like her life, was unhurried and peaceful. She took an active interest in political and social problems and lived an exemplary Christian life.

READY WIT

Her ready wit and wise counsel brought countless young people into her home. Everyone called her Mother. Her heart was big and generous and she took many to her heart and encouraged young people to prepare themselves for the opportunities which she believed would come if each one worked for a better world and exposed and fought injustice. She took a stand on issues and never wavered from her chosen path.

Mother Ellsworth was born in New Orleans in 1873. She moved to Los Angeles in 1913 from Albuquerque, N.M., where

Pastor Denies Charges Made By Assistant

The usual calm, dignified decorum of Santa Monica's Calvary Baptist Church, 1502 20th street, has been shattered these past few weeks by charges and counter-charges involving a $14,000 back pay claim made by the Rev. Harold W. Bynum, former assistant to the pastor.

The Rev. Bynum, in a mimeographed letter sent to the trustees of the church, claims that he has been maligned and lied about and asserts that the salary due him for a period of more than three years has not been paid.

FILED CLAIM

He states further that he filed a claim against the Rev. Welford P. Carter, the pastor, through the State Labor Commission and that that agency has agreed that his 'claim is justified.

Rev. Bynum urged the deacons to call a meeting and demand that the issue be settled out of court.

His letter was dated Oct. 4.

The following Sunday, after regular church services, Rev. Carter asked all visitors to leave and then read Bynum's letter to the congregation. He thereupon proceeded to answer Bynum's charges point by point.

He stated that Bynum had been hired to perform nine hours work per week and that he had been paid for that service.

PASTOR ILL

Bynum claims, however, that during the approximately three years prior to last February when he resigned, Rev. Carter was absent from the church and the pulpit a good portion of the time due to illness.

He also claims that during that time he conducted funerals, held regular services and fulfilled all the duties of a full time pastor, in Rev. Carter's absence,

Rape Suspect Not Linked to Mad Strangler

James Short, 28, of 2943¼ S. Brighton Way, who is employed as a laundry worker, was held to answer on a charge of rape when he appeared for arraignment Tuesday morning.

He was accused of breaking into the hause of Anna D. Howard, 1721 W. 27th street last Sept. 30 about 3 a.m. and criminally attacking her. The intruder escaped after the assault.

Police at first believed the attacker might be the "Bouncing Ball" bandit who last year spread terror in the community by criminally assaulting and then strangling his victims. University detectives advised later that they were unable to discover any link between Short and those crimes.

Short was apprehended after he had been spotted by Miss Howard as she got off a bus at Adams and Normandie Oct. 6.

She watched him walk down Adams blvd. in the company of another man. Then she called police and pointed him out to the officers as he stood in front of 1646 W. Adams blvd.

Channing Tobias Ill

New York—Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman emeritus of the NAACP Board of Directors, is seriously ill in the Harkness Pavillion of Presbyterian Hospital here. The 79-year-old civil rights leader entered the hospital last week after a period of declining health.

WELL DESERVED — Atty. Loren Miller, publisher of the California Eagle; considered by many as the outstanding fighter for civil rights on the West Coast, was presented Friday night with an honorary life membership in the NAACP which he has served continuously for many years. From left: Dr. Christopher Taylor, chairman of the Life Membership Banquet; Judge David W. Williams, who made the presentation; Miller; and Edward D. Warren, president of the local branch of the NAACP. (Adams)

Victim of Accident Didn't Die

When Mrs. Nettie Gray, of 8811 S. Hooper avenue, went to General Hospital Saturday morning, she was prepared to identify the body of her daughter, Mrs. Elyria Marquis, killed in an automobile accident.

Sheriff's officers, she later told the Eagle, came to her house shortly after 6 a.m. to bring her the sad news. They told her, she said, that Mrs. Marquis had made a wrong turning at Jefferson blvd. and the freeway late Friday night and had fallen over an embankment to her death.

SHEET QUIVERS

Distraught and grieving, Mrs. Gray went to the hospital and was led to view her daughter. She looked down upon the quiet form of the younger woman. As she gazed, she thought she saw the sheet covering her daughter quiver — as with the motion of a person breathing.

Unbelieving, Mrs. Gray looked again. Now there was no doubt about it—the sheet was moving, her daughter was alive!

No one in authority could explain the misunderstanding.

Hanson Hathaway, head of public relations at General Hospital, said he simply couldn't understand how such a report could have been made. He said Mrs. Marquis was suffering from a fractured jaw and a fractured left leg, but that at no time had she been in critical condition.

UNDER SEDATION

He said she was admitted early Saturday morning and apparently was taken to surgery shortly thereafter.

"She was probably under sedation," he said, "but at no time did she appear near death." He added Mrs. Marquis was now in fair condition.

Lt. Meenk, of the Firestone Sheriff's Station, checked into the records of his station and also queried the officer who

Cops Battle Crowd Over Beer Bottle

It began with an opened quart bottle of beer in an empty car parked in the driveway at 4111½ S. Central avenue Sunday.

Before it ended, a police officer had his head bashed through a glass-and-screen door, a 19-year-old youth was struck and choked "with force necessary to make an arrest," a young girl wrestled and fought with the police, the whole neighborhood turned to watch the angry brawl and police reinforcements were summoned.

As the crowd melted away and radio cars drove off, one man and two women were in custody.

When officers noted the opened bottle of beer, they stopped to question Roy Lee Hoggin, 19, of the Central avenue address.

One of the officers took hold of his arm. Hoggin turned and swung his fist at Officer Raymond F. Tetzloff, 22, of Newton, hurling the officer back into the door. His head crashed through the screen, breaking the glass portion of the door, and springing the door from its hinges.

The officers then went after Hoggin with "force necessary."

Harriet Bradley, 4107½ Central avenue, got into the act, giving Officer Tetzloff a hard time, grabbing his belt, pulling him away from Hoggin, getting

Muslims Didn't Disturb Peace, Jury Decides

Six men, five of whom testified they were Muslims, were found not guilty by a jury last Wednesday of a breach of the peace and battery during an altercation last Sept. 2 at a market at 1717 S. Western avenue.

The men were accused of blocking the door while selling newspapers and refusing to move when requested to do so. They denied they blocked the entrance.

The six were: Raymond Phillips Jr., 22, of 1268 E. 45th street; Louis Lee Faison, 23, of 2026 Halldale avenue; Jerome Donald Caffey, 22, of 3115 S. Raymond avenue; William Conn Orr, 19, of 9303 Juniper street; Wade Norris, 24, of 1020½ E. Vernon avenue; and Fred F. Perkins, 48, of 1829 S. St. Andrews place.

All but Perkins admitted on the stand that they are Muslims.

Baby Falls Out Window, Only Slightly Hurt

A nine-month-old baby boy suffered only minor injuries last Thursday when he fell from a second story window at 1013½ S. Central ave.

Kenneth Morgan of the above address told police he was the baby's guardian. He said that he had left the youngster lying on the bed while he was fixing dinner and returned just in time to see the child crawl out of the window. As he raced to grab him the baby fell.

1000 Fete Retiring Lester B. Granger

NEW YORK—Nearly 1000 persons from all walks of life—from virtually every strata of social, economic, religious and political phase of the American community—joined last week in a celebration given in honor of Lester B. Granger on the occasion of his retirement, Oct. 1, as executive director of the National Urban League.

State and civic leaders, chieftans of both major political parties, heads of business, industry, labor and fraternal groups were included among those who over the years have looked to Granger not only as an outstanding international figure in the field of community service but also as a friend, and who rousingly acclaimed the tributes paid him by such notables as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz who spoke at a luncheon that packed the main ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

PRAISE FROM ROCKEY

Theodore W. Kheel, the league's past president, served as master of ceremonies.

Gov. Rockefeller characterized the many years of effort and dedication by Granger, in leading and directing the Urban League's nation-wide endeavors in behalf of city-dwelling Negroes, as having "awakened the conscience of America to the issues of racial inequities.

"He has done more than any other American to open the doors of opportunity," Gov. Rockefeller said. "None of us can hold up our heads until we have brought full equal opportunity to all Americans."

DEEPLY MOVED

Granger, perceptibly and deeply touched as he rose to respond, delivered one of the most notable addresses of his long career. All present were silently aware of the struggle with emotions within their chief as he addressed them for the last time in the capacity of leadership from which he has just stepped aside.

He said that the fight for civil rights is now "in the process of being won, on the basis of strategic victories recorded on battlegrounds from which the American people can never retreat," but he cautioned also that the battle is "only beginning."

He viewed the future as "grim . . . less because of the problems that face us than because of the attitude of the American people toward those problems," and warned that "movement cannot become progress" until it is "fast enough to meet the needs of the times."

SILVER GRAY

"I think that all of us understand that the resources we can amass in the decades to come will be scarcely enough to enable us to keep abreast of the problem that has been neglected over-long. It is a problem now growing by leaps and bounds in every area of these United States. I know from my familiarity with the thinking of my successor, Whitney Young, that the Urban League recognizes this as its challenge and that it will devote itself unreservedly to meeting it."

Kheel presented Granger with an inscribed silver tray given by the League as a token of remembrance, and to Mrs. Granger a large bouquet of roses. Henry Steeger, New York magazine publisher and current league president, tendered on behalf of the Tribute Committee a volume of letters and telegrams containing scores of expressions from leaders of the nation, including the President of the United States.

YOUNG INTRODUCED

Thomas G. Young, labor leader and NUL vice president, spoke in high praise of Granger.

Participating also in the program were Lloyd K. Garrison, lawyer and descendant of the great abolitionist; Robert W. Dowling, financier and real estate developer; and William H. Baldwin, son of the League's founder and public relations counselor, all three of whom have served as presidents of the National Urban League.

Whitney M. Young Jr., who succeeded Mr. Granger as the League's chief executive, was presented to the assembled group.

U.S. Silent in U.N. Censure Of S. Africa

UNITED NATIONS—In an unprecedented action, the United Nations last Wednesday, by a vote of 67 to 1, censured the Union of South Africa for a policy speech considered insulting and degrading to the African delegates present and the nations they represent.

The United States did not join in the censure.

The Africans were up in arms at the remarks of South Africa's foreign minister, Eric H. Louw, who spoke glowingly of apartheid (segregation) of South Africa and disparagingly of the poverty and illiteracy in other African countries.

ASKS EXPULSION

Senegal's Ambassador Seyni Loum called for the expulsion of South Africa from the United Nations and said he would take formal action to implement his proposal.

Delegate after delegate from the African countries took the stand after Louw's speech, bitterly denouncing him and the racial policies of his country.

Liberia called for the motion of censure, calling upon the Assembly to "fully disapprove" Louw's statement which "was offensive, fictitious and erroneous."

Only South Africa voted against the motion, but 20 of the Western bloc countries, including the United States, abstained. Britain, Belgium, Denmark, El Salvador, France, Iceland, Norway and Sweden were among those who voted neither aye nor naye.

Innkeeper Tells State Dept., 'Let Kennedy Feed Nigerians'

INN KEEPER TELLS

The rude treatment being accorded African diplomats in this country is causing concern to the State Department.

Latest incident, in a long series of incidents, occurred last week when a Nigerian diplomat was refused service at the Cottage Inn restaurant-motel on much traveled U.S. Highway 40 between Baltimore and the Delaware River.

FORMAL COMPLAINT

Nigeria lodged a formal complaint with the U.S. Government, and the assistant chief of protocol of the State Department, Pedro Sanjuan, was given the assignment of trying to convince the Cottage Inn owners to drop their segregation policy.

Time magazine records the rebuff he received as follows:

"The hell with the United Nations and the hell with your colored diplomats!" shouted beefy, red-faced proprietor Clarence Rosier. "I built this place with my sweat. Now you come up here with your clean shirt and pressed pants and tell me how to run my business.

BLUNT COMMENT

"Go back to Washington and tell Kennedy he can feed 'em. I wouldn't have a customer left if I let them people in here."

Rosier's wife was even more pointed in her remarks. She commented, also according to Time: "They're dirty and they stink. Would you want to sleep in a bed they'd slept in?"

Cafe Owner Serves Up Hot Buckshot on Fri. 13

Friday the 13th may always be remembered as an unlucky day by three men who entered a cafe at 3571 S. Western avenue to get some food and instead received a serving of buckshot from a 16-gauge shotgun in the hands of Leroy Cooper, owner of the cafe.

The strange meal was served accidentally, Cooper said, when he attempted to uncock the gun he was demonstrating. The gun discharged and the blast sprayed shot into the bodies of his customers.

Injured were: W. S. White, 1631½ W. 37th street; Bob Leon Williams, 3628½ S. St. Andrews place; and Ulysses Griffin, 1660 W. 36th street.

Griffin was hit in the chest and left wrist, Williams in the chest and leg, White's wounds were listed as superficial.

Drop-Outs to be Considered by Council Group

The Exposition Coordinating Council will meet at luncheon Wednesday, Oct. 23, at the Exposition Club House, 3990 S. Menlo avenue, at 12 noon. The group, which seeks to create better cooperation between organizations and individuals interested in community improvement, has become alarmed over the problem of high school drop-outs and will devote its next two meetings to discuss the problem.

The group is directed by Herbert S. Yates with Mrs. Marguerite Justice as secretary. It is supported by voluntary contributions. Ibol Blaylock, boy's vice principal of Manual Arts High School, and Sgt. Lawrence Bego of the University Juvenile Division of the Police Department, will be special guests.

Car Hurls Woman, 67, 142 Feet

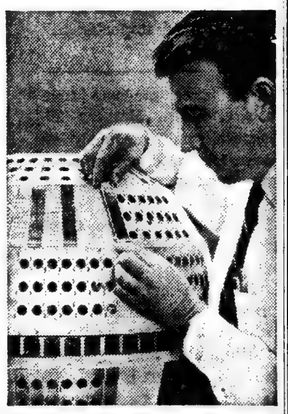
Lucy Anderson, 67, of 1526 Van Ness avenue, was killed Saturday night while she was returning home from a Chinese dinner party.

A car driven by Edgar A. Harris, 43, of 1524 E. 76th street, reportedly struck Mrs. Anderson as she was walking in a marked cross walk at the corner of 10th and San Pedro streets. Her body was thrown 142 feet from the point of impact.

Officers arriving on the scene within two or three minutes after the accident found Harris sitting behind the wheel of his car crying. He told police that he was travelling between 35 and 40 miles an hour when the woman suddenly dashed out between two parked cars. He said Mrs. Anderson was running when he applied his brakes.

Skid marks showed Harris to be travelling 36 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone. Police reported detecting the odor of alcohol on his breath and noting that his speech was confused and thick. They booked him for manslaughter.

Harris admitted he had drunk six jiggers of wine during the day.



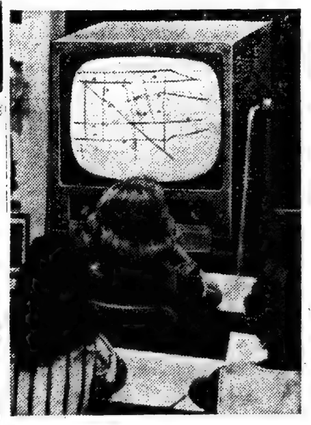
"I know I've done a horrible thing," he said. "I didn't mean to do it."

Woman Shoots at Her Man at Rest in Bed

Elbert Wallace, 44, of 7619 S. Main street told police officers that he was resting in bed last Saturday when the door opened and Doris Jean Turner, 26, opened the door and started shooting at him. He grabbed for the gun and fought with her until she ran from the house.

Police arrested them both for disturbing the peace. There were two bullet holes in the bedroom wall.

WHAT'S DOING



Thousands of pieces of man-made sapphire will cover the surface of the communications satellite now being developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories.

These sapphires are expected to protect from space radiation the cells of Bell solar batteries which convert sunlight into electricity. In the illustration, an engineer is covering a solar cell for a communication satellite with man-made sapphires.

This protection is expected to enable "working" satellites to endure the rigors of space for ten years or more, relaying telephone calls and television across the oceans.

Closed-circuit educational TV is a part of regular classwork for children in many schools today.

Telephone people help make this possible by providing special channels through which closed-circuit television is brought into classrooms.

Phone people offer many such communication services today. It's part of the job of meeting your communication needs and those of schools, business and government.

TELEPHONE PIONEERS CELEBRATE

The 50th Anniversary of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization for telephone employees with twenty-one years of service or more, will be celebrated during the week of October 30th. It will honor the largest social organization of its kind in the world. From a start in 1911 of 450 charter members, there is now a membership of more than 200,000. In our Southern California Chapter, one of 63 in the United States and Canada, we have more than 7,600 active and life members. It was formed for the purpose of providing a means of friendly association for the longer-service employees in the industry, both active and retired, and to promote a continuing fellowship and a spirit of mutual helpfulness among them.

Injured Man Disarms Pal Who Shot Him

Jimmie Roy Dawson, 1517 W. 30th street, was involved in an argument with three fellows just off 24th and Vermont avenue last Friday night. One of the men shot Dawson who took the gun away from his assailant and then staggered to 25th and Vermont to summon aid, even though he had been shot in the stomach. Police officers found him collapsed in a phone booth.

The officers heard the shot and investigated and found John Nave Jr. of 967 S. Vermont and Gary Nave of 1171 W. 31st street with Isaac Otis, Jr. leaving the scene. Otis was carrying a gun. The men were taken in for questioning and officers began a search for the victim whom they found in the phone booth.

After Dawson gave a description of his assailant, officers arrested Howard Dawson, 28, of 1427 W. 24th street for the shooting. He was picked up at 2511 S. Catalina avenue. He assertedly admitted he fired the shot which hit Jimmie Roy Dawson.

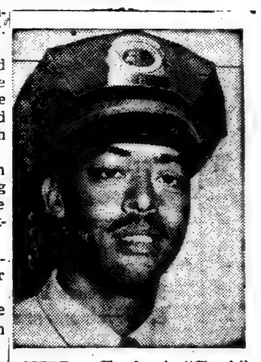
N.C. Convict Implicates Police in Jail Beating

NEW YORK—In a handwritten, signed confession, convict Howard Stack of Union County, N. C., told of the deal he made with police to beat up a Freedom Rider in the Monroe, N. C. jail, according to a report released by the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants.

The original copy of the confession has been sent to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

In his confession, Stack said that the brutal beating he gave Richard Griswold in a cell in the jail at the end of August had been arranged in advance with police officers.

He said police promised him that five charges of passing worthless checks would be dropped as payment for the beating.



He said he was writing his confession because the police, after gain, "ddipar-rhe carried out his part of the bargain, "turned their backs on me."

New Bus Signs

"Seating aboard this vehicle is without regard to race, color, creed or national origin."

That's the sign that the Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered all interstate buses to display prominently, beginning Nov. 1.

The buses are also barred from using segregated terminals.

Randolph Hits Back In Union Bias Fight

NEW YORK—the fat's in the fire again in the Negro fight for equal rights in the union movement—and this time it's sizzling.

The battle was renewed last Thursday, in something of a repeat of last year's eruption in San Francisco, when the executive council of the AFL-CIO in its quarterly meeting rejected every one of the complaints made by A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and vice president of the council.

STINGING REBUKE

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, commenting on the stinging rebuke to Randolph, intensified the blaze when he backed the council's finding that Randolph has made "incredible assertions," "false and gratuitous statements" and "unfair and untrue" allegations.

Meany called the report "factual and constructive" and accused Randolph of making "baseless charges against the federation."

"We can only get moving on civil rights," said Meany, "if he (Randolph) comes over to our side and stops throwing bricks at us.

"I think we could do a lot with his cooperation. But it seems in the last two or three years he's got close to these militant groups and he has given up cooperation for propaganda."

STERILE

Randolph gave as good as he received. He branded the council documents as "distressing, innocuous, sterile and barren of any creative, bold, challenging ideas that can give strength to the civil rights movement in the AFL-CIO for the elimination of race bias.

"There is not a single proposal in the statement to meet the problem of the second-class citizenship of the black laboring masses in the American labor movement."

Randolph had the complete backing of the NAACP. Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, branded the council's report an "incredible cover-up." "a refusal to recognize the unassailable facts of racial discrimination" and an "evasion of responsibility."

Infant Dies

Jacqueline Johnson, the one-month-old daughter of Mrs. Doris Porter, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Bon Air Hospital last Saturday. The infant had fallen from a bed at 250 W. 120th street while the mother was out of the room.

When she returned the baby was on the floor, bleeding from the nose. The mother said the baby was born Sept. 16 at John Wesley Hospital.

Redevelopment and Pasadena

Pasadena citizens are faced with the usual knotty problem that is posed when urban redevelopment plans are proposed in American cities. The Pasadena plan calls for the redevelopment of a large area in the central part of the city. And yes — you guessed it—the area is largely populated by Negroes.

The plans call for the construction of a number of garden type apartment houses and the reversion of other land space to commercial use. What Pasadena residents know is that clearance of the area means the displacement of present Negro residents.

The theory behind urban redevelopment is that these displaced persons will be able to find other homes in areas as desirable as the one in which they presently live. But there is no guarantee that that will be the case. If the experience of other cities is any guide the majority of the displaced Negroes will be crowded into other restricted areas.

Moreover, those displaced will find it hard to obtain homes there once the area is redeveloped. Home owners who do return must return as renters. The prices paid them for their homes will not enable them to buy comparable homes in other areas. When it is all said and done if the plan is pursued to completion, Pasadena will have arrived closer to the concept of the city beautiful at the expense of Negroes.

As matters stand, Pasadena residents have no option except to oppose the redevelopment plan. Their opposition should continue until restrictive practices closing entire communities to Negroes on the basis of races are abondoned. Pasadena cannot expect the victims of residential segregation to cooperate in intensifying such segregation by giving up their homes and willingly moving to other segregated areas.

Pasadena is putting the cart before the horse. Before it uproots Negro home owners it should make certain that they can buy or rent homes in a free housing market where their race and color will not serve as barriers to home ownership or rental.

Labor Union Discrimination

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO wallowed around in his own words last week when he attempted to chastise A. Philip Randolph for daring to raise the question of discrimination in labor unions.

What Randolph proposed was that the Federation set a deadline for compliance with an old AFL-CIO resolution against racial discrimination in labor unions. The penalty for noncompliance would be expulsion from the parent body.

If the AFL-CIO means what it says when it proclaims its abhorrence of discrimination by labor unions it would seem that it would welcome the Randolph resolution. Negro workmen who are denied jobs because of union bias have a right to expect pointed action by unions. Pious hopes and good wishes wear thin after years of non-enforcement.

Mr. Meany answered the Randolph proposal by a muddy and muddled personal attack in which he berated the head of the Pullman porters for his close association with civil rights groups. He added that since Mr. Randolph had entered into such a close association the AFL-CIO had been subjected to increasing criticism. He was more concerned with the criticism than the discrimination.

Other Federation vice presidents covered up their own shortcomings with the amazing charge that Randolph is guilty of discrimination because the Pullman Porters union is largely a Negro organization. They forgot to add that other railroad unions have prevented employment of Negroes in other than the capacities of porters and waiters on the nation's railroads. The Pullman Porters union is virtually all Negro because of the policies of the American labor movement, not by Randolph's choice.

Organized labor can't excuse its own discrimination by forever pointing its finger at discrimination by industrialists. Nor can it continue to delay the day of its own house cleaning.

The tragedy of it all is that the discrimination tolerated by the AFL-CIO not only harms the Negro workman but operates to the disadvantage of white workers as well. At a time when unions are losing membership and influence they should be eager to strengthen themselves by organizing all workers.

Hollingsworth Should Help

Proponents of the recall of Joe Hollingsworth as city councilman from the 10th District are on sound ground when they point out that residents of that district have a right to a representative of their own choosing in City Council.

Mr. Hollingsworth sits in City Council because he was handpicked for the job by eight other councilmen who have no knowledge, and little concern for, the problems of the district. The voters of the 10th District weren't consulted.

It strikes us as only fair that the 10th District should have the same right as other districts to choose a councilman in an open election.

If Mr. Hollingsworth is as interested in the welfare of the district as he would have us believe he should join the committee seeking his own recall in order that he can win his job on his merits.

Mr. Hollingsworth says that he wants to represent all of the people. What possible objection can he have to putting his case before all of the people and inviting them to exercise their best judgment at the polls?

Teamsters and Greyhound

Negro teamsters have taken the appropriate action of putting their case of discrimination against Greyhound Bus lines before the state FEP commission.

Anybody with eyes to see knows that Greyhound is drawing the color line in its selection of bus drivers.

Negroes drive all kinds of vehicles in California, including buses in municipal transportation systems.

Obviously some of these Negro drivers are expert enough to drive a highway bus. The only barrier to their doing so is the policy of the company.

We hope the FEP commission acts swiftly and calls a halt to this arrogant practice of racial discrimination by a company which secures a large portion of its revenue from Negro customers.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

It was, as I said last Sunday afternoon, the very nicest going-away party that could possibly have been dreamed up for a chap who isn't really going too far, after all. I've never seen the Waldorf's grand ballroom look so beautiful. Not so much because of decorations and stuff like that, but because of the people.

A thousand of them, showing in their dress and complexions all the colors of the rainbow, all of them smiling and laughing and keeping it from being a mushy occasion — and from the way my right hand felt after everything was all over, there must have been almost a thousand to come up and shake my hand and wish me well. I felt like going up to Whitney Young and asking him if he didn't have a job open low down on the totem pole, so that I could start in all over again and try my hand in the New Urban League.

GRANGER

A 'NEW' LEAGUE

Because it will be a new National Urban League in a good many ways. Not because there will be so many changes in the personnel, for some time to come, at least; but because a new man comes in with different ideas about how to do the same thing—and with ideas and energy to do a great many new things.

And these are the times in which many new jobs are standing around waiting for the Urban League to do them. Some of those jobs I listed for the benefit of the staunch friends and supporters who helped me with the jobs I tackled during the past twenty years. In their totality they add up to the tremendous task which the Urban League has accepted for the decade to come — the task of re-shaping community relations.

OUTLOOK 'GRIM'

Some of my newspaper friends in this city and elsewhere have been more than a little surprised, and a trifle dismayed, by the insistence with which I have labelled the racial outlook as "grim" during the years ahead. One of them told me that instead of being an "angry young man" I was turning out to be a "testy old man." Well, perhaps I am.

I do know that I'm becoming impatient. Impatient with the Pollyanna outlook of those who insist that things can't be so bad because we are "making progress" with integration.

"Making progress?" I ask in return. "At the rate of progress we are making today, how long will it be before we have completed even the fundamental job of insuring a square deal for nearly four million colored kids who have a right to the best education that this country of ours can give them?"

And there are other questions as to why they throw hundreds of fine young people into jail and mulct them with illegal fines merely because they try to use the state's public transportation facilities in the way that self-respecting, law-abiding citizens have the right to use them? If this is progress, how long will it take for freedom to reach throughout the fifty states?

And there are some questions to ask Negro Americans. Are we making progress when federal statistics show that 12 per cent of federal jobs are held by colored workers, whereas only 10 per cent of the population are colored? The first answer would be, yes, probably; but is it progress when over three-fourths of these jobs are down in the lowest salary categories? Regarding income in general, the median income of Negroes in 1939 was only 39 per cent of the median income of whites, while today it is 55 per cent. Progress? Not when you consider that we've been stuck at approximately that ratio for the past dozen years—and that the ratio is lower than it was four years ago, when Negro income reached 57 per cent of whites?

CRACK UP

And is it progress when life in the city for the Negro increasingly becomes a matter of dark-skinned folks piled on top of dark-skinned folks, while their neighborhoods and families crack up under pressure? Is it progress when most of us sit idly by, griping about lack of "integration" but doing nothing AT ALL to help these broken families and individuals to reintegrate themselves? Does the increase of winos on street corners connote progress—and do sullen crowds congregate on street corners to listen to windy harangues about some fictitious all-Negro state because they feel that so much progress is being made?

I hope that I didn't spoil a perfectly wonderful party when I shared some of this kind of thinking with my friends. But I'm sure I didn't, because they WERE my friends and we were vibrating on the same wave length, and they liked me and I fairly loved them. It certainly was a wonderful party!

Loren Miller Says . . .

words and didn't seize the opportunity to voice my thanks. That's what this column is about.

Self Service

Judge David W. Williams, who made the presentation, had a great deal to say about the sacrifices he supposed I had made for the community. I want to set the record straight in that respect. It is true that I have done my share of litigating in the area of civil rights. But every time somebody came to see me to ask me to represent him or her in a suit to establish a civil right I looked through the case and said to myself that there, but for the grace of God, I stand, or my children stand. What I did I did for myself as much as for the other person. And nobody deserves praise for helping himself.

In any event, what I did I did not do by myself. Literally hundreds of people lent me courage and assistance and they share whatever credit is due. I suppose that of all the people concerned none merits my appreciation more than Leon H. Washington Jr. In the long years that he and I were associated together he was the keeper of my conscience and the ever present prompter who egged me on. If I could divide up the life membership awarded me I would bestow half of it on him.

Good Job Well Done

While I am at it, I think this is a good time to urge the community to bow in the direction of Dr. Christopher Taylor who conceived the idea of the life membership drive and who plotted and planned the dinner. Of course, he ran into the usual opposition and lethargy and had to plow his way through the discouragement that is always reserved for the man who strikes out on a new course. Dr. Taylor isn't a man of many words but he had it right when he told the audience that people who let freedom slip through their fingers don't deserve to be free.

That's all there is to this column. I can't even think of a bright quip to polish it off. I just wanted to say thanks to all of the people. They have more than repaid me for whatever has been done.

Crash Victim

notified Mrs. Gray of the accident.

The officer, said Lt. Meenk, reported that he informed Mrs. Gray that Mrs. Marquis had been involved in an accident and had been taken to General Hospital.

He denied saying anything that would indicate that Mrs. Marquis was dead.

Mrs. Gray, however, insisted that the officers who came to her door early Saturday told her they wanted her to come down and identify her daughter's body.

She said she had thought Elyria was asleep in the back room with her daughter, Mrs. Gray's granddaughter, Victoria Harris, but that Victoria had assured her, "There's nobody back there in bed."

Segregationist Badly Beaten In Atlanta Vote

ATLANTA — Atlanta voters, after calmly accepting token school integration and integrated lunch counters in the city's downtown stores, last week gave a landslide victory to a moderate mayor to succeed Mayor William Hartsfield, 71, retiring after 24 years in office.

By a vote of 64,313 to 36,091, the voters rejected segregationist Ivan Allen Jr., 50, proprietor of the South's largest office supply firm.

Swindle Indictments Problem for Doctors

ing on the accusations were Dr. D. Overstreet Gray, member of the City Health Commission; Dr. Tom Boger, president of the Dental Study Club; and Dr. Roy Andrew, president of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association.

Dr. Gray commented:

"Our community must not be found guilty at this time of judging all because of allegations against few.

"We as a group have suffered many times because of similar unjust judgments and cannot afford to be guilty of using the same tactics against ourselves or any other group.

NO HASTY JUDGMENT

"The allegations of misappropriation of county funds against some doctors in the community do not by any form of reasoning mean that your physician, dentist or pharmacist, or the hundreds of other doctors, are in any way involved.

"The majority of doctors, as do the majority of all people, respect themselves, their work, their families and their community to such an extent that the above allegation could never be considered.

"Finally, those that have been accused are not guilty until proven so."

Dr. Boger asserted that "Any time you get a program like this, there are going to be one or two who will try to take advantage of it, but 99 per cent of men are honest, ethical men."

He said further that the accusations "throw a bad light on the profession as a whole whether one or two are wrong or right." He also saw in the uncovering of the alleged swindle an indication of how "socialization can take hold when a bureau tells us how to carry out our work."

'UNFAIR REFLECTION'

Dr. Andrew condemned the illegal procedures uncovered by the investigation and saw them as an "unfair reflection" on the profession.

He pointed out that the "men in our organization are as ethical as can be found," and stressed that the indictment of a few should not be interpreted as "an indictment of all Negro dentists and doctors in the city."

He suggested that it might be a good idea for the profession to police its own members.

Pastor Claims

in addition to handling the regular office work of the church.

This past summer, after he had been unable to collect the money he says is due him, Rev. Bynum finally placed his claim before the California Labor Commission, which held a hearing on the case Sept. 18. Both Rev. Carter and Rev. Bynum were present.

CIVIL ACTION

John Hart, deputy labor commissioner, advised the Eagle Tuesday that it was the opinion of the hearing officer that Bynum's claim was justified.

Because of the large amount of money involved, however, and because neither a criminal statute nor a specific contract had been violated, the commission referred the matter back to Rev. Bynum for civil action.

Rev. Bynum advises that he has placed the case in the hands of an attorney.

At the church meeting last Sunday, Rev. Carter denied to the congregation that the Labor Commission has found in Bynum's favor or has ordered him to pay his former assistant the $14,000 he is asking.

Supreme Court Rejects More La. Race Laws

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court, in effect, again Monday told Louisiana to stop putting up roadblocks and get on with integration of its schools.

The court refused to review a May 4 ruling of a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans finding two Louisiana laws unconstitutional.

The laws would have permitted criminal prosecution of anyone helping or encouraging the sending of children to integrated schools.

Actors' Equity To Boycott All Biased Houses

Actors' Equity members after June 1, 1962, will refuse to perform in any theater permitting segregation either in front of or behind the foot lights, Equity announced in New York last Thursday.

All playhouses and theaters have been advised of the action taken at a closed meeting of the union last weekend.

Angus Duncan, executive secretary of the group, said that by making the decision public so far in advance it is expected that many segregated houses will voluntarily drop their biased practices. Other unions are expected to cooperate in the desegregation move.

Jewish Labor Committee to Hold Confab

Civil rights legislation, the growth of ultra - reactionary fringe groups, anti-Semitism in Soviet Russia, and recent developments in the labor movement will be discussed at the 22nd Annual State Conference of the Jewish Labor Committee commencing Saturday evening Oct. 28 in Temple Israel of Hollywood, it was announced by Isidor Stenzor, state chairman.

His subject for the series' opener will be, "Reorganizing Your Emotional Life."

Hollingsworth Given Petition

natures are needed to force an election on the recall.

On Tuesday night, the 25-member Los Angeles Unity Council and the 10th District Recall Committee are meeting jointly to plan the next steps in the recall campaign.

Next Monday night at 7:30, a public meeting will be held at Golden State Auditorium to consider further action.

SIGNED PETITION

The five signers of the recall petition were Hollier, Mrs. Harrison, Glass, Kango Kunitsugu, an engineer of 2917 S. Orange Drive; and Cecil Peterson, an educator of 1339 Longwood avenue.

The Recall Committee consists of these five signers and Robert Reynolds, Gilbert White, Dr. Arthur Hockley, Cecil B. Murrell, A. Mandell, James B. Clark, Rev. Herbert Yates, Rev. Kring Allen, Dr. Leon Banks, Mrs. Ruth Abraham, Saint M. Twine Jr., Rev. Brookins and Frank Terry.

The recall leaders charged in their notice of intention to petition that Hollingsworth "was appointed by councilmen who were not familiar with the problems of the 10th District or those who live there.

"The only manner in which the voters of the 10th District can exercise their democratic right to select a councilman of their own choosing is through a recall election.

"In such an election Mr. Hollingsworth can put his case before the voters and seek retention in office on the basis of his qualifications in open competition with other candidates."

Surviving her, in addition to Mrs. Miller, are another daughter, Mrs. Calme Russ; her son, Paul Ellsworth; three granddaughters, Mrs. Carmen Dixon of Riverside; Mrs. Lois Celestain and Miss Sharon Russ, of Los Angeles; two grandsons, Loren II and Edward Miller, as well as two great grandchildren, and a brother, Rodney Williams, of Oakland.

Mrs. Ellsworth was one of the founders of the Eastside Settlement House. She actively supported the NAACP and the Urban League and was a member of the Congregational Church. Interment was in Lincoln Cemetery.

in between the officer and Hoggin.

The officers appealed to the girl's mother, Mrs. Dorothy White, who was in the crowd that had gathered around, to do something about her daughter. She tried, but apparently was no more effective than the officers.

The officers radioed for assistance and as the radio cars arrived the neighborhood simmered back to a semblance of order.

Arrested were Hoggin, Mrs. Bradley, who was booked and released in the care of her husband Armad Bradley, and Madeline Reed, 20, of 4111½ Central avenue. Both Mrs. Bradley and Miss Reed were booked for interfering with an officer.

Officer Tetzloff was treated for an assortment of abrasions and contusions.

Gary Found Way to Obtain Representation

basketball and politics are monkeys on the backs of every Hoosier.

Exactly what the lessons are to be learned from what Gary Negroes have achieved . . . I find difficult to assay. Nevertheless, as Southern Californians awaken like Rip Van Winkle from a long, long political siesta, it might be wise to take a look at what Negroes are doing in the Steel City.

The Mayor of Gary is a Greek named George Chacharis who has forged a political machine that's awesome to behold. This machine derives its strength from an alliance of the Negro (comprising more than 40 per cent of the total population), and the foreign-born, an alliance set up nearly a decade ago.

RESULTS

Let's see just what this alliance has spawned:

The city attorney (not the assistant, mind you)—is a Negro.

Three of the nine city councilmen are Negroes—one serving his fourth term as councilman-at-large.

The president of the Board of Health is a Negro physician.

The director of the Urban Renewal plan is a Negro.

The judge of the Traffic Court is a Negro.

The head of the Department of Sanitation is a Negro.

One of two referees in the Juvenile Court is a Negro.

ON CITY BOARDS

Additionally Negroes are on every important board and commission in the city: the Housing Authority, the School Board, the Board of Public Works and Safety, the Board of Zoning Appeals, the Youth Commission.

So powerful is the Gary Democratic machine that only one Republican office-holder has managed to squeak through in the past 16 years and he was not re-elected as county prosecutor.

The new Democratic Governor Matt Welsh was compelled by law to appoint one Republican to the State Parole Board, a job of considerable prestige and carrying a salary in the five figure range. Whom did he select? A Republican—a Garyite and a Negro.

PROBE LAUNCHED

Candor compels me to reveal that efforts are now being made to break up this political alliance which has meant so much in the way of job opportunities and political careers for Steel City Negroes.

A specially convened Federal Grand Jury is now in session investigating many of the Lake County political figures for possible income tax evasion.

I'm keeping my fingers crossed, hoping that nothing unsavory will be unearthed. It would be a pity to have our enemies say that vice and corruption go hand and hand with the Negroes' ascent to political power and patronage.

IT TAKES WORK

All the achievements listed above didn't just happen. Massive voter registration drives are conducted before each election. Precinct committeemen, elected to represent areas encompassing from 600 to 1000 voters, keep in touch with the electorate 24 hours out of each day.

The cooperation between the Serbian, Negro, Greek, Slovak, Polish, Mexican, and Puerto Rican elements is not a sometime thing. It exists and it's worked at.

And it can come to pass here in Los Angeles, too.

If only we will it!

Hamilton Launches Its Prize Expansion Drive

Hamilton Methodist Church continues its building fund campaign. All operations have been outlined and committees have been working to set up a three year capital investment program.

The $150,000 goal is planned: first, to liquidate present church building debt; secondly, remodel present structure; third, to build new 1500 seat air conditioned sanctuary; fourth, to clear up school of Theology, campus-church fund and world service obligations.

The Advance Gifts Committee is said to be anticipating approximately 120 subscribers for $1000 or more. The adult share pledge which is $468, should raise $60,000, and the junior share of $46.80 for each youth should net the church $10,000.

Rev. William A. Perry, campaign director, assisted by Mrs. Perry will preach, Sunday, Oct. 22. This sermon, "What We Do for God." Social Worker Wins High Post With Christians

Mrs. Anderson B. Barnes, a member of McCarty Memorial Christian Church, was named first Vice-president of the international Convention of Christian Churches in Kansas City last week. This marks the first time in the 111-year-history of the group that a non-Caucasian has held the post and the second time in its history that a woman has been so elected.

The mother of 14-year-old triplet girls, Mrs. Barnes has been active in PTA work and has been a social worker. In 1959 she was chosen the "Woman of the Year" by the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. She served as executive secretary for 13 years at the Avalon Community Center. In recent years she has been active in the Council of Church Women and served as minister of education at McCarty for three years.

There were more than 100 non-Caucasian ministers and lay people at the annual meeting. The assembly will meet in Los Angeles in 1962.

Baha'is Set United Nations Celebration

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. the Bahai'is of Los Angeles will present a special program to commemorate United Nations Day at the Baha'i Center, 331 S. New Hampshire avenue.

Members of the panel for the discussion will be Betsy Haynes, Lisa Janti, and Eugene Johnson, speaking on the United Nations and the Baha'i concept of world government. John Cook, folk singer, will be guest artist.

Despite setbacks and disappointments, the United Nations has worked out peaceably many war-threatening problems throughout the world. According to Baha'is, the concept of world government is one of the tenets of this steadily-growing faith. In 1863, when Baha'u'llah, the Founder of the Baha'i Faith, called for equal opportunity for women; education for all, and a world House of Justice, His teachings were considered radical and almost impossible of achievement. Today, these concepts have become part of the fabric of life in the United States.

Baha'is currently are engaged in a world-wide crusade; their objective a world commonwealth in which all nations, creeds, races and classes can be closely and permanently united.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment wtih special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Yes, Now it is Possible to Spend And Yet Save; Here is the Secret

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19, 1961 — With the high cost of living, everybody has to watch their pennies these days. Nat Diamond says, "I go a step further than that. I watch your dollars! I do everything I can to see that you get the most savings possible on any item that you can buy in my store, that you don't spend more money than you can afford, and that your payments are in keeping with your budget.

I have gone even further to make my Fall Festival of Values the biggest event in my history. I am going to give you, absolutely free, a genuine Corningware Casserole dish and cover with any purchase of $19.00 or more.

You don't have to pay any high interest or carrying charges with me, Nat Diamond, the "Best Friend your home ever had" . . . Leave your pocketbook at home. Visit either of my Empire Furniture Stores — at the "Lucky Corner" of 46th and Central, or 1802 E. 103rd Street, in Watts. (Advertisement)

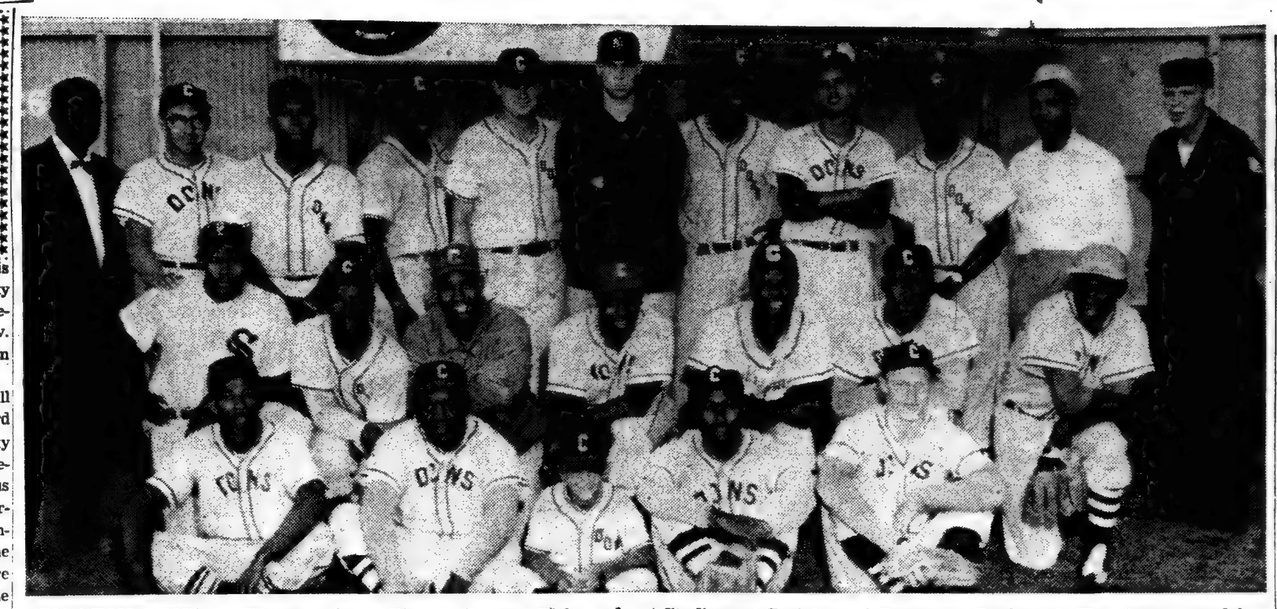
Needless to say that the announcement that Ray Botts (our youngest professional) was drafted last week, came as a severe shock. All we can say to Ray is "Don't forget to carry your golf clubs into the army just in case everyone suddenly decides that they are not angry and let you come home a little early." Good Luck Ray and God speed you back to LA real soon.



Get your "walking shoes" on and expect to follow the top national professionals. They will be here to play in the local tournaments for the next four months and Charley Sifford is playing in all of them. Charles flew into the city three months ago to have his eyes examined. The trouble was "eye strain." He has announced that he is playing in the Orange County Tournament Oct. 19-22, Las Vegas Oct. 24-26, Aberdeen Nov. 2-5 and Western Ave. Open from Nov. 10-12.

We are sorry that we will have to miss watching Sifford in the $20,000 Orange County Open but we just could not resist the invitation extended us to participate in the Fong Tournament Nov. 18-19 in San Francisco. Millie Bullock, Marceline Harris and Vergie Bailey are also going. We are riding the train in order to catch up on some much needed rest.

In case that some of you would like to watch the Orange Tournament here are a few highlights that might encourage you to take a little drive to Orange County.

Play starts with a pro-celebrity prelude on Wednesday, Oct. 18, following which the pros take over for 72 holes of battling.

Art Thomas On Second Big Mat Card

Another outstanding championship wrestling card has been set by Promoter Cal Eaton for Friday night, October 27 at the Olympic Auditorium.

Meeting in the main event will be Freddie Blassie, the blond bullie of the mat, defending his world heavyweight crown against the challenge of the sensational Antonio (Argentine) Rocca of New York and Buenos Aires.

Also, signed for this program is Art (Seaman) Thomas, the Negro heavyweight champion. Thomas, who stands 6 ft., 2 inches and weighs 250 pounds, has built up a large following in Southern California after recent matches at the Olympic and Sports Arena.

The popular wrestling dwarfs will also be seen on the October 27 bill.

Tickets, priced at $5.00, $3.50 and $2.50, tax included, are now on sale at the Olympic box office, 1801 So. Grand Avenue.

Harold Johnson Set For Title Go

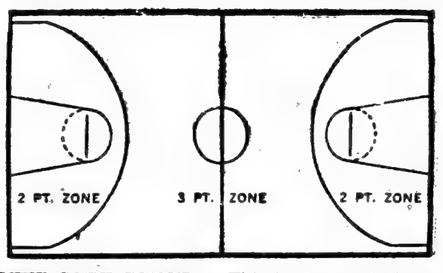
ABIE'S CORNER

Hampton Institute's Alumni Association Los Angeles chapter is planning to host its first annual bowling tournament at Holiday Bowl and Rodeo Bowl, Nov. 25 and 26 and Dec. 2 and 3. The tournament, dubbed the "Scholarship Awards Tournacance than that. Through this tournament and the ones to follow the Alumni Chapter members hope to make the 93 year-old co-educational college in Hampton, Virginia the best known college in the land.

Students at Hampton are preparing themselves for the B.S. degree, in the divisions of Business, General Education, Home Economics, Nursing, Physical Education, Recreation-Athletics, Teacher Education and Technology. In addition to the baccaluratea degree, the college offers a graduate program leading to the Master's degree in Education. Hampton may not be as well known as Tuskegee Institute but among the college's first grad was a young man named Booker T. Washington who founded the famed Industrial college. Hampton's president is a former All-American football star from Cornell University nomed Jerome (Bud) Holland.

Athletic-minded Holland intends to use athletics as a means of attracting attention to Hampton in order to build up the enrollment and the popularity of the Virginia City college. Hampton Institute although rated 23 among all colleges in the Southeast system deserved to be as well known as Tuskegee, Southern, Prairie View or USC. For 93 years they have been turning out some of the nation's most outstanding Negroes in the intercultural vein but their so-so football team can't account for many Bowl victories and their track teams which shaws up annually at the Penn Relays always ends up in the also ran column.

However when you look over the college year book and check off the names of graduates who have become outstanding successes in their respective fields, you may well be proud of the Institute. Which brings us down to the Hampton Alumni Chapter that is made up of former ex-Hamptonites. The group has been operating only one year with the National organization and they are winning friends fast because their theory is ta help the community first so the community can help Hampton.



Lin Hilburn, tournament chairman of the invitational amateur bowling tournament has invited all races of bowlers to compete for an estimated $12,000.00 scholarship awards and trophies. Major portion of the proceeds fram the tourney will be used for scholarships, and other community charities.

Moore Cools Pelon In 5th

Davey Moore, the Spring field, Ohio, rifleman who owns the world featherweight championship, two-gunned his way to a fifth round knockout over Pelon Cervantes at the Olympic Auditorium last Thursday night.

Just two months ago Davey had to come from behind to win a close decision over Cervantes in Mexicali. Last Thursday night Davey toyed with his foe for four rounds to set him up for the knockout completed in the fifth.

The pint size Moore weighed in at 130 and worked the five rounds in great style trying out new tricks which may come in handy when he travels to Tokyo to meet Kazuo Takayama Oct. 21, for his title defense.

NEW CAGE COURT — This is the revolutionary basketball court that debuts in the Sports Arena the night of Oct. 30 when the L.A. Jets of the American Basketball League meet the San Francisco Saints. Purpose is to keep the big men away from the basket. Arc is 25 feet from basket. Shots scored beyond that are worth three points. In addition, the ABL will employ an 18 foot lane in the key rather than the conventional 12 foot lane. Offensive player cannot be in the area for more than three seconds.

Cooperative Apartment Housing Corporation Formed in San Diego

History was made in San Diego recently when a group of five San Diego business and professional people formed the Imperial Palisades Cooperative Apartment Association, Inc.

The apartment housing development handled by the group was constructed by the Associated Construction Corporation of San Diego. The housing development consists of 112 two-bedroom and three-bedroom apartments. The group will propose to sell individual apartments under FHA financing.

This is the first such project in California where a fully completed apartment housing development will be sold in units cooperatively under financing authorized by Title II of the Federal Housing Act of the United States.

Many attractive facilities are provided for the use of members. Already completed are separate swimming pools for adults and tots, and a fully equipped laundry room with an adjoining tots' playroom.

The directors and officers of the corporation are Chris Canta, president; Harry D. Hall, vice-president; Catherine L. Montgomery, secretary; Alpha L. Montgomery, treasurer; and Edward C. Maddox, controller. The total value of the project exceeds one million dollars.

It is the first time in the history of San Diego County, and probably the State of California, when such a small group of so-called minority people combined to process and purchase a project costing in excess of one million dollars.

The 5 major problem areas:
BUST ..... Supporting muscles lose tone and strength — Result: sagging inactives. WHY? ATROPHY!!!!
UPPER ARMS .... Back side is first to show loss of firmness and shape. WHY? ATROPHY!!!!
WAIST ..... Again loss of muscle tone, firmness and shape. Eventually abdominal muscles (nature "fitting girdle"), collapse. Result: Loss of waistline, protruding tummy . . . the "maternity look." WHY? ATROPHY!!!!
HIPS ..... Same thing: Firmness goes, then shape, then flabbiness . . . youthful contour disappears. WHY? ATROPHY!!!!
THIGHS ..... First signs appear on back side (note; stand straight when checking this area in a mirror. Also take a few steps.) Also watch the batwing suit line. Watch for loss of firmness — this is always followed by loss of shape — then flabbiness. WHY? ATROPHY!!!!
ATROPHY (pronounced a' tro-fee)
ATROPHY is the wasting away and deterioration of living tissue. Atrophy is caused by dis-use . . . the lack of proper physical activity. The symptoms are, tissue loses firmness . . . then shape . . . the next stage can only be described as just plain FLABBINESS . . . and eventually, even feebleness!!!! Automation and push-button living has made atrophy a glaring, every day problem!
•••PROGRESSIVE, CORRECTIVE CONDITIONING is the only way to quickly restore firmness and shape . . . to "liven" up the tissue . . . and to regain youthful appearance.
•••PROGRESSIVE, CORRECTIVE CONDITIONING will shape, trim, and firm the arms, legs, and body; will help normalize the bodyweight and proportions.
•••PROGRESSIVE, CORRECTIVE CONDITIONING will increase flexibility and suppleness, strength and endurance, and create the energy and radiant vitality that comes with physical fitness.
•••Colleges and universities have spent many years studying the effects of various forms of physical activity on the human body. The statements on PROGRESSIVE, CORRECTIVE CONDITIONING are based on this research!
The foremost and most successful exponent of PROGRESSIVE CORRECTIVE CONDITIONING in the world today is CHANEY'S HEALTH STUDIOS! Half an hour to an hour, just two or three times weekly is all it takes.

Phil Gordon Makes the

New York Scene

I wanna thank Ruth Allen King and The National Urban League for their direct part in arranging my audience with Assistant Vice President Robert W. Scofield, who in turn set the necessary wheels moving, so that on Monday October 30th at 9 a.m., I join the staff of the Tax Accounting Division of Chase Manhattan Bank, at their brand spanking new 60 story building, 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, to begin a career which holds bright promise for the future. Bless them all for their faith and confidence.

DANIEL-ROBINSON MERGER

The wedding of Carole Daniel and Paul Robinson was beautiful, and the reception at Mayers Parkway Restaurant, in The Garden Room, was in excellent taste, with smart decor, good music, and fine catering of the complete meal for the 200 guests present. The young bride and groom were a heart warming sight to behold, and the bridal party was just utterly lovely and charming in every detail. Every happiness to the newly weds, and joy to the hearts of Carole's family, mother, Elaine, Granny, Mrs. Octavia Toppin, and sis, Dottie, as well as the family of the groom, Paul.

DEBBIE'S NATAL DAY

There was a swinging birthday party in honor of Debby, the 'boss' barmaid at Turk's Bar, on 7th Avenue, with groups of delicious food, and a candleless cake (wonder why...). All the regular customers and Debby's friends turned out to make it a ball.

SWINGING SESSION

The Key Howard Trio played nice dinner music to get the show on the road. Then it was the swinging big band sounds of

People & Places

THE BOSS — He doesn't cotton to being fussed over but when he received $500 dollar Life Membership Award he didn't have to say but two words, "Thank You". You could see it was one of those proud moments in the life and times of Atty. Loren Miller!

SUMMIT SCENE — Patrons of The Summit were in for a real surprise Sunday night when Jerry Lewis made an impromptu appearance with the Terry Gibbs Big Band. Jerry, who admits to being Gibbs' "number one fan", expertly led the band in two swinging sets, clowned around in his own inimitable way and presented Playboy Jazz Poll nominations to Terry Gibbs and seven other members of the band. It was a ball!

WILLIAM FREELON — Wealthy caterer's latest fling at marriage lasted just 44 days when he and his socialite, social worker wife ended up in a divorce. The 44-day fling cost him a cool $750 in cash plus a few other little items like clothes, and when he balked at the bedroom set she settled for a radio and vacuum cleaner!

NEWSMEN — Social Clubs inviting Fourth Estaters to their affairs and who fail to provide the necessary seating for them are making a grave mistake!

SYBIL THOMAS — Winsome 96th Street school teacher had everybody thinking last Monday was a holiday . . . reason being she was out of her classrooms.

PICKET LINE—Don't be surprised upon attending social club affairs if you meet a picket line because the NAACP is dead serious about those places which only hire Negro waiters, bartenders and parking lot attendants on a part-time basis.

BOLL WEEVIL — That much married postal clerk spending loot like its going out of style impressing the widow of the late real estate tycoon has only gotten as far as the living room couch!

RICHARD HOLMES — His groovy trio opened last Monday at Dynamite Jackson's smart West Adams sip parlor and he gave out with a crazee sound session!

AL PATTON — When the Ram footballers and the L. A. Jet basketballers hit town he'll toss a pawtee for them in the den of

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER

You've probably have seen a comedian at some club after being introduced walk out, acknowledge his applause and say, "It's nice to be working here this week, in fact it's nice to be working anywhere" and that's the way we come to you this week.

It's hard on us to even "make the scene" for you devoted readers (and you'd bettah be devoted readers) this week . . . At 5 a.m. Wednesday morning a fiendish and unwarranted blaze broke out in our stuffy apartment, giving us little or no warning and causing us more than a little consternation. This was a quiet night when we tiptoed to bed about eleven after making the usual rounds to make sure that everything was shipshape and on even keel in the pad and slumbered sweetly until that early hour when we were awakened by that sixth sense that said that something was surely very wrong somewhere close by and that it was too close for comfort.

We tripped to the front part of the apartment and ran into what they tell us HELL must be like! An inferno. Okay, so we made it from that back window two stories up with some sort of a dive, and we're left with an injured back, wrist and assorted injuries (Groan!) but WE MADE IT! . . . there will be many ramifications from this heated affair, we with our lawsuits, and we're blaming faulty wiring (with good cause) and they naturally claiming some sort of negligence. No matter the outcome, we're glad to be alive.

This we think will be a short sweet column with just some of the happenings that made us stop and think even during our bedridden session. We couldn't go out to discover the news but we learned a lot just being still. This injured scribe received word that MISS BAMBI, the Stripper, was billed in GREAT FALLS, NEVADA, where she was working as "The Gal Who Shook Up Los Angeles" and they further stated that she shook up L.A. so much that L.

the Quincy Jones orchestra, featuring trumpeter, Joe Newman and trombonist, Melba Liston, and playing, "Satin Doll", "C-Jam Blues", and a rocking good set. Next it was the insult comic, Don Rickles, who fractured the rafter-filled room, with his rapid-fire and most clever routine. Last, but by no means least, the star of the show, Mr. "B", Billy Eckstine, sang and stopped the show with his interpretations of,

Today we painted some music

It may seem unusual that these youngsters are painting "by ear"... turning music from the classroom radio into colorful pictures. But this is the kind of creativeness the Standard School Broadcast inspires.

Currently, the program's theme is "Music—Passport to the World." Using our listening guide, teachers relate music to geography, history, art, folklore, literature.

This helps children gain insight into the life and culture of the peoples of the world. It leads to better and quicker understanding of both the music and the other studies.

By playing and dramatizing all types of music—from symphony to jazz, Thailand dances to Broadway hits, the program adds a new, delightful dimension to learning.

We started this program 33 years ago, never dreaming our listening family would grow to include 2½ million children in classrooms. Now countless adults, too, have discovered how entertaining and informative the broadcasts are at home.

If you'd like to know why the program has such wide appeal, try tuning in on Thursdays. We think you will enjoy it, too.

AT THRIFTIMART'S 62 RETAIL CHAIN STORES . . .

We're having a 31st Anniversary

THRIFTIMART CELEBRATES 31ST ANNIVERSARY WITH CHAIN-WIDE SALE—Mr. Roger M. Laverty, Sr., President of THRIFTIMART, INC., announced that during the period of October 30th through November 12th, the entire 62-store Thriftimart Retail Chain will put on the biggest sale in the history of the Company to celebrate its thirty-one successful years of operation.

31 YEARS OF UNEQUALLED PROGRESS — THRIFTIMART, INC., was originally incorporated under the name of Fitzsimmons Stores, Ltd., in September 1930. By the end of 1931 operating seventeen small Grocery Departments in the Los Angeles area, its annual volume slightly over three and one-half million dollars, Mr. Laverty could clearly foresee the enormous future development of Southern California. Today besides its retail chain of sixty-two THRIFTIMARTS, the Company also owns and operates a wholesale grocery division known as Smart & Final Iris Company, the Lee Meat Packing Plant, Jane Anderson Delicatessen Kitchen, two wholly-owned subsidiaries, namely the Corbin Development Company, a realty corporation and the Customer Finance Company, which operates four More Membership Department Stores. In addition the Company owns a partnership interest in the Jerseymaid Milk Products Company.

$200,000,000 YEARLY VOLUME BUSINESS — This fiscal year THRIFTIMART and its subsidiaries will do a volume of business in excess of two hundred million dollars. THRIFTIMART'S expansion has carried it from the small beginning of seventeen small Grocery Departments in the heart of Los Angeles to where they now operate large Supermarkets in Las Vegas, Bakersfield, San Diego, Lancaster and Riverside, in addition to those operated in the greater metropolitan area of Los Angeles. Mr. Laverty feels that the potential growth and financial future for THRIFTIMART is even greater today than it was thirty-one years ago. The continuing THRIFTIMART growth will include the opening of at least four additional Supermarkets and one More Department Store within the next twelve months.

HIGHEST QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT LOWEST PRICES — Mr. Laverty tsates that the success of THRIFTIMART has been greatly due to the ready acceptance of the food-buying public of THRIFTIMART'S long established policy — offering the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

'CHAZZ' CRAWFORD

A people had to invent Smog to help take their minds off reckless driving. She (Bambi) must have made a strong impression there. She is now in Tacoma, Washington! . . .

We learned that the CARVER HOUSE in Las Vegas had closed down completely. Reason given: The recent theft of a bundle of loot by a Carver employee was too much to bear, what with the addition of the other troubles . . . and the EL MOROCCO across the street from the Carver is all mixed up as to what they may or may not do . . .

But the Strip in Las Vegas flourishes, so we hear. DELLA REESE, said to have been discovered at the age of 13 in MAHALIA JACKSON'S gospel group, we hear will take Mahalia and a group of choral singers into the FLAMINGO with her when she opens in the Main Room shortly . . .

We learned that lanky LUCIUS SMITH is the favorite barber man at the JOHNSON bath house nowadays and is getting more applause for his tonsorial efforts than he did when he was the nation's top JITTERBUG and won all the trophies for his long legged gyrations.

They tell us to check the current issue of SEPIA magazine . . . that there's a nice story about Negro actors called "On the Fringe of Hollywood" and that A.S. "Doc" YOUNG did it!

About that 2nd story jump we took, they're telling us that we could be the next bigtime stuntman in Hollywood. Hey there, BOBBY JOHNSON? Que Pasa? . . . We also learned during this painful time that RUDY RENDER says that the reason so many tan people are coming to see him this time at

"YE LITTLE CLUB" is because we mentioned him in this column. He's not complaining. He's bragging! . . . Lad is scheduled for a tour of all the booking. If he's willing! . . . PLAYBOY clubs due to this. Says he prefers his daytime job. Doesn't like to sweat in nightclubs! . . . We're too weak to go further . . . next week.

"A Portrait Of My Love", "Little Mama", a medley of Duke Ellington tunes, "The Theme From Exodus", a medley of his record hits, and finally a fingerpopping version of "Well, Alright, Okay You Win." This all took place and will for four weeks at Basin Street East, until Pegy Lee moves in for a month. The show was a 'gas'. Like WOW!!

Deacons Back Their Minister In Dispute Over $14,000 Pay

Aide Told To Repent Or be Silent

The deacons and the trustees of the Calvary Baptist Church in Santa Monica are backing their pastor to the hilt against charges involving a $14,000 back pay claim made by his former assistant, the Rev. Harold W. Bynum.

Last Sunday the 31 deacons met with the trustees of the church in the pastor's study and voted their "entire confidence" in the Rev. Welford P. Carter and his leadership.

CLAIM 'FALSE'

They sustained his action "in protecting the church" against the "false accusations" made by the Rev. Bynum. A report of the charges was carried in the Oct. 19 issue of the California Eagle.

It was further moved and carried by the church leaders that the voice of Rev. Bynum is to be silenced in the church until he "confesses his error" and admits that he has violated church discipline.

Rev. Bynum had previously circulated a mimeographed letter to the trustees in which he asserted that he had back pay due him for more than three years' services.

He said that he had filed a claim against Rev. Carter through the State Labor Commission and asserted that that agency had agreed that his claim is justified.

'BUY THE EAGLE'

He urged the deacons to call a meeting and demand that the issue be settled out of court.

Rev. Carter denied the charges contained in the letter and, incidentally, at church meetings this past week first condemned the Eagle for printing the story about the Labor Commission action, and then, as he said, "turned the other cheek" and urged members of his congregation to buy the Eagle and read about Rev. Bynum's charges.

Rev. Bynum, in his complaint to the Labor Commission, claimed that he had served the church as a full time pastor during Rev. Carter's illness, and had not been ade-

Testimony of Women Called False by M.D.

Dr. Jeremiah W. Moore, 60, prominent Pasadena doctor, took the witness stand in his own defense late Monday afternoon to issue a blanket denial of charges he had performed abortions on three women.

He admitted treating the women and gave a detailed account of his examinations and diagnoses and how he handled the cases, but denied any illegal practice.

SUSPECTED 'PATIENTS'

He also told the court, under direct examination from his attorney, Crispus Wright, that he had suspected the "patients" of being plants for a robbery

South African Nationalist Leader Wins Nobel Prize

OSLO, Norway—In an obvious slap at racism everywhere and at South Africa's hysterical Apartheid policy in particular, Chief Albert Luthuli, Zulu president of the South African National Congress, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for 1960.

Chief Luthuli was one of more than 200 South Africans arrested and jailed on treason charges two years ago. The charges were later dropped but he has been under virtual house arrest since that time and all Congress activities have been banned.

SECOND WINNER

Defined as a "native" under South African Apartheid laws, Chief Luthuli is denied the right to vote or hold property outside of preserves set aside for "native" ownership on government reservations. In making the award, the Nobel Committee noted that he was denied the right to travel or leave South Africa.

Chief Luthuli is the second person of African descent to win the coveted Novel Prize. The first was Ralph Bunche, who was honored for his part in settling the Arab-Israel conflict.

Under South African laws, all natives—persons of unmixed African origin—are denied all citizenship rights in the country. They cannot hold office or vote, cannot form labor unions, attend public schools or universities and are forbidden to engage in all kinds of organizational activities.

South Africa plans a rigid separation of whites and Africans with native peoples confined to gigantic concentration camps, called native reserves.

The Nationalist Party which is sponsor of the Apartheid policy won an overwhelming victory in elections held last week in which only whites were permitted to vote.

Pickets Ask Greyhound Bus Boycott

The first picket line calling for a boycott of Greyhound buses marched outside the bus company terminal at 6th and Los Angeles streets Saturday.

Greyhound's policy of hiring only white drivers has long been a sore point in the community and recently has come under attack from the Teamsters' Rank and File Committee for Equal Job Opportunity.

NO NEGRO DRIVERS

Richard Morris, of Teamsters Local 848, one of the spokesmen for the group, told the Eagle that Greyhound has some 300 drivers operating out of Los Angeles, but that not a single one of them is a Negro.

Marching on the line along with the Teamsters were persons from other organiaztions, including Ike Adams, labor committee chairman of the NAACP, who carried a sign that the NAACP joins in the Teamsters' fight.

Two in Lynch Case Get One Year in Jail

It's seldom, indeed, that a lawyer speaks his mind right out in court.

But that's what Atty. Herbert Porter did Tuesday at the sentencing of the two young men arrested on lynch charges last Memorial Day following a fracas arising from a minor incident in Griffith Park.

Apparently the attorney's outburst carried conviction, for, after his protest, Judge LeRoy Dawson said he was lessening the sentence he had planned to mete out, but made it clear nontheless that he had confidence in his probation officer, whose recommendations had caused Porter's protest.

ONE YEAR IN JAIL

The two young men, Andrew McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue, and Willie Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street, were convicted of three counts each. Their bail was withdrawn last Sept. 18 and they were returned to jail.

Judge Dawson said he had been intending to send both of them to the penitentiary, but had changed his mind and was sentencing them instead to one year in the county jail and 10 years probation.

Prior to the sentencing, but following the probation officer's

Hit-Run Driver Kills 2

Two young men, both promising students at Pierce Junior College who had won their spurs as athletes, were crashed into by a hit-and-run driver and killed early Sunday as they were changing a tire on their automobile on Western avenue near the Lexington avenue off-ramp.

The two, James Irvin LaFleur, 19, and James Aley Booker, 18, both 1961 graduates from Los Angeles High School, were returning from their college football game in San Fernando Valley in which Pierce played Cerritos to a 12-12 tie.

PLAYED END

Booker played end on the team during the last game he was destined to play.

Both young men were members of the Centurians Car Club. Their deaths bring to three the members of their group who have died in crashes in a little over a year.

As Booker and LaFleur changed the tire, two friends of theirs who also were returning from the game and an after-party, parked their car in front of them and waited.

Michael Skinner, halfback on the Pierce team, and Chester

Mother Leaves Tots Alone; 3 Die in Fire

THREE CHILDREN DIE—The flame of a candle, in house where the electricity had been cut off, proved fatal to three of six children in a fire Saturday night on E. 54th Street. Above are the bodies of the three tots, Jerry, 7 months, Gloria, 2, and Thelma Lewis, 5.

Three small children died and three others were seriously burned last Saturday in a fire lit by a flaming candle in the unsteady hand of a five-year-old child.

Thelma Lewis, her six-year-old sister Dorestine said, had gotten the candle from the dresser drawer because it was dark. The electricity in the house had been turned off because the light bill had not been paid.

DIE IN BLAZE

The five-year-old Thelma, her two-year-old sister Gloria and the seven-month-old baby Jerry were killed in the blaze that swept through their frame house while their mother was away.

Dorestine, the "oldest" of the six children, told officers in General Hospital where she was reported in fair condition that while the mother was away at the store Thelma got the candle and walked with it, lighted.

It fell from her hands into a chair in the dining room near the kitchen door, setting the house on fire.

The mother, Mrs. Pearline Lewis, is 23 years old and is expecting another child. She said she was gone only a short time — she didn't know just how long, maybe five or 10 minutes — when a neighbor called to her that her house was on fire.

SENT THEM TO BED

She said she had gone to the store to get some milk for the baby and had told the children to go to bed.

"There were no lights in the house," she explained, "because I didn't pay my bill. I only get $260 from the Bureau of Public Assistance. We use candles for light.

"I do the best I can for my children."

When she got to the house, she said, the fire seemed to be coming from her bedroom, where she had left a heater burning.

"One man climbed in through the window and another man kicked the door in," she told officers.

The other two children, L. T. Lewis and Edgar Lewis Jr., three and four years old, were taken to General Hospital, along with Dorestine. All were suffering from first, second and third degree burns, but their condition was reported as fair.

Signing of Petitions to Start Nov. 6

Recall petitions will be available for distribution—and signing—at the next meeting of the 10th District Recall Committee, scheduled for Monday, Nov. 6, at McCarty Memorial Church, 4103 W. Adams blvd., at 8 p.m.

That meeting, being held on the first day it is legally possible to obtain signatures, will be the opening gun in the campaign to translate intent into action. Purpose of the campaign is to bring about the recall of Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth so as to give the people of the 10th District an opportunity to select the man they want to represent them.

FIRST SIGNERS

Persons authorized to gather signatures will be present so that those who attend will have the opportunity of being among the first to put their names on the recall lists.

Only registered voters living in the 10th District are eligible to sign the petitions, and their signatures must accord exactly with those appearing on the registration records.

If you are not now registered to vote, however, that need not prevent you from being among

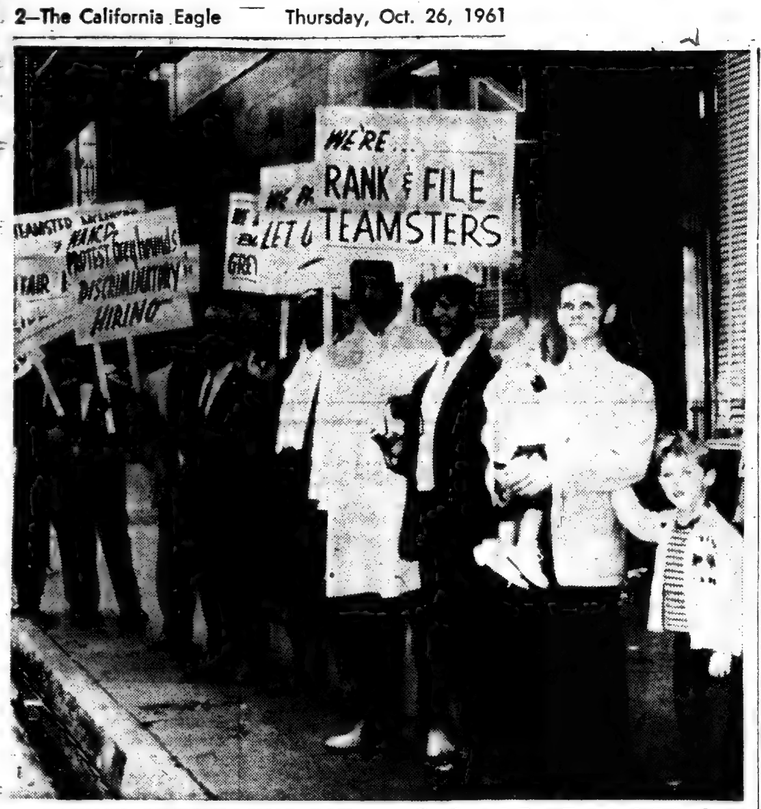
Control of Liberty Still Not Settled

A Beverly Hills syndicate breathing brotherly love and proclaiming hopes of "good community relations" took a giant step toward control of Liberty Savings and Loan Association, oldest and largest Negro owned and controlled institution of its kind in the west, when it closed an escrow for the purchase of one half of the Association's stock last week.



The other half of the stock is owned, or controlled, by L. M. Blodgett, president and one of the founders of the concern, who is understood to have refused an offer of more than a million dollars for the stock under his control.

CONTROL DOUBTFUL

The sale of one half of the stock is not sufficient to vest control of the Association in the Beverly Hills syndicate because of voting rights held by certificate owners who participate in selection of members of the

Babies Star on Program In Plea for New Parents

By C. MARIE HUGHES

Last Wednesday morning attention was focused on approximately 100 Negro children who are in need of adoptive parents at the Baby Day program sponsored by the Advisory Committee of the Los Angeles County Bureau of Adoptions. The program was held in the hearing room of the County Hall of Administration.

Some 50 youngsters available for adoption were present as an appealing reminder during the launching of the Board of Supervisors' "Negro Adoption Week," a community-wide campaign to obtain adoptive parents for the children.

IT'S EASY

Most families will find no difficulty in meeting the eligibility requirements, it was pointed out. With red tape held at a minimum, potential parents who have a true love for children and a congenial home life to offer will find in just a matter of a few months they can bring a child into their home.

Among the well known personalities who participated in the Baby Day event were Jane Russell, motion picture star, and Joe Louis, former heavy weight boxing champion, along with Supervisor Ernest E. Debs, chairman.

Walter A. Heath, Bureau of Adoptions director, said that the top age limit for an adoptive father is 50, and a mother 45, if health is good. He said 54 children available for adoption are under one year old; 12 are between 2 and 4; and six are over 5. The ratio of boy babies over girls is about three to one.

Heath said a working man and wife are eligible, provided good supervision is supplied and that prospective parents will be able to live within their earnings.

Ways to Secure Equal Rights To be Probed

A symposium on "Obtaining Full Citizenship for Afro-Americans by Non-Violence or Otherwise," will be held Sunday, Oct. 29, at the Aquarian Spiritual Center, 1302 W. Santa Barbara avenue, at 4:30 p.m.

Speakers will be Earl Walter, president of the Los Angeles branch of CORE; Mildred Walter, teacher; Erroll Banks, of the Socialist Workers Party; and Bob Einer, actor.

Questions and discussion will follow the presentations.

Knife Wielder Shot Dead by Policeman

Police officer L. O. Triggs shot and killed John Richard Sanders, 52, of 4706½ S. Vermont when Sanders slashed repeatedly at him with a 3¼ inch switch blade knife in the bedroom of the home of Ella Green, 31, at 3880 Second avenue last Thursday about 11:55 p.m.

The shooting occurred when officers Triggs and O. B. Westbrook responded to a call for assistance and found Miss Green cowering nearly nude on the floor with Sanders threatening her with the knife. Triggs ordered Sanders to drop the knife. Miss Green made a hasty exit to the bathroom and Sanders slashed out at the officer, the report stated.

The officer shot Sanders in the hand, then fired again. The second slug landed in Sander's chest.

He was dead on arrival at Central Hospital. Miss Green said she had been stripped and beaten by Sanders during an argument and that he was threatening to kill her with the knife when the officers arrived.

Heart Attack Takes Life of Richard Temple

Richard J. Temple, 64, of 1125 Walkins drive, Pasadena, was talking to his wife Myrtle when he was seized with a heart attack last Friday. He died at Central Receiving Hospital 45 minutes later.

Mr. Temple was an artist and worked actively at his craft until the day of his death. He had been ill for about three years. He is survived by his wife Myrtle, his daughter, Melonee T. Blocker, and two grandchildren; three sistehs, all of Los Angeles, Dr. Ruth Temple Mrs. Vivian Johnson and Mrs. Ethel Towns; and a brother, Lanier D. Temple of Oakland. He was a native of Florida. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at Angeles Funeral Home by Rev. Dennis Black. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery in Santa Monica.

Alabama Loses In Attempt to Curb NAACP

WASHINGTON — The NAACP won another round in its five-year-old battle to carry on its activities in Alabama when the Supreme Court ordered a federal district court to hear and determine a suit filed by the Association in which it sought a determination of its rights under Alabama laws.

A federal district court had dismissed the action on the ground that the NAACP should seek relief in state courts and the Appeals Court for the Fifth Circuit upheld the lower court.

STATE DELAYS

In a brief and unsigned opinion the Supreme Court ordered the federal court to keep that jurisdiction until there is a final determination and to "take such steps as may appear necessary and appropriate to assure a prompt disposition of all issues involved in, or connected with the case."

The NAACP filed the suit in federal court because it charged that state courts simply refused to proceed with the case, thus perpetuating an injunction issued more than five years ago. The Association complained that the refusal to proceed left it without legal remedies and it asked the federal court to determine the dispute.

The case had been before the Supreme Court twice before in connection with a $100,000 fine levied against the NAACP for its failure to disclose its membership lists. The high court remitted the fine and ordered Alabama to re-try other issues. On the re-trial the Alabama courts in effect stuck to their former position and left stand an injunction prohibiting the NAACP from doing business in the state.

Council Studies Reason Students Cutting Classes

The serious proportions "drop outs" from school in this area are now assuming were taken on as a project by the decision of the Exposition Community Coordinating Council at its luncheon meeting Wednesday, October 25. The meetings, held at the Exposition Club House, 3990 Menlo Avenue, are chaired by the president, Reverend Herbert S. Yates.

The Wednesday meeting was addressed by Ivol Blaylock, Boys' Vice Principal at Manual Arts high school, and Sergeant Lawrence Bego, Juvenile Officer of the University Division of the Los Angeles Police Department. A short film dealing with the problem was shown.

SEEKING SOLUTION

Mrs. Marguerite Justice, secretary of the Council and one of its most enthusiastic planners, underlines the special need of organizations and firms in the community to assign an individual to the Council, so that problems under consideration can be given intensive attention.

"Drop-outs," Mrs. Justice indicated, "are detrimental to the individual boy and girl involved. But this problem goes further:

"It is a threat to the stability of the community. We are now being faced with the growing problem of 'gangs,' unruly, with no respect for parental or other authority. What can we do? How can we make sure that our community curbs the threat we see coming?"

Qualifications for those persons an organization or firm assigns to work with the Council are available through Mrs. Justice, the secretary, who may be reached at AX 2-1461.

The interracial group is greatly in need of assistance and asks the entire community to cooperate in any way it can.

Asks $50,000 in Death Of Son in Refrigerator

Mrs. Marian E. Watts, of 540 S. Gless street, has filed a $50,000 damage suit against the Los Angeles Housing Authority, in the death of her seven-year-old son, David Erwin Watts, who died last July 1 from suffocation after he was locked in a closed and abandoned refrigerator.

Mrs. Watts charges negligence on the part of Housing Authority employees caused the fatal accident that took her son's life.

In her suit, she is represented by Atty. B. T. Davis, Jr., of the law firm of Lee, LaVigne and Davis and David F. Cunningham.

Mrs. Watts, who is separated from her husband, Curtis Watts, moved to the Gless street home which is located in a city housing project, approximately six months prior to the child's death.

Mrs. Watts, on the day of the accident, was entertaining friends, and about 3 p.m. told her son to go and change his clothes.

He left the living room and disappeared. When he didn't show up for dinner, Mrs. Watts became alarmed and began searching for him. About two hours later she notified the police who began combing the area for the missing child.

Shortly before midnight, officers in the neighborhood heard a scream inside Mrs. Watts' apartment, and found that the mother had located the boy in an abandoned refrigerator.

Rev. Martin Luther King said last week that he would not be playing the role of a southern senator in the film "Advise and Consent," because it could not be of any significant value in advancing civil rights.

Tries Suicide, Shoots Self, Calls for Help

William Henry Jenkins, 37, of 1747 W. Jefferson blvd., reportedly telephoned his wife Doris last Tuesday and told her he was going to kill himself. He hung up and then shot himself in the chest. Apparently changing his mind about suicide, he called out to a neighbor, Joe Allen, who was taking mail from his mail box next door, to get an ambulance because he was shot.

Officers accompanying the ambulance which came to get the wounded man, investigated the premises and found a bullet hole in the pillow on the victim's bed, an empty shell on the floor and a clip containing five live shells on the bed.

Jenkins was treated for a gunshot wound in the chest, at General Hospital.

CITATION — State President Evelyn Jackson of the Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority and Fraternity, Inc. is shown presenting Mollie Murphy, a charter member, an award for her contributions to the organization at the association's Founder's Day Luncheon at the Nikabob Restaurant Monday. Cosmeticians' Sorority Fetes Active Members

An audience of cosmeticians, members of the Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority and Fraternity, Inc., numbering almost 150, along with honored guests and friends, attended the Association's annual Founder's Day Luncheon Monday at the Nikabob Restaurant on Western avenue.

Sorors from neighboring cities in Southern California came to honor two of the organizations active charter members, presented citations for their untiring efforts and innumerable contributions were Mrs. Molly Murphy, national executive secretary, and Mrs. Miriam Canty, organizer in 1949 of Rho Sigma Delta, California's first chapter. Due to illness, Mrs. Canty was unable to attend the luncheon.

LARGE DONATION

Mrs. Ruth Cunningham, mistress of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. Evelyn Jackson, state president, who gave an historical background of the organization.

The national organization was founded in 1945 in Washington, D. C. Since its inception it has penetrated into 44 states and two foreign countries. Conventions have been held in 20 states and 13 foreign countries.

Some 6000 members now belong to this national association. California has 400 members with six chapters in Los Angeles. The national group has to date contributed $75,000 to the Bethune Cookman Foundation.

Among the speakers at the platform table were Don Derricks, lobbyist and public relations consultant, NAACP representative Jesse Scott and Marguerite P. Moore who brought greetings from the mayor's office. Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Murphy. She chose as her subject a report on the "Status of American Negro Women of Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." At the conclusion of her report she was given a standing ovation.

During the luncheon a telegram from Gov. Brown was read.

Mrs. Martha Powell was program thairman for the affair.

the first to sign. Frank Terry, head of the Recall Committee's publicity department, advises that, in addition to the petition-gatherers, there will be on hand at the Nov. 6 meeting registrars who will register anyone eligible to vote.

NEED VOLUNTEERS

Terry also advises that all petition-gatherers will be duly authorized and will carry credentials with them as they go from door to door.

He says further that volunteer workers are needed to "get the show on the road" and completed in the shortest possible time.

Men, women and students who can spare a few hours during the day or evening are asked to get in touch with the committee. Both clerical workers and signature-gatherers are needed.

To place a recall election on the ballot, approximately 7000 valid signatures are required. Once the signatures are obtained and verified by the authorities, a recall election must be scheduled.

Garrett Corp. Bans Bias in Employment

Discussing the subject of equal employment opportunities for all, John Muchmore, assistant industrial relations director for the Garrett Corporation, in a recent address before the Los Angeles Urban League, reaffirmed the company's long standing policy of non-discrimination in selection of its personnel.

For many years an integral part of the company's industrial relations program, the policy states "there shall be no discrimination against any employee or prospective employee because of racial origin, religious belief, nationality, political affiliation, membership or non-membership in any labor organization. Membership in any organization is not a requisite of employment.

DEFENSE INDUSTRY

The policy further states that "application for employment shall be considered solely on the applicants' ability to perform the duties and fulfill the responsibilities of the jobs for which they are being considered.

"Determination of ability shall be based upon a proper evaluation of education, experience, and background. Personal preferences shall not influence the selection of an employee."

Muchmore also pointed out that President Kennedy's recent executive order on non-discrimination in defense industries is applicable to all divisions of the Garrett Corporation located in the United States. He said that it is the objective and responsibility of the company to be in complete compliance with both the letter and spirit of the order giving equal employment opportunities for all employees regardless of race, color, creed or national origin.

Plastic in Crib Fatal to Infant

Pamela Givens, 2 months and 2 days old, suffocated in her plastic lined crib last Thursday evening.

Her mother, Birdie Givens, said she saw her baby sleeping in the crib at about 8:55 p.m. A few minutes later, a visitor to the Givens residence at 1435 W. 50th street, Abner Ballentine, noticed the baby lying face down in the crib against the plastic lining. The baby was not breathing.

'Sit-In' Cases Heard By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Supreme Court last Thursday heard oral argument on the first southern "sit-in" cases which the Court has agreed to review.

The cases involve convictions of 16 Negro students in three lunch counter demonstrations in Baton Rouge, La.

ASKS REVERSAL

Jack Greenberg, NAACP Legal Defense Fund general counsel, asked the Court to reverse the Louisiana convictions. The students were arrested for breach of the peace in April, 1960, and sentenced to 30 days in jail plus a $100 fine, or, in lieu of the fine another 90 days.

The Supreme Court chamber was filled with interested spectators, including U. S. Solicitor-General Archibald Cox and NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

John Johnson of Cullen, La., and Kenneth L. Johnson of Baton Rouge, La., two of the arrested "sit-inners," were also present. They are both currently attending Howard University in Washington.

UNCONSITUTIONAL

Greenberg told the Court that the Louisiana trial court record did not substantiate a charge of "breach of the peace" in any of the cases. He contended that the students were arrested by Baton Rouge police Captain Robert Weiner, who "operated a flying police squad" which made arrests in these cases simply because the Negro students were sitting at lunch counters reserved for whites.

Greenberg argued that such arrests were "essentially state action to maintain and preserve racial segregation, and such use of state power is expressly prohibited by the Fourteenth Amendment of the U. S. Constitution."

He contended that since a white man could not be convicted of any offense for sitting at a lunch counter, the conviction of his clients was therefore based solely on race.

John F. Ward, Jr., asst. district attorney in Baton Rouge, argued for Louisiana.

CITES MOOD OF CITY

He contended that the arrests were justified in the light of violence in other cities where protest demonstrations had taken place, and because of the existing infammatory mood in Baton Rouge at the time of the demonstrations. On this he was closely questioned by the Court.

Ward also argued that though the students were not actually asked to leave by representatives of the three businesses involved, their being told they "could not be served" should be interpreted as a request to leave. Justice Hugo L. Black suggested that there was a difference between telling the students they would not be served at the white lunch counters and ordering them out.

The Louisiana attorney concluded his argument by asking the Court to take judicial notice of the atmosphere in Baton Rouge, even though there was no testimony concerning the mood of the city in the record.

Sammy's Dog in News

Sammy Davis Jr.'s dog made news Monday night.

A 140 lb., year and a half old St. Bernard who goes by the name of "Playboy," he protested against being shipped from his home and showed his displeasure by taking a nip at a baggage car agent who happened to be handy.

Playboy — a gift to Sammy from Playboy Magazine — is a nice dog, and friendly, so Jimmy Goodrich, Sammy's press agent, said, but apparently the handsome canine objected to being tied up, muzzled and consigned to a baggage car for a destination unknow.

Unknown to him, at any rate. He was being shipped to one of Sammy's friends in Moline, Ill., but he got no further than the Los Angeles railway station.

After the little unpleasantness in the baggage car, Playboy was rushed to the pound for rabbies shots and observation.

There was quite a hubbub at the station, though, and on the train that was to have left at 11 p.m. It took some 55 minutes to get everything and everybody calmed down so the train could be speeded on its way.

Take It to the Courts

The Fire Commission has started dragging its feet on the issue of racial discrimination in the department. It delayed a hearing on the issue last week and set it for November 2 with the quibble that it may not get around to the matter at that time and may ask for further delay.

The Fire Department has had since 1958 to root out the racial discrimination that has plagued it for many years. What it did in 1958 was to terminate the worst features of segregation while permitting Negro firement to be subjected to snide and discriminatory practices designed to humiliate the men.

For example, Negro firemen are excluded from the station mess and are forced to eat by themselves. If a cafe or restaurant followed such practices it would at once run afoul of state civil rights statutes and be made to respond in damages.

The official excuse given for this tolerance of racial discrimination is that the station mess is a "social" affair and that the firemen have a right to exclude other firemen from the mess if they desire to do so. That's nonsense.

The city furnishes the fuel with which the food is cooked. It provides the facilities the firemen use. The meals are eaten on city property. The city is in exactly the same position the state universities are in when they furnish dormitories for students. They don't have to provide dormitories or meals zut the courts have held that when they do so all students must be permitted to live in the dormitories and eat their meals without segregation.

Those rulings were handed down in respect of students at universities in the Deep South. We are certain that California courts will follow the same reasoning in this northern state. We suggest that if the Fire Department won't act or doesn't act the firemen take their case to the courts.

Juggling with Figures

Figures are wonderful things. They can prove, or disprove, almost anything. The federal government has just completed a survey which shows that 12 per cent of all federal jobs are held by Negroes. That sounds just dandy.

But the figures go a little bit further. They also show that almost three fourths of the jobs held by that 12 per cent of Negroes are in the lower paid categories.

Look behind the figures that show that Negroes hold 12 per cent of the federal jobs and you'll find that many Negroes are in government service because they can't find jobs in private industry commensurate with their skills. Everybody knows Negro college graduates who have been shunted off into federal employment because other doors were closed to them.

And if you dig deep enough you'll find that many of those who are in the lower paid jobs are there because there's a color line in civil service. A Negro often finds it comparatively easy to get a public job and more than difficult to win a promotion on that job.

Promotional examinations often call for oral examinations and a Negro who scores in the top bracket on the written test falls away down on the orals.

Figures that tell us how many Negroes there are in the civil service or how many Negroes are arrested for crimes conceal more than they reveal. More often than not, they're a cover-up to whitewash social evils.

. . . But He Can't Hide

Councilman Joe Hollingsworth can run but he can't hide from the recall election initiated to oust him from his job as councilman from the 10th District.

He gave those who were trying to serve him with a recall petition quite a run-around last week but he was finally cornered and had to accept the papers.

His constituents don't want very much from Mr. Hollingsworth. All they want him to do is to submit to an election to determine whether or not he's wanted in City Council by those whom he purports to represent.

Mr. Hollingsworth is in the Council because he was handed the job on a silver platter by eight councilmen who don't live in the district and who don't know anything about the problems facing that district. His selection was the result of a deal under which he is to serve out the remaining term and then watch while the district is moved out to San Fernando Valley.

If, as Councilman Hollingsworth likes to pretend, his constituents are perfectly happy with his representation he has nothing to fear from the recall. But if, as his opponents say, he is unwanted another man can be selected for his place.

It's our guess that Mr. Hollingsworth can't survive a recall and that an election will see him returned to the quiet obscurity that was his before he was catapulted into his job.

Railroads, Airports See Light

Three railroads and two southern airports have agreed with the attorney general that they will end all racial segregation at their facilities.

The segregation they have been practicing is contrary to Supreme Court decisions and the only reason the carriers have persisted in the evil of their ways is because the Interstate Commerce Commission has been lax in its duty.

The Commission has been slow to act because previous attorneys general were too busy, or too unconcerned, to act. The vigor with which Atty. General Kennedy has acted is a reflection of the present administration's determination to use its executive powers to wipe out segregation and discrimination.

Actors and Ministers

Members of the actor union have decided that they will no longer perform in segregated playhouses. Southern cities are faced with the choice of either dropping segregation or doing without the chance to see dramatic productions that go on the road.

The actors have set a style that we hope to see emulated by others. For example, we think it might be an excellent idea if all ministers of the gospel announced that they will no longer preach to Jim Crow audiences.

That may be hoping for too much but we're not willing to believe that the ethics of American actors are better then those of ministers, or that there is more brotherhood in the theater than there is in the church.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

Buffalo weather crossed me up again last week, as it has consistently done in the 25 years since I began to visit that capital of the Niagara Frontier. Knowing how sneaky October can be, I took along a top coat. So, naturally, the weather turned out as mild and pleasant as any Indian summer coud be asked to be. Of course, if I'd left my top coat at home, Buffalo would have been blustery and chill, with icy breezes sliding in from the lake.

But I had no time for reproaching the weatherman. I was too busy getting filled in on the local mayoralty campaign, in which four candidates are trying to beat each other's brains out — one, the incumbent mayor, of Italian stock, two Polish and one Irish, and all of them assiduously wooing the Negro vote.

GRANGER

SAME OLD PROBLEM

There was wry amusement in this situation for me, because when I first started visiting Buffalo, a good way for a Polish candidate to alienate big hunks of his own Polish vote would have been by making overtures to Negro voters.

In the mid-depression years Buffalo's darker brethren began to increase in numbers—from seven or eight thousand to sixteen thousand at the beginning of world War II, in a city of about 400,000 population. Buffalo leadership was watching the growth with sour expression, in spite of the fact that these newcomers provided badly-needed labor reserves for the defense and war industry that was making Buffalo prosperous. The press began to talk about a "Negro problem."

There was a problem, all right, but it wasn't a Negro problem. It was a problem of half-bright leadership not being able or willing to look farther than its nose and see that new labor would be good labor fastest if it were allowed to grow up on the job and grow into the full community life. Instead, the same old housing pattern developed — Negroes were shunted off into "Negro districts" and whenever one of those districts began to expand there was terrific resistance from hostile surrounding neighborhoods.

POLES HOSTILE

And the most hostile, ironically enough, were the Polish neighborhoods. Ironically, because the Poles were themselves in-migrants of only a few decades seniority. And the Lord knew that they had swelled in numbers — up to a third of the city's total population.

They had their vast residential areas, especially in South Buffalo, where they attended their Catholic churches flavored deeply with Central Europeanism, largely spoke their own language, formed their own fraternal and business groups, had their own crime problems, and looked out on the rest of the city with suspicious and frequently hostile stare.

And especially on Negro Buffalo! For as in almost every city with a heavy Polish infiltration, anti-Negro sentiment was strongest in Polish neighborhoods, Polish-controlled unions, Polish-controlled places of public accommodation.

FOUND: NEGRO PROBLEM

And when the enlarging Negro neighborhoods began to push against and eat into Polish neighborhoods, who was it that screamed like bloody murder? You're right, it was the Poles! Led by their politicians, by their diocesan leaders, by bull-necked thugs who demonstrated against their new Negro neighborhood, held passionate protest mass meetings and did everything but set fire to homes acquired by dark-skinned Buffalo families. And then the press began discussing "a growing NEGRO problem!"

Of course, there was a difference between the Polish and the Negro neighborhoods. The Poles congregated in theirs, and when they got ready they or their next generation moved out and merged with the rest of white Buffalo. Today, special mention may be made of the fact that 200,000 of Buffalo's 600,000 population are of Polish connection, but you never hear of a "Polish problem."

While the Negroes may have congregated at first, in some cases, they soon found that the larger their numbers, the harder for them to move out —until there was no congregation; there was segregation. Not big and nasty and rough as in Chicago or Philadelphia or New York City; but big and nasty and rough enough. For not only were homes but also job opportunities and chances for cultural exposure of the James Crow kinship. Then there really was a problem.

But perhaps now that two Polish candidates are soliciting the votes of a Negro community that has grown to 75,000, Negro leadership will show something of the political realism which the candidates are showing. Perhaps they'll find out what they have to offer in the way of modern change — or perhaps use the enlarged voting power to defeat both, and put the incumbent mayor back in for another term.

It'll be interesting to watch —to see what we can learn in 25 years.

Two in Lynch Case Sentenced report, Judge Dawson had asked if there was any comment on the probation findings.

'YES, YOUR HONOR!'

Porter jumped to his feet with a "Yes, Your Honor."

He then said he had never, seen a probation officer's report "so outrageously vindictive, so vicious and so improper."

Probation Officer Herbert Weissburg had told the court that neither of the two men wanted probation and recommended that there was no basis for leniency.

Atty. Porter denied that either of the men had said they did not want probation and suggested that the judge ask them whether they wanted it. This the judge did, and both men answered, "Of course!"

MOVE TO APPEAL

Jones and McLemore were at first charged with lynching, but that count was subsequently dropped. They were convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, resisting an officer and rescueing a prisoner. The latter count is a modified version of the lynch charge.

Atty. Porter immediately made an oral motion of appeal, and indicated that he intends to appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary.

He said the issues in the case are: (1) police bhutality; (2) the question of whether Griffith Park can be maintained as a lily-white park; and (3) whether or not police can enforce segregation in areas of Los Angeles.

He asked that the two men be released from custody pending appeal, but Judge Dawson refused to free them unless bonds were posted. The amount of the bonds was not immediately determined.

no comment on the picket line protest. R. E. Thomas, representing the company, said, "We are just a branch office. Any statements on company policy must come from the regional office in San Francisco."

Persons heading for the waiting buses didn't pay very much attention to the pickets. Both Negroes and whites glanced casually at the signs, then walked into the depot.

But not everybody was indifferent. One of those who joined the picket line was Earl Cromwell. He commented, "This is the Negro's fight, not just the Teamsters . . . It's a pleasure to be walking here."

A white cab driver said, "There should be no distinction. I'm for the picketers. Why not see about getting some Jews hired there, too?"

A white boy, about 11, commented. "I believe that Greyhound should hire Negro drivers. It doesn't make any difference who drives the buses."

The opening picket line appeared to have a long, tough fight ahead.

The teamsters' group, however, has already appealed against Greyhound's hiring policy to the President's Committee on Government Contracts. Greyhound carries mail under a contract and also transports members of the Armed Services, Morris said.

He pointed out that the group has likewise filed complaints against the bus company with the California Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Hit-Run Driver Kills Two Young Athletes

Finley heard a crash and saw a car whiz by, narrowly missing their car.

ON THE PAVEMENT

They jumped out to see what had happened. "Oh, no!" groaned Finley as he saw his two friends lying bleeding on the pavement. He took off his coat and placed it over Booker; Skinner ripped off his sweater and covered LaFleur.

Finley went to a nearby phone booth to telephone police. He looked out and saw the car that had crushed his friends. The driver had returned close to the scene and was about a block away when Finley spotted him. He was driving a white car, a Chevrolet. The driver slowed down, then again sped away.

TRACK STAR

They came here last June for James' graduation and decided to stay so that the girls could go to school here. Brenda is now a student at John Adams Junior High School. They live at 1141 W. Adams blvd.

At L.A. High, LaFleur was a cross country runner and a track star. A freshman at Pierce, he was majoring in sociology.

Funeral services were held at the J. S. Williams Funeral Home, 6003 Compton, Tuesday, after which LaFleur's body was shipped for burial to Lake Charles, La.

BURIAL TODAY

Booker lived with his mother, Mrs. Jean Cannady, and his step-father, Robert Cannady, at 5825 3rd avenue. Funeral services for him were to be held today, Thursday, at the South Los Angeles Mortuary.

The suspected hit-and-run driver was picked up by police about 20 minutes after the accident a few blocks from the scene of the crash.

Booked on suspicion of felony hit-run was Stuart Dick Rennie, 27, of 1745½ Garfield place.

Police placed the time of the accident at 2:20 a.m. and said that Rennie's car skidded 180 feet. A description of the death car was broadcast on the police radio and Rennie was picked up at Eleanor and El Centro avenues.

EARLIER ACCIDENT

The crash occurred in the 100 block on Western avenue. Witnesses said that Booker noticed the white car bearing down on them and tried to pull LaFleur out of the way when both were struck down.

A little over a year ago, on Aug. 14, 1960, another member of the Centurians was killed in a traffic accident. He was Jesse Brown Jr., 18, of 2906 W. 12th street, who with some 40 teenagers was weekending at the John Davis Ranch in Perris.

He was giving rides to various of the young girls there on his motorcycle. Wanda Jamison, of 1120 S. Gramercy place, was riding with him when he drove out of the dirt road of the ranch, to be hit broadside by an oncoming truck. He was hurled 12 feet in the air, and died instantly. Miss Jamison was seriously injured.

Group Seeks Liberty Control

Board of Directors.

The sellers of the stock to the syndicate, all Negroes, are understood to have received $8000 per share for the 140 shares of stock. The battle for control has been raging for some time and is said to have been touched off by a minor dispute over places on the Board of Directors.

OLDEST IN WEST

Founded in 1924, Liberty Savings and Loan Association has played a large part in home financing in the Negro community in Los Angeles. On many occasions it granted loans for the purchase of homes where other financial institutions refused to assist. It has assets of more than 16 million dollars.

Norman Sanoff, agent for the syndicate, said last week that the buyers hope to develop Liberty as "an example of good community relations." He did not explain what he meant by "good community relations."

News that the Beverly Hills group was seeking to gobble up Liberty was broken by the Eagle two weeks ago. The news brought a flood of community protests from persons who said that they believed its sale was a distinct step backward and would work harm to the community.

Loren Miller says . . .

LESTER GRANGER

If I had had the plane fare and money for a banquet ticket I would have dropped in at the Waldorf Hotel a couple of weeks ago when the National Urban League welcomed Lester Granger out of his job as director. It wasn't that the League was getting rid of him because his usefulness had come to an end; he had served out his time and was ready for retirement. There's nothing like quitting when you're ahead and Granger welcomed the chance to bow out.

In a way, I helped initiate him into the League when he barged into town in a red Buick away back in 1931. He was a restless young, or at least younger, man then who had quit school work because he had the vague feeling that there were more important things to be done. Looking back on it, I can see that he was groping his way forward and that he wasn't quite sure what the League should do or how he should help it do its job. He got here when the depression was close to its depth and he grasped the concept that an era had come to an end both for the League and for the nation.

REAL CONTRIBUTION

Granger's real contribution to the League lay in his efforts to make it an important factor in shaping the Negro's attitude toward, and understanding of, the problems of city living and, in its proper turn, of shaping the nation's attitude toward, and understanding of, the importance of integrating the Negro into the social, economic and political structure of the nation. He did his best to jar the League out of its provincial position as a Negro organization and of remaking it into an organization competent to deal with national problems in housing, employment and kindred areas and offering specialized knowledge of those problems as they affect Negroes.

I guess Granger would agree with me that he didn't meet unqualified success. Like the rest of us, he was the victim of the Jim Crow system. He had to deal with frustrated and embittered Negroes and with smug and complacent whites who often ganged up to abort what he tried to do—Negroes because they had lost faith in social reform and whites who dragged their heels out of the comforting, for them, belief that Negroes were happy in their little niche at the bottom of the heap. Under those trying circumstances he sometimes lost his way and wound up with both parties hopping mad at him.

On the one hand he had to try and persuade Negroes that as working men their lot lay with the labor movement and on the other he had to give the back of his hand to unions who were squirreling around and holding fast to discriminatory practices while they tried to lure Negroes into their ranks. He was faced with the task of trying to get industry to mend its discriminatory ways and of telling Negroes that they couldn't hope for good jobs in industry unless they had skills that entitled them to jobs. Almost nobody thanked him for that tight rope act.

GOOD NEW DAYS

I can't say that I would always have tackled the job in the same way that Granger did. There were times when I thought he erred in one direction or another. There were other occasions when I thought he was overly sensitive to criticism. Now that he has laid his burden down I think it is only fair to say that he did pretty well; the League is a much better instrument for its function than it was when he took over its direction.

Although it was concealed and often denied it is apparent that America's No. 1 problem during Granger's tenure of office as director of the League was its racial issue. The race problem was continually at crisis. It still is, for that matter. What Granger did helped in the solution of that problem and, of even greater import, he helped put the problem on the nation's conscience. The country will never be quite the same for what he did. As a man who remembers the good old days I am glad they're gone and Lester Granger gets my thanks for helping lay them to rest.

Doctor Denies Guilt in Trial For Abortion or extortion racket, and had so warned his nurse and other doctors in the building.

All last week the prosecution put on a series of witnesses, including the three women who claimed the doctor had operated on them and another woman who corroborated some of their testimony. Under cross-examination portions of their statements were found contradictory.

One of the women was Doris Trent, who revealed that her real name is Mrs. Dora Navarro Terminal, 32, of 732 Arizona street, East Los Angeles, who said she had been acting as an undercover agent for the State Board of Medical Examiners.

STAR WITNESS

She was the state's star witness. She was also the "patient" Dr. Moore said who had most aroused his suspicions.

Miss Trent claimed that on Nov. 22 she had visited Dr. Moore, asked him to perform an abortion for her and had turned over to him $250 in marked bills. She also said she had a microphone in her purse and that her conversation with the doctor was recorded in a police truck parked across the street.

So far in the trial, police have not produced the alleged recorded statement, but officers did testify to finding the $250 Miss Trent said she gave to Dr. Moore.

On Wednesday morning Dr. Moore was again on the stand. Following his cross-examination Atty. Wright said he would recall one witness, Mrs. Allie Azalea Watkins Ganey, 23, of 8888 Venice blvd., to query her about statements she made in a hospital report subsequent to her visit to Dr. Moore's office when she claims he performed an illegal operation.

Other women who took the stand to testify against Dr. Moore were Evelyn Juanita Ganey, 38, of 11527 Venice blvd., and Mrs. Evelyn Battis, 27, of 4914 Marion Wood drive, Culver City.

The case was expected to reach the 11 women and one man jury sometime Thursday in Judge John G. Barnes' court in Pasadena.

COMMISSION FINDING

Following a hearing on the case Sept. 18, the hearing officer of the Labor Commission expressed the opinion that Rev. Bynum's claim was justified, John Hart, deputy labor commissioner, told the Eagle.

Because no specific contract had been violated, the commission reportedly referred the case back to Rev. Bynum with the recommendation that he seek redress through civil court action.

Rev. Carter told the Eagle Tuesday that he had no statement to make about the case, and that on the advice of his attorney he had no comment. On the vote of confidence voted by the deacons, the minister again said, "No comment." Queried about the name of his attorney, Rev. Carter said he did not care to give his counsel's name.

After School Show-off Gang Beats 2 Youngsters

Two boys were bicycling home from Catholic school carrying a movie projector between them when they were set upon by a gang of teenage boys on Adams blvd. They were beaten and kicked so severely that they were hospitalized.

The gang-up occurred when Henry Silverio, Jr., of 2108 Oak treet, and Edgar Juarez, of 1032 W. 22nd street, rode by the group of youngsters who were walking along Adams, on their way home from school.

Two of the attackers, Donald Alexander and Thomas McGee, to show the girls how strong they were pulled the boys from the bikes and began beating and kicking them. Two other boys, James Price and Stephen McCrary, then pummeled the two and Price told the police that he did not hit the boys as much as the others. Price said that he only slapped one of the boys on the back of his head.

Apparently others joined in the melee. There were approximately 20 in the gang including the girls.

NCNW Starts Fund Drive to Honor Bethune

The President of the United States has signed into law the joint resolution passed by Congress authorizing the National Council of Negro Women to erect a memorial to the late Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, NCNW founder. This marks the first time a monument has been erected to an American Negro on public land; also the first time one has been built honoring a woma of any race.

As a living tribute to Mrs. Bethune, a Memorial-Education Center will be established on the site for the archives and activities around the contributions of the American Negro. Architects and planners are completing buildings and other facilities at the site. Robert Berks, internationally known artist, has completed a model of the statuary to be displayed.

NCNW has begun its campaign of interesting influential people, along with the government, to support the project.

Through its eight regions, NCNW is inaugurating the memorial campaign on a non-partisan, non-sectarian basis. Region VII, directed by Mrs. Errel Bobo Starks, is establishing a Bethune Memorial Advisory Committee to develop project participation on a widespread basis.

The committee is to be the channel whereby outstanding and influential community leaders, drawn from California, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah, will represent the Western United States. As a parent organization, it will set the policy and supervise the activities of local councils in key cities throughout the region.

In the cities, local community leaders will comprise BMAC membership, and as a group, be associated with the parent body. City Council presidents, in conjunction with nationally known personalities from entertainment, law, medicine, government, business, etc., would constitute membership of the main Council.

N.Y. Students Howl At Miss. Uncle Tom

NEW YORK — A Negro "industrial consultant" came to Columbia University here this week to tell of the "mutual courtesy and respect" between white and Negro Mississippians, and got howled down by the students.

Joseph Francis Albright, former assistant in the U.S. Veterans Affairs office under President Truman, told the student audience that his plane fare had been paid by the Mississippi State Sovereignty Co mission, which was set up for the purpose of fighting integration, but that he receives nothing from the state for his services.

'TOGETHER'

He said Negroes and whites in Mississippi "work together, plan together and make progress together — but under segregation." He made a 25-minute speech extolling advantages of Negro life in Mississippi.

But, the 250 students — mostly white — weren't buying.

Albright admitted that he "personally" does not like segregation policies, but state law must be respected. "The certain road to anarchy lies in disobedience to law," he said.

A student countered by asking if Mississippi was right in defying the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school integration ruling.

Albright hedged.

Another student asked, "How can law be true and representative if no Negroes, who represent 45 per cent of the state's residents, are in the state legislature?"

LIKE SEGREGATION

Albright explained that admission of Negroes to the legislature was not important. He said, "Negroes do not have to be represented to assure fair consideration in Mississippi's legislature." He was unable to cite the percentage of Negroes registered to vote in his state.

"Mississippi Negroes do not want desegregation. They virtually ruled the state after the Civil War and they chose to stay by themselves. Even now, not one Negro family in this state has attempted to send its children to a white school," he said.

Nevertheless, Albright was unable to answer why 51 of 53 Negro signers of a petition calling for integration of Yazoo City schools on August 25, 1955, lost their jobs.

STUDENTS HOWL

At this point he admitted that he has only lived in Mississippi "for one year." The students howled.

After an hour and 15 minutes of questions, not one of which was friendly, Albright announced that he had "ten minutes to catch a plane."

He concluded that "the inherent friendliness of the people of Mississippi is the key to the solution of its racial problems."

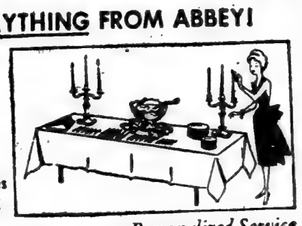
Two west Jefferson beauty salon operators were 62c poorer this week when the salesmen from whom they ordered a stamp plate last Friday failed to bring the goods or return their deposit.

Charlene Hayes and Lula Crawford of 1477 W. Jefferson reported that the man failed to return with the merchandise which he said he sold for the Chipron Stamp and Engraving Company of 627 S. Hill street.



The company denied that they had a man six foot eight inches tall weighing 170 pounds and about 37 years of age working for them as a salesman.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Daddy is a government physicist. Mother is active in PTA, church and community projects. "And I'm busiest of all at home," Mrs. Harrington admits, "with five little Harringtons. They all got started on a Carnation formula."

This milk that's best for babies is best for coffee, cereals and cooking, too! Carnation is the milk you can use like cream—with ½ the fat calories, and at ½ the cost of cream. Try Bunburger recipe, shown at right.

1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup fine cracker crumbs
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped green pepper

A TIDAL WAVE OF HOPE

MR. KHRUSHCHEV is 67. He plans to see the Red Flag flying over every country in the world during his lifetime. He thinks he can do it. Every decision and action he takes over Berlin, Laos, the Congo or at the United Nations is measured against this one aim.

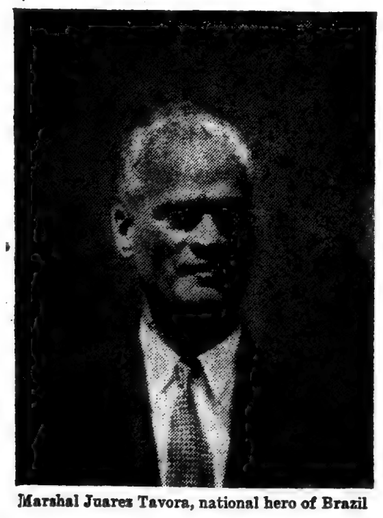
He has an ideology.

Nations outside the Communist bloc lack any common ideology or world aim. They are divided amongst themselves. They think that if they stand up to Mr. Khrushchev they may be forced into atomic war.

Appeasement is no answer to dictatorship. The idealism of the United Nations without an ideology often becomes the tool for Moscow's aim. Making big speeches to satisfy public opinion at home and backing them by weak action when we meet the Communists at the conference table destroys the faith of the millions in the power of the democratic way of life. Squatting in the streets, however sincere, is no answer to the threat of the H-bomb.

The answer is to stand up and fight in every nation, everywhere, for an ideology that changes Communist and non-Communist alike and unites every race, class and color in the supreme task of the century—the remaking of the world.

Men with an ideology superior to Communism can not only stand up to Mr. Khrushchev but enlist him in a greater revolution.



General Carpentier of France who was in command of the land forces of NATO for Central Europe and who had the training of the Brazilian Army and commanded the French forces in Indo-China and elsewhere, put the issue clearly at the World Assembly at Caux this year when he said, "We need a tidal wave of Moral Re-Armament to sweep across the world. Then men in Government will be forced to make the right decisions that spring not only from the intellect, but from our hearts and faith."

THE TIDE OF COMMUNISM CAN BE TURNED

This tidal wave is flooding across the continents. Marshal Tavora, national hero of Brazil, flew last week to Rome. There he told leaders of the Church and State, "With Moral Re-Armament the tide of Communism in my country and Latin America can be turned."

His colleague General Bethlem, former Brazilian Ambassador in Bolivia and Pakistan, on that same day was meeting in Los Angeles with Mr. Kishi, Prime Minister of Japan until last year. Both General Bethlem and Mr. Kishi had been at Caux two weeks before. The General said, "In Brazil and Peru 900,000 of my countrymen have seen the Japanese play The Tiger. In the last five months millions more have seen it on television. Its message has already saved Brazil from civil war."

He was referring to a play by the revolutionary students of the Zengakuren of Japan. These students led the riots in Tokyo last year which caused President Eisenhower's visit to Japan to be canceled. The students changed. They wrote a play describing how Communism had captured them through their own moral compromise and how Moral Re-Armament had taught them to go not right, not left, but straight. Then they went to America and apologized to Eisenhower. He urged them to go to Latin America.

Marshal Juarez Tavora, national hero of Brazil

In Manaus, a Communist stronghold of Brazil, a thousand miles up the Amazon River, 90,000 people in one night alone saw a presentation of The Tiger in the football stadium. On the same night the Communist counter-rally across the road for the anniversary of Castro's Cuban revolution drew a total of 40 people. One of the students said, "It is the greatest event that has ever taken place in Manaus. It has revolutionized our thinking."

THE ONLY ANSWER TO THE CRISIS IN BERLIN

Mr. Kishi, speaking with General Bethlem in Los Angeles, told of how he had discussed with General Eisenhower last week at Gettysburg the impact of the work of Moral Re-Armament throughout the South American continent. He said, "I apologized to General Eisenhower for last year's riots and invited him to come as soon as possible to Japan. I had two objectives in making my present journey around the world. The first was to attend the Moral Re-Armament Assembly at Caux. This Assembly made an impression on me that is both deep and unforgettable. Secondly, I wanted to meet again the world statesmen I had known as Prime Minister. The only answer to the crisis in Berlin and the challenge of Communism today is the ideology of Moral Re-Armament. Nations today must form a solid front, a unity of purpose and of spirit so evident to the Communist world that they will not indulge in miscalculation nor misunderstand our aim and goal. MRA is producing this unity which transcends all national boundaries and all minor divisions."

In September Mr. Saburo Chiba, for three years Chairman of the National Security Committee of the Japanese Diet, flew straight from Caux to confer with President Prado of Peru. He said that his own experience as head of Security had led him to two conclusions on how to answer Communism: (1) To impact the masses with a more effective ideology and (2) To unite the countries of the free world in a common strategy.

He told the President that no exclusively national plan is adequate today. While the 13 Communist bloc countries are united in one global strategy, 82 nations have not yet reached a common mind and goal "in order to create a united force in the free world." He continued, "We must create a united force of parliamentarians from every nation. This is already being done in many of the free countries."

Former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan

TO SAVE DEMOCRACY IN PERU

President Prado invited Moral Re-Armament to his country "to save democracy in Peru." At the National Stadium in Lima 60,000 people stood in silence for a minute to honor the memory of Frank Buchman, initiator of Moral Re-Armament, before seeing a performance of The Tiger. Ten thousand who could not get in listened over the loudspeakers outside.

A force of these Japanese students went to San Marcos University. This is the University which organized the stoning of Vice President Nixon when he visited Peru. Speaking on the Peruvian National Radio after meeting the Japanese, one of these student leaders said, "Five days ago we had riots. Moral Re-Armament has made us understand that the divisions which exist between political groups arise because each group is out for itself. MRA has come at the right moment to Peru."

Another student leader said on the National Radio: "In this atomic age man must give the answer to exploitation by either Communism or capitalism. Here is an ideology which rebuilds the chaotic world today, which gives food to the hungry, work to the unemployed and fills the empty spirit of man which has been lost in immorality and corruption."

This week in Peru 40,000 people, including thousands of Indians in colorful dress, thronged to the great Sacsayhuaman fortress, stronghold of the ancient Inca civilization, now known as the Moscow of Peru, to see The Tiger and hear it in the original Inca language. The head of Indian affairs said, "Your philosophy is going to change the face of the earth bringing justice, bread and an answer."

The Moral Re-Armament force in Latin America is moving from Brazil and Peru to Chile, Bolivia, Uruguay, and other countries of that continent.

IDEOLOGICAL OFFENSIVE IN EUROPE

At the same time a force of 400 from 36 nations is sweeping through countries of Europe in an ideological offensive to answer defeatism, Communism and division. Among them are fifty Chinese from Taiwan headed by General Ho Ying-chin, former Prime Minister of China and wartime Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese armies, who received the Japanese sword of surrender in World War II. General Ho Ying-chin said, "We lost the mainland of China because we lacked an ideology. The materialism in our own life was exploited by the Communists to take over China. We sacrificed our country for our selfishness. I have been more than thirty years a soldier, and I say that the way to secure peace and freedom for the world is Moral Re-Armament."

Prime Minister U Nu of Burma

These fifty Chinese have put their burning convictions into a play called The Dragon, which shows the tragedy of a nation lost through the selfishness of men and gives the hope of an answer.

One of the leading industrialists of Europe, after seeing The Dragon, said, "Nobody who sees this play can be the same again. What I like most about Moral Re-Armament is that it challenges the rich, as it does everybody, to change their whole motive of life."

The former Comintern delegate, Hans Bjerkholt, co-founder of the Norwegian Communist Party, spoke last week to 22,000 people at a mass demonstration with the Chinese play, The Dragon, in the football stadium at Lucerne. "We are at the most serious point in the history of mankind," he said, "when the leaders of the West start to waver before Khrushchev. Our task is to move the masses and give them courage to stand firm. MRA is the superior ideology that has the power to unite East and West. It is the next step forward for Communist and non-Communist alike."

Gabriel Marcel, the French philosopher and playwright, said at Lucerne, "Moral Re-Armament is an immense effort to create a new living fabric of humanity right across the world. In France today more and more men are responding to this road."

Vaterland, Swiss Catholic newspaper, wrote of The Dragon, "Thus far the Chinese have been the main agents of world Communism on many fronts in Africa and South America. Now for the first time in the history of the ideological struggle representatives of Free China have appeared on the scene, blazing a trail with their message. We were literally shaken as the play unfolded before our eyes—a play that ends with a brilliant finale as men realize that the power of the ideology of Moral Re-Armament can usher in a new and better age. We made our way home with a great hope in our hearts."

The Moral Re-Armament force and the Chinese are being greeted by crowds of thousands night after night who say that in their message they see hope for peace in the world and the unity of Europe. Civic leaders of Berlin are among those who have invited this force to their city. They believe that the root problem is not a wall that divides a city or a continent but the steely selfishness that separates man from man and all men from the government of God.

Many African countries have invited the forces of Moral Re-Armament to come immediately to their continent. President Kasavubu sent his wife and son as leaders of the Congolese delegation to Caux last month. Speaking on behalf of the delegation, Adolphe Kasavubu, the son of the President, said, "The Congo is at the center of Africa. If the Congo goes Communist, all Africa will follow. It is not enough to give dollars to underdeveloped countries. We must win the hearts of the people. What we need is an ideology. That ideology is Moral Re-Armament." He told more than a thousand delegates from every part of the world that in the last twelve months 483 radio broadcasts about Moral Re-Armament have gone out in five Congolese languages to all parts of his country on the National Radio.

MORAL RE-ARMAMENT OR FINAL ANNIHILATION

U Nu, Prime Minister of Burma, brought a delegation of his countrymen to Caux last month. On leaving he said, "Moral Re-Armament must go on for ever if we want to prevent mankind from plunging into final annihilation. If we want to stop Communism taking hold of the world, we must deal with corruption, bribery, drink, and womanizing. If we want to change corrupt people we must be honest ourselves. That is what impresses me very much at Caux. With this ideology you are bound to succeed."

Rajmohan Gandhi, grandson of the Mahatma, said at Caux, "The issue for the world is not Communism or war, but whether statesmen will undertake the Moral Re-Armament of the Communist and non-Communist worlds. We must go to Washington and Moscow with an ideology that changes men. That is the next step for the Communist and non-Communist alike. Unless we change human nature we can never fulfil the aspirations of the millions in our countries."

An Asian center for Moral Re-Armament will open next spring near Tokyo to match the centers of Caux and Mackinac. An Assembly for the Americas is being held in Rio de Janeiro next month. Over Christmas and New Year there will be a Pan-African Assembly for Moral Re-Armament at the heart of Africa.

Mr. Khrushchev wants to see a different kind of world. Every honest person knows he is right in the conviction that change is needed, however much we disagree with his way of doing it. The leaders of the free world have in Moral Re-Armament an ideology superior to Communism to offer him. Even the most difficult will respond to the firm, united but humble voice of democratic nations morally rearmed. Why should there be catastrophe again when with God renaissance is inevitable?

It is not a matter of left or right: it is a matter of right or wrong.

Communism gave its philosophy to the world last Christmas over the Moscow Radio when it said: "Our rocket has by-passed the moon. It is nearing the sun and we have not discovered God. We have turned lights out in heaven that no man will be able to put on again. We are breaking the yoke of the Gospel, the opium of the masses. Let us go forth and Christ shall be relegated to mythology."

Frank Buchman, in his last words, gave a challenge to the modern world on the sixth of August in Freudenstadt when he said, "I want the world to be governed by men governed by God. Why not let God run the whole world?"

It is the hour for heroic decision and emboldened leadership.

Choose ye this day whom ye will serve.

On July 1st, 45,000 jammed the stadium at Recife for a Moral Re-Armament demonstration, the largest gathering in the history of this key seaport of Northeast Brazil. The demonstration took place just three weeks after tanks and troops were rushed there to quell rioting students in the city streets.

Americans determined to turn the tide in our nation and in the world are contributing to publish this page. This sacrificial giving by patriots in each country makes possible the world wide advance of Moral Re-Armament. You can play a part. Checks made out to Moral Re-Armament are tax deductible. Rosalie and Tom Hawkins summoned their wedding buddies Sat. night for one of their merrie funfests. She's an expert on explosives, a biochemist, has lectured at the Pentagon, has taught at college level, writes technically and will accept a position in this general area after she holidays a bit. With her is warmly likable Mary Worth who decided to live the Calif. life too.

Niles Home's Former Head Cravely Ill in Home Town

It has been learned that Miss Alice J. Grady, former director of the Niles Home for Children, 1911 E. 23rd street, Kansas City, Mo., has become seriously ill.

The former Kansas Citian is now in a very serious condition and it is reported that family funds have become so low that it is not known how much longer it will be possible to keep her in the hospital where she can get the medical attention she needs. Miss Grady retired from the Niles Home in 1949 and went to Springfield, Ill., to live with members of her family.

Miss Grady performed a great service to Kansas City, especially to its children, during the 25 years that she was head of the Niles Home. Hundreds of persons benefitted from the kindnesses shown and sacrifices made by Miss Grady.

There is no person more deserving of being shown some sign of appreciation than Miss Grady. Miss Grady's work with the Niles Home from the time of its inception when things were not so easy has been one of extreme sacrifice.

Miss Grady is reported to be quite feeble. Friends have suggested that mothers and relatives of children who formerly lived in the home might be glad to contribute toward a purse for Miss Grady whose home address is 213 W. Laurel, Springfield, Ill.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

The Ventura County Democrats will honor Gov. Edmund G. Brown at a dinner Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. at the beautiful Elks Club, 801 S. Ascot, Oxnard.

Dick (Richard) Abrams, well known to us in Oxnard and Ventura circles as one of our strong leaders of the Democratic Party, has come out of retirement (as he puts it) in order to help with this dinner honoring the governor. He is particularly anxious that Negroes be well represented; he feels our presence is very important at this dinner.

It will show our approval of the appointment of Atty. Vaino Spencer as judge of the Municipal Court in the City of Los Angeles by Gov. Brown.

This marks another step forward for us as Negroes and contributes to Negro history in California, Mrs. Spencer being our first Negro woman judge in the State of California.

Sunday, Oct. 15, brought surprises for the James Kelleys as "This is Your Christian Life" was directed to both of them. Each has worked very hard aiding the other, and neither could believe it had happened to them. It became a typical Alphonso and Gaston deal, if you're young enough to know what I mean.

Ruth Gibson gave a real surprise dinner party for her daughter-in-law, Callie Gibson, last week. The family and a few close friends were in attendance honoring her birthday.

Clifford and Jeanie Wall and their house guest, Quinton Lockhart of San Francisco, spent several days in Los Angeles last week as guests of the Stillwell Baileys'.

Must inform you before signing off time of change in plans for the cocktail party to be given by the Socialites of Oxnard. The date will be Friday, 24th of Nov., at the home of Mary Mason, 1333 N. N street. Money raised will go toward assisting needy families for Christmas.

Don't forget the Nov. 11 NAACP sip-and-dip on the Clinton Tatum's patio, 1168 S. G street.

Did you know that at Oxnard High School this year Jerry Gaston is commissioner of athletics, Doloris Davis is head drill team leader, Emma Jackson is sergeant-at-arms of the Girls League and Daisy Tatum is treasurer of the Girls League. And did you know that Santa Barbara beat Oxnard High in football last week?

The Los Angeles Jets make final preparations this week for their American Basketball League home opener on October 30 at the Sports Arena.

This opener is probably the greatest professional basketball attraction ever to be offered to local fans as the world famous Harlem Globetrotters are also featured the same night and at no increase in price.

Choice $3.50 and $2.50 reserved seat tickets are now available at the Olympic Auditorium (18th and Grand), Southern California Music Company, all Mutual Ticket Agencies, Music City Stores and travel agencies. Information is available by calling RIchmond 9-5171.

The Chicago Majors, coached by Andy Phillip, one of the former great Illinois Whiz Kids, supply the Jets' opposition. The Trotters battle the Boston Whirlwinds.

The contest will also introduce the new court used in the ABL which allows a player to score three points for shots made from outside a 25-foot arc. The key lane is increased to 18 feet to keep the big men away from the basket and allow for more colorful play.

Headlining the Trotters is Meadowlark Lemon, who is now in his sixth season with the team and has clearly stamped himself as one of the greatest showmen in the history of sports.

Jr. Bowl Game On Same Day As Ram-Colts Tilt

The 16th annual Junior Rose Bowl Game, matching the top Junior College football teams from the east and west, will be played in Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl on Saturday, Dec. 9, it was announced today by John Lamb, chairman of the benefit game, which is sponsored by the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Junior Rose Bowl Game will be played on that afternoon in direct opposition to the Los Angeles Ram—Baltimore Colts game, which is scheduled for the Coliseum.

"It is unfortunate that our benefit game, a great portion of the proceeds from which go to the Elks Cerebral Palsy Fund, must be played in direct opposition to a professional game in the Coliseum," Lamb stated.

"We have traditionally played our game on the second Saturday in December for 15 years now, but for the past two seasons we have been forced to compete head-on with professional football in the Coliseum," he added.

MAT GIANT — Muscle man Art (Seasan) Thomas, currently one of the top attractions in wrestling, will have a featured spot Friday night Oct. 27 on the Freddie Blassie-Argentine Rocca title card at the Olympic. Thomas meets Crusher Kowalski and famed blues singer Jimmy Whiterspoon, boyhood pal of Thomas, is now the manager of the giant Arkansas native.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

We can safely say that the 2nd Annual Tournament, sponsored by the New China Club and hosted by the Fairway Golf Club of San Francisco was the greatest. To show you how fascinating it is to play golf, come along with us to the tournament which was held in San Mateo, Oct. 18-19.

Millie Bullock, Marceline Harris, Vergie Bailey and this columnist caught the Daylight (train) Tuesday morning at 8. We decided to ride the train to get some much needed rest, which one must have to play tournament golf.

To our surprise we were the four youngest humans on the train. It can safely be said that the rest of the passengers were between the ages of 60-75.

We were treated like "royal guests" by the waiters and were also treated to dinner by that ex-famous Wiley College football idol, "Mule" Carter.

After playing cards for heavy stakes (match-sticks) along with consuming many glasses of beer we arrived in San Francisco. We were pleasantly surpised by a group of golfers (Milton and Will Rayson, Nester Gold, Doc Saxton and Sam Combo) who came to carry us to the Booker T. Washington hotel (headquarters). Among this group was Jewel Walker who invited us to a party at the residence of baseball great Willie Mays.

The golfers all went to the home of Mrs. Johnnie Miller and Stanley Jamison to enjoy a tasty home cooked dinner of barbecue chicken, ribs, vegetables and drinks.

We hurried to bed at the Hollywood Motel and were awakened at 5 a.m., were enroute at 6, breakfast at 7 and were on the putting green by 8 a.m.

Elizabeth Fuchols, Etta Drake, yours truly and Sarah Rayson teed off in the championship flight at 10, on what we found to be the "world's hardest golf course."

Our golfmobile broke down on the 7th hole and we had to put our clubs on our back and climb a small mountain until a water truck came along and gave us a lift. To add insult to injury, we were crying over the long hills, losing 3 balls in the canyon and 3 putting the 9th green when someone screamed, "there is a snake."

Yes, he or she was there, right in the middle of the walk. When we insisted on anybody killing this reptile we were casually informed that this was impossible because the operators of the golf course had placed many more snakes like this one on the course to chase the gophers and the mice away.

"Mice?" screamed Vergie and Marceline. "You have mice too?" they chanted. After they were reassured, we did not see those two golfers any more until we were dressing for the banquet.

At the end of the second day we entered the lounge to witness some of the "world's largest scores" on the score board. (We did not know that the men could cry so hard). Little Willie Littlejohn was singing the blues and Little Robert Lee was betting on everybody. Popular tournament director Arthur Larieau kept every one from catching the next plane by saying, "You won't cry when you see all the silver sets and trophies that we are giving to "everybody."

Sure enough at the banquet that night (held at the Mart Banquet Club in SF) this is exactly what we received when Mr. "Bill" Fong (who had sponsored the affair) presented the prizes.

Eighteen-year-old Donald Overstreet of S.F., teenage golfing wonder whom we will later write about) shot 74-75 to win top honors. Ray Fulce (Los Angeles' 23-year-older) tied for second. Elizabeth Fuchols won women's championship and Maggie Hathaway (Western Ave.) won second.

Miracle Worker Opens Biltmore Run December 4

One of the most talked-about plays in recent years, "The Miracle Worker," is now on a national tour. It comes to Los Angeles as a Greek Theater Assn. presentation under the General Directorship of James A. Doolittle who will present it at the Biltmore Theater starting December 4.

The prize-winning play by William Gigson, who was the author of "Two for the See-saw," is making its cross-country jaunt following a record two-year run on Broadway. On tour since last March, "The Miracle Worker" has been meeting enormous success everywhere and will not conclude its run until April, 1962—one of the longest runs ever made by a dramatic play.

HELEN KELLER STORY

Starring Eileen Brennan as Annie Sullivan and Donna Zimmerman as little 9-year-old Helen Keller, the hit play is the story of the early childhood of Miss Keller and Annie Sullivan, the woman whose miraculous teachings helped Miss Keller become one of the most courageous and distinguished citizens of our country.

The story is set in 1887 in Alabama. Down from Boston came Annie to meet young Helen, who at that time could not communicate with the world around her.

Russian Operas Being Screened For The Cinema

Impresario Mary Bran will present two of the greatest Russian operas of all times, Moussorgsky's "Boris Godunov" and "Khovanschina" as the third entry in the Cinema Theater's current opera film festival.

Ranking among the most important works in the world of operatic art, "Boris Godunov," established realism, historical fidelity and a democratic spirit in opera. Based upon Pushkin's tragedy of the same name, it depicts an important episode in the history of medieval Russia. Photographed in color, it is performed by the leading artists, chorus, orchestra and ballet of the Bolshoi Theater of Moscow.

One of the most spectacular grand operas ever written, "Khovanschina" has rarely been produced on the stage because of its great technical demands.

WHERE FRIENDS MEET—The Living Room on Crenshaw continues to be the favorite meeting spot of celebrities and cafe society alike. When the lounge opened in May a policy was instituted to make the Living Room as comfortable and as intimate as possible at all times. Hors d'oeurves are served to the guests throughout the evening. All of the top sports events are viewed on the wide screen TV in the Living Room. Fram time to time sports personalities drop by the Living Room to chat with sportsman-owner Claude Duke. Shown with him is Willie Mays, San Francisco Giant all star.

SIDNEY POITIER'S salary guarantee if and when "The Iron Man" rolls in Rome is a staggering $175,000 . . . Actor FRENCHIA GUIZON waltzed off with a role "Have Gun Will Travel" . . . What's with "Miss G. Goes To College" the new fall show on TV. Hasn't the University been integrated? . . . Our saltiest tears being shed over the loss of our collection of LP's in that recent blaze are falling raindrops because the following perished: MILES DAVIS at the BLACKHAWK on COLUMBIA: A PORTRAIT OF JOHNNY (MATHIS) same label; LENA (HORNE) AT THE SANDS on RCA VICTOR; SPECIAL DELIVERY with DELLA REESE (same label); THE NAT KING COLE STORY on CAPITOL and other artists like DICK GREGORY, MOMS MABLEY, GLORIA LYNNE, JIMMY RUSHING, NINA SIMONE, CHARLIE PARKER, etc. . . . and we won't regain our composure until they have all been replaced . . .

We've heard a lot of Rock 'N Roll lately since being deprived of TV and HI FI, and although we never really knock it we agree with the feller on the song "EVERYBODY'S CRYING" cause THAT'S WHATS HAPPENING. If you've the blues, and we've had 'em pretty strong, you'll even give 'em to your next door neighbor when the top 40 starts spinning. Both GENE McDANIELS and this boy both wish we were A TOWER OF STRENGTH but both BEN E. KING and this boy just keep repeating STAND BY ME . . .

But we've had a GOOD, GOOD feeling from the overwhelming concern voiced by friends. And for their swinging gestures and also the moral support. And that old adage

Bright Future Set for Negro Technologists

Al Jamieson of Rocketdyne a division of North American, Inc., recently made the following statement exclusively to the Eagle:

"It has been our experience that there is not complete awareness throught the minority community of the increasing opportunities available to them. Our efforts to communicate job openings to minority group members have not been as successful as we would wish.

"It seems that we must make a special effort to convince the members of minority groups that all jobs are open to them at Rocketdyne on the basis of their qualifications alone. If they are qualified to fill any job opening which we have, we want them to apply.

"Through the efforts of all of us the message will perhaps be understood and accepted, and the level of aspirations will be raised so that Negroes and other minority group members will prepare themselves and apply for jobs they have previously considered out of their reach."

"There are many good jobs available today to members of minority groups, but they are not filled by members of minority groups because of the lack of qualified applicants."

'Faces of Africa' To Be Exhibited Starting Nov. 3

"NOT AN ART SHOW, but a superb exhibit of candid photographs of Senegal, Ghana, and Nigeria . . . an exceptional comment on the life in the new African republics," is the description given by Mrs. Ralph Vaughn of the "Faces of Africa": show scheduled for Safety Savings, 2638 South Western Avenue, Community Conference Room, beginning November 3.

Mrs. Vaughn who saw the exhibit in Chicago at the beginning of its tour around the country was very much impressed with the quality of the show as an interpretation of living in the African countries depicted.

Extensively Photographed

The photographs were made by LeRoy Jeffries, Vice President, Johnson Publishing Company. He has traveled extensively in Europe, Africa, and the Caribbean, where he has observed at first hand economic and social conditions. In his present position, he travels over 100,000 miles a year to many of America's major cities. His training in work with people and their problems fit him especially for the work displayed in "Faces of Africa."

His undergraduate degree from Wilberforce was in the field of economics and phychology, his graduate degree from Columbia University was in personnel administration.

Mrs. Vaughn is one of a committee of fourteen persons interested in seeing that "Faces of Africa" brought to Los Angeles by Safety Savings and Loan Association be seen by as many persons as possible. Other persons on the Committee are: Mrs. Thomas Boger, Dr. Razack Danmole, Olu Delu, Dr. George R. Garner, III, Mrs. Helen Garrott, Mrs. Albert Hampton, Louis R. Johnson, Miss Edna K. Law, Mrs. Pilla Mills, Lieutenant Commander Dennis Nelson, Attorney Calvin Porter, Dr. Larry Wilson, Mrs. Vassie D. Wright.

Community Invited

The community is invited to the opening of "Faces of Africa" at seven o'clock in the evening on November 3, at Safety Savings' Community Conference Room. Following the opening it will be shown daily from 10:00 to 4:00 Monday through Thursday, and 12:00 to 5:00 on Friday. As with all other art exhibits at Safety Savings, there is no admission charge. Presently being shown are the works of Artist Eugene Hawkins, mainly oils.

Whites Told To Obey or To Get Out

The Los Angeles Fire Department is issuing, or has issued, orders to drop all bias in the fire stations, the Eagle was reliably informed this week.

Segregated messes, segregated coffee clubs, segregated beds henceforth are out, these sources stated.

ACCEPT OR LEAVE

White firemen who protest that their rights are being trampled upon are being told that "the door to this job swings both ways. If you can't bring yourself to accept every member of this department as an individual then swing the door the other way and leave."

Only oral orders have been issued so far, but these, the Eagle learned, have come from two battalion chiefs.

An official statement of the department's new position was expected to be issued today, Thursday.

Firemen under the two battalion chiefs have been told that the official policy of the department has been changed and that discrimination on the basis of race must be abolished.

OPEN TO ALL

They have also been told that the organized messes and coffee clubs must and will be equally available to all members.

This action, if confirmed, will mean the culmination of the dif-

Woman Saves Store Keeper From Robbers

An alert business woman foiled the escape of two bandits armed with a sawed-off shotgun last Friday morning around 11 o'clock after they beat and robbed Tom Yup, the owner of the New Star Market, 2509 W. Jefferson blvd.

Mrs. Elizabeth Searcy, owner of Searcy's Beauty Shoppe, which is located next door to the market, heard Yup's dog barking ferociously before she heard his cry for help from the parking lot area, located in the rear of the building. She, along with Hattye Collins and another witness, Tooey Yup, reached the parking lot in time to see Yup on the ground with one of the thugs standing over him with a shotgun. During the melee while the others started hitting him. Mrs. Searcy grabbed the gun from La Rue Alphonse Jones and dazed him with a blow to the back of the head with the weapon. She said by the time he had partially recovered and attempted to run, he ran straight into the arms of the police.

OWNER CHOKED

Yup told police officers that he was standing behind the counter when the two entered the store and Jones asked him for a money order. He picked the shotgun up off the counter where he had laid it and pointed it at Yup and demanded his money. His accomplice, Egbert Johnson, ran behind the counter and grabbed the owner around the neck, dragging him to the back of the store. While Johnson was beating Yup, Jones reached over the counter and opened the cash register, taking all the money.

Police reaching the scene of the robbery saw one of the bandits running on 4th avenue. The officers fired a shot and demanded that he halt. The robber jumped a fence and continued to run to 5th avenue. There a second shot was fired before he stopped. All were caught and the money was recovered. Blocking off the surrounding area, the police found the bandits' car a short distance away with the motor running.

SCURRILOUS—The above "application for NAACP membership" is one of the nastiest pieces of hate letters seen in many a long day. Seems like someone or some group is unhappy over the Hollingsworth Recall Movement. The above insult was sent to the five signers of the recall petition.

Doctor is Abducted By Two-Gun Patient

Dr. Andre Tweed, prominent psychiatrist, was kidnapped last Thursday by a patient fleeing General Hospital, brandishing two guns and momentarily holding a deputy sheriff as hostage.

As Dr. Tweed started to drive away, the man abandoned his hostage, pulled at the rear door, jumped into the back seat and told the doctor to drive fast, fast, faster, through red lights and onto the freeway.

FIRED FRONT, BACK

As the doctor drove, his abductor fired front and back, through the rear window and through the windshield at pursuing deputies.

Dr. Tweed told the Eagle that his knowledge of psychiatry didn't enable him to calm the disturbed man who kept on firing, luckily over his head and around him.

At the first off-ramp on the Golden State Freeway, Dr. Tweed turned off and kept asking the man where he wanted to be let out. The man was menacing him with his gun, but finally told the doctor to stop at a corner near a filling station

Loren Miller says . . .

NOBEL PRIZE

I can't remember how many years ago it was that Boris Pasternak won the Nobel literature award for a novel the Russian's didn't like. What I do remember is that the award kicked up a big fuss and that the Russians took quite a beating in the public print because of their stupid attitude toward Pasternak and the novel. No editorial page was complete without a couple of columns lambasting the Russians and pointing out what a shame it was that Pasternak couldn't get out of the country to accept the reward he had earned.

When I read that Chief Albert Luthuli had won the Nobel Peace Prize I hoped that the newspapers would seize on the occasion to give the South Africans a going-over. Luthuli occupies an even bigger doghouse in South Africa than Pasternak inhabited in the Soviet Union. At last accounts he was cooped up on a native reservation. All of his civil rights and liberties had been taken away. He can't vote, can't hold office, can't exercise any of the ordinary garden variety of rights and privileges that are taken for granted in most countries. And, like Pasternak, Luthuli can't get out of his native land to accept the Nobel Prize in person.

The irony of the matter is

Recall Meeting on Monday to Launch Signing of Petitions

Start of circulation of petitions demanding the recall of appointed Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth is scheduled for 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 6, at a political rally at McCarty Memorial Christian Church, 4103 W. Adams blvd.

Dr. H. H. Brookins, pastor of the First AME Church, and chairman of the petition-circulating Los Angeles Unity Council, made the announcement of the meeting by saying:

"This marks the second phase of the drive to give voters of the 10th District the opportunity to choose their own representative in the City Council."

FEAR CHARGED

In reply to Hollingsworth's official answer in which he charged the move to unseat him is "unjust," undertaken "in bad faith," and a "shameful abuse of the recall," Rev. Brookins commented, "Why is he afraid to put his case before the people of the 10th District? Why is he afraid to let the people vote?"

A large turnout is expected at Monday's meeting, but there are some Negroes who presumably will not be there. Among the 34 persons who signed Hollingsworth's reply to the recall move were seven Negroes.

NEGRO SIGNERS

These were ex-Ram star Tank Younger; retired AME minister, the Rev. Louis H. Owens, and Mrs. Owens; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barnett (Barnett was a candidate for the 10th District appointment); and Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Aubry (Aubry is a barber on W. Jefferson blvd.).

The Unity Council, made up of a committee of 30 citizens, earlier served Hollingsworth with notice of intention for recall, which marked phase one

W. C. Jones Succumbs to HeartAttack

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, at 10:30 a.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church for Winsor C. Jones, 59, of 6137 S. Hobart blvd., who died early Monday from a heart attack. His body will lie in state from 8:45 a.m. until services begin. Mr. Jones joined the custodial crew of Foshey Jr. High School in 1949 when food prices made it impossible for him to keep up the standard of food quality and service in his lunch counters on the Eastside. A pioneer in the field of lunch counters, Jones and his sister E. Birdie Smith opened the first of a series in the Bowman Drug Store in the Dunbar Hotel when the hotel was first opened. The excellent cuisine, his jovial personality and thoughtful service made the lunch counter a thriving business. Later he opened the "Cozydine" and the Price Drug Store lunch counter at 39th and 42nd and Central avenue. He was senior head custodian at Foshey when he died.

Watch Eartha; Let Dog Bark As Thief Steals

Two Angelenos learned the hard way that it pays to investigate when the family pet barks vigorously.

Last Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Clay, 1736 W. 38th place, were so engrossed in the TV show starring Eartha Kitt that they ignored the warning given by their fox terrier, Buddy.

Buddy barked long and loud. But the Clays paid no attention. Their eyes were glued to the screen.

Later, when they went to bed, they found the window shades were pulled up, the window was open and the contents of Mrs. Clay's purse were scattered about the bedroom. Most of the contents, that is. The thief had pilfered about $30 she had in her bag.

GUILTY — Dr. Jeremiah W. Moore, prominent Pasadena doctor, was found guilty Thursday of four counts of performing abortions.

Dr. Moore Found Guilty Of Abortion

Dr. Jeremiah W. Moore, 60, prominent Pasadena doctor, of 1147 Amada drive, was convicted of four counts of abortion by an 11-woman, 1-man jury in Judge John G. Barnes' court last Thursday.

Following a trial that lasted two weeks, the jury deliberated only a little over two hours, reaching their verdict on three ballots. The first ballot was 9-3 for conviction; the second was 8-2; the third was unanimous for a guilty verdict.

FREE ON BAIL

Judge Barnes set Nov. 4 for a probation hearing and sentencing in Dept. 28 in Los Angeles.

In the meantime the well known doctor was free on $5250 bail.

Atty. Crispus Wright, representing Dr. Moore, filed a motion for a new trial.

Jurors told newsmen after the trial that they had arrived at their decision because of the unusually large sums of money paid by the women patients, because they came to Dr. Moore from places outside Pasadena and because of the illegal treatment involved.

SLASHING ATTACK

In his summation at the trial, Dept. Dist. Atty. John Hare made a slashing attack on Dr. Moore.

In a voice heavy with sarcasm, he remarked:

"Maybe you think there are

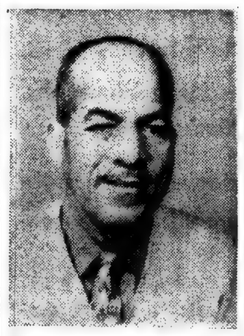
Woman Jailed On Charge of Attacking Boy



Christine Johnson, 37, of 628 E. 39th street, was arrested Monday on charges of committing a crime against a child.

Involved was a four-year-old youngster whose mother began questioning him when she noticed that he was acting in a peculiar manner.

He said he couldn't tell her because he was afraid "she" would "get him." He finally confided that the "she" was Mrs. Johnson, and told his mother of the intimacies.

According to the police report, Mrs. Johnson had shown exceptional interest in the little boy for the past three or four months, but she denied that she ever "did anything" to him.

"I give him money all the time," she said, adding, "I give other children money, too."

BURIAL TODAY — Winsor C. Jones, who died from a heart seizure Monday, will be buried today, Thursday.

Lured Her from Park, Promised Her Money

Billy Jean Gaddis, 28, who police say admitted that he enticed a seven-year-old child to his home Saturday afternoon and then assaulted her, was arraigned Tuesday on four felony counts.

He was accused of kidnaping, child molesting, sodomy and rape.

He reportedly told investigating officers that he "didn't know why" he had attacked the little girl.

APPEARED DAZED

The child, Avie Marie Minnifield, of 4025½ Morgan street, was led away from the Ross Snyder Playground by a "man about 50 years old" Saturday afternoon.

The man told Avie Marie's younger brother and sister, who started to follow them, to go home to their mother.

Police combed the neighborhood all Saturday night.

Sunday morning Avie Marie, appearing dazed and bewildered, was seen by Mrs. Lillian Wilson, 1362 E. 42nd place, who called out to her and took her into her home. She then took the girl to her mother, Mrs. Clara Minnifield.

RAPED

The child was taken to the Central Receiving Hospital where doctors advised she had been raped.

Later at Newton Street Police Station, the seven-year-old picked out the photograph of Gaddis as the man who had attacked her and positively identified him.

According to the story told by Avie Marie, and verified by others, a man approached the girl Saturday afternoon at the playground, gave her a dollar bill and told her to go to the store

Day Rapped as Postal Worker Is Reinstated

WASHINGTON—W. W. Law, a Savannah, Ga., postal employe who was fired after he had headed a boycott campaign against discriminatory merchants, was restored to his position by Postmaster General J. Edward Day last week who coupled the announcement of reinstatement with another statement that kicked up as big a row as the original discharge.

NAACP General Counsel Robert Carter called Day's statement "vicious, insulting and misleading" and said that it raised grave doubts as to the suitability for the cabinet post he holds." What roused Carter's ire was Day's statement that he reinstated Law "with great regret" in order to terminate "the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr" of him.

NAACP ISSUE

The NAACP had spearheaded the campaign for Law's reinstatement and had carried the fight to a review board in Washington. That Board recommended that Law be restored to his job with a reprimand. However, William E. Askew, postoffice regional director of Atlanta, reversed the Board and ordered Law fired.

Day's decision in turn reversed Askew's holding and in doing so charged, in effect, that the NAACP's support for Law, was purely "political." He inferred that the NAACP had acted in bad faith and that its protests were groundless.

Day took note of charges by NAACP officials that Law's activities as a NAACP leader had been responsible for his dismissal.

He said he "would not want a person with Law's record of conduct delivering mail to my family's home. Some of Mr. Law's partisans feel otherwise—or at least, for political reasons to feel otherwise."

CHARGES TOLD

One of the charges, the Post Office Department said, included an accusation Law had urinated on the lawn of a home on his mail route. The Post Office Department said he admitted this but said it came about

Nobel Prize Winner Asks Travel Permit

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Chief Albert Luthuli, winner of the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize, said last week that he will ask the South African government for permission to go to Oslo to receive the award. His decision came at a time when South African newspapers were raging at what they called a "studied insult" to South Africa. Luthuli received the prize for his opposition to segregationist policies of the government.

The South African government has exiled him to a Negro reservation. It refused to indicate whether it would grant a passport and exit visa to the 62-year-old former Zulu chief.

Interior Minister Jan De Klerk said the question is being considered.

COULD BE JAILED

One incentive to the government might be adding Luthuli's $43,744 prize money to the nation's foreign exchange reserves. The South Africa Press Assn. cited exchange control regulations requiring that Luthuli bring the money to South Africa.

Otherwise, it said, he would face confiscation of the money, a fine up to 5,000 Pounds ($14,000) and jail up to five years.

It seemed doubtful Luthuli could be held accountable for the money unless he is allowed to go and collect it.

SEND TELEGRAMS

The African Congress of Democrats, like Luthuli's African National Congress a banned organization, sent a telegram urging De Klerk to let Luthuli collect his prize personally in Norway in December.

"African people will be gratified at this recognition of their leader, while the ruling powers consider him not only unfit but also so dangerous that he must be isolated in a reserve," the telegram said.

Card Game In Kitchen, Man Dead in Parlor

The man sitting on the couch in the living room at 846 E. 24th street Saturday night was dead, but none of the people who were playing cards at a table in the kitchen seemed to know how he got there.

One of them said they had seen him lying on the grass two doors down. Another said she had seen him on the front porch. Two others said they saw him on the couch and shook him, that he grunted so they thought he was drunk.

Someone else had seen an unknown man in a white Pontiac trying to be of service.

After interrogating seven persons, police arrested Louis James Ellison, 21, and Earl Richard, 21, both of the 24th street address, on suspicion of murder.

The dead man was identified as Benny George Jackson.

Marshall Sworn In As U.S. Judge

NEW YORK—Thurgood Marshall was sworn in last week as a federal judge in the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Judge Marshall's appointment to the federal bench came 25 years to the month after he began his career in the legal work of the NAACP.

Family Savings Plans New Building

Family Savings and Loan Association, located at 1644 E. 103rd street, this week announced plans to erect a four-story facility in the 3600 block of Crenshaw blvd. within the coming year.

"The rapid growth of our association, and our desire to bring the same high calibre of service to an even larger clientele prompted our decision to expand," declared M. Earl Grant, president and manager of Family Savings and Loan, formerly known as Watts Savings and Loan Association.

NO MANAGEMENT CHANGES

Grant, whose astute business acumen has contributed greatly to the success of the thriving South Los Angeles association, strongly emphasized that there will be no change in management.

"While the growth of our business necessarily means an enlargement of our staff, we cannot stress too strongly the fact that we have no intention of making any changes in management or ownership," Mr. Grant asserted.

The company spokesman also sought to allay the fears of patrons in the Watts area who are concerned about the association's future plans. "The people of South Los Angeles have had a prominent role in our growth," the president said. "Their needs will always be foremost in our thinking."

The new building, designed by internationally famed architect Paul R. Williams, will have four stories, a mezzanine and basement. Company quarters will be located on the first and mezzanine floors.

COMMUNITY ROOM

A large community room with a stage at one end and a kitchen adjoining it, will be available for the use of club groups for meetings and public gatherings.

Space for professional and business offices will be leased to parties who will have the privilege of arranging the suites to suit their needs. All offices will have outside windows.

A drive-in teller window is one of the features of the structure. This may be approached from the Crenshaw entrance. The lot has an 80 foot frontage and extends 270 feet deep.

It is expected that the architect's plans will be submitted for bids within the next six weeks.

Other members of the Board of Directors of Family Savings and Loan are Leslie N. Shaw and Robert W. Garrott, vice-presidents, Mrs. Cardelia F. Witt, secretary, and Arvant M. Benjamin, treasurer.

Greyhound Pickets Given Union Support

Carol Shaw, international vice president of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, AFL-CIO, stated "Our organization is 100 per cent in sympathy with the Teamster Rank and File Committee for Equal Job Opportunity" last Monday.

In an interview with the California Eagle, Shaw said Amalgamated has advocated hiring based on ability to do the job, wherever possible. Amalgamated represents 90 per cent of the bus drivers and transit employees in the U.S. and Canada.

Before Monday, no union officials had said anything favorable to or in opposition to the picketers who have marched for two Saturdays in front of the Greyhound terminal in downtown Los Angeles.

GROWING SUPPORT

This statement shows the growing support the Teamster Rank and File Committee is getting. Members of the NAACP, CORE, and the Committee for Representative Govt. joined the picket lines last Saturday for a three hour march in protest of Greyhound's hiring policy. The lines were maintained from 3 to 6 p.m., when foot traffic into and out of the terminal was at its height.

Passers-by and people using the terminal looked at the signs carried by the picketers, most with puzzled looks on their faces. A few were heard to comment, "What's going on?" In contrast to this, the marchers were in high spirits, reflected by the statement of John Williams, Teamster, when the lines were through for the day. "We came with conviction, we walked with pride, we are going forward with progress."

NEEDS SUPPORT

"The Teamsters Committee still needs your support. You can join the lines at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon or write letters to Mr. R. E. Thomas at Greyhound in L.A. protesting the company's hiring policy," Williams said.

A representative of the Teamsters Committee appeared before the Special Subcommittee on Labor, presided over by Congressman James Roosevelt, and had their complaint against Greyhound entered in the record last week.

Telephone Jobs Available Now

Approximately 175 men will be hired monthly in the Los Angeles area by Pacific Telephone to fill job requirements in the company's various departments, K. H. Quigley, Pacific's district manager has announced. This hiring pace should continue, he said, through early 1962.

He said the company also plans to continue its pace of hiring approximately 250 women monthly for jobs as operators, clerks, service representatives, telephone saleswomen, and key punch operators.

The manager said that applicants are being interviewed at the company's downtown employment office, 740 S. Olive street. A Women's employment office is located at 319 E. Hillcrest in Inglewood.

Dancer Learns Of Jamaicans The Hard Way

Irma R. Webster, 33, a dance teacher, was a victim of the "Jamaican Switch" last Friday afternoon, to the tune of $200.

She was leaving the Bank of America at Santa Barbara and Western avenue about 2:20 p.m. when a man, about 28, approached her in the parking lot asking where he could find an address. He was to meet a girl there.

JUST OFF SHIP

He said he had just got off a ship, and he displayed a large roll of what appeared to be money. She cautioned him against displaying his money, and advised him to put it in the bank.

A second man walked up and asked directions to a hotel. He joined them. The first man disagreed with Miss Webster, saying that once money was deposited in a bank, it could not be withdrawn. The second man encouraged Miss Webster to show this man how easy one could make withdrawals.

She went back into the bank and drew out $200 in twenty dollar bills, returned outside where both men were waiting, and showed them the money.

Now the first man said he had to meet a friend on Central avenue, and asked the others to go along. Miss Webster obligingly drove both men to the Dunbar Hotel, 42nd and Central. There the first man asked her to take care of his money.

BROWN PAPER BAG

She agreed and was about to put his money in her purse when the second man stated the purse might be snatched, and he produced a brown paper bag, suggesting that both parties place their money in the bag, and they did.

She was advised to keep the bag inside her bosom, and the second man made a motion of placing the bag inside his shirt at the neckline. He then handed Miss Webster the bag, and she placed it in her bosom. Both men left. The three were supposed to meet later.

Later — much later — Miss Webster discovered the bag contained rumpled paper.

Broker Must Pay for Bus

John A. Flores, an investment broker, must pay William H. Garland, Columbus, Ohio, business man, $4000 with interest at 7 per cent from July 8, 1960, according to a decision handed down by Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron this week.

Garland, represented by Attys. Loren Miller and Stanley Malone, complained that Flores sold him two busses for $4000 and agreed to deliver them on July 8, 1960. Flores, he said, didn't deliver the busses and retained the money. The case was tried on Sept. 12 but Judge Bowron reserved his decision until this week.

Doorbells to Ring For Chest Today

Among the three-quarters of a million volunteer workers ringing doorbells today, Thursday, seeking contributions for the Community Chest, will be Mervyn Dymally, chairman of the Southwestern region, and Mrs. Georgia Thomas, chairman of the South Central area.

The Community Chest each year launches its Red Feather drive to secure funds for the 170-odd agencies supported by the chest program.

To Test Bus Bias

Henry Hodges, national vice-chairman of CORE, reported that CORE teams will test bus stations in California and Arizona this weekend. The Interstate Commerce Commission ruling prohibiting discrimination in facilities serving interstate carriers went into effect Nov. 1.

Hodge said, "This is part of a nationwide program to test compliance with the ICC ruling. Local CORE groups have been asked to carry out tests in their own communities."

When asked if this indicated a new phase of "Freedom Riding," he said, "This is not a new Freedom Ride. This is a data gathering process. We are not out to focus public attention on any one place. We are seeking names and addresses."

(CORE sponsored Freedom Rides last summer to focus outside public opinion on local cases to discrimination in the South).

"We are going into Arizona because it is close and because we have been informed that people have encountered discrimination in terminals there."

He emphasized that this is a data gathering activity. "If people are refused service, they will leave. They will not invite arrest or public attention in any way."

Judge Gives Property to Wife in Suit

Mrs. Vera Williams, 10118 Wadsworth ave., won an award of all personal property and a one half interest in the real property accumulated by her and her common-law husband, Charles Williams, at a hearing before Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson last week. Williams was ordered to pay her $15 per week for support of each of the couple's two children.

Mrs. Williams, represented by Atty. Stanley Malone, told Judge Wolfson that although steadily employed, Williams had refused to support her and the children. She said that he had given her the personal property and that joint earnings had paid for the real property.

Court Frees Man in Cop Assault Row

Hudson Wilkerson, retired postal clerk of 1138 East 20th street, was freed of assault and disturbance of the peace charges by Municipal Judge Ralph Nutter last week after he had convinced the judge that he did not attack a police officer who arrested him last Aug. 31.

Wilkerson, represented by Atty. Loren Miller, said that the police officer, John Aldrich, struck him at Newton Street station after picking him up near 22nd street and Central avenue while he was returning home from a shopping trip.

The police officer, a member of the vice squad, claimed that Wilkerson turned on him and tried to strike him at the station although he admitted that Wilkerson had willingly gone to the station upon request. The evidence showed that after the affray Wilkerson was injured and had to have treatment for his injuries at the receiving hospital.

U.S. Will Put Teeth in Bus Bias Rulings

WASHINGTON — New rules barring racial discrimination and segregaton on the nation's bus lines will be "promptly and efficiently enforced," Everett Hutchinson, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, warned this week.

The nationwide rules go into effect Wednesday.

They prohibit interstate buses from using terminals which have racially segregated restaurants, waiting rooms or other facilities.

Each bus and terminal must display signs proclaiming that bus seats and station facilities are available to travelers without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

REPORT REQUIRED

Under the enforcement procedure announced by Hutchinson, bus operators will be required to report to the ICC any interference with their efforts to observe these rules.

Hutchinson said if investigation indicates a need for court action, the case will be referred to the U.S. district attorney in the area, who may then seek a court order prohibiting continued violation.

Criminal prosecution, which could result in a $100-500 fine for the first offense and a $200-$500 fine for each later offense, also may be recommended, Hutchinson said.

The longing for certainty and repose is in every human mind. But certainty generally is illusion, and repose is not the destiny of man. — Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Rental Firm in Middle as $100 Check Bounces

Ray Booth, owner of City Rentals, 636 W. Santa Barbara avenue, had the unpleasant experience this week of standing in the middle between a disgruntled client and a landlord who wouldn't—or at any rate, hadn't—returned a $100 deposit.

Herbert H. Hollon, 3105 W. 27th street, blamed both the landlord, Welton Vanhook, 1127 E. 64th street, and City Rentals, who steered him to Vanhook.

MADE A DEPOSIT

In a complaint filed last Friday, Hollon claimed that City Rentals had sent him to Vanhook, 1127 E. 64th street, who told them he had a rental at 5219 S. Gramercy place.

Hollon and his wife looked the place over, decided to take it, went to the Qualities Property Real Estate office where a rental contract was drawn up and, according to Hollon, he then gave Vanhook $100 as a deposit. The house was rented until Oct. 1, Hollon said he was informed.

To his surprise, when he and his wife arrived at 5219 S. Gramercy Oct. 2, the house was occupied. George A. Tucker, the occupant, told them he had given Vanhook $100 on deposit for rental of the house on Sept. 15.

What made Hollon particularly angry was the receipt of a check from Vanhook for $100, after he had complained loudly about the deal. The check was signed by Bertha L. Vanhook and when it was deposited it was returned for "Insufficient Funds," Hollon told the authorities.

Booth said he has "done everything I can to try to get the man his money," and explained that he's a real estate broker, not a lawyer.

He said he has talked to Vanhook several times and told him if he didn't refund the $100 to Hollon, he, Booth, would refuse to handle any further listings from Vanhook.

'Ain't Telling Nothing,' Says La. Law Officer

NEW YORK—When New York Post reporter Ted Poston queried Shreveport, La., Commissioner Downs about the arrest of six CORE members last week, he says he got the reply:

"You all write your own news up there and we'll write ours down here. I ain't gonna tell you nothing about it. Goodbye."

The six were arrested following a boycott of the Louisiana State Fair's segregated "Negro Day," and were charged with vagrancy and loitering.

Nation Needs FEP, Congress Probers Told

The nation needs a fair employment practices law.

That statement just about summed up opinions of a dozen witnesses who appeared before a special House Subcommittee on Labor that held hearings here last week. Congressman James Roosevelt presided at the hearings.

Among those who backed the plea for federal legislation were John Anson Ford, chairman of the California FEP Commission, and Edward Howden, its executive. Howden said that opposition to such legislation melts rapidly after its enactment.

William Pollard, Dining Car Employees Union official, told the committee that there was extensive discrimination in the restaurant industry. Speaking for the NAACP, he described certain union and employer practices which he said resulted in denial of jobs to Negroes. Denials came from Milton Genet, head of the Hotel Employers Council, and C. T. McDonough, president of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union.

John Buggs, executive secretary of the county's Commission on Human Relations, described an inquiry currently being made to determine the existence of discrimination in county employment. He said the survey was limited to racial discrimination.

Wife, Friend Killed By Jealous Husband

Thurman Graham, Jr., 40, of 2619½ Buckingham road, loaded his gun with six cartriges Monday night, went to the home of his rival, smashed the kitchen window and fired a fussilade of shots at his wife of 15 years and the man she was visiting.

Then he left through the back door and disappeared.

Herbert Johnson, a witness who lives at 309 W. 41st place in the building where the shooting occurred said he heard three or four shots and saw Willie Mae Graham, 35, stagger through the kitchen door into the living room, where she fell to the floor.

He went to his own apartment and called police, then rushed back to Apt. 3 where he found the door closed. When he knocked, Albert Small, 30, opened the door. Small was on his knees.

Johnson said he saw a bullet hole in Small's back.

Small was taken to the hospital, but died shortly after he was admitted.

Mrs. Graham also died from bullet wounds. She was shot in the arm, chest and back.

There was a bullet hole in the kitchen wall and door. A bullet was found in the hall.

Graham was lated arrested and reportedly said that jealouy had driven him to the double sloying.

Day Put His Foot in His Mouth

Postmaster General Edward Day joined the Foot in Mouth club last week when he coupled his reinstatement of W. W. Law, a Savannah postal employee, with a statement branding Law as unfit for public service and casting aspersions on those who had sought Law's reinstatement.

Mr. Law's troubles began when he led a boycott movement against Savannah stores which resulted in their dropping discriminatory practices. Superiors in the Savannah postoffice promptly made mountains out of molehills and discharged Law for derelictions of duty.

A postal review board recommended dismissal of two of the charges and a reprimand on the other one. As was to be expected, Post Office regional director William F. Askew of Atlanta refused to follow the recommendations and ordered Mr. Law discharged.

That's when Mr. Day got into the case. He followed the review board's recommendations and then went out of his way to insult Mr. Law by calling him an "unsuitable employee". He added that he wouldn't want Law delivering his mail and insisted that the only reason for his action was his unwillingness to "make a martyr of Law."

We agree with the NAACP's general counsel, Robert Carter, that Mr. Day's action "raises grave doubt as to his suitability for the cabinet post he holds." On the record as made by Mr. Day he is either guilty of (1) giving in to pressure and retaining an unfit employee on the job or (2) of attacking a defenseless subordinate who cannot answer the charges.

In either event, Mr. Day has demonstrated that he lacks good judgment and that he can't be trusted to act fairly and impartially.

If you want our frank assessment of the matter, we're ready to hazard the opinion that Mr. Day knuckled under to southern pressure. He had to take his choice between offending the South or Mr. Law and he found it easier to sneer at a subordinate than to take a forthright and honorable course.

We Can't Afford to Lose Liberty

We agree with a flood of letter writers and callers that the prospect of a take over of Liberty Savings and Loan Association by a Beverly Hills syndicate is unfortunate, to say the least.

Liberty is the oldest Negro owned and managed financial institution in the community. Negroes founded it. Negroes who deposited their money in it nourished it and made it strong. In turn, Liberty made loans which enabled Negroes to buy homes when other financial institutions turned their backs.

The Los Angeles Negro community, like other Negro communities throughout the nation, suffers from the fact that all too many of those who control its business institutions have no concern with its welfare. Absentee business men don't live in the Negro communities; they don't know, or more properly don't care, anything about its problems.

Most of these absentee business men contribute nothing, or next to nothing, to the NAACP or the Urban League. They never show up when their Negro customers demand FEP laws or Fair Housing statutes. They never protest against Jim Crow or prejudice or racial discrimination. They are content to make their profits in Negro communities and spend their lives in show place, swimming pool suburbs from which Negroes are barred.

We don't know anything about the men who are trying to gobble up Liberty. We've never heard of their expressing any concern with the problems that concern the Negro depositors in Liberty. We suspect that all they're interested in is making a good return on their investment.

We hope for the community's sake and for Liberty's sake that some way can be found to preserve control of Liberty in the hands of community owners and investors. Los Angeles can't afford the luxury of losing Liberty to outsiders.

Mr. Hollingsworth: Cry Baby

Councilman Joe Hollingsworth is bawling that the recall is being abused because his 10th District constituents want him to submit himself to their judgment so they can decide whether or not he's the man for the job he holds.

To hear Mr. Hollingsworth tell it, there's something wrong about the voters wanting to select their own councilman. He seems to think that they ought to be satisfied with him because he was handpicked for the job by eight councilmen who don't live in the district and who care next to nothing about its problems.

It seems to us that if Mr. Hollingsworth cared even a little about the democratic process he would welcome the recall election and the chance to put his claims before the voters. If he's half the man he claims he is he ought to be able to persuade the voters to give him a thumping majority.

Of course, the truth of the matter is that Mr. Hollingsworth has no qualifications for the job he holds. He was a nobody who was hoisted into office by a self seeking clique in City Council that plans to move the 10th District to San Fernando Valley. That clique chose Mr. Hollingsworth because he fitted in with their plans.

Unfortunately, it is going to cost money to rid the 10th District of Mr. Hollingsworth. Those who have rightfully initiated the recall need funds to finance the campaign; they need money to tell the story of Mr. Hollingsworth's incompetence and of the need to replace him.

We hope that everybody who can possibly do so will pitch in and help finance a campaign that must be won if Los Angeles hopes to keep its self respect.

Nobel Peace Prize Winner

The award of the Nobel Peace Prize to Chief Albert Luthuli, head of the South African Congress, is important far beyond the fact that it went to a man who spent a lifetime trying to find a peaceful solution for the conflict between white and black South Africans.

It is world recognition of the evil character of Apartheid and of the fact that those who resist it deserve well of all of the people of the world. It serves notice on the madmen of South Africa that they are becoming increasingly isolated and that their downfall will be welcomed.

South Africa is caught in a web of its own weaving: it cannot let Chief Luthuli go to Oslo to receive the award for fear of what he would say to the world wide audience that would be his. But if they deny him the right to leave his native land, the South Africans will only reenforce the world's awareness of the tragic denial of civil rights and civil liberties to the majority of the people who live there.

Apartheid is the logical extension of the Jim Crow system that is in vogue in the American South. The award of the Nobel Peace Prize to Chief Luthuli may indicate that some day in the not to distant future similar recognition may be given to a Negro fighter for civil rights from the great state of Mississippi.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

"WELFARE PLAN"

Slowly but increasingly, even the duller - minded among us are beginning to understand the real meaning that Newburgh's notorious "welfare plan" has for possibly three million colored Americans throughout the United States. It took an undistinguished but nevertheless strategically - placed member of the United States Senate to make the message come through loud and clear. The message is this: attacks on the public relief system which this country has been building up for the past 25 years are really an extension of the war against Negroes in cities — and this a war that has been going on ever since poverty-stricken farmers began deserting the ruined land that was starving them and headed toward American cities and jobs in American industry.

GRANGER

Last week in Washington I sat among a group of unusually well-informed citizens of the Capitol District and discussed the record that Senator Byrd of West Virginia is building for himself. At first I thought the others were talking about Virginia's Senator Harry Byrd, that arch - reactionary political boss of the Old Dominion State who has been the principal deterrent to public school desegregation in his domain.

"No, no," I was told, "We don't mean Evil Byrd, we mean Silly Byrd." The freshman Senator from West Virginia, I was told, is undistinguished by brains or political courage. He lacks any great deal of respect from his fellow Senators, but he is an ambitious man, and he has been looking for a chance to establish himself as a political personality who will be talked about back in his home state. He has profited by the shyster example of City Manager Mitchell of Newburgh, and is out to make himself a reputation as a Senator who saves the taxpayers' money.

DANGEROUS POLITICS

Now, this would be pretty dangerous politics if he were to try this in West Virginia, for in that chronically poverty-stricken state his constituents would tear his senatorial robes from his back if Byrd were to strike a blow at their already depressed living standards. But the District of Columbia makes fine rabbit-hunting territory, for not only are three-fourths of the relief cases composed of Negro families, but the citizens of that Federal precinct don't even have the vote in conduct of their own District affairs. All that Byrd has to do is to keep in right with his fellow Democrats who control the Congressional committee structure, and he can shoot rabbits with impunity from now until the end of the session. Because who ever heard of rabbits shooting back?

So, finding himself on a subcommittee on the District of Columbia budget, Senator Byrd (not Evil Byrd, but Silly Byrd) immediately aimed his shotgun at the welfare budget. This was a tempting target, for the Newburgh smear, assiduously spread by reactionary and Negrophobic groups all over the country, made it unnecessary for Byrd to come up with any facts or figures in criticizing the size of the relief budget. All that he had to do was mumble about "alarming rises in relief costs," and decry the increase of "relief chiselling," and he had his case in order. Though he has been only "acting" chairman of his subcommittee, he has been successful in getting the committee to be known as the Byrd Committee.

COOPERATIVE DEMS

His fellow members have, as usual, been cooperative in the Democratic majority. They have agreed (1) to reduce the relief budget by $520,000; (2) decrease the estimate of the number of cases to be served in the next year; (3) inflate estimates of "subsidiary" Federal aid to be received, and (4) reduce amounts of payments made to families of more than four children. And the committee members supported Byrd when he made a slashing, bulldozing attack on the District Welfare Director in a successful effort to intimidate him into going along with the cuts in aid.

Like Mitchell of Newburgh, Byrd of West Virginia showed no interest in the needs of the people served by relief agencies, nor in programs aimed at rehabilitating them to the point of return to self support. Like Mitchell, Byrd played fast and loose with figures, made slanderous, unsupported allegations against the character of helpless people. And like Mitchell, Byrd has received the support of reactionary, Negro - hating groups in various parts of the country.

ONE DIFFERENCE

There is one difference, however, between the position of a Senator and the employee of a small town council; back in West Virginia there are some truly aggressive voter elements who can be brought to understand what Byrd is doing. The racial corollary between the growing non-white populations in both cities can be pointed out for the benefit of West Virginia's alert colored electorate. The danger of allowing raids to be made against humane minimums in public relief can be appreciated by union officials who are influential in West Virginia politics. The League of Women Voters has already blown the whistle on Byrd and is planning to encourage its West Virginia affiliate to do likewise.

Somehow, I don't think Brother Byrd will get away with this so easily as did his model up in Newburgh. In Washington he will find this nation's most articulate Negro leadership. Around the country he will meet a deepening Negro understanding of the strategy initiated by Newburgh, supported by the country's reactionaries and now carried up to the outskirts of the Federal Government itself. And there are a lot of votes in West Virginia.

that Luthuli won the Nobel Prize for his persistence in campaigning against restrictions on civil rights and civil liberties in his native land. The campaign that earned him a prize in Europe has kept him a virtual prisoner in South Africa. I think he deserves at least a little pat on the back and that it isn't too much to ask of American newspapers that they tell us at least one tenth as much about Luthuli as they told us about Pasternak.

I don't want to get nasty about the matter but I do wonder what would have happened if the Nobel Prize had gone to some Hungarian in recognition of his opposition to the rulers of that country. By this time we would have known every detail of the man's life. There would have been thundering editorials demanding that he be given the right to travel to Oslo to get his reward. And you can be sure that the correspondents would have utilized the occasion to give us a blow by blow account of the manner in which civil rights and civil liberties are denied in Hungary.

TWO REASONS

Nobody has asked my opinion but in case you want it I think that the difference in newspaper treatment of the Pasternak and Luthuli cases springs from two causes. Of course, there's the political reason. It is only natural for American newspapers to seize on every incident that reflects discredit on the Iron Curtain countries. They're our opponents in the raging cold war and we're glad to find something — especially something with substance like the Pasternak case—to cast discredit and reflection on them. They had it coming and they got it.

Beyond that is the fact that what happens to the colored peoples of the world isn't quite big news in America. The suppression of liberty in South Africa is every whit as bad as in Hungary. The difference is that what's being done in Hungary is being done to Europeans and what's being done in South Africa is being done to black Africans. What was done to Pasternak was done to a European and what is being done to Luthuli is being done to an African. And, to put it bluntly, American newspapers and American newspaper readers don't care as much about what happens to Negroes as they do about what happens to white persons.

I don't hear many people complaining about movies which show brave hunters shooting down mean old lions but if lions started running around the country exhibiting films of brave lions feasting on mean old hunters I'll bet you could hear the uproar from here to the nearest jungle.

Fire Dept. Orders Bias Policy Change

ficult, up-hill fight launched on Aug. 17, 1953, by the NAACP with the filing of a petition charging discrimination in the Fire Department, and which was marked along the way, on Jan. 1, 1956, with the resignation of Fire Chief John H. Alderson, tenacious supporter of the discriminatory policy.

Although the orders have gone out to the men in a number of companies, the Eagle was informed that the white firemen are putting up stiff resistance.

DISBAND MESS

In five companies, the white firemen turned to the Negro in their midst and said that, well, we have to invite you to join the mess.

When the Negroes accepted, the others agreed among themselves to disband the mess.

At one of the stations, the decision has brought near chaos. Whereas previously the food was bought with funds from a pool and prepared by a cook, now each man is on his own. Each man is buying his own bread, his own butter, his own eggs and his own chops and they are falling all over each other trying to get their meals cooked.

It's nothing new for the Negro firemen to get their own meals. They have been doing it every day for the past four or five years.

VOTED HIM IN

The change, however, has been "in the wind" for the past couple of weeks. About 10 days ago when a Negro fireman just got fed up with being by himself and asked to be allowed to join the mess, the white firemen took a vote and voted him in. That couldn't have happened a short time ago.

The impetus for the policy switch undoubtedly stemmed from the discussions and hearings that have been proceeding with the Civil Service Commission and the Fire Commission over oral examinations and other evidences of bias in the department.

Atty. Arnett Hartsfield, himself a former fireman, spearheaded the protest when he represented a group of Negroes who had been given low ratings on oral exams for captains. Following the hearings, those examination ratings were not changed, but the oral examinations were abolished.

POLICIES LINGERED

From the time of the original challenge by the NAACP in 1953, the fight against bias in the Fire Department has been a long and arduous struggle.

Alderson finally resigned, under pressure, but the policies he had inculcated in his subordinates lived on.

He left at the beginning of 1956. By September of that year Negroes had been "integrated" into 17 of the 91 fire stations. But the integration was a chilly affair.

Negroes were spread out, one to a shift, and were given the "silent" treatment. No one talked to them, except in line of duty, no one shared food, coffee, entertainment with them.

Moreover, when white fire fighters attempted to cut through the hostility they, too, were ostracized.

Day Rapped

because of a kidney ailment.

"I am reinstating W. W. Law as an employee in the Savannah, Ga., post office with a severe reprimand," he wrote.

"It is with great regret that I reverse the act of the regional director. However, I do not want to provide further ammunition for the determined publicity campaign to make a martyr of Law.

"I must weigh the detriment to our 580,000 employees of this sustained attack against the detriment of retaining this single unsuitable employee in the department."

Call Meeting On Recall

of the campaign.

Monday ends the 21 day period that must pass before the actual petitions can be circulated, and a crew of 100 will be sent out on the streets from the rally with a maximum goal of 7500 signatures, that will meet the requirement for a recall election.

LARGEST TASK

"Our largest task," continued Dr. Brookins, "is to inform the public of the issues involved in our campaign. In order to do this, it is imperative that we keep abreast of developments as they occur. Monday's meeting will be for this purpose."

The basic issue, according to the Committee Chairman, is that 8 members of the City Council denied voters of the 10th District the right to choose their own representative when Charles Navarro resigned after his election as City Controller.

"Those eight Council members have stripped us of our Constitutional right of free choice for a period of more than two years by this action," he pointed out. "Another regular election is not scheduled until 1963, and if Hollingsworth is not recalled, we voters of the 10th District are the ones whose rights are being abused.

Mr. Hollingsworth's opposition to the Recall is opposition to the Democratic process.

'SAVED MY LIFE'

Dr. Tweed called the hospital and told them where he had left his passenger.

Deputies found Frederick Winsett walking calmly down the street.

The next day Dr. Tweed visited Winsett, who was a patient in the hospital, and identified himself. Winsett leaped to his feet and embraced the doctor, crying, "You saved my life! You saved my life!"

During the shooting, one of the deputies was shot in the hand.

Winsett had been taken to General Hospital from the Sheriff's office where he was found to be in need of psychiatric help.

Dr. Tweed is an associate professar of clinical psychiatry at the College of Medical Evangelists. He is the medical examiner for the Superior Court of Los Angeles and is a member of the staff of several local hospitals.

He lives with his wife and four children at their home in View Park.

Urban League

The Sixth Annual Equal Opportunity Day will be observed by the Los Angeles Urban League at a luncheon Nov. 13, at the Statler Hilton Hotel. John K. West, vice president National Broadcasting Company; John Snyder, president of International Association of Machinists, and Municipal Court Judge Vaino Spencer, will serve as co-chairmen of the committee.

That day has been selected for this special observance because it is the anniversary of President Lincoln's famous Gettysburg Address.

DIVIDED GOODIES

She went to a store at 41st and Compton where she bought eight bags of potato chips and then went back to the park, sat down on the lawn with other youngsters and divided up the goodies.

When Avie Marie and her two younger charges, Gayle, 3, and Shirley Ann Minnifield, 5, started to go home, the man who had given her the money asked her to come with him to his house and help him clean some Coke bottles. He said he would give her some more money when they finished.

He took her by the hand, shooed the younger children away and led her to his apartment at 1240 E. 43rd place. On the way, he stopped at a store at Vernon and Ascot and bought some whiskey and a candy bar. The whiskey was "red," Avie Marie said later.

STARTED TO CRY

Then, the child asserted, he kept assaulting her and, when she started to cry, threatened to kill her. He kept her there all night and let her out the next morning, Sunday.

When the younger children returned from the playground Saturday, without Avie Marie, and told their mother she had had gone off with a man in a blue-black suit, Mrs. Minnifield notified police who instituted an intense search for the child.

Police received information that Gaddis, whom the child had identified, had been working at the Western Saw Manufacturing Co., 1842 W. Washington blvd. They found him there about 7 p.m. and told him he was under arrest. He tried to run, but was handcuffed and taken to jail.

CHANGED STORY

He admitted being at the playground on Saturday, but denied enticing or attacking Avie Marie.

Under questioning Monday, Gaddis reportedly changed his story and confessed to the attacks, but could give no explanation for his actions.

Police said he had been in Los Angeles only a week and that he had come here from Minnesota.

Doctor Guilty

too many children and maybe you think particularly there are too many colored children and they and the United States Supreme Court are ganging up on you, and the doctor is doing the right thing."

Dr. Moore was accused of performing two abortions on each of two women last year, and was apprehended when plain-clothes officers burst into his office and found $250 of marked money in his possession.

The money was given to him by Doris Trent, who revealed that her real name is Mrs. Dora Navarro Terminal, 32, of 732 Arizona street, E. Los Angeles, who said she had been acting as an undercover agent for the State Board of Medical Examiners, according to the testimony.

While she was in his office last Nov. 22, conferring with him about an abortion and giving him the marked money, she testified, a police car was parked across the street picking up the conversation on a recording machine from a microphone in her pocketbook.

Obedience to God Said Key To Success

Rev. J. W. Beard, 88, of 1528 Euclid avenue, in Santa Monica, who has served more than 54 years as a Baptist minister, is still active in church work even though he retired 14 years ago. He was pastor of Mt. Sinai Baptist Church in Beaumont, Texas, for 31 years. He now serves as associate pastor at Calvary Baptist Church. He told the Eagle Monday that he will be content to live in Santa Monica until God calls him home.

"Obedience," said Rev. Beard, is the secret of success in any field, especially in the ministry, one must be obedient to the will of God and seek to find the answers to all the problems we face in the Bible, which contains the answer to every problem faced by mankind," the minister said.

NO PLACE TO HIDE

"The fallout scare and the talk of shelters is of little avail," the minister said, "for when God gets ready for you there is no place to hide." He married his wife Mary when she was 16, and for 66 years they have made a home together. Two of their eight children died, but six sons remain. Alvin Beard lives in Texas, while Abner, Oliver, Lenard, Samuel and Louis all live in California.

The secret of a long marriage is one wife, he said with a twinkle in his clear bright eyes. His snow white hair is remarkably thick for one of his years. His philosophy of life includes obedience to God, honesty in all dealings, good wholesome food and plenty of rest after a day spent in dedicated labor regarless of the type of work unertaken.

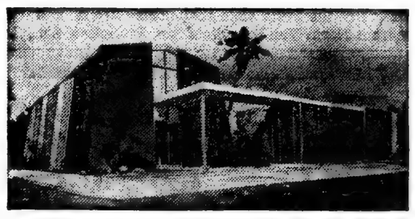
Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.



And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Western Avenue County Golf Course will be the center of attention Nov. 9, 10, 11 and 12 when all the top golfing stars of America attempt to win the $7,500 open tournament.

We can't help remembering that just 7 years ago it was impossible for a Negro to join the women's or men's golf club at Western. It was also impossible to play in this tournament if you were a Negro. But time marches on and we are happy to say that Western Ave. is 95 per cent straight in the direction of integration. The other 5 per cent to be integrated is in Earl Martin's Pro Shop. It is left to Martin to take a stand and get it over with; especially since he had a man quit last week. When we spoke with Martin about this he hedged and said, "He did not quit, he resigned."

Never-the-less Earl can hire a Negro this week if he intends to act right. He has an excuse now that he does not like to be pressured.

Well Earl, that excuse is outdated because it was through pressure from Kenneth Hahn that Western Ave. was saved from the subdividers who were "pressuring" somebody to sell it for housing. He also started the "integration ball" rolling in all of their golf clubs. How can you forget, Earl, that the Western Ave. women were the first Negro women to rent a locker from you (through pressure from the county.) We remember when you told us back in 1956 that the Caucasian women there would not integrate, but they did, in 1961.

You have seen all of these things happen and since you are apparently losing your money, here is a little more "pressure history" for you to ponder over.

The Western Avenue Golf Course, which just a few years ago was under threat of being subdivided for residences, is now the second most heavily played golf course in the United States, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, under whose leadership the County acquired the course in 1954.

The most popular, or most heavily played golf course, in the United States is also in Los Angeles County. It is the Rancho Golf Course in West Los Angeles, which is operated by the City of Los Angeles.

In 1960 there was a total of 141,064 rounds played at the Rancho Golf Course for a daily average of 402 rounds. At the Western Avenue Golf Course the total was 125,317, or a daily average of 337 rounds played.

"The record play at Western Avenue Golf Course demonstrates the wisdom of the Board of Supervisors in preserving it as a major recreational facility for the people of Los Angeles County," Supervisor Hahn declared.

He pointed out that it has been fully self-supporting under County operation and has in addition returned a net profit of about $80,000 a year to be used in providing additional public recreational facilities.

In 1953 the Western Avenue Golf Course property was about to be sold and it was anticipated that the land would be subdivided and made into a residential area.

H. C. "Si" Siler, then president of the South Los Angeles Kiwanis Club, brought to Supervisor Hahn's attention the great need to preserve Western Avenue Golf Course as a major recreational facility. He pointed out that it would be a wise investment as those who played golf would pay for the facility.

Under Supervisor Hahn's leadership the Los Angeles County Retirement Board then purchased the golf course and leased it to the County Board of Supervisors for the Parks and Recreation Department to operate it.

Jets Score Win in Home Opener Mon.

By BOBOH FARRELL

Hal Lear paced the Los Angeles Jets to a 119-116 win over the Chicago Majors before 8400 fans Monday night in the Sports Arena. The Jets and the American Basketball League were making their debut in LA.

The new ABL court and rules were designed to put a premium on the skill of the player, thus giving the "small" man a chance. Lear's play, along with that of Kelly Coleman, high point man for the Majors and the game with 35, showed just what the skillful but "smaller" man could do.

Key in the makeup of the Jets team is the presence of two seven-footers, Bill Spivey and George Finley. Yet Hal Lear, 6'-1" outshot them, and Hank Whitney, 6'-7" looked better under the basket for the time he was in the game.

Bobby Blue got in the game in the third quarter, and in the little while he played, he didn't seem to be at too much of a disadvantage because of his size (5'-11").

The Jets have now won one and lost one. They have won by less than five points and lost by the same slim margin. If this is indicative of the type game to be played by the Jets, and in the ABL in general, the basketball fan is in for a real treat.

The Harlem Globetrotters, or Meadowlark Lemon & Co., goofed to a 80-73 victory over the Boston Whirlwinds. They are in their 35th consecutive season as an organized team, or organized confusion. They exhibit their skills and make them look like kids' play. I don't think anyone watched their game — people watched them crack up.

Compton Dons Edge Angels All Stars 5-3

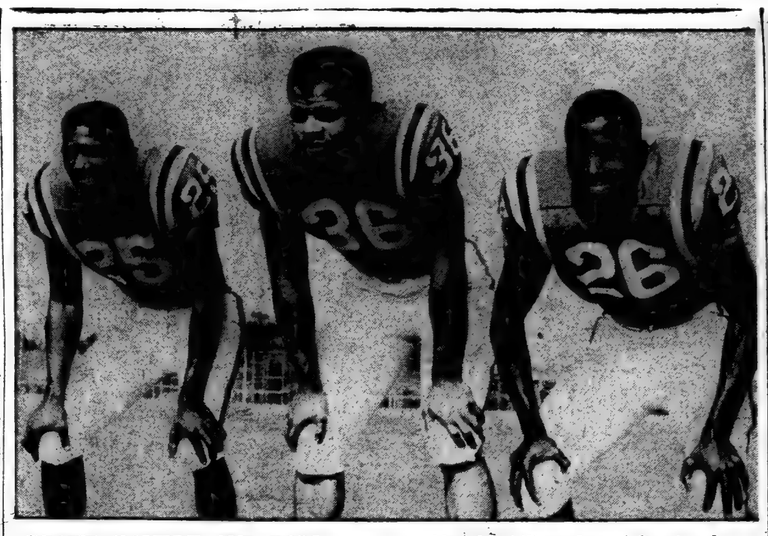
The Compton Dons baseball team after being presented with trophies for winning the 1961 State Amateur Championship took the field at Cressy Park last Sunday and scored a thrilling 5 to 3 victory over the visiting Los Angeles Minor All Stars from Fort Worth, Texas and Statesville, Texas.

The Dons pitching staff Steve Jones, and Ken Norwood and Willie Mathis had too much stuff for Pete Petterson's All Stars. Jones gave up only five hits, 3 unearned runs, 5 bases on balls and struck out 14. The Dons collected 6 hits, 11 base on balls and 5 runs from Angeles pitchers.

The game was put on ice in the last of the sixth inning with the Dons breaking 1 to 1 tie. John Summers drilled a 3 and 2 pitch for a double with the bases full, the Dons scoring three big runs. Summers later scored a pass ball.

Charlie Murry provided the visitors with a few thrills getting two triples and a single. Other Angeles hits came from Bobby Darwin and Paul Scholl.

C. E. Davenport, presented the Dons with their championship trophies, Davenport is the westcoast representative for the Quaker Oats Company. Compton's mayor tossed out the first ball and lovely Pat Moore of Compton College sang the National Anthem. The Dons are managed by John Rochelle. Coaches are Zelly Butts and Cleveland Payton Chris Mitchell is the bat boy.



Blassie, Thomas Win Mat Bouts

Art (Seaman) Thomas defeated Crusher Kowalski at the Olympic Auditorium on the world heavyweight wrestling card on which Freddie Blassie retained his world title. Blassie's foe, Argentina Rocca, was ruled too rough and the referee called a halt to the bout.

A crowd of 8,660 paid a gate of $16,100 to see the bout.

Racing Champions Set For Big Race

Three current national auto racing champions have entered Saturday night's (Nov. 4) USAC championship midget race card at San Bernardino's Orange Show Stadium, it was announced by promoter J. C. Agajanian.

SHAKE, RAMBLE AND ROLL — Long Beach City College classy trio are poised for the invading Bakersfield City College unbeaten football for their big Nov. 4 battle. Winner of this game could be the west's representative in the 16th annual Junior Rose Bowl classic in Pasadena Dec. 9. No. 25 is Willie Martin who has latched onto 14 passes for a total of 253 yards and two touchdowns. No. 36 is Lonzo Irvin, fullback who has rambled for 147 yards and five touchdowns and No. 26 is fleet footed Dee Andrews who is rewriting the school's record book. His six game total are now 67 carries for 737 yards an average carry of 11 yards. His scoring total is 74 points (10 touchdowns and 14 points after touchdown—and his two season totals now are a fat 1636 net yards while scoring 134 points). A capacity crowd of 16,000 will view the JC biggie Sat., in Long Beach.

Ray Robinson's Protege In Match at Olympic Sat.

Billy Hunter, Sugar Ray Robinson's heavyweight protege, meets top rated Alejandro Lavorante in the Saturday night national TV bout, which will be held at the Olympic Auditorium.

Hunter, who stands 6 ft. 2 inches and weight 197 pounds, figures as a real tough test for the Argentine heavyweight.

The clever Detroit scrapper has seen action against the best, like Sonny Liston, Eddie Machen, Mike DeJohn and Alex Miteff.

Billy's two best wins are knockouts over Miteff and Tony Anthony.

Lavorante is the fourth ranking heavyweight. The giant (6 ft. 4 inch) Latin has won 18 out of 19 starts, scoring 14 knockouts.

When he knocked out Zora Folley last May at the Olympic, Lavorante zoomed into the heavyweight picture.

Because of national TV, the fight will start at 7 p.m., with the first prelim going at 6:30 p.m. There is no advance in prices.

12th Annual Pro Bowl Classic Set for January 14

The 12th All Star Pro Bowl football game, the annual classic between picked squads of the Western and Eastern conferences of the National Football League, will be played Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14, at the Memorial Coliseum.

Announcement was made Saturday by Paul J. Schissler, managing director of the traditional charity contest.

Schissler pointed out that holders of Los Angeles Ram season tickets have the privilege of ordering their regular seats for the game.

Ram ticket options expire Nov. 15 when the public mail order sale will open.

Rival squads are selected by vote of the coaches of the two conferences in conjunction with NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The West leads the series 7-4 following its thrill soaked 35-31 victory last January when Johnny Unitas of the Colts stole the show from Norm Van Brocklin's going-away party to pro football.

Unitas, voted player of the game, directed five scoring drives in the highest scoring game since the series began in 1951.

Van Brocklin, who closed out 12 stormy years as a player in the NFL, however, shattered one game record by passing for 288 yards and equaled another by tossing three td passes. The Packers' Jim Taylor collected a new scoring record of 18 points on three touchdown plunges.

A total of 536,245 fans have witnessed the 11 games to date, topped by the 72,250 who watched the East score a 28-21 upset in 1959.

Blades Meet S.F.

The Los Angeles Blades Hockey team next game at the Sports Arena will be against San Francisco Sat., Nov. 4.

George Crowe Named Scout For Cardinals

George Crowe, said to be greatest home-run pinch hitter in the history of baseball, has signed a contract to scout for the Cardinals, it was announced last week by General Manager Bing Devine.

The 38-year-old Crowe, recently given his unconditional release as a player by the Charleston, W. Va., club of the International League, a Cardinal affiliate, holds the major league record of 14 pinch homers.

Crowe will make his headquarters at his home in Springfield Gardens, N. Y., but will not be restricted to any area in his scouting.

Crowe spent almost eight years in the National League, after becoming a professional player in 1949. He was a first baseman by position, but was used mainly as a pinch-hitter in his last two seasons.

Eight of his pinch homers were hit for the Cardinals—four each in 1959 and 1960. He hit his first for Boston in 1952, one each in 1953 and 1955 for Milwaukee, and three in 1956 for Cincinnati.

His finest year in the big leagues was 1957 when he hit 32 homers and had 92 runs batted in for the Reds.

L.B. Routs Harbor 42 to 6

Long Beach City College, defending Junior Rose Bowl champions, tuned up for their showdown battle with Bakersfield by blasting Harbor College almost out of the harbor with a 42 to 6 win.

In the rout Long Beach's Jerry Orcutt scored twice and fleet footed Dee Andrews who has been ailing rambled 160 yards and scored on a 56 yard touchdown run.

Prep Scores

Manual Arts, 25, Los Angeles, 6. Washington, 10, Dorsey, 0; Gardena, 13, Jordan, 7; Roosevelt, 38, Garfield, 13; Huntington Park, 13, Wilson, 6; Loyola, 28, Serra, 0; St. Anthony, 34, Mt. Carmel, 13; San Fernando, 19, Van Nuys, 7.

Long Beach City College's hopes of repeating as the West's choice in the 16th annual Junior Rose Bowl hinge upon a couple of "ifs." If they can successfully get past unbeaten Bakersfield on Sat., Nov. 4 and if they are able to keep three of their biggest stars off the injury list.

Fullback Lonzo Irwin, the human block buster, Dee Andrews, top rusher and scorer in the Metropolitan Conference, and pass catching Willie Martin have been causing coach Jim Stangeland many sleepless nights and particularly after the East Los Angeles City College game in which seven points would have just about wrecked their chances for a bid to the Junior Rose Bowl classic.

Since that game four weeks ago Coach Strangeland has been operating like an expectant father, Irwin, Andrews and Martin have all suffered some sort of injuries keeping them sidelined or in street clothes in the last two Long Beach games.

In fact in the last four games Stangeland has been acting like he was a Las Vegas card shuffler the way he has been using his bench to field a squad to keep his win streak intact. How serious Irwin, Andrews and Martin injuries are will be revealed when they run up against the hell-bent-and fired up Bakersfield squad which is nursing a 27 to 7 wound of last year which kept them out of the Pasadena classic.

My informant tells me that Renegade students posted such signs as this during the start of the fall semester, "27 to 7 and no roses" and "Let's go to the Pasadena in '61." With those reminders the Renegade team has allowed only 14 points to be scored against them in six games while rolling up 251 points this season.

This Saturday the Renegades will come storming into Long Beach and Coach Stangeland's aides had better be in their best physical shape to halt the rushing Renegades or they will be definitely out of the Junior Rose Bowl picture.

Approximately 16,000 fans will witness this contest and it will mark a new record attendance for the College. Bakersfield will have a 6200 following in this number and the game is rated as the showdown classic and a preview of two of the nation's top Junior College teams. Either could be selected as the western representative of the 16th annual Junior Rose Bowl game.

Southern U. Downs Texas

Southern University Jaguars steam rolling toward another Southwestern Conference title handed big powerful Texas College its first defeat a smashing 59 to 0 setto.

Florida A&M continue to make a run away of their conference by shocking S. Carolina 59 to 0 set to.

Lyndsay Bell, George Brown Recite Vows At Ward Chapel African Methodist Church

Lyndsay Marie Bell, daughter of Mr. Louis Bell of Fort Worth, Texas, and the late Mrs. Louis Bell and George Brown of Los Angeles were married at the Ward Chapel African Methodist Episcopal Church last Saturday evening before a crowd of two hundred friends and relatives. Mrs. Robert Jones stood in for the late Mrs. Bell.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and was an outstanding track star while attending high school and later the University of California at Los Angeles. Brown skyrocketed into national limelight by broadjumping 25 feet 2½ inches for a new City Record as a prep at Jordan in 1949.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Willie Huly, wore a sheath gown of Persian blue velvet with an overdress of Persian blue taffeta, full pleated princess style creation. She carried white gladiolas and white orchids and wore an heirloom one string pearl necklace which belonged to her very best girl friend, Mrs. Cecil Wright, who flew in from Fort Worth to be at the wedding.

A Prairie View College graduate, the bride chose Mrs. Tribble Barrett as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jolene Bristow, Miss Carlene Phillips and Mrs. Olivia McPherson. They wore light turquoise blue sheath dresses, matching hats and carried white chrysanthemums.

William Barnes was the best man. Ushers were Pete O' Garro, Leonard Yates and Rod Richard.

The couple left for Palm Springs following a reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Huley and will return to live in Los Angeles.

The bridegroom attended UCLA from 1950 to 52 and is a member of the California Youth Authority at Ontario, California. The new Mrs. Brown is a group worker at the Avalon Community Center.

Serving as hostesses for the wedding were Madie Ridgle, Geraldine Lackey, Essie Robertson, Joyce Shepard, Gloria McQueen, Rose Garrett, Carrie Bays and Suzann Brown.

The Nov. 24 affair will mark a little better than a quarter of a century during which the Doll League club has been providing dolls and toys to youngsters at Christmas time. This will be the 26th year they have been working on this project and they are anticipating that this year's guests bringing dolls and toys will express their appreciation to this wonderful group of women by selecting a bigger and better doll or toy.

Lulu Bendy, president of the popular group, and her members are working toward a very exciting evening. Gowns that will be worn by the members and the theme of the 26th annual affair are most guarded secrets.

There's big goings on in our Youth world up to Goblin night. For days now, we have been aroused from our left over summer day-dreaming by the tinkle of the door bell, open it and find some school lad who says, "want to buy a ticket?" I am sure each household can boast of an over supply of 10c tickets purchased from some pupil from some school, we know not who or where. Much effort has been put into Halloween activities for each school.

Carnivals and parties have held full sway. Beautiful Community Center Auditorium doors will be open Halloween night for the youth council dance.

By the way, Daisy Tatum is president of this organization. Its membership is composed of high school pupils, and boasts of a large membership from all races.

They have an assortment of entertainers lined up to appear between dances: Charles McCullen, the Fleetwoods, Blue Jays, and I could go on and on. Oh yes, Steve and his mixtures will furnish dance music.

Oxnard High beat Hueneme last week at football, and Archie Newton, one of our own, played like a champ.

HONORED—Bob de Coy, celebrated KGFJ staffer, author, writer, actor and conductor of "This Is Progress," won another honor when the California Club feted him with a gala party last Wednesday night. "This Is Progress," heard thrice daily over KGFJ has been rated as one of the best programs on radio.

AFTER THE PARTY IS OVER — Members of Compton Playground's Parent Council are shown following a successful Halloween Carnival in which more than 1500 youngsters and adults attended and enjoyed. There were a costume parade, bonfire, platform stunts, skits and contests. Goodies for the carnival were provided by community businessmen including Leon Harrison of Harrison Ross Funeral Home, Mrs. Travis Dixon, Mrs. Gladys Battles, Mrs. Irene Cloud, Mrs. Mary Lou Johnson and Cecil Works. Pictured above are Gladys Perro, Gladys Brown, Lorraine Simms, Willie Scott, Larry Simmons of Ben Barclay Ford Company, Rosie Lee Norwood and Mary Scott. (Adams)

Tommie Tucker, prominent in business, civic, athletic, social and community activities are firm believers in the golden rule and unhesitatingly lend their full support to our own businesses in every instance where it is possible. Troupe also plays Lobero Theatre, Santa Barbara, Nov. 28.

Congo voodoo masks, Accra "talking drums," Lagos plantation whips, Ghana jungle spears, Conakry daggers, Angola warrior shields and Douala witch doctor dolls are among authentic props used in the show.

POPULARLY PRICED

Tickets at popular prices, $1.50, $2., $2.50, and $3, tax included, are now on sale at the Ebell box office, where reservations may be made by phoning WE 9-1128. Seats are also available at Southern California Music Company, 737 South Hill street, and all agencies. It is advisable to secure seats in advance.

Other standout performers in "Africana" are Andre Robinson, Toni Winsted, Norma Washington, Dalyce Curry, Charles Carter, Bonny Downey, Jackie Lundy, Lois Brown, Sharon Faust, Yimba, Stanley Smith, Beba Mumtoto, Paul Blackwell, Ido Zudu, Glen Sanford and Frank Williams.

This will be the only performance of "Africana" in the Los Angeles area.

SUMMIT TRIO—The Ramsey Lewis Trio, those "gentlemen of jazz", will be at The Summit on November 2, 3 and 4—three days only—for all you jazz lovers. Also on the bill will be songstress Gloria Smyth, the Bill Marx Orchestra for dancing and the Pat Moran Dua at the piano bar.

SHOW BUSINESS

Fannie Hurst's novel has been glamorized, modernized and internationalized in its third appearance as a motion picture. The sad little affair now appears as a grand passion. The new heroine ultimately becomes famous on two continents as a designer, but she is still a girl in a mid-western city when she meets the man in her life in a group of marines returning from World War II.

His wife and family stand in the way of their love, and they part, she to devote herself to her profession, he to his big business. Her career and his widespread interests bring about accidental meetings in New York and Europe, until she finally capitulates and they establish a lovers' hideaway in a quaint villa near Paris. Even the disastrous accident that ends their idyll is not without its consolations.

The famed Ross Hunter touch is evident everywhere in the producer's choice of the most expensive, mouth-watering high style clothes and settings. Rome, Paris and New York appear in ultra-luxurious guise, using the beauties of all three cities to best advantage. Performances are keyed to the drama's romantic style.

John Gavin makes an attractive lover and a long-suffering husband, anything but a man in search of a furtive double life. Vera Miles as his wife presents a sharply drawn picture of a malicious alcoholic, neglectful of her children and her husband, and constantly refusing to divorce him.

Susan Hayward Assured

As the other woman, Susan Hayward is chic and assured, a far cry from Miss Hurst's little seamstress condemned to a lonely lifetime of insecurity on the hidden "back street" of a man's life.

'Face of Africa' At Safety Nov. 3

Women educational specialists from nine countries of Africa, traveling in this country on a three-month study tour of American educational institutions and activities, will be among outstanding persons invited to the opening of the "Faces of Africa" exhibit at Safety Savings, November 3, at 7 o'clock.

The exhibit, which comes to Los Angeles from the Karamu House in Cleveland, was created by LeRoy Jeffries, vice president, Johnson Publishing Company, who travelled extensively in Africa and Europe recently. The exhibit features the countries of Ghana, Nigeria, and Senegal. The show has been given excellent reviews in the showings over the country. The Los Angeles show at Safety will be set up by Miss Elaine Towns, UCLA graduate art major.

Interested in seeing that the show is viewed by as many persons in Los Angeles as possible because of the sociological nature of the photographs is a committee of 14 persons: Mrs. Thoms Boger, Los Angeles Urban League Board; Dr. Razack Danmole; Olu Delu of Nigeria

DOOTO RECORDS

Sets Entertainment Pace!

THE EXPANSION PROGRAM at Dooto Records, begun earlier in the year with a complete refurbishing of office headquarters, continues full blast as Dootsie Williams (l), president, installs own printing plant. Here Williams shows Thomas E. King, general manager, Dooto labels printed on new press recently delivered from West Germany. Equipment on order by Williams includes a rotary press and offset press. In addition to own labels, Williams' printing plant will handle all company catalogues and promotional material.

DOOTSIE WILLIAMS 'Maker of Stars'

CHARLES McCULLOUGH

HITMAKERS

The five young men above have a right to smile. With their very first recording for Dooto Records, "I've Had You," they've scored a smash hit. They call themselves The Creators "because we want to create something new." Enthusiastic disc jockeys and record buyers agree that they've created "something new with 'I've Had You.'" The Creators are (l-r, bottom) Don Neal, Charles Perry, and Gerald Middleton; and (top) Gentry Bradley and Thomas Harris.

THE CREATORS

DOOTO RECORDS PROVE TALENT UNLIMITED!!

Hollywood gets the glamour reputation. But Compton produces the stars. That record is being proven at Dooto Records.

In the past six weeks, Dooto has hit the charts in various entertainment "bibles" with two smash songs, "My Girl," sung by ex-Junior Rose Bowl star Charles McCullough and The Silks; and "I've Had You," sung by The Creators.

PRESIDENT'S DISCOVERIES

Both The Silks and The Creators are Dootsie Williams (Dooto president) discoveries and they, like Zola Taylor of the Platters, The Medallions, Vernon Green and other well-known musical stars, hail from the bustling Los Angeles suburb of Compton.

"It seems," says Williams, "that this is where the new talent is coming from these days."

As a result of his football activity at Centennial High School and at Compton College, McCullough is well known in the area. Since the release of "My Girl," which he composed, he has become a musical celebrity, particularly with the kids at Centennial. As a result of his hit, McCullough and The Silks were invited to entertain for the Centennial Homecoming Dance.

Prior to the release of "I've Had You." and its quick acceptance by the public, The Creators considered themselves to be "underdogs" among the singing groups in Compton. But no more.

"Now," says Don Neal of The Creators, "other singers give us more respect. And the kids—they're wonderful! They've been buying 'I've Had You' like mad. You'll find it in everybody's house. We're grateful—and we're proud, too."

Both "My Girl" and "I've Had You" have achieved notable records in a remarkably short time.

Both have hit the "top 40" lists here, "best bet" lists in trade publications, the "top 10" in local polls and in polls in other cities.

TEST PATTERN METHOD

Both have been released under Dooto's unique "test-pattern" method, which enables Williams and his staff to accurately gauge the potential of a record in local and national situations.

Although following the rock 'n' roll style, with emphasis on the beat, both "My Girl" and "I've Had You" have followed an earlier pattern established by the all-time hit, "Earth Angel," which has sold more than two million Dooto records.

The latest hits have proven popular with the pops buyers as well as the rock 'n' roll aficionados.

"I've Had You" broke first the with the Mexican market, Williams points out. "This, he says, "is significant."

MOTOR CITY HOSPITALITY

Arrived in Detroit on Tuesday evening, and the royal welcome I have been tendered has warmed the very cockles of my heart. Unbridled hospitality has been mine from charming Eve Pride and her aunt, Della Cheatham, (who feted me and further threw a swinging party for me to boot), from my hostess of all hostesses here in the Motor City, George Sawyer (whose home has always been mine to live in and enjoy, and who had friends in, served cocktails constantly and gave me a T-Bone steak, garnished with chitterlings, dinner party), and from my good friend, Juanita Parnell (who took me to luncheon at the fabulous Cobo Hall Convention Hall Arena), guided a sightseeing tour of the Lafayette Townhouse luxury housing project and the latest changes in this area, and arranged a tour of the Mary Hall Academie de Coiffeur which is complete in every detail.

Saw Carmen Murphy at her famous House of Beauty, and made some new friends whom I shall cherish; the very charming and lovely Kay Banks, that most industrious Isola Graham, that brilliant high school teacher, Ogust Stewart, and some nice guys, Chester Higgins, Cliff Mobley, Benny Parks and many others.

HOSPITALITY UNLIMITED

Bless them all for their warm friendship and kind acceptance of yours truly. I wanna thank them from the bottom of my heart.

EARL GRANT ENTERTAINS

And finally, L.A.'s own fabulous organist, singer, entertainer, Earl Grant was my sponsor for his show in Windsor, Canada, at the chic Elmwood Casino, Ambassador Room, as he headlined the Les Girls Toujours Revue, featuring the Roger Palmer Dancers, novelty act, Ketta Kilo, and the star, Earl Grant who fractured the enthusiastic audience of Detroit and Canadian elite, with his renditions of "Blue Star," "Honey," "Ebb Tide," a swinging version of "Bill Bailey" in which he received an able assist from a guest, in the Sophie Tucker style, "The Pachanga," an excellent drum solo from his brother Bill, "Mood Indigo," "Fever," and finally "Old Man River."

Earl was suffering from a severe case of laryngitis, but was still the master showman and trouper, and gave his fans more than full-money value. I had a ball, as I have all week.

Needless to say, I hate having to hit the turnpikes for the long trek back to New York, but I must, and can say, "I have lived today." Wish you all could have been aboard.

South L.A. Youth Is Stabbed to Death In Gang Warfare

Death dealing gang warfare was believed responsible for the fatal stabbing Monday night of Douglas Rodger Casey, 18, of 704 E. 79th street.

His body was found shortly before midnight outside Fremont High School. There was a trail of blood about 400 feet long from the spot where the body lay, across the lawn and into the street.

MANY WOUNDS

The coat the youth had been wearing was found on the grass, turned inside out. There were cuts in the left sleeve at the elbow and in the back shoulder. There were blood stains on the coat.

Casey was found bleeding from wounds in the chest, the left arm and the left and right shoulder blades.

Police said the killing looked like the actions of a gang.

Earlier in the day, Casey had visited Diane Ford at 7615 S. San Pedro street. It had turned cool by the time he left and Diane's father, Lynward Lee, had lent the youth his coat.

CASEY 'HURT'

Shortly after 11 o'clock a youth by the name of "Willie" came to Lee's door and told him that Casey had been "hurt."

When Lee arrived at 76th place and San Pedro street, he saw Casey lying on the pavement. He was dead. The slashed coat was the one Lee had lent him.

Acording to the physical evidence, it appeared that Casey had first been attacked on the corner next to Fremont High School.

Lee said that as far as he knew Casey did not run around with any gang and that he had never heard of him being in trouble.

Diane Ford said that Casey had had a fight with another

Judge to Rule On Santa Fe's Test of FEP

Whether or not the Santa Fe Railroad will have to carry out an order of the California Fair Employment Practices Commission was being weighed this week by Superior Judge Gordon L. Files in a case testing the commission's authority.

Under consideration is the order issued last Feb. 25 by the FEP Commission finding the railroad guilty of discriminatory practices and ordering the reinstatement with back pay of Lennie L. Andrews, 36, of Barstow, and his promotion to mechanic at the first available opening.

FIRED

After repeated unsuccessful efforts to obtain promotion from the job of coach cleaner, Andrews filed a grievance with

Thompson Off For Convention Of Labor Group

L. B. Thompson, national vice president of the Negro American Labor Council and secretary treasurer of the L.A. Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, left here Wednesday to attend the second annual convention of the Labor Council in Chicago, Nov. 10-12.

The sessions of the council, which seeks an end to all barriers to Negroes within the union movement, are expected to give whole-hearted backing to A. Philip Randolph, president, in his running battle with AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Meany and his top lieutenants last month rejected out of hand Randolph's charges of discrimination in the unions and his demand for action against unions that tolerate such practices.

Death Takes Retired Head Of NAACP

NEW YORK — Channing H. Tobias, 79, whose name for many years has been synonymous with the NAACP, died at Presbyterian Hospital last Sunday. Funeral services for the veteran educator, lecturer and traveler were held Wednesday.

Mr. Tobias served as president of the NAACP for many years. Retiring several years ago, he was president emeritus of its board of directors at the time of his death which came several weeks after he entered the hospital.

A native of Georgia, he returned to his alma mater, Payne University, after he received his B.D. degree at Drew Theological Seminary. He taught at Payne from 1905 until 1911. He married Mary C. Pritchard in 1908.

For many years he served as secretary of the Student and Colored Work Department of the National YMCA and traveled extensively at home and abroad for that organization.

He was actively associated with the Masons, the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, the National Assn. for the Study of Negro Life and History, and the Interracial Committee of the National Council of Churches and Inquiry.

Greyhound Drivers Deaf to Pickets' Plea

Teamster Committee members picketing the Greyhound Bus Lines this week welcomed a statement of support from Amalgamated Union leadership and called upon bus drivers of the union to honor the Teamster Committee's picket line.

Loren Miller says . . .

EVERYBODYS HAPPY

A. Philip Randolph got quite a going over from his fellow vice presidents on the AFL-CIO for his brashness in demanding that the labor movement do something to eradicate racial discrimination. Before it was all over he was sitting in the defendant's chair and found himself accused of stirring up ill feeling between Negroes and organized labor. Everybody was happy, his accusers intimated, before he began to agitate.

If the accusations prove nothing else they demonstrate the fact that the AFL-CIO brass has been reading the southern newspapers, and the handouts of the White Citizens Councils. The complaint down home is that Negroes were happy as little birds with segregation and Jim Crow until the mean old NAACP went charging down that way and riled them up. Southerners just simply refuse to believe that a Mississippi Negro resents having to step off the sidewalk when a white prostitute happens along. The labor chieftains are Carroll Shaw, international vice president of the Amalgamated Assn., was asked by John Williams of the Teamster Rank and File Committee for Equal Job Opportunity to "advise your members employed at Greyhound of your sympathy with our issue, thereby creating the condition for your bus drivers at Greyhound to respect our pisket line and refuse to operate Gdeyhound's vehicles until such time as this racial discriminatory hiring policy is reversed."

IGNORE PICKETS

In an interview with the California Eagle last week, Shaw said his organization was 100 per cent in sympathy with the Teamster Rank and File Committee in their fight against the racially discriminatory hiring policy of Greyhound.

But the drivers turned a deaf ear to the appeal for support.

Pickets from the Teamster Committee were joined in their third week of marching by the NAACP, CORE, and the Com-

Hollingsworth Recall Petitions Circulating Throughout the 10th

Betwesen 600 and 700 people crowded into McCarty Memorial Church Monday night as the Hollingsworth Recall movement got down to the serious task of organizing the signing of petitions

In addition, close to $1000 was donated or pledged to help the campaign.

MANY VOLUNTEER

Approximately 175 of those present volunteered to donate their time to the precinct-by-precinct task of canvassing the voters.

Frank Terry, executive secretary, said the Recall Committee is in immediate need of "people, printing and postage."

Rev. H. H. Brookins, committee chairman, touched a sensitive chord when he said, "We must make ourselves felt as a united group. The people downtown are waiting to see if we can get together."

WIDE SUPPORT

In addition to those at the meeting, support for the recall has come from many sources. Among those who have pledged their backing are the Baptist Ministerial Alliance, the Western Christian Leadership Conference, a group of AME churches, Laborers' Local 300 and CORE.

Circulation of petitions, Terry said, was to get under way Tuesday afternoon.

Recall Committee offices are located at 3112 S. Western avenue, RE 1-3175. Anyone having any spare time was urged to get in touch with the office.

Rev. L. Sylvester Odom, pastor of Ward AME, presided.

Said Rev. Brookins in his talk to the serious and determined audience:

CAN'T FALL

"The purpose of the recall is to return the government of the people to their own hands. Eight councilmen have abused the people of the 10th District, and we have a chance to show our support of the ideals of the founding fathers by affirming our faith in the democratic process.

"We are part of a world revolution, and we must acknowledge it, glory in it. We must be happy that we can bring the fight before our children.

"What if we lose the fight? As chairman of this committee, I say we are already embarrassed and left out. We can't fall off the ground."

He commented further that, "The principle we stand on has no price tag."

That same point was also

Crippled Man Kills Opponent In Bar Battle

A man on crutches, coming out of a bar on Santa Barbara early last Saturday morning, got into a quarrel with a man going in the opposite direction, struck him with a knife and killed him.

Alfred Wilment Fair, 52, of 2162 N. Euclid avenue, Upland, then called police and an ambulance.

SLUMPED TO CURB

After the cutting, Fair's adversary, Theodore King, a metal finisher of 415½ E. 27th street, slumped to the curb and died without uttering a word.

Fair, who has a crippled right leg, told police that as he was

U.S.C. to Get Land From Face-Lifting Of 'Blighted Areas'

Approval last Tuesday by the City Council of a request for federal funds to survey the area adjacent to the University of California for redevelopment purposes has caused grave concern to Negro residents.

Cause of that concern is the Jim Crow housing pattern in Los Angeles, and the question of where the "displaced" persons will find comparable and suitable dwellings.

800 NEGROES

Although definitive plans will have to await the results of the survey, it appears now that not many of the Negroes living in the affected section will be able to find accommodations in the district once it is rehabilitated.

Close to 40 per cent, or about 800, non-whites are involved, out of a total of approximately 2200 persons. Most of the non-whites are Negroes. The area includes some 900 homes and about 350 business establishments.

Involved in the proposed redevelopment are some 178 acres, a good slice of which will go to enlarge the campus of USC. Privately owned property that would participate in the proposed plan includes the Shrine Auditorium and the College of Optometry. The 32nd Street School would also probably be retained.

NON-RESIDENTIAL

Joseph Bill, executive director of the city's Community Redevelopment Agency, advised the Eagle Monday that the refurbished area would be largely non-residential.

He said, however, that the agency is aware of the problem

APPOINTED—Atty. James R. Akers, Jr., has been appointed assistant to U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Atty. Akers Named Ass't Att'y Gen'l

Atty. James R. Akers, Jr., former captain in the Los Angeles Fire Dept. and former president of the local branch of the NAACP, has just been named assistant to U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Announcement of the appointment was made Monday. He will serve in the Los Angeles office, which is headed by Francis Whelan, U. S. attorney general for Southern California.

Akers' appointment was to take place immediately, but he advised that he requested, and was granted, a two week interval so that he could close down his law office and arrange for the transfer of his current cases to other attorneys.

South Africa Lets Luthuli Go to Oslo

Albert John Luthuli, former Zulu chief who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, was granted a passport last Wednesday to enable him to travel to Oslo to collect it—but he will only be allowed to be away from South Africa for 10 days.

And lest anyone might interpret the permission given Luthuli as a softening of apartheid (segregation) policies, South African police arrested 1242 persons last Friday night in massive raids in Transvaal and Natal.

BURNED PASS

The police commissioner of Pretoria, who personally led the raids, said those arrested were wanted for crimes of murder, rape, assault, theft and illegal possession of firearms and drugs.

Luthuli, 61, has been restricted to his native village in Natal since the 1960 "bloody Monday" police massacre of unarmed demonstrators at Sharpeville.

Luthuli did not participate in that demonstration but, to show his sympathy for the victims who were protesting against the passbook law, he publicly burned his passbook.

CAN'T TARRY

The African National Congress, of which he is president, was also outlawed.

The 10-day permit given Luthuli will give him time to go to Oslo and collect his award, which includes $43,744 in cash, of which the government will take a big slice in taxes, but it will not enable him to tarry along the way.

He will not be able to accept any of the many speaking offers he has had from the United States and England.

His application to visit Tanganyika was rejected.

2 Unions Spar On Race Issue In MTA Test

The issue of race discrimination simmered just beneath the surface this week as two unions started campaigning against each other for the right to represent the drivers operating the Metropolitan Transit Authority buses.

Neither union, officially, was charging its rival with bias, but members of both unions were "expecting" their opponents to make racial appeals.

CHALLENGE ISSUED

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen won the representation election an May 13, 1959 and is the bargaining agent for the approximately 2800 drivers who work for the MTA.

An election, challenging that representation, has been sought by the Amalgamated Ass'n of Motor Coach Employes, Division 1277, which now represents the MTA's mechanics.

An election has been sched-

Thugs Get Sav-Way Money Bag

The manager and stock clerk of the Sav-Way Drug store, 1700 E. 103rd street, were kidnaped and robbed at gunpoint last Friday as they were about to get into their car outside the bank at 1600 E. 123rd street.

A man pointed a .45 caliber pistol, concealed in a newspaper, at Charles D. Dickerson, Jr., 2308 E. 113th street, and ordered him to "keep walking." Noting that Dickerson had left the money-filled bag in the car, he retrieved the bag, then ordered Dickerson to "get going." He took him to the parking lot where he was joined by another thug, who ordered Dickerson into a car with them.

In the meantime, a third member of the robber gang ordered Audrey G. Rainey, of 1902 Wellington road, manager of the store, to return to the bank door and stay there.

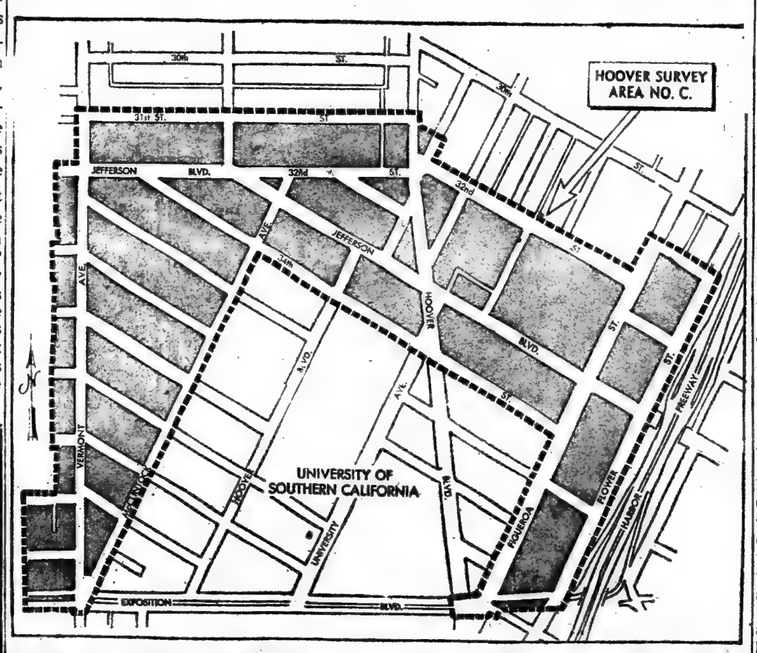
While Dickerson was being driven around by two of the thugs, one of them hit him on the head with a hard object. He was let out at the corner of 97th and Beach streets.

Housing Key to Bias, Miller Tells Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO—The nation cannot escape increased segregation in public facilities of all kinds unless it stems the tide of residential segregation, Loren Miller, publisher and lawyer, told the National Association of Intergroup Officials in his keynote address at its Tuesday luncheon.

"We need hard-nosed legislation on state and local levels forbidding discrimination in the sale and rental of all housing," he said. "We must match those laws with administrative rules and regulations denying the benefits of the mortgage insurance system to discriminating FHA builders and developers."

NEGROES DISPLACED



Miller cited statistics to show that the Negro population in the nation's ten largest cities has increased from one and a half million to more than four and a half million in the past three decades. He pointed out that one fourth of all American Negroes now live in those ten cities.

"Slum clearance has become Negro clearance in almost every city," Miller told his audience.

Miss., La., Georgia Defy Bus Segregation Ruling

Compliance with the new Federal Communications Commission order barring segregation in buses or bus station facilities met widespread compliance on the effective date, Nov. 1.

Exceptions were Jackson, Miss.; Shreveport, La., and Albany and Atlanta, Ga.

Three Negroes were arrested in Jackson when they attempted to use "white" waiting rooms. Four others were arrested in Atlanta and a young Negro in Albany, Ga., was told he'd better get out of town after he entered a "white" waiting room at the Trailways bus terminal. He did as advised.

In Shreveport, the manager of the Trailways bus terminal, who took down segregation signs in compliance with federal regulations, was arrested for violating state laws.

In Montgomery, Ala., a federal judge, ruling on a case involving the bloody riots there last May, issued an order prohibiting Alabama from enforcing race barriers.

Negro Must be Included, Says League Head

By BOBOH FARRELL

Whitney M. Young Jr., newly appointed executive director of the National Urban League, presented an image of the new Urban League in a press conference in L.A. Tuesday.

The national office will be a coordinating body, helping the 65 local affiliate offices rather than supervising them, he said. An active Urban League program is needed now more than ever before. The legal problems of desegregation are being worked out, but the social problems of integration are before us now.

FEW GAINS

The Urban League is a social service organization, working with the tools at its disposal to further equal opportunity for Negroes in employment, education, housing and welfare, Young emphasized.

"The problem of the League is to make Negroes realize that they have a problem. Too many act like they have no problem and close their eyes," said Young. "There have been few tangible gains by Negroes in American society. Things are better for the group because they are better for all Americans. When the statistics of today and 20 years ago are compared, little gain is evident."

Young's approach to the problem is best put in his own words. "Special attention is needed to solve this problem. For over 300 years the Negro has been especially excluded from participation in American society. Now society must specially include him. He is poised and ready to be an American with pride. This is a tribute to the Negro. This is his country, and he shows an inclination not to be associated with foreign ideologies."

FIVE AREAS

The new Urban League program will cover five areas, Young said. It will be the repository of facts about the Negro community. It will interpret these facts dramatically and present them to the decision makers of the community. It will identify the resources available for the solution to problems in society and direct those in need of them.

This means that the League will not wait for people to come to it — it will go to them. It will attempt to carry out a program to strengthen the family unit. It will actually program in the field.

"I feel," said Young, "that the Urban League is at a crossroads." With full program emphasis and responsibility in the hands of local Leagues, Young hopes to strengthen and adjust their services to cope with present day challenges.

WON'T TAKE DOWN SIGN — Bennett Dorsey, left, isn't taking down the Travis T. Lott "For Sale" sign outside his home, even though he was slashed by an irate neighbor after Negroes had been seen inspecting the house. He is shown with Lott, owner of the real estate agency, and saleswoman Bessie B. Washington.

Owner Slashed, but Keeps Negro Listing

Bennett Dorsey, retired real estate broker, is a man who doesn't scare easily — not even when he is slashed by an irate neighbor.

Dorsey has had his home, in a "white" neighborhood in the heart of Hollywood, up for sale for about a month. A sign on the house at 516 N. Arden blvd. proclaims for all to see that the agent handling the sale of the premises is the Travis T. Lott Realty Co.

The slashing incident occurred Holloween night — but the "For Sale" sign is still there and, Dorsey says, it's going to stay there until the house is sold. He's not concerned about the color of the buyer.

Accused of slashing him on the hand is Lee Burke, who lives down the street at 585 N. Arden blvd. Dorsey filed charges against him and Burke is scheduled to appear for arraignment Nov. 30 at 9 a.m. in Dept. 20.

Dorsey says that Burke came up onto his porch Holloween night and began slashing out at him. He put up his hand to ward off the blow, and received a long gash that took 10 stitches to close it.

Dorsey said that he and his wife have been getting threatening and hate telephone calls ever since the sign went up, and especially since Bessie B. Washington, Lott Co. saleswoman began showing the premises to prospective customers, white and Negro.

Cuts Slated In Spending For Welfare

WASHINGTON — Sizeable cuts have been ordered in welfare spending by Secretary of Welfare Ribicoff, it was reported here last Wednesday.

Planned cuts total $101,945,000 for the current year.

Hardest hit is the Public Health Service, which is to lose $76,806,000.

Other agencies to feel the axe are Office of Education, $20,601,000; Food and Drug Administration, $1,238,000, Vocational Rehabilitation; $1,092,000; and Social Security, $316,000.

Tax Hike of 10c Per Day Seen In Shelter Plan

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn proposed this week that the county spend $404 million for the building of fallout shelters, the project to be financed either by direct taxes or bonds.

If the direct tax were used, this would amount to approximately 10c per day per family for four years, Supervisor Hahn estimated. That adds up to a total of $3 a month, $36 a year, and a total of $144 for every family in the area.

If the financing were handled by a bond issue, Hahn said the cost could be reduced to two cents a day per family. He did not state, however, the length of the period during which this sum would have to be paid.

Mailman Victim of Bunco Artists; 'Taken' by Pair for Week's Pay

Soon after a 22-year-old mailman cashed his check last Friday, he became a victim of two bunco artists who fleeced him of $100, his entire pay check.

The victim, Joe N. Dukes, of 7833 Towne avenue, said that he was approached by a couple of men at the corner of Avalon and Vernon avenue in front of the Telephone Co. One of the men spoke with a foreign accent, he told Duke that he had just gotten off a boat. He had given a girl $50, he said, and odded that he didn't trust banks.

Dukes told police the three of them drove to 77th street and Griffith avenue after the smooth talker had flashed two large rolls of bills. He told Dukes they should put their money together and Dukes should take it back to the bank because he didn't trust the fellow who was with him.

Dukes did as suggested, only to discover later the bundle contained cut-up newspapers.

Neighborhood Schools Cited as Aids to Bias

NEW YORK—A "slavish adherence to the concept of the neighborhood school" was cited recently as the biggest single factor in the growth of "de facto" segregation in the public schools of the North.

Will Maslow, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, told a meeting of the organization's national Governing Council that unless racial balance in school enrollments is recognized as "an essential ingredient" in drawing school boundary lines, "public education in the North will develop inevitably into two separate school systems, one for white children and one for Negroes."

ANTIQUATED

In his report, the AJC official declared:

"Our schools no longer use the antiquated McGuffey Reader, but they continue to follow the equally obsolete system that restricts children to schools in their own neighborhoods.

"This practice ignores the changing population distribution in our country and the fact that half of all American Negroes now live above the Mason-Dixon line. It also ignores their growing concentration in the great cities of the North, where economic hardship and racial discrimination combine to form 'black belts' of Negro population."

Maslow praised the school boards of New York and Detroit "for realizing the dangers of rigid insistence on the neighborhood school" and for launching "open-enrollment" and "permissive bussing" programs which permit pupils to transfer out of their neighborhoods.

DRIVER EDUCATION CLASS

A new course in driver education for adults will open at Belmont - Metropolitan Adult School, 1575 W. Second street, Nov. 14, H. O. Backer, principal, said this week.

Woman Hits Sister With Hammer

Mrs. Beatrice Pitts, of 1726½ W. 37th place, went after her sister, Mrs. Carrie Lee Jones, 41, of Perris, with hammer and knife last Friday night, apparently due to jealousy.

The fracas occurred at 3675 S. Gramercy place, the home of Ulysses Scott.

Mrs. Jones said she and Mrs. Pitts got into an argument "after they had a few drinks." But her sister told police that she became "mad" when she saw her sister in bed in the apartment.

Mrs. Pitts said she and "Scotty" had been living together for over three years. She admitted hitting Mrs. Jones with the hammer, but denied cutting her with a knife.

Mrs. Jones was treated for an eye and finger injury.

She said she would be willing to prosecute her sister, and Scott said he was willing to be a witness in court.

Retired Worker Found Dead

Joseph Walters, 54, a retired foundry worker, died during the night last Saturday in his apartment at 1533 E. Vernon avenue.

Mrs. Lillie Walters, his wife, said the two had retired around 11 p.m. When Walters failed to go out and get the morning paper she went to his room and found him lying face down on the floor by the side of the bed.

Mrs. Walters said her husband had been ailing since 1957. Due to a spot on his lungs he had been admitted to Olive View and was released Feb. 2 of this year.

The do-it-yourself craze might with advantage be extended to thinking.

Local Groups Fete Visitors From Africa

Educational specialists from eight African countries — 11 women and five men — were entertained this weekend at a preview of "Faces of Africa", now showing at Safety Savings and Loan Association, and during a day of activity with members of the National Council of Negro Women.

The International Relations Dept. of the NCNW, of which Mrs. Ruth Cunningham is chairman, sponsored a "Serve It Yourself" affair Sunday evening at the home of Atty. Alma Rudison, president.

NEED TEXTBOOKS

The informal gathering, which encouraged fireside chats and round-table discussions, was attended by about 75 people, including NCNW members.

Earlier the visitors had been entertained in an all-day round of activities, arranged by the NCNW. The African women, here on a tour of the United States to study educational institutions and activities, were taken to church, to the city's parks, the beach and various members' homes for dinner.

In their talks, the visitors emphasized the need of textbooks and teachers in Africa. The educators came from Nigeria, Tanganyika, Nyasaland, Southern and Northern Rhodesia, Kenya, Ghana and Mali.

EXHIBIT AT SAFETY

Sponsors of the "Faces of Africa" exhibit include Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, Dr. Razack Danmole, Mrs. Helen Garrott, Mrs. Albert Hampton, Mrs. Pilla Mills, Mrs. Ralph Vaughn, Olu Delu, Dr. George R. Garner III and Louis Johnson.

The show can be seen daily except Saturday and Sunday through Nov. 24 at Safety Savings Community Room, 2638 S. Western avenue.

Something New Under the Sun

Something new under the sun happened in Texas last Saturday. Henry Gonzalez, an outspoken advocate of civil rights, was elected to Congress from the San Antonio district.

Mr. Gonzalez jumped into the news a few years ago when he conducted a one man filibuster in the Texas senate against segregation laws. He stuck to his post for more than 40 hours but ultimately lost his fight for common sense and sanity.

The spectacle of a southern legislator conducting a fight in favor of civil rights was something that hadn't been seen since Reconstruction days. The politicians wrote him off then and there as a political dead duck. But he didn't back down.

In the recent Texas senatorial race, Gonzalez ran on a forthright ticket in which he described himself as an unreconstructed liberal. He stuck to the same platform in the congressional race. And although the Republicans wheeled in all of their big guns, including a former general named Eisenhower, Gonzalez won the election. The next Congress will be treated to the extraordinary sight of a southerner lined up in the civil rights camp.

Of course, Texas isn't the deep South. And the San Antonio district is the most liberal district in a state which is gradually seceding from the Confederacy. But it is heartening to see that a Texas candidate doesn't have to be a race baiter to win an election.

The time is coming when southern candidates in other big city districts will throw off their bondage of rural districts and run on platforms of compliance with the federal constitution.

Defying the Constitution

Mississippi bus companies bowed to the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission last week and posted non-segregation signs in their busses and waiting rooms.

The state of Mississippi showed its complete contempt for the law of the land by promptly posting signs on sidewalks outside of bus stations warning Negro intrastate passengers that they face prosecution for the use of "white" facilities in the stations.

This defiance of the law presents the federal government with a ticklish and important problem. The issue is that of whether or not a state may defy the Constitution with impunity and refuse to obey the plain mandate of Supreme Court decisions.

At bottom the issue is the same as that posed by the arrest and conviction of the Freedom Riders who, as interstate passengers, tried to exercise their constitutional rights. They are under sentence for violating state laws.

The plain purpose of the Civil War Amendments to the Constitution—the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments—was to place civil rights under the protection of the federal government. If the nation had stuck to that purpose we would not now be confronted with the kind of defiance practiced by Mississippi. The federal government is going to have to choose up sides: it must either use its power to enforce compliance with the 14th Amendment or knuckle under to nullification of constitutional requirements.

Speak Out, Mr. Hollingsworth

Councilman Joe Hollingsworth has attracted some pretty unsavory supporters to his side of the recall argument.

The five signers of the petition for his recall received the questionaire reproduced on the front page of last week's Eagle which was described as an "application for NAACP membership."

That scurrilous document managed to repeat by insinuation every anti-Negro argument of the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens Council.

We don't believe that Mr. Hollingsworth saw the questionaire before it was sent out or that it was sent out by him or under his authority or with his permission. But that doesn't alter the fact that it was sent out and that Mr. Hollingsworth hasn't yet seen fit to repudiate it or the support of those who sent it.

Every campaign for the council race in the 10th District for the past few elections has been marked by racism of the kind represented by the questionaire. Race baiting has been one of the chief factors in the defeat of Negro councilmanic candidates in the districts. We hope that Mr. Hollingsworth isn't going to tolerate the same thing in his campaign, no matter how badly he wants to hold on to the office to which he was appointed.

There's no Hiding Place

We can't remember the name of his opponent but Joe Louis sagely observed on the eve of one of his championship fights that his adversary could run but he couldn't hide.

We have that same sort of uneasy feeling about the shelters we are being urged to build against the contingency of atomic attack. We wonder what kind of air the citizens are going to breathe down there in the shelters and what they're going to do when they finally emerge from the holes they have dug in the ground.

And just where can these shelters be dug by individuals who live in the congested Negro communities? And who is going to build them? The landlords who are making a short return on their investments? The tenants who can hardly afford to pay the present rents?

If you ask us, the civil defense program as now constituted has no answers to these questions. Brave talk can't cover up the fact that the nation has no program worthy of the name. Maybe none can be devised but it is silly to pretend that the bomb shelter program as now constituted is anything more than a lot of loose and confused talk.

Gen. Walker's Strange Pals

General Edwin Walker, who resigned from the army in a grand flourish because military authorities objected to his meddling in civilian affairs, says that he opposed the use of troops to quell the Little Rock disturbances of a couple of years ago.

He commanded the Little Rock troops and claims that his offer to resign from the army was refused at the time. His opposition to the use of troops at Little Rock fits in with his backward looking philosophy and we're prepared to believe that he was troubled by use of troops.

However, it is our guess that Walker is playing up his opposition to use of the troops in order to curry present favor with Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, his chief supporter in the Senate. He wants to make it plain that he is in complete agreement with the Senate's leading Dixiecrat.

The army is fortunate indeed to have dispensed with the services of a general with Walker's beliefs and attitudes.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

At its best, the "New York Times" is incomparably the finest newspaper in the world; even at its worst, it ranks among the world's ten best — in coverage of news and its treatment, in authoritative correspondents and in consistency of editorial viewpoint. Similar ratig, unfortunately, cannot be accorded to Arthur Krock, the Times' veteran analyst of Washington affairs and senior within the newspaper's editorial councils. When Mr. Krock is good, he is good — very good indeed — but when his bias shows, he is very, very bad.

The Krock bias showed a couple of weeks ago, in his editorial page column, "In the Nation." Under the heading, "One Way to Stay on the Government Payroll," Arthur Krock discussed the weak-kneed position assumed publicly by Postmaster General Day in disposing of the case of W. W. Law, a colored mail - carrier of Savanna, Ga. The case has been headlined by the Negro press and referred to in the metropolitan dailies as one involving persecution by southern politicians resentful of Law's activities as president of the NAACP in his home area.

GRANGER

SUSPICIOUS SMELL

Regional Postal Director Askew of Atlanta had recommended Law's dismissal on charges that had a very suspicious smell about them. The NAACP stated bluntly that they constituted a frame-up and Law appealed the decision. A departmental appeals committee partially reversed the regional director's judgment by recommending a "severe reprimand" instead of dismissal.

It doesn't require a very suspicious mind for an interested observer to deduce that there might well have been a frame-up involved in the charges. For instance, Law was accused of "mishandling" the forms required for forwarding undeliverable mail, but a veteran postal clerk tells me that this is common practice in every big post office set-up in the country, because to handle these forms correctly in each case would not leave enough time for delivery of the mail.

Another charge was that he had "committed indecent exposure on the lawn of one of the families to whom he was delivering mail." Al that this means is that the man had to relieve his bladder, and while this may be very simple for a white letter-carrier in a Deep South town, it can be very complicated for a Negro who is in a white neigborhood where no household, store, tavern or garage will offer the courteous use of its toilet facilities.

A white man caught in such a situation who uses nature's own facilities might receive a mild scolding and be let off with a sympathetic chuckle. A Negro already accused of being a "NAACP trouble-maker" could find himself up on charges of "indecent exposure." And my own guess is that this is what happened in the Law case.

PLEDGED DISMISSAL

What gives even more color to the NAACP charges of a frame-up is the fact, referred to only in passing by Mr. Krock, that a South Carolina Congressman made a public promise that Mr. Law would be dismissed. Surely this is more than circumstantial evidence that political machinations were behind the recommendation of the regional director for the Law dismissal.

Certainly this ought to have been mentioned in Postmaster Day's quoted comments on his decision to reinstate with "a severe reprimand." And even more certainly Arthur Krock knows far too much about the Southern bias against Negro spokesmen who refuse to accept "their place" ordained by white supremacists, for him to quote these facts in dead pan fashion as "evidence" of the guilt of the Savannah letter-carrier.

Now perhaps this is giving too much importance to a well-written but poorly reasoned column by a newspaperman whose bias has seemed to be against too much agitation by Negro leadership in the South in combatting secondary forms of racial discrimination — as well as against the tactics of the NAACP. But Arthur Krock is an important man; his column is widely read and accepted as objective and authoritative by people who are deeply interested in the protection of civil rights at all levels.

WEAK-KNEED

One very great Democrat who has held high offices in this country's service discussed the column with me. He was deeply disturbed, but as I told him he was disturbed about the wrong thing. Postmaster Day was weak-kneed, but not because he reinstated W. W. Law; he was weak-kneed because he lacked the guts to point out the strong probability of bias in the original finding for Law's dismissal. He was weak-kneed because he weasel-worded his way through announcement of a correct decision and thereby gave comfort to the forces working against a free citizens' leadership. The Krock column is dangerous because it, too, dismisses as unimportant the strong likelihood that W. W. Law was framed, whether by unfriendlly people in the community he serves or by postal officials in that regional jurisdiction.

A paraphrase of a popular saying might well have been applied by the NAACP's enemies in this Law case: If they won't join you, lick 'em. If you can't lick 'em, smear 'em, and that'll make 'em easier to lick next time.

Loren Miller Says . . .

just as obtuse: they refuse to believe that a Negro who is barred from a job or from upgrading by union shenanigans resents his lot until Randolph or the NAACP agitates him.

DEEP-ROOTED

The AFL-CIO argument is pretty deeply rooted. The slave holders used it in their time and insisted that the slaves were content and would remain content if the Abolitionists could just be silenced. It turned out that the argument wasn't worth much. The happy and contented slaves showed where they stood by joining the Union army in droves as soon as they had a chance to do so. They even had the temerity to shoot the very people who said they didn't want freedom. It's my guess that the Negro workers who are subjected to discrimination by unions would vote that they are unhappy with union discrimination if they were offered an opportunty to do so by Mr. Meany and the AFL-CIO executive council.

What Randolph proposed to his fellow vice presidents of organized labor was that they set a deadline and warn all unions that if they hadn't eradicated discrimination by a certain date they would be kicked out of the AFL-CIO. The brass had an answer for that; they said that if they kicked the unions out discrimination wouldn't be halted and that it would be more difficult to correct conditions in the expelled unions. That argument sounds good but it isn't the way organized labor functions.

A few years ago, the AFL-CIO got excited when charges of corruption were leveled at some unions. And guess what they did. They expelled the unions charged with corrupt practices and let it be known that those unions couldn't return until they had repented of their ways and offered evidence of their change of heart. When you come right down to it you are forced to the conclusion that the AFL-CIO regards corruption as a much greater sin than racial discrimination.

I have known Phil Randolph quite a spell and I'm sure that he can be depended upon to hold his ground. He doesn't panic easily, if at all. I know that he will continue to speak out until conditions in organized labor are remedied. What I worry about is organized labor itself. Something's wrong when the men who head the labor movement are reduced to attacking Randolph because of his demands for reform. They're putting themselves in the same class with southern legislators who think that if they can destroy the NAACP they can roll back the clamor against Jim Crow. They're wrong.

Recall Drive

stressed by Dr. Kring Allen. "The only criticism I have heard is that the recall will cost a few dollars," he said, adding, "We spend millions backing up the rights of others —elsewhere."

Among those who responded with money donations were Dr. Claude Hudson and Jerry Pacht who said, "I don't live in your district, but I believe in your cause," as he handed over a $20 donation.

USC Renewal Plan Hits 800 Negroes

involved in removing present residents, especially Negroes, and hopes to be able to make provision for these people.

Although there can be no reasonable objection to making over older neighborhoods, Negroes have generally been hard hit by such renovations. Nationally, according to federal housing agencies, 70 per cent of all persons displaced under urban redevelopment have been Negroes.

TOO HIGH PRICED

New housing erected in the cleared areas is generally too high priced for the persons who have been moved out. In the case of Negroes, this means all too frequently that they must find homes in the already overcrowded ghetto districts because of the refusal of owners and landlords to sell or rent to Negroes in "white" neighborhoods.

The proposal for the survey was introduced to the City Council by Councilman Ransom Callicott and was endorsed by a letter from Mayor Yorty. Requested from the federal government for the survey was $412,000.

Although the building in the area affected are not generally considered "slum" dwellings, Bill advised that under the legal definition used to assess such conditions the area does come within the definition of "blighted or deteriorating."

2 Unions Spar

uled for Nov. 29.

The struggle between the two unions is long standing, and goes back to well before the recent formation of the MTA to the days when the city's transportation was divided between the Los Angeles Transit Lines and the Red Cars. Amalgamated represented 1600 men on the LATL; the BRT (Brotherhood) represented the 1100 Red Car drivers.

Although the BRT historically has had a bad name on the segregation issue, Don H. Sheets, general chairman of Lodge 448, claims that his chapter has been integrated for some time, and points to the fact that the international union dropped its "white only" clause at its 1960 convention.

He further claims, as an indication of his organization's racial policies, that the number of Negro drivers on MTA has increased from about 400 when the BRT took over jurisdiction in 1959 to 600 to 700 today.

Moreover, he claims that advancement within the union is open to all members on an equal basis, although there are at present only five Negroes who have advanced within the union ranks. This, he explains, is due to a number of factors including such matters as seniority.

Sheets claims that the men support his union, largely because of the pay increases and improvement in union rules that have been obtained under the BRT.

Carroll Shaw, international vice president of the Amalgamated, however, discounts such claims and asserts that his union has obtained far greater benefits for the mechanics under his judisdiction.

Shaw told the Eagle that the main issue in the Nov. 29 election is the question of which organization can best serve the interests of the workers. "We think," he said, "we will be able to prove that we are the best organization."

In substantiation of that claim, he asserted that 85 per cent of all bus drivers in the United States and Canada are under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated.

The Amalgamated, Shaw continued, is not raising the issue of discrimination. But, he added, some of the members probably will raise the issue.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

It has come to our attention, as members of the Westside community, of a high incidence of organized day and evening household robberies.

The areas most often victimized are the areas of Crenshaw to La Cienega, bordered on the north and south by Exposition and Olympic blvds.

Most of these crimes are being carried out during working hours and moving vans, etc., are being used to empty an entire household. Since the thieves are organized, we feel that the community must organize to protect our lives and property. We suggest that each citizen take the following precautions:

(1) If you see a moving van in your area, and do not recognize any of the movers as members of the household or an authorized moving company — jot down the license number of the van, etc., and a brief physical description of the parties involved.

(2) Suggest that the police patrol your neighborhood more often.

(3) Pass this information on to your neighbors. Let's organize to protect our lives and property!

DOLORES DAVIS

Judge to Rule On FEP Test

the FEP Commission early in 1960. A few weeks later he was fired from his job, following a minor violation of company rules.

In its defense before the commission, the Santa Fe claimed that Andrews had been caught asleep on the job. He denied this, but admitted being in a darkened coach during a necessary wait between jobs. His presence in the coach was a violation of rules, and for that violation the commission recommended that he be docked one month's time of the back pay coming to him.

In addition to insisting that Andrews had been fired for cause, the railroad maintained that the case did not properly come within the jurisdiction of the commission. It claimed that it had submitted the case to the Railroad Adjustment Board and that the board had ruled against Andrews.

REJECTED CLAIM

The commission, however, rejected this claim and ruled that it properly had jurisdiction over the dispute. Involved, the commission held, is a charge of race discrimination which is not, under the terms of the Railway Labor Act, a so-called labor dispute.

The commission found that the charge of discrimination, in violation of the state FEP law, had been effectively proved, and ordered Andrews' reinstatement.

The Santa Fe appealed the commission's ruling.

The Andrews case was the first of the hundreds processed by the commission to necessitate a public hearing.

The case has attracted wide attention because the court test is essentially a challenge of the authority vested in the FEP Commission by the state law.

Judge Files took the case under submission last Friday.

Housing Bias

"More than 70 per cent of those displaced under urban redevelopment plans since the inception of the program were Negroes." He charged that Negroes displaced under the program have "simply moved to other Jim Crow slums while redevelopment portions of our cities have been turned over to privileged white occupants."

GOV'T MUST ACT

Although he praised voluntary groups for their foresight and hard work on urban problems, Miller told his audience that urban racial problems "cannot be solved by voluntarism alone." He said that residential segregation is the end result of government support and said that the "government, local, state and federal, must completely reverse itself" and "institute a program designed to foster integration" in order to solve existing problems.

The Association is holding its annual conference in San Francisco. Other speakers slated for later appearances this week include Whitney Young, executive of the National Urban League, and Ruby Hurley, NAACP southern regional director.

"After he hit me," Fair continued, "he backed off, then came for me again.

"I had my knife in my pocket. I got it out and met him halfway. I stuck him once and he grabbed for his chest. He never said anything.

UNARMED

"This happened near the alley.

"Then I called the police and an ambulance."

Witnesses agreed that while King and Fair got into an argument and King hit Fair, King was not armed.

Witnesses Jack McClannahan and Dorothy Boyce, 1042 W. 36th place, said that Fair followed King out into the alley, and that they tried to restrain both men.

Police were investigating all clues, but had made no arrests at press time.

Drivers Reject Pickets' Plea

mittee for Representative Govt. in front of the Greyhound terminal in downtown LA Saturday afternoon. About 30 people were on the line from 3 to 6 p.m.

Five year old Keith Nindrew carried a sign whose words put the whole issue in a nutshell: "I want to be a bus driver when I grow up." He, his brother Alfred, 8, his sister Kim, 7, his friend Howard Rand, 8, and Mrs. Rowena Rand were members of the CORE group in the line.

SOME WON'T PASS

Several people with their bags turned away from the station when informed of the issues at stake, but most of the others did not honor the line.

Ann Brannon, of the Fresno NAACP, and Dorothy Westmoreland also joined the line. They were waiting for a bus in the terminal, but they came out when the lines were posted. Miss Brannon said, "If they (the pickets) can do it here in L. A., we're willing to help up there. We're few, but we're full of fight."

DRIVERS' INSULTS

A number of Greyhound drivers came out to photograph the marchers. Their comments (overheard):

"Why don't those stinking bastards realise they can't drive?"

One joked with another, "Doesn't it get you right here?" as he put his hand over his heart and chuckled.

Another said, "They're giving Greyhound the best publicity it's had in a long time."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris treated the marchers to coffee and donuts at their hame, 1938 S. Rimpau, after the demonstration. Morris was one of the marchers.

The next picket line in front of Greyhound will be held Saturday, Nov. 11, at 3 p.m.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Book of 77 Elias-Elijah messages 50 cents in stamps, postpaid.
P. O. Box 99, Independence, Missouri

Following is a part of the 24th message presented by Erny Townsend, Elder in the Church and the Kingdom of Christ:

The Messenger came to me at 9:45 a.m., Sunday, November 30, 1930, and was with me till 11:45 a.m., at my home near Port Huron, Michigan, and these are the words as he gave them to me, and told me to write them:
OTTO FETTING

1. "I have come to you as a messenger from God. I have not come of myself, but the Lord your God has sent me. I am the Messenger of the Covenant, I came at the time of Christ to prepare the way before him, from the old to the new; again I am sent to prepare the way before Christ, and to bring the last, for this is the closing time. My message is to all people, and every nation, color or race.

2. "I am John the Baptist. I am he that cried repentance in the wilderness. I am the Messenger spoken of by the prophets of old. I am the man sent from God, and my name is John. This I give to all people that they might know that I have come.

3. " 'Let this message be taken to each nation and race in their own language and tongue, and their own color, for, God looks upon the heart.

4. " 'Thus saith the Lord your God to the children of Israel: Be ye comforted, for I will gather you from the north and from the south and from the east and from the west, and from the islands of the sea, and will bring you again in your own land that I promised to your father, Abraham.

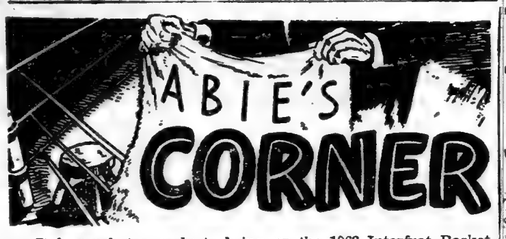
5. " 'I the Lord your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. But my wrath is not kindled against you forever for behold the day has come when I will again show mercy, and will gather you in your land that I promised to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. I will direct you, as in the days of Moses, and by mighty power and an outstretched arm I will manifest myself. I will not require of you the blood of bulls and goats, and turtle doves, but I shall require of you to obey the gospel of love that was before preached by Abraham. You shall acknowledge Christ as your Messiah and the gospel as your law forever.

6. " 'For behold, this is the time of restitution and restoration of all things. I have sent my messenger to prepare the way before you, and I am the Lord your God will direct you from time to time, for the message he has brought has come from my presence, and it shall be to Jew and Gentile and to all people, for I the Lord your God will restore the earth to its former beauty, and Satan shall no more have power over the children of men, for my wrath is kindled against Satan forever.

7. " 'Therefore, heed ye the warning I have sent, and repent ye, and keep the commandments, for Christ's coming is near at hand, and destruction will come upon the earth. Follow not after the traditions of men, for they will not save you.

8. " 'I have sent John the Baptist, the son of Zachariar, in the spirit and power of Elias, preparing the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to be just, for he is the Messenger of the Covenant to all people, for I the God of Israel am no respector of persons, for all that will love the Lord, and keep the commandments that my Son has brought to earth are accepted of me.

9. " 'Behold, I am again establishing my Church and my kingdom upon earth, and my gospel shall again be preached in its fullness as in former years, and those that shall obey my law and keep my commandments shall be my people and I will be their God, and they shall not be in want, for I will bless their land and their flocks and will lead them as in days of old, for I will walk and talk with them and they shall weep no more, for sin shall not be there.



10. " 'I have chosen the weak things of this world, and the unlearned to bring about my purpose, that man may not glory in himself, for the wisdom of man knoweth not the foundations of the earth, nor the heavens what they contain; therefore, I the Lord your God have chosen those that are humble and full of love, who are willing to keep my commandments and heed not the advice of men, for I have measured the heavens, and the foundations of the earth, and the sea, and will guard my children as the apple of mine eye.

11. " 'I will lead my people, those that will keep my commandments, and will direct them, for man cannot legislate laws, for his heart is filled with selfishness, but I require of him to keep my laws that I have given, for I the Lord your God will send my messenger from time to time until I have gathered my people.

12. " 'I am again establishing my Church in its fullness, with twelve Apostles and authority as in the days of old. And mine Elders shall preach the gospel and teach the people as in former days. I will bless those that shall take the message I have sent and warn the people, and I will again manifest my power in healing, and my Spirit shall comfort their hearts.

13. "As you take the gospel to the Jew, take it in love. The Lord will direct you from time to time, and I will come to you from the Lord, but remember, Satan will do all he can to hinder your work."

It is much too early to bring up the 1962 Interfrat Basketball Series but we just couldn't help it because we noticed that UCLA's coach John Wooden is settling for a 16-man varsity squad for the coming season which gets under way next month. If so, this will make the members of the Interfrat Council mighty happy and particularly the Kappa fraternity.

Three of the 16 men on the UCLA team will be Walt Hazzard, Larry Gower and Fred Slaughter, all Kappas who saw plenty of action during the redhot 1961 series games. Like we said we don't want to bring up the series games but it is worthy to note the type of talents that is featured in the annual series. In the early years it was the various colleges producing basketball material for the series but today it is the series producing stars for the colleges.

For instance Larry Gower has been watching Interfrat basketball from the day he was born. His father Vernon, one of the finest bass players in the country, has been a faithful fan of the series games and on the Saturday nights when he wasn't slapping the bass he was slapping young Gower, calling his attention to a thrilling play with the encouraging assurance that one day he would be on the court wearing the big red shirt.

For the last two series Vernon has been alone in the stands watching his boy sport that big red shirt. It was lucky for young Gower who only stands 5-11 for unless he had developed that extra drive it is doubtful if he would have made an impression on Coach Wooden. Hazzard, is an import from the east where he went to the same highschool as Oscar (Big O) Roberts, the famed Cincinnati Royals pro. Hazzard also has a couple of Interfrat series games under his belt. During the first two weeks of practice at UCLA he rated as a spirited and talented guard who is making a big impression. He fits perfectly with Wooden's fast break. He was fast in the Interfrat games but now he is faster and his accurate passing and his drive for the basket are much improved. His jump shot is almost perfect.

Slaughter is pushing Dave Waxman, top reserve from last year's team for the center position. He shows much more confidence and is moving and jumping well for his six feet, six inches.

Wooden's starting first five will line up something like this: Gary Cunningham (6-6) and Pete Blackman (6-5) at forwards, junior Dave Waxman (6-6) at center and senior John Green (6-2) and soph Walt Hazzard (6-2) at guards. Also in position to start are Jim Milhorn, Kim Stewart and Fred Slaughter.

Tennis Club To Instruct Jr. Players

Members of the University Tennis Club have launched a Saturday program for junior tennis players as an introductory to the professional lessons which the juniors will receive as they progress.

Each member will select one of the 20 junior players on the club roster and will give instruction on the game.

The program is designed to develop a greater number of players in the community and to stress a greater tennis interest among the youngsters.

In the club's winter league, the D-team lost to El Sereno 10 to 1.

A successful Halloween party was given by the group to raise funds for its tennis program. Jean Richardson costume was judged best. She portrayed a "Sleep Walker."

Harness Classic Second Leg Sat.

With the $80,000 American Pacing Classic already history, Western Harness Racing Assn. will concentrate on the $80,000 American Trotting Classic for the remainder of the meeting at Hollywood Park which ends a week from Saturday, Nov. 18.

This week's action will feature the second leg of the Trotting Classic on Saturday, Nov. 11, with Silver Song attempting to duplicate his Trotting Classic victory of 1960. The 6-year-old son of Peter Song looms as the horse to beat again this year, although he doesn't stand out above the rest of the field as did Adios Butler in the Pacing Classic.

Cleveland's Ace Pitcher in Army

Charles Sifford, most feared competitor in the approaching $7500 Gardena Valley Open 54-hole championship, will again try for the title he won at Western in 1959.

Sifford, five-time National Open kingpin, has just finished a successful summer excursion on the national PGA tournament circuit during which he has accumulated approximately $10,000 in prize money.

The cigar-smoking Angeleno, who swept the 1959 Gardena Valley Open on successive rounds of 65-68-67-200, is slated for a first round start Thursday. The four-day event, which has a split field of initial rounders Thursday and Friday, winds up Sunday, Nov. 12.

Sifford has yet to win a major championship on the cross country PGA tour, which he joined a year ago, although he made a great stab for the $20,000 Orange County Open in 1960. When a 15-footer failed to drop for him on the 72nd hole, Sifford was nosed out for the title by Billy Casper.

Favored with Sifford for the eighth annual Gardena golf fixture are National PGA champion Jerry Barber, Los Angeles; ex-So. Cal. PGA king Eric Monti, Los Angeles; and Bob McCallister of Yorba Linda.

Also entered are professional Bill Spiller, Los Angeles, and amateur Steve Swain, Los Angeles postal worker, who set the pros on their ears last year with a seven-under-par 64 first round.

The meet is being co-sponsored by the Gardena Kiwanis Club and the L.A. County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Elihu "Dot" McGee, Veteran Sports Figure, Is Hospitalized

Elihu "Dot" McGee, well known in the community especially as a devotee to all major sports, was rushed to the Los Angeles General Hospital last Sunday night.

The veteran sports fan is suffering from a serious ulcer condition and must be confined to the hospital. Friends wishing to drop him a card may do so by writing to Ward 7800, L.A. County Hospital.

This Monday, from 2 p.m. until 2 a.m., friends of "Dot" are planning a "Get Well" party at Celes King's Cocktail Lounge, 42nd and S. Central, the same establishment where the dapper sportsmen could always be found dating back as far as the early 30's.

The affair, planned by Celes King and friends, is for the benefit of a man who over the years has made contributions to church groups, civic, social and fraternal organizations, and to scores of individuals.

Among the work for which McGee is best known is his support of the Newton Street DAPs under Walter Goodlow, and his aid to the Ben Bowie Post baseball team developed by Lee May, now with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Back in the years when Jimmy Lunceford's band was the hottest in the land, he helped organize the Sportsmen's Softball league which played the musicians each Sunday morning at Ross Snyder Playground. He had a hand in boxing and Archie Moore, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis, Willie Joyce, John Thomas, Charlie Powell, Ray Robinson and George Gainford are among his warmest friends. The same holds true in baseball, basketball and football and his friends number many in all walks of life.

PLAN PARTY — Friends are planning a "Get Well Party for Elihu McGee who was rushed to the hospital last week.

Be on hand Monday night to say "Get Well, Dot."

AUTOMATIC GAS BUILT-INS BY GAFFERS & SATTLER
Have you noticed how modern gas ranges have a habit of being seen in the best places? (By invitation, certainly.) It's merely a matter of choice. When smart builders and smart home buyers get together, the result is bound to be a smart kitchen. And that means gas appliances.
If you haven't yet seen the new automatic gas built-ins, treat yourself soon. Take a good look at their automatic features—including the amazing "burner with a brain," meat thermometer, and rotary barbecue. And when you're ready to buy—a new range or a new home with a built-in kitchen—make your choice a modern gas range.

R. H. Walter, Balanced Power builder of Sunset Hills says: "It's no wonder why Balanced Power homes are so popular today. It's just common-sense to want the best of both gas and electricity. Each power can do the jobs it does better, faster, cheaper. Electricity can run the lights, TV sets, and small appliances. And gas can do such important household jobs as cooking."

This Model Home at Sunset Hills is a duplicate of the Los Angeles County Fair "Home of the Year" which was selected for exhibit by the Building Contractors Association of California. Viewing hours are: weekdays 9:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M.; weekends, 9:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M.

Sixteen Bow at Second Annual Courante Ball

The Questionettes All Purpose Club entertained at the Beverly Hilton Hotel's Grand Ball room with a combination tenth anniversary affair and second annual Courante Ball at which 16 charming young ladies made their debut last Friday night.

A near capacity crowd watched the young debs and their escorts dance the famous and historic 18th century dance. Vivian J. Gandy, choreographer, did an exceptionally wonderful job with the group of young ladies and men.

Dr. William R. Williams, honorary chairman for the club and prominent surgeon, presented the club's check to the Sickle Cell Foundation. Attorney Alexander Fitzgerald served as master of ceremonies for the evening's affair.

Lovely Ursula Shields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Shields, was crowned queen of the second annual Courante Ball by last year's queen, Brenda English. Miss Shields' court included Wanda Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hamilton, and Carol Ann Hillary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prince E. Hillary.

Debutantes were: Ruth Marie Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, escorted by Cecil Myatt; Sandra Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Whitlow, escorted by James Webster; Roberta Crudupt, daughter of Mr. Earl B. Louis Armstrong and Dick Cregory Entertain at Rinkeydinks Club Affair

A capacity crowd attended the Halloween cabaret party given by the Rinkeydinks Club that featured the internationally famous Louis Armstrong and the nationally popular comic, Dick Gregory, last Tuesday night in the Grand Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

The affair was in celebration of the Goose and Goblin night and gayety sparked the evening.

Rinkeydinks members greeted their many guests in sparkling black crepe sheath dresses featuring fly-away panels. For the treat of Halloween Louis Armstrong and Dick Gregory had the pleasure of entertaining their largest audience this season.

Joe Adams served as master of ceremonies for the Rinkeydink's affair and he introduced attractive Mae Anderson of New York City, a member of New York's Doll League Club, who served as commentator.

She in turn introduced the following members of the Rinkeydinks, each wearing stunning 'designers' after-five cocktail gowns. Members introduced were Bernice Brooks, Lena Barnes, Hildegarde Bostic, Barbara Dale, Emily Morrow, Lillian Kazarian, Ruby Jones, Jeri Rancifer, Jan Owens and Ann Odom.

Because of the success of the party the Rinkeydinks will be well able to aid their community charity project. With the Halloween party added to the pages of spectacular entertainment history by the three-year-old club, everyone congratulated the Rinkeydinks for providing two of the biggest stars in the country for their money-raising affair.

HALLOWEEN SURPRISES—Harry Sweets, left, president of Sterling Distributors, and Al Green, company representative, register a delightful surprise when they ordered Macnish over ice and up jump two lovely Rinkeydinks hostesses, reading the evening's program. They are Angell Sneed and Wynona Price. Incidentally Miss Price is Miss Starette '62 and she will have a feature role in the upcoming movie titled "Golden Pearls of Progress." (Adams)

Halloween Set Fetes Visitors

Maggie Mitchell entertained two visitors with a delightful pre-halloween party in her home at 354 E. 57 street.

Her beautiful patio was delightfully decorated in the goblin colors. Visitors entertained, were Vivian Copeland of New York and Judy Gibson of New Jersey.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

The east winds were kind and stayed away until the goblins returned to their haunts and yards were put in shape again. Speaking of goblins: I am sure I must have had some 100 or more callers from that clan on Halloween night. 'Twas fun.

Daisy Tatum says the high school dance was a WOW.

Dick Abrams came by Saturday. He seems as busy as a "cat on a hot tin roof" getting out tickets for the dinner honoring Gov. Edmund Brown come Tuesday night at the Elks Club.

Speaking of the Governor, you know there will be an election soon for that particular office. The selection of the individual to fill that office will be determined through our vote.

Femme-Mimics Now on Stage At Jewell Box

One of the most entertaining and unusual shows in show business is currently being staged at the Hollywood Music Box Theatre on Hollywood blvd. just east of La Brea. It's the Jewel Box Revue which played for three straight years in New York where it received raves from the critics.

The Jewel Box Revue, rather than predicated on deceit, opens and closes with the cast members in their malely attire then proceeds to show how they prepare for their femme-mimic roles in the show.

Produced by noted showmen Danny Brown and Doc Benner, the show stars Lynne Carter, whose impressions vary in a wide scope slanted toward kidding the movie colony.

CHAZZ CRAWFORD

Talked with DICK GREGORY at the Crescendo and SAMMY DAVIS at the Grove Friday night but we haven't seen them yet. We just got on the phone and told them we were sorry to have missed their openings. They both were pretty sweet about it and actually acted as if they missed us. So we're going to trot out sometime this week and give 'em a thrill. We know you kind of laughed when we said that, didn't you. Yeah, well we did too! . . .

Incidentally, both SAMMY and DICK, according to the scribes who did catch their opening, say they have outdid themselves, if such is possible.

Sammy tells the audience between his song and dance bit that he has a right to tell racial jokes. "After all," he reasons, "who is better prepared to do so?" . . .

Why do some of the showbiz oldtimers say he's the greatest since JOLSON. Jolson would have been a secondary figure if he had been a contemporary of Sammy's. Or else we miss our guess.

And we'll lay you strong odds that DICK GREGORY is fast becoming the biggest space grabber of any comedian in the nation.

We're sortuve stuck on that cartoon in SHOWBUSINESS ILLUSTRATED that shows a little youngster standing in the corner of his pad with his back to you and holding a toy trumpet. His mom is explaining to his pop that, "No he hasn't been

Needless to say, after having been permitted to get only a tiny bit of sleep while in Detroit (but enjoying every last minute of it), I was a tired boy driving home alone on Saturday. However, after making several stops for naps on the road, I finally arrived home safely on Sunday at 5 a.m. The last party given for me in the Motor City, by Eve Pride and Delia Cheatham, was on Friday night, and the spaghetti & meat balls, tossed salad, French bread and flowing beverage, plus nice people, made it a ball. Met cutie, Joy Tunstall, Bobby Mason, Floraine Lewis and Dolores Spigner, among the guests.

Blind Singer Arrested in Indianapolis

Ray Charles the hottest name among "Blues" singers, whose records sales are zooming to fantastic heights and who regularly packs auditoriums to the rafters, was arrested in Indianapolis Monday on a narcotics charge.

The fame of the blind artist has vaulted the Atlantic. Relatively unknown in Paris six months ago, he is fast becoming the Parisians' favorite exponent of American Blues. He recently broke all attendance records at four performances at the Palais des Sports.

FULL SCHEDULE

His "Georgia on My Mind" of several years ago marked his emergence as the leader in his field. His present hit, "What'd I Say," has firmly anchored his claim among top performers, and his newest record, "Hit the Road, Jack," may even surpass his previous accomplishments.

Narcotics squad detectives raided the hotel room of the singer-pianist and claim they found there a cold cream jar filled with marijuana, 10 empty gelatin capsules which contained a residue of heroin and a hypodermic syringe.

Detectives claimed that Charles admitted he'd been "hooked" since he was 16 and explained that "the daily grind just gets to be too much."

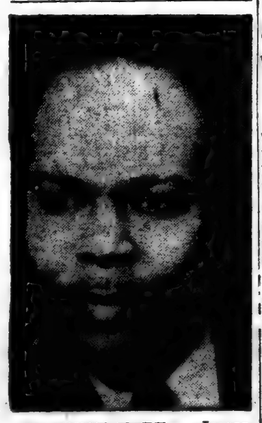
Charles was released on $1000 bond and was to appear in court Wednesday. He was, however, expected to be able to carry out the full schedule of engagements he has chalked up for the week.

Tuesday night he was to play in Evansville, Ind.; Wednesday in Nashville; Thursday at Murray State Teachers College in Murray, Ky., Friday in Birmingham; Saturday in Atlanta; and Sunday he is to appear on the Ed Sullivan show.

SINGER JAILED—Ray Charles, top Blues singer, was jailed in Indianapolis Monday on dope charges.

Dick Gregory To Aid Recall At Sun. Meet

Dick Gregory, fast becoming one of the nation's top political satirists is lending his talents Sunday to speed the work of the Hollingsworth Recall Committee in the 10th Councilmanic District.



He will appear Sunday afternoon from 4-7 p.m. at Victoria Hall, 2570 W. Pico blvd., under the sponsorship of the Special Activities Committee of the recall movement.

Mrs. Cecil B. Murrell and Mrs. Joseph C. Hayes, co-chairmen, emphasize that the affair is free and is open to all. Special tables can be reserved in advance, however.

Gregory is assisting the petition-signing drive, which got under way this past week under the direction of Cecil Peterson, petition chairman for the 10th District Recall Committee.

Initial response is excellent, Peterson said, with petitions being circulated in all 309 precincts of the district.

Sunday's meeting will offer an opportunity for everyone to sign the petitions. Further information can be obtained at the Recall Headquarters, 3112 S. Western avenue, RE 1-3175.

TO SPEAK HERE — James Farmer, national director of CORE, will be in Los Angeles this weekend for a series of talks, including a mass meeting Sunday afternoon at Grant AME.

Keep Alabama Out of Rose Bowl

(An Editorial)

Alabama wants to send its University of Alabama football team to the Rose Bowl. It is getting a great deal of support from sports writers and TV and radio commentators who can't see beyond the ends of their noses.

The University of Alabama is a Jim Crow institution from stem to stern; it won't compete against teams with Negro players on its home grounds.

Alabama is one of three states that still bars all Negro pupils from all of its schools, except segregated schools. It brags that it will never, never, never obey the 1954 school decision.

A few years ago the University of Alabama drummed a Negro girl off its campus to the delight and applause of those who now want it to play in the Rose Bowl.

The University of California, through its two universities — the one at Berkeley and the other at Los Angeles — should take the lead in vetoing Alabama's desire for Rose Bowl gold and glory.

True enough, the two universities have only two votes out of five but their voices can be decisive. If they say "No!" Alabama won't be invited. That's just what they should say.

And here's where you come in. The University of California is a state institution. It belongs to the people, all of the people, of California.

Sit down right now and send a letter or a telegram to Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, Berkeley, California. Tell him you don't want the Jim Crow University of Alabama in the Rose Bowl.

Don't stop there. Send another letter or wire to Governor Edmund G. Brown, State Capitol, Sacramento, and tell him to use his influence to keep Alabama out of the Rose Bowl.

Sure, keeping Alabama out of the Rose Bowl will be tough on the university's players, some of whom don't approve of the school's discriminatory policies. But that can't be helped.

There's a principle at stake. The Rose Bowl game is held up as an example of the practice of good sportsmanship; it is widely advertised as a great American institution.

When the University of Alabama gets ready to obey the law of the land and drop its un-American racial policies it will have a right to expect consideration when Rose Bowl invitations are extended.

Until that time comes let's keep Alabama out of the Rose Bowl.

All Will Die in Atom War, Says Pauling

Linus Pauling, Nobel prize winning scientist, estimates that there will be no survivors in the United States or in the Soviet Union in the event of an all-out atomic war, in an article entitled, "The Dead will Inherit the Earth," in the November issue of 'Frontier" magazine.

Pauling claims that this is so whether the nation builds fallout shelters or doesn't build fallout shelters. In the event shelters are built, he says, approximately 10,000,000 Americans would live a little longer than otherwise, and more bombs would be needed to kill off the population. But he believes the additional weapons would be available and would be used.

FORM OF MILITARISM

The conclusion he draws is "that the construction of fallout shelters is a form of militarism that is equivalent to the increase in size of the nuclear stockpiles. This enhanced military activity can only lead to an increased probability of nu-

Lucky Lager Beer Hit by L.A. Boycott

Edgar Charles, spokesman for the California Negro Business Mens Association, announced that a program of "selective buying" was being undertaken to get more Negroes hired in the beer and liquor industry in a press conference at Safety Savings & Loan conference room Tuesday morning.

First target of the group, Charles made clear, is Lucky Lager beer.

The program was put into effect Saturday as participating businessmen posted signs saying "We don't sell Lucky Lager and its products because we don't buy where Negroes can't work." Advertising literature has been taken out of their windows, they said. They have removed Lucky Lager from their floors and are not ordering any more of the beer, the businessmen stated.

On Tuesday afternoon representatives of the Businessmen's organization met with George Ososke, executive secretary of the California Brewers Association, which conducts bargaining negotiations for the individual breweries.

Ososke was prepared to discuss complaints of the Negro community, but expressed the view that the conditions imposed on him by the boycott already in effect made his task more difficult.

At the conclusion of the meeting

U.N. Names Lumumba's Assassins

NEW YORK — Charges that Patrice Lumumba, premier of the Congo, was slain in cold blood last January while Katanga President Moise Tshombe probably looked on were made here Tuesday by United Nations investigators.

The team of legal experts from four nations also blamed the Central Congolese government of President Joseph Kasavubu which, the investigators claimed, turned Lumumba over to his arch enemies, knowing the fate that awaited him.

REFUSED PERMISSION

The Congolese government, the U.N. team said, refused to permit its representatives to visit the site where Lumumba was murdered, despite the fact that it was acting under the authority of a United Nations mandate.

The commission, composed of representatives of Burma, Mexico, Ethiopia and Togo, said that Tshombe and other Katangese officials in all likelihood witnessed the assassination of Lumumba and his two aides.

Following its investigation, the commission found that evidence pointed to a Belgian mer-

Officer Nabs Westside Bank Thief

A man walked up to the window of the Bank of America at 4128 W. Washington blvd. late Tuesday afternoon and, simulating a gun, pushed a note demanding "$1,000 quick!" into the teller's cage.

When the clerk hesitated he told her to "Hurry up! Quick!" The teller pushed $350 toward his hand and the well dressed man walked from the bank.

An off-duty traffic policeman, Lionel McQuillon, was parked outside the bank waiting to pick up his children from a nearby school when a guard ran out and pointed to the robber. McQuillon walked up behind the man and arrested him.

He was identified as Booker T. Young, 42, who gave his home address as 1949 S. Rimpau avenue. He told police officers he was an army captain. He did not resist arrest. He was charged with bank robbery.

DIPLOMATIC—India's Prime Minister Nehru sidestepped questions about discrimination in the United States during his press conference Monday. (Adams)

India's Nehru Ducks Comment on Bias

Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India, discussed topics of interest from fall-out shelters (India would have none) to existing controls on nuclear testing (there is no cooperation in the situation) to how India received the JFK administration (his coming was welcomed) in a press conference at the Ambassador Hotel last Monday.

When asked about integration, Nehru said the problem in India has religious implications. "India has been a tolerant country all through its history," he said, "but other issues arose which colored the issue."

The issue of racial segregation in the U.S. was somewhat covered in a remark by the Prime Minister when he said that he didn't think it proper to make comments about the internal situation of his host country.

A representative of the Indian press travelling with Nehru said that reports of racial conflict were introduced to India by the American wire services and Reuters (British wire service). When the issues such as Little Rock, the sit-ins, and Freedom Riders were featured and commented upon, they were treated in a "tolerant" manner. "It was a matter of ideals. People are impatient because of the lack of change in the norms of society. A certain suspicion of U.S. ideals may have been reflected," he said.

Executive Action Is Needed

On the eve of Pres. Kennedy's arrival in Los Angeles, the local branch of the NAACP has telegraphed him urging that he immediately issue an executive order banning bias in publicly assisted housing.

The decision to appeal directly to Kennedy at this time was made at a meeting of the branch's executive board Monday night.

REACHING CRISIS

Pres. Kennedy is due to arrive here Saturday evening, just in time to attend a $100-a-plate banquet at the Palladium. He is filling a tight schedule, however, and it was believed by the NAACP that there would be no opportunity to place the issue before him personally.

In its telegram to the President the NAACP stated that the "ability of minorities to purchase decent homes within their economic range is reaching a crisis. The present condition is particularly aggravated by the additional widespread discrimination in the sale or rental of private housing within the City of Los Angeles."

The telegram concluded by stating that "Millions of demo-

Defense Sec'y At Banquet for 'Whites Only'

ATLANTA—Ignoring advance protests, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara crossed an NAACP picket line here Saturday night to speak at a Jim Crow banquet served at a Jim Crow hotel to honor two of the nation's most outspoken exponents of Jim Crow rule.

McNamara had been asked by both the local and the national offices of the NAACP to demonstrate his opposition to discrimination by turning down the invitation to attend the segregated dinner meeting.

President Kennedy had also been asked to intercede to prevail upon his cabinet member to stay away from the all-white affair.

Despite these pleas, however, McNamara crossed the picket line to enter the hotel to sing the praises of Georgia Sen. Richard B. Russell and Georgia Rep. Carl Vinson.

McNamara rushed into the building scarcely glancing at the pickets nor at the line of marchers across the street who were picketing the pickets.

Neither McNamara nor Pres. Kennedy commented on the NAACP protest.

Pro Golfers Group Ends Color Bar

The long fight to break down the race exclusion policy of the Professional Golfers Ass'n came to a successful conclusion last Thursday in Hollywood, Fla., when the PGA convention voted unaimously to drop the "Caucasian only" clause from its constitution.

The motion to drop the offending clause was co-sponsored by the Georgia - Alabama section of the PGA, which was joined by the Southern California section and four New York sections.

UPHILL FIGHT

The fight against the PGA rule that effectively barred Negroes and Orientals from competing in the nation's top golf tournaments has been an uphill battle, carried on in Southern California by Negro golfers, strongly supported by the California Eagle.

Bill Spiller has been fighting for Negro participation in PGA for more than seven years, and for a while was almost the sole voice raised against the ban.

Maggie Hathaway, Eagle golf editor, and other members of the Western Avenue Women's Club, joined the fight several years ago and got an able as

Carver Junior High Aids Achievement

By LLEWELLYN MAZIQUE

The faculty of Carver Junior High School is making an all-out effort to increase the achievement of pupils in the school and desires the support of parents in attaining this goal.

In many respects intelligence tests favor the student with the cultural background and socio-economic profile of the average big city or middle class American. Many students make relatively low scores although their native intelligence is quite high. It is apparent that any poor showing on these intelligence tests is due primarily to a deficiency in the area of the communication skills.

READING AID

The following steps have been initiated by the administration and faculty to overcome the lag in the area of reading and communication.

Many meetings of faculty members in small discussion groups have been held to formulate plans for all-out pupil achievement.

A list of suggestions given in these meetings has been compiled. The English department hosted a meeting where the principal and the sixth grade teachers of Hooper Avenue Elementary School discussed techniques used in the elementary school for grouping pupils within the class into smaller groups for more individualized instruction in reading, and to promote better articulation between the elementary and junior high school curricula.

ENGLISH STUDY

The English teachers are working in committee groups on plans to be used to improve reading and study habits of pupils. During the next semester the total faculty will participate in a workshop directed in improving reading and other basic skills of the pupils in all departments.

A "Reading Center" is now in operation at Hollenbeck Junior High School. This center is equipped with the latest and most approved tools and techniques for reading improvement. The principal is releasing English teachers to visit this advanced, comprehensive center to bring the benefits back for use with Carver pupils.

PARENTS CAN HELP

The school is requesting the following of parents as they can set the tone for greater school achievement in the home:

Demand more from pupils and require that they get the proper amount of sleep at night.

Provide a quiet place and set a definite time for at least one hour's homework each evening.

Insist that pupils bring their school books home each day for use in home study and require that they return to school with them for use in the classroom.

Insist that their children exhibit acceptable patterns of conduct when they are in school so that more time is available to teaching and less teacher time is required for disciplining.

Require that their children are in regular attendance at school, every day because the teachers cannot teach those who are absent from school.

Parents are also requested to attend PTA meetings so they can meet the teachers and be informed about the class projects and the students' progress.

In addition to the parents and school team the community has been asked to help in this all-out drive for self-improvement. The Avalon Community Center, under the direction of Mrs. Opal Jones, is conducting a workshop on Dec. 2 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to help Carver homeroom presidents in the area of personal relations, leadership training and responsibilty acceptance. This workshop will furnish opportunities for expression and initiative.

It can honestly be said that no school has taken more care in the selection of a strong staff or spent more time and energy in planning to provide a clear passage for students who in many cases need a little extra boost to realize their true potential.

The testimonial was given to Paul R. Williams, internationally known architect. Meritorious awards were presented to him from county and city officials and from the Young Republicans Unlimited.

Williams reportedly denied owning a gun or shooting at Miss Downs. He admitted that he had struck her with his fist during the drinking spree.

President of Manhattan Visits L.A.

Edward Dudley, newly confirmed president of the Borough of Manhattan, is in Los Angeles this week, resting from the strenuous New York election campaign in which he was elected to the office by a three-to-one vote over his opponent, a white woman running on the Republican ticket.

Dudley was first appointed to the office to fill the unexpired term of Hulan Jack. This was the first time the voters have had an opportunity to express their views on his candidacy.

Dudley was formerly U. S. Ambassador to Liberia, attorney general for the Virgin Islands, a municipal judge and an attorney for Firestone.

He was elected for a four-year term in the hotly contested New York campaign that saw Mayor Robert Wagner win handily over the Republican contender, with a large slice of the Negro vote going to Wagner.

Dudley told the Eagle Tuesday that he is in the city for a complete rest and some golf in the California sunshine. He said he and Mrs. Dudley, who came here with him, are enjoying a reunion with their son, Edward Jr., a freshman at Occidental College.

WHAT'S DOING

K. H. Quigley, your Telephone District Manager in Los Angeles

Those tents you occasionally see on telephone lines may have set you wondering what sort of mysterious operation was going on inside. Actually, it's no mystery. The tents are simply protection against rain, wind, or hot sun for phone men splicing cables together.

It's one "undercover job" that helps assure the dependability of your phone service, since tents like this allow us to make cable repairs in just about any kind of weather.

Do you know how the telephone company helps bring you network TV?

From a studio, a network television program is sent first to a telephone company TV control center like the one shown at right. From here, the television picture speeds along a network of special telephone circuits to stations in other cities for broadcasting to homes. At check points across the land, the program is carefully watched on monitoring screens. Highly trained telephone men check constantly so you'll get the best possible picture on your television set.

In this way telephone people help bring you television from the entertainment capitals of the nation.

Company Pays Widow In Death from Silicosis

Mrs. Dorothy Monroe received a check for $16,250 this past week through the Industrial Accident Commission in compensation for the death of her husband, Ben Monroe, who died last April 28, from the industrially connected disease of silicosis.

The commission ruled that Monroe had contracted the disease while he was working for the local branch of the Owen Illinois Glass Company, 2923 Fruitland avenue, Vernon. He had been employed by the firm since 1946.

Mrs. Monroe contended through her attorney, Frank F. LaVigne, that her husband's death was brought about by his exposure to silicon - dioxide which he inhaled during his employment with the glass company.

LaVigne told the Eagle that the company has a good record on health protective measures and that this is the first case of silicosis that has been traced to the local Owen firm.

Hatcher To Keynote Conference

Andrew Hatcher, associate press secretary to Pres. Kennedy, will be the keynote speaker at a banquet opening the California Negro Leadership Conference Friday, Nov. 24.

Broadway Federal, Safety, and Family Savings & Loan Asans. are hosting the two-day conference at the Alexandria Hotel, 5th and Spring streets.

The California Negro Leadership Conference provides a forum where Negroes concerned with leadership and issues affecting the California Negro community can meet, exchange ideas, and receive greater understanding of the overall aspects and regional emphasis of general problems affecting Negroes in California.

The theme of the conference will be, "What to do about Jobs in 1962." Almost one-fourth of the Negro work force of 125,000 was unemployed in this state last year. Participants will discuss the means available to correct this situation and assure that it will not happen again.

Negroes need jobs, and the CNLC hopes to focus the experience, training and intelligence of leadership on this problem.

Robber Loses In Battle With Police Officer

The situation looked grim for a few moments last Wednesday night for two police officers who were battling it out with a pair of thugs at a liquor store at 8201 S. San Pedro street.

Adolph Hemphill, 34, of 1218 E. 87th street, unemployed, seemed to have the situation well in hand. He stood at the door of the shop, gun in hand, covering the officers.

As one of the officers tried to handcuff him, Hemphill grabbed his gun and knocked the other policeman to the floor.

Hemphill's buddy, Reginald Hendrix, had previously been floored and had lost his gun in the struggle.

The officers made a dive for Hendrix' gun, but Hemphill had them covered.

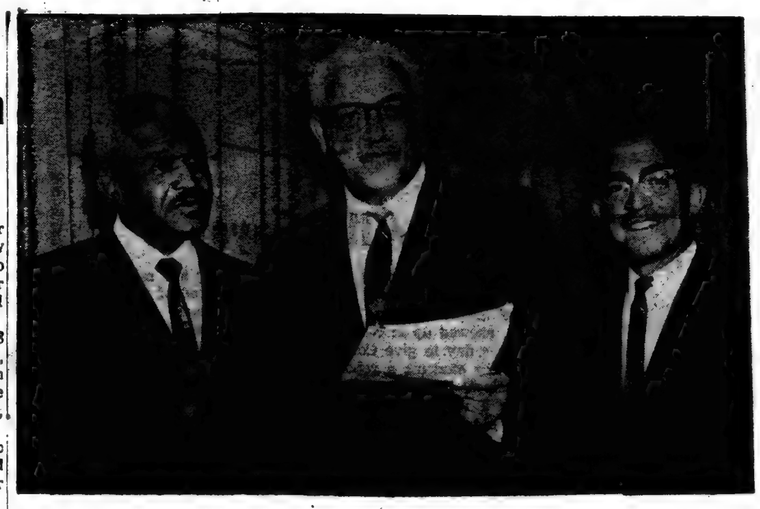
At this moment another officer outside the store spotted Hemphill, noted that he was armed, and shot at him.

Hemphill fled, with the officer in pursuit. The officer kept on firing. At the fourth shot, Hemphill dropped to the ground, dead.

His buddy, Hendrix, 27, of 2930 W. 29th street, was booked at 77th Street police station on a robbery charge.

SLA Medic Admits Guilt In Abortion

Dr. Albert Henry Jones Jr., 44, of 2729 W. Caldwell street, Comptor, appeared before Santa Ana Superior Judge H. Morrison Monday and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of attempted abortion.



His plea for probation o the felony charge will be heard Friday, Dec. 1. He was represented by a public defender.

Dr. Jones was arrested Sept. 7 in an apartment at 12541 Flower street in Garden Grove when Policewoman Patricia Nulle, acting on a tip that Dr. Jones performed abortions, called the physician and reportedly paid him $300 for the proposed services. He was arrested when he accepted the marked money.

Dr. Jones is now under five years' probation on a similar charge on which he entered a plea of guilty on Aug. 1, 1960, in the Municipal Court in Los Angeles. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail and five years' probation. He had been arrested July 11, 1960, on two counts of criminal abortion.

Negro Voters Back Dems in Two Elections

WASHINGTON—Negro voters cast an overwhelming majority of their ballots for Democratic candidates in the crucial New York and New Jersey elections last week. They kept the Democrats in power in New Jersey and made a heavy contribution to Mayor Robert Wagner's 300,000 vote plurality in New York City.

In the New Jersey election, Republican James Mitchell dropped from three to five per cent behind the vote garnered by Vice President Richard Nixon in the Negro precincts. Returns show that the almost unknown Democratic candidate won close to 70 per cent of the ballots cast by Negroes.

In New York, Mayor Wagner got as high as 82 per cent of the vote in the heavily populated Negro precincts. The mayor's majority was contributed by Negro and Puerto Rican election districts.

ATLANTA VOTE

What was true of New York and New Jersey was equally true in Atlanta's September election where Negro voters lined up almost solidly against a vehemently segregationist candidate. That candidate drew 52 per cent of the vote outside the Negro districts but was swamped in precincts where Negroes are in the majority. He lost his bid for election.

Negro defection to the Democrats since the last presidential election is traceable to approval of Kennedy's appointive policies and to satisfaction with his use of executive powers to correct discrimination. One factor was the administration's handling of the Freedom Rider issue.

500 League Guests Told 'World No Longer White'

By C. MARIE HUGHES

Every day in the year should be proclaimed "Equal Opportunity Day."

This statement was made by the president of the Los Angeles Urban League's Board of Directors, Dwight R. Zook, who presided over the Equal Opportunity Day luncheon Monday. The "Day" is observed annually throughout the nation. It commemorates Lincoln's Gettysburg Address on Nov. 19, 1863.

Featured speaker at the luncheon, which drew 500 or more community citizens to the Golden State Room of the Statler-Hilton Hotel, was J. Stuart Neary, prominent Los Angeles attorney and senior partner of the law firm of Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher.

NEVER AGAIN

"Practical Concept of Equal Opportunity" was the topic of his speech. To accomplish our goal we must obtain a knowledge of the facts, said Neary and have the moral courage and humility to put what we know into effect, particularly in solving the relationship between white and Negro.

He said untold resources of man power represented by minorities are wasted. Neary told of men who had PhD degrees working as chauffeurs because they could get no other jobs.

A standing ovation was given the speaker when he concluded his remarks with a quote from "Notes of a Native Son" by James Baldwin, Negro essayist, "This world is white no longer and it will never be white again."

Resolutions, proclamations, and greetings were given by Gilbert Lindsay, deputy to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn; Councilman Gordon Hann; and Mrs. Ethel Bryant, field representative for Mayor Yorty.

Other participants in the program were Wesley R. Brazier, executive director of the League; Mrs. Vaino Spencer, recently appointed Municipal Court judge; John K. West, vice president of NBC. John Snyder, president of Local 727, International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, served as co-chairmen.

Paint Mixer Dies Following Pool Hall Fight

Henry Martin, a paint mixer, who lived at 4365½ S. Central avenue, died last Sunday in General Hospital.

He had been hospitalized since April 20, when he was admitted in a complete coma after he struck his head on the concrete floor in a one-blow fight at a pool hall at 4208 S. Central avenue.

Donald Woods reportedly admitted hitting Martin, who police said was known as the neighborhood bully, with his fist during an argument. Woods was not held.

Following Martin's death, officers petitioned the D. A. for a warrant for Woods, but the petition was denied.

The Price of Redevelopment

The proposal to redevelop the area surrounding University of Southern California pinpoints the strength and weakness of the urban redevelopment program.

At bottom the redevelopment program is a slum clearance program, designed to refurbish blighted areas. Nobody can doubt that redevelopment of the surrounding neighborhoods will aid USC and none can quarrel with that objective.

The fly in the ointment is that the redevelopment program would displace some 2200 persons whose homes will be replaced with non-residential property. Some 800 of those who would be replaced are Negroes.

All of the displaced would undergo a certain amount of hardship but the burden would be doubled, and more than doubled, for the Negroes involved. Displaced Negroes would find it far more difficult to find comparable homes than the whites involved.

The hardship arises out of the fact that discrimination against Negro home seekers, whether buyers or renters, is rampant in Los Angeles and its suburban areas. When Negroes are redeveloped out of one slum they're shoved into another substandard Jim Crow area.

Such discrimination exists by the deliberate choice of some of the persons most interested in the redevelopment of the area surrounding the University of Southern California — the bankers, the realtors, the financiers, the builders and the developers who support the university and who want to see its surroundings beautified.

The harsh truth is that the University of Southern California itself has exhibited little interest in the welfare of Negroes. It has done next to nothing to create a climate of public opinion favorable to Negroes, or members of other minority groups.

As conditions now stand, and unless Negroes can be shown that they can find housing in non-segregated neighborhoods comparable to those they now occupy in the proposed redevelopment area, they will have no choice except to oppose the redevelopment plan. That's unfortunate for USC but as the folk phrase has it the man who makes his bed hard can't complain if he has to lie in it.

Choosing a Union

The Amalgamated Association of Motor Coach Employes and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen are engaged in another contest for the right to represent employes of the Metropolitan Transit Authority.

When the two unions fought it out a few years ago we urged Negro employes to vote for Amalgamated. We cling to that opinion. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has a long and unsavory history as far as Negroes are concerned. It was one of the railroad brotherhoods that tried to drive Negroes off of railway lines for years. It participated in a campaign of violence that resulted in the outright murder of Negro employes.

The Brotherhood has changed some of its ways but not all of them. It has dropped the "Caucasians only" clause that disgraced its constitution for years. However, the Brotherhood still refuses to admit Negro railway brakemen to full membership. It connives with the railroads to keep Negroes listed as porters even when they perform the services of brakemen.

The Brotherhood local that now represents MTA employes doesn't draw a color line and hasn't done so since it was selected as the bargaining agent for those employes. It can't; state law forbids it to do so. As far as we know it has dealt fairly with its Negro members.

However, we can't escape the feeling that Negroes should not select a local of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen as their bargaining agent, no matter what the racial policies of the particular local may be. When they are offered a choice Negroes should not pay their dues to an international union which actively discriminates against other Negroes in other parts of the country.

Sign Recall Petitions

The recall election against Councilman Joe Hollingsworth of the 10th District got under way last week when the Committee began circulation of petitions to put the recall on the ballot.

As we understand it, the law requires the signatures of approximately seven thousand voters in this case. Those voters must live in the 10th District.

Getting that many signatures is a large and difficult task and it can't be done without the active aid and cooperation of 10th District voters. When a petition circulator shows up at your home be prepared to sign, and sign your name correctly.

The case for the recall is too plain to require much argument. Mr. Hollingsworth was foisted on the 10th District by eight other councilmen who don't live in the district and who have no concern for its welfare.

The recall election will give voters a chance to choose their own representatives, a privilege now enjoyed by voters in all of the other fourteen districts.

There's no reason under the sun why the 10th District shouldn't choose its own representative in City Council. A vote for the recall is a vote for democracy.

South Africa Relents

Trapped between the devil and the deep blue sea, the South African government has decided to let Chief Albert Luthuli go to Oslo to receive his Nobel Peace Prize.

The gimmick is that the prize winner can remain out of the country for only ten days — a time deliberately shortened so that he will be unable to fulfill prospective speaking engagements in the United States and England.

There's another string attached. Under South Africa law, Chief Luthuli must take the cash he receives back to his homeland, pay taxes on it, and spend it there. Unless he does so he is liable to a heavy fine and imprisonment. South Africa needs foreign currency and the requirement is that the prize winner must collect the cash in person. It couldn't be sent to him.

What it all adds up to is that South Africa is letting Chief Luthuli out of the country just long enough to get his money and pay a heavy income tax. And of course, the taxes will be used to strengthen the racial discrimination against which Luthuli has fought. The grim joke is that he won the prize for his fight against that discrimination!

Loren Miller Says . . .

YES, SUH, BOSS

A friend of mine, or at least a former friend of mine, Joe Albright, showed up in New York the other day to give Columbia University students a report on Mississippi. It seems that Joe is now a resident of Jefferson Davis' old home state and that he has done fairly well for himself. His fare to New York was paid by the Mississippi commission that is charged with the responsibility of saving the state for Jim Crow, or saving Jim Crow for the state, whichever way you want to look at it.

Anyhow, Joe reported that all is well in Mississippi. He said that Negroes are happy with the way things are going down there and that there would not be any trouble at all if the agitators would just stop trying to stir up trouble between the kindly white folks and their happy Negro neighbors. One of the students wanted to know about the absence of Negroes in the state legislature but Joe said that didn't matter. White legislators, he said, are perfectly willing to legislate for the welfare of their colored constituents.

MORE OF SAME

There was more in the same vein but the speech ended on a hilarious note when a student asked about the almost total lack of Negro voters in the state. Joe said he wouldn't know much about that; he explained that he had only lived in the state for a year. Obviously, all Joe needed was a bandana and a thatch of white hair. With those additions he would have been a perfect Uncle Tom.

The reason I am devoting this space to Joe and his antics is that when his story appeared in the Eagle an irate customer called me up and said we ought to be ashamed of printing such things. He said it gave other people a bad impression of Negroes and that we ought to keep our troubles to ourselves. Negroes, he yelled, were the only people on earth who produced Joe Albrights. I knew the man was wrong but I didn't have a ready example.

BY THE DOZEN

Last week I picked up the papers and read where South African Jews had given Israel a dressing down. The burden of their complaint was that Israel had voted in favor of the United Nations censure of South Africa for its racial policies. The South African Jews wanted everybody to know that they stood solidly behind Erich Louw, the South African minister of foreign affairs who had complained about the censure. South Africa, they said, had aided Israel in its early days and it was downright unfair for Israel to repay that kindness with support of the UN resolution.

Of course, Israel was right and the South African Jews were wrong. South African nationalists who invented Apartheid are kissing cousins of the Nazis who tried to exterminate Jews. There's no difference between South African treatment of Negroes and the Nazi treatment of Jews. And South African Jews who think they can buy their peace by putting in with race baiters are as far off base as Negroes who try to curry favor with our home grown Hitlers by mouthing anti-Jewish sentiments. There are more of such people than we like to admit, as I am reminded every time I read the local organ of the Muslims.

There's small comfort in it but the South African story set me to thinking that all Uncle Toms aren't Negroes and all of them don't live in Mississippi. South Africa raises them by the dozen.

Boycott Lucky Lager

ing, however, it was agreed that he and representatives of the businessmen would continue to negotiate with a view to arriving at a mutually agreeable settlement.

Lucky Lager reportedly sells about 17 per cent of all the beer sold in the western states and 55 per cent of the beer sold in So. California. With such extensive sales, the company employs only one Negro as a company representative. He covers all Negro establishments in Arizona, Nevada, California, Utah, Washington and Oregon.

The businessmen's group is the first organization of this type in Los Angeles. This concerted use of buying power by Negro businssmen, the CNBA states, will set a precedent of far reaching consequences.

The boycott is backed by the California Eagle, the L.A. Sentinel, CORE and the Teamsters Rank and File Committee, in addition to other civic groups.

The association notes the great buying power controlled by the Negro community and is attempting to eliminate certain injustices in the beer and liquor industry by combined and concerted selective buying.

NAACP to Defend Riders In Jackson

NEW YORK—The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund will assume the legal defense of Freedom Riders who were arrested in Jackson, Miss., it was announced here this week.

Legal Defense Fund attorneys agreed to come into the Jackson cases after negotiations with James Farmer, national director, and Carl Rachlin, general counsel of the Congress of Racial Equality, which sponsored the Freedom Rides.

Jack Greenberg, the fund's general counsel, estimated that the cost of the legal work alone in the Jackson cases could reach $75,000. He stated this amount should cover the defense of the more than 300 demonstrators arrested in Jackson since last May.

NEGROES ADMITTED

As a result of the continuing pressure, the bars began to be let down, and three Negro players were permitted to participate in pro tournaments. They were Charles Sifford and Ray Botts of Los Angeles, and Dick Thomas of Baltimore.

About a year ago the golfers obtained strong support from Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk who ruled that PGA tournaments could not be played on public links in California unless all players were admitted without race restrictions.

Guy Belette, president of the California PGA, told the Eagle that in dropping the Caucasian only rule, the association placed no other restrictions on membership for members of minority groups.

William Spencer Laid to Rest

Members of the community gathered at Second Baptist Church last Saturday to pay a final tribute to William Virgil Spencer, 74, who retired a few years ago after 45 years of postal service in Los Angeles. He was active in the affairs of Second Baptist Church and served as secretary of its Trustee Board. He also served as chairman of the retired letter carrier group.

Mr. Spencer is survived by his wife Minnie, of 4320 4th avenue, and three sons, Roy, Charles and Lorenzo; two daughters, Cecelia Troy, and Mabel Troy; two brothers, Henry of Bakersfield and Jim Robert Spencer of Las Vegas; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Brice of Lancaster; 13 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. For many yqears the Spencers lived on North Commonwealth avenue in Hollywood.

American Industry To be Seen in Ghana

The major role that small industry can play in a country's overall economic development will be demonstrated in Accra, Ghana, from Nov. 24 to Dec. 24, when the U. S. will present a United States Industries Exhibition.

All Will Die in Atom War, Says Pauling

clear war, and accordingly it would increase our danger, rather than making the world a safer place for the American nation and the American people."

In discussing the number of casualties, Pauling says:

"My own estimate is that a great nuclear war in which a major part of the nuclear weapons stockpiled by the U. S. and the U.S.S.R. was used would result in the death of 170 million of the 180 million Americans within 60 days, and that the surviving 10 million would also soon die.

"If a great program of shelter construction were to be initiated, I estimate that the nuclear war that could be expected ofter completion of the shelter program would result in the death within 60 days of the same fraction of the American people, and the probable death of the 10 million 60-day survivors within a year.

EXTINCTION OF U. S.

"The United States would cease to exist as a nation, and the American people would all be dead.

"The U.S.S.R. would cease to exist as a nation, and the Russian people would all be dead.

"Probably most of the other European nations would cease to exist, and the European people would be dead."

Pauling points out that his estimates differ greatly from those made elsewhere. He quotes "Life" magazine (Sept. 15) as claiming that if fallout shelters are constructed, 97 per cent of the American people would survive. Dr. Edward Teller is quoted from "U. S. News and World Report" (Sept. 25) as saying that 90 per cent of the U. S. population could be saved if proper preparations are made, but that without that preparation 130 million to 140 million would die.

SCIENTISTS' VIEW

Pauling, in substantiating his views, quotes thorough scientific studies made by the Rand Corporation on "The Distribution and Effects of Fallout in Large Nuclear-Weapon Campaigns."

These sources state that in a 10,000 megaton attack on the United States, with a probable error in delivery of about 100 miles, 170,000,000 people would be dead at the end of 60 days. Eight million of the survivors would be seriously wounded and would presumably die quickly. The remaining two million would have to cope with the delayed effects of the bomb explosions.

The delayed effects are given as "the disorganization of society, the disruption of communications, the extinction of livestock, genetic damage, and the slow development of radiation poisoning from the ingestion of radioactive materials in the air, water and foodstuffs."

SHELTERS INEFFECTICE

Where fallout shelters exist and the population is trained to use them, Pauling quotes the Rand scientists as stating that the number of casualties would be approximately the same, providing the attack was four times as great.

This would mean that the population of this country would be totally destroyed if the USSR mounted a 40,000 megaton attack. Pauling thinks "it is resonable to expect that Russia would respond to a greater program of shelter construction in the United States by rapidly increasing her stockpile of nuclear weapons, and that by the time the shelter program was complete, she might be able to launch a 40,000 megaton attack."

DESTRUCTION IN RUSSIA

Similarly, Pauling believes that Russia and the Russian people would be totally destroyed in a nuclear war. Without shelters, it would take 20,000 megatons to pulverize the country. With shelters, it would take four times that amount, or 80,000 megatons. Pauling thinks the 80,000 megaton attack on the Soviet Union "is not an impossibility" four years hence, by the time a U.S.S.R. shelter program would be completed.

He concludes his article by quoting the declaration of 35 physical and biological scientists and 25 social scientists from 15 countries in Oslo in May of this year:

NO DEFENSE

"We consider that no dispute can justify nuclear war . . . There is no adequate defense against nuclear weapons that could not be overcome by increasing the scale of the attack . . . The nuclear weapons of the great nations have explosive einergy many thousands of times that of all the explosives used in all past wars. These bombs in a war would kill a large part of the world's people . . . In view of the danger and instability of the present arms race, the only sane policy for the world is that of achieving general and complete world disarmament with suitable international control and inspection."

Name Killers

cenary as Lumumba's actual killer.

The report stated:

1. "The weight of evidence is against the official version" of the government of the Katanga Province that Lumumba, Joseph Okito, and Maurice Mpolo were killed by certain tribesmen on Feb. 12, 1961.

2. "On the contrary," the commission accept as substantially true the evidence indicating that the prisoners were killed on Jan. 17 after their arrival in a villa not far from Elisabethville and in all probability in the presence of high officials of the government of Katanga Province," including Tshombe. "The escape story was staged."

3. "A great deal of suspicion is cast on a certain Col. Buyghe, a Belgian mercenary, as being the actual perpetrator of Mr. Lumumba's murder which was comitted in accordance with a prearranged plan, and that a certain Capt. Gat, also a Belgian mercenary, was at all times an accessory to the crime."

Letters to The Editor

Gentlemen:

Four years ago, our accounting firm moved to new quarters and in the process disposed of unwanted accumulated material. Included in the unwanted category were a number of envelopes, approximately one thousand, which bore the old address. We deposited these envelopes in refuse cans located at 215 S. La Cienega boulevard in Beverly Hills.

Two years ago, a letter was forwarded to our new address by the post office. This letter contained the irate feelings of a member of our Negro minority. This party was the recipient of a form letter and article mailed in an envelope with our old mailing address. I read the article and form letter and a feeling of nausea quickly developed. The scavengers of the garbage can were dispensing odorous garbage under an official guise of respectability to a maligned minority race. I forwarded this letter to the postal authorities in hopes that the culprits could be apprehended.

On November 3, 1961, I received a telephone call from an attorney, who represents the Los Angeles office of the Liberian consul. His client, an honored diplomat from a nation that our country has been proud to be associated with, received a letter reeking with stench filled words and opinions. This epistle of venom was enclosed in an envelope commandeered from the depths of a garbage can four years ago and was composed by the "White Citizens Council of Los Angeles." The Liberian consul was insulted and provoked justifiably.

I could at this time express my viewpoints on race relations but it would serve no purpose or help. I do wish to warn unsuspecting respectable citizens to destroy all unwanted stationery before disposing of same, for they can become innocent victims of the maggots of society—the "human" race haters.

To the recipients of envelopes containing hate material, I and millions of others apologize for the dastardly actions of the cancerous minds of our world. In their case, the garbage can portrays the condition of their minds better than any number of words.

Respectfully,
William Friedland

TO THE EDITOR:

The following letter was sent Nov. 11 to the president of the University of Southern California:

DEAR SIR:

I find most offensive the caricature of a Negro in the poster on the front lawn of the Delta Tau Delta house on your campus which I pass daily on my way to my office.

I think this is a monument to the successful evasion of culture and the study of the humanities in your institution and a gross example of your obvious lack of care and control over these fraternal houses whose fine examples of American college culture on your campus have so recently included a publicly proved homicide and aggravated assault, and, as I have discovered in professional confidence, a particularly disgusting case of mass rape.

I think your permitting such a public display of racial derogation is utterly shameful.

PLATFORM PLEDGES

In a news release Tuesday, the NAACP pointed out that the Democratic Party platform specifically stated that the Democratic Administration "will take action to end discrimination in the Federal Housing program, including Federally assisted housing."

It was also pointed out that Pres. Kennedy in a campaign speech in Los Angeles stated his own feeling regarding the problem in these words:

"The next President must be prepared to put an end to racial and religious discrimination in every field of Federal activity by issuing a long delayed executive order to end race discrimination in Federally subsidized and supported housing."

DUE SATURDAY

Pres. Kennedy is due to fly to Los Angeles from San Diego, attend the Palladium banquet, then rest on Sunday before returning to Washington Sunday night.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, California Democratic National Committeeman and general chairman for the dinner, said he expects 2500 guests at the affair.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown is honorary chairman, Edwin W. Pauley dinner chairman, and U.S. Sen. Clair Engle honorary vice-chairman.

Entertainment at the affair will be provided by Nat King Cole, actor Ralph Bellamy and Nelson Riddle's orchestra.

Supreme Court Hears Argument In Virginia Case

WASHINGTON—In oral argument before the Supreme Court last Wednesday, NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter urged the Court to declare unconstitutional a Virginia law which imperils the license of any attorney who accepts "employment, retainer, compensation or costs" from the NAACP or any organization which raises funds to be used in civil rights litigation.

The law brands such conduct barratry and subjects the attorney to disbarment proceedings.

Pasadena District Harmony Reported

"The recent planning meeting of the Pasadena District of the Southern California Conference of the Fifth Episcopal District of the AME Church, was without a doubt one of the most enthusiastic and fruitful meetings of its kind ever held in the district," according to Rev. Frank H. Mays, pastor of Allen Chapel AME Church of San Bernardino.

The meeting was held at Allen Chapel in Riverside with the Rev. George W. Baber, the host pastor. Presiding Elder A. K. Quinn presided over the meeting with his wife Mrs. Hallie Del Quinn officiating at the console of the organ during the devotionals preceeding the sessions.

REALIZATION

Among the heart warming experiences of the sessions was the report of the conversion of young Jimmie Quinn who was stopped on his way home from school by a "rushing wind" which proved to be a spiritual experience which brought the youngster into a realization of Christianity. It was a spiritual occasion for all who heard the experience from the lips of the new Christian." Rev. Mays said.

The young people, from El Centro who attended the meeting, were among those who rejoiced with young Quinn. The opening devotionals were conducted by Rev. B. C. Carter, Rev. S. B. Washington and Rev. Mays.

The business meetings consisted of organization, with the election of officers and an outlining of the year's work and discussion of the quarterly meetings to be held during the year. Harmony, love, brotherhood and fellowship was manifested among the brethern who pledged their loyal support to the district and to the Presiding Elder, according to Rev. Mays.

LAYMEN ALSO

New ministers in the district: Revs. J. N. Harris of Brown Memorial, Pasadena; George W. Baber of Riverside; W. B. Simpson of Primm Tabernacle, Pomona and Frank Mays of San Bernardino were introduced.

Among the laymen attending were H. H. Pettigrew, Willis Tucker, Sigman Thomas, Sadys Burton, James Tarver, Ruth Patterson and many others.

During the dinner served by the Allen Chapel hostesses, Presiding Elder Quinn commended the outstanding work being done among the young people by Rev. Mack Reed of Johnson Chapel in El Centro and the leadership among laymen carried out by H. H. Pettigrew.

Among the pastors attending were E. P. Williams, Paul Kidd, J. N. Harris, B. C. Collins, V. L. Brenson, Stephen Davis, W. B. Simpson, S. B. Washington and Revs. Baber, Mays, Reed and Presiding Elder Quinn mentioned before.

AME Retreat Scheduled

A retreat for AME teachers and leaders will be held next Friday and Saturday in united worship services with Ward, Price Chapel, Second, Bethel, Grant and First AME-by-the-Sea churches participating.

The retreat opens at Second AME Church, 6606 S. Hoover avenue at 7:30 p.m. on Friday with the Rev. C. Baker Pearle as the guest speaker in Rev. C. D. Toliver's church.

E. G. ALLEN

he was greeted by a number of friends and cards and a large gay birthday cake bearing greetings and his name alongside of a miniature telephone atop the cake.

Mr. Allen was breathless as the day wore on and friends and relatives dropped in at the office to offer felicitations on his 81st birthday. There were numerous gifts and cards accompanied by much merrymaking, according to the report.

The tireless contributions in time and energy for community improvement and Christian development and activities among the young people by Mr. Allen was commended by some of those present. His integrity and enthusiasm was cited as a tower of strength in the community. His zest for life and good humor as well as his sage advice to young people make him much in demand as a confidant for all age groups.

Bethel's Choir Selects Queen

Mrs. Wallacestine Gilmore, a member of the Gospel Choir of Bethel AME Church, was crowned the Gospel Choir Queen of Bethel during the program sponsored by the choir at the church recently.

Dr. Fred E. Stephens, minister of the church, placed the crown on the head of the charming queen, who won the honor in a contest with several other members of the group. She was seated on a throne and presented gifts and flowers.

The "Le Chante Moi," an evening in song, was a complete success. The fame of the choir was such that an overflow audience packed the house. Many persons were turned away, others stood on the steps and in the vestibule to hear the beautiful musical program under the direction of Mrs. Delores Hammond.

Dr. Stephens commended the group on its excellent program. He gave special tribute to the president, Mrs. Marietta Whaling; the Queen, Mrs. Gilmore; and the runner-up, Mrs. Yvonne Thomas, as well as the other officers and members of the choir.

The financial record of the choir now surpasses any department of the church. Conference year competition was set into high gear by this organization of singers.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

The Fresno State Athletic Director has assured the Mercy Bowl General Committee that at least 5,000 Fresno State students, townsmen and civic officials will be at the Coliseum on Thanksgiving Day, when Fresno will gallop against Bowling Green in the Mercy Bowl Classic.

The game will be played in the interest of the Cal Poly Plane Crash Fund. A throng of 100,000 is estimated for the Mercy Bowl gigantic and more that 20,000 are expected from the Fresno district.

More than $200,000 is needed to take care of the expense of burial, hospitalization and medical care for those who were involved in the Cal Poly plane crash at Toledo, Ohio last Oct. 29. In this tragedy, 17 Cal Poly boys were killed, and more than 20 others were seriously injured.

Mercy Bowl tickets are priced at $3 each, and may be purchased at any Thrifty Drug Store, Automobile Club of So. Cal. Los Angeles State College, Fresno State College and Helms Hall.

In Fresno State and Bowling Green you have two of the sturdiest football teams in the nation. Fresno is undefeated with seven straight wins, and Bowling Green has a record of 6 wins and one loss. One of the nicest gifts for the family on Thanksgiving Day is to attend this game and give thanks to men like Dr. Ferron Losee, Los Angeles County Supervisor Warren Dorn, Roy Hughes, Frank Modugno, Bill Schroeder and Commissioner Kenneth Fagans for heading the general committee. Our attendance at this game means a great deal.

Others pitching to make this game a success are the baseball interests, the Dodgers and the Giants. Walter F. O'Malley and Horace Stoneham announce that they will sponsor and pay for a non-commercial broadcast of the game on a network of twenty-five stations throughout California and Nevada. Four baseball anouncers of the Giants and Dodgers will air the game. Vin Scully and Jerry Doggett, of the Dodgers, and Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons, of the Giants. Each will contribute his broadcasting fee to the Cal Poly Fund.

Santa Monica Bakersfield In Top Game

By Edw. "Able" Robinson

The stakes will be high when unbeaten Santa Monica City College football team tangles with unbeaten Bakersfield this Saturday night at Bakersfield.

The Corsairs from Santa Monica, fresh from a rousing 30 to 14 victory over the Long Beach Vikings, will be shooting for the Metro Conference title and a bid to Junior Rose Bowl and so will Bakersfield.

The Corsairs, now nursing a fat 8-0 record for the season and a 6-0 in league play go up against powerful Bakersfield which also defeated Long Beach three weeks ago.

In the Long Beach game Santa Monica's Boyd Carter's two touchdown passes broke a 1958 school record of 13 touchdown passes in a single season established by Pat Young. Carter has now tossed a total of 14 TD passes.

Among the stellar Corsair players expected to see action in the showdown battle against the powerful Bakersfield squad are John Forbes, Herb Ivy, Charlie McNeal, Howard Meadows and A. J. Bailey.

Bailey, a fleet footed halfback, is the team's second leading ground gainer with a 5 yard per carry average.

Junior Rose Bowl chairman John Lamb stated that selection of the eastern and western representatives to the famed post-season classic will be named Sunday, Nov. 19.

Patterson Arrives

Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson arrived in Toronto, Canada, last week and opened training for his 15-round title bout against young Tom McNeeley of Boston at Toronto on Dec. 4.

Arriving with the champion were seven sparring partners. He expects to box four or five days a week until the fight.

Five Returning Lettermen Greeted By Wave Cage Coach

With the Pepperdine basketball squad cut to twelve team members, Coach Robert L. "Duck" Dowell got down to the business of molding a team this week with the season some 30 days away.

Five returning lettermen are on hand, along with two promising transfers and several outstanding players from last year's freshman team. The Waves have several boys in the 6-5 category, but lack the necessary big man for board strength.

Coach "Duck" is currently in his 14th season at Pepperdine and should rely on the 1960 team leading scorer, Noel Smith. Smith dropped in 312 points and had 185 rebounds during the 1960 season when he was a sophomore. Harry Dinnel was the team's leading rebounder with 303 and was also credited with 296 points.

Only player on the squad with two year's experience is Tim Tift, 6-5 center. Tift had both 122 rebounds and points last esason. Lee Tinsley, who saw a majority of action last year on the freshman team has been progressing fast and may get the starting call at a guard position. Two promising transfers will wage a duel for the remaining guard spot and include Bob Matthews or Bob Warlick.

Warlick was named Jr. College All-American at Pueblo (Colorado) J. C. last year. He also saw service for Denver University while a freshman and made All-State while attending Hickory High School in North Carolina. Bob is 6-5 and tips the scales at 220. Matthews is a promising athlete and floorman who played frosh ball for Oklahoma State University last season. He was All-Conference and All-State for Muskogee Central High School. John Matthews and Warlick are juniors.

Others who figure prominently in the 61-62 squad are Ted Bridges, who averaged 18 points per game for the freshmen last year; and, Dick LeRoy 6-5 forward who saw action last year with the varsity. Those who Dowell hopes to bolster his squad in the future are Wally Jones, 6-1 guard from San Marino; Zay LeFevre, 6-5½ sophomore from Big Springs, Texas; Roger Pembroke, 6-1 guard from Fullerton; and Dave Dougan, sturdy 6-3 forward from Concord.

ACTION — Durable Archie Moore getting his Xmas shopping done late this year has signed to meet Canada's top heavyweight Bob Cleroux at Montreal on Dec. 5 in a 10-rounder.

Manual Clinches Loop Grid Crown

Manual Arts clinched the Southern League football crowd with a 24 to 6 win over Dorsey before 5100 fans.

Manual scored 12 points in the first quarter, six in second and six more in the third to wrap up the game.

Jefferson High's hopes of winning its first game of the season were only hopes when the final gun sounded and the Democrats found themselves on the short end of a 20 to 6 score at the hands of L.A. High.

Democrats who have had tough sledding all season took the lead in the first period on a 24 yard touchdown pass from quarterback Edward Strong to end Tommy Gillet.

However L. A. bounced back and tied the score in the second period and punched across two more TDs in the third and fourth period to ice the game.

Boys Flag Grid Tourney Slated

Open to boys from all recreation agencies, the Annual Boys Flag Football Tournament of Champions will get underway Saturday, November 18, under sponsorship of the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Any local agency or recreation department which has its own tournament, in which a champion is determined, may enter the county's Flag Football Tournament of Champions.

Fullback Duel Looms for Pro Bowl Classic

The upcoming 12th anual All-Star Pro Bowl game Jan. 14 at the Coliseum may turn into a duel between the fullbacks. At the moment Jim "The Champ" Brown, ground gaining ace of the Cleveland Browns, and Jim "Knock Em Down" Taylor of the Green Bay Packers, are setting up a natural duel as rival fullbacks for the classic.

Just as they are dominating NFL rushing statistics, Brown and Taylor are running well ahead in balloting for all-star fullback berths in the Eastern and Western divisions respectively.

Brown and Taylor have each been nominated four times, with Brown having no-contest in the East and Detroit's Nick Pietrosante giving Taylor a run in the west.

While Taylor and Pietrosante appear 1-2 cinches for the West's two fullback berths, a scramble has developed behind Brown for the East's No. 2 berth. Clarence Peake of the Eagles, John Henry Johnson of the Steeler, Prentice Gautt of the Cardinals and Don Boessler of the Redskins are all possibles.

Joe Pearson Runs Spark 21-20 Upset

More than 16,000 fans watched scatback Joe Pearson of Wilson High rambled for three touchdowns on runs of 11, 16, and 20 yards to give Wilson a 21 to 20 upset victory over favorite Long Beach Poly last Friday in a CIF biggie.

Pearson also broke the Moore League record for ground gaining as he romped for 116 yards to bring his total for seven games to 1136. The old record was set by Willie Brown of USC in eight games.

His three touchdowns brought his season total to 101 points.

Orange Blossom Set for Dec. 9

The 29th annual Orange Blossom Classic, sponsored by Florida A&M University of Tallahassee, will be played in the famed Orange Bowl Stadium, on Sat., night, Dec. 9.

Edwin T. Demeritte, a 1958 graduate of Florida A&M and president of the Miami Alumni Chapter, is vice chairman of the Orange Blossom Classic and Festival committee.

Dee Andrews Shoots For New Record Sat.

Now that Long Beach City College is clear out of the conference title and a bid to the Junior Rose Bowl, all that is left for coach Jim Stangeland's crew in their game with Valley College this Saturday is for Dee Andrews to be in top form.

"Dazzling Dee" has already broken the school rushing records for one game (234 yards) and for two seasons (1777 yards to date) needs only three points to pass the two-year scoring record of 144 points.

Still leading the Metropolitan Conference with 82 points so far this year, he could erase teammate Lonzo Irvin's single-season record of 102 points.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

The Gardena Valley Open was held at Western Ave. on Nov. 9-12. It was co-sponsored by Gardena Valley Kiwanis Club and the Los Angeles County Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

We are happy to report that this tournament was the most sensational and competitive affair that has ever been promoted at Western Ave.

We were thrilled to see so many Negro amateur and professional players participating.

We must congratulate the winner, Jimmy Clark, who broke a record by winning the tournament two straight years. His score was 67-68-66-$1000.

We were exceedingly proud of Charles Sifford who led the field when he eased in Saturday evening with a sizzling 65. Sunday morning every professional on the field was out to get "Charlie Hoss" and, since he is human, the pressure was too great. His putter went cold and caused him to score 68-65-71-$600.

Bill Spiller shot a hot 68 the first day but fell back into 74-72. Alton Duhon did very well by shooting 72-74-68 and since he was an amateur this fine score intitled him to a $25 certificate in the pro-shop. Henry Barbin was the only consistent pro; he shot 72-72-72.

Willie Jefferson, who was recently hired by Earl Martin (Western Ave. pro), shot the same score as his employer. Willie shot 73-74-71 and Earl carded 70-76-72. But Earl thrilled the gallery when he made a Hole-in-One which the crowd witnessed. Earl did not forget to thank the Almighty for this miracle in golf.

Rufus James and "Skeeter" Green did their part by playing. This was James' first trial as a pro. He scored 69-78-72. Better luck next time, James.

One incident that might have been responsible for upsetting Sifford was when Larry Mowry of Birmingham, Mich., accidently kicked his ball under a tree and had to be called back to replace it.

Ray Fulce shot 71-74-74. Ray is a very young golfer and should be encouraged. Another highlight of the tournament was when Jack Fleck (who became famous when he beat the great Ben Hogan) decided to try his luck again by attempting to blast out of the ditch on the 18th hole. He had to shoot through a line of trees with a space as wide as the eye of a needle. The ball bounced back in his face; the crowd pleaded with him to throw out but not Jack Fleck, he was determined. After hitting the tree 3 times he finally got out and scored a 7. We have to admit that Jack Fleck has all steel nerves and is a natural gambler.

We would like to compliment Bill Johnston, chairman of the Kiwanis, for giving us all the consideration the press was accorded; Mel Gallegar, sports editor of the Examiner, for making us welcome and comfortable in the press room, and all of the Negro players who had the courage to play.

Exceptional Children's Opportunity New $80,000 School-Home Dedicated

The Exceptional Children's Opportunity School, under the expert guidance of hard working and winsome Juanita C. Macklin Mitchell, opened a bright new chapter in its history when some 300 guests witnessed the dedication of the new $80,000 school-home at an impressive ceremony last Sunday on the school's grounds at 12204 S. San Pedro street.

The school-home was organized in 1950 for the care and training of the mentally retarded child as a result of the initiative on the part of Mrs. Mitchell and a group of interested community citizens who decided to do something about the gross neglect of such children in our community.

Since 1950 the group has been working hard toward this modern, up-to-date schoolhome, which will provide day and resident care for the children and which also includes a program that places special emphasis on arts, crafts, field trips and special holiday parties.

Participating on the dedication program were the Girl Scouts, Tommy Roberts, Evelyn Freeman, Fannie Benjamin, Bixie Crawford, Rev. St. Paul Epps, Atty. Pauline Epstein, Hon. Judge Thomas L. Griffith, Assemblyman Gus Hawkins, Margo Wilkins Smith, "99" Elks Foundation, representatives from Mayor Sam Yorty's and Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's offices, Theresa A. Mitchell and Rabbi Chaim Weinstein.

Harold Roach introduced California Eagle publisher, Loren Miller, who served as master of ceremonies. In turn Mr. Miller introduced Rev. James H. Hargett, of the Church of Christian Fellowship, who gave an inspiring dedication address. Later Mr. Roach introduced special guests and presented plaques and scrolls to the many organizations, business firms and individuals who supported the building fund drive and helped make Mrs. Mitchell's dream come true.

Special mention was given to Isadore Cohen of Pic-Son Bakery whose company has been providing the schoolhome with bread for the past four years free. He received a standing ovation.

Individuals and members of organizations are welcome to visit the school and tour the grounds and also to inquire as to how they can support the many wonderful programs designed to aid a mentally sick child whose unfortunate plight breaks your heart.

The Exceptional Children's School, under a very capable staff, furnishes the kind of care sought by all parents of retarded children.

ZENITH SOCIAL CLUB — Members of the popular club which has been supporting the Exceptional School for some 10 years are shown with plaque awarded to them for outstanding service. From left: Christable Jacobs, Versia L. Hawkins, Answilla Stewart, Julia Bailey, Eula Earles, Assemblyman Gus Hawkins, Mary Wiley and Maurice Saunders. Mr. Hawkins presented the school with two American flags which once flew over the State Capitol in Sacramento. (Adams)

FEELING OF BELONGING — Representatives of various groups which have given upwards of $1,000 toward the new school-home building program display awards during the dedication ceremonies last Sunday. Seated from left: Kathriene Cook, Mrs. Henry Iverson, Mrs. Gladys Chism, Versia L. Hawkins, Lovie Austin and Atty. Pauline Epstein. Standing: George Bilson, Herbert A. Greenwood, Pete Bertino, Frank A. Downey, George Touchard, Lenneth R. Garrett and Dick Bach. (Adams)

Ernest Weaver was buried Tues. Zrelda Sealey had the Friday Nighters in. Jerry McIntosh flew to Jacksonville to his mother's funeral. Long Beach's Dr. and Mrs. Charles Terry (Ruby) agreed on separate addresses. Marian Downs Pierce returns from the east in time for Thanksgiving. The Thirteen Aids Charity Club met with Leticia McDonald. Billie Miller off to Kansas City for Thanksgiving and longer; she and Curtis go to Africa next year.

Paul Ellsworth, vacation-minded, will be off to the Caribbean, Mexico City and probably into S'America. Dr. and Mrs. Robt. Woods (Geraldine) and family will jet to Fla. in time for Xmas with her mother. Barbara Mounts has fingers crossed; her sister, Gladys Martin, may ocean-hop from Tokyo in time for Xmas. EPU's meet Sat. with Dorothy Fawcett. The Earl Grants (Flora) of Pasadena, with his sister-in-law, Lola Grant, and Pearl Bratton Smith picked up their bags and gaily dashed up to the Turlock ranch of the Grants; of course they have S.F. on their list, too.

TO EUROPE

Things are happy-happy-talk over at Elois Davis'. She and her three offspring decided on a late June departure via boat for Europe. They've taken a place on the Riviera (with secondary hopes of a place nearer Paris) for the summer, making car trips all over the place, too. Chuck Davis, attending the Sorbonne, almost can't wait for their arrival. And back at the Davis address, here, everyone has started French lessons. That is, when they're not all tracing foreign road maps and exclaiming "Let's go there on the way here!"

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

I apologize to Jeanne Tatum, Archie Newton, Azelia Monroe, Harry Haynes, Douglas Ford, Diana Kelley, Evelyn Holloway, Gilbert Calhoun, Daisy Tatum and Jerry Gaston for not getting their news in concerning the discussion held last week on "The Importance of Your Vote." It was agreed at the conclusion of this discussion, held by these teenagers, that your vote is a privilege and can be used to serve many purposes. It should be executed to the best advantage.

Attended the Twentieth Century Onyx Club meeting Saturday eve at the home of Mildred Morrison. Topic of discussion was the Christmas dance to be given at La Patio in December. A swanky affair is in the making—more later. A tasty repast was served by the hostess and afterwards we members trekked over to sip and dip for the NAACP, which was a gala affair.

Mingling with the crowd, I saw the Kelleys, Browns, Johnsons, Miltons, Lewises and Ruth Gibson, all of Ventura, and the Morrisons, Lights, Macks, Calhouns and scads more from Oxnard. Cookie Smith drove up from L. A.;

Debs to Be Feted With Luncheon

The pre-Cotillion social whirl reached its peak on Saturday, Nov. 4th, when the Los Angeles Chapter of Links, Inc., entertained their current group of debutantes at an exquisitely arranged luncheon at the Westwood home of Judge and Mrs. David Williams. Each young lady is sponsored by an individual member of the organization, and will make her formal bow to society at the Tenth Annual Cotillion in the Grand Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton Hotel, on Nov. 18th.

While awaiting the arrival of the entire group, the guests were served delicious punch, and participated in the gay chatter and cameraderie. The young ladies served themselves from a heavily laden buffet table, and were seated at beautifully set round tables located in the glass-enclosed playroom area of the Williams' home, which overlooks their pool and artistically landscaped terrace.

The tables were laid with gold colored cloths, and to carry out the fall decoration motif, the centerpieces for each table were artistic arrangements of bronze hued chrysanthemums, in gold epergnes.

At each girl's place was a gold gift box, daintily tied with white and gold satin ribbon, which contained an elaborately embroidered, initialed white handkerchief. Mrs. Williams, chairman of the Cotillionettes, expressed the hope to the debs that they would cherish this gift, and made the sentimental suggestion that they be used on another important day of their lives—their wedding day.

Link guests present were Mrs. Cecil Murrell, president; Mrs. Robert Garrott, general Cotillion chairman, and Mrs. Lamar Hill, souvenir program.

Mrs. Edgar Johnson was responsible for the arrangements for the luncheon and was ably assisted by Mrs. Elbert Hudson, Mrs. John Simmons, Mrs. Laynard Holloman and Mrs. Steven Rowland.

LADIES OF PARADISE — Committee members are shown announcing the club's fabulous pre-holiday giveaway affair to be held from 5-9 p.m. in Marty's Lounge, 5735 S. Broadway on Sunday, Dec. 17. Pictured with the personable Marty Zuniga are Eunice Haygood, Marie Lott, Mr. Zuniga, Helen Sprow, president of the club and Opal Richardson. The club will give away a stereo AM-FM radio tape recorder combination, AM-FM transistor and a transistor radio.

COSMETICIANS' COUNCIL — Committee above has completed plans for its second annual award banquet to be given Dec. 10 at the Nikabob, honoring 10 top cosmeticians of the year. Pistured seated from left: Gladys Moore, president; Mona Wallace, treasurer; and Mattye Carter Dorsey, banquet chairman. Standing are Alma Reed; Eva Mae James, business manager; Hattie Abelle, vice president; and Mary Batiste, recording secretary.

ZILLION COUSINS

Armand Pelletiere in from N'Orleans (he would be, of course, with a name like that) visiting his zillion or so local cousins. At the Picasso show he apologized for not having more time to chat, since he was on his way to a party where he was to teach everybody how to do the Twist. Bess Gant, convalescing nicely, receives friends with her customary inimitable graciousness, just as if she hasn't been such a pretty sick girl.

Alpha Psi chapter of Zeta Phi Beta gathered via mass chic at Rand's Figueroa Round-up. Hostesses for the luncheon meeting were Margaret Lyles, Naomi Mason and Vivian Middleton. Schoolmarm Ida Lee back on the job after a week's illness. Eleanor Jackson James, currently doing Europe, will be surprised in grand style when she touches down again at Inglewood. Her husband, Jack, has ordered a '62 Thunderbird to be delivered to the airport and he will give her the keys as he's embracing her. It's all hers. Jack prefers his Cadillac.

The Clifford Gantts (Leota) celebrated their silver anniversary last Sun. Also present was their original wedding party, along with 150 others. Joel Fluellen had surgery.

Another evening of fun is scheduled by the Ladies' Aid Society of Bethel, this time a Mexican party. Remember the Hawaiian party? 'Twas fun. This party will be given at the Harry Alford home on Nov. 17.

So sorry about Gov. Brown having the flu, but happy to know he will be with us for dinner on the 5th of December, same place, same time.

Laura Lee and Sera Jackson are having a few people in this eve (Sunday) to say goodbye to Deloris Williams, who with her husband will leave shortly to make their home in Florida. Uncle Sam's orders.

The Dick Abrams had as guest at the ranch last week Rev. J. Raymond Henedrson of Los Angeles. The Abrams are members of Second Baptist in Los Angeles, of which Rev. Henderson is pastor. Mrs. Abram just returned from a week's jaunt through parts of California, accompanied by Mrs. Snow.

Ours is a unifying philosophy of Life . . .
If you believe that Man lives only once and that his service to mankind and what his fellow-men will remember of his service, once he is gone, constitutes his only immortality,
If you believe in Reason and the Scientific Method to solve Man's problems,
If you believe in the Brotherhood of all Men,

ITALY must look like LOS ANGELES, or HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. now, what with many Angelenos departing for there. Young actress BOBBI COTE sashayed off for there Sunday night and they tell us actor BERNIE HAMILTON is already there along with JON CHEVRON, MORRY ERBE, IVAN DIXON, LOUIS GROSETT (well, he's New York, isn't he?) and Lord knows who else.

We missed the RINKEY-DINKS affair, and we love those fabulous girls, but we've had our troubles. However we hear that they were as sharp as you can get wearing all originals designed by OLEG CASSINI and the like but that a guest JANE FENN with her new Surprise Pink Hairdo almost stole the show! . . . Hey, Jane, you sumpn' else! And you're not going to shed that pink before we get a chance to see you, we hope! . . .

We don't know why we've goofed mentioning it every time at this tripewriter (that's right Mr. Printer, we said tripe-writer) but the HI-HATTERS (Clarence Landry & Venord Bradley)—and this is no tripe—opened big at the SAHARA on the bill with KAY STARR and another nice thing about it is that they were booked by a Negro agency, LIL CUMBER & CO. That means the CUMBER agency has cracked the Las Vegas Strip and WHO KNOWS? . . . Speaking of the agency LIL tells that her spouse, DR. EDWARD FISHER who operates the Pharmacy at 54th & Central, and who also plays good piano as well as accordion, was called by another agent to do a "gig" which he refused, but told her when she inquired that he was not under exclusive contract to anyone but loves her madly. Hey, Fisher, she's the best agent in town. If you ever want a good paying job, then let that wife of yours know your desire . . .

Drummerman TEDDY LOUPE hasn't put aside his daytime job, but is at the CAPRI CLUB as well as at another spot that he especially wanted us to remember the name since he's there most of the time. Let's just say that Teddy is doing alright and he'll give us the name of that club next week! . . .

DWIGHT DAVIS, the composer phoned to tell us that he has a group called "The Wings" that plans to outdo any other in the dance craze. Their answer to the twist is "The Crouch" and after that we're real sleepy and

Dorsey High Makes KNXTV Scene Twice

Coca Cola, through McCann-Erickson, and Fritos, through Erwin Wasey, Ruthrauff and Ryan, will sponsor both telecasts of KNXT's teen-age documentary "The Intense Generation" on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 23 (9:00 to 10:00 p.m.) and Sunday, December 17, (2:30-3:30 p.m.) on Channel 2, it was announced by General Sales Manager Ray L. Beindorf.

TEEN-AGERS SESSIONS

The special hour-long presentation will delve into the activities and thoughts of the Southern California teen-ager. Narrator Dwayne Hickman will not only provide new insight into this unique age group, but give the adult an idea and an understanding of who the teen-ager is, what he does, and, to some degree, why.

Some of the areas covered by the KNXT film crews include a model legislature in Sacramento, Newport-Balboa during Easter Week, the San Fernando drag strip, Dorsey High School, Disneyland and the Hollywood Bowl.

WORTH SEEING, HEARING

KNXT newsman Grant Holcomb and Maury Green, and Tom Evans, youth counselor for the Hollywood Boys' Club, will be seen interviewing teen-agers and leading group discussions on topical subjects.

Account Executive Don Park represented the station for Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles and Frito-Lay Inc. "The Intense Generation" is a KNXT Public Affairs presentation. Co-producers are Pat O'Reilly and Dan Gingold.

SHOW BUSINESS

BY MAGGIE HATHAWAY

The world famous Cocoanut Grove presented Sammy Davis Jr. last Thursday night to a packed house. Surely and truly Sammy Davis is the greatest entertainer in the world. He does everything well and leaves his audience standing and screaming for more.

HOSPITALITY UNLIMITED

We were met at the door by Cliff Lewis, who led us to a private ringside table set for two. Mr. Lewis spared nothing, including drinks and dinner for the press. To top that off Sammy had a private party in the Regency Room for us after the show.

Sammy worked with a 72-piece band (Dick Stable's Orchestra) and he had his own private conductor (George Rhodes) who made the arrangements sound as if they were a part of Sammy. Michael Silva was his drummer and Silva could be known as the greatest drummer of the atomic age. His drum "fairly sings" and his beat made the fans want to "join the show."

SAMMY SMOOTH AS SILK

Sammy sang, danced and chatted (mostly comedy) with the smoothness of silk and some of his remarks could be used by the NAACP to cement good relationships in Mississippi, especially when he sneaked into the audience and screamed, "You people got a good show here but the little Cullud boy is the best." His southern accent "cracked up" the southerners and even had the staid press applauding.

One of the highlights of the affair was when he introduced his family and friends. His wife, Mai Britt, was wearing a long cream satin gown and coat to match. Both were trimmed in chocolate. His father, Sammy Sr., was attired in a dark silk outfit and Pee Wee (Mrs. Davis Sr.) wore a short silver cocktail dress with a gold leather, mink trimmed jacket. Sandra, Sammy's sister was beautiful in a green chiffon dress and white fox stole.

The numbers that impressed us the most were, "Bye Bye Brown Bird," "In the still of the Night (accompanied only by the drum), and "Second Time Around" (this number he dedicated to his wife and baby).

His imitations of Nat Cole, James Cagney, W. C. Fields and Louis Armstrong were terrifically identical to the performers. Sammy, before doing an imitation on Willie Best and Mantand Moreland, explained that he was a life member of the NAACP. He closed the show with "the clan"—Peter Lawford, Joey Bishop and Dean Martin.

They were in the audience but jumped to the stage to help Sammy close with "Birth of the Blues." It would be the understatement of the year to say the four of them together created a mild riot. The audience went wild and gave Sammy and his clan a standing ovation.

While witnessing this wild demonstration for the one and only Sammy Davis Jr. we could think of only one quotation that could best describe Sammy and that was the Biblical verse, surely, my cup runneth o'er."

CRESCENDO

The thrilling threesome that held sway at the Crescendo, on swinging Sunset Boulevard, until November 19th—Dick Gregory, Cannonball Adderly and Nancy Wilson—are starmakers all! Spotlighting three separate acts with Dick Gregory as the star, the CRESCENDO effectively blended clever comedy, jubilant jazz and sophisticated song into a potpourri of expert and enjoyable entertainment.

Comedian Dick Gregory was up to his hilarious best with material mixed with the-tried-and-the-true as well as new-to this-writer jokes like his "Kruschev-fat-fool" bit!

Since I had Election Day off from work, I made the Camp Fund Get-Together at the Renny Lounge, where charmin' Rose Yuen did all the hostess honors for a full house. Walter Beaman of Wayne Liquor Co., was the honoree that night and brought with him, "Miss Embassy Club Whiskey", Miss Modeen Donzell and two other lovelies, Josephine Jackson and Lynn Jordan, as part of a new promotional campaign.

GORDON SCORES AGAIN

Modeen drew for the many prizes given as I handled the emceeing chores (and also won a bottle of Embassy Club, plus af fifth of Old Hickory bourbon). It was another fun night, and will be repeated at Franks Restaurant this Monday with Al Denham of Ballantine Scotch being honored.

Attacker May Get 'Chair'

Charles Beaumont, 26, laborer of Louisville, Ky., who was arrested last Wednesday when he was found almost nude and in a semi-stupor at the home of two USC coeds who had been stripped, beaten, drugged and assaulted, faced stiff charges Friday that could send him to the death chair.

He was arraigned on two counts of inflicting bodily injury during a kidnap for the purpose of robbery. This was the same charge that resulted in the execution of Caryl Chessman.

TALE OF TERROR

Beaumont, who had first given his name as Leon Thompson, is scheduled to appear in Division 40 for a preliminary hearing Friday.

The two young women told a tale of stark terror that lasted close to two hours and came to an end only after Beaumont fell into a stupor on the living room couch.

Lucky Lager Talk Futile; 'Don't Buy' Campaign Intensified

Brewery representatives came to Los Angeles Tuesday and held a lengthy conference with local businessmen, but if there is any change in Lucky Lager's discriminatory hiring policy, it was hard to detect.

Upshot of the talks is that there will be more talks.

that the brewers will consider possibilities of "continuing" to carry out a fair employment policy, and that they will make suggestions to further that aim.

BOYCOTT CONTINUES

Further upshot of the talks is that the Negro Businessmen's Association are going ahead with the boycott of Lucky Lager beer, unless and until the company begins to hire Negroes.

At the discussion held at Safeey Savings and Loan Association were George Ososke, executive secretary of the California Brewers Ass'n, and Angus McIsaac, vice president and sales manager of the Lucky Lager Azusa plant, representing the brewers.

Edgar Charles was spokesman for the businessmen.

NO 'QUALIFIED' WORKERS

Principal suggestion of the brewers was that the businessmen show some to it that "qualified" Negroes apply for jobs as salesmen and in the other categories now barred to Negroes.

Charles rejected this "suggestion" out of hand. He pointed out the businessmen now have on hand statements from a number of qualified workers who did apply for jobs with Lucky Lager and who were either turned

Chambers Heads New Baptist Body

Dr. T. M. Chambers, pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church, was elected president of the new Progressive Baptist Convention of America, which was organized last week at the Zion Baptist Church in Cincinnati. The organization was formed by representatives from 14 states and is "dedicated to Christian objectives" and to tenure in its official structure.

Also elected to serve the organization were: Rev. L. V. Booth, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, Cincinnati, vice president; J. Carl Mitchell of Huntington, W. Va. as secretary; Dr. Lewis [illegible] of Chicago, treasurer; and Andrew J. Hargrett of Chicago, director of public relations.

Dr. Chambers told the Eagle

'Bama Protest May Bring Bowl Boycott

Following the California Eagle's front page sports editorial last week, the Daily Bruin, UCLA student newspaper, disclosed that the Rose Bowl football game is threatened with a boycott by Negro college students if Alabama is invited to play in the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena.

The Westwood publication said Negro College Students of Southern California, an association with members at UCLA, USC and other colleges in the area, voiced the boycott threat.

The western representative for the Rose Bowl will be decided when UCLA and USC meet Nov. 25.

The Daily Bruin also said the boycott not only would include students in the rooting section at the Rose Bowl game but also such players from the host school who might be members of the Negro College Students Association.

Daisy Bates Steps Out

Mrs. Daisy Bates, the heroine of Little Rock, has stepped down as president of the Little Rock NAACP. She still serves as a member of its board of directors. She was succeeded by Atty. George Howard, Jr., who took office last week.

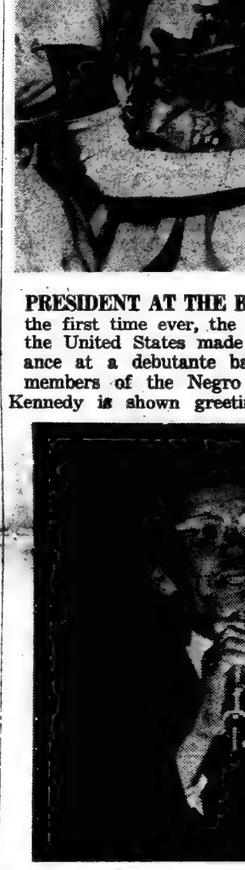
Tenants Flee 16 Apartments In Denker Fire

Sixteen apartments of the 20-unit Denker Apartments, 3909 Denker street, were gutted early last Thursday morning from a fire which authorities said may have been started by a burning cigaret.

One of the residents, Raymond Gray, smelled smoke about 3 a.m. and notified the manager, Etta Mae Burnett.



All tenants fled to the street, many of them scantily clad, grabbing a few clothes and other possessions as they ran.

Neighbors opened their doors to the victims and provided them with shelter and clothing.

The fire reportedly started in the apartment of Mary Lawson. No. 208, but the arson squad was unable to ascertain the precise cause of the blaze.

Miss Lawson's apartment was one of those that was seriously

Kennedy 'Crashes' Deb Ball

By GRACE E. SIMONS

President John F. Kennedy, in the seemingly spontaneous manner that has gained him wide popularity, just "popped in" on the Links, Inc., Debutante Cotillion at the Beverly-Hilton Hotel last Saturday night.

Following his speech at the $100-a-plate banquet sponsored by the local Democrats at the Palladium, the President "crashed" the Links' annual ball.

BLUNDER

Kennedy's action dramatically took the spotlight away from a stupid blunder on the part of County Demos who had refused to provide members of the city's Negro newspapers with press passes to attend the dinner given for the President.

Kennedy, smiling broadly, told the Links that he hoped they would forgive him for coming to their party, but that Nat "King" Cole had sung a song at his (Kennedy's) affair and that he wanted to reciprocate by attending the debutantes' dance. (Nat "King" Cole's daughter, Carol, was one of the Links' debs.)

Kennedy added that he hoped the guests would not be disturbed by the appearance of an "itinerant President," and proceeded to greet each of the debs who curtsied to him in turn.

This is the first time, as far as anyone can recall, that a President of the United States

Death Takes Pentecostal Bishop, 95

By E. RITTER

Bishop Charles Harrison Mason, chief apostle of the Church of God in Christ, Inc., died Friday morning, Nov. 17, in Detroit Mich. at the age of 95.

Bishop Mason held the highest office in the denomination and served at its leader since it was organized in 1907 in Memphis, Tenn. After visiting San Francisco and Los Angeles last May, he went to Detroit. He did not return to Memphis, his hometown and the headquarters of the church. His death occurred eight days before the denomination's annual convocation, which commences each year on Nov. 25, in Memphis.

Funeral services will be conducted in Memphis, Tuesday, Nov. 28, during the church's 54th Annual Convocation. Followers from every state and from several foreign countries where the church has mission stations, will be gathered at Mason Temple to pay tribute to their leader of the past 55 years.

SPOKE IN TONGUES

Bishop Samuel M. Crouch, minister of the Emmanuel Church of God in Christ, 1399 E. 33rd street, and Bishop of Southern California, Mrs. Lottie B. Crouch, and members of more than 175 churches in Southern California will leave this week for the conference.

A highly esteemed leader, Bishop Mason was born of humble religious parents, Sept. 8, 1866 on the Prior Farm near Memphis. He accepted Christ as his saviour at the age of 14 and acknowledged his call to the ministry at the age of 19. In 1906, when a revival was held in Los Angeles, he attended the revival and received the baptism of the Holy Ghost with signs of speaking in tongues according to Acts.

DIRECTED BY PRAYER

In 1907 Bishop Mason was appointed as General Overseer of the "Church of God in Christ." Since then the denomination has

THE NUMBERS GAME

Now that there's talk of introducing a fair housing ordinance in City Council I am going to keep a sharp eye on white business men who ply their trade on Negroes. I want to see how many of these business men join the sponsoring committee and how many of them show up when the ordinance gets on the Council floor.

If past experience is any guide I won't have to use my scant knowledge of higher mathematics. I can count their number on the fingers of my Uncle Jasper's right hand — that's the hand he lost in a hunting accident. I remember when the campaign for a fair employment ordinance was at a fever pitch. I suppose that I attended most of the Council metings when such an ordinance was presented. You can take my word for it that the men who had made thousands, some of them literally hundreds of thousands, of dollars from their trade with Negroes never showed up.

Loren Miller

BLIND MAN'S BUFF

Those business men had everything to gain from the passage of a fair employment ordinance. Its passage and enforcement would have put dollars in their customers' pockets and the merchants would have got their share of those dollars. That didn't move them; their racial attitudes were too deeply ingrained. Behind their blindness lies the fact that these business men do not identify themselves with the customers whom they serve.

White business men who own

Youth, 17, Of Monroe, Out on Bail

Albert Rorie, 17-year-old Negro youth of Monroe, N. C., who was sentenced to three-to-five years for shooting a policeman in the leg is out on bail. He denies the charge.

Meanwhile, beating of Negroes in Monroe continues.

Conrad Lynn, attorney for the Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants, who represented Rorie at his trial, filed notice of appeal Nov. 13.

Simultaneously, Dr. A. E. Perry of Monroe, chairman of the CAMD, posted an appeal bond of $200 and bail of $2,500, securing Rorie's release. Rorie is the fourth defendant in Monroe for whom the CAMD has arranged cash bail. The total

Jobs in '62 Topic At Leadership Meet

"What to Do About Jobs in '62" will be the theme of the third Negro Leadership conference which will open Friday night (Nov. 24) at the Alexandria Hotel with an address by Andrew Hatcher, presidential press secretary. The conference will continue through Saturday and terminate with a breakfast Sunday morning. Representatives of all organizations are invited.

ANDREW HATCHER

All facets of the employment problem will be explored at the conference with emphasis on finding particular ways of meeting special aspects of the problems. What-to-do sessions will be held by ministers, social clubs, unions and other community organizations.

Although invitations have been sent to a large number of persons and organizations, sponsors stressed the fact that the conference is open to all persons who occupy leadership positions in organizations of all kinds. Registration fee of $15 will include the Hatcher dinner and three meals on the following day.

Picture was taken at Chicago convention of the Negro American Labor Committee.

Randolph Re-elected Negro Labor Head

Delegates to the Negro American Labor Council convention, meeting in Chicago last weekend, were with A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, all the way.

The more than 300 unionists, Negro and white, who attended gave him unanimous backing in his fight against AFL-CIO President George Meaney over bias in the labor movement, and then proceeded to re-elect him president of the NALC.

L. B. Thompson, of Los Angeles, was re-elected national vice president from the West Coast.

The convention voted to send a strong delegation from the NALC to the December convention of the AFL-CIO in Miami to voice protest against the censure meted out to Randolph for his battle for union integration.

Delegates were also urged to bring up the issue of the AFL-CIO slap at Randolph in their local unions so that the protest can be heard on the floor of the labor convention.

Randolph and Meany have been feuding in the open for more than a year, since the issue of union bias was first brought out publicly at labor's San Francisco convention.

Job Needs Discussed

The first annual Merit Employment Conference was held at the Elks Auditorium last Saturday. The Labor and Industry Committee of the Los Angeles NAACP was the host group.

Representatives from community organizations heard management representatives from Douglas Aircraft, the State of California, FEPC and the Mayor's office to discuss job opportunities for Negroes and other minorities.

M. Felker of Douglas Aircraft and L. Jordan, apprenticeship cansultant, discussed "The New Technology," while J. DeLury of FEPC and Mrs. Ethel Bryant, special assistant to Mayor Yorty, discussed "Government, Industry, and Labor as Social Forces."

Sheriffs Seek 2 in Killing of Bicycle Seller

Sheriff's homicide detectives are seeking an unidentified gunman who early this month entered a South Los Angeles bicycle shop and held up and killed the proprietor, Leopold Zollman.

Also wanted is the killer's accomplice, who was believed to have been waiting for his pal in a nearby automobile.

'THAT'S IT!'

Zollman, 55, of 5243 Marburn avenue, was confronted by a Negro, 30 to 35 years of age, who brandished a .32 caliber nickle-plated automatic, demanding, "Where's the money?"

Zollman indicated it was in the cash register, which the bandit rifled, grabbing approximately $100.

Then he shouted, "That's it!" and fired at least five shots at Zollman. Zollman died the following day.

DESCRIPTION

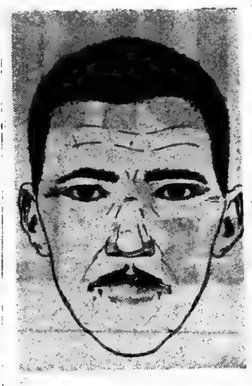
Sheriff's investigators, on the basis of eye-witness descriptions, have made composite pictures of of the two men.

The killer, top picture, is described by detectives as being 6' to 6'2" tall, weighing between 170 to 180 lbs., of a medium dark complexion.

The second suspect is described as 28 to 35 years old, weighing from 130 to 150 pounds, medium brown skin.

Press Honored By Jefferson

Members of the press were invited to initiate the new modern home economics classroom at Thomas Jefferson High School Tuesday noon. Students prepared and served a delectable lunch to the 12 newspaper representatives and faculty members who attended.



This was the way Jefferson High chose to show its appreciation for the cooperation it has received consistently year after year from local newspapers for complete coverage of school activities.

SUSPECTS — Artist's drawings, above, are of two suspects wanted for the killing early this month of Leopold Zollman, kindly South Los Angeles bicycle dealer. The man above is believed to have been the killer; the man below his accomplice.

Head Wounds Fatal to Man Found on Steps

An auto repossessor, who was found about 7 a.m. Nov. 12, at the foot of the rear stairway of his home, bleeding profusely from a head injury, died Sunday without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Dolly Brown, of 1055 E. 22nd street, told police a person she knows only as "Mr. H" had notified her that he had found her son, L. F. Williams, 29, of 420 E. 23rd street, in serious condition.

Williams' head, which was bleeding badly, lay on the cement walk, his feet on the second step. He had apparently fallen down the flight of stairs.

Police reported his death was accidental.

Negroes Given Welcome By Residents of Valley

Two major breakthroughs have been noted in the sale of homes on an open occupancy basis by the Fair Housing Council of the San Fernando Valley.

Helen Wakefield, chairman of the "Clearing House" committee of the Fair Housing Council reported the highly successful move of two Negro families in different Valley communities.

In Northridge, a Negro family is now comfortably settled in a tract home with wide neighborhood acceptance.

CONTACT BARNES

The Valley Fair Housing Council was largely responsible for referring a Negro family from out of state to a home in Canoga Park being offered on an open occupancy basis. The sale is now completed and a welcoming atmosphere prevails in the area.

Many homes are now known to be available for sale in communities throughout the San Fernando valley on a non-discriminatory basis. The council operates a referral system whose purpose is to assist minority group buyers or renters in locating residences in the Valley.

Persons seeking homes or apartments in this area are encouraged to contact Council Chairman Frank Barnes at DI 9-2688.

3 Banks Hit By Robber In One Day

Joseph Mack Guilford, 25, bought a car and tried to rob three banks, all on the same day last Wednesday. He collected at two of the banks, drew a blank at the third and ended up in the arms of police.

His first stop was the United California Bank, 7550 Sunset blvd. He handed a note demanding money and a paper bag to the teller. She put $822 in the bag. That was about 1 p.m.

He next went to the Security First National Bank, 3400 W. Washington blvd. He used the same technique, but this time when he approached the teller, she moved away.

Guilford became nervous, picked up note and bag and fled. The teller got the license number on his car. It was now 2 p.m.

Undaunted by the failure of his second attempt, Guilford next went to the Bank of America, 960 S. Los Angeles street. There he got $1020. It was now 3 p.m.

Calling it a day, Guilford went home, but when he got there he found the police waiting for him.

From the license obtained by the teller at Security First National, police traced the car to Jack Schredder Auto Sales, 2540 LaBrea avenue. Guilford had purchased the car the same day. Guilford's name and address where shown on the bill of sale.

Guilford was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner Friday and turned over to the U. S. Marshall in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Cecil Poole to Speak Here

Cecil F. Poole, U. S. attorney for Northern California, will make a special trip to Los Angeles next Wednesday evening, Nov. 29, to address the monthly meeting of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association.

Dr. Roy D. Andrew, president of MDPA, said this meeting will be held at the Nikabob Restaurant, Western avenue at 9th.

Recording Star To be NAACP Dansante Guest

The NAACP Special Activities Committee announces the appearance of recording star Eugene Church at its 11th Annual Dansante, Sunday, Nov. 26, from 7 to 11 p.m., at the Beverly Chateau, 7919 Beverly blvd.

Music for dancing will be played by Gabe Williams and his Swing Masters.

Tickets may be purchased at the NAACP Office, 4261 S. Central avenue, AD 1-5189.

Gonzalez to Name Negro To His Staff

Henry B. Gonzalez, recently elected Congressman from the 20th Congressional district in Texas, was in L.A. over the weekend to speak at the Community Service Organization's state convention banquet.

The Congressman is the first Mexican-American to be elected to the U. S. Congress. He is also the first member of any minority group to be elected to such an office from the state of Texas.

Gonzalez gained national prominence a few years ago when he debated against the passage of a rash of segregationist legislation in the Texas legislation. His debate turned into a 74 hour filibuster, the longest to date in the history of the state.

He has stood for the common man in all his offices, he stated in an interview Saturday. This includes minority people, he said, Mexicans and Negroes. He has championed the man in the street.

In the recent Congressional election, he polled 53.1 percent of the vote cast. He was backed by organized labor, the Mexican-American and Negro communities and the Democratic Party. He said he plans to appoint a Negro to his staff.

There is a problem in getting the vote out in Texas, as there is many other places, Gonzales pointed out. The problem is heightened there by the presence of a poll tax. Gonzalez introduced three bills to do away with the provision for the tax in state elections, but none of them ever got to committee.

Leader Says CORE Shifts Fight to North

By ROBERT FARRELL

James Farmer, national director of CORE, announced a shift in emphasis by his organization during a series of speaking engagements here over the weekend.

He indicated that greater effort will be concentrated on segregation and discrimination in the North than has been the case up to now.

EXPANDING WORK

"Segregation is greater and more intense in some parts of the North and West than in certain sections of the South," Farmer said, adding, "CORE is expanding its work against housing, employment and de-facto school segregation."

The climate for change in the South is improving, Farmer said. "We must now turn our attention to problems that exist in our own areas. In some sections, housing segregation is increasing. The large cities are becoming non-white ghettos, surrounded by white suburbs. Housing is the key to discrimination in Northern cities."

CORE has undertaken house-to-house canvasses in various areas of the United States to locate sellers who are willing to sell on an unprejudiced basis and buyers who are seeking homes outside of the ghetto. Once the canvasses are completed, attempts will be made to bring sellers and buyers together, Farmer stated.

ACTION IN L.A.

"Such action has been undertaken in Los Angeles County "especially in tract and apartment rentals," said Henry Hodge, national vice chairman of CORE, who piloted Farmer during his stay in Los Angeles.

Another program is directed towards rental offices. Farmer said that in various parts of the country sit-ins have been staged in rental offices where policies are found to be discriminatory. Hodges added that "no sit-ins have been staged in rental offices around here yet, but we will investigate parts of Los Angeles, Monterey Park, Burbank, Torrance and Centinela Valley."

On discrimination in hiring, Farmer mentioned that while Negroes spend $20 billion annually, "jobs are not available in proportion to our training and ability. We must use the dollar and use it sensibly. We must mobilize our resources."

PICKETS GREYHOUND

Farmer and other CORE members emphasized this point by joining the Teamsters Rank and File Committee, the NAACP and others on the picket lines in front of the Greyhound terminal protesting the discriminatory hiring policy of the company Saturday afternoon.

"Patterns of residential segregation have resulted in de-facto school segregation. The children are hurt," Farmer continued, "for they get a distorted view of the world around them. The Negro gets an unwarranted sense of inferiority. The white gets a dangerous sense of superiority. How are we preparing them to sit in council with a world of colored nations?"

GIVEN AWARD

Farmer was given the Omega Psi Phi award for perserverance in the name of CORE at a joint NAACP-CORE meeting Sunday at Grant AME Church. Eugene Quishenberry, basileus of Lambda chapter, said, "One of the principles of our order is perseverance, and CORE has been selected to receive this award for its work in the civil rights field."

Said Farmer, "Segregation cannot be done away with by one race of people. It is not the problem of the Negro alone." He continued with a quote from James Weldon Johnson. "I will not let segregation . . . with all its degradations . . . carry me down to spiritual defeat.'"

Farmer appeared at UCLA and the McKinley School in Santa Monica, Friday. Saturday he spoke in Temple City. He attended a mass meeting at Grant AME Church and a reception at the Casa Manana, Sunday. He spoke at the Jewish Community Center Monday to climax his L.A. visit.

9 Students Accused of 'Mass' Rape

Nine youths, all believed to be students at Manual Arts High School, were arrested last weekend on charges of assaulting a 16-year-old girl.

The girl was leaving Manual Arts about 2:30 p.m., Thursday, when two of the suspects forced her to walk with them to a parked car in which were nine other youths, the girl told police.

She said that inside the car the two who had accosted her slapped her until she was unconscious.

She came to when they threw cold water on her face. She found herself in a house and the youths then took turns in assaulting her, she said.

They then took her to 831 W. 43rd street, where they let her out of the car.

Homer A. "Pidgeon" Franklin, 17, of 809 W. Jefferson blvd., one of those arrested, denied that there was any attack. We started "playing around" with her, he said, adding that she was willing.

Others arrested were Ronald May, Stephen May, Robert Jenkins, Robert McVea, Robert Fennell, Luke Reiley, Raymond W. Wims and Edgar G. Witherspoon.

PHILADELPHIA — Lee Roy Reynolds, 65, brother of Judge Hobson R. Reynolds, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, died Friday, Nov. 10, in the Mercy-Douglass Hospital. His death was attributed to a series of heart attacks.

'Evening With A.C.' Set at Wilshire Ebell Theater

As curtain time for the Monday, Dec. 4, Wilshire Ebell Theater "Evening with A. C." draws near, the National Council of Negro Women are receiving praises for the talent of A. C. and orders for tickets are piling up as the Council pursues its plan to present its guest artist, A. C. Bilbrew, to an overflow audience.

Atty. Alma Rudison, president of the NCNW, said this week that a number of complimentary remarks about the artist are being received.

Mark Keats, chairman of the Intercultural Jewish Community Center, said, "There is only one A. C. Bilbrew. She holds audiences spellbound with her poise, humor, her originality and her ease of performance."

Hall Johnson said, "A. C. Bilbrew is one of the most talented persons I know," and the poet Andy Razaff commented, "To listen to A. C. Bilbrew is a pleasure one can never forget."

Atty Rudison herself said that she feels that the National Council members are to be commended for bringing the talents of A. C. Bilbrew to the community at this time.

Tickets may be obtained at the Wilshire Ebell box office, WE 9-1128, or at Gulliver's Travel Agency, 2616 S. Western Avenue, RE 5-1455, or from Mrs. Montana McNealy, 4006 Hepburn Avenue, AX 1-4668.

JFK Sends Letter On Urban League Day

NEW YORK—President John F. Kennedy, in a letter to Henry Steeger, National Urban League president, sent greetings to the League's sixth annual "Equal Opportunity Day" dinner.

The President expressed his administration's "concern" for "employment opportunity" and added: "We cannot rest content until equal opportunity is achieved in all parts of our national life."

Unitarians Back Mixed Schools in New Orleans

Contributions from 11,000 Unitarians throughout the United States amounting to a total of over $21,000 have gone to the First Unitarian Church of New Orleans, La., in support of its efforts for integrated schools, according to Rev. Stephen H. Fritchman, minister of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles.

The New Orleans Unitarian Church is the only church in that city to issue a public statement in support of integrated schools.

The money is being used to help individuals and families subjected to pressures and persecution, and to aid in implementing the educational program of the Consumers League to obtain better employment opportunities for Negros.

The congregation of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, the largest of its denomination in the Western region, has given major support to the Louisiana activity.

2-Minute Ala. Judge Finds 11 'Riders' Guilty

MONTGOMERY — It took circuit Judge Eugene Carter just two minutes here Monday to find 11 Freedom Riders, including Yale University Chaplain William S. Coffin, guilty of disorderly conduct for attempting to integrate a bus terminal lunch counter last May.

When told that one defendant was only charged with illegal assembly, Carter replied, "He's just as guilty as the rest."

Third Try Successful

Willilam H. Dunn Jr., 22, of 604 W. 50th street, a former clerk in the Mapping Section of Los Angeles County, died of a self-inflicted knife wound about 10:30 a.m. last Friday.

Twice before Dunn had attempted suicide, and on one occasion reportedly had attempted to slash his mother and father with a scissors while they slept.

Dunn suffered a nervous breakdown after receiving low grades at City College and was committed to Norwalk as a patient in July, 1960. At the end of the year, he was released for two months, but then returned to Norwalk. While there he cut both his wrists.

In September of this year, he was released to the care of his parents. The youth's mother, Mrs. Willa Mae Dunn, said that on Nov. 15, her son turned on the gas burners in the kitchen and in the front room. She smelled the gas escaping and turned off the jets.

The next night, said Mrs. Dunn, her son tried to stab both her and her husband with a scissors. They awakened and fought him for possession of the weapon.

The following morning, he went with them to the store, asked them for $2 "to buy something," then eluded them.

When Mrs. Dunn went across the street to call the hospital, she heard a piercing scream and ran back home, to find William on his bed, gasping for breath. He had stuck a knife in his chest.

Bans Segregation In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms last week rendered two sweeping opinions enjoining public officials from enforcing segregation in recreational facilities and ordering all race-seating signs in buses removed.

The first opinion covers parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, tennis courts, golf courses and all other "real property of the city of Birmingham."

Lucky Lager Needs Change

The beer makers are in trouble with their Negro customers again because of employment policies which limit Negro workers to a few categories.

There is nothing new about the difficulty. It cropped out a few years ago when Negro tavern owners tried to persuade Budweiser of the error of its ways. That flare-up was "settled" with an agreement that seemed to offer a solution but which broke down in practice.

Lucky Lager beer makers are the target in the current selective buying campaign. Lucky, which advertises that you're lucky to live in America, has a large Negro custom but doesn't reciprocate in the matter of jobs. Negroes aren't very lucky with Lucky.

Negro job seekers are shuffled around in a maze of company red tape and tangled up in union-employer contracts. When it's all over Lucky is still selling plenty of beer to Negro buyers and offering only a minimum of employment.

We go along with the Negro business men who insist that their patrons have a right to expect more by way of jobs than Lucky has to offer, or is willing to offer.

Nor do we think that it is as difficult for the company to change its policies as Lucky tries to say it is. If the company wants fair employment it has only to insist that the unions with which it holds contracts adjust their practices to company policy.

The Negro is tired of fine spun arguments and excuses. What he wants are some of the jobs his dollars create.

Bloc Treatment, Bloc Vote

Election figures from eastern states bear out the pollsters' contention that Negro voters are lined up almost solidly behind Democratic candidates. New Jersey Negroes put a Democratic governor in office and New York's Negro voters assured the election of Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The heavy Negro votes for the Democrats have drawn a reproof from former President Eisenhower who issued a solemn warning against "bloc" voting last week. The reproof comes with ill grace from the former president.

Mr. Eisenhower broke the Solid South in both of his successful campaigns because of "bloc" voting by whites who cast their ballots for him and against Adlai Stevenson because of his head-in-the-sand policy as regards civil rights.

As a president, Mr. Eisenhower did little to woo Negroes away from the Democrats. He made few significant appointments of Negroes to higher office — the more than 200 federal judges he named were all white. If Negroes are guilty of "bloc" voting, the former president was almost equally guilty of making "bloc" appointments.

Despite pleas from all sides, Mr. Eisenhower refused to take a stand on segregation. The best he could find to say of the Supreme Court's school decisions was that they were the law of the land; he never gave them his personal approval or endorsement.

Negro voters, as is the case with other voters, cast their ballots for those they regard as friends and against those who disregard their welfare. When it is all said and done, Negroes vote as a bloc because they're discriminated against as a bloc. They will vote as individuals when they are treated as individuals.

Speaker Sam Rayburn

Although he has been praised to the high heavens, Speaker Sam Rayburn was only a journeyman southern politician who stayed in office long enough to hold the speakership of the House longer than any other man. The length of his service will earn him a short footnote in history.

As a southerner, Mr. Rayburn went along with the congressmen of his region on civil rights issues but when it became politically expedient to do so he helped push a milk and water civil rights bill through the lower House. He was just as careful to water down the bill as he was to secure its passage.

As a thick and thin Democrat, Mr. Rayburn was as vigilant to see that Negro Democrats in the House enjoyed the prerogatives of seniority on committees as he was to safeguard the claims of southerners for those same prerogatives. When it was all boiled down, the south got the best of the seniority system; it assured that region of a practical veto on federal legislation.

Undoubtedly, Speaker Rayburn did what he thought was right but his definition of what was right was what was politically expedient. His career may provide a text for politicians but will offer little guidance in other fields.

Jim Crow and Rose Bowl

Sports Editor Abie Robinson was on the right track last week when he urged Californians to keep Alabama's football team out of the Rose Bowl. We think that his argument applies with equal force to Louisiana State University which is also making eyes at the Rose Bowl.

It is true that Louisiana State admits Negro students which puts it a cut above Alabama. However, it bars Negro students from its own teams and it refuses to play teams with Negro players on their rosters. It puts the love of Jim Crow above good sportsmanship.

California teams which participate in the selection of an opponent for the West Coast in the Rose Bowl should announce a simple rule: no team which bars Negro players or refuses to play against Negro players on its home grounds will be invited to play in the Rose Bowl.

California universities can't afford to play footsie with discriminating southern universities. Let them show their wares in the White Supremacy game at New Orleans' Sugar Bowl.

Opportunity School

The dedication of the Exceptional Children's Opportunity School last Sunday marked an achievement for Mrs. Juanita Macklin.

The School is the fine fruit of her dreams and of her hard and persistent work. Fortunately, she rallied the support of numerous individuals, clubs, and community groups who responded to her pleas to aid handicapped children.

The community owes Mrs. Macklin a debt of gratitude for what she has done to give hopeless and helpless children a decent opportunity to exploit their talents. We hope that she will get the continued support she needs to make the school the success it deserves to be.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

The Congo Republic is a newcomer to the United Nations but it has gotten its full share and more of headlines. The latest headlines are a cause for grave distress among well-wishers of that problem-plagued new government, for there is little doubt that it has taken an astounding and dangerous step that can harass it for years to come, and may have established a precedent that will make trouble for the other new nations of Africa.

The Congolese Government, through Foreign Minister Bomboko and Premier Adoula, has asked the United Nations to effect direct military intervention in the internal affairs of the Congo. There is a good deal of fancy language in the Bomboko statement to the Security Council but when the excess verbiage is stripped away, this is what the request comes down to — intervention. The Congolese central government admits that it lacks the force and the support to force the Katanga secessionist state back into the fold; it therefore asks that the Security Council instruct the U.N. command to bring military force to bear upon Katanga, expel all the Belgians from that state and arrest "as mercenaries" those fighting in the Katangese ranks and hand them over to the Central Government for trial.

IMPOTENCE

This is an amazing confession of impotence by a government that is a member of the United Nations. It is no less amazing because some other African spokesmen have endorsed the request. For it is ironic but natural that a number of African leaders are so bent on eradicating the remains of classic colonialism from that continent that they overlook the fact that there are others, non-classic, types of colonialism.

Classic colonialism, of course, was established by Belgium, Britain, France, Portugal and other European nations. Russian and Chinese Communism has produced a new colonialism every bit as vicious and infinitely more massive behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. Some of our own American corporations created an economic colonialism in Latin America up to 15 or 20 years ago.

But now here are Adoula and Bomboko deliberately asking for the establishment of a new kind of colonialism, at the same time that they are shouting against a colonialism that has already been ended in their country. They are suggesting that colonialism be imposed by a holding company representing a group of nations—the holding company being the United Nations and its military command.

Any head of government anywhere in the world who believes the U.N. to be a benign, pure-souled, supra-national body concerned only with peace, tranquility and welfare of all people is really too naive to be entrusted with the welfare and security of his country.

The U.N. has an imposing facade and performs a number of important tasks. But this doesn't affect its jerry-built nature in many respects. It doesn't alter the fact that the organization constitutes at best a marriage of convenience between implacable foes who are surrounded by minor second, third and fourth-class nations with no power to change the course of big-power strategy.

The moment the door is opened for the U.N. to interfere in the internal affairs of sovereign nations, no matter how small, weak and problem-perplexed, the way is open for the big powers to manipulate the machinery of the U.N. to their own advanatge.

ABSURD

And the first nation to suffer will be the Congo. And come to think of it—isn't there something tragically absurd in the heads of the Congolese central government saying to the U.N., "We're fighting among ourselves, so won't you nice kind people come in and make us stop? Please send in the Indians who are too neutral to condemn slaughter of Europeans by Russian Communism. And please send in some more of those kind Irish soldiers who represent a country that has nimbly skipped away from involvement in any war since its independence, but who have already shown a willingness to shoot down Africans who have done what Ireland did—seceded from an unwanted governmental association."

Now don't mistake me. This is no defense of Katanga's secession. I confess that I don't have the wisdom of the lads on street corners and in television booths who can tell you just what's wrong in a complicated African situation when the people who are in charge and responsible for finding the answers are themselves baffled. I don't know whether Patrice Lumumba was a Communist stooge, or whether Moise Tshombe is a tool of the Belgians or whether Gizenga is a front man for the still-trying Reds.

I do know this, however; this is a problem that the people of the Congo are going to settle themselves, if it is to be settled the right way. They are going to settle it through their elected or self-delegated representatives, or it won't be settled at all. And their delegates can solve the problem if they will get it through their heads that they must solve it if the Congo is to become and remain a free nation of free people. This, the U.N. can't do for them.

Loren Miller Says . . .

and operate businesses in Negro communities do not live among their customers. They do not attend church with them; they do not belong to the same business organizations or the same clubs with them. Their children do not attend school with the children of their customers. Their wives never see the wives of those to whom they sell. The business men and their customers are strangers to each other.

Nobody, I think, understands the Negro community less than the business men who make their fat livings at its expense. In many ways they treat their customers with contempt. They do not support the NAACP or the Urban League, or any other community organizations. Their failure to join or cooperate with Negro organizations severs all communication with their Negro customers. They don't even know when fair employment or fair housing ordinances are proposed.

Scratch beneath the surface and you'll find a tremendous amount of ill feeling because their customers look upon them as exploiters; they look upon their customers as burdens to be borne in the name of profits. The secret of Muslim success lies in their exploitation of this reservoir of ill will.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

A mere recital of these facts won't cure the malady. What depresses me is that neither side exhibits the slightest concern. The business men are blind, victims of that lack of sight which afflicts those who regard themselves as superiors. The Negro unconcern is the sullen indifference of those who see no cure for the ailment that gnaws at them.

Los Angeles is literally swarming with human relations organizations, but this is one problem that none of them has ever tackled. I don't know why. It seems to me that it needs serious study and that unless some solution is found there's going to be an explosion one of these days. It's time for a change.

Lucky Lager

down or given the "we'll let you know treatment" as a brush-off.

If finding qualified workers were really the problem, it was pointed out, the company could go to the Urban League, which has a singularly successful record of finding the right man for the right job, or the State Employment Office or numerous other agencies set up to deal with this problem.

Ososke countered by insisting that the brewery industry adopted a fair employment policy back in 1958 which was submitted for approval to Franklin H. Williams, then secretary-counsel of the West Coast NAACP, and said that on behalf of the members of his organization he is restating that policy at the present time.

Charles suggested that it might be a good idea for the company to take an ad in the Negro papers, stating that Lucky Lager had job openings that it would fill on the basis of qualifications. It was his view that the company would then find no lack of applicants from which to choose.

Local Negro Press Barred from Dinner has ever made an appearance at an affair given by a Negro social club.

$1000 AWARD

Kennedy was flanked by Gov. Brown and other leading Democratic figures, but there is no doubt that he "stole the show."

Also of importance, however, was the presentation by the Links of a check for $1000 to the NAACP Legal Fund. That check was presented to Atty. Loren Miller, publisher of the California Eagle, on behalf of the NAACP.

EXCEPT US

Whether or not there were any Negroes, other than the "King," at the Kennedy banquet, the Eagle is unfortunately unable to report, for we weren't there.

There were some 150 to 200 seats reserved, we were told, in the "news section." Represented were radio stations, television networks, news agencies, photographers, the local dailies, and scores of out-of-town newspapers and correspondents. Just about everybody, except us.

When the Eagle, after numerous unsuccessful attempts, finally got through to Lee Nichols at the Democratic County headquarters, we were informed that it was most unfortunate but that there just wasn't any room for the "weeklies."

SAME OLD DODGE

Nichols then trotted out the old saw about how there are so many weeklies and that if they admit one, they would have to admit them all.

This is the same dodge we get from local officials on the flimsy pretext that there is no essential difference between the Negro press, which is the voice of half a million Negroes in Los Angeles County, and an advertising throw-away that reflects only the personal interests of its publisher.

Nichols insisted we were not being barred from the news and advised that we could get coverage from other sources, such as the wire services, AP and UPI.

When we said that our readers preferred and expected a story written by our own reporter who could interpret the dinner and the President's remarks from our viewpoint, Nichols paused briefly, then replied that this seemed like a "profitless telephone call."

In that, at least, he was right.

Carl Rowan's Been a Negro A Long Time

Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state, was kept waiting for an hour for service at the 88 Keys night club in Kansas City last Wednesday.

He and four white friends were left sitting there until someone tipped off the manager.

Commented Rowan, "It's not particularly embarrassing to me . . . I've been a Negro for a long time."

The shooting of which Rorie was accused allegedly took place during the Aug. 27 attack against Freedom Riders and local Negroes protesting segregation. The policeman admitted he had stopped and searched Rorie at the time, but, finding no weapon, had released him.

Many hours later, however, the charge of shooting was lodged against Rorie who had been conspicuous in the anti-segregation picketing.

Last week in Monroe 15-year-old Brown Massey was reportedly beaten by a gang of whites. During the Aug. 27 rioting Massey had been badly beaten and then jailed. When his sisters, braving the mob, went to see him at the police station, they too were jailed on charges of inciting to riot.

The first Leadership Conference was held at Stanford University and the second at Fresno last fall. The Los Angeles meeting will attract Negro leaders from all over the state.

To Test State Ban

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—After five years, the NAACP will have its day in court on Dec. 27, just five days before the time limit imposed by the Supreme Court on Oct. 23.

The high court ordered Alabama to allow the NAACP to test the legality of the ban on NAACP activity in the state.

Attacker's Hearing Set

fore dragging her down the stairs twice by the hair of her head, fled from the room where Beaumont reportedly had been trying to force his attentions upon her. She ran upstairs and, still naked, jumped out of a second floor window.

She pounded at the door of a neighbor, at 1411 S. Harvard Blvd., and called police.

HEARD NOISE

The nightmarish terror began when Miss Dahlberg returned to her home, 1501 S. Harvard Blvd., shortly before 6 p.m. She heard someone in her roommate's closet and looked into the room.

A man grabbed her and struck her in the face, knocking her to the floor. Then he dragged her into the room and shut her in the closet.

He said he wouldn't hurt her if she obeyed him, that he was looking for "Annette" who used to live there so he could kill her.

The man then ran downstairs and Miss Dahlberg said she heard a woman scream.

PHONE RANG

Miss Anna Lee Clark, who shared the house with Miss Dahlberg, had come home and Beaumont forced her upstairs.

He forced both girls to lie down on a bed, started racing up and down the stairs.

The telephone rang. Beaumont had pulled the cord from the phone in the upstairs hall. He tied the hands of both girls behind their backs and blindfolded them. He hit Miss Dahlberg in the face and grabbed her hair, pulling her downstairs so she could answer the phone.

He ordered her to say she had business to attend to and wouldn't be home, threatening to kill her if she didn't do as he told her.

TOOK OFF HER CLOTHES

He dragged her back upstairs. Then he took off her clothes.

The phone rang a second time, and the man again dragged Miss Dahlberg downstairs, giving her the same instructions as before.

The phone rang again, and again she answered it.

The caller was Miss Dahlberg's fiance, Robert Homer, 1147 Kiowa, who had a dinner date with her and called to set the time. He later told police she sounded strange and cold when he first called.

The second time her voice seemed muffled.

'FOR GOD'S SAKE'

The third time, he said, she repeated the tale about being busy, and then ended with a sobbing, "For God's sake, call the police."

Homer immediately put through a call to the police station.

Before the man had forced Miss Dahlberg downstairs the second time, he had given her some "red devils" (seconal).

When police arrived they found Beaumont asleep. One officer went upstairs to search the house, and there he found Miss Clark, scantily clad, with her hands behind her back and her feet bound with a leather belt.

FOUGHT POLICE

Beaumont meanwhile had roused himself from his stupor and began battling with police who tried to handcuff him. They finally subdued him enough to put the cuffs on him, but he continued to lash about, striking at the officers and attempting to get a revolver from one of them, police reported.

They finally again got him calmed down enough to his legs with his necktie and took him off to jail.

Beaumont at first told officers he "didn't remember much," that he had taken about 12 red devils that day.

Later, under questioning, he said that his name was not Thompson, as he had at first stated, but Beaumont, and that he came from Louisville, Ky., where he was in trouble with the authorities. He gave his address as 3504 S. Harvard Blvd.

Police advised that Beaumont is wanted both in Kentucky and in Indiana on various charges including armed robbery, and that he had served three years in prison at Chilicothe, Ohio.

The two young women were taken to Central Receiving Hospital where they were treated and released.

Kennedy Gives Big Boost to Gov. Brown

Governor Edmund G. Brown's success in securing the passage of a fair employment act drew praise from President Kennedy in his speech to California Democrats Saturday. The President linked his praise with a prediction that Brown will be re-elected next year.

Remarking that Brown will "receive the endorsement of the people of California in 1962," the President said that he based the prediction partially "because of his (Brown's) efforts to provide equality of opportunity for all Americans." He added that he saw "no reason why it was necessary for California to wait until 1959" before it passed such a law—an obvious slap at previous Republican administrations which had failed to enact an FEPC.

The President said that a recent study shows that "one fourth of all the boys and girls looking for jobs in their teens are unemployed and this is concentrated among the Negro and Puerto Rican and those of Mexican extraction in this and other states."

"We cannot be satisfied until everyone who wants a job will find that job based on his native ability and desire to work and not because of racial or religious extraction," the President added.

Judge Hastie 'Bill of Rights' Week Speaker

U. S. Judge William H. Hastie of Philadelphia, the first Negro appointed to the Federal court bench, will be the keynote speaker at a banquet Sunday, Dec. 10, at the Ambassador Hotel, sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union of Southern California.

The event will commemorate the 170th anniversary of the signing of the Bill of Rights.

Judge Hastie, 57, has served as judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals since his appointment in 1949.

He has also served as dean of the Howard University School of Law, as civilian aide to the Secretary of War, and as Governor of the Virgin Islands.

A graduate of Amherst College and Harvard University, Judge Hastie is the recipient of a number of honorary degrees conferred by Yale University, Howard University and the University of Pennsylvania, among others.

Judge Hastie will address an audience of 1000 persons at the Bill of Rights Week event.

The program will include a dramatic tribute, "We Hold These Truths," by Norman Corwin, adapted for the occasion by Screenwriter Robert Presnell, Jr. Prominent television and film stars who will participate include Nina Foch, John Forsythe, Eduard Franz, Lee Marvin, Robert Ryan and James Whitmore.

Philip Wain, chairman of the ACLU's commemoration committee, will preside.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Lawton Oklahoma Grid Team Named Bakersfield's JRB Foe

A sensational clash between the nation's two top-ranked junior college elevens in the 16th annual Jr. Rose Bowl Game Saturday, Dec. 9, became a reality Monday with the announcement that the unbeaten Cameron Aggies of Lawton (Okla.) have been named to represent the East against the Renegades of Bakersfield College.

Bakersfield, which swept through a tough, nine-game, regular season schedule without a setback, was selected Sunday.

The 11-man JRB Board of Management handed Cameron the nod over unbeaten Columbia Basin College of Pasco (Wash.), after the Aggies had dropped a Powerful Pratt (Kan.) eleven from the ranks of the undefeated with a 21-7 triumph Saturday night. Two other hopefuls for the eastern bid, Boise (Ida.) and McCook (Neb.), also were upset Saturday evening, Boise losing to New Mexico Military, 24-21, and McCook being trounced by Trinidad, (Colo.), 32-7.

Cameron's impressive win over Pratt was the third in eight days for the rugged Aggie crew, which is coached by 31-year-old Leroy Montgomery, and marked Cameron's 19th victory in its past 20 starts.

The meeting will be the second between the two schools, Bakersfield having romped by the Sooner eleven, 48-6, in a regular season contest.

The Renegades will be making their third JRB appearance and yet to taste defeat. In addition to their win over Northeastern A & M, the Californians whipped Del Mar (Tex.), 36-14, in 1959.

Just to set the record straight and put me in good stead with L. I. Brockenbury and Brad Pye Jr., a couple of sportswriters who have long been waging a war for seats in the L. A. Coliseum press box every time the college football season rolls around.

The fellows claim that USC and UCLA have refused to issue them esculator privileges and therefore they must keep me company in row 70, two rows below the glass enclosed press box.

We have always been mad about row 70 seats because the exertion of hiking from the parking area to the pews leaves us completely exhausted and we usually sleep through at least three-quarters of each game.

Lucky for us, we usually take a bartender or liquor salesman on tour 70 and they supply us with an eye-opener, which enables us to catch at least a quarter of the game.

We are mad about row 70 even though it's just about as close as we ever hope to get to heaven and in spite of the fact that at night games the cool air is raw and refreshing for the outdoor type which we are. A fellow of my shade couldn't risk row 70 in the 90 degree day games for fear of ruining our beautiful ebony complexion.

Speaking of ebony complexion, back in the years before night games became so popular in the Coliseum we attempted to convince the powers that be at USC and UCLA how silly it was to not permit bona fide Negro newsmen the privilege of press box accommodations to cover Coliseum events. They told us to git and stop bothering them until we came up with a daily.

The year was 1937, and along with Herman Hill, Chester Washington and Halley Harding we talked it over and came up with a daily for them. Washington was West Coast editor of the Pittsburgh Courier which was then printing its own national edition. Just for kicks we tossed in the Atlanta Daily World. This information was submitted and with a very sheepish grin on their faces the powers that be then made it possible for Washington to occupy a press box seat.

Now it's been a few years since that happened and today in the era of the breaking down of discrimination, we find the publicly owned Coliseum press box still barring Negro newspapermen. Even worse is the fact that two of our leading college publicity departments are being told what color should have the right to press box privileges. Negro newspapermen are being barred on the same excuse given 20 years ago. It was a dodge then and it is a dodge now.

The fact is that Negro newspapermen have the same press credentials as the dailies and they are not asking any special favors. What the college publicity departments should do is to respect the credentials.

Negro newspapers and other Negro publications have been more than fair with publicity favoring USC and UCLA and more than deserve respect from the two biggest Southland colleges.

Both USC and UCLA should be ashamed of themselves for letting this condition exist with the weak-kneed excuse that out of 144 press box seats they can't find accommodations for two of the leading newspapers in the State of California.

Angels, Dodgers Game Scheduled

The Angels will play the Dodgers in a pre-season exhibition on April 2 in Palm Springs. Bob Lemon and Joe Gordon are new coaches for the Angels.

That information was the highlight of a luncheon given by the Angels last week.

The Dodger game is one of a scheduled 11 games to be played before baseball season officially opens.

It is "sad but true" that Don-Fong Tournament and he is one of the coolest pressure players we have seen since Charles Sifford.

Presently Leon Roberts, a private citizen in San Francisco, is sponsoring Donald. Roberts is to be complimented because he is also sponsoring two other young men by the name of Leonard Legett and Ronnie Legett. Roberts said, "I sincerely hope I can find some one to continue sponsoring Donald because I don't work as regularly as I used to and Donald should play more competitive golf than I can afford."

Donald is from a family of six and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Overstreet who reside at 333 S. 39th street in Richmond. His father is a night watchman.

Last year was Donald's finishing year at Harry Ellis High School and he became their golf champion while playing on the school's integrated golf team.

The first day of the Fong Tournament he shot a blistering 74. We say blistering because the weather was freezing when he teed off and scorching hot two hours later. To prove how consistent he is Donald was leading the tournament by one stroke (he shot 75 and Ray Felece had shot 76; Ray is only 21) and he returned the next day and won the tournament by shooting 75.

Leon Roberts was unable to sponsor Donald in this particular tournament but he was fortunate to get Jack's Tavern to come to his rescue.

We are hoping to find a sponsor soon enough to bring this fine young champion to the attentions of the Crosbys.

All this youngster needs is a chance to be seen. Waiting for a sponsor can sometimes take too long.

President John Kennedy' Gov. Pat Brown Electrify 600 Attending Links Inc., Affair

By EDWINA WHITLOCK

The arrival of President John F. Kennedy and Governor Pat Brown at the 10th annual Cotillion of the Los Angeles Links, just as the Debs were about to be presented, electrified the 600 guests present at the Beverly Hilton Hotel Saturday night.

Few persons in the crowd knew that the President had been extended an invitation by the hostesses to appear at the event, but when Andy Hatcher, assistant press secretary, strolled into the beautifully decorated Grand Ballroom, many of the persons in the crowd began to put two and two together.

Mrs. Ursula Murrell, president of the local Links, went to the rostrum, asked the guests to be seated and announced the impending arrival of the Presidential party.

Moments later the police and secret service escort made their way through the tables and cheers rang out as the youthful President strode in, hands in his pockets, hair flying, as he made a special "curtsy" to the pretty young debs.

Nat "King" Cole, who earlier in the evening had sung at the $100-a-plate dinner honoring the President at the Palladium, said a word or two. Mrs. Murrell, whose shimmering white beaded floor-length formal seemed to tremble with excitement, introduced the Chief Executive jested: "Nat just got through singing at the dinner in my honor. And since his daughter is being presented at your Cotillion I thought I'd come over to return the compliment."

Hesitating briefly, he went on to say: "On second thought, I'd better not sing. But I do want to thank the Links for allowing an itinerant President to come in to say 'hello'."

Governor Brown's presence was then acknowledged and Kennedy walked past the debs and their escorts, pausing to shake hands with each of the young ladies who made graceful curtsies to the President of their country.

MEMORABLE EVENT

As much as the presence of the Chief Executive added to the occasion, the tenth Cotillion of the Links would have been a memorable one even if he had not appeared.

A solemn note was injected into the midst of the festivities when Mrs. John Simmons, chairman of the Charities Committee, presented a check for $1,000 to Atty. Loren Miller for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

Said Miller, "I accept this check in the name of all those who fight for what is right and what is decent. I accept it in the name of all the Freedom Riders, and of all the Sit-Inners, and of all the little children who braved the mobs in Little Rock, in New Orleans, in Memphis."

Mrs. Sherman Smith, who served as chairman of the entertainment committee, introduced the Rev. James H. Hargett, pastor of the Church of Christian Fellowship, who in turn introduced the debs.

BIG MOMENT

Finally the moment for which all the preparation, all the plans had been made, arrived. First to appear in the center of the huge red Oriental pagoda was petite Miss Joan Maddox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Maddox.

Each deb was joined by her father at the foot of the stairway, strolled down the dance floor on his arm, parted from him to curtsy to the crowd, then joined the others in front of the stage in a double semicircle. Mr. Hargett quoted witty Oriental proverbs after each young woman was presented.

Included among the debs were two daughters of Links members: Alice Foster, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Foster, and Nancy Jane Rowland, daughter of the Steve Rowlands.

The Cotillion waltz was executed with grace and precision. Several of the sets were wildly applauded and when

For the occasion members selected gowns of pink and blue floating chiffon, organza and peau de soie. Their gloves, full formal length, and pumps were white. The gala affair was preceded by a before-party gathering and was followed by a late hour breakfast.

Prior to departing for the dance the members and their escorts enjoyed champagne in the fashionable home of club member Emma Matt.

Gloria Green, James McPherson Wed in Calvary Baptist Church

WEDDING CAKE — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. James McPherson in Santa Monica are shown cutting their five-tier cake during their wedding reception.

The Calvary Baptist Church of Santa Monica was the scene of the double-ring ceremony that united Gloria Green and James McPherson recently, with Dr. Welford P. Carter officiating.

Beauty in its most pronounced form characterized the bride, who wore an exquisite white chapel length gown of silk satin with lace trimmed bodice accented with tiny pearls. The short full veil gave her the loveliness of a queen. She carried a bouquet of carnations and red roses and was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor, Hattie Ann McPherson, aunt of the groom, wore royal blue and kelly green and carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Bridal attendants were lovely in identical dresses of kelly green, carrying red carnations. They were Juanita Cole, Sandra Bolio and Hazel Wilson. Flower girls were Monica and Steffina Grant.

Serving as best man was Sonny Smith. Ushers were Ruben McClamy, Willie Gray and George Buckman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Green. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarriett Butler.

"I Love You Truly" was beautifully sung by Venneire Brunson. Mr. Dave C. Weston, minister of music of the Calvary Baptist Church, played the organ.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the spacious social hall of the church.

The bride's table, laden in traditional manner with a huge silver punch bowl and two long silver candelabras, combined with a beautiful five-tier wedding cake to make a masterpiece of art and beauty.

Gifts for the young couple were both elaborate and numerous. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in San Diego. They will reside in the Delaware Apts. in Santa Monica.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

The spirit of Thanksgiving filled the air early in Oxnard and Ventura County. People were sharing laughter and fun at dinners, cocktail parties and banquets, and this merriment is scheduled to continue until the festive weekend is over.

To name some of the happenings: there was the Mexican Party at the Harry Alfords Friday night. The food was good, the music grand. The Jimmie Reed's Saturday night cocktail party was something to remember.

Angelenos were on hand in sparkling splendor. Spoke to Betty Baldwin, the Lee Johnsons, G. E. Johnsons, Harvey Giddens and Olivia Rice, all of L.A.; also the Earnest Edwards, of Camarillo, Dr. Ludlow Creary, who is house physician at County General Hospital, and wife Jene of Ventura. There were also the Hosea Alderons, Betty Davis, formerly of Oxnard, and sister-in-law Marie Hall, Henry Williams, Harold Davis, Carol Jones, and Elizabeth Washington, all of Santa Barbara.

Gloria Thomas was dazzling in green satin, as was Gwyndolyn Hunt (her dress made by her own two hands). Claudia Edwards was charming in white, coat and all. Alice Glesby's new haircut makes one stop and take a second look. Rose Reed, hostess, charming in blue satin, was most gracious. The party went on and on.

Then there was the banquet given by the Senior Choir of St. Paul's Baptist compliminting Thomas Blake, who takes off for parts unknown with Uncle Sam's Air Force. Also the Junior Choir of that church did a little banqueting on Friday night, and their guest speaker was Rev. Sullivan of Riverside.

Jo Batrice Opens Smart Shop

Sunday, Nov. 12, marked the Grand Opening of an exclusive ladies' wear shop. This Fifth Avenue salon, located at 1904 5th Avenue, is a distinctive addition to the specialty shops abounding in this area.

CHAIRMAN — Georgia Hardimon was named chairman for the Lullaby Guild's Ebony Fashion Fair on Dec. 3 at the Hollywood Palladium. This is the group's fourth annual presentation. Tickets may be secured from any Guild member.

Among the many admirers and well-wishers who attended the opening were Mrs. Glenna Hayes, president of Lullaby Guild; Lucille of Hollywood; Mrs. Dina Foster, Fashions, Inc.; Mrs. Evelyn Griffin; Juanita Cruse, singer; Bob Rogers, designer; Maudie Dee, milliner; Mrs. Ron Morris; Mrs. Jan Thomas, singer; Mrs. Thelma Hayes; Mr. Henri O'Bryant; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mosely; and Audrey Reed and Benita Howard of the Jolliets.

The shop features: individual styling, made-to-order and ready-made clothing, suits, dresses, coats and slacks, also lingerie, stockings, jewelry, gifts, greeting cards and postal package wrapping accommodations.

The many guests admired the fabulous Jo Batrice's original designs, worn by model-hostesses, including Yvonne Rayton, Thelma Chatman and Bobbye Garrett, and the hat displays of "Hats by Leon" (Leon Bennett). Guests were served champagne punch by the Bella Dona Social and Civic Club.

JOYCE BRYANT SINGS

The nicest part of this week was a three hour long chat with that pet of mine, Miss Joyce Bryant, and then the Ephesus Church of the Seventh Day Adventists service where Joyce sang two beautiful solos, "I Know Its Real" and "I'm Going Through." Despite a severe case of virus and a strep throat, Miss Bryant was in fine voice and exuded "soul" which moved the capacity congregation to en mass "Amens".

The entire service was inspiring and tastefully handled, with lovely choral work done by the Collegiate Choir under the apt direction of Homer Wade, and a guest sermon by Elder E. E. Cleveland. Hated to have to miss the tenor concerts of Ed Jackson in Newark at Trinity Temple, but time just would not permit. Joyce told me that her Washington, D.C. concert was a complete success, and that our respective voice teacher, Fred Wilkerson's student recital, also in D.C., received excellent turnout and critical acclaim.

The story takes place somewhere in Africa, and is in the Study of Mhandi, Chief Head Of State, played by a newcomer to acting, but a real talent, Gus Williams. Wife to Mhandi was Rosalind Mason, who gave a smypathetic portrayal, Wajji, the Houseboy, was Nick LaTour, with too little to do, but effective with his small bit; Commissioner Kuunsa was Arthur French, and he left something wanting for me in his role, though others seemed impressed; and Nkundi; capably played by Rickie Cannon.

al big league baseball — up until then a white man's world.

I know Jackie very well. His story — the hell he went through — is familiar to you. I mention Jackie's name because he opened the door for the Negro in big name baseball. Branch Rickey, a man who declined to run with the pack, was behind Jackie all the way. He suffered as much as Robinson. I know. I was there.

Outstanding Professionals

Today there are Negro athletes shining in all professional sports; to name a few, Willie Mays, Elston Howard, Frank Robinson, Elgin Baylor, Oscar Robertson, Wilt Chamberlain, Jim Brown, Lermie Moore. I could go on and on but the point is Branch Rickey Sr. opened the gate when he signed Jackie. I believe the whole Country is in this man's debt for what he did.

Today a man is judged only on one thing in pro sports, his talent, not his color, religion or ancestry. When I played ball I didn't give a hoot if the guy was black, blue or green. My only concern was to beat him if he was on the other team or help him if he was on mine.

It was tough for a Negro to get accepted in baseball because of the taboos that existed for so long. Rickey kicked those taboos for a field goal and there is no racial discrimination in big time baseball, football—and show business.

Now this is another field I know something about. I've been "The Rifleman" for 4 years now. That's a long time in show business. I've got two great personal friends who are Negroes — Sammy Davis, Jr. and Dick Gregory. In fact, I've asked Sammy to appear on our show and he has agreed. There's a billion dollars worth of talent in this guy's body.

I guess at one time there was discrimination between Negroes and whites in show business, but it was broken down a long time before I was born. I've never seen any example of it in the years I have been acting and I don't think I ever will if I live to be 100.

Dick Gregory Entertaining

Dick Gregory is regarded as one of the hottest young comedians in the entertainment world today. Not because he is colored, I'm sure. The guy is funny and he has a message. His message is simply — the truth.

Dick's jokes and observations, like will Rogers', are based on the truth. Things that really happen. He makes us laugh when he comments on some phase of integration. In this way he is a force for good. It seems that humor has no color line — that line exists in the mind of small minded people who can't laugh.

Dick is by no means a sick comedian. He's healthy and, so is his humor. He doesn't attack integration like he is on a great moral crusade. He spoofs it. He makes jokes about it. And in doing so he opens a lot of people's eyes for the first time.

Atlanta showed the south's good points on the integration problem while New Orleans was the bad side of the penny. But what matters is that integration is working slowly but surely. The barbed wire fences and discriminating signs are being torn down. And the hands that are destroying these objects belong to men like Willie Mays, Jackie Robinson, Sammy Davis, Jr. and Dick Gregory. And people like Branch Rickey Sr.

OBJECT LESSON

The sports world and the entertainment world are an object lesson to anyone who thinks integration will not work. There will be more stars like Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne as well as more pro ball players like Mays and Robinson.

I don't think there is one professional sport today that observes racial segregation. I said professional sport. There are lots of amateur and college sports that are still throwbacks to the time when white and black never mixed. The Indians didn't exactly have it easy either and things are still rough for them as well as for Negroes.

I'd like to end this column with some words spoken long ago by Branch Rickey that are on a plaque I have in my home. They are simply this: "Forget the last syllable of a man's name or the pigmentation of his skin." Branch adds that this is the only way to judge a good athlete — by what he can do, not what he is. There are a lot of good men working towards peaceful integration — both white and black. There's a lot of work to be done still — but it's reassuring to know someone's doing it.

Baby Girl, Parents Die as Heater Burns All Night

Door Closed; Ambulance, Police Leave

An 18-month-old baby and her parents died of asphyxiation last Wednesday night, while life-giving assistance was just outside the door.

Dead were the little girl, Vernell Roberts, her mother Ernestine M. Roberts, 24, and her husband, John Roberts Jr., 27, who worked as a janitor. They lived at 762½ E. 118th street.

NO ANSWER

The three lifeless bodies were discovered by neighbors who were aroused when first an ambulance, then a police car drove up to the house — and left.

Mrs. Bertha Lewis, the landlady, heard Roberts come home from his job about 2:30 a.m. About 3:15 a.m. she saw police officers and ambulance attendants knocking at the door of the Roberts' home.

There was no answer. The ambulance attendants and the police officers left, apparently figuring they had been roused by a false alarm.

BREAK WINDOW

Uneasy about the situation, Mrs. Lewis called the Roberts' next door neighbors, Mrs. Elizabeth Webster and Isaac Webster who live at 672 E. 118th street.

The Websters went to investigate. They noted that all the windows were closed. Unable to effect an entry, they broke the window in the front bedroom, and Webster crawled into the house.

He noticed the baby and her parents. All appeared to be dead.

The house was exceptionally warm. He opened the doors and the windows and turned off the gas heater in the front room.

Mrs. Webster called an am-

Jeff, Fremont High Students Bitter at Shooting by Police

The killing last Wednesday night of 19-year-old William F. Webb, of 1237 E. 54th street, by a policeman during a "routine investigation" was officially listed as "justifiable homicide."

But the shooting that occurred during a struggle between officers and six youths has brought to the surface what has long been a source of anxiety and resentment.

'SPEAK BITTERNESS'

About 70 students met with juvenile officers, parents and representatives of the NAACP Monday night at Rev. R. R. Williams' Greater First Baptist Church, 1300 E. 57th street, to discuss problems of the youth of the community, especially in light of last Wednesday's scuffle that ended fatally.

It was an orderly meeting and a serious one, but it was evident from the start that the students were worked up over the killing and when they got a chance to voice their views they turned it into a "speak bitterness" evening.

"It could have been me," commented one of the students.

A NICE FELLOW

Most of those who expressed an opinion spoke with kindness and affection about young Webb. "He was a nice fellow," said one.

Others were highly critical of the accounts of the killing in the daily press. They say he was a juvenile delinquent. So he got in a fight once with a white kid. And they accused him of theft. You know what happened? When he was a small boy, he stole some apples.

But most of the bitterness was directed against the police.

CURSING, PUSHING

They complained that officers stop them on the street, pat them down, curse them. They asserted that police push them around, use abusive language, humiliate them.

There's nothing we can do now about Webb, one remarked. Many seemed to agree as he added, "but we can prevent it happening to others."

Before the meeting adjourned, a steering committee

Kingpins Arrested In $100,000 Racket

Police cracked a big-time forgery ring last Tuesday that is believed to have netted its operators well over $100,000 when two of the racket's kingpins were arrested.

They are Thomas C. Doyle, 34, an ex-convict, and Herbert Smith, Jr., 31. Both admitted cashing bogus checks when they appeared before Judge Thomas L. Griffith. They are to be sentenced Dec. 13.

INTERRACIAL

The operation that specialized in forging bank drafts and checks was strictly interracial. Doyle is white; Smith is a Negro.

Arrested along with them were Sharon Lee Arnello, 23, of 7025 Franklin avenue, where Doyle was also picked up; Marilyn Harlan, 30, of 2641 Redondo blvd., where Smith was found; Joseph Trombino, 32, and Louis Sawyer, Jr., 27, both of 3922 S. Western avenue. Miss Arnello and Trombino are white; Miss Harlan and Sawyer are Negro.

Detectives from San Diego, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento came to Los Angeles to question the suspects.

TWO RELEASED

Sawyer and Miss Arnello were released, and Trombino was turned over to San Francisco, where he is wanted on another forgery charge.

The operation is believed to have started last May when Doyle deposited a cashier's check for $17,500 drawn on a Thompson told his brother, L. B. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, that he didn't see the blinking light as he approached. The street has been blocked off for freeway construction.

Thompson was taken to Orthopedic Hospital, then transferred to General where he underwent surgery Monday night.

To Curb Negro Immigration

LONDON — The House of Commons last week, over Labor opposition, approved a measure to curb immigration of colored residents of the British Commonwealth. The vote was 284-200.

Hugh Gaitskill, Laborite leader, said, "This is a plain anti-Commonwealth measure in theory and a plain anti-color measure in practice."

'Bama Not Coming; Accepts 'Sugar' Bid

By ABIE ROBINSON
Eagle Sports Editor

Alabama University's football team isn't coming to the Rose Bowl.

That was made plain last Saturday when Alabama officials, bowing to the inevitable, leaked out word that the team had accepted an invitation to play in the White Supremacy Bowl, otherwise known as the Sugar Bowl, at New Orleans. It accepted the Sugar Bowl bid after it learned that it didn't have a chance to get to the Rose Bowl.

Alabama was all lined up to come to Pasadena Jan. 1 until the Eagle published a first page demand to "Keep Alabama Out of the Rose Bowl."

As the Eagle pointed out at the time, the University of Alabama doesn't accept Negro students and it won't play against teams with Negro players on its home grounds.

READY TO ACCEPT

However, the school was all primed to lay its policy aside for the day if it could get the Rose Bowl bid. Apparently it loved Rose Bowl gold and glory more than it loved its Jim Crow policy.

After the Eagle had published its Page One editorial urging state university and state officials to turn thumbs down on Alabama, other newspapers and individuals joined in the protest and expressed their JOINS COMMUNISTS — Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, 93, now in Ghana, last week joined the Communist Party of the United States.

Dr. DuBois Joins U.S. Communists

NEW YORK — Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, grand old man of the Negro fight for recognition and equality, last week at the age of 93 joined the Communist Party of the United States.

Dr. DuBois' action came shortly after the deadline set under the McCarran Internal Security Act whereby the Communist Party was ordered to register as an agent of a foreign power. Failure to register makes the party, its officers and members liable to daily penalties of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

REFORM IMPOSSIBLE

In a letter from Ghana, DuBois, distinguished sociologist, writer, teacher and lecturer, wrote to the Communist Party in New York, applying for membership. He stated that he has arrived at "a firm conclusion . . . that capitalism cannot reform itself," and that "communism — the effort to give all men what they need and to ask of each the best they can contribute — this is the only way of life."

He added that, "in the end,

HORSES AND CARTS

Former President, Dwight Eisenhower, who complained last week about what he called bloc voting by Negroes put the cart before the horse — horses, you know, used to pull carts before somebody discovered they could make more money running at Santa Anita. If you ask me, the Negro leads a bloc existence. I know of no reason why he shouldn't vote as he lives, or rather as he is required to live. He got off to a bloc start in the country when the first 19 Africans were sold as slaves at Jamestown in 1619. He's been at it ever since.

When the Founding Fathers got around to writing the Constitution they confirmed his bloc standing by putting the great seal of their approval on his slave status. The Supreme Court got into the act in the Dred Scott case in 1857 by deciding that the Negro, free or slave, could claim no protection under the federal constitu-

Kidnap Man At U&I Cafe

John Hicks was kidnapped last Thursday by two men who entered the U & I Restaurant, 4915 S. Central Ave., where he was seated, and threw him through the plate glass window.

Witnesses said the men walked up behind Hicks and said "Let's go!" He refused to move, so they helped him on his way. Once he was through the window, they picked him up and put him in a 1961 Buick. Then they sped away.

The police got the Buick's license number, and traced it to Richard L. or Edna McCannel, 3141 Lees Ave., Long Beach.

The car was found in the McCannel garage, but the owners are on their vacation at the present time and are out of town.

Prominent Doctor Dies Buried Wed

Dr. E. I. Robinson, one of the best known and best liked doctors in Los Angeles who from 1949 to 1954 was president of the local branch of the NAACP and who was an active member of his church, died in New York last Wednesday from a coronary attack.

He had gone to New York to visit a brother there who is ill.

Dr. Robinson was chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Second Baptist Church and was buried from that church in services at 1 p.m. Wednesday, with the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson officiating and members of the Trustee Board acting as honorary pallbearers.

BODY FLOWN HERE

Funeral arrangements were handled by Conner-Johnson C[o]. The body was flown here from New York. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Dr. Robinson was born in Brunswick, Ga., and received his medical education at Meharry Medical College. He remained at the college as teacher until the early when he came to Los Angeles where he practiced until a year before his death.

Capt. Ruiz received 18 rib fractures and is expected to be immobilized for at least two months. He is reported in considerable pain, but improving.

Party-Crashers Kill Man With Ball-Peen Hammer

Five men crashed a teen-age party Saturday night at 744 E. 81st street. Before they left one of their number had pounded a man over the head with a ball-peen hammer and killed him.

Eugene Donald Rose, 25, of 631 W. 83rd street, a salesman, who had apparently dropped in to visit his nephew, was attacked by one of the hoodlums during a fight on the front porch, hit with the hammer and knocked into the porch rail.

The rail gave way and Rose toppled to the ground and to his death.

Another man, Otha Lee Moore, of 822 E. 83rd street, who is deaf and unable to speak, was attacked by four or five of the party-crashers while they were still in the house.

When Willie Phillips, of 2411 W. 10th street, who had sponsored the affair, noticed that things were getting out of hand, he abruptly ordered everyone to leave. The party, he said, is over.

It was then that Rose was attacked as he was leaving the house.

The five intruders made their get-away.

Among the guests at the party were Frank Leonard, Robert Perkins, Larry Hugh, Lela Scales, Benjamin Vance, Jewel Mitchell, Clarence Harris, John Singleton and Lucius Hicks.

U.N. Votes Use of Force To End Congo Secession

By GRACE E. SIMONS

The United Nations Security Council voted again Friday to authorize the U.N. command in the Congo to use force if necessary to compel secessionist Katanga Province to get rid of its foreign mercenaries and return to the fold of the Central Government, but achievement of that aim seemed as remote as ever.

In the U.N. vote, the United States attempted to tack on three amendments which would have had the effect of authorizing the Congo Government, backed by the U.N., to take equally strong action against any rebellion that might break out in the north, the stronghold of Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga.

FEAR GIZENGA

All three amendments were blocked by a Soviet veto.

Gizenga was deputy under Premier Patrice Lumumba, who was assassinated last January while a prisoner of Moise Tshombe's gendarmes in Katanga. The western powers appear to fear his nationalist following and what they regard as his "left" leanings.

Gizenga, however, has dissolved his capital in Stanleyville in the north and has joined the government of Prime Minister Adoula, whereas Tshombe, with Belgian backing, insists upon his right to maintain Katanga Province as a separate state.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Meanwhile, fighting continues on the northern border of Katanga Province, with Central Government forces having captured Katanga's second largest city, Albertville, where Tshombe's troops appear to have fled in haste rather than do battle.

The hostility of the Congolese to the Belgians flared up in Kindu, in Kivu Province, where Congolese soldiers killed 13 Italian United Nations fliers, and, according to reports, hacked them to pieces. The Italians spoke French, as do the Belgians, and reports indicate that

Mate Blamed For Attack on Wife, Friend

Acting upon a complaint Saturday, police found Mrs. Barbara McGordon at her home, 1167½ E. 47th street, bleeding from cuts on the head and in a state of shock.

In a bedroom they found a man, later identified as Theodore Pournoy, who lives in the 1400 block on E. 43rd street, unconscious and also bleeding from head wounds.

Mrs. McGordon blamed her husband, Wesley McGordon, who she said attacked her while she slept, breaking her nose and her right arm. Then, she told police, he escaped through the bathroom window.

Police began a hunt for McGordon, also known as Willie Scales, and picked up a man driving McGordon's car. He gave his name as John L. Hemphill and said he was McGordon's brother-in-law.

He continued that he had a duplicate set of keys to the car and when he spotted it on 29th street, he got in and drove off.

Police arrested Hemphill in the belief he knew more about the attack than he admitted.

Leadership Meeting Talks Get Nowhere

By Robert Farrell

The sole positive answer to the theme of the California Negro Leadership Conference, "What to do About jobs in 1962?" was to institute "selective buying" campaigns.

The success of the conference was that about 100 Negroes assembled for a discussion last Saturday at the Alexandria Hotel. The group discussed the job problems from the Negro point of view.

Buy With Employment

The suggestion of "selective buying" as a means to create jobs for Negroes in '62 shows that most of the conferees were familiar with the recent "selective buying" program in Philadelphia. Such a program is being undertaken in Los Angeles by the California Negro Businessmen's Association against Lucky Lager beer.

Andrew Hatcher, associate press secretary to President Kennedy, was the keynote speaker at the opening banquet Friday night. He spoke about the significance of politics in our daily lives. If this speech is indicative of what the closest Negro to the White House can divulge to his fellows, "them that is knowing ain't saying."

No one brought up for consideration down to earth aspects of the California Negro's economic plight. For example, the Negro's billion dollar buying power was mentioned. A billion dollars sounds like a lot, but when the Negro population is 900,000 it means about $1100 per Negro per year, or about $92 per Negro per month.

Talk, No Solutions

When this is broken down into terms of food purchases, rents, clothing, etc., you see how badly off some of our people are. This aspect of the job problem — the real need for a solution — was not touched. It, and others, were drowned under a sea of "shoulds" and "musts".

The essentials to "forge new weapons . . . ", in the words of Atty. Loren Miller, publisher of the California Eagle, were there. The resources and talents of the Negro community were just not focused on the essential problem. The assembly for planning over-all objectives and strategy was in reality little more than a group of individuals at a discussion.

I hope the continuation committee, which was formed to keep the ball rolling after the conference ended, will plan to make sure that participants in future conferences are prepared, by prior meetings, if necessary, to discuss the issues raised. The Negro community cannot afford to let its leadership get together for mere talk in discussion groups. We have neither the time nor the resources to puff when we should be preparing.

Carver High Workshop Set At Avalon

George Washington Carver Junior High School students will attend a Personal Relations Workshop Saturday, Dec. 2, at the Avalon Community Center. The workshop is being held for Carver's presidents and representatives form homerooms and is jointly sponsored by the Avalon Community Center and the school.

Mrs. Opal Jones, executive director of Avalon, and Llewellyn Mazique, Carver principal, expressed the view that the team approach of school and community can be a helpful tool in preparing young people to expect first-class citizenship and assume its responsibilities.

TRAINING

Seventy-two students are expected to participate, and it is hoped that through them the influence of the workshop can spread throughout the school.

Young adults will assist at the workshop. These college students, members of the Avalon Community Center, are taking special training to be discussion leaders for the conference.

2000 Sign Petition For 10th Dist. Recall

Approximately 50 petition gatherers for the 10th District Recall pounded the pavements Sunday, pushing the total of signatures obtained to date above the 2,000 mark, with the volunteers reporting a fine response from the community.

The highly successful mobilization was particularly gratifying, it was reported, because white and Japanese residents were just as ready to sign as were Negroes.

REGISTRARS AVAILABLE

One snag the petition gatherers are running into is the fact that many who want to sign are not registered voters. To remedy this, registrars are being made available at the Recall Movement headquarters, 3112 S. Western avenue, RE 1-3175.

For map of 10th Councilmanic District see Page 4.

A big assist will also be given by the Voter Registration Trailor which will be available, starting this Saturday, in local markets for the next five months.

To assure a recall election in the 10th District, some 7500 valid signatures of residents of the district are required. To make certain that enough valid signatures are obtained, it is generally considered necessary to get several thousand in addition to the required number.

NEED VOLUNTEERS

The petitions are aimed at the recall of Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth, who was appointed to the post over the heads of highly qualified Negro candidates, despite the fact that Negro representation in the City Council is long overdue.

3 Weeks Left! Send EAGLE Sub for Xmas

It's only three weeks 'til Christmas!

A number of readers of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE have responded to our suggestion that a constant and appreciated reminder of a Christmas gift is a 52-week subscription to the oldest Negro newspaper in the West.

It's an easy and flattering way of saying, "Christmas greetings." Just send in your name, $4, and the name and address of the recipient. That name will be entered on our subscription list and he (or she) will receive a copy of the EAGLE every week during 1962.

Minister Sues Greyhound Bus For $150,000

Rev. Cora Lee Malone has filed a lawsuit for $150,000 through her attorney, Frank F. LaVigne of the law firm of Lee, La Vigne and Davis, against the Greyhound Corporation for personal injuries.

On Nov. 8, 1961, Rev. Malone, who lives at 2315 S. Raymond avenue, boarded a Greyhound Bus for Yuma, Ariz., at 6:10 a.m.

The bus ran off the highway and overturned, causing two deaths and injuries to 32 persons.

One of the persons killed was Rev. William Dexter Hester of 1040 S. Grand avenue, whom Rev. Malone had planned to marry in Yuma.

Rev. Malone suffered a fractured pelvis, internal injuries, and severe abrasions and lacerations on the left side of her face. She is presently confined in the Pioneers Memorial Hospital in Brawley.

Death From Heart Attack Follows Dinner

Complaining that she felt very tired after eating dinner at her father's home Saturday, Nancy Irons, 44, of 1336 E. 83rd street, suffered a heart attack and died before medical help could be summoned.

Her father, George Smith, 1040 E. 29th street, said Edith Turner, 1040 E. 29th street, and Flossie Stevenson, 937 E. 33rd street, along with his daughter were sitting in the living room when suddenly his daughter started to fall from her chair. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Stevenson tried to give her first aid, but after one long breath she died.

Man Killed Holding Up Gas Station

It was the third time in three years that Willie Lamar Culpepper, 56, owner-operator of Bill's Richfield Gas Station at 1424 W. Jefferson blvd., was held up.

The first two times the thugs made their get-away.

On Friday night, about 7:30 p.m., Culpepper was sitting at his desk, getting a bill for a customer, Tommy Vann Wright, 611 W. Cedar street, Compton.

He heard the now familiar, "Get 'em up!"

His gun was lying on the desk near his hand. He grabbed it and fired two quick shots.

The hold-up man, Dell Hester, 22, of 211 W. 61st street, turned and ran, but he didn't get far.

At the rear of the station, he stumbled and fell.

Police found him there, face down, dead from a bullet in his chest.

EVENING WITH A. C. — Monday is the day, 8:30 is the time, the Wilshire Ebell Theater is the place when A. C. Bilbrew, versitile and talented artist, will be presented by the NCNW in "An Evening with A. C."

'Evening with A.C.' Set for Mon. Night

"An Evening with A. C." will be presented by the National Council of Negro Women Monday night, Dec. 4, at 8:30 p.m. at the Wilshire Ebell Theater, 4401 W. 8th street.

This is the first time the local chapter of the NCNW has sponsored a full evening's entertainment by an artist member of its own organization, Miss A. C Bilbrew.

A. C. is widely known locally, nationally and abroad as a dynamic personality, who is able to project to her audience humor, dignity and warmth.

She will feature music and poetry of American writers, including some of her own. She will be seen in the role of the Negro Mother by Langston Hughes that tugs at your heartstrings; a moment later, in a quick change of pace, she will stir her audience with a scintillating portrayal of a vampire.

She will also give a few brief highlights of her trip to Russia in May of last year.

Miss Bilbrew, who is chairman of the NCNW Fine Arts Committee, has been chosen as "Lady of the Day" by radio station KGFJ and will be heard again on the same station Sunday, Dec. 3, at 8:30 p.m. on the "Fraternally Yours" program.

Reservations for "An Evening with A. C." can be made by calling WE 9-1128, RE 5-9187 or AX 1-4688.

Guinea Asks U.S. Sailors To End Visit

CONAKRY, Guinea — Two U.S. Navy transports, the Donner and Suffolk County, left here last week after two days of a scheduled three-day stay. They were asked to leave by Guinean authorities.

The action came when the people of Guinea reportedly became "disgusted" with the conduct of the American sailors.

On Friday the U.S. State Department in Washington "categorically" denied that there had been any misconduct on the part of the navy men.

The two ships have been on a goodwill tour of Africa's Atlantic coast for about a year.

When Lawrence Paul Smiley, 28, an upholsterer who lives at 933½ E. 41st street, went into the alley in back of 1052 E. Vernon avenue last Saturday, a man held a gun at him and threatened, "I want your money!"

Smiley started running and the thug fired twice, hitting him in the forearm.

He told police he recognized his assailant as a man who hangs out around the Owl Cafe at 1050 E. Vernon avenue, but he did not know his name.

DOOTO RECORDS
POST OFFICE BOX 72036 • 9512 SO. CENTRAL AVE. • L.A. 2 • LO. 7-2466

LOS ANGELES—Floyd Ray, widely-known music and recording industry executive, this week was appointed national sales and promotion manager for Dooto Records, company president Dootale Williams announced.

In his new post, Ray will promote sales of all Dooto products with major wholesale and retail outlets throughout the United States. On the local level, his contacts will include not only primary industry distributors but also such large retailers as Sears, Roebuck, White Front Stores, and the International Sales Corporation.

Ray, brings a wealth of unique experience to his new position and Williams says:

"In Floyd Ray, we are making a staff addition of invaluable worth. We're fortunate to be able to hire him."

JULLIARD PRODUCT

A native of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Ray began his musical career at the Julliard School in New York, where he formed his first band.

He moved to California in the '30s, continuing his musical career. In the early '40s, he formed one of Southern California's most outstanding bands, firmly establishing his reputation as a leader, instrumentalist (saxaphone), and arranger.

His career was interrupted by World War II. Floyd became an officer in the special services division of the U. S. Army. On his return to civilian life, he decided to "learn the recording business."

In the beginning of this new career, Ray arranged recording sessions for various record companies.

Immediately prior to joining Dooto, Ray was sales and promotion manager for Milton Record Distributors, who distribute the Dooto line in California.

ANOTHER FIRST

Through these connections, Ray has become the only Negro record sales and promotions personality in the West.

"I am particularly happy with my position at Dooto," Ray says, "because it gives me an opportunity to really express myself in terms of my ability. Dooto's future is unlimited."

Ray is married (Mrs. Gloria Ray) and the father of two sons, Stevie, age 3; and Darryl, nine months.

Justice, Southern Style

The United States Commission on Civil Rights has just issued a report, entitled simply "Justice", which is an eloquent indictment of law enforcement officers in the South and to a more limited extent in the North insofar as Negroes are concerned.

The report cites chapter and verse in a half dozen cases in which Negroes were assaulted and beaten and even killed by southern sheriffs and police officers not because they had violated any law but because they had refused to "stay in their place."

One of the most bloody incidents is that of the murder of a Negro prisoner named Screws in the early 1950's. He was beaten to death by the officers in the public square and in the city jail in his home town. The incident was so aggravated and revolting that white persons stepped forward to testify when the federal government secured a conviction of the sheriff who was involved.

The conviction was ultimately reversed on a technicality by the Supreme Court and the sheriff won an acquittal. As the report points out, the incident had little effect on the sheriff's political career. He was promptly elected to the Georgia State Senate.

Other incidents detailed in the report involve the bloody beating of Negro prisoners in Detroit and Chicago and, just as was the case in the South, those officers went unpunished.

Police lawlessness begets an attitude of contempt for the law and law enforcement officers. The result is that Negroes distrust the officers and refuse to cooperate with them or, when the occasion presents itself, resist those officers in the performance of their duties. That is unfortunate but inevitable. The civilian will have no greater respect for the law than the law enforcement officers.

McNamara OK's Jim Crow

Secretary of Defense Mc Namara should be ashamed of himself for his appearance at a Jim Crow dinner honoring Senator Richard Russell and Representative Carl Vinson of Georgia. Both Russell and Vinson have distinguished themselves by their bitter end opposition to every civil rights measure that has been introduced in Congress.

Mr. Mc Namara is far too discerning a politician to accept the feeble statement of the dinner sponsors that the dinner was a private social affair. He knows better and he knows that the statement was an evasive one designed to smooth over the segregated character of the affair.

The truth, of course, is that the Georgia senator and his congressional colleague are men of importance as far as congressional military approoriations are concerned. Mr. Mc Namara's appearance at their dinner was an obvious effort to butter them up and smooth the path for the passage of legislation deemed appropriate by the defense secretary.

The disturbing thing is that the Mc Namara appearance is a tacit approval of the southern blackmail system under which the South demands approval and acceptance of the segregation system as the price of its support of the Democratic administration.

Mr. Mc Namara's appearance at the Jim Crow dinner was an acknowledgment that the administration feels it must cater to the South in instances of this kind. That appearance was a political mistake. Worse still, it put the great seal of governmental approval on racial segregation.

W.E.B. Du Bois: Communist

The 93 year old Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois formalized his adherence to Communist party philosophy and tactics by taking out a party card last week. It was typical of him that, ever the rebel, he insisted on a public announcement of his membership and that he joined at a time when the law requires registration of Communists.

Dr. Du Bois' gravitation toward the Communist party has been a matter of gradual evolution. He espoused socialism as long ago as 1912 and wrote what he called a Marxist interpretation of Reconstruction more than a quarter of a century ago.

Despite his professed general agreement with socialist goals, his adherence to the Marxist doctrine was a wavering one and there were times when he grew wrathful at socialism and Socialists. Nobody scored the Communist party more strongly than he did on numerous occasions.

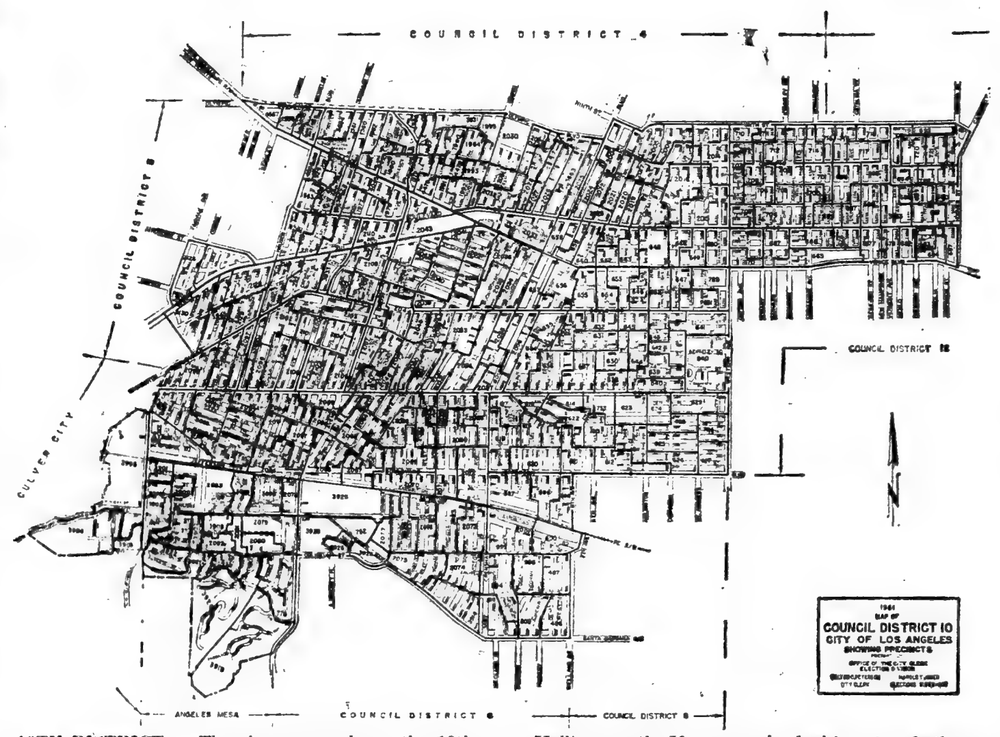
At bottom, Du Bois' membership in the Communist party springs from his belief that the triumph of Communist doctrine is necessary for the complete ending of colonialism, a system that he has hated and fought against for three quarters of a century.

Dr. Du Bois' joining of the Communist party will not persuade Negroes of the wisdom of his choice nor will it result in their following his lead. He has long since lost touch with the Negro intellectuals for whom he once spoke and his influence over the mass of Negroes was never great.

An incorrigible individualist, Dr. Du Bois always walked alone. His venture into Communism is strictly an individual one, far more expressive of his own attitudes than an indication of what other Negroes believe, or will do.

Sign Recall Petition

The long hard pull in the campaign to recall Councilman Joe Hollingsworth is now under way: the securing of the necessary signatures to put the issue on the ballot.



There is nothing glamorous in securing those signatures. Petition circulators can look forward to plenty of grubby work before their task is done.

Residents of the 10th District where the signatures must be secured can make the job of the petition circulators easier by being ready to sign the petitions and by being prepared to sign just as their names appear on the voters' rolls. The recall law is a technical one and must be strictly complied with.

The case for the recall has been so well argued and so well put that it is hardly necessary to rehash it. Basically, the campaign to recall Mr. Hollingsworth is based on the proposition that the voters of the district have a right to chose their own representative in City Council.

Mr. Hollingsworth now holds the job because he was appointed by eight councilmen who were far more concerned with their own private political apple polishing than with the needs or desires of 10th District voters.

The recall election will offer the voters of the district a chance to confirm Mr. Hollingsworth in the position or to oust him. It seems to us that the right of those voters to choose their own representative is clear.

10TH DISTRICT — The above map shows the 10th Councilmanic District, in which petitions are now being circulated for the recall of Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth. If you are in doubt as to whether or not you are eligible to sign the petition, check the map for your address.

made up of six youths was selected to conduct a letter writing campaign about conditions in the Southeast section of the city.

LETTER WRITING

Letters were to be written to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in Washington, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk in Sacramento, Gov. Edmund Brown, Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson, Mayor Sam Yorty and the Police Commission.

Students named to the steering committee are Velvet L. Dickson Jr., David Moore, Eddie Orr, Harold Vaughn, Edward Crow and Wayne Hilliard.

The shooting of Webb occurred after police forced him to the curb at Manchester avenue near Broadway. Webb was the driver. There were five others with him: Bernard Allen, 18, of 5402½ Hooper avenue; Austin Wilder, 20, of 5400 Hooper avenue; Sheldon Harrison, 19, of 946½ E. 31st Street, Arnold H. Young, 23, of 1272 E. 54th street; and Thomas D. Blackman, 19, of 1357 E. 55th street.

TRIED TO RUN

Police said that Webb was speeding and they stopped him for the traffic violation and to question the group about gang activity.

Officers R. C. Urista and R. S. Parker divided the six into two groups of three each and took one group to the police car for further questioning.

The officers claim that Webb tried to make a break of it and when they brought him back he jumped on Parker's back. As the fighting continued, said the officers, Webb grabbed Urista around the neck while others took the officer's sap away from him, and began striking the officers on the head.

Urista claimed he managed to free himself and noticed that one of the youths had grabbed Parker's gun, and was aiming it at him, Urista.

Urista pulled out his gun and fired twice at Webb. Webb ran about 30 feet and then collapsed. He was shot in the stomach and chest.

During the fighting Officer Parker came into the line of fire and was shot in the left upper arm.

The five youths with Webb were booked on suspicion of murder.

bulance and the police.

Officers reported that Vernell and Mrs. Roberts were lying on the bed. Roberts, fully clothed, lay on the floor of the living room, next to the gas heater. His hand almost touched the heater.

It appeared likely that when Roberts came home he did not at first notice anything amiss, authorities said, since there was apparently no gas leak. What probably happened was that the heater had used up all the oxygen in the air.

Roberts seems to have telephoned for an ambulance. It is possible he may have attempted to turn off the heater and fallen unconscious even as he was groping toward the shutoff.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

PANAMA CITY—Golly, but this town is hot! I've been here for two days and a half and still haven't gotten used to it. It's not the searing heat of Phoenix, Ariz., or Beirut, Lebanon, in the dry season. It's the rainy season here; the air is perpetually damp. Drip-dry shirts may drip but they don't dry overnight—nor in the morning, unless they are hung in the window directly in the sunlight. Even here in air-conditioned Hotel Panama Hilton the bed sheets at night are as damp as those into which I used to climb at an Atlantic City boarding house bed back in 1925 B. A.C. (before air conditioning).

The Weather Man has a sly arrangement here. It rains at least twice a day, almost invariably between noon and 2 in the afternoon, and 5 to 7 in the evening. That way insures getting the maximum number of people wet, going to lunch or leaving the job for home and dinner. I was told not to bother about a raincoat — that showers would let up frequently enough to allow me to scamper between downpours to wherever I should be going. Good idea in theory, unsound in operation.

WARM WELCOME

But if the weather is on the damp side, that characteristic certainly doesn't extend to the people. Not if the hundred or so folks I've met in 60 hours are a fair example of what the town offers.

The people are an admixture of Spanish, Teutonic, North American, African, Indian and Oriental racial stocks and cultures. Their complexions range from dark brown or black to swarthy or fair. I'm not naive enough to believe that there are no color distinctions, but certainly they are not of the psychotic-neurotic North American type. And, in truth, thus far I have been made aware of none of any consequence.

Nor have I seen, in this postage stamp-sized country, any of the tragic distortions of social conduct that are by-products of prolonged racial discrimination and are a familiar part of life on a Seventh Avenue or South Parkway or South Central Avenue. I have seen no clowning or kyah-kyah-ing on street corners. No jerky, jumping-jack walk with snapping of the fingers. Seldom the filthy language that pollutes the air of Brooklyn's Fulton and Nostrand, Los Angeles's South Central and Detroit's Antoine.

CURABLE POVERTY

In general, dark-skinned Panamanians are simply Panamanians with dark skins — just that, whether they are typical hotel staff or taxi drivers or clerks or professional people or small shopkeepers or government officials.

In other words, there is poverty — deep poverty — among the people of Panama, and those of African and Indian descent have more than their full share because they are more apt to be rural or former rural dwellers and have been given the inadequate education of the ruralite. But this kind of poverty is at least curable because it is not hopelessly enmeshed in the filthy coils of race hatred. There is no place here for a Klan Keagle, for these people are normal; they are sane. I haven't seen much of the city between meetings and conferences: I've seen less of the surrounding countryside, but I've seen enough to want to come back and see more. And I know that I like what I have seen.

Loren Miller Says . . .

tion. That Constitution, it wrote, was written by and for white men. The Negro was pretty well blocked out of American life.

BACKWARD STEP

The framers of the Civil War Amendments tried to change the Negro's bloc status. They freed him, made him a citizen, and gave him the right to vote, and supposed they had put him on a plane of equality with other American citizens. Sadly, they reckoned without the Supreme Court which ultimately ruled that the states could classify their citizens on the basis of race and bar the Negro bloc from schools and other publicly owned institutions.

It wasn't long before state legislatures in the South had devised laws that disfranchised Negroes as a bloc. Many of those laws are still in effect in the South. Bitten by the same bug, northern courts, including those of California, held that Negroes, as a bloc, could be excluded from buying or living in homes through the enforcement of racial restrictive covenants.

BLOCS EVERYWHERE

Labor unions treated Negroes as a bloc and barred them from membership. Business men trooped along and excluded Negroes as a bloc from employment. Churches closed their doors to Negroes as a bloc. White voters engaged in bloc voting and denied their ballots to Negroes running for public office. Show me a Negro and I'll show you a victim of bloc treatment.

Of course, things are a little better nowadays. The Supreme Court has decided that courts can't enforce racial restrictive covenants. It has hacked away at the worst features of racial classification by the states but it still permits school boards to classify Negro pupils on the basis of race and let them into the public schools a grade at a time. Bloc disfranchisement of Negroes is still the rule in the South although the Supreme Court and Congress have slapped at the wrists of the worst voter discrimination.

BLOC ACTION

If you will look closely you will see that Negroes have wrestled themselves free of discrimination by taking bloc action. As a bloc they have fought their way through the courts by supporting the NAACP. Through bloc voting they have managed to put four Negroes in Congress and innumerable other Negroes in state legislatures. As a bloc they have supported fair employment and fair housing laws and have won a little elbow room in industry and eked out a few more dwellings in our larger cities.

Of course, they've had the support of some white persons with sense enough to see racial discrimination is a danger to the whole nation. But the battle hasn't been won. Negroes are still being discriminated against in industry, in government, in churches, in labor unions, and in every aspect of their lives—as a bloc. The only way they can win more of the battle is by acting as a bloc. I've got news for Ike: when America stops treating Negroes as a bloc Negroes can stop voting as a bloc.

Use of Force In Congo Strife Voted by U.N.

the Congolese soldiers mistook them for Tshombe's mercenaries.

GRUESOME TALES

Gruesome tales about the chopping off of the hands from the corpses of the Italian flyers have been reported. It is impossible to tell whether or not such reports are true, but it is known that such practices were common during the early years of Belgium's rule in the Congo and apparently were encouraged by the Belgian representatives of King Leopold.

The series of votes in the U.N. Security Council ended a debate of almost two weeks, following introduction of a resolution by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic.

The council was addressed by Justin Bomboko, the Congolese foreign minister, who denounced Tshombe as a traitor who was responsible for the division of the Congo. He told the council that if it failed to act, it would be "handing victory to Mr. Tshombe on a platter."

COUNCIL ACTION

In adopting the resolution, the council:

1—Declared all secessionist activities in the Congo to be contrary to the Congolese constitution and council decisions and demanded that all such activities "now taking place in Katanga shall cease forthwith."

2—Urged all U.N. members to lend their support to the Congolese central government in conformity with the U.N. charter and U.N. decisions—which, among other things, uphold "the territorial integrity" of the Congo.

3—Asked all countries to refrain from supplying war materials to the Congo and to keep their nationals from supplying them.

4—Authorized the secretary-general "to take vigorous action, including the use of a requisite measure of force, if necessary" to deport foreign mercenaries in the Congo or arrest them for trial.

Scorched Earth

Tshombe's reaction to the U.N. decision was to warn the United Nations and the Congolese government that he will "meet force with force."

He said that "even if the whole Katanga population — blanck and white — has to die and our economy to be destroyed we will resist."

It was not known, however, whether he is in a position to back up his brave words with appropriate action.

Meanwhile, Premier Adoula's government has undertaken the difficult task of attempting to find and punish the soldiers responsible for the killing of the Italian airmen Nov. 11.

While first reports blamed Gizenga forces for the attack, Adoula has now indicated that he believes some 200 men from two units, presumably of Central Government troops, were involved, and has insisted that his government is capable of taking appropriate action.

San Francisco bank. It was a fictitious check.

Smith was the first to be arrested after a check he had cashed at a market bounced. The market has one of those picture-taking machines that requires a customer to have his picture taken along with his check and identification.

Dep. D. A. Anthony Joyce said that the checks that the ring manufactured were surprisingly good reproductions that would readily be accepted by the average person.

The color, texture and printing closely resembled the original, he said.

Among the companies whose checks were copied were Santa Fe Railroad and Pillsbury Milling Co.

In pleading before Judge Griffith, Doyle admitted cashing bogus checks for $467 and $160 at a Los Angeles hotel. Smith pleaded guilty to forging two payroll checks on the Santa Fe for $97.84 each.

communism will triumph."

DuBois is at present working on an encyclopedic study of the life and history of the African people.

UREY PROTESTS

Meanwhile, in La Jolla, Calif., Nobel prize winning scientist Harold C. Urey wrote Pres. Kennedy on Nov. 10, protesting the action taken against the Communist Party. He said he feared the effect "on American democracy would be disastrous."

Urey quoted Pres. Truman as stating when he vetoed the McCarran bill in 1950 that, "We need not fear the expression of ideas—we do need to fear their suppression." He then called upon Pres. Kennedy to suspend enforcement of the registration order.

He concluded by saying, "I'm sorry to make any appeal to you on behalf of people who I believe are so very much in error with respect to political and economic principles as those belonging to the Communist Party. Yet if we do not protect the rights of people with whom we disagree, the time may well come when we may have to defend those with whom we disagree or ideed our very selves."

sentiments against an invitation to Alabama.

Despite widespread public support of the drive to keep Alabama out of the Rose Bowl, Los Angeles Times columnist and sports editor, Paul Zimmerman, supported the southerners, as did a few other sports writers.

OUTSPOKEN COMMENT

The most outspoken protest against an invitation to Alabama was voiced by Melvin Durslag of the Examiner who wrote two columns telling why the Rose Bowl bid should not go to a southern team.

Louisiana State University which was also fishing for a Rose Bowl bid saw the handwriting on the wall and accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl in Miama. Negroes have played in all of the New Year bowls except the Sugar Bowl. Two lily white teams, Mississippi and Alabama, are expected to compete there this year.

Talented Artist Teaches Music At Bakersfield

MRS. CHARLES E. CORBIN

The Fresno State College Bakersfield Center has on its staff one of the best trained young musicians in the field, according to a report received from Bakersfield this week. She is charming, glamorous Charles Ella Corbin, wife of Dr. J. Alfonso S. Corbin, a resident surgeon at the Kern County General Hospital.

Mrs. Corbin is a graduate of the Howard University School of Music, and received her M. A. degree from the Boston School of Music and studied at the Union Theological Seminary in New York with a major in Advanced Choir Directing and the Administration of Choral programs in churches.

APPRECIATION

She has taught music in the public schools of Detroit, and at A and T College at Greensboro, N.C. During her stay at Alabama State Teachers College she taught piano. At the Fayetteville State Teachers College in N. Carolina she also served as a member of the teaching staff and taught Church Music, Art and Religion at Howard University and more recently she taught music at the University of California at Riverside.

In addition Mrs. Corbin has taught voice and piano by a method which developed the student's appreciation for great artists and the influences which directed the compositions of the era in which they were written.

In addition the technique and skills of playing the piano were taught by a method developed by the musician herself.

Mrs. Corbin has also taught speech and remedial English and church music. In concert work her themes lean toward the religious and serious compositions.

In addition to her music she is active in the Women's Auxiliary of the Charles R. Drew Medical Society and the Symphony Associates of the Bakersfield Philharmonic orchestra, as well as the American Assn. of University Women.

Oh, for the good old days when the only red menace was long winter underwear!

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

There are many small dinner parties Thanksgiving day—the Fred Joneses, John Kelleys, Cliff Walles and many more.

Friday night the Socialites entertained their friends with cocktails at the home of Mary Mason. Club members wore beautiful cocktail dresses, varying in colors.

After a few rounds of the Twist our Thanksgiving overindulgance of food was but a memory. The beautiful aod tasty hors d'ouevres disappeared like magic. Four A.M. was a fine time to leave such a wonderful party.

Mary Mason's house guests for the holidays included her mother-in-law, Mrs. Blanch Keys, and a friend, Mrs. Mary Sleets, of Louisville, Ky., who will depart Monday for Los Angeles.

Daisy Tatum, president of the Oxnard youth center, will attend the Southern California Youth conference in West Covina on Dec. 2. Daisy will be a candidate for vice president of the conference. Accompaning her will be 10 youths from Oxnard; among them our own Audry Robinson, Emma Jackson and Evelyn Holloway.

Rev. Washington, of Trinity Baptist, and Rev. Walker, of St. Paul Baptist, attended a conference in Los Angeles last week. Trinity Baptist is progressing rapidly on its expansion program which includes an educational unit.

Nell Webster was cited Sunday night by the Board of Christian Education at Bethel on "This Is Your Christian Life" program. Nell is a young lady of fourteen years, the daughter of Alvery and Leandrew Webster. She comes from a family of eight, and has certainly been an active church member of Bethel. As I listened to her life being re-lived, I wondered how many people of sixty years have enjoyed such a full Christian life.

The Richard Abrams hurried off to L.A. Friday morn to attend the California Negro Leadership oCnference.

Thelma Calhoun is carrying around on her shoulders her birthday present (a mink sole) compliments of hubby Gilbert.

Ralph and Williemae Davison had as a Thanksgiving dinner guest a son born Nov. 17.

Don't forget your news next week. Call Hunter 65825.

High Scoring Florida A&M Eyes Big Tilt

MIAMI—It looks as if Florida A&M will come into the 29th annual Orange Blossom Football Classic Dec. 9 in the Orange Bowl as one of—if not the — nation's highest scoring college football team.

After six starts so far, the Rattlers have struck for an average of 59 points per game while holding their opponents to an average of three per contest. The Tallahassee, Fla. institution heads the rankings of Negro schools in the country and is in the top five among all small colleges.

Florida A&M's opponent for the match has not been selected as yet but almost every year the game is billed as "the National Negro Championship."

In 17 years at A&M Jake Gaither's teams have won 133, lost 21 and tied four.

Gaither teams have won 13 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association titles as well as four National crowns. A&M have not lost a conference game since 1952.

Roosevelt Back Short of Mark

Mike Garrett, Roosevelt High ace halfback, wound up his prep football career with five touchdowns and two conversions to hike his season total to 153, just 12 short of the all-time city record, set by Manual Arts' Bill Howard in 1930.

UCLA Cage Team Opens Season In Provo, Utah

Coach Johnny Wooden puts his new UCLA "Firehouse Five" basketball team on display for the first time when the Bruins open the 1961-62 season against BYU in Friday-Saturday (Dec. 1-2) games at Provo, Utah.

Wooden indicated that he would probably start Cunningham at forward with two-time letterman Pete Blackman as his running mate. Dave Waxman, a 6-6 junior, will work at center while slick Johnny Green and Santa Monica College Transfer Walt Hazzard will operate at guards.

Wooden said a UCLA party of 16, including 12 players, would fly to Salt Lake City on Thursday (Nov. 30) via Western Airlines Flight No. 12 and headquarter at the Provo Travelodge. They plan to return to Los Angeles Sunday morning.

The travel squad will be selected from the following: Pete Blackman, Gary Cunningham, Larry Gower, John Green, Rich Gugat, Walt Hazzard, Bill Hicks, Jack Hirsch, Mike Huggins, Jim McFerson, Jim Milhorn, Bob Miller, Jim Rosvall, Fred Slaughter, Kim Stewart and Dave Waxman.

The Bruins open their 16-game home slate against University of Kansas on Saturday night, Dec. 9, at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Gene Fullmer Title Bout In Las Vegas

The Gene Fullmer - Benny (Kid) Paret world middleweight championship bout is scheduled for Convention Hall in Las Vegas, Nevada on Sat., night Dec. 9th, 7 p.m.

Fullmer won the world championship from Sugar (Ray) Robinson in Madison Square Garden January, 1957.

Last Dec. in the Sports Arena, Fullmer and the Sugar man battled to a 15-round draw, and in Las Vegas, last March 4, Fullmer decisively decisioned Robinson in the fourth meeting between the two.

Old Pros Set For Annual Pro Bowl Game

Iron Men of past Pro Bowl football games, all-pro stars who have been perennial standouts in the midwinter classic between the Western and Eastern Conferences of the National Football League, are bidding strong for repeat performances in the 12th annual game Jan. 14 at the Coliseum.

Balloting which followed last week's games showed that such old pros as Chuck Bednarik of the Eagles, Les Richter of the Rams and Yale Lary of the Lions again loom prominently.

Bednarik has played in the traditional all-star series eight times, Richter seven and Lary six.

Names of other Pro Bowl Iron Men have cropped up during the season's nominations. These include Leo Nomellini, the 37-year-old bulwark of the '49ers' defensive line who has appeared in nine Pro Bowl game; defensive end Ernie Stautner of the Steelers, an eight-time selection; Joe Schmidt of the Lions and Bill George of the Bears, two seven-time defensive stars for the West.

L. A. Blades Hockey finished up a rugged schedule tonight (Thursday) and Sunday Dec. 3, at the Sports Arena.

Tonight, they engage Spokane at the Sports Arena and then host the sassy San Francisco Seals on Sunday.

L.A. Jets vs Tapers

Divot Diggers will just have to wait until Golf Editor Maggie Hathaway's doctor releases her. It seems that Maggie went sloshing on the golf course much in the manner of USC and UCLA last Saturday.

Only thing is that UCLA ended up in the Rose Bowl for their effort while our Maggie ended up in the doctor's office with a cold and a big fat bill. (The Editor).

Wilt Chamberlain Returns to Arena

The league-leading Los Angeles Lakers return from an eight-game road trip to meet Wilt Chamberlain and his Philadelphia Warrior mates in a pair of games at the Sports Arena Friday and Saturday evenings, December 1st and 2nd.

The series brings together the two most prolific scorers in all of basketball—Chamberlain and the Lakers' great Elgin Baylor. They were the one-two scorers of the league last season and are at it again this fall.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association which polices the athletic program of its members and is perhaps one of the powerful associations among the colleges can end discrimination in college sports.

Southern universities such as Alabama are members of the NCAA. With a hard fast rule from the ruling committee calling for all of its members to end segregation in college sports or be dropped, eventually schools like Alabama, Lousiana, and Mississippi would see the light. It is a tragic thing that southern universities can get away with telling a student he or she can't play on the college team because he or she is a Negro. It's worse when the NCAA lets them put the love of segregation above good sportsmanship. The Rose Bowl game is approved by the NCAA and Alabama is a member and should be told to mend its ways.

Here are various comments from other sportswriters: 'Don't bring Dixiecrats to Rose Bowl. The schools in the Deep South are not representative of their various states and therefore have no right to be represented in the great Rose Bowl." L. I. "Brock" Brockenbury, L. A. Sentinel. "Wouldn't you say the public gave a pretty good indication of which Eastern team it would like to see in the Rose Bowl at Rotary Club's luncheon? Only four people in a gathering of 500 at the Statler-Hilton voted for Big Ten teams. The rest wanted Alabama," Bud Furillo, Herald & Express. "If, as Commissioner Tom Hamilton says, the Big Five is looking for the best possible opponent, then it must consider Alabama." Paul Zimmerman, L. A. Times. "There seems to be little doubt but that the Big Five will choose to duck this controversial issue and will settle for another team from the Big 10 for the next Rose Bowl game." Sid Ziff, L. A. Mirror. "Integrated football contests have closed in on the Sugar Bowl. If the Sugar Bowl is to retain its stature as one of the major postseason classics then it has no other recourse but to throw open the list of eligible." Buddy Dilberto, New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Thousands Attend Annual Doll League Formal Dance

History repeated itself last Friday evening, Nov. 24, when the fabulous Doll League Charity Club, Inc., assisted by the Doll League Silhouettes, charmed over 2500 guests with their "Command Performance" black-tie event at the Beverly Hilton's International Ballroom.

Prior to presentation of members, guests were enthusiastic over the dance team, "Joyce and Rickey," whose numbers included the Cha-Cha and Tango.

Other artists were the Albert McNeil Singers, who performed brilliantly under the direction of Albert J. McNeil, with Fannie E. Benjamin at the piano. Their "Music to Remember" is not likely to be soon forgotten.

For the League's 26th Anniversary dance, one of the most colorful ever given, the Master of Ceremonies, Tom Hawkins, started the ball rolling by presenting members of the Silhouettes. They were indeed lovely to look at, each representing a painter in black velvet capris, short white smock with huge pink and white bow at the neck, and a tam worn jauntily over one eye. Each carried a palette showing blobs of color.

The lights were dimmed, the stage was set, and when the spotlight shone, it concentrated on a seven-foot picture frame designed by Gladwin Ball through which each Doll Leaguer passed, standing still for a minute or so while her compatriot in the Silhouettes, made a motion with palette and brush as if completing a picture.

Each Doll Leaguer reached back through the years, picking a characterization particularly appealing to her. Ruth Petty as Sweet Georgia Brown, from Musical Dolls of 1955, did a fast Charleston. Rosalie Hawkins as Carlotta, Queen of Mexico, in mantilla and tiered skirt, flirting with her huge fan, was from Famous Women of History, 1953.

Faye Wagner, corresponding secretary, wore white satin and huge headpiece, representing the White Orchid from Dolls from Flowerland, 1956. Sylvia Fortson, parliamentarian, was the rooting - tooting Belle Starr, from Notorious Women, 1956. Ruth Ball, sergant-at-arms, wore her famous "lobster" costume from Davy Jones' Locker, 1951.

Euvalda Morris, recording secretary, was majestic as Marie Antoinette in white wig and hoop skirt, from Marie Antoinette's Court, 1953. Estelle Wainwright, beautifully gowned in a flower-covered dress, large picture hat and parasol, was Mistress Mary in Medley in Fantasy, 1958. Bernice Valley, in a slinky black velvet dress with a headpiece to match gave a characterization of Black Catfish, from Davy Jones' Locker, 1957.

Helen Smith, financial secretary, was delightfully piquant as Madame Butterfly from Dolls of All Nations, 1950. Esther Howard came as Pocahontas from Storybook Doll, 1948. Faye Haley was every inch a queen, in the royal raiment of Cleopatra from In a Persian Garden, 1952. Nellie Brown, treasurer, was the Pink Pearl from Jewels of the Sea, 1950.

1950-NELLIE BROWN

Ethel Pickett struck a pose in short effective ballerina costume and long net hose from Medley in Fantasy, 1958. Sydney Grazette was Carmen to a "T", from Famous Women of History, 1953. Petite Irene Sharp came in cute Dutch Girl costume from Dolls of All Nations, 1950.

Gladyce Clark, reporter, as the Mad Hatter, wore pants and tails with a four-foot stove-pipe hat, carrying teapot and cup; she did the crazy jig of the Mad Hatter from Medley in Fantasy, 1958.

Marguerite Chapman, chairman of the dance, wore very effectively the costume of a Javanese princess, moving her hands in the graceful Javanese manner, from Arabian Nights, 1952.

With a roll from the base drum, Betty Dean, president of the Silhouettes, in tight gold sequined gown, slit skirt reminiscent of the 1930's, casually draping a white fox fur, was the Sophisticated Lady of Musical Dolls, 1955.

Lula Bendy, president of the Doll League, promenaded the length of the elevated stage, on the arm of the master of ceremonies. She was gorgeous in a clinging, backless, purple sequined gown, wearing the headdress of Venus, Goddess of Love, from Dolls of Outer Space, 1954.

Emma Adams, vice-president, who has been on the sick list, was unable to take part this year. She was in the audience and was "presented" via the spotlight.

The Nannettes are having their Xmas party Sat. at Irma Hopkins'. Ex-Angelino Norman Archer died in N.Y.C. Ruth Hutchinson becomes Mrs. Jay Gregory this Sat. Gloria Houston became Mrs. Kenneth Butler last Sat. Blanche and Johnny Simmons had their annual Thanksgiving gayety with their place filled as usual with their dearest chums.

The Arthur Reeses (Elizabeth) are back home once more from their honeymoon which started in June when they went East. The Morgan Alumni Club circled Dec. 9 on their calendar for their sure-to-be swingin' party; starting things off, naturally, will be the Twist. By the way, should any local alumni have a yen to "jine up" with the group they may contact Tom Hawkins at KGFJ.

Bill Allen of S.F. jetted down for the long holiday weekend; he houseguested with Santa Monica's Dr. and Mrs. Dave Chesler (he and Bill were at Oberlin together). Between the symphony and the ballet, Bill who thrives on incessant giddyap, popped in for a drink and did tell us his sister, Connie Beaty and husband Hugh, will be in town for some of the local Yuletide. The Bill Johnsons (Elaine) have an anniversary tomorrow (30th).

SMILING ROBINSONS — Two of the proudest parents attending the Black-and-White formal and perhaps most thankful than most on Thanksgiving night were Jesse and Myrtle Robinson whose daughter Pearl was selected "Sweetheart of Kappa Alpha Psi." (Young)

Pearl Robinson Makes Stunning Kappa Queen

"Tonight, we present for your edification, the 1961-62 Kappa court of honor of love and beauty." As the dapper and suave master of ceremonies, Earl Anthony, said these words, Miss Denna McKenzie walked down the center aisle of the Hollywood Palladium on Thanksgiving night to relinquish her crown which she had worn so stunningly while serving as "Sweetheart of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity" during 1960-61, to the equally stunning and lovely Pearl Robinson.

This to the jam packed crowd attending was the climax of the 25th annual Black-and-White Ball, which each year is one of the top social events of the mid-winter season.

The annual event, which is sponsored by the men of the Los Angeles Alumni Beta Omega and Upsilon chapters of Kappa Alpha Psi, marks another high point in the ball's 25 year history, which will also be long remembered because it was the Golden Jubilee Anniversary of the fraternity.

The keynote word of the affair was "achievement." The organization was founded in 1911 on the campus of Indiana University. During the National Golden Anniversary Conclave, which was held in August, members met in the newly constructed Kappa House on Indiana University's campus.

Among the graduate and undergraduate Kappa men reflecting the highest ideals of the fraternity are Robert Green, polemarch, and Cliff Walker, chairman of the Black-and-White committee.

On the national level are Thomas Bradley, Charles T. Sudduth and Johnny Brewer. The undergradute chapters of Beta Omega and Upsilon have members who have gained recognition as outstanding young men. They include Carl Blanton, Randall Bacon and Lloyd Wilkins. Blanton is polemarch of Upsilon Chapter and Inter-Fraternity Council president at L.A. State College. Bacon is a former national officer; Wilkins is Extended Day Student Body president at L.A. State College. In Beta Omega, Earl Anthony and Clarence Shields are among those who are outstanding. Shields is attending Loyola and is polemarch of Beta Omega and Anthony is a member of the Inter-Fraternity Council of the University of Southern California.

QUEEN AND HER COURT — Upsilon chapter members are shown providing the handsome background to the queen and her court members during the Kappa's annual Black-and-White formal. The queen's court includes Jo Ann Beverly, Wilma Fulcher and Stephanie Brown of Los Angeles City College; the queen Pearl Robinson, of UCLA; Cereta Jamison, Patricia McCauley also of L.A. City College; and Karen Williams of Immaculate Heart College for Women. Upsilon and Beta Omega members are Walter Green, Richard Wright, Ronnie Banks, Carl Planton, polemarch; Clarence Shields, polemarch of Beta Omega chapter; Ed Presley, Vernon Fulcher and Benny Giles. HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS

Things have been jumping all week. I hope you had a lovely Thanksgiving Day spent with friends and loved ones, as I did, with all the delicious food goodies, in which you rightfully overindulged. My aunt went to Springfield, Mass. to spend the holidays with Marie Forde and her family while I remained in the city since I had to work on Friday. However, a good time was had by all. I had been phoned and invited to Detroit by my favorite hostess, Mrs. George Sawyer, for parties, dances and just a series of gay times, and regretfully I had to decline. Missed the Beaux Arts Ball as well, by not being able to go, so was unable to take Juanita Parnell up on her standing invitation to her organization's annual affair. Maybe, next year!!

"Jewell Box Revue" Most Outstanding

I'm sure when Jay Brown and Doc Benner produced the Jewel Box Revue, now showing at the Music Box Theatre, Hollywood at La Brea, it was designed for public enjoyment; composed with exciting music, glamourous, gorgeous costumes and humor to make it the Happiest Musical of a century.

UNITY OF ARTS

In order to appreciate this unique performance there should be a unity of mind, between the audience, the actors, chorus and musicians. The name "Femme Mimics" is used to designate a certain kind of theatrical performance which is a unity of arts. At no time should there be any unfavorable comments on the characters, their impersonations or their interpretations of music and art.

Turn back the pages of history and you will find in Shakespere's "Romeo and Juliet, that Juliet was portrayed by a man. During the years that I lived in the Orient and studied Japanese history I learned that all the female parts in the Kabuki plays were portrayed by men.

DEFINITELY MERITS SUPPORT

To see or not to see that is the question. If you have an appreciation for art which can be exploited in many artistic ways, and produced in unique performances through natural and acquired talent then you won't want to miss this "Jewel Box Revue" which is tops in entertainment.

Remember, if we are to be educated human beings we must possess a keen insight, a deeper understanding and a greater love of art in all phases to appreciate any public performance of its presentation.

This show was not produced for lust but for relaxation, enjoyment and wisdom.

College Drama Group Presents 'Born Yesterday'

The rollicking Broadway comedy hit, "Born Yesterday," will be presented by the East Los Angeles College Drama Department in Ingalls Auditorium on campus Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 1 and 2 and Dec. 8 and 9. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The play was popularized by Judy Holliday in the Broadway production and in the motion picture. The action of the drama revolves around the arrival in Washington, D.C. of a loud and vulgar junkman whose hoodlum-like business methods have made him a millionaire during the scrap boom of World War II.

Among the antics of the junkman, Harry Brock, is the bribing of a senator to receive more favorable business legislation. Accompanying Brock on his juant to Washington is his beautiful and simple chorus-girl mistress.

HILARIOUS COMEDY

With a turn of romantic events the play leads to hilarious comedy with overtones of satire on our materialistic way of life.

Combining efforts to enact the production are Mary Jane Wright, the chorus girl; Jim Goss, the junkman; John Robertson, a reporter; Bob Wells, a lawyer; Denis Pinney, the bribed senator; Linda Goforth, Mrs. Hedges; Lester August, Eddie; and Donna Farren, Helen.

Other thespians are Fernando Whorton, Jimmy Val, Alfred Guerrero, Terry Gonzales, Magdalene Ruiz, Mike Alcala, and Danny Doyle.

Tickets are on sale for $1 general admission, and 50 cents for student admission.

SAND SESSION — Diane Jergens and Jimmy Clanton split leading roles in "Teenage Millionaire," currently screening with "Susan Slade" at the Manchester Theatre. Songs and Dances by Jackie Wilson and "Chubby" Checker highlight some of the many swinging scenes. Like, Make it!!!!

PEOPLE & PLACES

CLYDE TURNER — Snappy Detroit, Mich., detective in town for a short visit and being shown around the town by Joel Powell, the mild-mannered Bail Bondsman from out south!

BALLING — Reason why the shut-ins had trouble finding a Bail Bondsman the other night was that they were hanging one on in Tommy Tucker's Playroom and had trouble bailing themselves out. In the bottle - in - bonded pawtee included Steve Cato, Jeri Dunn, Jacki Duncan, Anita Masterson, Clyde Turner, Joel A. Powell, Jesse Jones, Kickty Anthony and Leonard Masterson!

DON BROWN — New company is the Prime Promotional Ideas. He was huddling in the Playroom with KGFJ's Larry McCormick and Bill Sampson!

BARBARA MCGINNIS — Shapely raven top manicurist with a plush clientele which includes singer Sarah Vaughn and Earl Grant is operating in the House of Vergie, formerly Glamour Insured, on West Adams!

MAXINE GAUFF—Winsome Star Liter who came up with those clever publicity ideas for her club's big affair also came up with a unique idea for a "Thank You" note!

REPRIEVE — A Kaufman-production team went to Folsom to film part of the movie

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER

We had no idea what CHUCK "RIFLEMAN" CONNORS was going to write about last week when he guested our column, but we're more than a little proud of the way he handled the subject matter he selected, and we're proud of the way he got this "racial discrimination thing off his chest" and that he used this space to do it. We were with Chuck and his party for a while at the Crescendo catching DICK GREGORY'S act. Gregory exchanged small talk with Connors and this scribe from the stage and that's how we got so neighborly . . . Thanks again, Chuck. You did a beautiful job.

CRENSHAW HOUSE OF CARPETS HOLDING BIG $1 CARPET SALE

The fabulous House of Carpets and Furniture, in order to reduce their stock quickly, is offering America's finest broadloom carpet at only $1 a sq. yd.

Here's how it works: you buy one sq. yd. at regular price — get the second sq. yd. for $1. Just come in and select any carpet included in this sale. For each sq. yd. you buy at regular price, you get a second sq. yd. for $1. Thus, if you need 40 sq. yds, you pay regular price for 20 sq. yds. and only $1 sq. yd. for 20 sq. yds. of the same carpet.

For example, for each sq. yd. of "Harmony" solution dyed broadloom you buy at $2.25 sq. yd., you get a second sq. yd. at $1. For each sq. yd. of "Prelude" all wool pile carpet you buy at $4.95, you get a second sq. yd. for only $1. For each sq. yd. of "Drexelbrook" 85% wool and 15% nylon you buy at $7.95 sq. yd you get a second sq. yd. for only $1. Budget terms, of course.

Mr. A. Rosenberg of the House of Carpets and Furniture said, "We really must apologise to those who came in last weekend and could not be served. To make sure everyone has an opportunity to take advantage of this offer, we are making this a 3 day sale: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday."

This $1 Sale is at House of Carpets and Furniture, 3657 Crenshaw at Rodeo Rd. Open Sunday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Free parking in rear, AX. 2-0131.

could hold down a top spot on the charts, but MILES is a controversial jazzman, and lots of folks are too inclined to "trumpet" his "far out" personality rather than pay the respect due his instrument.

MILES is aware of the "image" he has generated, tho' . . . While recording this set he looked up suddenly and said to no one in particular, "They're all worried about making this record with me, and I'm just standing up here minding my own business and being my own sweet self." . . .

Baritone vocalist LAWRENCE STONE has a new record out. We know that the title of one side is called "Don't Touch Me" but we can't remember what he said it's backed with. But it's moving. Incidentally STONEY and his wife "SLIM" are expecting again. This will make an even half dozen! . . .

Actor JON CHEVRON who went to Rome to do a part in "The Iron Men" that has now been suspended 'till April writes that he may get other movie jobs there during the wait.

He also states that it has been rather rough on the Negroes since that Congo incident where the Congolese killed 13 Italian airmen. Some of the Italian Rightists are attempting to attack American Negroes in Rome, claiming they are from the Congo.

Five Youths Face Court For Slitting Man's Throat

Bus Co. Yields to Pressure

By BOB FARRELL

The Greyhound Bus Co. Monday broke with its long established policy of hiring "white only" bus drivers and opened its books for applications to all qualified drivers, regardless of race or color.

The policy change followed a short but effective five-week campaign by a Teamster Rank and File Committee for Equal Job Opportunity, which included establishment of a picket line outside the Greyhound terminal at 6th and Los Angeles streets, plus an appeal to the California Fair Employment Practices Commission.

ANNOUNCED MONDAY

The group also filed an appeal with the President's Committee on Government Contracts, which forbids race discrimination by companies which benefit from contracts with the government. Greyhound carries mail on some of its routes and also transports men of the Armed Services.

Announcement that Greyhound was taking applications for drivers was made Monday

Hollywood Set To Revamp Negro Casting

Hollywood producers last week gave verbal assurances that henceforth they will drop stereotyped portrayals of Negroes on the screen and will present Negroes more realistically and with greater regard for their actual participation in the life of the nation.

The producers said they would discuss this new approach with Hollywood casting directors and would then send to the NAACP and its Hollywood Activities Committee, which has spearheaded the talks with the film industry, a written statement of their intentions.

YEAR'S EFFORT

The breakthrough on the job front for Negro actors came following a year of effort on the part of the NAACP committee, which involved numerous closed-door conferences with Hollywood movie moguls.

The latest meeting was attended by 15 top Hollywood producers, five representatives of the major screen guilds, Pres. Edward Warren of the NAACP, and Maggie Hathaway, chairman of the NAACP Hollywood Committee. It lasted three hours.

The meeting was chaired by Charles Boren, executive vice president of the producers, who had previously told the committee that he felt it was time

Hearing Thurs. For Slashing Of 'Fresh Guy'

Five young men are being arraigned in Inglewood this morning, Thursday, on a charge of murder.

All five are being held without bail for the slaying last Tuesday night of Horace McKisic, 35, of 1702 West blvd., an innocent bystander who rushed out of the Champagne Room, 9706 S. Broadway, to investigate a young woman's cry of distress.

NIGHT FOR MURDER

The woman had come running into the cafe, shouting, "They're beating up my old man!"

It was a good night for murder. Thick fog hung heavy over buildings and autos. McKisic went close to the car parked at the curb.

"Here's a smart guy!" yelled one of the youths. Then they kicked him and beat him, and one of the five pulled out a razor and slit his throat.

The evening for the youths had started out as something of a lark. Tommy Johnson, 20, of 206½ E. 81st street, admitted, police said later, that he had stolen an automobile and picked up four of his buddies. They headed for Green's Gardens,

Lucky Lager Beer Picketed

Pickets posted themselves in front of the Lucky Lager Brewing Co., L. A. sales office, at 4801 San Fernando Road West last Friday morning, as the California Negro Businessmen's Association "kicked off" a new phase of its program to create jobs for Negroes in the beer and liquor industry.

The organization will resort to direct action programs in the community "to educate and inform the public and store owners of the problem," the business group stated.

Members of CORE, the NAACP, the Committee for Representative Government, and local bar owners walked for two hours in front of the Park Beverage Company, which shares the same property as the Lucky Lager sales offices.

The line was designed to inform Lucky Lager of the type of activity to be expected in the community in the near future. "We wanted to put the first line in front of the office so they will know just what is going on in the community when their field men report our activities back to them," said one of the spokesmen.

Peppy Prince Loses All But His Shirt

Bandleader Peppy Prince was literally taken to the cleaners last Saturday.

A burglar swiped all of his clothes from his 3224 W. Santa Barbara apartment. Fortunately Prince's wife, Louise, had taken one of his suits to the cleaners earlier so he was not late for his engagement to play for the Sigma Sweetheart dance.

Some of his shirts were recovered in the alley.

Order Will Ban Bias In US Aided Housing

WASHINGTON — President John F. Kennedy will sign a sweeping order banning discrimination in all housing built with federal funds or assisted through the FHA mortgage insurance system. That news came from a Minneapolis newspaper publisher who talked with the president Friday.

During his presidential campaign, Kennedy said repeatedly that discrimination in all federally assisted housing could be ended with a "stroke of the pen" and he has been urged to "stroke that pen" ever since his inauguration. The first favorable sign was the appointment of Dr. Robert C. Weaver to head the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Weaver stepped into his present job straight from positions as chairman of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing and as chairman of the board of the NAACP. Both organizations have been in the forefront in the demand for an executive order.

COVENANTS REQUIRED

The order which the president will sign will require covenants from builders, developers and financial institutions that they will not impose racial segregation in any housing built in whole or in part from loans insured under the FHA and VA programs.

Low rent public housing will also be affected by the new order which will require local housing authorities to institute and abide by non-segregation policies. Also affected will be housing built under urban renewal and urban redevelopment plans which must also be kept open to all applicants without reference to race or religion.

The new order is expected to create a new committee within the Housing and Home Finance Agency which will be responsible for the implementation of the order and which will be charged with continuing responsibility for drawing and revising regulations to make the non-discriminatory order effective.

ABANDONED PRACTICE

FHA began its career by refusing to insure loans for Negroes outside of segregated communities and initially furnished builders with a model restrictive covenant. It abandoned the practice after the 1948 Supreme Court decision forbidding court enforcement of covenants. In 1949 it forbade builders who secured loan insurance from placing racial covenants on housing built after Feb. 15, 1950.

The FHA rule was ineffective to prevent racial discrimination

BEHOLD COMPTON!

John Buggs, who knows about such things, tells me that the Negro population of Compton hovers around 40.2 per cent. That's certainly the highest percentage of any city in California and I doubt that there are any other cities of Compton's size (north or south) that can boast—if that's the word — a comparable percentage. And the end isn't in sight. Unless the trend is stopped, and there's nothing in sight to stop it, Compton is going to become an all-Negro city.

Things weren't always that way. I can remember away back when Compton prided itself on its lily whiteness. In the early days of World War II the city's civic leaders helped prevent the construction of a war housing project on 134th street out of the fear that Negroes would get some of the dwellings. Congressman Clyde Doyle may not like to remember it but he interceded to help stymie the project.

SOUND AND FURY

After the Supreme Court prohibited court enforcement of racial restrictive covenants Negroes began to sift into the outer edges of the city as they pushed south from Watts. The Compton City Council galloped into action and passed an ordinance forbidding outside brokers from soliciting listings in the city. There were no Negro brokers in Compton at the time and the soliciting was being done by Los Angeles Negro brokers. The courts broke up that sad faced device.

Compton neighborhood associations took up the gage of battle and organized property owners to keep the Negroes out. There were a few sporadic out-

Anaheim Accused Of Barring Negroes

The Anaheim City Council was informed emphatically Tuesday of the virtual impossibility of Negroes obtaining housing of any type within its city limits—and was asked to do something about it.

Joshua White, who began hunting for a dwelling early last August when he obtained a position in his field of personnel management and industrial relations, told the council how the city looks to a Negro.

TURNED DOWN

He said he was turned down at 20 to 25 different places, all of which had advertised vacancies. One apartment manager told him, he said, "You are going to have a hard time finding a place in Anaheim. Owners will not rent an apartment to a Negro."

He was right. They wouldn't.

A Presbyterian deacon, who works at the same company as White, gave him shelter until he could locate an apartment.

White finally—three months ago—found a landlord who had "just become a Christian about two weeks ago" and who rented him an apartment because "as a Christian" he had an obligation to "do something about this human relations problem," White told the Council.

.7 OF 1 PER CENT

White pointed out that, according to the 1960 census, only .7 of 1 per cent of the population of Anaheim is non-white.

He urged the council, as a first step in correcting this situation, to issue a statement of policy making it clear that Anaheim will follow a policy of equal opportunity in housing.

He also proposed a properly supervised Human Relations Committee, surveys, education and conferences so as to break down Anaheim's "gentlemen's" agreement which keeps Negroes out of the city.

Rev. King To Receive Keys of City

Santa Monica Mayor Thomas McCarthy will bring official greetings of the city to Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., when he speaks in Santa Monica Civic auditorium, Dec. 8 at 8 p.m.

Also expected to appear are Governor Pat Brown, Congressman Alfonzo Bell, Jr., ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis, Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, Rev. J. Raymond Henderson and Judge Vaino Spencer.

A 100-voice chorus, consisting of members of various Bay area churches, will provide the music. Dave Weston of Calvary Baptist Church is the director.

Seats are on a first come, first served basis.

Sponsors of Dr. King's Santa Monica appearance are the Santa Monica Business and Professional Men's Council and Calvary Baptist Church.

Rev. King is due to arrive in Los Angeles Thursday morning, and is scheduled to speak at the San Fernando Valley College in the Valley that night.

Bias Fight Shifts to South's Small Town

The fight for civil rights in the South last week shifted to the small towns as five Freedom Riders braved the hate of McComb, a town of about 11,000 persons in Southern Mississippi.

TOP POST — Judge Thomas L. Griffith is now presiding judge of the Los Angeles Municipal Court.

The brutality with which they were attacked, while the city's police just happened to be elsewhere, is reminiscent of the attack on the first Freedom Riders in Anniston, Ala., last May, which marked the beginning of the challenge by the Riders to the Southern "way of life."

RETURNED

The five Riders first arrived in McComb last Wednesday, Nov. 29, when they were attacked, slugged, cursed and tossed bodily through the air. They returned four days later and on that occasion were not molested.

On their first encounter with the McComb mob, the Riders reported as follows:

"A mob of cursing whites, shouting "Kill 'em, Kill 'em' set upon five CORE Freedom Riders Wednesday, in the local Greyhound Bus Station.

"The Freedom Riders went to McComb to test the city's compliance with a Federal Court's directive to halt the enforcement of segregation at bus and rail terminals.

"According to Jerome Smith, chairman of New Orleans

Judge Griffith Elected to Head Municipal Court

Judge Thomas L. Griffith defeated Judge Donald M. Redwine by a vote of 28 to 16 to become the first Negro presiding judge of the Municipal Court in Los Angeles.

The election was held Monday in a closed session of Municipal Court jurists. Griffith was appointed to the bench in 1953 and was then the second Negro judge west of the Mississippi. He was also one of the first non-Caucasians to be admitted to the Los Angeles Bar Association.

Sidney Poitier's Father Dies

Sidney Poitier's father, Reginald James Poitier, died in Nassau, Bahama Islands, Monday of a kidney and liver infection at the age of 77. He is survived by his widow and eight children.

Sidney, currently in Los Angeles working on the Stanley Kramer production, "Point Blank," will leave here by airplane Friday night for Nassau, where the funeral will be held Sunday.

Recall Rally Monday at Golden State

"Report on Recall" in the form of a public meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, at the Golden State Auditorium, 1999 W. Adams blvd.

Widespread interest in the campaign is responsible for the meeting, stated the Reverend Dr. H. Hartford Brookins, committee chairman. "Consequently," he said, "a full program of recall information will constitute the meeting agenda."

Monday's meeting is called in addition to the series of petition carriers' mobilization drives each Sunday setting out from the committee's headquarters, 3112 S. Western avenue.

Last Sunday's meeting mobilized over 65 persons who left the meeting to cover the 10th District in their quest for signatures. An average of from 300 to 400 names have resulted from each such foray.

Gen'l Motors, Labor Charged with Bias

WASHINGTON — General Motors and Firestone Rubber Co. are among eight major industrial corporations accused of racial discrimination in 127 affidavits filed last Wednesday with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity by the NAACP.

Unions also named in the complaints are the AFL-CIO Metal Trades Council; Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union; and the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen of America.

STEELWORKERS

In addition, the United Steel Workers of America is accused of negotiating separate racial seniority lines in their collective bargaining agreement with the Atlantic Steel Comany, in violation of Negro workers' seniority rights and opportunities for promotion.

Two railroads, the Illinois Central and the St. Louis and San Francisco, are also named in the affidavits.

Other companies accused of discrimination are: Petroleum Chemical Industries, Inc.; Davidson Chemical Co.; Lone Star Cement Company; and Cit-Con Oil Co., all located in Lake Charles, La.; the Atlantic Steel Company, Atlanta; and the Republic Aviation Company, Farmingdale, N.Y.

UAW CONTRACT

Two General Motors plants are cited, the plant in Cleveland and the one in Atlanta. In the Chevrolet Division in Atlanta, where the workers are represented by the United Automobile Workers, Negroes claim that all facilities are rigidly segregated, that they are initially hired as janitors and in other menial capacities, that they are denied equal promotional rights, and that their seniority rights on layoffs and recalls are violated.

Negro workers employed by the Illinois Central and the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad companies in Memphis, who are members of Lodge No. 525, a segregated local of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, charge that the railroad companies in collusion with the carmen's union are violating their seniority rights because Negroes are being largely displaced and their jobs given to

Brown Appoints S. O. J. Evans To Commission

Rev. S. O. J. Evans, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, 751 E. 114th street, was appointed as one of nine members of the Advisory Commission on Housing Problems by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last Friday.

The new commission will explore ways in which adequate housing can be provided for thousands of persons in public and private sectors.

Rev. Evans is president of the Baptist Ministers Union of Southern California and executive secretary of the Western Baptist State Convention. He has served as chairman of the board of the NAACP and as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Two Ministers To Hold Sunday Recall Rally

Rev. H. H. Brookins announced that two Baptist ministers, Rev. H. B. Charles and Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, will sponsor a community rally at 8 p.m. Dec. 10, in the sanctuary of Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, Adams blvd. and La Salle avenue.

These two prominent Baptist ministers stated that they are calling upon the members of the community and the membership of their churches for support of this rally.

The ministers announced that the evening will witness an up-to-date report on the efforts to push the 10th District recall. Both ministers informed community organizations it will be an active and interesting meeting.

Unvented Heaters Invite Disaster

The greatest danger of carbon monoxide poisoning comes from the unvented gas heater, the use of which is now illegal in Los Angeles County, according to Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Los Angeles County health officer, who also stated that a number of deaths occur every year due to the use of these heaters.

Bail Bond Business Risky; 2 Threatened

Two bail bondsmen were threatend with a knife when they attempted to take Alice Walker, against whom a bench warrant is outstanding, into custody last Friday.

Alonzo Davis and Pat Cassaday of the Pat Cassady Bail Bond Service saw Miss Walker at the Red Hut, on Jefferson and Western, picked her up and put her in their car.

A man approached and said he wanted to talk to her, and Davis allowed them five minutes. When he heard the the woman say she was going to make a break for it, he got out of the car to give chase.

He and Cassaday went after her, but she eluded them, breaking the window of a cleaning establishment with her purse while running toward the corner of Jefferson and Western.

Cassady caught up with her as she jumped into a car that had drawn up for her. He told the driver she was under arrest. The driver got out of the car and approached Davis with a knife.

The bondsmen released the woman and she got back into the car. The driver returned and they sped away.

So. Carolina Fighter Won Admiration

C. MARIE HUGHES

A vibrant figure, known for his courage and his humility, fought to the end in his march toward equal opportunity and a non-segregated existence.

Dr. Cecil A. Ivory, pastor of the Hermon Presbyterian Church of Rock Hill, S. C., died Nov. 10 after a lingering illness. He died before he could realize the fulfillment of his aim to eliminate the devastating drag of race discrimination upon the dignity of man. He was only 41 years old.

HEAD OF N.A.A.C.P.

President of the Rock Hill Chapter of NAACP, he was possessed of a tremendous drive and was dedicated to the principle of equal opportunity.

The fact that he was confined to a wheel chair did not prevent him from playing his chosen role. When the sit-down demonstrations reached Rock Hill, Dr. Ivory joined in the fight. He — and his wheel chair —frequently headed the line of march of the pickets.

His exceptional devotion to the crusade against bigotry and prejudice was such that it was even admired by the white community.

EDITORIAL PRAISE

Following his death, the daily Evening Herald of Rock Hill commented editorially:

"He stood for advancement of his race. A lot of people didn't agree with him, but most of the people who came to know him well learned to respect him. He went about his work with a quiet dignity and deep conviction. He believed passionately that the cause was decent and just and right."

Dr. Ivory was born in Arkadelphia, Ark., and received his B.A. and Divinity Degrees at Johnson C. Smith University. In 1960 that school conferred upon him a Doctor of Divinity Degree.

He was a member of Kappa Alpha Psi and a number of civic organizations. He is survived by his wife, three children, mother, two sisters and a brother.

Bandit's Bad Aim Saves MTA Bus Driver's Life

A bandit robbed an MTA trolley driver early Monday morning and tried to blow off his head, but missed.

Just after midnight, motorman Frederick Ellis stopped his V-car at Vernon and McKinley. A man got on and said, "Give me the green stuff," as he pulled a sawed-off double-barreled shotgun out of a shopping bag.

Ellis gave him his change and was reaching in his pocket for the bills when the man fired. He missed, but the charge blew out the window, and continued across the street to Carver Jr. High, where 32 pellets were embedded in the wall.

The suspect, about 28 years old, then jumped from the trolley and was last seen running north on McKinley.

No one was injured. The bandit got $28.25.

Bring Toys, Food Requests Breakfast Club

Annual Christmas observance and the colorful lighting of the candles will highlight the December meeting of the Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast Club this Sunday at the Clark Hotel.

Guests as well as members are invited by Mrs. Gilbert W. Lindsay, president, to bring canned goods and toys if they so desire to distribute to needy families.

In ten years of organization, Mrs. Lindsay estimates that some 500 food baskets and toys have been distributed to needy families from this Christmas effort and special appeals.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ruth Morris Graham, religious leader and world traveler, presently serving on the board of McCarty Memorial Christian Church.

Mrs. Graham taught at Virginia Seminary prior to going to Liberia, West Africa, to work at the Suehn Industrial Academy.

Bringing to the group Christmas music will be WSMBC's regular soloist Hazel Chapman and George Smith, with Bernice Lawson as accompanist.

Negro Voters Prefer Demos, Figures Show

Democratic voters outnumber Republicans by heavy margins n the two predominantly Negro populated assembly districts and they are combined into one congressional district with an almost five to one majority in favor of the Democrats, according to registration figures released this week.

The new 53rd assembly district, formerly the 62nd, which includes the Central Avenue area, shows a registration of 51,450 Democrats to only 13,153 Republicans.

The 55th assembly district which includes the southern section of the city has an even larger majority of Democrats—48,326 to 10,075 Republicans.

HEAVY MAJORITY

The 53rd and 55th assembly districts are combined to form the 21st congressional district which shows a registration of 99,775 Democrats to 23,238 Republicans. Latest estimates are that from 75 to 80 per cent of the voters in the district are Negroes.

The 63rd assembly district which includes the Negro populated area lying south of Washington boulevard has a registration of 54,864 Democrats and 35,901 Republicans. The Negro west side communities lying north of Washington boulevard are included in the 59th district which has 58,965 Democrats and 41,722 Republicans.

The 21st district has the lowest total registration shown in Los Angeles congressional districts. The next lowest district, the 25th, has a total registration of 140,291.

NAACP Xmas Plan Assists Freedom Fund

The NAACP Substitute Christmas Card Plan is reported as gaining favor with those who seek ways to help in the fight for civil rights.

People are asked to contribute the amount they generally spend on Christmas cards to the NAACP Freedom Fund. In return, they will receive substitute Christmas announcements to send to their friends. Cards are available at the NAACP office.

Freedom seals on envelopes also help, according to Dr. Anna J. Julian, national chairman.

NAACP Youth Seek Stimulating Activity

Art Turner, acting president of the Youth Council for the Southern Area NAACP, kicked up a bit of a furor as the youth session of the area conference at Jefferson High School came to a close last Saturday.

Commenting that "this is the best conference we've had this year," Turner suggested that those in charge should attempt to provide more interesting fare for the youth members.

REBUFFED

Speaking of the activity to date, he said, "We've accomplished very little. Most of our events have been of a social nature."

He was rebuffed by one of the adult advisers who seemed to resent criticism of the leadership.

Turner replied that the youth were not the ones who have a lack of respect for leadership. He said it was the adults associated with the program who fail to encourage leadership among the youth.

The program that had brought praise from Turner was the panel discussion on drop-outs that was presented by Principal Hahn and the counseling staff of Manual Arts High School. They outlined how the problem is being handled at Manual and made a number of suggestions as to how young people can help ease the situation and improve themselves at the same time.

NOT NEW

Principal Hahn explained that the drop-out problem is not new. In fact, he said, more people are finishing school today than ever before. But he pointed out the problem today is how to absorb the drop-outs in a modern technological society. In the past, he said, there were many opportunities for unskilled workers, but today there are more unskilled workers than there are jobs.

Youth participating in the session were high school and college students from Los Angeles, Santa Monica, San Bernardino, Antelope Valley and Las Vegas. They were accompanied by their advisers.

Hueston, Elks Leader, Dies

WASHINGTON — William C. Hueston, Grand Secretary of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World and one of the most powerful men in Elkdom, died suddenly last Saturday at the age of 81.

Former trial lawyer and judge in the Midwest, Hueston had been associated with the Elks for 55 years. He held the post of grand secretary from 1951 to June of this year when he retired because of ill health. He was the Elk's first grand commissioner of education, and held that post until he became grand secretary.

Hueston was president of the National Negro Baseball League, that gave Leroy (Satchel) Paige his start in baseball, from 1925-1931.

Memorial services were held in Washington last Tuesday, with Elkdom's top echelon, headed by Judge Hobson R. Reynolds of Philadelphia, Grand Exalted Ruler, in attendance. Another service was held Wednesday.

Hueston is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Reddick, a son, Harry Hueston, and three grandchildren.

Elderly Tenant Dies after Fall

Mrs. Wesley Jones, of 521 E. 36th street, investigated a noise in her rear bedroom around 8:30 p.m. last Saturday and found her tenant, Mrs. Alma Steele, 70, sitting on the floor. She was unconscious.

Police found Mrs. Steele dead when they arrived.

The dead woman had been examined by her doctor the day before and was reported to be in fair condition. She had been living with the Jones' family for the past two years.

Nude Woman Found Dead In Motel Room

Two one dollar bills lay beneath a note in a motel room where a nude young woman was found dead about 1 p.m. last Friday.

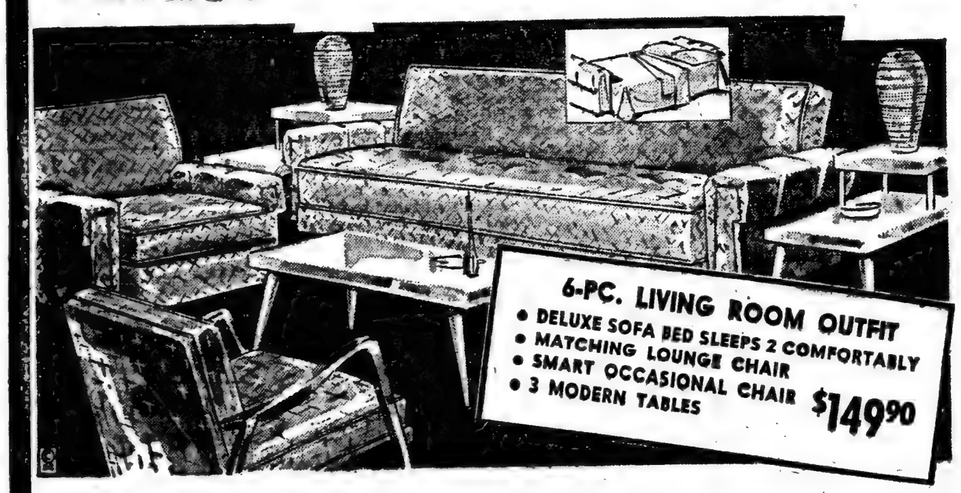
The note read: "Shirl: Tried to wake you to take you home. Call me this evening. Here's carefare home."

The note was signed "T."

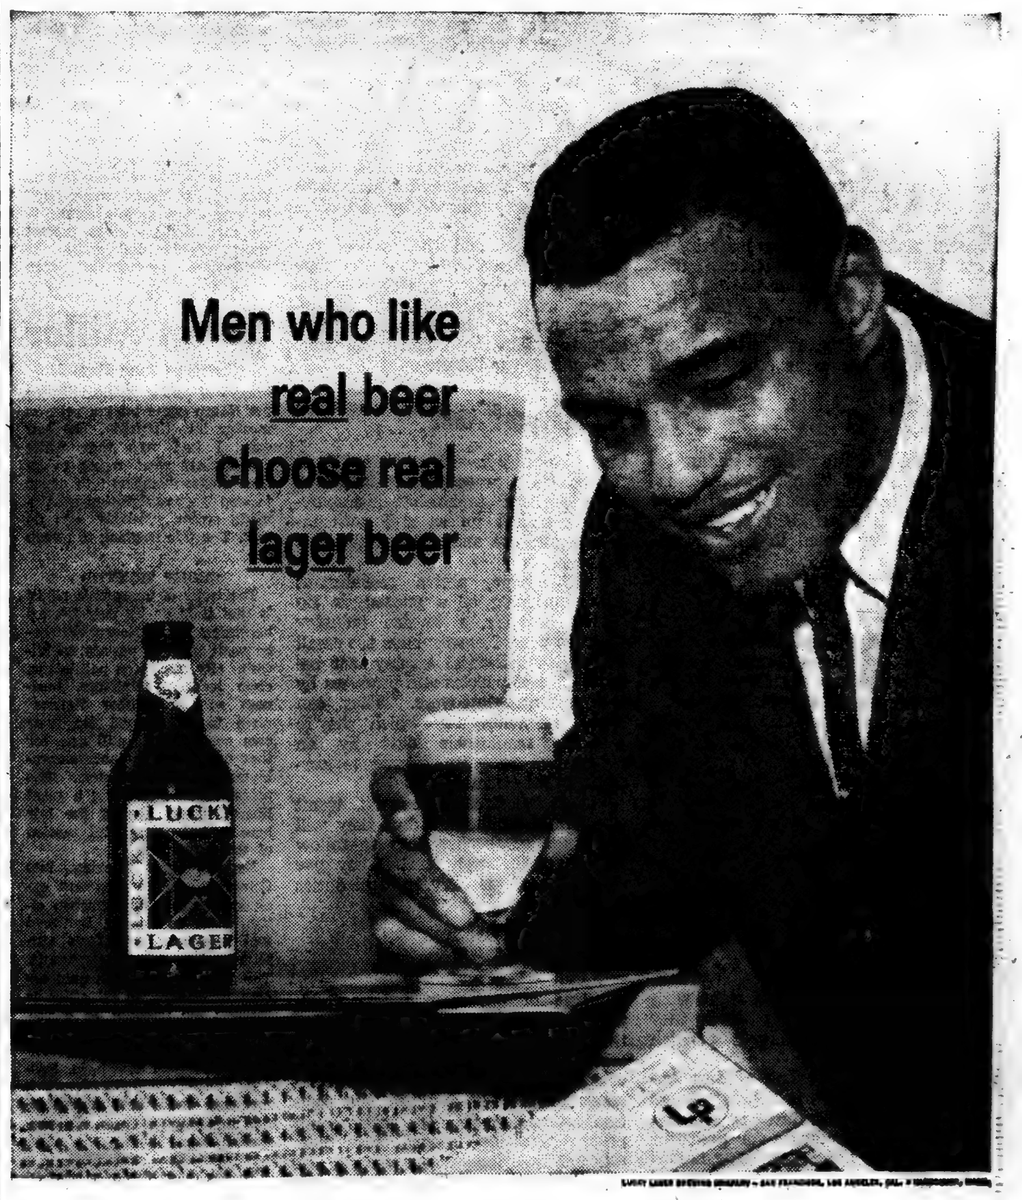
The grim discovery was made by Mrs. Faye Driscoll, manager of the Ash Motel, 4520 S. Figueroa street, who told police that she entered the room after she had tried unsuccessfully to arouse the young woman.

The young woman and a man had registered about midnight as Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Floyd, of 250 W. 58th street.

Floyd left during the early morning.



When police arrived they identified the dead woman as Shirleen Joan Armstrong, 29, who lived at 242 W. 40th street.



Officers said Miss Armstrong has a police record. They added, however, that there was no evidence of a criminal assault and that Miss Armstrong had apparently died of a heart attack.

Disgraceful Registration Figures

Figures released last week show that voter registration in Los Angeles' two predominantly Negro assembly districts favors the Democrats by a four to one margin. Those same figures show that the total registration figures in these two districts are among the lowest in the city's thirty-one assembly districts.

Since the two districts—the 53rd and the 55th—are combined to form the 21st congressional district it follows that Democratic registration in that district far overshadows the Republican count. That district also has the lowest registration among the city's fifteen congressional districts.

The low registration figures cast a sad reflection on the quality of Negro political leadership and on the good judgment of Democratic party leaders.

Negro politicos, Democratic and Republican alike, are obviously doing a lousy job when such low percentage of eligibles register. Democratic party leaders ought to have their heads examined for their failure to secure a larger registration in a bloc of voters so devoted to that party's cause.

We don't think there is much possibility that Negro politicians will take any effective steps to increase Negro registration. They lack the leadership to do the job. Nor do we think the task can be left to the Democratic party leaders; they're too busy wooing the upper middle class white vote which they'll never get.

If Negro registration is to be upped the job will have to be done by Negro churches and such organizations as the NAACP, the Committee for Representative Government and similar groups. It's very well to run a fever over disfranchisement of southern Negroes; it's disgraceful to look at the self disfranchisement that persists in Los Angeles.

Light in Dark Mississippi

A tiny shaft of light sifted into darkest Mississippi last week when city authorities in McComb bowed to the will of federal courts and decided to uphold the anti-segregation bus directive of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The incident is small enough but it takes on importance because this is the first instance of desegregation in the entire state, in any sphere.

Fighting to the last ditch against removal of the "White" and "Colored" signs placed in front of the Greyhound station in McComb, the local chief of police said that he had decided to install them "because the majority of our local niggers want it that way." What he meant was that the majority of McComb whites wanted it that way.

The chief's assertion lays bare the thinking of the segregationists. They labor under the error that they can disregard what the Constitution says and what the courts say because those requirements run counter to local prejudices. That attitude is the fine fruit of the long failure of the federal government to assert the power lodged in it by the Civil War Amendments.

We hope that the attorney general follows up the small victory in McComb by pressing forward on all fronts in Mississippi. That state should be required to begin desegregation in its schools and other public facilities as required by Supreme Court decisions.

Mississippi and the rest of the South must be taught that the time has past when they can oppose provincial prejudices to constitutional requirements and interdictions. They have to rejoin the Union some time. The quicker the better.

Blow at Job Discrimination

Twelve of the nation's leading industrialists met with President Kennedy last week and pledged their firms to take an affirmative non-discriminatory stand in their hiring policies.

The firms involved all hold contracts with the federal government and they've been under orders to eliminate racial discrimination in their hiring and upgrading practices for the past several years. Presumably they've been living up to their obligations.

The significance of last week's pledge to the president lies in the fact that the industrialists have agreed to transform their policies from one of passive acquiesence in fair employment into an active attempt to uproot discriminatory policies.

The administration is entitled to credit for its perception in seeing that it isn't enough to make a mere beginning. Negroes have been barred from the industrial process for so long that there can be no genuinely fair employment practices unless and until industry goes out and recruits qualified Negroes.

Of course, active recruitment puts something of a burden on industry but it's a burden industry ought to bear. Negroes have too small a stake in industrial employment because of past policies and practices by the nation's employers. They can undo the wrong for which they're partially responsible only by an affirmative program geared to correcting past mistakes.

Last week's agreements won't usher in the millenium but they will encourage other employers to follow the lead of the large firms. They give the stamp of morality to legal duties and obligations.

Anti-Negro Right Wingers

One of the marks of right wing political movements is that they always wind up taking a position against civil rights.

The current darling of Los Angeles right wingers is Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina who was the Dixiecrat candidate for president in 1948. The senator is being lauded as a great exponent of freedom and liberty but no matter what he says or does in California the truth remains that he is a bitter end foe of civil rights. He holds his seat in the Senate because his state denies the vote to most of its Negroes.

Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona is another fair haired boy in the right wing camp. He showed up in Atlanta last week to speak to southern Republicans and rally them to what he calls the conservative political position.

One of the main points Goldwater made in his Atlanta speech was that he favored a constitutional amendment that would return control of schools to the states! He made no bones about it: he assumed that position, he said, so that the states could prevent "forcible" integration of their schools.

Goldwater and Thurmond, it appears, are birds of a feather. They want to turn the clock as far back in race relations as they do in other phases of the nation's political and economic life.

In a sense we're glad to see right wing spokesmen take the position they have assumed on civil rights. They're making it plain to Negro voters that their program is reactionary all the way through. They're as much at home with the Ku Klux Klan as they are with the John Birch Society.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

BEAUTIFUL SAN JOSE

San Jose, Costa Rica: San Jose, capital city of tiny Costa Rica, is Panama's neighbor in Central America and of the same general culture. Yet it would be hard to find two cities such close neighbors and yet so sharply in contrast with each other. And it's hard for me to decide—after 60 hours in Panama and five days in San Jose—which city I have enjoyed most.

Panama City is almost exactly at sea level, facing the Pacific Ocean, while San Jose sits high among mountain ranges nearly four thousand feet above sea level. The one city is hot and steamy in its rainy season, as I found it, and broiling or baking in its dry periods. San Jose, in contrast, is briskly cool and bracing, the year round, its thermometer rarely above the high seventies or below the high forties, day or night, winter or summer.

NO SLUMS

Panama is a panorama of beautiful neighborhoods and unsightly areas, charming people living comfortably in attractive surroundings, poverty-stricken folk subsisting in shacks, busy people hustling about town as in any modern metropolis, sauntering people wilfully or enforcedly idle—but people in the mass displaying a great zest for living, whether quietly or boisterously.

San Jose also presents a smiling, friendly population, but it lacks the dramatic kalaidescope of complexions offered by its southern neighbor. This town is, by comparison, spotlessly clean with a startling absence of slums a la Manhattan, Norfolk, St. Louis, New Orleans and other "enlightened" areas of the U.S.A. I didn't believe the chamber of commerce blurb on this subject, so I took a four or five-mile stroll in a giant circle around my hotel, but all I found was that there was no slum area anywhere within that circle and five miles was far too much for this aging gent to be walking.

Houses of the poor and the middle-class seem to be juxtaposed in the way that once was true of Los Angeles before that city "went modern" and grabbed the status symbol. The result is visible evidence in support of the "open occupancy" housing effort in this country—for the middle-class protect their neighborhood while the low-income newcomers learn from protected neighborhood standards.

Most striking to me, however, was the near-total absence of that deep pigmentation in San Jose people that says, "Africa was here." My first day in town I saw exactly three people of palpable African background; since then I've seen less than six dozen—and this includes observations while strolling Avenida Central, passing movie house crowds and visiting the great Cathedral in the center of town on Sunday morning. In contrast to the wide range of Panama complexions, San Jose concentrates on the Indian nut brown, with variations from swarthy to blond.

In most cities I can estimate the proportion of dark-colored people resident there by the intensity of curious stares directed at me by localities whom I pass on the streets. The fewer Negroes and the rarer their appearance, the greater the polite or vulgarly curious interest inspired by my appearance. This is not true of San Jose, however. Few are the impolite stares I attract. It's as if the people had been drilled to verify the statement of the Costa Rica tourist bureau that, "there is no integration - segration problem. Without any legal laws or social rules about it, behavior of the individual seems to rest largely with each person and his or her self-respect. This phase of self-respect seems to have become something of a custom, a kind of personal dignity possessed by rich and poor alike."

TOWN CLEAN

Meanwhile, the town is clean, its countryside is magnificent in its rugged beauty. Wherever one drives in or out of the city poinsettias and flamboyant trees bloom with startling color. Along the highways, straight up into the mountains, coffee groves and banana plantations grace the scene. The brilliant contrast of blue sky and white, fleecy cloutis hugging the mountain tops, the sparkle of the Rio Macho rushing downslope in the distance, the gaudily-colored ox-carts lumbering by and the chubby, brown, smiling kids waving to your car as it passes —these make me glad to be alive and to be in Costa Rica. And they make me more than a little regretful to be packing my bags for tomorrow's departure —for New York City and then, a week later, off again for Independence Day in Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika, and a swing through West Africa.

Life can be beautiful. when people let it be. And down in this part of the world people seem to have entered into a pact with life—to let it be beautiful.

Loren Miller Says . . .

breaks of junior grade violence but Negro home buyers kept on moving into Compton. The last word I had was that white Comptonites were trying to induce Negro "leaders" to agree to stop Negro migration at Alameda street. Nobody can do that. The tide is going to sweep on.

SHORT SIGHTED

The irony of Compton's plight is that it is on its way toward becoming an all-Negro city because it tried to remain an all-white city. Compton politicians, civic leaders, ministers, business men and labor figures were too frightened for their own good. They still are, for that matter. Compton's assemblyman, Carley Porter, who prides himself on being a great liberal, voted against the fair housing bill at the 1961 session of the legislature.

Negroes are flocking into Compton because they are excluded from other suburban cities, such as nearby Lynwood and Lakewood, and from surrounding housing developments. The only way they can gain access to housing in all cities is through the passage of a fair housing law which forbids discrimination in the sale or rental of dwellings anywhere. Passage and enforcement of such a measure would stop concentration in Compton or in any particular area.

TWO WAY STREET

To get down to cases, Carley Porter's vote against the fair housing bill was a vote to increase the Negro population of Compton because it was a vote against a measure that would lead to dispersal of the Negro population. Lynwood, which used to advertise itself as The Friendly Caucasian City and which still harbors that sentiment, is preparing itself for the Compton situation unless it pitches in and battles hard for a government regulation against discrimination in the sale or rental of FHA and VA housing and in favor of state fair housing laws. The southward trend of Negro migration is going to turn its way soon.

There are no two ways about it: If Los Angeles county insists on putting up with all-white cities it is going to have to face the spectacle of all-Negro cities.

Housing Order

because the agency continued to insure loans when it knew the builders intended to bar Negroes. Under its regulation it insured loans for the construction of such all-white cities as Lakewood and the Levittowns in the East. Latest estimates are that Negroes were eligible to purchase less than two per cent of the FHA homes constructed in the nation.

PUBLIC HOUSING

The Public Housing Authority which used federal funds to construct low rent housing permitted local housing authorities to set up their own rules as to segregation. Figures released early this year show that 80 per cent of low cost housing is segregated.

Local communities were also permitted to dictate their own policies as far as housing built under urban renewal or urban redevelopment plans. Under that permission Negroes were barred from a great deal of the housing built under those programs.

The presidential order will have no effect on the owners of private homes but they will not be permitted to discriminate in sales of their homes as long as FHA loan insurance is in effect.

Let's remember that our space program taxes not only our imagination but our pocketbooks as well.

Greyhound Starts to Hire Negro Drivers

following a meeting at the FEP office.

Richard Morris, a Teamster Committee spokesman, said: "Greyhound decided that since Negroes comprise part of their riding public, they would take on some Negro drivers. Now all we have to do is get Negroes to go down and apply. Greyhound isn't going to search them out."

OUT OF CITY

R. E. Thomas, regional director of Greyhound, was out of the city and not available for comment.

By Tuesday, the Eagle learned, three Negroes had already applied for driver jobs. The plan, according to reports, is for Greyhound to hire 10 to 15 new drivers, all Negroes.

On Wednesday morning, another meeting was held at the FEP office at which representatives of all groups who participated in the picket line demonstrations were given a report on developments.

FIVE WEEK DRIVE

Present were representatives of the NAACP, CORE and the Committee for Representative Government, as well as members of the Teamsters' committee.

The picket lines were set up five weeks ago by the Teamsters Rank and File Committee, protesting the company's hiring policy, urging the public not to patronize the buses and appealing to drivers not to cross the line.

They returned each Saturday, using this method of publicizing their demands.

In the past Greyhound has opened its books to driver applicants for one month only, the month of April, each year. The supplemental opening of the books Monday underlines the change in the company's policy.

QUALIFICATIONS

Qualifications for applicants are: 26-35 years of age, high school education, one or two years of heavy duty driving experience (Class A license, bus or combination experience), 5' 8" to 6' 2" in height, 150 to 220 lbs. weight, physically fit, 20/30 uncorrected eyesight.

Following the success of its attack on the Greyhound's discriminatory hiring, the Teamsters' Committee indicated the United Parcel Service will be their next target.

the Negro got more recognition in the movie industry.

ALL AGREE

"This is the first time," he said, as he called the meeting to order, "that I have ever called a meeting to iron out a problem where everyone invited admitted it was time for the problem under discussion to be solved."

Warren told the group the Negroes have waited a long time for Hollywood to show them as they are in every day life.

"Any time they show a crap game," said Warren, "they show plenty of Negroes. But when," he asked, "do you see a Negro doctor or lawyer except on Amos and Andy?"

Maggie Hathaway spoke on behalf of the Hollywood extras and actors and said that Negroes should work in all pictures and that scripts should not create "special parts" written for Negroes. "Just cast them in any parts," she said, "since they are just people like everyone else."

PRESENT RESOLUTION

Among those attending were: Saul Rittenberg, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Michael Franklin, Writers Guild; Charles Boles, Four Star Productions; Richard Jencks, Alliance of Television Film Producers; Walter Pidgeon, Screen Actors Guild; Joseph Youngerman, Directors Guild; Jeffrey Sayre, Screen Extras Guild; Doug Dakin, Central Casting; Tony Frederick, Revue Productions; and Lewis Rackmil, Ziv-U.A.

The Hollywood Activities Committee and NAACP Pres. Warren presented a resolution seeking to "place Negroes in all motion pictures depicting American life and to cast Negroes as other nationalities are cast."

The Writers Guild has already indicated it is prepared to adopt the new policy. In a letter written recently Pres. Charles Schnee said, "Writers are requested now to try to write parts in their scripts which will portray Negroes as they exist in the American scene . . . the test is reality and truth."

NEGROES FIRED

In the affidavits Negro Workers with as much as 35 years of seniority have asked the President's Committee to intervene on their behalf to prevent the continued displacement of Negro railway workers by both the company and the union. Affidavits have been signed by workers who have had from 18 to 38 years' seniority. All of these, as well as other Negroes, have been dismissed from their jobs as carmen's helper by the St. Louis Railway Company in Memphis.

The affidavits were presented to John Feild of the President's Committee by Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the NAACP.

Riders Give First Hand Miss. Story

CORE, and leader of the group, an attempt to enter the terminal earlier that day was unsuccessful.

"At 3 p.m. the group returned to the station and filed into the joint waiting room and cafe. No policemen were in sight. The streets were filled with white toughs crossing and recrossing the street from the terminal to a pool room.

"A. P. McGehee, operator of the bus terminal, walked behind the counter. He told each Freedom Rider, 'Greyhound does not own this building; Greyhound does not own this restaurant. You got out of here.'

"At this point a tough grabbed a half-filled cup of coffee from a table and walked rapidly down the line of stools at the counter. When he reached George Raymond, one of the group, he struck him sharply at the base of the skull with the cup and saucer, spilling coffee over his head and back.

"I'LL KILL HIM"

"Smith then told the four others to join him in a row of seats at the front of the waiting room. As they got up to move, a short, wiry white man of about 35 jumped at the leader and began beating him with his fists. 'I'll kill him! I'll kill him! I'll kill him!,' yelled the white man.

"About a dozen white toughs joined in pummeling the group. They pushed them around and over the counters and tables in the waiting room of the terminal before kicking them through the door. Outside, the mob tossed Smith into the air again and again in the street, kicking and beating him as he struck the pavement.

"The group reached safety by taking a taxi to a Negro hotel.

POLICE ARRIVE

"Five minutes after the mob violence, Chief of Police George Guy and Patrolman Edward Smith arrived from City Hall, less than a block from the terminal. They cleared the streets and sidewalks with little trouble."

In the interval between the first visit of the Freedom Riders and their return and since that time developments indicate the tense situation that continues. Five out-of-state newsmen were set upon by the hoodlums and beaten up.

Following that a local newspaper editor who had befriended the out-of-towners was stopped by a burly white man in the street who started cursing him and swinging at him.

After that outburst, McComb officials asked for and obtained a 10-day injunction against return of the Riders. A hearing on the injunction was set for Thursday in Jackson, Miss., when Tom Gaither, field secretary for CORE, was ordered to appear.

Dorsey Student Spots Smoke, Prevents Fire

Reginald and Ronnie Anderson reported a fire in the apartment building next to their home at 3018 Alsace avenue and possibly prevented a major fire last Friday afternoon.

Reginald, a senior at Dorsey High, was coming from school when he saw smoke pouring from the window of the apartment. He hurried home and had his brother Ronnie, a student at Holy Spirit Catholic school, call the Fire Department.

Firemen quickly put out the blaze which was started in a wing chair by a cigarette. Damage was limited to a few burns on the floor and smoke-blackened walls.

5 Face Court In Razor Death Of Bystander

9714 S. Broadway, but spotted a girl outside the Champagne Room.

ESCORT OBJECTED

They made some remarks. Her escort, Donald Lee Davis, 28, of 11520 Mona blvd., a barber, objected. They collared him, ripped off his coat. One of the youth, reportedly Melvin L. Jackson, 22, of 706 E. 78th street, took Davis' razor from his pocket. Davis fled.

It was then that McKisic came out of the cafe to see what was happening.

Police officers stopped a car for speeding at the corner of 76th and Main streets. When one of the officers turned his flashlight into the car he noted what looked like splotches of blood on Jackson's trousers.

When the officers began to investigate, Jackson resisted. While they were handcuffing him, two of the others, Johnson and Melvin D. Ayers, 25, of 1214 E. 68th street, made their getaway in the peasoup fog.

STAKED OUT

Police captured Ayers, and then staked out at Johnson's home. When he turned up and they ordered him to halt, he fled again. Police fired. Two slugs hit him.

He was taken to the General Hospital Prison Ward and released Tuesday when he was returned to jail.

Police said Jackson, who is known as the "Big Man of Slauson avenue," refused to admit that he had anything to do with the beating or the killing. The others, according to police, were cooperative.

The other two arrested were Sammy Thomas, 18, of 1629 E. 87th street; and Milton, 28, of 950½ E. 76th street.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

On page one of the Nov. 16th issue, I read with interest the item about Dr. Linus Pauling and his article "The Dead Will Inherit the Earth."

Since "Frontier" magazine is not available in this part of the country, I would greatly appreciate it, if you would advise me of the publishing address of this magazine so that I may obtain a copy.

I have read the "Eagle" for many years and it is always such good reading for me and my friends that I pass it to others in my neighborhood.

To the Editor:

I enjoyed Granger's article in your issue 11-9-61. However, it seems his attack on Krock (Arthur Krock of the New York Times) inspired Krock to higher heights or lower depths.

In a recent article by Krock he classes Nkrumah as a dignified Al Capone. In my opinion he could have given him better rating. Sam Insul was the king pin here for misappropriating other people's money. Capone was a piker compared to him.

Manchester Baptist to Hold Charter Service

The Manchester Baptist Church, 255 W. 85 street, will hold its Reorganization and Charter Service at 5:30 p.m. on Dec. 10. Dr. Alger W. Geary, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society, will deliver the message of the hour.

The Senior Choir of Second Baptist Church will render selections from Handel's Messiah under the direction of Mrs. Anna G. Morrow. Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, the pastor of Second Baptist Church will also participate in the service.

The Manchester Baptist Church was originally organized in 1913 as an American Baptist Church. Its present sanctuary was dedicated on Aug. 9, 1925 and the Elementary School building was dedicated on Sept. 4, 1949.

In the summer of 1961 the membership and the pastor, Rev. Neville Arroues, faced, in a realistic Christian way, the future of the church in a racially changing community. After prayerful counsel with Dr. Alger W. Geary of the City Mission Society, the church decided that there should be a continuing American Baptist ministry in the community.

On Aug. 1, 1961, the Rev. Roy L. Thompson was appointed as the mission pastor to reorganize the work under the direction of Rev. Darrell S. Bennett, director of Church Development of the City Mission Society.

Baha'is to Show Films on U.N. Human Rights Day

Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10, at 1:30 p.m., the Baha'is of Los Angeles will present a special program to commemorate U.N. Human Rights Day at the Baha'i Center, 331 S. New Hampshire avenue.

The speaker will be Norman Gauerke; the chairman, Mrs. Juanita Johnson. Two U.N. films, "Come In, Jupiter," an animated satire, and "Of Human Rights" will be shown.

FORGET PREJUDICE

According to Gauerke, human rights, the rights of all people irrespective of race, class or sex, have been basic tenets of the Baha'i Faith since its inception in Persia over a hundred years old. Baha'u'llah its prophet-founder, taught that education must be world-wide and compulsory, that women must be given equal opportunity with men, that prejudice of all kinds must be forgotten if we are to live together in a world at peace. He advocated, as well, a World Court and a universal House of Justice.

In 1949, when the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights was written, many precepts similar to these were incorporated into it.

"The earth is but one country and all mankind its citizens."—Baha'u'llah.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

There isn't much we can do about the San Diego Chargers football team of the American Football League playing its championship game before a segregated crowd in Houston last Sunday, other than to say that owner Barron Hilton wanted a football title at any cost.

As usual, Hilton showed complete contempt for his nine Negro players, much in the same manner he did when he was operating in L. A. when he invited some 32 white newspapermen to his home for the unveiling of the Chargers new uniforms and gave the excuse for excluding Negro newspapermen as his home was much too small. Hilton, like most white boys with money to burn, has been taught loot buys everything including soul and principles. Negroes have been led to believe that there are some good white people in America and our guess is that the nine Negro players of the Chargers football who crossed the picket line in Houston to play were also taught that salary is above principle, as long as it doesn't fall on their shoulders.

This time it did, and players like Paul Lowe, Ernie Wright, Bo Robinson, Sherman Plunket, Ernie Barnes, Charlie McNeil, Earl Faison, Ernie Ladd and Luther Hayes didn't even have the guts to pose the question to Hilton and Sid Gillman as to what about their future, and how could they face their children and the public. Negro players didn't utter a mumbling word because as the Chargers put it, they were hired to play football and they had a contract to fill. Hilton also has a contract of breaking down discrimination and since nine Negroes helped him win a championships it was his responsibility to reward them by striking a blow at segregation in sports.

The burden of breaking down discrimination should not have to fall on the shoulders of the Negro players. They didn't make the contract for the game to be played in Houston, but they didn't have to walk across the picket line either. Lloyd C. Wells, sports editor of the Houston Informer, was on the right track when he asked the nine players not to participate in the game. He had asked the Chargers not to schedule the game.

If club owners can't or won't respect the feeling of its Negro players and the players put salary above principles and won't speak out against the evils of segregation in sports, what course should have Wells followed?

Sam Jones Traded To Detroit Tigers

In Miami last week it was reported that Detroit Tigers acquired veteran right-handed pitcher Sam (Toothpick) Jones from the Houston Colts of the new National League, in exchange for two young pitchers.

The Houston club got Jones from San Francisco Giants for $75,000 last October. The 37-year Jones had a 8-8 record in 1961 for the Giants.

Patterson in (4) Liston in (1)

It took Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson nine knockdowns, and at the end of 2:51 of the fourth round referee Jersey Joe Walcott counted out unknown Tom McNeeley.

Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, announced following the match that Patterson would start training in 10 days for his eighth title defense.

When Patterson was asked would he fight Liston, he dodged the question.

Bakersfield and Cameron Clash in Jr. Rose Bowl

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Bakersfield Renegades and the Oklahoma Cameron Aggies pulled into town last Tuesday and scheduled their first pregame workouts last Wednesday.

The rough and tough Aggies and the Renegades are in town for the 16th annual Junior Rose Bowl game this Saturday in Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl. Game time for the classic is 1:30 p.m. and a crowd of 45,000 is expected. Some 15,000 reserved seats will go on sale at the Bowl at 11 o'clock the morning of the game. Bakersfield has never lost in a JRB game and is looking forward to its fourth win in the Arroyo Seco saucer. Cameron has visited the bowl once before when it dropped a goodie to Chaffey, 39-26.

The Renegades are one of the junior colleges' highest scoring teams with 389. In nine season games they only allowed 40 points to be scored against them.

Cameron is undefeated in 10 games. In the last eight days of their regular season, they took on three foes and almost ran them out of the stadium to catch the eye of the JRB selection committee and win the Eastern bid to Pasadena and the bowl.

Bakersfield caught the committee's eye when they dumped Long Beach, 20-0, and staved off an inspired Santa Monica crew, 38 to 26, in the last game of the season. They thus beat the 1960 and 1958 national champions.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

With Maggie Hathaway

Earl Martin, PGA professional at Western Ave., finally hired a Negro but he did not place him in his pro-shop. He hired Willie Jefferson, a young college golf professional, to clean the locker rooms and attend the driving range.

When we reminded Earl that this was not equivalent to placing him in his pro-shop Earl said, "You must be insane if you think I am going to place just anybody on my cash register.

We remarked that half of the money in the register was spent by Negroes.

He replied "Why don't you tell the people about all of the nice things we have done for Negroes in the past?"

We then invited Earl Martin to be our guest columnist in order that he could tell his side and he accepted. Here's hoping we can present Martin's article next week.

Dr. D. Overstreet Gray, dentist and health commissioner, has indicated that he will sponsor 18-year-old Donald Overstreet of San Francisco in his professional golfing career. This should be the best Xmas present that Donald has ever received.

We were invited by our Sports Editor Abie Robinson to attend the basketball banquet given by the Jets and it was thrilling to observe that we were the only female newshound among 50 players and 25 reporters. When the Jets' militant manager was making his speech (using some pretty peppery language) he was reminded that "a lady was present." His reply was, "Send her some golf passes to play on one of our courses. "Sure enough, yesterday we received six passes to play on one of their courses, Verdugo Hills, and the passes were sent by (of all people) their attorney, Jerome Stewart. Thanks, fellows.

OUR SWEETHEART — Alpha Upsilon Chapter's big brass are shown with their sweethearts of 1961 and 62 during their fifth annual affair. Pictured from left: Columbus Curry, president; Roseta Holt, 1961 Sweetheart; Regina Stewart, Sweetheart of the fifth annual ball; and Foracker Smith, vice-president of Alpha Upsilon Chapter. (Adams).

FIFTH ANNUAL SWEETHEART BALL — Young coeds who participated in the 1961 Sigma Sweetheart Contest which benefited the group's scholarship project were: Dolores Aikin, Harbor College; Barbara Jefferson, Metropolitan Business College; Jo Ann Lewis, Metropolitan Business College; Novelyn Minor, Los Angeles City College; Lula Edwards, Marymount College; and Regina Stewart, Miss Sweetheart of 1961; also Sandra Swearingen, Chapman College; and Marquenta Tinsley. (Adams.

Regina Stewart Named Miss Sigma Sweetheart

Nineteen-year-old Regina Stewart became the "Sweetheart of '62" of the Alpha Upsilon and Phi Beta Sigma Chapters of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., at their fifth annual ball held in the spacious Los Angeles Breakfast Club last Sunday evening.

The five foot-six City College nursing major swept a field of eight others aspiring to the honor. She is the daughter of Margie and Rex Stewart, one of Duke Ellington's trumpeters for a number of years. Mrs. Stewart is a member of the popular Zenith Club and is the sister of Helena Stewart.

The winner was sponsored by Sigma members H. A. Howard and John Hutcherson, who worked very hard for their entry. Miss Stewart's $514.75 topped all others. Second place winner was Lula Edwards with $433.75. She was sponsored by Charlie Martin, Herman Clemmons and Frank Tyson. Third place winner, Marquenta Tinsley, was sponsored by members of the undergraduate chapter which included D. Spinger, C. Curry and F. Wolfe. Jo Ann Lewis was named fourth place winner with $173.45. Her sponsors were Jordan Daniels and James Anderson.

Ken Jones, of radio station KBAC-FM, was master of ceremonies. Appearing on the program were Arthur Lee Simpkins and Clarence Muse. Former Sigma Sweethearts were introduced. They were O. C. Jackson, 1957; Johnnie V. Thomas, 1958; Ruth McNeely, 1959, and Rosetta Holt, 1960.

Following the drawing for door prizes and the presentation of scholarship awards, Peppy Prince and his band provided guests attending with dance music.

Phi Beta Sigma chapter officers are as follows: Charles E. Martin, president; B. Lane Ashmore, vice-president; Dr. Thomas Anderson, secretary; John R. Hutcherson, treasurer; and H. A. Howard, chairman of the board. Upsilon chapter officers are: Columbus Curry, president; Foracker Smith, vice-president; Simon Loving, secretary; C. Henry Cooper, treasurer, and D. Spinger, dean of pledges. Officers of the Crescent Club are: Ted Tillman, president; Nathan Williams, vice-president; Charles Hill, treasurer; and Simeon Stewart, secretary.

Norma Martin and E. Daniels presented each young lady participating in the "Sweetheart Ball" with a gift. They are members of the Sigma Shadows, made up of wives of Sigma men.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Women In Five Chapter Meeting

Alpha Kappa Alpha women gathered at the home of Soror Bernice Arbor, 1909 S. Harvard blvd., recently for a five chapter meeting with a circus theme.

This bi-annual event began as the Tri-Chapter Party with members of Alpha Gamma, Sigma, and Alpha Gamma Omega participating. Alpha Kappa Alpha membership in this area has grown so that it is now a five chapter party, including the Pasadena Chapter and the newly organized chapter in San Bernardino.

The purpose of the fall party is for the members of the chapters to become better acquainted with each other. The spring meeting will be devoted to workshops so that the members can better understand the functions of Alpha Kappa Alpha.

Guests were greeted and presented souvenirs by the hostesses who were dressed in clown hats. Janice Stephens was the circus barker who led the guests in "ice-breaker" games. She then introduced Muriel Spaulding, chairman of the Chapter Relations Committee, who gave recognition to Alice Long, basileus of Alpha Gamma Omega, Lucille Bryant, Far Western Regional director, and a special greeting to the chapter members of Pasadena and San Bernardino.

For entertainment, the guests participated in several acts from the "Big Top," including seal acts, tightrope artists, Arabian dancers and others. Typical circus refreshments were served.

The members of the committee were commended for making the affair both entertaining and well organized. A special vote of thanks was given to Chere Talbert and Thelma Modisett for the decorations.

Sorority Schedules Assembly

Officers of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority will assemble here Dec. 9 in settings reminiscent of King Arthur's Round Table of old.

Representing Delta chapters within a 150-mile radius, officers will meet with Marie C. Barksdale, executive director, and Leola Williams, chairman of the National Finance Committee at YWCA Hospitality House of USC.

This round table is one of those being held by Delta on Dec. 2 and 9 in 34 cities from California to Connecticut.

Behind these discussions is a search for means of further coordinating and implementing Delta's public service program. Leadership training will be given major emphasis during these sessions.

Behind the discussions also is the quest for a quarter million dollars which Delta seeks to raise by the end of its Golden Anniversary celebration in 1963. The funds will be used to finance the Delta program.

Delta's 30,000 college-trained women are located in 270 chapters in 38 states, in Haiti and in Liberia.

Their program consists prominently of projects designed to improve mental health, to expand job opportunities, to increase library services in remote and deficient areas, to provide Delta volunteers for community services; to enhance international relations and to increase the child-guiding skills of parents and guidance counselors.

MILDRED McCOO — She primps in the mirror at her home in a gown she should have worn at her coming out party but illness prevented her from participating in the tenth annual Links, Inc., Cotillion. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wayman G. McCoo, Sr. (Adams)

25th ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffin are shown next to one of several silver money trees received when they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last Saturday night at 1841 Buckingham road. More than five hundred guests attended the elaborate affair. (Adams)

Angeleno chums of widowed Elsie Archer are trying to get her to visit L. A. for some brightening-up; she's quite broken up over Norman's sudden passing.

THE XMAS BIT

Happy of course is Doris Jones; her mate Carl jets in from Honolulu on the 20th to spend the holidays with his family. They're trying to decide on moving to Honolulu. Ladies of Paradise Planning Top Affair

Juanita Green's South Los Angeles home was the setting for the regular meeting of the Ladies of Paradise Club last Monday night.

Interest during the meeting ran high as club members are vying for top honors in the upcoming affair at which the group will give away an elaborate stereo set, tape recorder and other valuable door prizes.

The member who attracts the largest number of guests at the Dec. 17 cocktail affair in the new club hall at Marty's Lounge will be named queen of the Ladies of Paradise.

LUCKY SEVEN — It was the lucky number for seven-year-old Russell "Chip" Taylor when he celebrated his birthday in the home of his parents, 3940 Olmsted avenue. He is the youngest of two boys of Dr. Christopher and Mrs. Taylor. The delightful party was arranged by his mother and father with hot dogs, hamburgers and ice cream prevailing. Everyone attending was surprised with a gift from young Taylor. Among those pitcured are Eddie Carroll, Frank Brown, Jim Brockenbury, Ivan Houston, Rick Blocker, Walter Melton, Timothy Leong, Barry Tate, Eugene Wong and Jeffrey Yuen. Standing, back row, Corrine and Dr. Taylor and son, Dale Taylor. (Young)

Virginia Road Elementary School First PTA Meet Attracts Record 300 Crowd

Standing room only is generally unheard of at a PTA meeting but such was the case at Virginia Road Elementary School's First PTA meeting when a near-record crowd of over 300 persons heard and saw the faculty present a splendid symposium: "New Trends in the Little Red School House."

Emphasis on reading from kindergarten to sixth grade was discussed by the participants with the principal, Mrs. Edna W. Cohen, chairing the discussion.

The second meeting, "The Verdict is Yours," answering the question: "Will your child be a hero or a hoodlum?" featured Mr. Emerson Cabell, director of Los Padrinos Juvenile Hall, Los Angeles County Probation Department. The attendance again was quite good though not as large as at the first meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Meeks, first vice president, moderated the meeting in the absence of the president, Dr. Clarence G. Littlejohn, who was presenting two medical papers in San Francisco at the time.

Standing room only is again expected at the Dec. 12 meeting when the topic will be "Brighter Day" featuring the students of Virgina Road School in a "Christmas Reverie." Judging by the practice sessions conducted by the instructor of Music, Mrs. Frances Goodman, the audience is in for a delightful treat. Also featured will be the Bill of Rights, Citizenship and International Relations, Child Welfare, Motion Pictures and the Library Committees.

In anticipation of a large attendance additional seating will be available. It seems that Mrs. Thomas Meeks' "This is Channel PTA" theme may be a likely candidate for several Emmy Awards.

Members and friends are invited to the Dec. 12 program which will be in the school auditorium starting promptly at 1:30 p.m.

Tempelite Club Elects Officers

The Tempelite Club's regular meeting was held in the home of member Exie Terry, 8909 Crocker street, and the members reelected James R. Villareal for the fifth straight year as president.

Other officers reelected were: Ophelia Danfort, vice-president; Exie Terry, second vice president; Beulah Moore, recording secretary; Ivy Warner, financial secretary; Bertha Mae Hill, corresponding secretary; and Tammie Brown, business manager.

New officers elected were Eugenia Green, secretary at large; J. W. Corthers, treasurer; B. F. Spivey, sergant-at-arms; Mattie Beard, condolence secretary; Laura Villareal, club hostess; and John Lewis, parliamentarian.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

Oxnard High's Drill Team with Deloris Davis as leader can boast of winning the grand prize Friday at Huntington Beach.

Leroy and Callie Gibson gave their year-old son Leroy (Andy) a birthday party. The decorations and favors were made by Andy's mom and dad. Guests enjoying the party were: Terry, Deno, Raymond, Gilbert and Chris Roberts; Vernon, Debra, Billy, Lindy, and Janie Holly; J. J. Avali, Rodney and Anthony Jordon; Marcia, Wanda, Nancy Jerome, Yvonne and Cheryl Lynn; Al Moten Jr.; and Patsy Mosley. On hand to assist with the party were Andy's grandparents, Ruth and Leroy Gibson, also his aunt and uncle, the Wilson Mosely's of Hueneme.

The Clinton Tatums and Charles Whites have something in common. Their wedding anniversaries fall on the same date, so they celebrated it this year by double dating for dinner and dancing at the Coccanut Grove in Los Angeles.

Friends of Dr. E. I. Robinson were saddened to hear of his sudden death. To know the doctor was to love him. Among the many who attended his funeral were the Richard Abrams.

The Twentieth Century Onyx Club held its monthly social meeting at the home of Jerri Mantooth. The evening was spent playing cards and chit-chating about the pending Christmas dance. A delicious dessert luncheon was served by the hostess.

Jeanie Walls was dinner guest in my home Sunday as was Waymon and Marvin Williams, nephews, their wives and sons, all of Los Angeles.

Libby Clark Associates To Host Party

Libby Clark Associates, public relations firm servicing Coca Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles in the minority market, and the company will be host to press representatives community leaders at a party scheduled for Friday evening in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. 7 to 10 p.m.

The event will serve as an occasion to thank the press for its continued support and cooperation and to introduce "The Africa I Saw," a colorful pictorial which Miss Clark has compiled on Nigeria and other West African countries she visited as part of a 100-man press corps covering the Independence of Nigeria in 1960.

Fans of Gaiety Plan Xmas Party

In the regular meeting of the Fans of Gaiety Club held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Coleman last week plans were outlined for the group's annual Xmas party.

The meeting was dampened somewhat when they learned that member Minerva Shepherd, who has been hospitalized, is now home, but her condition is still listed as serious.

Following the meeting the hostesses served a delicious Spanish dinner. Members learned through the California Eagle that the Fans of Gaiety and member Fannie Vaughn will receive a letter from the Exceptional Children's Home for the wonderful work the group has done in its behalf.

Mrs. Vaughn, a Beverly Hills caterer, has personally accounted for a number of food gifts to the home.

New L.A. Chapter of Wigs Is Officially Installed

Mrs. Pauline Yarbrough, well known business and club woman, officially installed the Los Angeles Chapter of WIGS, Inc., (Women in Government Service) last Saturday at a dinner meeting held at the Oyster House.

Before the dinner, members and guests listened to a brief program which included words of welcome by Hope Thompson, and a review of the history of the club by Ann Ross.

Thelma Adams introduced the speaker, Mrs. Pauline Yarbrough, real estate broker and president of the Negro Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Yarbrough gave a challenging address as she installed the following officers:

Dorothye H. Boswell, president; Marguerite Lee, vice president; Felicia Patterson, recording secretary; Ida Laffoon, corresponding secretary; Lena Flint, financial secretary; Miriam Parks, treasurer.

Barbara Lewis stood as proxy for Loretha Woolfolk, sergant-at-arms and chaplain, who was out of the city.

Other members who were included in the installation were Thelma Adams, Yvonne Anderson, Hope Thompson, and Ann Ross.

One of the highlights of the evening occurred when Mrs. Yarbrough presented the president the Certificate of Affiliation from the national headquarters. Congratulatory telegrams were read from the Cleveland WIGS and the Los Angeles Club of the National Association of Negro Business Professional Women.

WIGS, Inc., a national organization with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, is comprised of women employed in Federal, State, County and City governments. It is a non-profit social and civic organization with chapters in many cities on the East Coast. The Los Angeles Chapter is the first on the West Coast and was organized in November, 1960, by Dorothye H. Boswell, a former Clevelander. The local group has adopted the Sickle Cell Foundation as its major charity.

Avalon Center To Form Boys And Girls Choir

Opal Jones, executive director of the Avalon Community Center, announced this week the formation of a youth choir, under the direction of Henry Wells.

Mr. Wells, one of the top musicians with the famed Andy Kirk band of the early 30's and late 40's, is an outstanding musician, having taught music, trained and coached singers as well as writing and arranging music for orchestration.

The Center, having acquired Mr. Wells as its musical director, is certain of outstanding successes in the field of music. Parents of junior and senior high school boys and girls should take advantage of the opportunity of having their children trained for choir singing under one of the nation's most outstanding directors.

To do so, contact the Avalon Center between the hours of 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m., or call AD 2-4600. Church groups interested in developing their singing groups are welcome.

IMPROMPTU PLAYROOM PARTY — Tommy Tucker, owner of the popular Playroom on Washington, arranged this get-together when four of the city's top bail bondsmen strolled into his place. The occasion was to introduce Clyde Turner, standing left, visiting from Detroit and a member of Detroit's crack detective division. He was being shown the city by Joel Powell, South L.A. bail bondsman. Pictured seated from left: Steve Cato, of Cleveland; Jeri Dunn, bail bondsman; Jackie Duncan, and Anita Masterson. PRELUDE TO HOLIDAYS

We have had a few cold and rough days here, but today it's warm, muggy and cloudy, and may stay that way for awhile. We shall see. Made it through the cold night to celebrate the birthday of Cynthia Taylor, at her house, with a nice group of friends and relatives, and enjoyed the tasty food prepared by her lovely mother. Missed the cake-cutting, but I shall return.

Last Sunday was such a gorgeous day I took a drive out to Hempstead, LI to see Mary Countee, but she was out, so it ended as just a nice drive. Had planned to surprise her by bringing two friends with me, but we were the surprised ones. Better luck next time. We went after church, so all was well.

Went to the Apollo to see the Duke Ellington Revue, and it was just fantastic. Duke and the orchestra, with veterans like, Johnny Hodges, Cat Anderson, Lawrence Brown, Paul Gonsalves, Russel Procop, etc., played many goodies from his old scores, plus newer renditions from his TV writing, like "Asphalt Jungle", and his music from "Paris Blues."

Duke then backed the sterling

'Cymbeline' Colorful Fare

By ROBERT FARRELL

"Cymbeline", the drama of a Druid king during the time of the Caesars, is currently running Saturdays at the Ethical Shakespearean Theatre, 873, S. Park View.

The story has three themes, each in a scene to itself. Love, justice, and peace are the three settings for the court intrigue, separated lovers, war, long-lost sons going home, and things that generally work out well for the good guys.

The sets, the live music by the Pro Musica Consort, the costumes and the choreography were as interesting as the reliving of the Bard's story. In particular, the battle scenes were well done, considering the space available. Its arrangement, as well as that of the procession of the captured was attention-holding.

The temple of Jupiter was interesting, and the effects plus Lloyd Haines' personality gave the god-sequence a striking phase of color.

If there were any one word to describe the play, it would be colorful.

The Hollywood Shakespeare Festival Repertory Company is of particular note to our readers because they are the first L. A. company ot follow the Actors' Equity Assn. directive to cast plays on the basis of performer merit. There has been a tendency in the theater to cast Negroes only in walk-on parts or minor roles. These people were handicapped because of race, whether they had or did not have skill was another matter.

In this company, Lloyd Haines and Robert Ennis were cast because they could play the roles. Haines was Pisanio and Jupiter. Ennis was the Roman soothsayer Philharmona. When I say they added color to the production, I think you must see the performance to get what I cannot describe. They were part of the color and activity that took place before me.

the club owner phoned his manager JESS RAND to tell SAM not to leave. The club had burned down the night before . . . Here's an exclusive. PAUL COATES will interview LOUISE BEAVERS at a very soon time discussing the plight of the Negro actor and why he isn't portrayed realistically as just a part of the American scene instead of just a guy who brings in the tray with the cocktails or some other subservient role. Louise, a real trooper says she will tell them where to get off and where to get started . . . The NITE-LIFE was one year old last night and GERTRUDE and ELLEDGE PENDLAND had a slight celebration along with the bartenders, waitresses and entertainers.

Some of the Italians even cornered JON asking what part of the Congo he was from. He, a student of the Berlitz School of Languages, explained that he was an American Negro and real sorry about the Congo incident. He escaped without harm.

In a lighter vein, JON says that Rome is on a Rock n' Roll kick, and that most of the singers are trying to imitate ELVIS, but in trying to imitate PRESLEY, they're passing him up, especially in the hip wiggling department . . . and that means they've got the "TWIST" going for 'em too, and just like you!

We gave CHUCK CONNORS a friendly hug last week when he stated he would like to do our column cause we were exhausted from catching plays with invitations from BILL "You're So Right" WATTERS who nabbed us for "Sweet Bird of Youth" at the Civic, "The Fantastics" at the Ivar and the femme-mimics at the "JEWEL BOX REVUE."

Sweet Bird was good but Tennessee shouldn't have changed that second act. The Fantastics was like great. You have got to see it. And the JEWEL BOX deal is too much if you don't get squeamish at an all boy cast doing the part of ladies, looking like ladies, sometimes even more so, and bringing it off in good taste. It was Wild, Child! . . . We can only tell you more next trip. We're beat for space and we're not Chuck Conners, ya know. Except that the Writer's Guild of America has said that NEGRO actors must be portrayed in their own light. Realistically that is, whether an income tax reviewer or a murderer.

entertainment for a capacity house.

This week it's The Gospel Highway featuring the Staple Singers and Swan Silvertones.

At Chase Manhattan Bank Tax Department, there was the return of Henry C. Johnson, Assistant Treasurer, after a siege following a heart attack, and the unfortunate demise of my co-worker and friend, Tom bowled for the office team for the second time, this outing a bit better by averaging 141, and helping us to beat the No. 1 bank league team one out of three games. Next week should be seven better.

This play is being presented at the Adam Clayton Powell Community Center on the 7th and 9th of Dec., by the Theatre Guild of the Community Center, chaired by Estelle Noble (who is a 10 year gal in the International Dept.

Negroes at a bus station. The Negroes, three men and two women, arrived at the station and attempted to get service at a lunch counter. Let us suppose the five had been Charger players and their wives, could they expect help from the Chargers Football Club? Our guess is that Hilton would have told them they should have been traveling with the team or should have taken a plane.

What it all sums up to me is that the players put segregation above good sportsmanship and self respect. What lies in the future when their playing days are over and the championship trophy become tarnish in the Bel Air home of Hilton, will he remember the nine when they seek employment in his many business enterprises or will he say I have fulfilled my contract. You played, I paid. Unfortunately Negroes have continued to put jobs and money above integrity, there isn't a single excuse worth listening to as to why the nine trampled down their self respect for a lousy football game, when they crossed the citizens of Houston picket line!

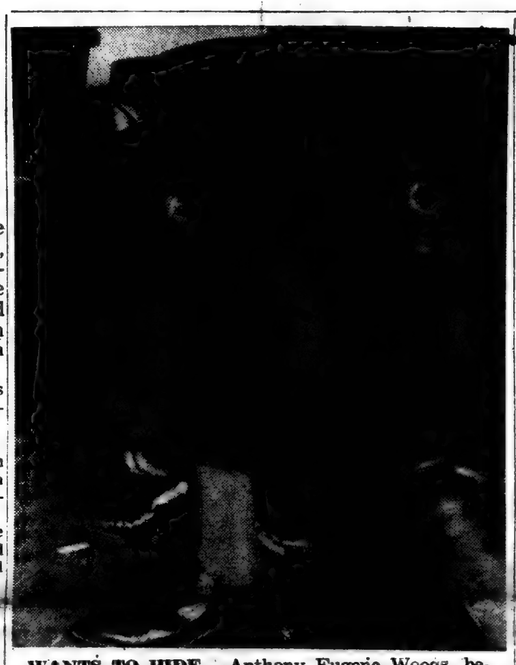
MILLION DOLLAR RACKET CHARGED — Dr. T. R. M. Howard, former president of the National Medical Association, this week termed charges that he was involved in a million dollar fake insurance racket in Chicago "ridiculous."

500 Ga. Youth Marchers At 'Freedom' Trial Jailed

Newsmen are Barred from Court Hearing

ALBANY, Ga. — Some 400 to 500 Negro youths, high school and college students, were arrested here Tuesday as they marched around the courthouse in solidarity with 11 Freedom Riders who went on trial.



A crowd of about 1000 whites watched as the arrests were being made.

TENSION

This southern Georgia town of 47,000 was in a state of high tension even before the demonstration started.

Apparently fearing possible trouble, authorities had closed the courtroom where the trial

WANTS TO HIDE — Anthony Eugene Woods, believed by authorities to be responsible for flying planeloads of marijuana into Los Angeles from Mexico, hid his face from photographers when he was arraigned in Division 40 Monday. (Adams)

Dope Dragnet Nets Millions In Marijuana

Smuggling and the wholesaling of marijuana in the modern manner was disclosed this weekend with the arrest of some 121 persons involved in an estimated three million dollar operation, with the bulk of the narcotics reportedly being flown in here from Mexico by private plane.

Believed to be the kingpin in the air-transport is Anthony Eugene Woods, 32, of 2710 Claude avenue, Compton, the father of an admitted 16 children, who allegedly made periodic trips south of the border in a surplus Army plane, bringing back marijuana bricks by the planeload.

DENIES HE'S PILOT

Woods, who was arraigned Monday afternoon, denies that he is the pilot of the supply plane, but did admit, authorities said, selling marijuana to an undercover agent for $200, which was found in his possession in marked bills. Authorities claimed he has been operating for the past two years.

Among the top wholesalers investigators listed David Boseman, 32, a barber, of 1655 W. 24th street, and his brother, William Boseman, 35, a mechanic, of 1029 W. 150th street, Compton.

C. M. Coster, state narcotics field supervisor, said that David Boseman was arrested after he had made three separate sales, two involving 10-pound bricks of marijuana and one involving a 5-pound brick to state agents. In the final sale, the

Dr. Howard Denies Charges of $1 Million Fake Insurance Ring

Dr. Theodore R. M. Howard, former president of the National Medical Association, pleaded not guilty last week when he was arraigned in Chicago on conspiracy charges involving an alleged $1 million fake insurance accident ring.

Dr. Howard, who played a prominent part in uncovering the sordid circumstances surrounding the 1955 lynching of 14-year-old Emmett Till in Money, Miss., was named in five of nine indictments filed against 44 defendants by the state attorney's office.

TRIALS SET

He faced a hearing Dec. 13, and trials on various of the charges on Jan. 22, Feb. 5 and March 5. He is free on $2000 bond.

In commenting on the indictments held secret until the arrests were completed, Dr. Howard branded the charges as "ridiculous."

He said he has never knowingly treated any patient who was involved in a fake accident.

"If any person thinks that at my age (53) I would lend myself to a ring of people involved in anything such as this, he's out of his mind," Dr. Howard declared.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

Included among those accused in the alleged conspiracy to defraud insurance companies were another doctor, Chauncey L. Morton, a lawyer, two suspended policemen, a liquor re-

Satchmo's Agent Says: No Contract

Satchmo's agent in Los Angeles said Tuesday that reports that Louis Armstrong broke his contract with the New Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas simply are not so.

The hotel, claiming breach of contract, and showman Harold Minsky, claiming his reputation has been damaged, filed suits against Armstrong Monday in Las Vegas asking for total damages of $11,500,000.

NEVER SIGNED

In an interview with the Eagle, Bob Phillips of the Associated Booking Corporation, Satchmo's agents, said, "There never was a completed contract between the operator and Mr. Armstrong."

He said Armstrong has signed nothing. The contract was signed by the operator (representing the hotel), he went on, and sent to ABC's New York offices, but that's as far as it got.

Knowing Armstrong's views on such matters, Phillips said ABC didn't press the matter.

A LOT OF MONEY

Showman Harold Minsky is seeking $4 million general damages and $1 million punitive damages for what he termed damage to his reputation.

The hotel seeks $1.5 million for loss of revenue because of the contract repudiation, $4 million general damages and $1

High Court Kills Sit-In Convictions

The Supreme Court's unanimous decision Monday on sit-ins in Baton Rouge, La., may well sound the death knell for the South's cynical use of breach of the peace and similar charges to arrest, jail and fine Negroes who exercise the rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States.

The Louisiana law under which 16 demonstrators were arrested was declared a violation of the due process clause of the 14th Amendment by Chief Justice Earl Warren in giving the majority decision.

NO EVIDENCE

A law practically identical to the one on the Louisiana statute books also exists in Mississippi and was the basis for the arrest of some 300 Freedom Riders in Jackson.

The court brushed aside the cases of the 16 Southern University students whose crime was that they had sought service at public lunch counters. They had been found guilty of action that "unreasonably disturbs or alarms the public," sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100.

Warren's opinion said "the undisputed evidence" showed

Luthuli Tells Evils of Africa In Nobel Talk

Albert John Luthuli, South African Zulu chief who was picked by the Nobel Peace Committee as the recipient of its 1960 award, had his day in court Monday when he gave the traditional Nobel lecture in Oslo—and he made the most of it.

Snatched from confinement in his native village for a brief 10 days, he lashed out at the government that makes the concept of "the brotherhood of man . . . an illegal doctrine, outlawed, banned, censured, proscribed and prohibited."

FROM DARK PAST

The social system that obtains in South Africa, he said, its politics, its economics and its laws are "a hangover from the dark past of mankind."

Luthuli chose as the title of his talk "Africa and Freedom."

Crowd Hails Tanganyika Independence

Tanganyika is independent. Seventy-five years of foreign rule by Germany and Great Britain ended Saturday when Prime Minister Julius Nyerere and his government took over the reins of Africa's 29th independent nation.

Massed bands played, a crowd of 75,000 cheered, and Prince Philip, husband of Britain's Queen and her representative, stood at attention alongside the leaders of the new nation as the Union Jack was ceremoniously lowered in the capital of Dar es Salaam. Then the new green-white-black flag of Tanganyika was raised, both in the city and atop Mt. Kilimanjaro.

HEADS NATION

Nyerere will head a nation of over nine million population and 362,688 square miles.

The 39-year-old prime minister has declared a policy of

Lucky Lager Pickets Will Hit Stores

"The Lucky Lager boycott is increasing in scope. We are meeting less opposition from retail liquor store owners, and bar owners are continuing their support," said Edgar Charles, of the California Businessmen's Association Tuesday.

"A protest line will be put in front of one or more of the retailers who have not gone along with the program this Friday and Saturday," Charles said.

The NAACP in an open letter Dec. 11 lent its full support to the campaign.

Rejecting as totally inadequate the Brewers' assertion that they endorse the idea of merit employment, the NAACP said:

"The Los Angeles Branch NAACP calls upon all the member companies and agencies of the California Brewers Association to practice what they preach and begin now an aggressive recruitment program of qualified Negro employees in every job category such as clerical workers, truck drivers, telephone operators, brewers, technicians, sales and service representatives, public relations,

Republicans Bar Negro at $100 Dinner

JACKSON, Miss.—A tried and true Republican, who happened to be a Negro, received an invitation to attend the $100-a-plate dinner given here in Jackson, Miss., last Thursday for GOP national chairman William E. Miller.

But when James Edwards turned up for the banquet he was denied admittance.

State GOP chairman Wirt Yerger Jr. said there must have been some mistake.

Edwards, who had been a Republican leader until a segregationist group gained control, said he was disappointed at being refused admission and that he's not sure now that he'll continue to vote Republican.

Fire Board to Give New Orders Thurs.

A three-point program designed to eliminate all forms of segregation in the Fire Department is to be presented to the Fire Commission Thursday, the Eagle learned on good authority this week.

Commissioners Henri O'Bryant and Herbert Glaser, constituted as a Personnel Committee, have been probing conditions and possible solutions for some weeks and are expected to make the report of their findings at Thursday's meeting.

PROPOSALS

Proposals which are belived to be included in those findings are as follows:

1. Fire Chief William L. Miller will be asked to issue orders in writing to all members of the department emphasizing that department policy prohibits discrimination in hiring, upgrading or assignment of men.

2. All assignments to duty and to facilities will be based henceforth on department seniority instead of engine house seniority, as is the present custom.

3. All company messes will be closed as of Jan. 1, with the understanding that when the captain in charge considers that the men are prepared for the move, he will invite all members of the company to join the mess.

EDUCATION

In order to bring about a situation where the white firefighters will be ready to sit down with the Negroes, an intensive educational program will be introduced.

The program will provide for the use of human relations manuals, group meetings and assistance from educators and psychologists.

In some fire stations, integrated messes and coffee pots have already been established. Presumably there would be no occasion to shut down the mess in such situations.

BIAS CONTINUES

Atty. Arnette Hartsfield, who has been fighting for the rights of Negro firemen, told the Eagle that even though a segregated set-up is no longer official policy in the department,

Redskins Hire Their First Negro

Washington's Redskins, bitter end holdout of the National Football League, finally yielded to nation-wide pressure this week and signed their first Negro player.

Ron Hatcher, 215-pound fullback from Michigan State, was the man chosen to break the team's color bar.

Hatcher was the Redskins' eighth draft choice and dopesters claim that his selection paves the way for the Redskins to sign their No. 1 draft choice, the pick of them all, All-American Ernie Davis from Syracuse.

A few days after a picket line was thrown around the Rams-Redskin game here last fall, the Redskins announced they were preparing to hire their first Negro player.

3500 Sign Recall Petition In 10th District

A standing ovation from an audience of over 500 persons climaxed a rousing speech made by the Rev. L. Sylvester Odom, pastor of Ward AME, in behalf of the 10th District Recall Movement at Mt. Sinai Baptist Church last Sunday, as the campaign reached the halfway mark in the collecting of signatures.

"Approximately 3500 signatures have now been obtained out of a total of some 7000 needed to force an election for the recall of Joe E. Hollingsworth, appointed to fill the 10th District vacancy over the protests of the Negro community, according to Frank Terry, executive secretary of the Recall Committee.

The meeting was sponsored by the Rev. H. B. Charles, pastor of Mt. Sinai, and the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of Second Baptist Church, in an endeavor to rally church members behind the recall campaign.

Rev. H. H. Brookins, pastor of First AME and chairman of the Recall Committee, presided. He conducted a fund-raising appeal that brought in more than $450 in cash and checks.

Churches that turned in their second contributions were Second Baptist, Mt. Sinai, Morning Star, Ward and Messiah Baptist.

Among those expressing support for the recall were the Rev. Kring Allen, McCarty Memorial Christian Church; and Atty. Welford Wilson, who represented the People's United Church of Christ.

Reuther Backs A.P. Randolph In Bias Battle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers and head of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, who has been feuding with Pres. George Meany over jurisdictional disputes, took another poke at his adversary Monday on civil rights.

Reuther called for a strong civil rights program and took issue with fellow members of the executive council for censuring A. Philip Randolph, president of the Sleeping Car Porters, two months ago.

Randolph had pointed out the bias that exists in some unions within the AFL-CIO and had urged that they be brought up on the carpet and forced to obey the organization's no-discrimination policy.

Meany and the council rejected Randolph's complaints as unfounded and in turn launched an attack against him. Randolph is trying to get the censure against him lifted, so far without success.

The Rev. Martin Luther King who also appeared before the convention, spoke bluntly in defense of Randolph. He called for "thoughtful examination" of the weaknesses in the labor movement Randolph revealed.

SECOND DONATION — Making its second donation to the 10th District Recall Movement Sunday night was the Second Baptist Church. The Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor, is handing the check to the Rev. H. H. Brookins, chairman of the Recall Committee. (Williams).

Doris Berryman to Be Honored by Group

Mrs. Doris Berryman, president of the Parents Group to Save Child Care Centers, is one of five leaders who will be honored at a Democratic Community Organization's awards dinner Saturday, Dec. 16. It will be held at the L.A. Furniture Mart, corner of Washington and Broadway.

Joe Adams will emcee the affair, whose theme is "Salute to Young Leadership." For ticket information call AD 4-4419.

Kappas' 'Gal' to Ride On L.A. Rose Float

In a surprise and heartening move, the City of Los Angeles will be represented in the New Year Tournament of Roses by a float presided over by six attractive young women of varying racial and national backgrounds.

The city has selected for its float a representation of its new jet age terminal, to tell the "Around the World by Air" story, in keeping with the parade's theme, "Around the World in Flowers."

AFRICAN PRINCESS

Chosen to represent Africa on the float is Pearl Lugenia Robinson, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Robinson, of Compton, Miss Bronze California in 1960 and 1961 Sweetheart of Kappa Alpha Psi.

In her appearance on the float she will wear the robe of a Watussi princess from the trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

Sharing honors with her will be: Diane Kubota, queen of Los Angeles' annual Nisei Week celebration, representing the Orient; Margie Cicerelle, queen of the Los Angeles All City Employees Association, the United States; Hjordis "Tulla" Semna, elected Lucia queen by the Swedish community in the sixth annual contest sponsored by the Swedish Hollywood Club, Europe; Dr. Satwant Chopra, president of the India Club at UCLA, India; and Sally Garcia, selected as Miss Latin America at Los Angeles' Latin American Consular Ball, Latin America.

A jet transport will form the front of the float, which was designed by Paul R. Williams, president of the Municipal Art Commission.

Miss Robinson is a student at UCLA where she is majoring in psychology. She was a Links' Cotillionette in 1959 and Sweetheart of the Tomahawks while at Centennial High School.

Security Title Names Two as Title Officers

The Security Title Insurance Co., 3444 Wilshire blvd., broke with tradition this week and appointed two Negro executives to positions as title officers to serve in a new title unit serving financial institutions, independent escrow companies and builders.

It was believed here that these appointments mark the first time that any title insurance company in the United States has advanced Negroes to comparable posts.

WELL QUALIFIED

Ernest J. Billman, executive vice president and manager of Los Angeles operations of the firm, announced the appointment of George B. Parks and Louis P. Andrews as heads of the new title unit.

In making the announcement, Billman said that both men bring to their new positions a wealth of experience in the fields of law, real estate and title insurance, and a valuable understanding of the needs of their customers.

Billman also announced the appointment of Mrs. Andrea J. Jeter as secretary to Parks and Andrews. Educated at Fremont and Dorsey High Schools, Woodbury College and Los Angeles Junior College of Business, Mrs. Jeter was formerly associated with Safety Savings and Loan Association.

LIAISON OFFICER

Outside liaison officer between the new title unit and the customers will be Phil Rhoten; business development representative, who has been associated with Security Title for the past year and a half.

Parks, a graduate of Howard University who took his Master of Law degree at National University, has a number of "firsts" to his credit. He was the first Negro graduate student at National, the first Negro on the staff of Washington's Legal Aid Association, the first and only Negro to be given the Achievement Award of Washington's Law Enforcement Council, and the first Negro on the Board of Directors of the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation. He has recently been associated with Liberty Savings & Loan Ass'n here.

Andrews is a graduate of City College and is working towards his B.S. degree at L.A. State. He has been associated with the Security Title Insurance Co. for over three years. He served in Korea as a Marine sergeant.

Miss Simmons will have responsibility in this area for the development, coordination and implementation of the NAACP program. This includes organization of branches, direction of membership drives, conducting of investigations and stimulating social action programs.

Prior to her present assignment, Miss Simmons worked as special field representative for the NAACP's West Coast Region from the San Francisco office.

Miss Simmons is the former executive secretary of the Texas State Conference of Branches of the NAACP.

King Predicts South Will Elect Negroes

By ROBERT FARRELL

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. predicted during his weekend in Los Angeles that there will be 10 Negro Congressmen from the South in Washington within the next 10 years, if the current registration drive of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference is successful.

He also commented that the South can surpass the North in its handling of race relations, unless the northern communities are vigilant.

STILL FAR TO GO

Rev. King was in the Los Angeles area under the auspices of the Calvary Baptist Church and the Santa Monica Business and Professional Men's Club.

In his talk Friday night at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, his speech embodied a plea for financial aid, a discussion of civil rights progress ("We have come a long way") and a long look at the distance to go before an integrated society is a reality ("We have a long way to go.")

He mentioned how far we have come in the area of economic justice, from "a thing to be used . . . a cog in the plantation machine." Yet his statistics on American families (example—"88 per cent of Negro families earn less than $5000 per year compared to 58 per cent of the whites") showed how far we have to go.

NO EASY ROAD

"At the turn of the century, there were few registered Negro voters in the South. Now there are 1,400,000. The poll tax has been eliminated in all but three states." But he said, "There are five million eligible voters. Harassment . . . economic reprisals . . . physical harm . . . have kept Negroes from registering and voting."

He continued to contrast how far we have come with the distance we must go. "In 1954, segregation was declared inherently unequal. We in the South see it in its glaring form. You in Los Angeles see it in its hidden, subtle forms."

While noting the need for Federal leadership, he said "we must assume the primary responsibility for making freedom a reality. Integration is no lavish dish the white man is going to pass out . . ."

King, the philosopher, discussed the idealistic implications of non-violent direct action, while King, the Baptist minister, brought the same things down so all of the 2000 person audience could understand the happenings. He closed his speech with the famous declaration of intent of the Freedom Riders, "We Shall Overcome."

In his press conference that preceeded the meeting, Rev. King commented on the Federal government's role in race relations.

POLITICAL REALIST

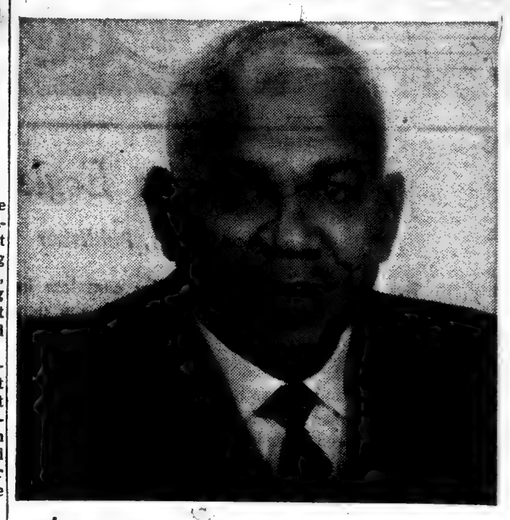
Rev. King said the government is on the job to protect the rights of Negroes while stating that more could be done. He emphasized that new civil rights legislation was necessary where violations of rights are involved, but was not optimistic of its passage by Congress unless the "strength and power" of JFK is behind it.

He said Kennedy was a "political realist" concerned with what he could get through, but King thought he was "friendly" to the movement because of his "broad depth of understanding of the problem."

Rev. King commented on right-wingers as a factor in "bigotry, a revolt against Negroes, labor, and liberals in general."

He further commented on Negro leadership, not in the Negro community as one might expect, but in American society as a whole. "The Negro has a vision the nation needs at this time because of his struggles, and it will do itself a great disservice by overlooking this potential."

Teamsters Hit United Parcel Hiring Policy



The Teamsters Rank and File Committee, immediately following its successful protest against discriminatory hiring by the Greyhound Bus Co., launched a new campaign along similar lines, this one aimed at the personnel policies of United Parcel Service.

This week, committee members were again passing out leaflets in front of department stores in the Crenshaw shopping center and in downtown Los Angeles which use United Parcel Service to deliver their merchandise to customers. The campaign started last week.

Some 3000 leaflets were distributed outside Broadway and May Co. stores.

A complaint, charging United Parcel with discrimination, has been filed with the State FEP Commission by Irwin Jones, member of the Teamsters Committee, the Eagle was informed. Jones reports that he applied for a job with United Parcel last year but has not yet been called to report.

The committee is urging customers of the large department stores to avoid having their purchases delivered by United Parcel.

HAT IN RING—Atty. Everette M. Porter, church and civic leader, member of the L.A. Police Commission, former member of the Adult Authority, threw his hat in the ring Monday as a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Congress from the 21st District. More than 1500 residents reportedly have signed petitions urging him to run.

The Board of Directors of the American Association of University Women, has notified President Manley that Spelman College has been placed on the list of institutions approved for membership eligibility in AAUW. Spelman College graduates, including those who graduated prior to AAUW approval, are now eligible for membership in the Association.

Pasadena MD Gets Probation and Fine

In a week long trial last October, Dr. Jeremiah W. Moore, 60, a prominent Pasadena physician, was found guilty of performing criminal abortions on three women.

He was sentenced Friday in Judge John G. Barnes' court in Pasadena to three years' probation and an $800 fine.

Dr. Moore had pleaded not guilty. His attorney, Crispus A. Wright, has filed a notice of appeal.

During the trial, Dr. Moore admitted that he had treated the women and gave detailed accounts of his examinations and diagnoses and how he handled the cases, but he denied any illegal practice.

The jury of 11 women and one man nonetheless found him guilty.

The principal witness against Dr. Moore was Doris Trent, who was acting as an undercover agent. She told the court that on Nov. 22, 1960, Dr. Moore agreed to perform an illegal operation upon her and accepted $250 in marked money as an advance.

The money, according to witnesses, was found by officers in Dr. Moore's possession.

South Way of Life Passing, Says Hastie

U.S. Judge William H. Hastie said "Present patterns of segregation in the South will be gone by the end of the century. Change is proceeding at a great rate in public institutions — schools, parks, and libraries. And once changes start, they tend to continue at an increasing rate."

Judge Hastie, the first Negro appointed to the Circuit Court of Appeals and former Governor of the Virgin Islands, met the press at the Ambassador Hotel Friday afternoon. He was in the Southland to kick off the ACLU "Bill of Rights Week" celebration.

When asked if he thought the recent appointment of Thurgood Marshall to a Circuit judgeship was a breakthrough for Negroes, he said the recent appointment of Negroes to District posts at the trial level was more of a breakthrough. He noted how things were changing in society and said "you might live to see a Negro associate judge on the Supreme Court."

The Judge was asked what he thought of Loren Miller as a possible Congressional candidate. He said "Loren Miller is one of my very good friends." Mr. Miller, publisher of the Eagle, is being urged to run for Congress in the 21st district.

He sad that members of present day society are losing their freedoms. "More security today means that we are apt to be less free — freedom being the preference of a person to go his own way without substantial interference from the government. People today are putting security before freedom."

Hastie continued saying, "The American founding fathers were not so concerned with security. Freedom was foremost. They had an optimism and confidence in their abilities. In the nature of any society, when the demands of security are dominant, some freedom is lost."

4 Escape in Fire Which Kills Baby

An untended heater is credited with taking the life of an infant, and severely burning four children when the mother left her home about 6 a.m. last Thursday.

The mother, Mrs. Beverly Henson, of 335 E. 37th street, took her husband to work at 43rd street and McKinley avenue.

When she returned 15 minutes later Mrs. Henson found the house in flames. She ran into the house next door and called firemen who when they arrived, broke into the back of the house. Inside they found Calvin, Dennis, Leroy and Constance on beds in the back bedroom.

In the front bedroom they six-week-old Omar Cross dead in his crib. He was badly burned about the head.

The other four children were taken to the hospital where they were said to be in good condition.

Mrs. Henson told police that she took her husband to work because she needed the car to take two of the children to the hospital for treatment later in the day.

Marriage Break Ends In Homicide

Amos Delane, 51, a lampmaker, was shot to death last Thursday in the aftermath of his separation the previous day from his wife Dorothy.

On Wednesday Mrs. Delane left her husband and went to stay with her brother, Raymond Wills, 138 W. 109th street.

On Thursday she returned to her home to pick up some of her possessions. Later Delane went to the Wills' home to retrieve a tape recorder Wills had borrowed.

When he arrived, neither Wills nor Mrs. Delane were at home. Delane reportedly brushed past Wills' two sons, Ronald and Sterling, and took the recorder.

When Wills returned and learned what happened, he telephoned Delane. Angry words followed and, according to the police report, Delane said he was coming over to whip his brother-in-law.

Wills loaded his gun and turned on the porch light. When Delane and his brother arrived Wills called police and advised that some men were breaking into his house.

He told police later that when Wills knocked on the door, he had his left hand inside his jacket.

Wills reportedly fired five or six shots at Delane through the door. Delane staggered and fell from the porch. He was dead when police arrived.

Two Good Jobs Well Done

Greyhound Bus Company and Hollywood producers put their feet on the right track last week when they revamped their policies regarding Negroes. The bus company will now accept applications from Negroes who want to drive buses.

The Hollywood producers say they will discard stereotypes in the portrayal of Negroes and will show the Negro as more of a man and less of a backstop for comedy relief. We hope that TV producers will take a few strides along the same road.

A person unacquainted with American life and who knew nothing of what happens in the United States except what he sees in the movies or on the T.V. screen would come to the conclusion that Negroes play little, or no, part in the life of the nation.

The show, Dragnet, played on the T.V. screens for years and its locale was the Los Angeles police department. Whatever other sins it may have to bear, the fact is that the Los Angeles department does employ Negro police officers and white collar personnel. It was remarkable that no Negro ever played a part on the show and those who didn't know would have assumed the department was lily white.

There are other examples, both in the movies and on T.V., where the appearance of a Negro would impart some realism to the production, but where a Negro never appears because of unwritten rules. We trust that the new policy means a change in this aspect of show business.

The bus lines have clung to a "whites only" policy as regards drivers for far too long. Negroes have been in the transportation industry for years. There is no reason for their exclusion from the driver jobs.

The Teamster Union members who spearheaded the fight against the bus line policies and the local branch of the NAACP who labored with the Hollywood producers deserve our thanks for two good jobs well done.

Have You Signed Recall?

Petition circulators are hard at work on the grind of getting enough names to guarantee a recall election in the 10th District. The purpose is to give the voters of that district a chance to say whether or not they want Joe Hollingsworth to represent them in City Council.

Mr. Hollingsworth sits in the Council because he was chosen for the job by eight other councilmen who disregarded the wishes of the majority of the voters in the district and handed him the job on a silver platter.

The ultimate plan is to remove the 10th District from the center of the city and place it in San Fernando Valley. Rumor has it that Mr. Hollingsworth will move out to the Valley with his district. That's the reason for the tenacity with which he is holding on to the job and for the support that he is getting from outside the district.

In order to put the recall on the ballot the petition circulators must secure almost seven thousand signatures from registered voters. That's no easy task.

There is no adequate reason why a recall shouldn't be held. The argument runs that such an election would cost the city some money. Of course it would. It costs money to support the democratic way of life but we don't think that the price is too high.

Mr. Hollingsworth claims he wants to represent all of the people. If he does we think he should be the first man to sign the recall so that he can find out whether or not he's wanted.

If he is so sure he is doing a good job he should be glad to put his case before the people.

Register So You Can Vote

As we pointed out last week, registration in the heavily populated Negro communities of Los Angeles is at a pretty low ebb. Proportionately fewer Negroes have bothered to put their names on the voters' rolls than other residents of the city.

The pity of the whole matter is that there isn't a single impediment to the exercise of the franchise in the state of California.

A Negro is just as free to sign up and vote as any other Californian. And nobody needs the benefits that the vote brings more than Negroes. Despite the spectacular gains of recent years there is plenty of discrimination left in our state.

Some of that discrimination would yield before legislation and the exercise of executive power by California office holders. Laws are passed in response to public demand and a man who won't take the trouble to register and vote can't demand very much.

These who hold public office are sensitive to what their constituents want and if Negro voters want their rights they have to be in a position to urge their public officials to comply with their wishes. Those public officials can hear voters but, being human, they turn a deaf ear to those who don't vote.

Voter registration is now open. All that is required is to find a registrar, and sign your name. There's no literacy test to pass and no poll tax to pay.

We assume that most Eagle readers are voters. But that isn't quite enough. If you're registered you can talk to your friends and your neighbors and urge them to follow your example.

Time to Stroke That Pen

The part played by residential segregation in limiting the Negro's opportunity is well illustrated by our story last week of the Anaheim man who moved to that city in order to be near his place of employment.

He spent hours of time and tons of effort trying to find an apartment. He finally succeeded when a conscientious church member rented him a dwelling because of the man's religious convictions.

Other Negroes similarly situated have given up their quest for housing and have returned to the central city because they couldn't afford to drive long distances to their jobs.

The problem will become even more acute as employers move to suburban and satellite cities. In many instances industries are going to lose their skilled and professional workers because of the difficulties in finding decent homes and apartments.

The practical result of the virtual exclusion of Negroes from smaller cities and towns is reflected in the 1960 census figures which show that Negroes are being piled up in the centers of our cities.

This aspect of the problem is only one of many reasons why President Kennedy should do what he promised in his campaign speeches and issue an executive order banning discrimination in the sale and rental of housing built in whole or in part with federal funds or with federally insured loans.

The welfare of the country demands that America dispense with the luxury of racial discrimination in housing.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

HOME AGAIN

I came back from Central America long enough to answer some letters, unpack and re-pack my bags for the African trip and catch up on events that became news during the period when copies of the New York Times and the Herald Tribune were either several days late or were unobtainable. I also had time enough to become embroiled in several really interesting arguments.

As for news, there wasn't much that could be classified as earth-shaking. Word had come from Ghana that the veteran sociologist and nonogenarian, W. E. B. DuBois, had formally announced his affiliation with the Communist Party. This was interesting but hardly exciting. It was in some respects like the partners in a common-law marriage sending out announcements of a legal ceremony; why mention it after all these years? One of my arguments was on the subject of this announcement and, oddly enough, I found myself on the defend- DuBois side. A friend declared that the affiliation statement had cancelled out fifty years of distinguished service DuBois had given to American Negroes. I challenged that declaration.

DuBOIS SERVICE

In the first place, I pointed out, the DuBois service to American Negroes was for forty, not fifty years. The past decade had seen his services devoted to selling the Marxist-Stalinist political ideology, and this could hardly be called service to American Negroes. In the second place, DuBois himself never regarded his services (and they were distinguished) as being directed toward the narrow benefit of American Negroes. He was interested in persons of African descent everywhere — in this country in Africa, in the Caribbean and Latin America, and including the scattered oddments in the streets of Liverpool, Paris, London, Marseilles and other European terminus points of the migrant African.

In the third place, no action of W. E. B. DuBois today, whether deplorably foolish or defiantly outre, could cancel out the tremendous contribution which he made to two successive generations of Negro youth — a contribution which literally no other person in the world could have made. It was DuBois who first trumpted the Pan African concept and dramatized it by being the principal convenor of the first Pan African Congress, held in Paris shortly after the ending of World War I. Many of today's African leaders give W. E. B. DuBois the credit for lighting the first tiny flame of African freedom that is today sweeping the continent like wildfire.

ANGRY PEN

Another tremendous contribution was his work as principal publicist for the N.A.A.C.P. He wrote with a pen dipped in anger; his editorials in the Crisis magazine thundered with outrage, knifed with slicing sarcasm, spotlighted the brutality and doltishness of American racism and otherwise set the pace for a Negro press that was only then beginning to come of age. DuBois was a long way from being the N.A.A.C.P. but more than any other one individual he drew the organization's profile which the Negro public came to recognize and respect. Of equal importance, the average angry Negro felt that DuBois and the Crisis were speaking for him — and nothing is more therapeutic for the man whose wrongs are ignored than to hear a strong voice cataloging them so loudly that the world must needs listen whether it will or no.

Thus, there were millions of young and near-young Negroes across the United States who felt themselves taller and heavier on the American scene because of the spokesmanship of W. E. B. DuBois. Those were days, during and following World War I when Negroes were sick with the neurosis of color shame. The darkskinned envied the fair skinned; the fair skinned scorned the darkskinned — or least this was often enough true for the phrase "high yellow" to have complimentary meaning in superficial social circles. It was DuBois who proclaimed the beauty of the brown complexion, who began making of a public taste oriented toward appreciation of the beauty of the satin black or the glowing brown skin.

CHALLENGE TOLD

It was Dubois the writer who challenged Negroes to respect and admire their own standards of beauty—of face, form and complexion. And today's beauty contests in Harlem and other large centers of Negro population throughout the country offer thumping evidence of how the DuBois challenge was finally answered.

By the time I had gotten this far, my friend was thunderstruck, knowing as he did my own opinions of the recent political orientation of Dr. DuBois. "I never thought I would hear you defending DuBois," he gasped.

"I'm not defending him, you dope!" I replied with some irritation. "I'm instructing you in history—a subject in which your generation is lamentably deficient. You are not old enough and you don't know enough to understand what makes Du Bois tick. I think his current politics smell to high heaven, but he's earned the right to be that way if he wishes—and if it's really DuBois and not some party "ghost" speaking up for him."

Sit-in Cases Reversed

that the police who arrested the 16 students "were left with nothing to support their own opinions that it was a breach of the peace for (the students) to sit peacefully in a place custom decreed they should not sit."

NO CRIME

Warren held, "Such activity is not evidence of any crime and cannot be so considered either by the police or the courts."

He said the convictions for the sit-ins at three Baton Rouge establishments were so "totally devoid of evidentiary support as to render them unconstitutional under the due process clause of the 14th Amendment."

Justice William O. Douglas, in a concurring opinion, said the court should have gone further in its findings.

"I think . . . the Constitutional questions must be reached and that they make reversal necessary," he said.

"Restaurants, whether in a drug store, department store or bus terminal, are a part of the public life of most of our communities. Though they are private enterprises, they are public facilities in which the states may not enforce a policy of racial segregation.

"I do not believe that a state that licenses a business can license it to serve only whites or only blacks or only yellows or only browns," Justice Douglas asserted.

The cases involved lunch counter demonstrations in the Greyhound Bus terminal, a Kress store, and a drugstore in Baton Rouge. They were heard on a consolidated basis before the high court Oct. 18 and 19.

Jack Greenberg argued for the students. It was Greenberg's first appearance before the Supreme Court since replacing Thurgood Marshall as head of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

It was the opinion of the NAACP that the Brewers Association could "take vigorous leadership in sincere efforts to end discrimination in employment in the brewing industry."

Charles stated that the list of merchants supporting the buying campaign was increasing daily. "More support is coming from South Los Angeles and Compton."

It is slated to open Dec. 22. Armstrong was to have opened in February, after it closes, for 12 weeks at $15,000 per.

The suit quoted Armstrong's manager as saying that Minsky's shows are "indecent, immoral and obscene" and that future Minsky shows can be extry 'ghost' speaking up for savory character."

a lot of segregation and discrimination still exist.

Negroes, he said, are now assigned to 42 situations out of a total of about 100 stations and in only six of these—three shifts at two stations—are the messes and the coffee pots integrated.

In 36 situations, he went on, the mess has been broken up rather than admit Negroes. In about 50 per cent of the stations Negroes are admitted to to the coffee clubs.

In no cases, he said, have the segregated beds been abolished.

Atty. Hartsfield expressed the view that unless the educational program proposed by the Fire Commission has "teeth" in it, it will not be effective. A program of gradualism, he said, will not change the present unsatifactory conditions.

Westminster Basic Sex Talks Slated

A recent survey disclosed that more than fifty percent of married couples have basic sex problems, according to Rev. James E. Jones, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church.

One fourth are morons about sex. Nearly one third of spouses are unhappy about their marital relations and often the partner does not know this. Many wives look upon the sexual part of their marital relationship as a disappointing and recurring disruption, the minister pointed out.

Sex ignorance causes about one half of the marital separations and divorces and is partially responsible for much of the sexual infidelity, he continued.

By popular demand, Westminster Presbyterian Church, 2230 W. Jefferson blvd., is repeating its Health Movie Lecture Series on "Improving Sex Relations." This presentation will take place in the church's Fellowship Hall on Friday, Dec. 15 at 8 p.m.

The presentation will begin with a movie: "Human Reproduction" loaned by the American Medical Association.

Following the movie a discussion of the fundamentals of sex relations will be given by a panel of sexperts composed of a gynecologist, urologist, psychiatrist and a pediatrician. A question-and-answer period will follow.

Nobel Winner

Sunday he received the $48,300 peace prize and medal for his work for human rights and brotherhood among races through nonviolent means.

The previous day he was received in audience by King Olav of Norway.

BANISHMENT

In his speech Luthuli pointed out that to work or talk or campaign for the concept of brotherhood for which he was honored by the Nobel committee is "hazardous, punished with banishment or confinement without trial or imprisonment" in his native South Africa.

He said he interpreted the honor as "A welcome recognition of the role played by the African people during the last 50 years to establish, peacefully, a society in which merit and not race would fix the position of the individual in the life of the nation."

Luthuli, who speaks English effectively and well, had sought a lengthy sojourn abroad so that he could take advantage of the scores of opportunities offered him to lecture in the United States, England and elsewhere.

REFUSED PERMIT

But the government refused his request, granting him a permit to leave the country only for a 10-day visit, hardly more than enough time to enable him to make the trip to Oslo and back.

The South African government made little effort to conceal its anger at the selection of Luthuli for the Nobel honor. The government accused the Nobel Committee of "political motives" in making the award.

Luthuli is the first African to receive the Nobel prize, though it had previously been awarded to Ralph Bunche of the United Nations.

IMPRISONED

Luthuli had been president of the African National Congress which was founded in 1910 for nine years (three terms) until it was outlawed following the Sharpesville massacre in 1960.

For eight of the past 13 years he has been confined to his native village of Groutville in Natal Province. During this period he has been imprisoned, tried for high treason, brutally beaten by a white jailer inside prison and by white hoodlums outside it, and routinely insulted. He was released from prison on the treason charge after a year's incarceration for lack of evidence.

Marijuana Flown In

agent handed him marked money.

LIKE FACTORY

William Boseman was picked up at his home, where, Coster said, officers found 10 pounds of the weed in brick form, plus a sizeable quantity broken down into smaller lots for sale to minor wholesalers, in factory-like activity. Also found, said Coster, was a quantity of cigarets.

Some of the marijuana that was recovered was attractively packaged in Christmas wrappings.

In addition to the caches of marijuana, agents reported finding in the raid on the Boseman brothers and others picked up in the same dragnet a quantity of benzedrine tablets and some $9000 in cash. A .38 caliber revolver was found in Boseman's home, Coster said.

'RIDER' ARRESTED

One of the small operators arrested, police said, was a young woman who last summer served 48 days in the Jackson, Miss., jail when she was arrested as a Freedom Rider.

She is attractive Janice Rogers, 26, wife of former boxer John Rogers, who traveled the Freedom Rider circuit with her. Mrs. Rogers was arrested on an indictment charging one count of selling marijuana and one of selling heroin.

Arrseted along with the Bosemans in the first batch of arrests, during which some 170 pounds of marijuana was confiscated, were Reginald Graye, 52, an artist, of 1214 W. 41st street; Saul Walker, 41, of the same address; Clifford Campbell, 39, of 9818 S. Main street, and Garland Gist, 39, of 1976 S. Budlong avenue.

BIG CACHE

Six more were arrested in another raid early Saturday which netted an additional big cache, 194 pounds, of marijuana.

Those arrests came after two women, Mrs. Juanita M. Demmons, 25, of 4513 S. Wall street, and Mrs. Jimmy Juanita Ashley, 34, of 631 W. 94th street, allegedly sold 25 pounds of marijuana to an undercover agent.

Also arrested in that roundup were Robert Wilson, 24, of 447 E. 71st street; Maurice Duckett, 28, of 193¼ W. 41st place, a laundry route driver; Douglas Bragg, 26, a carpenter, of 724 E. 102nd street, and his wife, Vivian, 24.

Arrested along with Woods, who was picked up in the city-wide roundup of more than 100 suspects, was his wife, Peggy Hagger Mathis Woods, 26, the mother of five of Woods' children. She was booked on suspicion of possessing narcotics.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Mr. Miller:

As this holiday season approaches, we join in wishing for you a very happy Christmas with many blessings to come with the New Year.

We, the Disabled Policemen and Firemen, the widows and orphans, are so very grateful to you for your endorsement of Charter Amendment No. 1 in the last election. We know that your support of this Amendment was largely responsible for its acceptance by the voters. The passage of Charter Amendment No. 1 makes this Christmas one of the most joyous we have had in many years.

We want you to know that you will be remembered in our prayers when we attend our church services during this holy season.

A Merry Christmas, and a prosperous New Year to you and yours!

O'Neill D. Ganey, Secretary-Treasurer.

Disabled Fire and Police Protective Association.

Youth, Inc. Plans Benefit

The annual Christmas party and benefit affair of the Youth, Inc., group will be held next Tuesday evening at 4404 S. Central avenue. Several top entertainers will be on hand to add to the funfest of the group.

Richard S. Aubry, president, has announced that the activities of the organization will close with their annual Teen Dance, which will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 26, at King's Dunbar Hotel.

Dr. Howard Denies Aiding Accident Ring

tailer, a former insurance adjuster and an auto repair garage operator.

One of the indictments against Dr. Howard alleged that he conspired with one of the suspended policemen, Earl Reid, to fake a medical report of a non-existent injury on the basis of which Reid reportedly filed a claim against an insurance company for $10,000.

In other cases, Dr. Howard was accused of issuing false medical reports in accident cases for a fee of $35 for every $100 received.

Some of the defendants in the ring reportedly operated in Milwaukee, Wis.; Toledo, Ohio; Detroit; Minneapolis and St. Paul; and St. Louis, Mo., in addition to Chicago.

PROMINENT DOCTOR

Dr. Howard for many years was one of Mississippi's best known and most respected doctors. He owned and operated a hospital in the all-Negro town of Mound Bayou, Miss., not far from the area where Emmett Till was killed.

After the bloated and mutilated body of the boy was found floating in a swamp, Negroes in the area, fearful for their lives, would come to Dr. Howard, whom they trusted, at night to tell him what they had seen and what they had heard.

It was partly as a result of this information that the facts of the lynching were uncovered.

Shortly afterward, Dr. Howard sold his hospital in Mound Bayou and moved to Chicago in 1956 where he has resided since that time.

was to be held to all except witnesses. Even newsmen were barred. Police surrounded the courthouse.

Many of the marchers, who sang hymns as they walked, were students from the all-Negro Albany State College.

Police ordered the demonstrators to disburse. When they ignored the order and kept marching two by two, the officers began rounding them up and herding them into the rear door of the city jail, which was far too small to accommodate the huge influx of prisoners.

The students were charged with breach of the peace and parading without a license.

The 11 Freedom Riders who went on trial—four whites and seven Negroes — had been arrested Dec. 3 on triple charges of breach of the peace, obstructing traffic and failing to obey an officer. They had refused to leave a street outside the Union Railway Terminal.

"independent" neutralism for his country, while looking to the West for economic support and inspiration.

Nyerere and his party, the Tanganyika African National Union, have dominated the political life of the country since its formation as a party in 1954 when the country was a U.N. Trust Territory under the British. TANU has led the country rapidly through the stages of responsible and internal self-government.

Nyerere has maintained very good relations with the British and there is considerable harmony among the main racial communities.

TANU pursued a course of gradual constitutional advancement for Africans, but was also militantly nationalistic in its pursuit of self-government.

Christian Answer

By REV. MAURICE A. DAWKINS

NEW DELHI, India—"Christians of the Western World should stop trying to superimpose their Western forms on the people of Asia and Africa and learn from the disciplines and spiritual experience of those to whom they formerly came as missionaries." The art of Eastern meditation and the discipline of Yoga, for example, have much to contribute to the spiritual life and growth of the Western Christian." So spoke the preacher, a dark brown skinned Baptist from Burma, in the opening sermon of the World Council of Churches' third assembly.

Warm and Stirring

White Western delegates winced (some of them I spoke to wanted to vigorously protest and debate the point) but they had to sit as the preacher keynoted the entire conference in a beautiful religious worship service where African, Asiatic and European and American dignitaries of Christ's Church sat on the pulpit platform.

A tremendously impressive procession had preceded the service, with hundreds of delegates, theologians, archbishops, bishops, clergy and lay representatives of all denominations and communions marched from the Vigyan Bhavan (beautiful U.N. headquarters assembly building given to India by U.N. (where most of the sessions were held) to the Shamiana, a tentlike structure with a top made of material that looks like Oriental rugs held up on poles reminiscent of a camp meeting in America where most of the worship services are held.

The unwritten and unscheduled theme of "Western Christians Remember Jesus' Teachings, 'Blessed Are the Meek,'" was to be expressed again and again by Asians and Africans at the historic meeting. Rev. James Lawson, American Negro Freedom Ride leader; Dr. Archie Hargreaves, N.Y. Negro of Harlem Protestant Parish fame, who was to thrill the audience from the floor when sessions were devoted to "The Call to Witness."

Both commented on the vigor and the dynamic quality of the African and Asiatic speakers who seemed to know that a new day had come. That old things had indeed passed away, and that "all things had become new," . . . that the message of Christ from Asia and Africa to Europe and America might very well be the only means of world salvation instead of the other way around!

(Rev. Dawkins, in India as head of the Community Church Delegation, will continue this series next week.)

Christ Remains in Christmas Despite Commercialization

By LEWIS R. BOHLER, JR.

It is possible for our frustration to becloud our thinking and provoke statements that are neither logical or sound. A few days ago, our papers carried the suggestion of a pastor that religious bodies cancel some of the rites of Christmas in protest against the mounting tide of commercialism which accompanies the Yule season.

Today, I wonder if the same pastor would make this suggestion; for to cancel these rites would be as difficult as eliminating the commercial aspect. Both are securely grounded in our lore and it is unlikely that either will disappear.

PROJECT IDEALS

For lack of something positive, we frequently elect to negate everything. A dubious distinction. Perhaps the merchants and "commercialists" should ask: "And what are the 'custodians' of Christmas doing to keep it holy?" This could be an embarrassing question.

We are so lost in our fight against commercialism in Christmas, that we may be missing golden opportunities. Our magnificent spires could beam carols and anthems to quieter neighborhoods than those that surround the stores who do play them. And even grandmother finds it difficult to recall having seen a street procession, or religious groups who once went about singing carols and bringing Christmas cheer to the shut-ins. I doubt if a single clergyman even considered the possibility of asking his choir to participate in any of the big Christmas parades that herald the approaching Yule season in our larger cities.

IT'S CHRIST'S MASS

Surely there is more to the Christmas gospel than futile cries about the "orgy of commercialism." Christmas is derived from an old English term, "cristmasse," which means "Christ's Mass." It is quite possible that even the first Mass for Christ was not completely His, but was instituted by Christians at Rome to rival a pagan festival which also fell on December 25th. With the exception of the Salvation Army, we see very few identifiable Christians on the streets attempting to rival anything. The cry goes up: "Let us put Christ in Christmas." But indeed, He is already there — wherever the Mass or Holy Eucharist is offered at Christmastide.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Last week we promised to bring you as our guest Earl Martin, Western Ave. Golf course professional, but Earl has informed us that his attorney advised him not to write his grievances in this column. We had offered Earl a chance to tell his side of the story after he had accused us of persecuting him.

We had previously explained to Earl that the entire city and county were as guilty as he is long as they continued to lease golf shops and the shops practice discrimination in hiring. In fact, we have started an investigation into these practices and will report on them to you later. The reason that we center our attention on Western Ave. (Supervisor Hahn) is because the Western Ave. players are predominantly Negro.

Saw Joe Louis a few weeks ago practicing on the Fox Hills driving range. Joe suggested a new approach in fighting segregation in the Fox Hills Men's club. His suggestion was that a group of people should visit the owners of the golf course and ask them why they give this segregated club preferred time.

He accepted the invitation to chair this committee. This we will attend to in 19

The Tee Masters is a recently organized club of 38 fine swinging men and here's hoping they will fight for more freedom in golf than the other bunch of our "don't care about nothing but a tr hy" clubs.

Their officers are: President, Evans Williams; vice president, Richard Holt; recording secretary, Peter Arden; corresponding secretary, Clyde Houston; treasurer, Jack Diggs; sergeant-at-arms, Wendall White, and parliamentarian, Samuel Marlowe. Milton Rayson will be a board member for one year, Zeb Walker and Ernest Hardson, two years, and Richard Bullock and Farrar Compton, three years.

E. Williams, tournament chairman, arranged a Turkey Shoot to be played at Il Rivino in Bloomington, Calif. Golfers will tee off at 8 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 17.

(Next week we will print Andy Razaf's most beautiful Xmas poem.)

USC's Frank Buncom Rated Fine Pro Grid Prospect

By Will Chappell

Southern California tackle Frank Buncom starred in a losing cause to win the final Big Five lineman of the week honor. The Trojans lost the conference decider 10 to 7 to UCLA.

Frank played 45 minutes of outstanding football and was credited with making seven unassisted tackles in the first half.

Buncom, probably the most underrated lineman on the West Coast, has played consistently for the Trojans all year while fellow teammates were grabbing the headlines.

A senior at the University of Southern California, he came to California at the age of 14 with his two brothers and sister.

He attended Foshay Jr. High School and Dorsey High before matriculating at East Los Angeles College.

In his sophomore year at East Los Angeles College he was chosen team captain and most valuable player as well as Junior College All American. This was a commendable feat since he was working at a defense plant at night and attending school during the day.

Frank has a physical education major and hopes to coach some day.

A fine defensive pro prospect at cornerback or halfback, he is uncertain about his future playing days.

Acclaim is woefully overdue this humble and intelligent young man, who carries better than a C average in his studies during the football season.

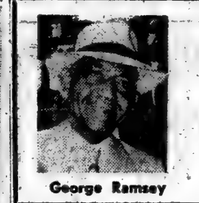
Harper Voted MVP In Jr. Rose Bowl

Bill Harper, quarterback of the Jr. Rose Bowl champions, was voted "Player of the Game" by the sportswriters who witnessed his performance Saturday afternoon in Pasadena.

The 19-year-old sophomore from Detroit led the Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma to an upset win over the Bakersfield Renegades. His play-calling and ball-handling broke the Bakersfield defense, and he was in on two of the four Cameron touchdowns, while leading the Aggies to a thrill packed 28-20 win.

He was joined in the backfield of Oklahoma JC by Clifford Stallings and Bob Kelley, the JC All-American halfback. Ulysses Kendall played end.

Bakersfield's Dick Jones and Ernie Pye tried hard, but there was no joy in cotton town Saturday night. The Bakersfield boys were not only beat for the first time, but 28 points had been scored against them — the highest score they allowed an opponent all season. Jones was the game's leading ground-gainer, and his 52-yeard sprint was the day's longest.



DRAFTED — San Diego Chargers of the American Football League drafted USC's Frank Buncom, All Big Five, All Pacific Coast and honorable mention All American tackler.

Jeff Cage Team Leading League

The Jefferson High basketball team moved into the second round of league competition with an unblemished 5 and 0 record by defeating visiting Manual Arts 67 to 50 last Friday.

Rated as the top cage team in the city, the Demos' overall season record is a fat 9 and 0 mark.

Leading the Demos' scoring attack against Manual were Charles Robinson and Arthur Davis, who scored 25 and 16 points, respectively, while All-City candidate Edgar Lacey fouled out in the third quarter after making ten points.

Manual Arts' scoring ace, William Allen, was held to a mere six points.

ANNUAL XMAS PARTY—South Los Angeles' best known Santa Claus to more than four thousand youngsters is Dr. Christopher L. Taylor, prominent dentist who for seven years has been playing the role of jolly old St. Nick. Last Saturday was one of his biggest parties. For four hours he and his wife and staff passed out fruit, candy, ice cream and stockings. Pictured are some of the youngsters and staffers: Alfred Gilpin, Willie Johnson, Mary K. Smith, Gloria Sutton, Santa Claus (John Buckner), Pat Hernandez, Dr. C. L. Taylor, Billie Kendrick, Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Allen Goodlow, Edward Warren, president of the NAACP; John Lowe and Jim Lowe. Xmas Party Attracts 4000 Kids

Christmas officially made its bow last Saturday afternoon in the Will Rogers Park for some four thousand So. L. A. youngsters, patients and friends of Dr. Christopher L. Taylor, prominent dentist in the South Los Angeles area.

The good doctor, as he is called by his warmest friends, has been providing the youngsters with a party for seven years and last Saturday was perhaps his largest. It attracted easily four thousand.

John Buckner, an L.A. County bailiff, served as Santa Claus and he was a very impressive one as the kids flocked to him like bees to honey. Staff members assisting with the passing out of Christmas gifts and goodies included Dr. Frank Peterson, Dr. N. H. Westermeyer, B. S. Hayes, Barbara Rollins, Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Alfred Gilpin, Willie Johnson, Mary K. Smith, Gloria Sutton, Pat Hernandez and Billie Kendrick. Others assisting were Allen Goodlow, Edward Warren, president of the NAACP, and John and Jim Lowe.

A large 20-foot white Christmas tree decorated the stage and as the children filed into the auditorium each was handed fruits, candy, ice cream and gift stockings.

This marks the seventh consecutive year in which Dr. Taylor and his staff have sponsored a Christmas Party.

Distribution of gifts got under way shortly after 12 noon and lasted until 4 p.m. and not a single kid missed receiving a gift.

Women's Council Draws Praise for Presenting 'An Evening With A.C.'

By C. Marie Hughes

The artist's powerful dramatization of "The Creation from God's Trombones" in her opening number to her grand finale, "Let there be peace and let it begin with me," left a mighty impression on the large and enthusiastic crowd that came to the Wilshire-Ebell Theatre to spend "An Evening with A.C." Monday night.

The Los Angeles Council of the National Council of Negro Women presented one of its exceptionally gifted members, A. C. Bilbrew, in a one-woman show which commanded the attention of the theatre audience from the beginning of the program to the end.

A. C.'s balanced repertoire and her versatility seemed inexhaustible through the two hours of a consistently fine performance both vocally and dramatically which drew an abundance of applause throughout the evening.

The one act playlet entitled, "It's the Little Things that Count," was surprisingly different with its bit of comedy. It was significant and true to life. The charm and wit of the skit was most enjoyable. The cast consisted of: Dorcas Douglass, A. C. Bilbrew, Bill Sanders and Ernest Jones.

In recognition of her distinguished public service through her many contributions to the community A.C.'s triumphant moment came when she was presented with a solid silver record entitled, "An Evening With A.C. Bilbrew," along with numerous bouquets of flowers and a sumptuous gift box of many bottles of perfume.

THE BIG MOMENT — A special honor bestowed on A. C. Bilbrew last Monday night in her one-woman show under the auspices of the local branch of the National Council of Negro Women at the Wilshire-Ebell theatre was the presentation of a silver record entitled "An Evening with A. C." by Ball Records. Shown with the artist is Jim Ball, co-owner of the company. (Adams).

WELL WISHERS—A crowd of enthusiastic admirers rushed backstage Monday night to congratulate Miss A. C. Bilbrew, center, for a delightful two hours of versatile entertainment. (Adams)

Mr. Sanders attended Washington High and Pasadena City College and is now employed in the Los Angeles Post Office.

Some 200 guests attended the reception held at 1223 Armada drive in Pasadena.

Luvercha Bray Thompson is really determined to be well enough to accept some of the Xmas invitations she and her Russell are getting. Mildreda and Holden Evans are receiving their friends for cocktails through the afternoon before Xmas.

It was Eula Henderson who suggested Regina Stewart as a queen candidate for the recent Sigma affair; Regina won it, you know, Dr. and Mrs. Cato Robinson located one of those dream apartments you hear of but never seem to find; even their Siamese cats are happy. Atty. Chas. Matthews had friends in to say hello to Judge William Hastie after his Sun. evening address. Alpha Psi chapter of the Zetas had a luncheon meeting Sat. via hostesses Catherine Pierce, Nellie Render, Margaret Pennington and Dolores MacAdoo (at her home); they're Xmas partying too, later.

Mil Blount finished her millinery assignment at MGM in time to begin her eighth season doing the same for Ice Capades.

NEWLYWEDS—Shown following their November wedding at St. Luke's Baptist church are Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Polk. The new Mrs. Polk is the former Louise Taylor.

Pre-Holiday Give-Away Fete

The Ladies of Paradise Club has scheduled Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17, as the date of their giant give-away affair.

The pre-holiday affair will get underway at 5 p.m. and last until 9 p.m. at Marty's Lounge in the new hall for social clubs, 5733 S. Broadway. Helen Sprow, president of the club, and her planning committee have announced door prizes will consist of a stereo AM-FM tape recorder combination, an AM-FM transistor and another transistor.

The club member who brings the largest number of guests to the affair will be crowned queen of the Ladies of Paradise Club.

Annual Dinner

The Neighborhood Friendship and Charity Club has scheduled its annual dinner for Saturday, Dec. 16, at 1588 East Vernon avenue.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

Talked with Evelyn Holloway; she told me of the enjoyable session she, Audrey Robinson, Emma Jackson, and Daisy Tatum experienced attending the Southern Calif. Youth Conference in West Covina. Daisy Tatum was elected fourth vice president of this organization. Our youth of Oxnard are surely on the ball.

Attended the belated dinner party honoring Gov. Edmond G. Brown on Tuesday, Dec. 5. The Elks hall was filled to capacity. The Governor spoke of accomplishments under his administration, praised Assemblyman Rex Cunningham for his support to the administration, and said he feels confident that the Democrats will win in the coming election.

The Citizens Committee — headed by Rev. Lee Henderson as president, Richard Abrams secretary, and Clinton Tatum treasurer — had some time ago drafted a telegram to the Governor congratulating him for accomplishments during his administration. This telegram was read by the Secretary of the committee, Richard Abrams. It reads:

"Hon. Gov. Edmond G. Brown:

"The Oxnard Citizens committee wishes to congratulate you for your historic action in the appointment of Atty. Vaino Hasson Spencer as municipal Court judge, first Negro woman to be so named. Also we congratulate you for the legislation you have sponsored in civil rights, housing and fair employment. Your appointments have been both exhilerating and inspiring. We praise your actions."

Some seen at the dinner were: Thomas Williamson, Marion Ray, Rev. Lee Henderson and wife, Rev. H. W. Washington, Laura Yelldale, Fred Jones, Goons Leights, John Harristons, Ora Washington and Ben Johnson.

Jr. American Program In Second Year at Ascot

This is now the second year of a unique program which is being carried on at the Ascot Avenue School. It is called the Junior American program and is aimed to provide broadening cultural experiences for upper-grade children doing superior work at school.

The program is co-sponsored by the Ascot Avenue PTA and the Los Angeles Urban League. The Links, a group associated with the Urban League, has cooperated splendidly and has provided much help.

Last year the children were taken on many Saturday morning trips by the Links. They went to see three plays at the Annual Children's Festival given at the El Capitan Theatre. They visited four art galleries, some of which were privately owned and attended three youth concerts given by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

The group also visited several business and industrial establishments. These were the Golden State Insurance Company, the Waste King Company, and the Pacific Telephone Company.

PTA to Give Xmas Baskets

Mrs. Joe Williams, president of Ascot PTA and members of the board which met last week announced that the PTA will distribute Christmas boxes to needy families in the community.

A committee report was heard from the Cookie drive which is currently underway.

Beauty Experts To Get Awards

Mary V. Batiste, first Negro examiner for the State Board of Cosmotology, and Evelyn Jackson, California State Association president of Alpha Chi Pi Omega Sorority-Fraternity, will receive meritorious awards at 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 31, at the Golden State Insurance Auditorium.

Award ceremonies will take place during "Hairline Views of '62," sponsored by the Lovelyettes, a clientele auxiliary group from the Chain of Loveliness Beauty Salon.

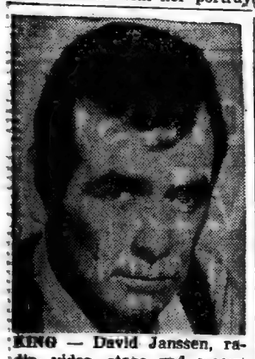
Hairline Views is a combination musical-fashion program that will preview future hair creations as well as current styles.

Student Council Elects Officers

Fremont Adult School Student Council elected its officers for the 1961-1962 school year on Nov. 7.

The new officers are: Urias Mays, president; Don Rosania, vice-president; Willie Anderson, secretary, and Perenner Daniels, treasurer.

ATTEND OPENING—Woodley Lewis' Sportsman's Bowl officially opened last Friday with a gala private premiere of the 32-lane Bowling Alley, which will serve the city's 250,000 bowlers. The multi-million-dollar plant is owned by two former L.A. Rams football stars, Woodley Lewis and Dick Daugherty. The opening took on the splendor of an Academy Award presentation. Pictured surrounding Mrs. Woodley Lewis are: Joe Adams, Celesteen Bernett, Buddy Young, Mrs. Lewis, Kenny Washington, Bonnie Lee and Harry Thompson. The Bowl is located at 1950 N. Central avenue in Compton. (Young)



CHARLTON HESTON PREMIERE STAR

Phil Gordon Makes the New York Scene

At Hunter College Playhouse there was a benefit performance for "Plays For Living" of the Family Service Association of America, as Cornelia Otis Skinner made her only New York appearance doing her Modern Character Sketches. Miss Skinner was excellent with her portrayals of an old woman at a New England Resort, her "Geneology" bit of a Study in American Ancester Worship, the types who make the Yearly Invasion of Paris, and the Americans "Being Presented" to the Queen of England.

There was a full auditorium, and they were left filled with delight and joy. Among the celebrities in the house was Katherine Cornell. I wanna thank Jane Harven and "Plays For Living" for my complimentary ticket to this memorable program.

KING — David Janssen, radio, video, stage and screen star is currently portraying the role of Arnold Rothstein in the Allied Artists production, "King of the Roaring 20's", currently at the Manchester Theatre combined with "The Colossus of Rhodes" starring Rory Calhoun. Don't forget Manchester Theatre's gigantic Christmas party!

HUNTER HALL BALL

I was privileged to emcee the Silver Anniversary Benefit Show for the Walt Whitman School, at Hunter Hall, and a fantastic show it was, brimmed to overflowing with fine talent, like bassist, Bill Pemberton, and the orchestra (an almost complete Sy Oliver group) playing the whole show, Olatunji and his Drums of Passion, the Teenagers, singing Rock 'N Roll. Edgar Bergen and Charlie

Curtis Amy Nightly at Dynamite's

Dynamite Jackson's, fast gaining a reputation as one of Southern California's swingingest jazz clubs, this week adds another illustrious name to its roster of stars. The name: Curtis Amy.

Youthful, college-trained, forward-thinking, Amy is a member of the "new school" of jazz leaders who not only play great and entertaining music but also know what they're saying, what they want to say in the future, and where they want to go.

Amy's fame has been built locally in many club dates and on his World Pacific records. A natty-dressing resident of the San Fernando Valley, Amy has built a legion of followers on his ability to play jazz with popular appeal and to establish rapport with his audiences.

GUMBO EVERY FRIDAY

Dynamite Jackson's Lounge is operated by the former California heavyweight champion and popular fight referee of the same name.

SOUL SESSION—New Year's Eve, Sunday, Dec. 31, 8 p.m. at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Santa Barbara and Figueroa, Ray Charles, the genius with a soul, will welcome his thousands of followers with a dance and concert. The most creative musical giant of this generation, Ray Charles and his augmented orchestra will be supported by the singing Raelets and the popent pipes of Betty Carter.

'El Cid' Starts December 18, Carthay Circle

An important cinematic event will be a feature of the holiday season Mon. night (Dec. 18) when "El Cid," the colorful multi-million-dollar film epic co-starring Charlton Heston and Sophia Loren, has its glamorous, celebrity-studded West Coast premiere at the Carthay Circle Theatre.

GIGANTIC PRODUCTION

Filmed in Super Techirama 70 mm-Technicolor, "El Cid" is the story of the fabled warrior-hero of medieval Spain, portrayed by Heston, with Miss Loren appearing as the Castilian beauty who becomes his wife. The cast of over 10,000 includes such international favorites as Ray Vallone, Genevieve Page, John Fraser, Gary Raymond, Hurd Hatfield, Massimo Serato and Herbert Lom.

Following next week's gala unveiling, "El Cid," which has a screenplay by Frederick M. Frank and Philip Yordan and musical score by Miklos Rozsa, will play on a reserved seat policy at the Carthay Circle.

Mrs. Prince Claiborne (right) is a lecturer, clubwoman, hostess, homemaker and mother. She is shown demonstrating the whipping qualities of Carnation to Vivian Sutton, Director of Young Women's Activities at Carver House in St. Louis.

Vivacious Jean Claiborne, St. Louis, Missouri

The career girl who makes life easier for 50 thousand homemakers

Jean Claiborne has been a Market Consultant for the Carnation Company for the past ten years.

She conducts cooking classes, talks at PTA and club meetings, appears on television, and shows young mothers how to prepare infant formulas with Carnation Evaporated Milk.

"I had plenty of extra practice with my own 3-year-old, Michael. His doctor recommended Carnation for his formula, of course."

Mrs. Claiborne conducts dozens of cooking demonstrations every year.

"I love to show the smoothness of puddings made with Carnation," she says. (See recipe at right.)

Carnation is the milk that looks, pours and even whips like golden country cream—at ½ the cost!

Carnation in the red and white can is the world's favorite brand

Little Michael Claiborne loves Carnation. Mixed with an equal amount of water, it's still as rich as state standards for whole milk.

RECIPE:
Carnation
DOUBLE-QUICK
BANANA PUDDING
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)
24 to 28 vanilla wafers
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
1 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 cup water
1 to 2 sliced bananas
Line a 1-quart casserole with vanilla wafers. Mix the pudding mix, Carnation and water in a saucepan. Cook according to package directions. Pour half of pudding mixture into lined casserole. Top with banana slices. Place remaining wafers on top of pudding. Cover with remaining pudding mixture. Chill before serving.

$1 CARPET SALE TO END SOON

It's the last 2 weeks of this fabulous sale. The House of Carpets and Furniture, in order to reduce its stock quickly, is offering America's finest broadloom carpet at only $1 a sq. yd.

Here's how it works: you buy one sq. yd. at regular price — get the second sq. yd. for $1. Just come in and select any carpet included in this sale. For each sq. yd. of "Prelude" all wool pile carpet you buy at $4.95, you get a second sq. yd. for only $1. For each sq. yd. of "Drexelbrook" 80% wool and 15% nylon you buy at $7.95 sq. yd. you get a second sq. yd. for only $1. Budget terms, of course.

Board Okehs New Rules to Stem Racism

The Fire Commission passed a series of motions at its meeting last Thursday that could go far towards eliminating the mean and petty race bating that still hampers the Fire Department —and heard testimony about charges of discrimination in eating arrangements at the engine houses.

Introduction of that subject brought the comment from Chief William L. Miller that all this "hullabaloo and harrangu-

Mayor Yorty Says Bias Must Go

In a restatement of policy, Mayor Yorty told his news conference Tuesday that "racial discrimination in the Fire Department and every other department in the City of Los Angeles will be eliminated.

"We have a fine Fire Commission," he continued, "and I expect them to carry out the policy of the department."

ing about discrimination in the Fire Department is for the birds."

$5 FOR LUNCH

The issue was brought up by Commissioner Henri O'Bryan who said there had been report of two instances of deliberat discrimination in the Fire De partment in the past two week.

One of those instances, s subsequent testimony broug out, involved the hiking of th price of lunch at one station t $5 when two Negroes were ser

High Court Won't Enjoin Trials in Miss.

Brushing aside pleas of the NAACP and the Department of Justice the Supreme Court Monday refused to enjoin prosecutions of Mississippi Freedom Riders. The Court did not decide the constitutional issues involved and indicated that it would resolve the dispute when cases pending on appeal are heard.

Monday's Freedom Rider ruling does not affect the overall challenge to Mississippi's travel segregation practices which are involved in the cases pending on appeal.

More than 300 riders have been arrested and convicted of disorderly conduct in Jackson City court. They are now being re-tried in Hinds County court at the rate of two a day.

BOND REQUIRED

If they wish to appeal to the circuit court and later to the Mississippi Supreme Court, each must make a total bond of $1500.

The Justice Department and the NAACP claimed this bail, plus travel expense, is an injury to which the riders should not be subjected while the chal-

Over 1000 Arrested in Three Cities

The movement for jobs, for service, for equality flared across the South this week, from Albany, Ga., to Baton Rouge, La., to New Orleans—like a huge conflagration leaping across state lines.

In Albany, 735 men, women and teenagers were arrested; 73 in Baton Rouge; 290 in New Orleans.

POLICE ATTACK

Striking aspect of the tremendous demonstrations was that there was no violence or threat of violence other than that used by police or threatened by police.

Worst outbreak of official strong-arming occurred in Baton Rouge Friday when police hurled tear gas bombs at some 1500 Negroes, mostly Southern University students, who protested the arrests of [illegible] the day before of 23 Negroes who had been picketing local merchants.

The demonstrators scattered wildly as the gas from the bombs hit their eyes, only to reform their ranks and resume their march toward the shopping center.

SYMPATHY MOVE

The demonstration in New Orleans swept through that city in a show of sympathy and solidarity with the students of Baton Rouge. It started late Monday, with hundreds of students from Dillard University and the New Orleans branch of Southern University falling into line.

The arrests in turn brought further protests and sparked plans of the Consumers League of Greater New Orleans to sponsor a march on voter registration offices. The Baton Rouge demonstrations had been sponsored by CORE.

Demonstrations in Albany, Ga., which continued for a solid week, ended Monday when city authorities, following consultations with Negro leaders, reduced bail for the hundreds of prisoners still held and began releasing them as rapidly as they could be processed.

Attys. Grill Officer at Boags Trial

Arresting Officer B. F. Shore was subjected to a gruelling all day cross-examination Tuesday by two defense attorneys in the trial of Atty. Robert Boags, 35, and his brother, Charles Donald Boags, 32, deputy public defender, in one of the most hotly contested trials in recent months.

Police arrested the two brothers last Sept. 17 outside the home of Atty. Claude V. Worrell, 2328 Hauser blvd., and charged them with five counts each — drunk, disturbing the peace, interfering with an officer and two counts of battery.

ACCUSED POLICE

The Boags brothers heatedly denied the charges and in turn accused the police of brutality. They claimed they were taken to Wilshire Police Station and while there were beaten, clubbed, kneed and choked and otherwise worked over.

Congo Truce Hides Many-Sided Conflict

By GRACE E. SIMONS

An uneasy truce has settled upon Katanga Province in the Congo but the perspective of full liberation and peaceful development for the strife-torn country is still little more than a vague hope.

Long standing, open antagonisms and heretofore concealed rifts have been deepened by the two weeks of armed fighting in Elizabethville, capital of Katanga, between the soldiers nominally under the control of Pres. Moise Tshombe on the one hand and the forces of the United Nations on the other.

INTERTWINED

Conflicts between Tshombe, the Central Government of Premier Cyrille Adoula at Leopoldville and Antoine Gizenga in the North are closely intertwined with the rivalries among the great powers.

If the confusion seems immense, so also are the issues and interests at stake. At the economic level these center around control of the huge metal combine known as the Union Miniere du Haute Katanga and the vast, but undeveloped, potential of the rest of the Congo.

Politically, the issues are four-fold. They involve the struggles between the various Congolese leaders for dominance, the struggles among the Western allies for hegemony over the country and its resources, the Cold War Conflict between the West and the Soviet bloc and, fourthly, and all but submerged in the overlying melange, the drive of the Congolese people for mastery over their own territory and their own destiny.

TSHOMBE, ADULA MEET

These issues lie just beneath the surface as Tshombe and Adoula meet in Kitona, former Belgian base west of Leopoldville which is now under U.N. control, while the opposing military forces remain heavily armed and ready to resume battle for Elizabethville.

The conflict between Tshombe, acting as a puppet of the Belgians, and the Central Gov-

Pickets to Visit Sellers Of 'Lucky'

"Pickets will man protest lines at points of purchase this Friday and Saturday," said Edgar Charles, of the California Negro Businessmen's Association as its "selective buying" campaign against Lucky Lager entered its sixth week. "They will be posted," he said, "where the merchants have been uncooperative."

Charles said further that Nester Gomez of the Community Service Organization inserted an article in the CSO newsletter, calling attention to discrimination in the brewing industry.

"It urges the people not to buy Lucky Lager," said Charles, "and is distributed all over the state, and from here to the Mexican border."

The association is concentrating its efforts on the Eastside, in Compton and in Watts, where Lucky Lager consump-

Porter Will Seek Seat In Congress

Community political fires blazed brightly this week as Atty. Everette M. Porter announced his candidacy for congress in the new 21st district while Don Derricks and Johnny Otis sent out word that they would seek assembly posts. Derricks will run in the 53rd and Otis in the 56th District.

The 21st district was created by the legislature at its 1961 session and is comprised of the 53rd and 55th assembly districts. The 53rd district includes the Central Avenue area and was formerly the 62nd assembly district, now represented by Augustus F. Hawkins. Hawkins is also expected to seek the congressional nomination in the

Girl's Face Slashed, 100 Stitches Needed

Willia Smith, 15-year-old student, who lives at 214 E. 23rd street, was slashed on the face with a razor as she was going to church Monday morning. She received a deep wound from the temple to her jaw, that required 100 stitches.

Her assailant reportedly was another 15-year-old girl, Delores W. McCurthan, of 626 W. 60th street, whom, police said, they found cowering in the clothes closet of a house at 62nd and Menlo streets about 10:30 a.m.

Miss Smith said that Delores had phoned her and asked her if she was going to the church meeting. When she answered yes, Delores said she was going to meet her there and kill her, she told police.

At the corner of 42nd and Avalon, Miss Smith said that Delores and five other persons pulled up in an old model hot rod, that Delores jumped out of the car, spat in Willia's face, then pulled a red-handled, straight razor out of her pocket and slashed at her victim.

Police reported that Miss McCurthan would give them little information about the incident. She didn't admit the cutting, but explained her animosity toward Miss Smith by saying the latter had called her names.

Young Miss McCurthan, police said, was arrested about a month ago. At that time she reportedly had a spring blade knife and a bottle of wine in her possession.

Wrong-Way Door Spells Thief's Grief

A door that opened from the left instead of the right proved the undoing Saturday night of Manuel Vasquez, 24, who had recently arrived here from Oklahoma.

He entered Neal's Liquor Store, 49th and Central, shortly after 9 p.m., and asked for a package of cigarets. As the clerk, Felix Weller, was handing him the pack, Vasquez

Scientists Scotch Lesser-Breed View

By EVELYN ANDREAS

An attempt by Southern segregationist officials and educators to obtain a scientific cover for their prejudices was exposed by the authoritative American Anthropological Association at its annual meeting last month.

The Association passed a resolution which "repudiates statements now appearing in the United States that Negroes are biologically and in innate mental ability inferior to whites and reaffirms the fact that there is no scientifically established evidence to justify the exclusion of any race from the rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States."

UNANIMOUS

Even individual scientists seldom commit themselves publicly on disputed political issues, much less so large a group as almost 200 anthropologists. They unanimously supported the repudiation of Negro inferiority although they represent different tendencies and hold differing views on many other questions in anthropology and biology.

The December 8 issue of "Science," the official organ of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, reported their unusual stand under the heading: "Science and Segregation — the American Anthropological Association Dips Into Politics."

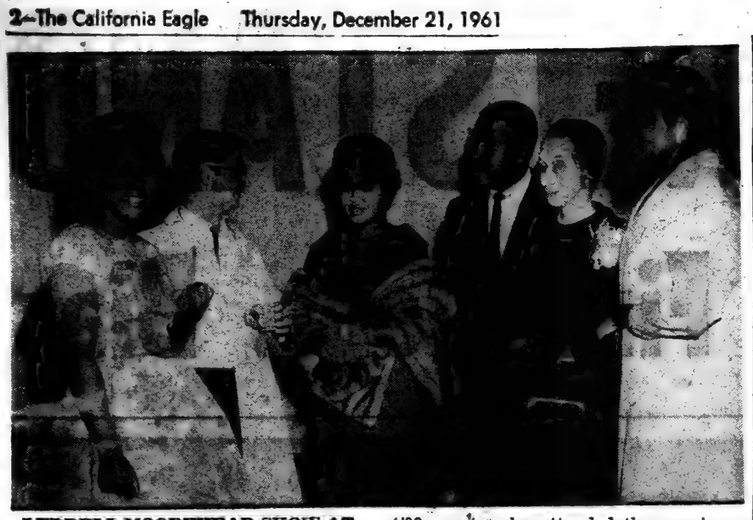
Luthuli as Good As His Word; Returns Home



NAIROBI, Kenya — Albert John Luthuli, who won the hearts of the world by his defiant speech against South Africa's apartheid in Oslo which he concluded with an inspiring rendition of the African National Congress' Freedom song, "Sikelele Africa," passed through Nairobi on his way home last Friday.

The Nobel Peace Prize winner had been accorded a grudging 10 days to make the trip to Norway and return.

Asked if he had been tempted not to go back, the tall standing Zulu chief and Congress leader who is restricted by the government to his native village replied with dignity.

"That would have been dishonorable."

The murderers were never arrested.

Stabbed Man Staggers Back into Cafe, Dies

An early-morning three-way argument last Saturday ended in the stabbing to death of Adell Reed, 36, of 3527 S. McKinley avenue, who staggered into a cafe at 270 E. Santa Barbara shortly before 5 a.m., bleeding profusely from stab wounds in the neck and body.

Police and an ambulance were called, but Reed was dead when the ambulance arrived.

Earlier that morning, police had been called to the home of Mrs. Reed, 4619 S. Avalon blvd., in response to a "family dispute" call.

Reed, her ex-husband, had been there, as had also her present mate, Arthur Hall. Reed reportedly had scratched Mrs. Reed's cheek with a nail clipper, had taken $21 from her and had threatened to kill Hall on sight.

Then Reed left and went to the cafe. Maxine Jackson, waitress, said that he had breakfast there, then left and returned in about five minutes mortally wounded.

Hall surrendered to police at Adair and Santa Barbara, and reportedly admitted the knifing. He claimed the knife belonged to Reed and that he took it away from him when Reed tried to cut him in the alley behind the cafe.

P.O. Alliance Head Probes Complaints

By ROBERT FARRELL

Ashby G. Smith, national president of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, was in the Los Angeles area this past week during an 18-day sweep of the western and mid-western states.

He was here in particular to investigate complaints that there has been a violation of policy in promotional procedures in the upgrading of employees in the Los Angeles post office.

PROBES LOCAL SITUATION

Smith said, "The manner in which the promotional procedures were carried out plus other situations existing in the L. A. Post Office lead me to believe there is racial discrimination there."

Promotion in the postal service comes as vacancies occur, and eligible candidates are selected from a promotional list. Position on this list is determined by a combined score on a competitive exam, seniority, and performance as graded by superiors.

The Postmaster appoints a promotional advisory board to consider the list of eligibles prior to his selecting people to fill various openings. After consideration, the board is supposed to select three names for each opening, and make its recommendations to the Postmaster, who makes the final decision.

Last September, an all white board recommended six whites to fill six vacancies, Smith said.

The local Alliance filed a complaint in Washington.

Perry Parks, welfare director of the local Alliance, said, "Of 11 new supervisors named in November, six were Negro. It happened that their names were next on the list, and the board knew the pressure was on in Washington."

Parks continued to give reporters at a press conference Thursday a breakdown of statistics. "There are about 10,000 employees in the L. A. Post Office. Fifty-five per cent are Negro. Of the 572 supervisors, approximately 15 per cent are Negro. Of 188 promotions to supervisorial positions within this category in the last few months, 155 were given to white gentiles, 25 to Negroes, 7 to Jews, and 1 to a Japanese."

After a meeting of Alliance members with Postmaster Oleson last Monday, Oleson agreed that future promotional boards would follow the makeup of the personnel in the post office, the Alliance members said. He also agreed that queries from those people who are passed over will be promptly answered. In the past, answers reportedly were slow.

While saying the "policy is superior to any that they had in the past," Parks added that "prejudice can enter on the selection board and in the subjective evaluation made by a man's immediate supervisor."

Smith followed with, "We aren't satisfied with the solution, but they have admitted that their procedure was wrong. The present procedure is better than before, yet we felt that the first instance where it was not being applied properly was where we should step in."

Civil Liberties, Rights Linked, Says Speaker

"Unless people have the right to assemble and print without having limitations placed against them, they cannot proceed to fight for civil rights," said Anne Braden, field secretary of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, before a crowd of 600 at the Park Manor Thursday night.

Mrs. Braden, editor of the "Southern Patriot," and her organization are working to get Southern whites to work with Negroes for civil rights.

In the South, segregationists label liberals and proponents of integration "subversives" or "pink", Mrs. Braden said. Whites are unable even to find out about civil rights groups because of this pressure and fear of reprisals, she said.

Mrs. Braden's husband, Carl, who is a field secretary of the Fund, was sentenced to jail along with Frank Wilkinson for a one year term by the Federal District Court in Atlanta. Their appeal to the Supreme Court was rejected 5-4 and they were jailed last May. They had refused to answer questions posed by the House Un-American Activities Committee on the grounds that the questions interfered with freedoms guaranteed under the First Amendment of the Constitution.

Frank Wilkinson, of Los Angeles, is field representative of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Over 3000 persons from all over the U.S. have signed a petition to the White House and the attorney general urging clemency on behalf of the two men. The sentence by the court is the longest allowable, and the signers of the petition argued against the severity of the sentence.

Some of the signers of the petition were: Rev. M. L. King, Jr., Aubrey W. Williams, Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, Erich Fromm, Harry Golden, Mrs. Almena Lomax, Carey McWilliams, Robert F. Williams, Rev. F. Williams, Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, E. Franklin Frazier, A. Philip Randolph and A. L. Wirin.

Peace Corps Seeking More Enlistments

WASHINGTON — Only about 35 of the more than 800 persons in training or on active duty with the Peace Corps are Negroes and more are wanted, Sargent Shriver, director, and his assistant, Franklin Williams, told a one day conference held here last week. The conference was attended by newspaper publishers and presidents of predominantly Negro land grant colleges. Atty. Loren Miller was one of those present.

Peace Corps spokesmen told the conference that its aim is to further the cause throughout the world by assisting underdeveloped nations through the services of trained Americans. They stressed the fact that the Corps is seeking the services of persons with all kinds of skills and that it is not confined to college graduates or college trained persons. "We need bricklayers and carpenters as badly as we need trained teachers," Williams said.

Enlistment in the Peace Corps is open to all persons over 18 years old. Those who enlist are given a period of intensive training before being sent abroad. They are expected to learn the language of the nation to which they will be sent and will be paid the same salary scale as their counterparts in those countries. In addition the Peace Corps deposits $75 per month to the account of the Corpsman and the accumulated sum is paid to him on his return to the United States.

Agreeing that a portion of the trouble for the low enlistment rate of Negroes may be traced to lack of direct appeal, Corps officials said they will explore the possibilities of adding a Negro newspaperman to its publicity staff.

Countries to which Peace Corps enlistees are sent must agree to a non-discriminatory policy, Shriver said. He pointed to the fact that some 60 of the Corps staff of approximately 200 persons are Negroes as proof of its own racial policies.

African nations which have availed themselves of Peace Corps services include Ghana, Nigeria and Tanganyika.

Beaten but Unbowed, 'Rider' Tests Again

Thomas Valentime, Freedom Rider recently beaten while a member of a CORE test team in McComb, Miss., visited Los Angeles last week in his third probe of segregation.

Valentime was one of five Negroes testing bus station compliance with Interstate Commerce Commission regulations in McComb when they were set upon by whites and roughly manhandled.

TESTS IN WEST

After his return to New Orleans, he joined Pat Smith and Frank Harris, also Freedom Riders, to see if an integrated group could travel by car from the South to the West safely without being arrested. They could, they found, but not without some harassment (they were stopped and questioned, given a ticket for a "faulty muffler", etc.). They drove through Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico.

Miss Smith and Valentime returned to New Orleans for trial Friday. They had been charged with "criminal trespass" for staging a sit-in demonstration in a New Orleans police station protesting police brutality early this past summer.

NEW ORLEANS LAX

Although recent events in McComb, Miss., and Albany, Ga., and elsewhere show increased participation by the Negro community in the struggle for civil rights in the South, Valentime and Miss Smith had little that was encouraging to say about New Orleans.

They said the situation there was marked by "little effective Negro leadership and little participation by the Negro community. Even the picket lines in front of the stores are disregarded." They did state, however, that the NAACP, CORE, and the Consumers League were starting a boycott of white merchants and instituting voter registration programs in New Orleans.

Wayne Taylor, Freedom Rider from L.A. returned to Jackson, Miss. for his trial Wednesday. The 22-year-old Angeleno is one of the first of about 50 who will leave L.A. for Jackson and trial in the next few months.

Don Derricks for 53rd Assembly

"THE 53RD ASSEMBLY DISTRICT MUST become the first battleground to destroy special political and financial interests which have created voting ghettos in our community," Don Derricks stated in a press conference today. In announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the State Assembly, Derricks, well known civic leader, added, "I see as my political responsibility to our community a determined effort on my part to effect a positive legislative program and to fully represent the needs and wishes of the community. The time has come to have the vigorous leadership which has long been denied our citizens."

"MY CAMPAIGN WILL BE A 'FREEDOM FIGHT;' I will work for Four Freedoms for the Negro community, namely:

1. Freedom to choose our own representation;
2. Freedom from family political rule;
3. Freedom from representatives who sell out to the enemies of progress;
4. Freedom to speak out on issues.

THE NEGRO COMMUNITY HAS BEEN SHACKLED too long by politicians who are afraid to speak out and who take their orders from 'downtown' interests."

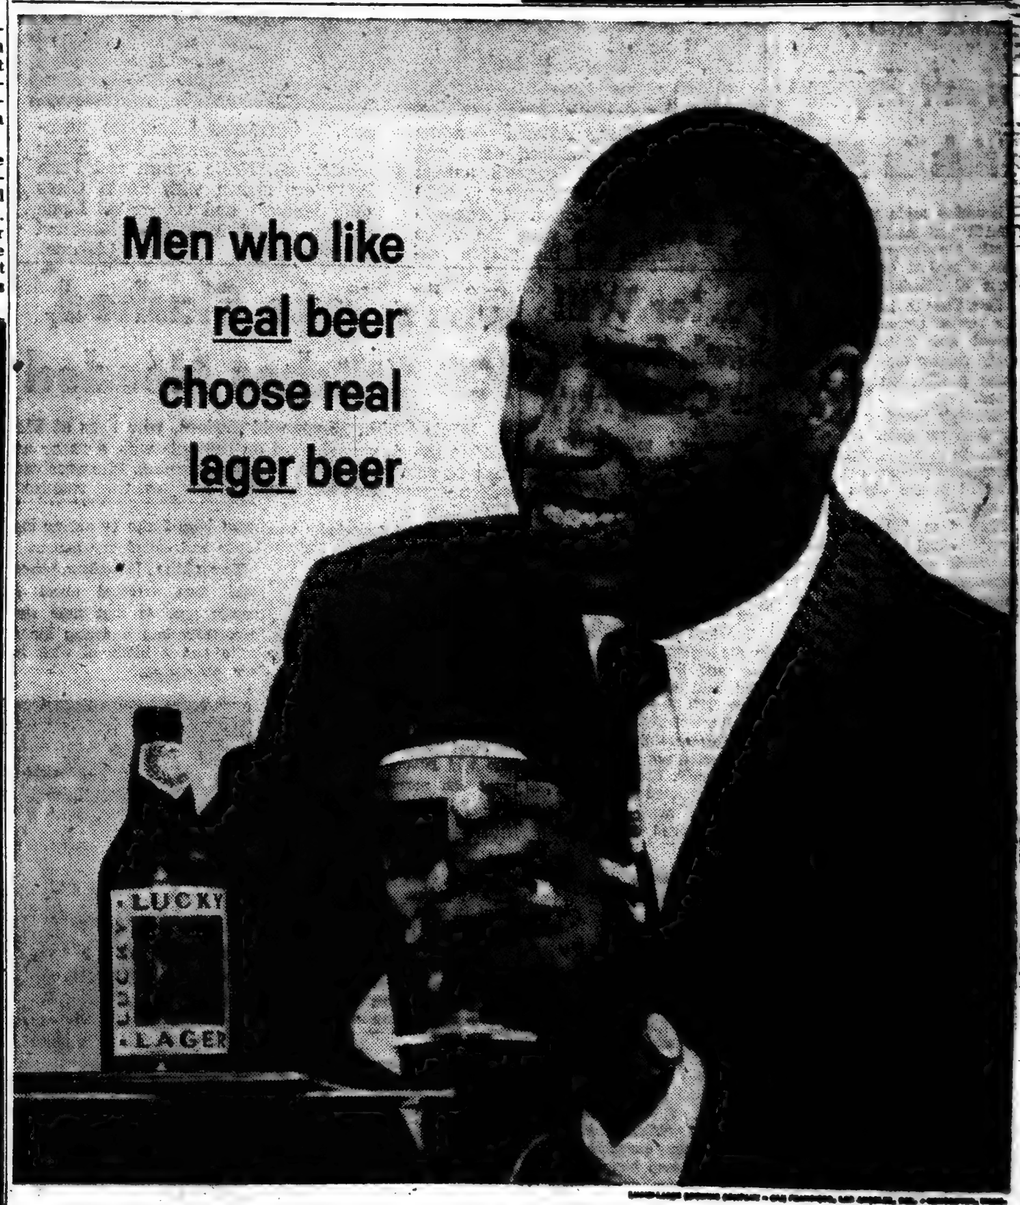
DERRICKS STATED, "My thorough knowledge of the needs and wants of the citizens in the district and my experience in legislative matters fully qualifies me to represent the 53rd Assembly District." In announcing his program of action, Derricks said, "I intend to fight for:

FAIR AND EQUITABLE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES:
By the strengthening of existing FEPC laws;
Thorugh the establishment of an FEPC clause in ALL union contracts;
With legislation Demanding a minimum wage of $1.50 an hour for all working people;
By increasing opportunities for on-the-job and apprenticeship training.

NON-DISCRIMINATORY HOUSING:
By strengthening existing laws which are designed to prevent discrimination in housing financed by federal agencies;
Through ending restrictive policies of realty boards;
By prohibiting the exploitation of minorities as practiced by un-lawful realty interests in the Cost of housing.
With the demand that urban-renewal programs for 'slum clearance' do not become thinly-disguised 'Negro clearance programs.

CITIZEN PROTECTION:
Thorugh a realistic investigation of police brutality;
With legislation making law enforcement officials and arresting officers liable for damages arising out of false arrests;
Through programs to effect tax relief for small businessmen and property owners;
By expanding consumer protection laws.

EQUITABLE SOCIAL WELFARE:
Through increased unemployment insurance benefits;
With the benefits of senior citizens to increase in proportion to the cost of living;
By a realistic federal health insurance program with local administration.



INTEGRITY IN LABOR UNIONS:
Through supporting the trade union movement;
With full support of the fight to end ALL discrimination in trade unions as waged by A. Phillip Randolph and others.

JUST CIVIL SERVICE POLICIES:
With legislation weighing oral examinations not to exceed 10% of the total examination score;
By eliminating the 'rule of three';
Through the support of wage increases for all civil service personnel;
With a fair policy of upgrading positions based on merit.

DEVELOPING BETTER YOUTH PROGRAMS:
With improved counselling and guidance opportunities for our junior citizens through community agencies;
Through increased recreational facilities for minority youth;
By lowering the voting age to 18 years.

FAIR REDISTRICTING:
Through the encouragement and support of an equitable and sociological reappointment based upon population, needs of the community, and the elimination of special political and financial interests which have created 'ghettos.'

DERRICKS STATED, I PLEDGE MYSELF to work for the solution of the problems of ignorance, prejudice, and discrimination;
I PLEDGE MYSELF to support the right of those who walk, ride-in, wade-in, sit-in or even die for freedom;
I PLEDGE MYSELF to the support of the right of selective buying and the demand to work where we spend our money; and further,
I PLEDGE MYSELF to the support of qualified Negro candidates for public office.
FINALLY, because we have reached a time in history which demands of us thoughtfulness, conviction, and action, I dedicate myself, without reservation, to our fight for freedom."

STARTS YOUNG — Baby Karen Walker has started to make her mark early in life. She won second prize in a baby contest at the St. James Community Baptist Church, and received as her award a Safety Savings savings account. Recall Group Seeks Dollar Contributions

As the petition campaign for the recall of Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth in the 10th district passed the half-way mark, the Recall Committee inaugurated a drive for "Determination Dollars" to give needed financial backing to the campaign.

The first 3500 of the required 7000 signatures have been obtained and a dent has been made in the second 3500, stated the Rev. H. Hartford Brookins, chairman of the committee.

"Community response has been most gratifying," he said, "Campaign costs, however, continue to mount and we must meet them if victory is to be won."

Dr. Brookins went on to point out that recall was the one means now available for the people to determine who shall represent them in the City Council.

"Adequate representation in the 10th District means as much or more to the entire Negro community of Los Angeles as it does to the district itself," he continued. "Contributions for self-determination from people in all areas is a worth-while investment in democracy."

For purposes of convenience a coupon blank for identification of the donor is being printed in this issue of the California Eagle. Readers are urged to clip it, fill it in, attach a dollar and send it to the Recall Committee.

Practical Nurse Swallows 12 Sleeping Pills

Christabell Gary, 29, a practical nurse, was reported to be in good condition after being taken to the hospital when she was found in a deep sleep from taking 12 sleeping tablets. She said she wanted to kill herself because her husband was untrue to her.

Mrs. Gary went to the home of her sister, Rose Townsend, at 2048 E. 97th street, shortly after 9:15 a.m. last Friday after an argument with her husband Rufus.

Gary told police that she had said, "You won't have anything in your way now. There is an envelope on the dresser for Rose upstairs." He said she then went to sleep on the chair in the kitchen.

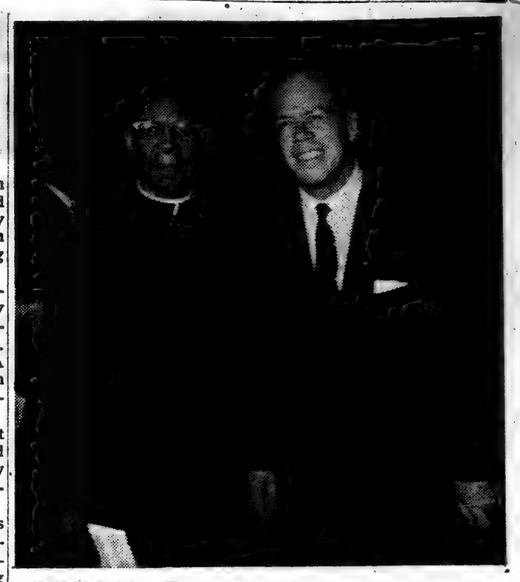
Troubled man to companion: "Sometimes I get the feeling that Scotch tape and bobbie pins are all that hold civilization together."

Group Saluted By Democrats Child Center

The Parents Group to Retain Child Care Centers was saluted by the Democratic Community Organizations and given an award at a "Salute to Young Leadership" last Saturday.

The organizations' Public Welfare award was presented by Dr. Ralph Richardson, president of the Board of Education. In his comments, he said "A moral error might have been committed by the Board of education this spring . . ."

He was referring to the fact that 13 child care centers would have been closed, to make way for classrooms to help overcome half-day sessions.



But a "group of mothers spoke before the Board of Education with conviction and eloquence. They said working mothers would have to stay at home to care for their children and turn to public welfare for support," Richardson recalled.

Several hundred mothers were involved, and they reminded the board of its responsibility of maintaining the centers.

These centers were organized during the war by the state.

In 1957, they were put under the jurisdiction of the local boards of education, but the State failed to inform the local boards that they had the responsibility of carrying the centers' financial burden, Richardson stated.

Mrs. Mary Bailey, secretary of the Parents Group, accepted the award saying: "The Parents Group publicly thanks Dr. Richardson for his support . . ."

'DEMOCRATS NEED PRAYERS, TOO' — So quipped Father H. Randolph Moore at the testimonial dinner last week for GOP Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel at the Beverly Hilton, at which he gave the benediction. Father Moore, rector of St. Phillips Episcopal Church, a staunch Republican, had somehow been invited to the Demos' recent dinner for Pres. Kennedy. He is shown with Sen. Kuchel.

Beach Apartment House Picketed for Racial Bias

Thirty members of the Santa Monica NAACP and CORE picketed the Coral Tree Manor apartments, 2101-09 Virginia street, Santa Monica, for over three hours last Saturday in protest against the eviction of a white woman, allegedly because she was seen in the company of a Negro, and planned to marry a Negro.

C. Garland, E. G. Allen and I. Hilliard of the NAACP and Bob Singleton of CORE were among those on the picket line.

The 40-apartment building is in a mixed neighborhood, but has only white tenants.

BANK OWNED

Mrs. Rae Yaller, member of CORE Housing Committee who investigated the complaint, told the Eagle that when she interviewed the managers, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, they told her that the owner, a bank, has a "special house for Negroes," and suggested that the young woman who was evicted could move there.

Mrs. Yaller said, "The FHA financed building is controlled by Mrs. Audrey Royall, a Pacific Palisades real estate broker," and that the owner of the building is a bank.

Mrs. Yaller reported that Mrs. Royall refused to grant her committee an interview.

NO VACANCY

In a test case, CORE sent a white woman and a Negro woman to apply for an apartment. The white woman was offered an apartment; the Negro woman was told there were no vacancies.

Mrs. Sarah Young, who said she was refused an apartment, asserted that she plans to file a suit claiming damages on the grounds of discrimination.

Breakfast Club Friends Bring Cans of Food

The true spirit of Christmas pervaded the Clark Hotel at the Women's Sunday Morning Breakfast Club's December meeting. A glittering Christmas tree adorned with shimmering ornaments along with the sudden appearance of Santa himself were the centers of attraction for the early morning crowd,

The theme might well have been, "It's more blessed to give than to receive." This feeling seemed to prevail in the overflow audience. Each member and guest brought food and gifts and packed every available space in the Turquoise Room and the adjacent dining area.

The big crowd responded also with cash donations during the impressive lighting of the candles in observance of the Yuletide. The money will enable the club to provide the "extras" in the Christmas baskets, which will be distributed to deserving families by this civic-minded group, headed by Mrs. Theresa Lindsay.

The regulars in the music department and Santa Claus were the recipients of gifts for the outstanding services they have donated to the Breakfast Club since its inception. The musical group consists of Hazel Chapman and George Smith, soloists, and Bernice Lawson, accompanist.

Mrs. Ruth Morris Graham, board member of McCarty Memorial Christian Church and world traveler, was the keynote speaker.

Right Wingers and Racism

A few weeks ago we remarked that the ever growing extreme right wing movement is attracting racists to its banner and is adopting their beliefs and attitudes on racial issues. Senator Barry Goldwater, we pointed out, is urging a constitutional amendment to permit the states to impose racial segregation in schools. Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina is a darling of these right wingers.

General Edwin Walker, who resigned from the army when he was called to account for his official support of the John Birchers, joined the pack last week when he made the bald charge that the Little Rock disturbances were the work of Communist agitators. Nothing could be further from the truth. Little Rock's violence grew out of Gov. Faubus's refusal to obey the law and his deliberate whipping up of the mob spirit.

Even more shocking than Gen. Walker's statement was that made at the Project Alert meeting in Los Angeles that Chief Justice Earl Warren deserves hanging for his decisions. Everybody knows that a large share of the attack on Chief Justice Warren stems from hatred of his school decisions. The first charge that the chief justice was a Communist dupe came from southerners railing at those decisions.

Project Alert dabbled in international affairs on the side of reactionary racism when it imported a speaker from New York to whoop it up for Katanga Premier Tshombe. Tshombe is trying to divide the Congo to serve the interests of Belgian industrialists and has become the pet of colonialists the world over for his efforts. He is Africa's modern day Uncle Tom.

The American extreme right, it appears, would not only preserve American racial segregation where is exists and restore it where it has been outlawed at home but would also throw the nation's weight behind outworn colonialism in the sphere of international relations.

Negroes have a large stake in the preservation of the social gains which the extreme right wingers would destroy and they have a special stake in guarding the civil rights gains under right wing attack.

Foot-in-Mouth Fire Chief

Fire Chief William Miller tried to be profound and only succeeded in sounding ridiculous when he whined last week that he and the other chiefs "believe in equality" in the department but that it "cannot be enforced." "It's pretty hard" he said "to tell one man to cook for another man or to eat with him. About the only place they do that is in jails."

The trouble with Chief Miller is that he is still operating the department on the theory that white firemen have the right to dictate its policies. They do not. When a man accepts public employment he obligates himself to observe whatever conditions are imposed on him, no matter how onerous he may find them.

A public agency, such as the Los Angeles fire department, is bound by the Constitution to "enforce" equality of treatment as between employes and it cannot evade that obligation. It must enforce that constitutional command.

Equality in the constitutional sense means that all employes must have full access to all facilities and, more, that there can be no racial segregation, either in theory or in practice, in the use of those facilities.

Where firemen are permitted to use city facilities to prepare and serve food the Constitution requires that all firemen be admitted to the mess. By the same token the fire department cannot set aside some beds for Negro firemen and other beds for white firemen. If there are firemen who cannot stomach these requirements they can exercise their undoubted right to seek employment elsewhere in the hope that they can find jobs tailored to fit their discriminatory tastes.

The short of the matter is that the Constitution is color blind and that there are no "Negro" and no "whilte firemen" in a legal sense. There are only firemen who must be dealt with as individuals and every one of whom must have every right and privilege enjoyed by his fellow employes.

The Court and Sit-Ins

Last week's Supreme Court decision freeing Louisiana Southern University students who were charged with disturbing the peace because of their sit-down activities does not settle the underlying constitutional issue which was involved, that of whether state prosecution of sit-in defendants is tolerated by the 14th Amendment.

What the Court said was that there was no evidence that the students disturbed the peace by asking for service at a public restaurant and that the prosecutors must prove more than that the students sat down and asked for service.

Southern lawyers have long suspected that disturbance of the peace charges could not stand judicial scrutiny. Dixie legislators have tried to close the gap by passing trespass statutes under which persons who refuse to leave a place of business after having been requested to do so are guilty of a crime. Convictions under those statutes are being appealed.

Thus the Court only delayed the day when it must decide whether or not state laws enacted to expedite racial discrimination by private persons is consonant with the requirements of the 14th Amendment.

The Court's neglect of the fundamental constitutional question in last week's case is consistent with its long practice. It will not reach such questions when the case before it can be decided on other grounds.

Difference in Percentages

The United States Civil Rights Commission observed in a recent report that there are "Negro" jobs in public service as well as in private employment and that those jobs are on the bottom rung of the civil service ladder.

That observation is borne out by employment statistics in the Los Angeles postoffice.

Approximately 55 to 60 per cent of postal employes in the city are Negroes, a disparity accounted for by the fact that many Negroes have gone into public service because of lack of opportunity in private employment.

The success in gaining employment in the postoffice is much greater than that in winning promotions in the department: only some 11 per cent of the supervisorial employes of the Los Angeles postoffice are Negroes! Most of the better jobs, a preponderant majority, go to the white minority.

Of course, the postoffice pretends that promotions are based purely on merit and that there is no discrimination in upgrading on the job. That's face saving nonsense. That has always been the claim and it was maintained with a straight face even when conditions were much worse than they are now. Credit for the improvement that does exist belongs to Michael Fanning who was ousted by the Eisenhower administration before he had a chance to complete his reforms. His successor, Otto Oleson, has done little to implement the Fanning policies. He ought to be spurred into action.

Fire Chief Critical of Agitation over Bias

there for a day's assignment.

Chief Miller said that "it is hard to tell a man he must cook for or eat with another man if he doesn't want to" and that he doesn't think "there is a man living who can order it."

PUSH TOO HARD

Miller explained that the philosophy of the department is that it is good to have men eat together but that the situation is "a difficult thing to correct."

He said the department would "attempt to persuade" the men to join a common mess but that the people who "push" so hard for integration "do a great injustice to the overall situation" and particularly to Negro firemen.

UNANIMOUS

Before the meeting began discussing the $5 lunch, the commission unanimously approved proposals of its personnel committee that provided for (1) a written notification to all firemen spelling out the department's non-discriminatory policy in hiring, assigning and promoting firemen; (2) assignment of beds in the stations without regard to race; and (3) changes in examination procedure to lessen the weight of oral exams, particularly in the hiring of new firefighters and the elimination of fire department chiefs from such hearings.

The commission also approved proposals for an educational campaign to be instituted by the department and for steps seeking implementation of the ban on discrimination.

The question of the eating arrangements involved the temporary assignment of Firemen Dermond Patterson, who has been with the department approximately 14 years, and Reginald Ballard, who has been a fireman for approximately the same period of time, to Engine House 57 last Nov. 26.

FINDS NO BIAS

Capt. Fred DeWeese of that station testified that Ballard wasn't particularly interested in joining the mess, but that Patterson indicated he would like to eat lunch with the men and was told to speak to the cook.

The cook reportedly, said, "Okeh, it will cost you $5.

Patterson said, "No thanks," reported back to the captain and asked that the battalion chief, Richard E. Ernest, be notified.

Chief Ernest also testified and said that he went to Engine House 57 immediately and investigated the complaint but was satisfied that no discrimination was involved and made no report of the incident to the department.

STARTED AS JOKE

He corroborated Capt. DeWeese's contention that the whole thing had started as a joke before the men knew that Negroes were being sent to the station.

The fireman who had been asked to do the cooking for the day, F. E. Harris, didn't think much of the job, Capt. DeWeese said, but finally agreed, with the comment, "All right, but it will cost you money."

This happened, both Capt. DeWeese and Chief Ernest stated, before Patterson and Ballard arrived at the station.

METRACAL LUNCH

The Eagle was informed that approximately a week previously Patterson had been assigned to another station for the day and had been told, when he accepted the invitation to join the mess, that that was okeh but that the men were going to have metracal for lunch.

Patterson told the cook to count him out.

When the captain learned what was "cooking," he reportedly said he, too, wanted to be counted out and suggested that he and Patterson and anyone else who wanted to join them should get some food and prepare it themselves. This they did.

The average cost of a day's food, DeWeese said, was $1.50 for two meals, lunch and dinner.

The commission adjourned after hearing Chief Ernest to continue consideration of the $5 meal at today's (Thursday's) meeting.

Scientists Rebuke Racists

and Reason: A Yankee View." Putnam, who admits he is not a scientist, attacked the Supreme Court decision on school segregation with the argument that it "perverts" science by denying the inferiority of the Negro race.

Putnam's publication is being used to disseminate racist poison by Southern state officials and school boards. T. R. Waring, editor of the Charleston, S. C. "News & Courier," wrote a foreword praising the book.

The Louisiana State Board of Edueation made it required reading for "selected college personnel," which includes all deans, professors and other instructional personnel, all students enrolled in courses in Anthropology, Sociology and Psychology as well as students enrolled in the required course on Americanism versus Communism. It has even been made required reading for certain high school students.

'RADICALS'

Governor Ross Barnett of Mississippi was "so impressed" by the book that he officially proclaimed Oct. 26 "Race and Reason Day" throughout the state, on the occasion of a banquet held to honor Putnam.

Governor Patterson of Alabama followed this up with a grant of $3,000 to Wesley C. George, professor of anatomy at the University of North Carolina, to make an "impartial study of the question." George and three other scientists contributed an introduction to Putnam's book, vouching for its "inescapable scientific validity."

Both Putnam and George were taken aback by the rebuke from the American Anthropological Association. Putnam thereupon directed his fire against its members. He accused the Association of "deceiving the American public" and warned that these scientists could no longer "afford the luxury of indulging alien ideologies in their midst." He attributed their unanimous anti-segregationist stand to "hard-core radicals."

This same type of scientific intimidation and suppression of truth about racial equality prevailed in Hitler's Germany.

Professor George and his collaborators who lent their names to this infamous racist publication have confined themselves to complaining about the "impropriety" of passing a resolution on a scientific matter.

Quite appropriately, says "Science," "a spokesman for the Association replies that George and his colleagues have done much the same thing in writing their introduction and that they have nothing to complain of if a much larger body of scientists releases a similar public statement repudiating the racist view."

Supreme Court

lenge to travel segregation is still unsettled.

"Federal court refusal to halt the state prosecution would allow the state to frustrate desegregation of bus and railroad terminals for the indefinite future," the department argued.

Unlucky Bandit

pulled out a gun and demanded money.

Weller started handing it to him, counting out $50.

Two girls entered the store. Vasquez told Weller, "That's enough."

He started backing toward the door. When he reached it he felt for the doorknob. It wasn't there. He turned to see where it was.

Weller, who had been watching for his chance, picked up his .38 pistol and fired, hitting Vasquez in the back.

Vasquez, bleeding from his wound, managed to get into his car and drive away, but apparently he blacked out, for he crashed into a telephone pole and two parked cars at 51st and Ascot.

It was there police found him, wounded, and took him to the prison ward of General Hospital.

Loren Miller says

PEACE, IT'S WONDERFUL

If you missed me last week think nothing of it. I was on a short trip to Washington, D.C. that is, to get a little briefing on the Peace Corps. I think it is only fair to remark here that I needed the information. So did most of the other hundred or so persons who were present. My only excuse for my ignorance is that there are so many things going on these days that it is pretty tough to keep up with everything that's happening.

If I were able to find the scraps of paper on which I kept notes I could be sure that there are only about 35 Negroes out of the more than 800 Peace Corpsmen on active duty or in training. These figures are close enough, in any event. Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director, and his assistant Franklin Williams don't think that it has attracted enough Negroes. Neither do I. That's what the meeting was about.

NO MYSTERY

Contrary to what you may think there's not much mystery about the Corps. It is based on the proposition that Americans can, and should, advance the cause of peace by pitching in and helping their less fortunate neighbors around the world. The way it works is that a nation lets its wants and needs be known and the Peace Corps undertakes to find American citizens who are willing to spend a couple of years giving that help.

Ghana, for example, needed teachers. The Peace Corps found young Americans who were willing to undertake the job. Tanganyika said that it needed surveyors and civil engineers. The Peace Corps found them too. The Corps doesn't leave very much to chance. Those who volunteer their services are trained for the job they are going to do. As I gather it the training is a little rugged but then there is no use sending the unprepared to do any kind of a job.

COMPLETE EQUALITY

Part of the preparation is the advice to volunteers that they must live on the same economic level as the people among whom they will spend their time. Thus an American teacher who goes to Ghana gets the same salary that a Ghana teacher gets. An American surveyor or civil engineer in Tanganyika is on the same salary level as his counterpart in that country. The American gets a little deferred bonus; the Corps salts $75.00 a month away for him and gives him the lump sum after he has served his two years and returns home.

One of the requirements for getting Peace Corps aid is that the country requesting it must agree not to discriminate against Corpsmen on racial or religious grounds. At that point some wag remarked that he supposed that the necessity for public guarantee precluded sending a Peace Corps unit to Mississippi but I don't want to get into that. Just let it pass. Incidentally, and as an indirection of its attitude about 60 of the Corps' 200 staffers are Negroes.

RUN, DON'T WALK

The Peace Corps needs people with all kinds of skills, from bricklaying on up, or down to teaching. The lower limit is 18 but you can enlist until you reach Methuselah's age if you're spry and healthy. I've used African countries in my example but the Corps will help, and is helping, Asian and South American countries as well

I strikes me that a stint in the Peace Corps offers an excellent opportuntiy for young, and not young, Negroes, men or women to help others and at the same time gain experience and skills that will serve in good stead after the return home. For one thing, the Corpsman will have added a knowledge of a foreign language to his information since he is required to learn the language of the country to which he is sent. For another, he will get a chance to sharpen up his leadership qualities and to exploit his skill, whatever it is, to the very limit. He, or she, will be better equipped to earn a living. The way I look at it, if I were young I would run, not walk, to the local postoffice and find out how soon I could get on the Peace Corps rolls.

"What are you reading, my man?" asked the prison chaplain.

"Nothing much, Reverend," replied the prisoner. "Just the usual escape literature."

Many-Sided Conflict Molds Congo Crisis

ernment, backed by the United States and the United Nations, has long been evident.

ALLIED RIFT

The rift that has heretofore been concealed but which the Elizabethville fighting brought out into the open is the struggle among the Western allies for economic and political control of the Congo.

England and France strongly oppose the U.N. action in Katanga, while the United States gives the U.N. endeavor its full backing. Both England and France have heavy investments in Union Miniere and, along with Belgium, are seeking to preserve their stakes in that economic colossus.

The United States, whose nationals have less in the way of investments in the Miniere combine and no politcal say in Katanga, are anxious to make Katanga and its wealth suberdinate to the Central Government, where U.S. influence is strong.

OPPOSED LUMUMBA

The U.N. seemed to favor "federation" of the various provinces and parts of provinces under a nominal central government as long as Premier Patrice Lumumba was the leading figure in Leopoldville.

Lumumba, who was assassinated while in the custody of Tshombe's gendarmes, came closer to being a national leader than any other of the Congolese politicians. He had aspirations for an independent Congo and was willing to play ball with either and/or both the West and the Soviet bloc, but was profoundly distrusted by the West.

Gizenga's base, as was Lumumba's, is in Stanleyville, in Oriental Province. He was Lumumba's vice premier and after Lumumba was murdered, claimed that his regime was the legal government of the Congo. His government was recognized by some 16 nations, including those belonging to the Soviet bloc.

DISTRUSTED BY WEST

Gizenga is now vice premier in the Central Government set-up, but he is distrusted by the West, just as was Lumumba.

Undoubtedly one of the U.N.'s motives in trying to tame Tshombe is in preparation for an eventual attempt to curb Gizenga, coupled with fear that the continuing chaos might strengthen Gizenga's power.

There has been little information in dispatches from the Congo, now or in the past, about Gizenga. He is variously referred to as a "Red" or as "Red-tinged," but almost nothing has been revealed about his background or his policies.

He is believed to share Lumumba's ideal of a strong Congo and seems to have wide support in the northern third or half of the country. But it is difficult to tell from this distance whether or not he has the stature and ability of a national leader who can fire the imagination, command the loyalty and lead the people of the Congo toward the conquest of independence.

Protests Flare In Three Cities

there were the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., who was jailed Saturday as he led hundreds to pray outside City Hall, and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy of Montgomery.

Dr. W. G. Anderson, head of the Albany Movement that led the demonstrations in the small South Georgia city, was arrested along with King, and like King remained in jail until the mass release Monday.

Trials for the 735 persons were postponed indefinitely, apparently in return for a promise from M. S. Page, executive secretary of the Albany Movement, that there would be no further mass demonstrations.

WARNED NEGROES

Mayor Asa Kelley, who had ordered the National Guard to stand by, warned the Negroes as they were being released that "if there are any further demonstrations," it is up to "the discretion of the police chief" to call the cases to trial.

At the height of the Albany demonstration, Dr. Anderson had appealed for aid to the Congress of Racial Equality, the NAACP, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Commitee.

Rev. Abernathy, who made bond after his arrest Saturday, went to Atlanta, SCLC headquarters, where he issued a call for a nationwide pilgrimage to Albany to support the desegregation drive there. He also read a statement he said was prepared by Rev. King again calling upon Pres. Kennedy to issue a "second emancipation proclamation freeing all Negroes from their present state of second class citizenship."

Experienced brewery workers were urged to contact the Lucky Lager Company.

The businessmen also urged qualified, experienced salesmen, sales representatives, clerical and office workers to seek jobs at all beer, liquor, and wine distributors. Among the establishments singled out were Don Snyder, Lanfield Distributors, Milford Distributors, Young's Markets, Hamm's and Falstaff.

Truck drivers will not be able to register at Beer Local 203 until the books open in July and August.

Letters

To the Editor:

Boags Brothers Stand Trial

at 4618 S. Central avenue, had a gash over one eye, contusions and other bruises as proof of his brush with the law.

Donald, displayed a cut and pulpy lip and complained of a back and other injuries.

The officers insisted that they used force only to subdue the two young men, who resisted and attacked them.

OPENED THURSDAY

The trial opened last Thursday in Judge R. Morgan Galbreth's court, with the selection of a jury, which took the rest of that day and all day Friday. There are no Negroes on the jury. Several were on the jury panel but were challenged by the prosecution.

On Monday Deputy D.A. David Hanson began to call his witnesses to the stand. Officer Shore was placed on the stand Monday afternoon for direct examination, and Tuesday was hammered at by Atty. Gerald Lenoir, who is representing Charles Boags, until early afternoon, when Atty. Worrell, who is Robert's attorney, took over the questioning.

TO TAKE STAND

Both brothers intend to take the stand in their own defense, when the prosecution winds up its case. From the early developments of the trial, it appeared as if it would continue until the end of the week.

While there was no open clash between attorneys for the defense and the prosecutor, it seemed to court observers that at times tempers, although held under control, were wearing thin.

Although the police report quoted the arresting officers as claiming that Robert Boags had threatened to attack the policeman, Officer Shore admitted, under Atty. Worrell's questioning, that at no time had Robert been closer to him than 10 feet.

Officer Shore was also accused by the Boags of using insulting language. On the stand he denied using the term "nigger," saying that he was certainly well enough educated to know that the correct term was Negro.

He also was accused of making slurring remarks about Negroes moving into a good neighborhood. This Shore denied.

Christian Answer

By REV. MAURICE A. DAWKINS

NEW DELHI, India — "The very white man who planted Christianity on the soil of Africa is, by what he says, by what he does, and by his way of living, loudly and vigorously uprooting that which he had heroically planted and nursed with love and care, and a thousand times more, with his very life."

So, bluntly, Sir Francis Akanu Ibiam warned assembled Protestant Christian Leaders at the World Council of Churches in India that in Africa Christianity might be destined to "ousting" . . . "first to the background," and "then to the limbo of things forgotten."

In the language of American Jargon, he was saying: "What you do speaks so loudly, we can't hear what you say. "Hitting hard sledge-hammer blows at the evil of racial discrimination within the "Christian World," he stated categorically: "The Church Universal must set itself the big task of removing all unnecessary obstacles which hurt an make difficulties for the African: "Over the years the African has been by design or ignorance denied the rights of the ordinary human being.

A large percentage of the American nation, which boasts of being a Christian people, finds it difficult to acknowledge and accept the black man not only as a stranger within its gates but also as a citizen by right of birth, as a human being deserving of equal treatment and equal opportunity.

The latest exhibition of un-Christian acts is to heap insults on African diplomats only to be followed by apologies.

In Rhodesia, a leading Salisbury doctor was "alarmed at the possibility of disease being transmitted from Africans to Europeans at the swimming pools. This kind of derogatory statement is unacceptable to the African!"

The Financial Secretary of the African Nationalist Party in S. Rhodesia criticized the call for removal of the color bar by Sir Edgar Whitehead, Prime Minister: "We don't want to sit next to Europeans in cinemas or hotels. The time for that is past. This has come too late," he said.

Portugal is busy waging a war of annihilation against the indigenes of Angola. Belgium shamelessly betrayed the Congo, and the European powers are doing their best to disorganize and finally break up that unfortunate country, all because of uranium and copper and gold. This has caused the untimely death of Dag Hammerskjold, one of the finest Christian men of our time . . . If the Western powers had been as eager to unite the people of the Congo as they are towards the unification of Germany, the confusion in Congo might well have been settled long ago.

The Senior Choir and Sunday School of Phillips Chapel CME Church will present a program at the church at 6 p.m. next Sunday. The Christmas tree ceremony will follow. the program. Rev. H. J. Johnson is pastor of the church.

In this nuclear, astronautical age,
When leaders and scientists engage
In talk of bomb shelters and World War III,
We can't fool God with a Xmas tree.

Mrs. Leftridge Writes Annual Christmas Bit

By Camilla Leftridge

Our world must have been in much the same condition morally and spiritually, 1961 years ago as it is now. Perhaps that is the reason why God took direct action against sin by giving to the world His only begotten son, Jesus.

Jesus' mission was to be about His Father's business. To seek and to find the lost sinners and to show them the way to redemption. For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son to save it. What are we willing to give to save others?

Who is responsible for the condition of the world today? As Christians we are busy today preparing our homes, our churches and our community for the annual celebration of Christmas, the anniversary of the birth of the infant Christ into a sin-filled world. We should take time to prepare ourselves for the sacrifice of self to the service of God through His Church.

TEACH AND DIRECT

Christ is the foundation upon which the church is built. Christians are weakening through fear and lack of faith, so the Church begins to lose its effectiveness. Fear of man's inhumanity to man and his misuse of the power he has learned to use in the universe.

At this Christmas season we need to begin the practice of reading daily the word of God as found in the holy scriptures. Our prayer should be: Oh eternal God forgive us for losing our faith in Thee. Forgive our not holding fast to the spiritual sensitivity given by the Holy Spirit. Teach and direct us toward a victorious life in 1962.

Normandie Ave.

The Mission Society of the Normandie Avenue Baptist Church, 1385 W. 37th place, presents Roosevelt Counter and the Rev. Nelson B. Higgins, Jr. in a "Sacred Concert", Dec. 24, at 3:30 p.m.

By special request Rev. Higgins will do "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and "He's Got The Whole World In His Hand."

Zion Hill Orchestra Christmas Concert

The Zion Hill Youth Orchestra, which specializes in sacred music, will present its Christmas Tidings in the main sanctuary of the Church, 5025 McKinley avenue on Sunday, Dec. 24, at 7:30 p.m. The theme of the original work is "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

This group of young musicians has made an enviable record since its establishment as a sacred music orchestra by Rev. T. M. Chambers in 1958. Among its achievements include sacred music concerts throughout the city of Los Angeles and suburbs. The Orchestra is the recipient of the George Putnam Outstanding Youth Group Award for 1960 and has appeared on television in connection with this.

The Christmas presentation, uniquely written for the string section augmented to 30 players, is the original production of the Director, Charles W. Graham. A group of young vocalists will assist. "With a special stage setting, very beautiful special lighting effects that are being built, we believe this will be one of the most colorful, unique and inspiring presentations Los Angeles music-lovers has witnessed," says its director.

Brown Man Ballad Set At Holman

On Sunday, Dec. 24, at 4 p.m., the west coast premiere performance of a Christmas Cantata, "Ballad to a Brown King," will be presented by the Sanctuary choir of the Church of Christian Fellowship at Holman Methodist Church.

This musical work was written by Margaret Bonds, with lyrics by Langston Hughes.

Reportedly fascinated by the idea that a brown man, Balthasar, was present at the birth of Jesus, Miss Bonds commissioned Langston Hughes to compose the lyrics of this cantata which are a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Inspiration for this theme was the culmination of a treatise written by Miss Bond on the life of Martin Luther, the champion of freedom for the German people, when she was a student at Northwestern University. At that time, the eminent brown-skinned namesake of Martin Luther, Martin Luther King, Jr., was at the climax of his "March on Montgomery." Thus a cantata was born.

Under the direction of Albert J. McNeil, this musical composition will be sung by the 40-voice choir of the Church of Christian Fellowship in a special Christmas concert on the above date.

Admission to this performance will be on a sponsorship basis.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

California Eagle Golf Editor

Last week we promised to give you the pleasure of reading what we think is the most beautiful Christmas card of the decade . . . one we received from famous composer Andy Razaf. We were so impressed by his poem that we made the mistake of passing it around the office and our church editor, Mrs. Barbara Mounts, decided that it would be just the poem for her religious section so please turn to the Church News and read this most timely poem.

RUBAIYAT GOLF CLUB

Members of the stage, screen and athletic world joined with the members of the popular Rubaiyat Golf Club to celebrate their first tournament.

The event was held at Las Serrano, one of the most intricate (and wild) golf courses in California. (We will never forget those chicken feathers we saw on the 9th hole that "some kind of cat" had devoured.)

Charlie Sifford was on the scene and he is always a welcome hight at any kind of tournament . . . especially if he will play and give every one about 25 strokes.

Baseball greats Jim Gilliam of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs were on hand to prove that golf is one of the most popular sports even for baseball players.

Lee Young, who is Nat Cole's famous drummer, can also break par. If you play with him on any golf course, ask for strokes. Lee is some kind of genius in golf because he broke a hundred after only playing a few games. It usually takes a year to shoot 99.

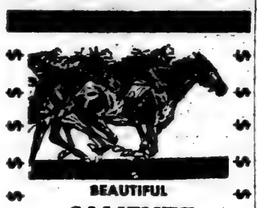
With 34 members participating, the club teed away at 10:30 a.m. There were eight valuable prizes given by the club.

At the end of the day the members and their guests retired to the Rubaiyat Room to enjoy a delightful meal of meat balls and spaghetti.

Some of the top scores were: Bob Williams and Dr. Ollie Grantham, 76; Hazel Owens, 79; Clyde Lewis, 80; Freddy Miller, 71; and "most feared" Ike Lewis, Lou Montgomery and Sandy Santiago tied with identical scores of 71.

Popular president Bill Watkins announced that the next monthly tournament will be held Jan. 23, 1962, at Western Avenue.

Blades Hockey Star Honored By Unity Council Members



Willie O'Ree, L. A. Blades star and the first Negro to play in the National Hockey League, was welcomed to the local Negro community by the Los Angeles Unity Council Tuesday night between game periods at the Sports Arena.

The Reverend Dr. H. Hartford Brookins, Council President, made the presentation in the form of a trophy to O'Ree with the inscription: Willie O'Ree and the Los Angeles Blades Welcome To Our Hearts", Los Angeles Unity Council, 12-12-61.

Welcoming ceremonies included Mrs. Elois Davis, well-known club woman. In attendance as special guests of the Blades were other members of the Council. The proceedings were televised.

O'Ree, left wing for the Blades, began his professional hockey career with the Boston Bruins. He was traded to the Montreal Canadians last year prior to appearing as a Bladesman. He is one of the fastest skaters in the game.

UCLA Grid Team Goes Underground

Friday marks the final day of classes before beginning of Christmas vacation. After that time, grid drills are scheduled for 2:00 p.m. daily during the week, with Thursday and Friday, Dec. 21-22, set as "open house" for visiting press from other parts of the country.

On Tues., Dec. 26, the Bruins take an early workout, then move en masse to the Lafayette Hotel, Long Beach, until game time. Daily workouts through Dec. 30 are scheduled for Long Beach City College.

The Bruins' two-man tailback combine of Bobby Smith and Mike Haffner, who dominated the Big Five rushing and total offense last fall, appeared to be in keen shape after a week of work on UCLA's four-mile cross country course.

Opening against the Gophers, however, would be Smith, teaming with Quarterback Bob Stevens, Wingback Kermit Alexander and Fullback Almose Thompson.

Arthur Ashe Jr. No. 1 Net Star

Arthur Ashe, Jr., UCLA's tennis star with the booming service and powerful smashes, was ranked No. 1 in the 1961 Rankings of the American Tennis Association last week.

Carolyn Williama, of Portsmouth, Virginia was ranked No. 1 in the Women's Singles. The top spot in the Men's Doubles was given to Ashe and Ronald Charity. Ashe as a member of UCLA team won his second straight indoor national junior tennis singles championship.

Zaby Romps But Redlands Win Title

Biaggio Zaby, El Rancho's brilliant halfback took a screen pass late in the second quarter and hot footed 64 yards to put his team out in-front of Redland in the CIF Southern League championship game last Friday night.

However, in the second half Redland's quarterback Steve Taylor got hot and drove his team to seven first downs and led a two touchdowns rally to give Redlands a thrilling 14 to 6 win and the CIF Crown.

Zaby, a kin of the well known Zabys at 51st and Ascot, was the leading scorer in the CIF loop during the season and is a senior and ticketed for the University of Southern California, where his uncle Joh Zaby was a big star in the 30's.

H. A. Howard Departs for West Indies

On the eve of his departure for his native home in the West Indies, H. A. Howard, well known insurance broker and former newspaper owner and publisher, was elected president of the local chapter of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

Howard, who is known throughout the state of California as the founder of several insurance and other institutions, left Thursday by jet over National Airlines for Jamaica to spend Christmas with his sister whom he hasn't seen for 43 years.

During the 40 years he has been a resident of Los Angeles he has been affiliated with many church, civic and social organizations. He has been an active member and has served on the vestry of St. Philip's Church ever since he first came to the city.

He holds life memberships in the University of Southern California Trojan Club, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity and the NAACP. He served at one time as vice-president of that association.

Howard will visit relatives and friends in the islands during the holidays.

Attorney Earl C. Brody Honors Curtis Taylor's 65th Birthday

Southlanders are in the mist of a storm of Christmas parties as the holidays near. One of the best affairs ushering in the holiday season was that of Atty. Earl Brody held in his rambling and palatial Beverly Hills home at 1003 Benedict Canyon, honoring Atty. Curtis C. Taylor on his 65th birthday.

Between 35 and 40 of the city's leading attorneys attended the strictly stag dinner party.

Atty. Taylor, called the dean of California Negro lawyers has been practicing in Los Angeles for the past 34 years and one of his many celebrated cases was Suttles vs. Hollywood Turf Club, which he won in 1932 permitting Negro racetrack goers to be admitted to the Turf Club.

Taylor attended Prairie View College in Texas and graduated from Howard University Law School in 1926.

He moved to California in 1927, passed the bar the same year and was admitted to practice, also in 1927. He organized the Prairie View Alumni Club and served as its president for a number of years.

In 1959 he was invited back to Prairie View to give the commencement address to the graduating class.

A flashy dresser in the early days of his law practice, Taylor's quick repartee and aggressive manner made him one of the most popular Negro lawyers in the early 30's and late 40's and he is credited with helping numbers of young lawyers on the way up. One such was Atty. Brody.

Although Atty. Taylor has been honored on a number of other occasions, it is very doubtful if as many distinguished barristers and judges have ever assembled together as they did for his birthday party last Sunday.

Assisting Atty. Brody with the party was his charming wife, Maude, who was attractively attired in tapered afternoon slacks who made each gentlemen feel delightfully at ease. Catering the party in the Brody's dramatic mansion was Mrs. Geraldine Peterson and her staff who deserve credit for an especially wonderful job.

Among the noted attorneys present were: U.S. Asst. Atty. General James R. Akers, Charles and Robert Boags, Leo Branton Jr., George Cannady, Carl A. Earles, Herman English, Lloyd C. Griffith, Robert Hall, Elbert Hudson, Ivan Johnson III, Edward Maddox, Stanley Malone, Charles Matthews, Loren Miller, Billy Mills, Thomas Neusom, Calvin Porter Jr., Everette Porter, Robert Robinson Jr., Charles Scarlett, Theodore Schaffer, Harold Sinclair, Sherman Smith, Jack Tenner, Leon Thompson, Maceo Tolbert, B. B. Bratton, Vince M. Townsend Jr., Willard Woods and Crispus Wright.

The judges included Superior Court Judge Bernard Jefferson and Municipal Court Judge Thomas L. Griffith. Other guests were Celes King III, Wendell Green, Harry Adams and Cliff Hall.

Also two merchandise checks were brought in from Nu Alpha Iota Chapter of Alpha Chi Pi Omega for the purchase of food to help fill baskets for a Merry Christmas to families who are alone and friendless.

Publicity chairman Leola Nicolis served as mistress of ceremonies. The devotion and welcome address were rendered by John Richardson.

Cancer Society Holds Party

District 11 American Cancer Society's December meeting was in the form of a Christmas Party held in the home of Mrs. Harriet Allen, district staff executive, 1915 W. 112th street. Mrs. Allen was assisted by her daughter Lorraine who served as a very charming and helpful co-hostess.

After luncheon gifts were exchanged following a unique system by which each one in turn selected a wrapped gift from under the tree. The unique part was that the one whose turn it was to select a gift could either choose a gift from under the tree or could choose any gift received by people before her turn.

It was sometimes hard to decide whether to choose a known gift held by people who had previously taken and unwrapped their gift or gamble on a wrapped present under the tree. This system caused many gifts to change ownership many times before the final gift was chosen.

Following the exchange of gifts guests gathered around the piano and sang Christmas carols under the direction of Mrs. Freita Shaw Johnson, 1712 E. 114th street, district chairman of Volunteers and a noted concert singer.

The Ladies of Paradise Club entertained some 200 guests last Sunday evening in the new Candelabra Hall, newest addition to Marty's Lounge at 58th and S. Broadway.

Club members were radiant in black after-five gowns, and the newly decorated hall provided a beautiful background for the club's affair.

Ladies of Paradise members playing the role of Santa Claus, gave away a beautiful Grundig - Majestic Entertainment Center. It was awarded to K. Landcaster of 2600 Edgehill Drive, Steve Stevenson received a tape recorder; he lives at 338 W. Greenleaf; and Jack Winston was given a transistor radio, he resides at 2648 Rimpau.

WHAT'S DOING

K. H. Quigley, your Telephone District Manager in Los Angeles

If you're in charge of entertainment for your next year's club events, you might be interested in the large number of films that can be made available here at the telephone business office.

From musicals to interior decorating to the Bell System science shows that have been on television, these films cover a wide range of subjects. Ones on communication systems like air defense networks and missiles are timely and interesting.

Whatever your club's meeting is about, we probably have a film that will add to the program. Why not check with us about them? There's no charge, of course.

Toolchests on wheels—if you gave this name to the familiar telephone installation trucks you see here in town, you'd hit the nail right on the head.

When they roll out for a day's work, they carry everything from screwdrivers to shovels to color phones. Generally, there are about 400 tools and pieces of equipment aboard—all the things needed for both the expected and unexpected in taking care of your telephone service.

"Around The World With Flowers" is the theme of the Tournament of Roses Parade this New Year's Day. Pacific Telephone will bring you complete coverage on Channel 11, KTTV, starting with the pre-parade line-up at 6:00 a.m. and continuing until 1:00 p.m. Ever-popular Bill Welch will be on hand to give us first-hand descriptions of the lovely floats and highlights of the event. For most complete coverage be sure to stay tuned to Channel 11, KTTV, through the entire day's activities.

new penny and with that sweet smell of success . . . We romped over to the Rubaiyat Sunday at Nancy Wilson's husband Kenny's request to see our gal pal being tendered a testimonial from genial Bill Watkins. Nancy the Capitol recording star, is one of the most unaffected thrushes in the business. She's a sweet thing who has a smile for everyone. And she has a way with a song that makes you wonder how you've got along without her all these years . . .

Actor Irving Mosely who made all the daily papers last week after bruising Sammy Davis with a left to the jaw (just under the orb that Sammy lost in that accident) dropped by to demonstrate how it all happened. They were rehearsing the fight scene for the Dick Powell Show called "The Legend" . . . Sammy was supposed to duck the blow but didn't and got his skin broken by a left from Mosely. Mosely felt so badly about it all, but Sammy, a sweet guy, put him at his ease telling him to "forget it."

Stork News: Actress Alibi Copage and her realtor husband expect another visit from the long legged bird . . . The Eugene Church pair welcomed a baby boy last week . . . Dorothy Dandridge and Spouse Jack Dennison share co-billing with the Lee Brantons (Gerri) as godparents of the Nat and Maria Cole twins . . .

Playwright Jewel "As a Twig Is Bent" Adams phoned us that she's back in town from San Francisco to peddle a new play called "Why?" and that she already has a buyer . . . Also

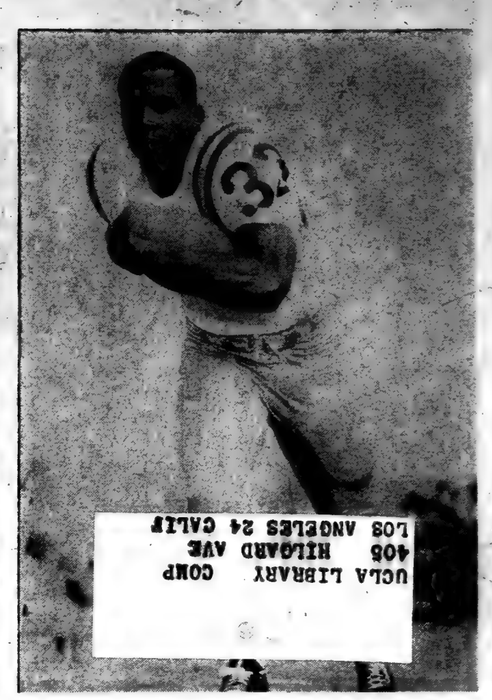
Negro Players in Key Spots in Rose Bowl Classic



UCLA — Bob Smith, tailback recently voted the Most Valuable Player on the Bruins football squad, has developed into one of the most exciting players in the Big Five Conference.

MINNESOTA — Sanford (Sandy) Stephens will become the first Negro quarterback who calls team plays to appear in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl classic, the greatest of all Bowl games.

GOPHER — Bobby Bell, Minnesota's All-American tackle, is 218 pounds, 6-4, 21, and a sophomore, and hopes to aid his team in its first Rose Bowl triumph, New Year's Day in Pasadena.

Woman Wounds 'Prowler'

"I didn't know you were cops. I thought you were coming after me."

That was the explanation Mrs. Ella Carter, 59, of 4072½ S. San Pedro street, gave for firing her .38 caliber pistol through her bedroom window at a man she said was climbing up the window to the barber shop in front of her house.

OFFICER SHOT

She heard the man yell, and fired a second time. The man returned the fire.

Both Mrs. Carter, and the "prowler" were wounded.

The man shot by Mrs. Carter was Newton Street officer H. R. Batterton, who was working the vice detail in plain clothes.

With his partner, D. J. Harper, Batterton suspected gambling was in progress in the closed barber shop and slipped around to the rear entrance. Harper posted himself on the porch, Batterton at the door.

HEARD SHOT

Harper heard a window open, saw a flash of light and then heard the report of a shot. He felt debris fall on top of him. He jumped from the porch and joined Batterton.

Batterton reportedly held up his badge and yelled, "Police officer! Stop shooting!"

But the figure at the window fired a second time and Bat-

Stephens, Smith are Players to Watch

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

This year the colorful Tournament of Roses in Pasadena on New Year's Day will be more colorful than ever before, at least as far as the teams and the floats are concerned.

There are more Negro players on both teams and there will be more tan beauties in the parade than at any time in the past.

PRETTY LASSES

Several pretty brown-skinned lasses will decorate the various floats. Among them will be a representative from Oceanside, while UCLA will have its Pearl Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Robinson, on the City of Los Angeles' International Float.

In the afternoon in the Rose Bowl the Gophers will be playing in their second Bowl game, having dropped a 17-7 thriller to Washington in 1961. Minnesota is loaded with tan stars.

Heading the talented football squad is All-America Quarterback Sandy Stephens, a strong runner, an average passer and a good punter. Stephens came west as a T-quarterback on last year's Gopher team but didn't make a great impression on the town folks.

COACH IN FIELD

Since that New Year's Day game, he has developed into an excellent quarterback and was largely responsible for the team's 7 wins and 2 loss record that gave them second place standing behind Ohio State in the Big Ten Conference.

Stephens passed for 794 yards and six touchdowns while running the team like a coach on the field. The Gopher Rose Bowl party includes 47 men; 17 players will be making their second trip to the Pasadena classic. Among them are Bill Munsey, Judge Dickson, Bob Deegan, Bobby Bell and John Mulvena. Dickson, Munsey and Bell are starters. Dickson is the No. 1 fullback, Munsey is the swiftest man on the team (he operates at the half), and Bell is the Gopher's sterling All-American tackle.

INTEGRATED TEAM

While Minnesota boasts a number of brown players to go with their famed "Little Brown Jug," UCLA's team is by no means a candidate for the Sugar Bowl down in New Orleans. The Bruins' 1961 squad is one of the nation's outstanding integrated college teams. Leading players include tailback Bobby Smith, voted the most valuable player on the

Kennedy May Place Weaver In His Cabinet

President Kennedy is expected to create a new, cabinet-level department on housing and urban affairs and is believed prepared to appoint Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Finance Agency, as head of that department, Washington officials said Tuesday.

But, hand in hand with this, the President is going to shelve for the time being the anticipated executive order banning segregation in all publicly financed or federally assisted housing, these sources stated.

Appointment of Weaver to such a post would mark the first time a Negro has been appointed to the cabinet. It would be a dramatic move, certain to ap-

Tenant Asks Court Ruling On Eviction

May a landlord evict a tenant solely because of the tenant's race?

That was the question being pondered by the Appellate Department of the Superior Court which took such a case under submission after hearing arguments last Thursday. The tenant is William D. Hutchinson, Caltech graduate, who was ousted by his landlord from an apartment at 733 West Foothill blvd. last August.

Hutchinson charged that the ouster was due to his race but Monrovia Municipal Judge John A. Sturgeon refused to listen to his plea on that score and ordered his eviction. Hutchinson appealed and Superior Court Judges Frank Swain, Harold Huls and A. Curtis Smith heard his case last week.

Atty. Loren Miller, representing Hutchinson, told the appeals court that the 14th Amendment forbids the state from using its power to assist the landlord. Such an order, he said, was use of state power to effectuate a racial discrimination. The court was urged to reverse the Monrovia judge and order Hutchinson restored to his apartment. Attorneys for the Civil Liberties Union assisted Hutchinson.

Trouble for Hutchinson began, he said, when the landlord, th

Cotton Hoses Down 'Lucky' Picket Line

By ROBERT FARRELL

Cordier Cotton called the Lucky Lager boycotters a bunch of cowards for putting a protest line in front of his liquor store at Western and 35th place Saturday afternoon.

When the protest line was at its height, Cotton came out of his store to wash down the sidewalk, and in the process wet the shoes and clothing of some of the walkers. He also called the police.

MOTORCADE

Saturday's action came after the California Negro Businessmen's Association stated they would picket retail outlets of Lucky Lager in the local community.

A CNBA motorcade went through the community urging the public not to buy Lucky Lager. It started on Adams blvd., and tooted and honked its way to the Cotton Boys store. There ten CORE members got out of the cars and started the protest line. The motorcade then blew and blared south and east, through Watts and Compton.

A few hours later the cars returned to the Cotton Boys store, displaying various signs on the "Don't Buy Lucky Lager" theme. Twenty riders joined the CORE group on the line.

LIKE CRABS

Cotton said, "I employ six Negroes. The whole stock here, the property is owned and op-

Opal Jones Robbed on Xmas Eve

On the night before Christmas, Opal Jones, executive director of the Avalon Community Center, was engaged in one of her boundless efforts to bring Christmas cheer to joyless homes when burglars ransacked her apartment to the tune of close to $3000.

Mrs. Jones and her husband, Robert E. Jones, an operators' license examiner in the Dept. of Motor Vehicles, were delivering turkey baskets to two families in South Los Angeles.

As she left the building at 1118 S. St. Andrews place, Mrs. Jones had noticed two men driving by very slowly in an ancient model Buick.

At about 7:45 p.m. Sunday, while Mr. and Mrs. Jones were away, two burglars used a screw driver to pry off the screen of a rear bedroom window and opened the window.

One of the men crawled in-

Five Downtown Movie Houses To Be Picketed

The Hollywood Race Relation Bureau is set to picket the five first-run theaters in downtown Los Angeles this Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 p.m., according to Caleb Peterson, president and founder.

The picketing, said Peterson, who has just returned to Los Angeles from a concert tour, is in protest against Hollywood's non-realistic portrayals of Negroes in motion pictures.

About 25 men and women are expected to participate, according to Peterson, in a flying picket line that will proceed from theater to theater to bring the protest forcibly to the attention of the movie-going public.

Bias in Placement of Teachers Reported

A survey conducted by the Urban League showing a heavy concentration of Negro teachers in "Negro" schools and the difficulties encountered by individual teachers seeking transfers is to be presented to the Board of Education, together with recommendations for overcoming this lopsided distribution, the Eagle was informed this week.

The survey was undertaken after teachers complained to the League of what they considered highly discriminatory treatment.

Wesley Brazier, executive secretary of the Urban League, told the Eagle that this is the third such survey the League has made, but would not divulge the findings until after it had been officially presented to the Board of Education.

The survey was approved at the Nov. 28 meeting of the League's board of directors and Atty. Harold Roth was asked to write to the Board of Education requesting that the League be given an opportunity to present its findings to that body.

No date, however, has been set for Board consideration of the League's request.

The first survey conducted by the League was made in 1956-57, the second in 1958-59 and the third, the one just completed, in 1960-61.

Need for the surveys developed when, in the face of numerous complaints to the League by Negro teachers, the Board of Education pointed out that its records do not designate race and that therefore it has no way of determining distribution or tranfer data based on race.

NAACP Backs Rep. Bolling

NEW YORK — The NAACP strongly backs Rep. Richard Bolling of Missouri for House majority leader when Congress reconvenes in January.

Based on an examination of his voting record and that of Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, also a candidate for majority leader, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, states that Bolling chalked up 26 "right" votes on civil rights.

Boags Bros. Trial Enters Third Week

The prosecution was still presenting witnesses and attorneys for the defense were grilling them in sharply pointed cross-examination as the trial of the Boags brothers neared the end of its second week.

Charles Donald Boags, 32, deputy public defender, and Attorney Robert Boags, 35, have been charged with five counts each involving drunkenness, disturbing the peace, interfering with an officer and two counts of battery.

On Tuesday afternoon Officer G. F. Adams, one of the arresting officers was on the stand, and was expected to return Wednesday morning, to give his version of the events that led to the arrest and beating administered to the two attorneys in the Wilshire Police Station last Sept. 17.

Adams admitted the beating at Wilshire, but claimed that the force used by the officers was made necessary when Charles Boags hit Officer B. F. Shaw with handcuffs.

Witnesses were excluded from the courtroom of Judge R. Morgan Galbreath until their turn to take the stand. The stories

Santa Monica Apt. Building Again Picketed

Santa Monica CORE picketed the Coral Tree Manor apartments for the second time Saturday afternoon, when 30 pickets walked to protest the discriminatory renting policy of the apartment building, which is located in a mixed neighborhood.

Mrs. Sarah Young, of 1842 22nd street, Santa Monica, said she has been refused an apartment in the building at 2101-09 Virginia street. She is seeking legal redress.

WON'T CONFER

A CORE spokesman said the management of the building has refused to sit down and discuss its rental policy. In the absence of any sign of cooperation from the owners, CORE has decided to picket, he said.

Eugene Rudolph said when a CORE representative telephoned Mrs. Audrey Royall, agent of the building's owner, she said she would not negotiate, and that if Negroes wanted the apartments, they could buy them. A CORE representative called a second time and was told she was not in. The third time a CORE member called, her secretary said Mrs. Royall was in Mexico, and she would not be back until late in January.

FIRST STEP

Rudolph, executive director of Santa Monica CORE, said this was just a first step in a bigger program which CORE intends to spread through Santa Monica and West Los Angeles.

Many Negroes in Santa Monica will have to leave their homes in the near future to make room for a freeway. Rudolph said relocation is going to be a problem, for there is not enough room for all the displaced people in the present minority area. Most of these residents do not want to leave Santa Monica, but have encountered discrimination when they have sought housing in "white" areas, he said.

Hard Luck Stalks Man Seeking Pool Bet Return

A lost wager in a pool game and the loser's determination to get his money back cost Willie James Jenkins a broken head and a booking by police officers last Thursday.

The altercation came after what started out to be a friendly little game of pool between Jenkins and Floyd Kinney, of 1583 E. 22nd street. Jenkins lost the wager, but demanded his money back. When Kinney refused to give him the money, Jenkins left.

Witnesses said that about 30 minutes later Jenkins returned with a .12 gauge shotgun.

"Where's Bo?" he demanded, "I'm going to get my money back."

Kinney looked around into the muzzle of the gun. He struck out at it. As the barrel pointed toward the ceiling, the gun was discharged. Kinney then grabbed the gun from Jenkins and broke it over Jenkins' head.

Police officers arrived and, after treating Jenkins for head wounds, booked him for assault with a deadly weapon.

South Could Copy Harvard

In 1848 the issue of racial segregation was faced squarely at Harvard by President Edward Everett and settled for future generations.

Said he: "If this boy passes the examinations, he will be admitted; and, if the white students choose to withdraw, all the income of the college will be devoted to his education."

Since dark-skinned peoples are the preponderant majority of the world's population, an argument might be made for the proposition that whites are freaks.

'Hairline' Style Show To be Presented Sunday

Hairlines for the busy woman will be the dominant feature of "Hairline Views of '62," presented Sunday, Dec. 31, at 5 p.m., at the Golden State Auditorium.

Though she be housewife or career woman her hair must remain in such condition that she is ready to meet the public at a moment's notice, according to Val Love, director of the musical-fashion-hairstyle show.

"The keynote to such preparation is the durability of the treatment and control of the hair," says Miss Love. "Our aim is to prove this technique during Sunday's presentation."

Music, too, will be featured as the talents of Bixie Crawford, Clyde Lee, Michael Terry and Clarence Alford's Trio are reviewed.

Also included as the main tour de force are the more than 30 models of varying hair type and texture who will delineate tomorrow's modern hair styles.

Hairline Views is sponsored by the Lovelyettes with Attorney Jim Rogers as special advisor.

Unless an entire historic trend is unaccountably reversed, man will not blow up his world in a nuclear holocaust. But he will blow up the barriers to further social progress.

NEW JOBS — Shown above are drivers for the Archie Moore Milk Co., and their trucks. They are the first Negro wholesale drivers in the dairy industry in Los Angeles. The members of the Teamsters Wholesale Dairy and Ice Cream Drivers Union No. 306 are, from left: Richard Williams, Harold Peters, Worth Johnson and Lee Cheshier, route supervisor. (Adams).

NEW VENTURE — Archie Moore is shown holding a carton of his new Archie Moore milk and some of the modern equipment installed in this first venture by local Negro businessmen in milk processing and distribution. (Adams).

Archie Moore Milk Opens Up New Field

"This is the first time Negroes are bottling and packing a basic commodity, dairy products," said Jack Fortson, vice-president of Archie Moore Foods, in an interview with the Eagle Friday.

Archie Moore is president of the Archie Moore Foods organization, whose business office is located at 1022 La Cienega blvd.

NEW JOBS

The company owns all the dairy equipment in its Slauson avenue plant, and new delivery trucks, and gets its milk from a co-op which includes Negro members.

As a result of the formation of this company, new jobs have been made available in the dairy industry for Negroes. Former all white unions have been opened up, as have jobs within the dairy plants, Fortson said.

Archie Moore's products come as buttermilk, homogenized and non-fat milk in quarts and half gallons. A full line of Archie Moore dairy products will be marketed within thirty days, and Archie Moore ice cream will be available by spring, Fortson said.

TOUGH COMPETITION

He stated that Archie Moore's milk can be found in thirty stores and supermarkets in South and East Los Angeles.

Fortson remarked that all the milk supplied heretofore to Negro neighborhoods in the L.A. area has been marketed through white owned trusts. Many market co-ops are controlled by dairy trusts, so distribution problems are being encountered, he said, adding that this makes it hard to get and keep Archie Moore's milk before the public.

Fortson said the milk is often put on the lower shelves of the freezers, or otherwise placed where the least amount of display is possible. The consumer, who tends to shop at eye level, thus overlooks the product unless he is specifically seeking it.

He said there have been instances where the milk was left out of the cases to sour. The milk was then returned with the comment that it was not selling.

Archie Moore's milk has been distributed in predominantly Negro neighborhoods so far. Fortson said the company wants to be an honest competitor in the dairy industry, but the products must sell.

Archie Moore's milk meets the standards of quality set up by the State, as does any other milk on the market, Fortson concluded.

Dr. McBroom Is Injured in Car Accident

Dr. F. Pearl Riley McBroom, internist and heart specialist, is reported recovering satisfactorily following her confinement in Temple Hospital last week.

Dr. Julius Hill, orthopedist, would only confirm that Dr. McBroom has been released from the hospital following intensive treatment for injuries to the neck and back.

Dr. McBroom's car was rammed from the rear by a car driven by a Mrs. Gertz at LaCienega and Waring street last Monday evening while she was waiting for a red light to change after having made a call at the Joe Louis residence.

Her husband, Dr. Marcus McBroom, and daughter, Lorelei, happened by the accident a few minutes later but did not realize that Mrs. McBroom was involved. They were summoned back by sheriff's deputies some time later.

Simon Bolivar (1783-1830) known as the "Liberator of South America" from the Spanish yoke, once remarked: "The United States seems destined by Providence to plague America with miseries in the name of liberty."

Students Sent To Africa by Peace Corps

Los Angeles sent its first Peace Corps emissary to Africa when 22 year old Lillian Miles of 534 West 55th street began her journey to Nigeria Wednesday. She is one of 40 Peace Corpsmen who will teach in the new African nation.

Miss Miles and her teaching companions were trained at the University of California at Los Angeles and will take additional training at the University of Nigeria before they begin their two year stint in Nigeria's secondary schools. She is the holder of a degree from Los Angeles State College and has had experience as a student teacher.

Under the Peace Corps plan, Miss Miles will be assigned by the host country to teach where she is most needed. During her stay she will receive the same basic wages as a Nigerian teacher but the Peace Corps will also set aside $75 per month for her which will be paid on her return home.

Other Negroes in the group of 40 who received their training at UCLA and who left for Nigeria this week are Richard Blythe, Washington; Yvette Burgess, Hollis, New York; George P. Clark, Beloit, Wis.; James Myrick, Elizabethtown, Tenn.; and Willie Watson, Norfolk, Va. Oldest of the group is Watson who is 51.

The Peace Corps is seeking enlistees for its program. There is no upper age limit but applicants must be at least 18 years old. Persons with all sorts of skills are sought for service in Asia, Africa and South America.

Annual Meeting Of NAACP Set for Jan. 2

NEW YORK—NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins and other members of his staff will report to the organization's membership on the 1961 program and activities at its annual meeting here Jan. 2.

The Association's departmental heads will review the work of the year in their respective fields and indicate prospects for the coming year during which the NAACP will celebrate its 53rd birthday.

NAACP Gets Day In Court in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The NAACP was finally scheduled to get its day in court Wednesday after five and a half years of delaying tactics which effectively banned the organization throughout Alabama, the only state in which it cannot function.

Under direct orders of the United States Supreme Court, Alabama authorities scheduled the trial for Dec. 27, in the midst of the holiday season. The hearing will be held before Judge Walter B. Jones in the Montgomery County Circuit Court here.

WITHOUT WARNING

NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter said that the Association's executive secretary, Roy Wilkins, and Mrs. Ruby Hurley, NAACP southeast regional secretary, would be called to testify.

Without notice or warning, the Association was served with a restraining order and injunction, June 1, 1956, on the ground that it had failed to register as an out-of-state corporation doing "business" in Alabama. The NAACP contended that it did not interpret this requirement as applicable to non-profit organizations.

Although the Association had been operating in Alabama since 1918, this issue had not been raised until 1956, two years after the U. S. Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public education and in the midst of the year-long Montgomery bus protest.

$100,000 FINE

Gov. John Patterson, then attorney general, also charged the NAACP with "creating racial tension and unrest." He was able to secure a $100,000 fine and a contempt of court ruling against the NAACP because of the Association's refusal to reveal names and addresses of its members and contributors in the state.

From this point, the case of Alabama vs. NAACP was maneuvered through a maze of courts, with the NAACP trying vainly to receive a hearing in Alabama's state courts.

The case was carried by the NAACP to the U.S. Supreme Court three times. And three times the High Court ruled against the State of Alabama.

PRIVACY UPHELD

Carter has been the Association's chief legal strategist since the case started in 1956, presenting the Association's argument before the Supreme Court each time and participating in lower court pleadings.

He has been aided by Attys. Fred D. Gray of Montgomery; Arthur D. Shores, Orzell Billingsley, Jr., and Peter Hall of Birmingham; Mrs. Maria L. Marcus of New York City; and Frank D. Reeves of Washington, D.C.

Justice John Marshall Harlan, the Court's spokesman, said on June 30, 1958, that "this court has recognized the vital relationship between freedom to associate and privacy in one's associations . . ."

Justice Harlan pointed out in his lengthy opinion that exposure of NAACP members in Alabama would threaten them with "economic reprisal, loss of employment threat of physical coercion and other manifestations of public hostility."

action.

The three Asian and African nations in the Council, which included Liberia, cast their votes in favor of India. Six of the seven votes in condemnation were cast by European and South American countries. The seventh vote was cast by Nationalist China which is so dependent on European and American support for its very existence that its stand was inevitable. The Soviet Union exercised its veto to prevent UN action despite the Security Council majority for condemnation.

The vote in favor of India was a vote of the colored world against a solid front of the white world, with only the Soviet Union and China breaking the pattern. The Soviet Union's stand was predictable as a part of the cold war that is raging between that nation and the west. China's vote was the result of the peculiar position that nation occupies.

This lineup of the colored nations against the white nations is more than an expression of solidarity of color. It

Portugal is a particularly hated symbol of colonialism. Its African colonial policies mark it as a backward nation ready to use any means to hang on to its colonies. Its butchery of Africans in Angola is fresh in the minds of Africans and Asians who were no doubt happy to find an occasion to vent their displeasure.

The world can expect more UN votes along color lines whenever there is a clash between European and Asian nations over colonial policies or actions. Europe imposed her colonial rule by force and the colored nations will back every effort to terminate it by force, if need be.

India is being reviled because her invasion of Goa was in direct contradiction of her nonviolent official attitude. That there is a contradiction is apparent beyond argument. What is also apparent is that theory won't stand in the way of assaults on colonial powers by Asian and African nations when they believe that force will serve the purpose of ending colonial domination.

Eastland's Pal: Tshombe

Whatever doubt that Moise Tshombe represents European interests in the Katanga secessionist movement was dissipated when American reactionaries rallied to his aid last week. Full page advertisements in the New York Times praised his "freedom loving" resistance to the United Nations move to unite the Congo.

The advertisement was signed by at least two members of the governing body of the John Birch Society and by almost every prominent name in the extreme right wing movement. The prize signer was Mississippi Senator James O. Eastland!

No American needs to have Senator Eastland's record described or to be reminded that the Mississippi senator has no regard for freedom or liberty. He is the senate's outstanding racist; his cardinal article of faith is that Africans and descendants of Africans are inferiors, incapable of self government and unfit to participate in government.

Tshombe is the stooge of European industrialists who now own and control the rich mineral resources of the Katanga province. They are determined to sabotage Congolese unity in order to protect their investments and further their exploitation of the Katangese population. Such a desire fits in perfectly with Eastland's attitude, and hopes and desires. He is an almost perfect example of the kind of support that is rallying to Tshombe.

Court May Halt Prosecutions

The refusal of the Supreme Court to call a halt to Mississippi's prosecution of Freedom Riders was not as sweeping as first reports indicated.

The NAACP and the Department of Justice had asked the Court to enjoin further prosecutions of Freedom Riders under state laws being used to maintain segregation.

The argument for Supreme Court intervention rested on the proposition that the state prosecutions were instituted and were being pursued in order to undermine federal rules and regulations and court decisions ordering an end to racial segregation on constitutional grounds.

The Supreme Court refusal to intervene finally rests on the very narrow grounds that the persons seeking its injunctive intervention were not the proper parties to make such a request.

Thus the way is left open for further requests to the Supreme Court to step in and halt the wave of state prosecutions. Mississippi is determined to proceed out of the hope that the prosecutions will hamper the assaults on the obviously unconstitutional state laws.

Unless the Supreme Court does intervene the Freedom Riders will have to spend thousands of dollars and untold time in Mississippi jails. Their final vindication, Mississippi hopes, will come so late that the spirit of protests will be broken.

With last week's Supreme Court order as a guide it would seem that the NAACP can remedy the technical defects in its pleadings and file a new suit on behalf of proper parties.

'Scientists' for Sale

The American Anthropological Society has taken up the cudgels against the determined efforts of southerners to revive the outworn and unscientific doctrine of racial superiority.

Alabama began the drive with an appropriation of funds for "research" by "scientists" to prove that Negroes are inferior and hence incapable of exercising citizenship rights.

Some Americans may be shocked to learn that there are "scientists" willing to shoulder the task of proving racial inferiority but we need only to recall the zeal with which some Germans did Hitler's bidding and "proved" that Jews are inferiors as a reminder that a certain kind of scientist is always for sale.

Alabama, and other southerners, will certainly be able to hire scholars of a sort to prove the case against the Negro. Their findings will not convince honest men but they will spread confusion.

Lucky Lager Should Change

With dozens of examples of the power of the selective buying program before it, Lucky Lager beer makers persist in their opposition to change their hiring policies.

It seems to us that the simple justice of the demand would convince Lucky — and other concerns which bid for dollars of Negroes and still pursue policies which result in discrimination against Negroes — that they are following a mistaken course.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

SUDAN VISIT

ACCRA, Ghana — I bounced from Dar Es Salaam, palm-fringed and blossom-bedecked, into Khartoum, which could not have been more sharply contrasting. The Arab influence is strong there — in austerity of architecture, the dress of the people and, yes, in the visible evidence of terrible poverty on every side.

"Khartoum? You poor chap," sympathized my Texan seatmate on the flight from Nairobi, "There's nothing in Khartoum but heat and rats."

He was wrong. He forgot the people, and these I found to be immensely pleasant — and often charming.

There was the gravely courteous manager of the New National Hotel, a small, clean "basically furnished" inn where I was lucky enough to find accommodations at 3:00 in the morning after BOAC had mangled my reservations and I had been turned away at the three larger hotels. No matter, the bed was comfortable, the sheets and water basin were clean and the breakfast produced sliced pineapple even more succulent than in Dar Es Salaam.

HURRY, HURRY!

Like so many Sudanese, the manager could have been mistaken for a resident of Manhattan's Harlem, Los Angeles' west side or any other Negro area of the U. S. A. But he had a courtliness in his manner that most of his Afro-American cousins would be embarrassed to emulate. The immigration inspector at the airport could have been my favorite uncle, with his benign greeting, "Oh, Yes, Yank, we are glad to welcome you. Now, how long will you stay?"

When I told him only 24 hours, he seemed genuinely regretful. "Yes, yes, that's the way with you Yanks—always in a hurry. Why don't you slow down and really know the people?"

I was startled, because his half-joking reproof reminded me of 15 years ago when I was driving furiously across Kansas, trying to reach Denver before dark. I stopped at a farm entrance and asked a colored farmer where, in that benighted Jim Crow area, I could find a good meal. Instead of inviting me in, as I had hoped, he directed me five miles back to a turn-off and Nicodemus, an all-Negro community. When I protested against losing time, the farmer looked at me pityingly. "Time?" he replied, "what's time? Slow down friend. Stop and meet the people. You'll like 'em." I did — and I did like them. And have been grateful to that farmer ever since.

HISTORY AND PROBLEMS

So with Khartoum. The inn manager and I sat in the morning coolness of the arched entrance to his hostel. We talked (he in excellent English) of the city's history and its problems. He directed me and my camera to the market place, where I strolled amid what appeared to be unbelievable pandemonium. Beggars and peddlers and shopkeepers and sidewalk vendors and farmers who sat in the middle of the street displayed their wares—all seemed in perpetual motion as they hawked their wares and chaffered with buyers. And now and then made a sale. There were actually more sellers in action than shoppers and buyers.

In many cities, notably Dar Es Salaam, the sight of my camera would have brought suspicion or resentful stares. Not so in Khartoum. I grinned at a group of vendors and they grinned back — all the more broadly when I trained my camera on them, cursing the while because I had forgotten the movie camera.

COME BACK AGAIN

I stopped to snap a small donkey, standing on the sidewalking gazing mournfully at the scene before him. Quick as a flash, an urchin slid into the picture, putting his arm on the donkey's back with proprietorial insouciance. He was delightful and delighted when I slipped him a copper coin. I stopped a peddler who was walking along with a bleating kid under one arm and three or four chickens hanging head down in his grip. I motioned to him to stand for a picture. Hopefully he offered his wares, but a chap in western clothes sized up the situation, explained to the peddler and I got my picture. The peddler got his pay and left grinning, still with his wares to sell.

When I left town, the immigration inspector said, "Well, well, my boy, come back and bring your family." I assured him that I would do that very thing.

Letters to The Editor

An Open Letter to Parents of Retarded Children:

We, too, are parents of a retarded child. Knowing that you share our concern with the overall problems of retardation, we would like to address the following relevant thoughts, in our opinion, to you.

As many of our scientists and those all over the world have stated, nuclear weapon testing is a major factor in affecting the normalcy of babies born now and in the future. We and you know what it is like to have a retarded child. At this time we have an estimated five million such children in this country.

With the continuance of testing by the United States, the Soviet Union and France, there will be countless more . . . a ghastly picture to even contemplate.

When we needed training classes for our children, we all got together and raised funds for this. When we needed residential centers for our children we again got together and filled the need. We formed our sheltered workshops when there was an urgent cry for these.

All of this will be irrelevant . . . if we don't get together once more on THIS issue!

All over the country there are groups and individuals protesting nuclear weapon testing . . . can we not add our voices to those millions and wire to President Kennedy and Premier Krushchev . . . through our own organizations officially—and individually . . . urging them to agree and TO NEGOTIATE FOR WORLD DISARMAMENT AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

TO BAN ALL NUCLEAR TESTING NOW!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rivkin,
Beverly Hills.

Dear Sir:

The policies of our masters appear so inconsistent as to be completely nonsensical. They pretend to protect the Negro against discrimination in this country, but have them killed wholesale in their native Africa over issues they make too vague to comprehend.

Loren Miller says . . .

TAKE NO CHANCES

Friend of mine told me the other day that I should write something about the Fire Department in this column. When I protested that I didn't know what to say she said she didn't see what difference that made.

I got the message. What she was saying was that I often write without having anything to say. A sensitive person might get insulted and dismiss the whole matter but I need readers too badly to run the risk of offending any one of them. My popularity rating is too low to take chances.

Anyhow, the difficulty at the Fire Department is very simple. Chief Miller has never quite accommodated himself to the fact that there's no place in the department for racial segregation. He hasn't tried. He grew up under the Alderson regime when Negro firemen were rigidly segregated in two stations. Although the new chief got his job as a result of Alderson's ouster, Miller has never really understood or sympathized with the change he was ordered to institute. The result was that he galloped off in all directions at once and has been confusing matters ever since.

BEHIND THE TIMES

Chief Miller did end the worst feature of segregation by sending Negro firemen to various stations. The white firemen who had been taught that they had an absolute right to dictate the department's racial policies countered that move by setting up segregated messes and insisting on Jim Crow beds. Negro firemen were barred from the station mess and particular beds were designated for their use. When the matter was brought to the chief's attention he took refuge in the vague statement that he was powerless to order any fireman to eat with any other fireman and that he couldn't enforce "social equality."

What the chief dropped out of his statement was the fact that the facilities used to prepare the food belong to the City of Los Angeles and that the city paid for the gas that cooked the food. He couldn't seem to understand that the beds belonged to the city. Apparently Chief Miller had never heard of United Supreme Court decisions holding that public facilities can't be earmarked for use on a racial basis. His ideas of what the Constitution requires went out with high button shoes.

NO BACKBONE

When the matter was brought up at a Fire Commission meeting a couple of weeks ago the chief complained that although he believes in equality he can't force his men to practice it. Obviously, he is laboring under the idea that is in vogue down in Mississippi that he must tailor his authority to suit popular prejudices. Of course, he doesn't put it quite that baldly; he says he is trying to "educate" the firemen so that they will drop old attitudes.

I'm out of sympathy with the proposition that there's a need for "education" in matters of this kind. My observation is that employes, public or private, accommodate themselves to the policies of their employers. If the boss orders an end to discrimination, and gives evidence that he means what he says, the employes accept the order. If the boss follows the line pursued by Chief Miller and lets the employes have their own way they hang on to their prejudices and translate them into discrimination. No matter what he said, the firemen have known that Chief Miller hasn't been ready to crack down on Jim Crow.

BETTER WATCH HIM

I'm ready to accept the present Commission's word that it is out to end the chief's policies and that it is determined to institute the equality that ought to obtain. I've got news for the commissioners. They had better keep a sharp eye on their chief. He has neither the understanding or the will to act decisively in the matter of race relations. If he isn't prodded he will spend the next few years "educating" the men to do what they should have been doing ever since he got on the job.

Come to think of it there's no way for the chief to educate the men until his own education is complete. He's got a long way to go. I'm not sure he will ever get there. He's a pretty slow learner and unless he speeds up he will be ready for retirement before he understands what the Constitution requires.

erated by Negroes. Go after the union and the beer company, not me. I have a license to sell like anyone else. With all the Jews and Japs around here, why pick on me?"

Then he added: "This is a cowardly act."

Cotton related the businessmen's actions to the parable of the crabs in a bucket. As one crab tries to get out of the bucket, it is continually pulled back in and to the bottom by the other crabs. In other words, once a Negro pulls ahead of his fellows, they will attempt to pull him back.

MADE POINT

Referring to his regular customers, he said he thought his "country cousins would stick with that cotton-picking Cotton boy."

The businessmen put a protest line in front of Those Cotton Boys Liquors because its owner refused to go along with other bar owners and retail liquor outlets in the community, a spokesman said. The pickets were protesting Lucky Lager's hiring policy.

The store is well stocked with all types of liquor, carries Negro papers and magazines, even Archie Moore's milk. Yet its ice box is stocked with Lucky Lager.

"Lucky Lager is my fastest seller. It's the fastest seller in the state. Why pick on my store?" Cotton asked. He added: "The line has me upset."

When asked why the line was put in front of a Negro merchant's place, Mrs. Roena Rand of CORE said, "We're sorry it had to be a Negro, but we had to start somewhere. We feel we got our point across."

Edgar Charles, spokesman for the CNBA, is asking all merchants and residents in the San Fernando valley to assist Paul Adams, a resident of Pacoima, in spearheading the Lucky Lager boycott in that area. For information, call RE 1-8873.

peal to the pride of Negroes in this country and to make a favorable impression abroad, especially on the new African countries.

Of itself, however, it will not materially affect the segregated housing situation that condemns Negroes to a ghetto existence.

Postponement of action on the executive order to ban discrimination in housing will come as a severe blow to Negro communities. During his campaign for the presidency, Kennedy made the sage comment that Eisenhower could have eliminated this evil at any time with the stroke of a pen.

For some months now, Kennedy is said to have had on his desk an order dealing with this question that needed only his signature. Even the provisions of the order have been widely reported in the press.

The President has delayed affixing his signature, however, and now apparently is considering further delays. One Washington official expressed the view that Kennedy would probably wait until next fall before issuing the housing order, possibly longer. "The problem," he said, "is one of timing."

Mrs. Carter was bleeding from a wound in the chest when officers arrived.

She said she was getting ready for bed when she heard a noise outside and went for her gun.

SAW A MAN

She said she "saw a man climbing up the window to the barber shop" in front of her house. "I thought it was this boy's father who stole my car a while back coming to get me. I saw the father in the barber shop today and I was afraid.

"I shot one shot at this man. I heard him yell, 'Look Out!' That's all I heard. The man started to run and I fired again.

"I have had so much trouble in this house that I got the gun for protection.

"After I fired the second time I heard a noise like a gun shot and then I felt something hit me in the chest. I was shot, so I ran to the phone to call the police.

"When I went out the door, I heard someone yell, 'Police!' That's when you all came in my house."

Mrs. Carter was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Church Bells, Prayers of Gratitude to Greet 1962

Christian Answer

By REV. MAURICE A. DAWKINS

NEW DELHI, India — "In the crucible of this nuclear age, God is testing the worthiness of His creatures to continue their existence upon earth." Dr. O. Frederick Nolde, director of the Commission of the Churches on International Affairs, cried out like a voice in the wilderness at the session five days after the opening of the third assembly of the World Council of Churches.

The delegates had sat in the plush former U.N. seats and had the speeches translated into many languages just as do U.N. participants and visitors. They had watched Bishop Newbigin of India join hands with Dr. Visser Thooft, general secretary of the World Council as the integration of the World wide Missionary organization headed by the one with the World Wide Council headed by the other.

LIGHT OF THE WORLD

They had bowed reverently as Dr. Henry P. Van Deusen, president of N.Y. Union Theological Seminary and chairman of the joint committee that worked out the integration plan, led a act of worship asking God's blessings on the Union. They had heard the affirmation that Jesus Christ is the Light of the world by Dr. J. R. Chandran.

They had voted to accept the application of the Russian Orthodox Church despite the charge of "Communist" thrown at the World Council by Reactionary American church groups. They had planned for program and finance under the skillful guiding hand of Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the Presbyterian Church.

Inspirational soul stirring messages had charged them to respond to the "Call to Witness", "The Call to Service", and "The Call to Unity." The President of India had given them a reception, an African and a German had reminded them of the realities of a divided Berlin and a divided Congo, both divisions resulting in the ultimate sense from the blundering and failings of Christian laymen . . . and the Christian clergy who failed to communicate effectively what needed to be communicated from Christ to man.

CHRIST TO MAN

They had in a sense girded themselves for action to overcome handicaps and deal directly with problems whatever they might be . . . facing them honestly as Christians. Then Dr. Nolde lowered the nuclear "Boom". Cutting with the incisiveness of a surgeon . . . and thundering like a Prophet Amos or a Paul on Mars Hill, he cried aloud:

"The children of men lack the spiritual maturity by which alone fantastic scientific achievements can be given beneficient direction." We totter from day to day on the brink of self destruction . . . The horizon of a peaceful world seems far distant and the path leading to it is darkened by low hanging clouds of war . . . The hearts of many are gripped by despair when they can find no secure chart or compass for the road they must travel . . ."

Westminster Honors Pastor

Rev. James Hargett, pastor of the Church of Christian Fellowship was the speaker at the second anniversary service in honor of Rev. James E. Jones at Westminister Presbyterian Church, recently.

His remarks followed the greetings from the Los Angeles Presbytery, which were brought by Dr. Chester Buely.

Rev. Hargett told the congregation that you are beginning to discover that this young minister whom you have called, thinking him to be flexible and manageable to carry out your plans, is instead, rather like a rock unbending and with plans of his own. You have discovered that you have not called your man to carry out your program but you have called God's man to carry on God's work.

Commenting on R. Liber's statement that a "Good looking preacher has a hard time," Rev. Hargett said that often women work in the church for many reasons and are active in this and that. The question to be answered, he said, is whether the work is done for the glory of God or for some ulterior motive.

Following the worship service which included selections by the Christian Fellowship Choir, directed by Albert McNeil, the congregation retired to the Fellowship Hall in the undercroft and a reception was held in honor of the second anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Jones as the first family of the church.

Last Rites Held

Funeral services were conducted Monday for Mrs. Minerva Bradford Shepherd, of 322 E. 67th street, who died last Wednesday. Rev. E. W. Rakestraw officiated at the service which was held in the sanctuary of Wesley Methodist Church, 52nd and Main streets.

Mrs. Shepherd is survived by her mother, Mrs. M. Bradford; six sisters and six brothers. Her stepsons Henry and Frank Shepherd also survive her.

Mrs. Shepherd was a member of the Fans of Gaiety Club; the NAACP and the auxillary of the George Washington Carver Post No. 18 and she was an active member in Wesley Methodist Church.

Brown King Ballad Scores Huge Ovation

A capacity house heard the west coast premiere of "Ballad of the Brown King" at Holman Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

The Sanctuary Choir of the Church of Christian Fellowship treated the audience to a trilogy of Bach, Handel, Bonds and Hughes in their program of classical music for Christmas.

Miss Margaret Bond's cantata was quite similar to Bach's "Magnificat" and selections from Handel's "Messiah" in form. The individual pieces of her composition were short, but the drama was present.

AWARE OF SOUL

The clear, easy to follow libretto by Langston Hughes complemented the music to create an atmosphere in the mind similar to that induced by Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors." The drama took place in the listener's mind's eye.

At the same time, the listener was aware of the soul of the spiritual being sophisticated. In the words of Rev. James Hargett, the work "has a mysterious quality . . . by weaving in what is reminiscent . . . it links me with my tradition without throwing it at me."

The choral work was called a "spiritual in counterpoint" by a member of the choir who thought the spiritual ". . . exciting when woven into something intricate."

McNEIL DIRECTS

the simplicity of the spiritual, Miss Bonds' work captures the charm of Handel, and the harmony of Bach.

She was treated to a standing round of applause by the audience after the presentation of the work, as was the choir. Albert McNeil directed.

The composer received an award from fellow AKA soror Mrs. Doris Novels of the AGO chapter. Another was received from Leroy Kelly, Jr., for the Sanctuary Choir.

Rev. A. Jones Jailed in Miss.

Rev. Ashton Jones, of San Gabriel, who has spent most of his lifetime fighting the evils of segregation, found trouble awaiting him in Jackson, Miss. last week. He was arrested and convicted on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail, charged with using "loud and offensive language," to policemen at a Jackson service station.

Rev. Jones and his wife Marie have made many trips across the country in their brotherhood bannered housecar. When he served time in prison in the South previously and was brutally mistreated by guards and inmates of the prison because of his outspoken attacks upon the bigotry in the south.

"He who belittles his neighbor lacks judgment, but a man of understanding remains silent." (Proverbs 11:12.)

The Christ Idea

Let me be a little kinder.
Let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be, when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery;
Let me serve a little better
Those that I am striving for.
Let me be a little braver
When temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker
With the brother who is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbor
And a little less of me.

Among those on the panel were: Mrs. Maggie Henry, Mrs. T. M. Chambers, Sr., Dr. C. Herndon Cook, Mrs. Ruth Cunningham, Mrs. Hazel Henry and Susan Henry, a recent graduate of law. Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain!

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

MOMENTS OF DECISION — John and Vermya Phillips will enhance early morning spiritual listening with their Moments of Decision broadcast each Sunday at 6:30 to 7:30 a.m. over radio stations KTYM, 1460 on AM, or KTYM-FM, radio 103.9 on the dial. To gain in inspiration listen regularly for music, philosophy and news. (Adams)

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

We would like to wish all of the pros, golfers, duffers, choppers, whiffers, par and boogie shooters a merry Xmas and a happy and health filled New Years.

Now let us retire to the club room and look into the crystal ball and see what kind of progress we made in 1961.

Professional Golfers Association — Dropped its Caucasian clause making it possible for minorities all over the world to become members.

Bing and Bob Crosby—invited Charley Sifford and Harry Mills to play in their famous Pebble Beach invitational, exclusive, private, hoity toity, tournament.

The "Lone Star" state also came through with its first (solid gold) invitation to Chas. Sifford and they got so carried away with Sifford's game they extended him a life time invite. (This was in Dallas, Texas).

The Western Ave. Caucasian Women—Voted two Negroes into their organization rather than go to court and let the judge decide if they could merge. The Negro women voted in were Marie Brown and Ella Mongomery.

Dr. Chris Taylor — Donated $500 to the fight which lasted 7 years between the Negro Western Club and the Caucasian Golf Club. He also recommended that his private attorney (Leo Branton) handle the case gratis. Attorney Branton made many trips down town in the interest of this integration fight. So when ever you eat in the dining room, drink at the bar or take a shower say a little blessing for all of these militant people who would not take "no" for an answer.

The Cosmopolitan Men's Club —Sent invitations to the Western Ave. Women to play in one of their tournaments. In the past these women had been secretly boycotted by a majority of the Negro clubs because they did not belong to Western States Golf Association. They resigned from the Negro Association and sued to join the Caucasian Golf Asociation (Publinx).

The Fox Hills Women's Club —Gave two membership blanks to Erma Boutte and Vera Carter, making them the first Negro women to receive such. Let us hope that 1962 will find them full fledged members.

Western States—Did not fine or suspend a Negro club for allowing other "outside clubs" to participate in their 1961 tournaments. Big progress.

Earl Martin—Hired a Negro, Willie Jefferson, to work in his locker rooms and driving range which was better than no hiring at all.

Doctors and Dentists—Left Fox Hills because their men's club continues to segregate. Ditto Cosmo. Wish this could be said about Vernoncrest but maybe they will see the light in 62 and attempt some progress.

So this is progress and we are very happy to know that we had a hand in it.

See you next year.

City Title to Manual Arts

Coach Jim Blewett's speedy speedy Manual Arts football team, Southern League champions, scored a 21 to 0 victory over Birmingham to become the 15th city high champions last Saturday at East Los Angeles College.

Last Saturday's game marked Blewett's eighth city crown. His 1961 squad is rated as one of the finest in the school's history.

Slick thinking quarterback Clayton Calhoun got the Toilers off running in the first period. The deft quarterback picked a hole in Birmingham's big line on a stop-and-go pattern and fled 37 yards to score. The Toiler cashed in on two breaks to score two more touchdowns in the third and fourth period.

Hottest College Basketball Team

GREENSBORO, N.C.—Hardly anybody expected it, but the A&T College Aggies may have one of the best basketball teams in the history of the college.

That is the opinion of many fans who have seen the Aggies blaze through five easy wins. "They've got everything," one fan puts it. "Speed, accurate shooting from most points on the floor, a worrisome defense and good team balance, . . . everything except 'name players.'"

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty—which is the reason why so many nations have lost it.

Heavyweights In 10-Round Go at Olympic

Boxing resumes Friday, Dec. 29 at the Olympic Auditorium with Argentina's Alejandro Lavorante boxing Von Clay of Philadelphia in an important heavyweight 10-rounder.

Lavorante is currently ranked by the National Boxing Association as the number three challenger for Floyd Patterson's world title. The 6 ft., 4 inch Latin follows Sonny Liston and Eddie Machen.

Holder of the South American heavyweight championship, Lavorante has won 18 out of 20 pro bouts, scoring 14 knockouts. His top victory is a seventh round knockout he registered over Zora Folley last May at the Olympic.

Clay will be after his second straight Olympic win. He stepped in as a replacement for Lavorante against Billy Hunter last Nov. 4, halting the favored Hunter in eight rounds.

A cut lip forced Lavorante to pull out.

The stocky easterner has won five out of seven starts this year. His overall record is 16-5-2 with ten knockouts.

Tickets for this outstanding card are now on sale at the Olympic box office. They are priced at $7.50, $5, $3.50 and $2, tax included.

A total of some 7.5 million Americans depend for their jobs directly upon the U. S. military establishment. This is about one-tenth of the nation's entire labor force.

ROSE BOWLERS — What is shaping up as one of the most thrilling New Year's Day football games is the 48th renewal of the nation's greatest Bowl game, the Rose Bowl classic in Pasadena where University of Minnesota meets UCLA's Bruins. Poised for action are from left: Almose Thompson, UCLA fullback and alternate captain; Minnesota's Carl Lee Eller, tackler, 234 pound 19-year-old sophomore who is called "Moose;" Bill Munsey, junior halfback, who is the fastest man on the Minnesota team; Judge Dickson, Minnesota's No. 1 fullback, a senior who hails from Clairton, Pa.; and Chuck Hicks, UCLA right end, a two-year letterman who showed real talent during the season.

team and the Big Five Conference's most exciting runner; Ezell Singleton, top punt returner; Kermit Alexander, fleet footed wing back and UCLA's No. 1 pass receiver; Almose Thompson, fullback and co-captain of the Bruins Rose Bowl team; and Chuck Hicks, end and a great pass receiver.

One thing certain is that both UCLA's Coach Bill Barnes and Minnesota's Murray Warmath will be counting on key men to deliver their first Rose Bowl victory. Both of the key men are Negroes — the Gophers' Sandy Sanford and the Bruins' Bobby Smith.

Oddsmakers have installed the visitors from Minnesota as a shaky 8½ points favorite. We rate the game a toss-up.

City Basketball Squads Take Christmas Vacation

The city basketball league came to a halt last week and will remain idle for two weeks due to the Christmas holidays.

When action resumes and when the City Tournament comes Poly and Jefferson will be favorites.

Poly is running wild in the East Valley League. They have already cinched a city playoff berth and need only one more win in three games to gain their second consecutive league championship.

Jeff, led by such sharp shooters as Lacey, Robinson and Davis, have made the Demos, the City scoring leaders as a team with 563 points in seven contests. This means Jeff as a team has averaged 83 points per game.

Jordan High, the terror of the Marine League, is also undefeated in 7 games with a good possibility of scoring an upset in the upcoming city tourney. Paul Scranton is the Bulldog's hot shot who averaged 17 points per game. The team average is 76 points per game. Six other league teams are posting impressive undefeated records and it could be that this year's City crown is really up for grabs.

For instance, University of the Western League, 9 and 0; Cleveland, in the West Valley League, registering an 8 and 0 mark; Poly of the East Valley, 9 and 0; Jeff, in the So. League, 7 and 0; Jordan, Marine League, 6 and 0; and Roosevelt, in the Eastern League, 7 and 0.

LADIES OF PARADISE—Shown during their recent affair in the beautiful Candelabra Hall at 58th and Broadway, at which time they played Santa Claus and gave away a Grundig Majestic Entertainment Center, a tape recorder and a transistor radio, are Ladies of Paradise members. Members are shown with Sandy Sanford, manager of the plush Eastside hall designed especially for social club affairs. Seated from left: Helen Johnson, Betty Jackson and Opal Richardson. Standing: Sandy Sanford, Marie Lott, Alice Creecy, Thelma Walker, Clair Williams, Laverne Sails, Juanita Hillary, Edna Humphrey and Helen Sprow, president. (Young)

CLUB'S QUEEN—Marie Lott, center, is being crowned queen of the Ladies of Paradise club at the group's annual Christmas party held in the fashionable apartment of Eunice Haywood last Friday night. Mrs. Lott received the honor for selling more than 300 tickets to her club's public affair. Doing the honors are members Opal Richardson and Clair Williams. (Young)

AVALON COMMUNITY CENTER — Lindsay Brown, extreme right, gives Christmas gifts to the children of Avalon Community Center. This year's party attracted some 1500 children. Toys and Christmas goodies went to each youngster, turkeys and food baskets were given several adult families.

Venice Setting for Wedding

The Venice home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Russell was the setting recently for the marriage of Mrs. E. R. Warren and the Rev. E. V. Banks.

The couple is now residing in Seaside, where the Rev. Banks has accepted a new pastorate.

The bride chose a gown of heavenly blue taffeta covered with lace. Attendants were Mrs. Russell and the Rev. W. P. Carter, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Santa Monica. The Rev. Banks was the former pastor of Phillips Chapel, CME Church, in Santa Monica.

A reception for the 200 guests followed, hosted by the Revs. and Mmes. T. H. Dandridge, H. J. Johnson, J. B. Reese, I. Scipio and Carter.

Tempelite Club Has Xmas Meet

The Tempelite Social and Charity club's annual Christmas party was held in the fashionable home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan H. Brown, 1105 W. 52nd street, last week.

Assisting with the meeting was Bernice Floyd, club assistant hostess. Members surprised club president James R. Villareal and his wife with a wonderful Christmas gift.

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged at the meeting. Tempelite members donated Christmas checks instead of their usual Christmas baskets.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. B. Moore, of Dallas, Texas; Mrs. M. L. Booth, president of the Louisiana Club; John Huff of Chicago; and Emmitt Warren of Temple, Texas.

Xmas Program Well Attended

A near capacity house enjoyed the combination PTA meeting and Christmas program at Gompers Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Arthur Williams, PTA president, opened the program by welcoming the huge audience and extending Christmas greetings.

The theme of this year's program was "The Christmas Story." It was another beautiful production presented through the combined efforts of the Music Department, Choral Speaking Choir and the Drama Class.

Over 250 pupils participated in the program. Participating groups were the A Cappella Choir, Symphonic Orchestra, Mixed Glee, Choral Speaking Choir and the Drama class. Behind the scenes were the stage crew and stagecraft classes.

SILVER THREADS—Known professionally as the "Little Angels," the above artists are shown as they entertained at the Avalon Community Center Christmas party. They are Jonathan, Charmaine, Leon Jr. and Olympia Silver. Father Leon Silver Sr. manages the group. (Adams)

ATTENDS BANQUET—U. S. Judge William H. Hastie of Philadelphia, left, is shown greeting Municipal Judge David Williams and Mrs. Williams at Bill of Rights Week banquet sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union. Some 1,000 persons heard Judge Hastie speak on "Competing Demands of Freedom and Security."

SWEET CHARITY—More than $200 was donated to the Stovall Home and the Foundation for the Junior Blind by the California Employment Agencies Ass'n. Cakes purchased by the association were sold — at a profit — to the highest bidder. Sharing a $25 cake are Harry Melnick, Mrs. Nannie C. Goode, Mrs. Betty Hussey of the Heinke Agency and Mrs. Fred Kemp of the Ruth and Roberta Agency. Mrs. Hussey is handing the check to John Jackson, executive director of the Stovall Foundation. The Clifton Todds of Detroit jet home after the holidays; they are visiting their daughter, Atty. Cora Brown. New Yorker Alvista Perkins is visiting the newly wedded Harry T. Williamses (Mrs. W. is her daughter). All is fun and frolic over at the Simmonses; Gwen and John; their son Johnny Jr. is vacationing from Dartmouth.

The Clef Club Xmas-partied right on down the middle Sun. at Leon Beck's. The Dewey Spanns (Victoria) helped add Joy to the world Sat. when they celebrated their silver anniversary with effective help of many friends. Dr. and Mrs. H. Claude Hudson lent joy to the season, too, on Sat. night when they received friends at Wilfandel who came to meet Dr. Lloyd Hall who recently returned from a UN mission to Djakarta.

THE GOLDEN KEY

Elliot Carpenter birthdays on the 28th; Clara and Lewis Love mark the 29th as anniversary and Tom Bradley marks it as his birthday. Then, Irene Morris birthdays on New Year's Day and Pinki and Byron Webb have that as their anniversary. Betty Jones is getting over a serious bout with illness. Al Darby, never one to hesitate, took off earlier for Guadalajara, Puerto Vallarta and Mexico City then leisurely to Acalpulco for the holidays where he now is. He may tarry there 'til after the holiday uproar dies down. Al is one lad who quite definitely has the golden key to relaxed, successful living.

Rozlee Young is expecting her scintillating crowd in for party reasons Frid. after the sun goes down. The Couple Club will be seeing '62 come in at Dr. and Mrs. Howard Allen's. Cal Bailey's son, all six-feet-plus of him, drove in from Ohio to spend several months hereabouts: amazing thing.

The Premier Players' cast will be Morris Erby, Davis Roberts, Rockne Tarkington, Earl Smith, Ed Gentry, Alex Williams and Jayne Cortez.

The play is directed by B. Pope Freeman.

HOW'S-THAT AGAIN

The personality who is house-guesting at the Albert McNeils is the eminent composer Margaret Bonds. She jetted out from New York to be on hand for her Xmas cantata which was done at Holman Church on Xmas Eve. How warmly wonderful to again see her, by golly.

The Phys-Art-Lit-Mo Club (how's that again?) and friends will gather at Sojourner Truth House Frid. to honor Dr. Vada Somerville. No doubt San Mateo's Evelyn and Harry Cox will breeze into town for some of the festive flow. Come to think, I don't believe I've seen them since their Wilfandel garden wedding reception last year.

Westminster Presbyterian Church's scholarly Rev. James Jones is studying for his Ph.D. at USC. It was bound to happen, of course; Eddie Gaudin did such a torrid swivel-hipped Twist at one of the early holiday parties that he had to go to his doctor to be taped up, down and across. Certainly one of the weekend's more enjoyable parties was the Xmas Eve cocktail party Mildred and Holden Evans gave at their inviting house on Somerset.

Woodlawn 'Y' Christmas Gifts to Community

Christmas came early at the Woodlawn YWCA last week when the staff invited the community in for the traditional hanging of the greens.

Honored guests who received gifts in the form of awards were: A. J. Clement, district manager of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co.; Tom Hawkins, public relations director of KGFJ; Ethel Bryant, field secretary for Mayor Yorty; Marnesba Tackett of "Who's Who in 1961"; Marjorie Green, a specialist in public relations; Nancy Avery, Pacoima postmistress; Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, representative of the fire captain candidates; Henri O'Bryant, Fire Commissioner; Dr. D. Overstreet Gray, Health Commissioner, and Charles White, artist.

Special recognition was given Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson, who received a presidential commendation for returning a bag containing $240,000 which Mr. Johnson found on a Los Angeles street.

William Coopers Entertain with Bridge Luncheon

Ushering in the Yuletide Season were the popular William and Nancy Cooper when they shared the hospitality of their beautiful Buckingham road home with a pre-Christmas bridge luncheon.

Sharing these hours were Mmes. Dorothy Jones, Juanita Macklin Mitchell, Genevieve Crawford, Roberta Newby, Dollie Scott, Myrtle Sneed, Portia Byrd, Edith White, Maxine Hefflin, Rosella Fernandez, Nickie Keats, Carol Johnson, Joselyn Watkins, Inez Brown, Irene Veronica, Lena Tucker, Thelma Woodson, Hilda Craddock, Jucille Watkins, Willa Hutchinson, Jerry Addison, Ranee Boring, June Garner.

After a delicious Christmas dinner of Cornish hens with all the trimmings, preceded by pink champagne, the ladies spent the afternoon playing bridge with the top prizes going to Roberta Newby, Edythe White, Myrtle Sneed and Maxine Hefflin.

The Coopers are extensive travelers, having spent much time abroad and are both quite popular in our local Society.

Y-Teens Will Present Formal Club Schedules

The Center Committee of the South L.A. YWCA and the Teenage Committee of the Woodlawn YWCA are presenting the Snowflake Ball for the city's teen set on Monday night, Dec. 18 in the Palm Room of the Alexandria Hotel.

Guests will swing and sway to the music of Russ Jacquet and his band. The feature attractions of the affair will be the crowning of Miss Y-Teen and an exhilarating program of well-known entertainment personalities.

Bids may be purchased at either of the Y Centers or from any Y-teen affiliated with either center at $2.25 each (per couple).

For more information call Woodlawn Center, AD 1-4103 or South L.A., LU 8-7133.

Program Held At L.A. High

The holidays were heralded by Los Angeles High School PTA in their traditional musical program, Thursday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m., in the main auditorium, Mrs. Robert N. Solomon, program chairman, welcomed, not only parents of the students but all interested friends in the community.

Mr. William Rene, director of the orchestra, opens the program with "Sleigh Ride" by Anderson, and later will conduct the "Fugue in G Minor" by Bach.

Schubert's "Allegro Giusto, Trout Quintet" will be performed by Claudia Seidner, violin; George Foreman, cello; Charles Henry, viola; Kenneth Friedman, bass; and Leonard Slatkin, piano.

The full orchestra will accompany the A Capella Choir in selections from Handel.

The A Capella Choir, Boys' Choir, Girls' Glee Club and Chamber Choir, directed by Mrs. Bernice Hutchison, will present a varied program of carols and folk songs.

House of Style Makes Awards

The House of Style, 11316 S. Main street, awarded hair styles to two girls of Gompers Center Charm Club. The girls were chosen on the basis of interest and participation club activities. The lucky girls this month, Mary Ann Lewis, B7, and Dorothy Hall, B9.

In an effort to assist the Charm Club, Mrs. Wilma Dawson and Mrs. Lucille Sheldon, of the House of Style, will donate hair styles to two Gompers girls each month. This is a shining example of community and school working together.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

The spirit of Christmas seems to be everywhere. Yes, even in an overcrowded air terminal.

Plans were that I would be writing you from San Francisco this week, but wind plus fog changed Friday night's flight and I was marooned in Los Angeles (a wonderful place to be) waiting a flight to that wind-blown city of 'Frisco for Christmas.

Starting Christmas off right was Loveller Jackson on Sunday eve with an eggnog sip honoring her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Short and Sgt. and Mrs. Meeks of Lompoc and Vanderberg Base.

The Twentieth Century Onyx Club expected several hundred to attend their Christmas Dance on Friday, Dec. 29, at the beautiful El Patio. On Thursday the club girls will meet at yours truly's home to discuss last minute club affairs, to make sure that this dance will be one of the season's best.

Talked with James Samuels who will be leaving by the first of January in line of duty for Uncle Sam. The Warren Mantooths made a quick trip to Arizona, to bring Mrs. Smith, the mother of Mrs. Mantooth, to spend Christmas with them in Oxnard.

Martha Patterson will spend her holidays with relatives in Los Angeles.

The Board of Christian Education and A.C.E. League cited Rev. Jesse Walker on the "This is Your Christian Life" program.

What a pleasant and unexpected surprise it seemed to be to Rev. Walker as he was escorted to the chair of honor to have 17 years of his Christian life relived as pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church in Oxnard. His work in Christian organizations in the Church was presented by Pearl Montgomery, Curtis Montgomery and Sadie Patterson; growth and expansion of Christian work by B. C. Montgomery; work as a minister and friend by Rev. H. W. Washington, who said: "This was no easy matter, keeping this minister pacified until the appointed hour," remarks by Rev. Lee Henderson.

St. Paul members were on hand in sparkling array to wish their pastor well. He was showered with gifts, with Mr. and Mrs. Glass of St. Paul Church, making the presentation.

It was under the leadership of Rev. Walker that St. Paul built its beautiful edifice located at 1354 S. "C" street. Sharing in this program were Rev. Walker's wife and son.

Don't forget your news next week—and a Merry Christmas to all.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

HAPPY NEW YEAR!!! And don't get 'stone' too early to remember its arrival, but have a ball seeing it in. 1962 is going to be a banner year for us all, so get ready.

Pennings received from around the world tell me that: Selma Whitmore, teaching at the Wiesbaden, Germany Air Base, will be taking a fabulous Christmas vacation trip to The Holy Land, including stops at 14 different cities; Beverly Gilliam, librarian for the Air Force in London, England, visited the Canary Isles for a rehabilitation from illness, and got rested, suntanned, and enjoyed a beautiful setting; Joy Tunstall, cutiepie columnist for the Detroit Courier, expects to visit New York right after the 26th through the New Year; and lovely model-mother, Marlene Butterfield, planes in from Bermuda on the 29th to model in a fashion show in Queens on the 30th, and ball on New Year's Eve.

BROOKLYN OPEN HOUSE

Yvonne Henriques of Brooklyn, will have her annual Open House on the 30th, for all her

SEASON'S GREETINGS — Every Yuletide the Manchester Theater donates all of its facilities to the South Los Angeles Chapter of Tots and Teens, Inc. who sponsors an annual Christmas party for youngsters in the community. From left, Doris Holman, president; Dolita Boone, Chairman of Ways and Means; and Ruth Moore, First Vice-President; distributed toys, gifts and stockings to scores of happy children. Chapter likewise gifted Exceptional Children's Home with Christmas stockings. (Adams Pix)

SHOW BUSINESS

OPEN LETTER TO THEATRICAL EDITOR

Dear Sir:

In recent weeks articles have appeared in the theatrical magazines, Variety and Reporter, reporting several meetings of producers, directors, screen writers and the Hollywood Committee of the NAACP, who all agreed that parts should be written in scripts depicting Negroes in roles showing them as they are, such as doctors, lawyers, tax collectors and even murderers. If they've done it, show it as it's lived in real American life.

Being an actor and writer myself, I'm sorry to say, now, it's hard for me to believe this agreement was sincere on the part of some of the producers, directors and writers.

I submitted a completed script titled "Double Disguise" through my agent to the producers of Naked City. It's been the policy, I understand, when a script is rejected, it's mailed back to your agent within several days. Mine was held for

PEOPLE and PLACES

TWISTERS — Wilt (Stilt) Chamberlain and Officer "Big" John Alston strolled into the Virginia's Night Club on W. 7th street the other eve when a Twist party was in progress. They joined and walked off with all the prizes. Now Big John is toying with the idea of giving courses in the Twist!

VELDA GOODMAN — Ex-dancer-ex-wife of footballer Joe Perry has given up the bright lights for good and has taken a job as the Gary Crosby's personal cook in Encino—and they love her culinary art!

COLD SHUFFLE — Petty thugs broke into Opal Jones' house and made off with Christmas gifts and money and TV sets and it should not have happened to a sweet gal like Opal!

BRAWL — That outbreak in the lobby of Dept. 42 in the Hall of Justice was a sorry display of lack of dignity. A lady holding a baby in her arms was set upon by purse swinging females with little regards for the life of the infant and yet they yell about mob rule!

LUCKY LAGER — The boycotters are moving in on the stores and if liquor store owners in our community are not interested in jobs for Negroes than customers should not be interested in doing business with them!

WINNIE ORR — She was passing out key cases to the lucky guys and dolls who attended Duke's Living Room's Christmas pawtee while jovial Bill Hutson served 'em up from behind the bar!

DYNAMITE JACKSON — The jovial helfty ex-Heavyweight boxing kingpin did an awful nice thing when he and wifie Lulu played Santa Claus to their help by turning over the

'CHAZZ' CRAWFORD

FONDA & FAMILY spectacular . . . JAMES EDWARDS who once appeared with the boss (Jazzy Chazzie) in a play ismaking a movie comeback in a lead role in a major film . . . Say Chazz, I'd like to borrow a little of your space to congratulate actress JENNY MAXWELL who had a "boss" role in Swivel hip's picture "Blue Hawaii". She's going to sneak up on stardom! . . .

Enjoyed making the rounds with you the other starbright and getting the chance to do a little of the twist with NANCY WILSON at the testimonial in her honor at the Rubaiyat while her spouse KENNY played the drums. And say boss, it was nice meeting the Tower of Strength GENE McDANIEL who drifted by to pay his respects. He went from that tower of strength to a hundred pounds of clay and his next release is "Tweet Tweet" or was he jiving us? . . . SAY boss, speaking of this Twist thing, isn't it just a toned down version of the Snakehips dance? . . . and altho' CHUBBY CHECKER might be King Of The Twist but I bet FATS DOMINO could do an evil "Mashed Potato" . . . Okay boss, thanks for the privilege of doing this article. We'll be making the rounds gathering other info for you, but next week you can say it in your own words, altho' most of the above sounds a little like you anyway. I tried to play it that way!

friends and family, plus visitors from Antigua, Jamaica and the Virgin Islands. Its usually a swinging affair with all the tasty West Indian food goodies overflowing the pots. So need I say that I shall be there? Oh, hell yes!

The Apollo Theatre has returned to stage shows again for the holidays with Jocko and his Rocketship Revue for 1962; the Shirrells, Tommy Hunt, Chuck Jackson, the Marvellettes, the Jive Five, the Jarmels and Doc Bagby. Starting Friday, January 5th, it will be Count Basie, his band and revue, featuring singer, Aretha Franklin.

I had a busy weekend, with the Chase Manhattan Tax Dep't. Xmas Party at the Terminal Restaurant on Friday night, with delicious food, music and dancing; the Yuletiders, Christmas at the UN, affair on Saturday at the Savoy Manor Ballroom, with the girls of the club all in authentic costumes representing the different countries of the UN, and with yours truly dressed as, and emceeing as Santa Claus. Reuben Phillips band swung for the dancing, and the club gave donations to the N.A.A.C.P., the Police Athletic League, the Christmas Cheer Citizens Committee and Mount Morris Hospital, in addition to collecting oodles of toys for distribution to needy and sick children for Christmas, so it was a fun evening for a most worthy cause. It was my pleasure to work for them for about the 10th year.

BEST FOR YOU IN '62

Oh, heck, I'll talk to you some more next year . . . have a HAPPY NEW YEAR, and remember "I love you, one and all!" This is PHIL GORDON, "Your Very Own," saying . . . LATER . . .

two weeks, then returned with a blunt note saying, "It's not up to the standards of Naked City shows".

All I ask is what are their standards? With no explanation, it leads me to think a story showing Negroes in important roles are not up to their standards, or Harlem, the locale of my story, is "out of bounds". I, at least, expected them to say re-write it or change this or that and we'll read it again.

I picked Harlem and Negro leads along with the regular stars because no other writers have dared to touch it. The Hollywood Committee of the NAACP called me and asked to read the script. They did, and liked and approved it. I'm not interested in selling the script to Naked City if they offered $10,000. It now becomes a matter of principle and pride as well as a challenge to what I've actually lived through, and I'm sure my standards are and have been above reproach.
